ONE DUTY HE DOESN'T NEGLECT.

The man who in 1880 wrote "we say to all Greenback men everywhere 'Avoid all entangling alliances'. If your principles are worth entertaining stand firmly by the same," is now traveling about State in the interest of Begole, fusion and anti-railroad pass reform, and neg-lecting all his official duties except the one of drawing his salary .- Newaygo Re-

This refers to that brillant "reformer, W. D. Fuller, of Newaygo, who holds several public paying offices and spends his time in the interest of the fusion party. He is one of a gang that the people have had quite enough of.

-In view of the testimony taken in the Copiah investigation it will not be considered out of order to wave the "bloody shirt." So long as cold blooded poses, as has been absolutely proven in cores of instances, just so long the bloody shirt will be waved. And no sarcasm will prevent it. In the light of the facts, a man must be all wrong, either in head or heart, who makes light of such devilish deeds as have been com mitted in some of the southern states, to prevent a free ballot. And yet we find editors, even in Michigan, viewing these horrid exhibitions with smiling faces frowning only when the "bloody shirt" is waved as a protest. Shame on these crime condoners.

-The Detroit Times, although only few months old, has, by its winning ways and handsome features, found Republican party. The Constitution edmuch favor in the eyes of the reading itor was probably dreaming of those public. It is attractive especially in its halcyon days when he penned the above editorial and telegraphic news depart item. ments, the former showing diligence, care and ability; the latter an open purse is a handsome sheet and the mechanical head of the Times deserves credit, along its fast ouzing facilities. with the rest, for very excellent work.

—The Republican declaration that "the Democratic party is doomed to defeat in Michigan" if lumber is placed on the free list, has a singular sound. It sounds like an intimation that the Democrats would carry Michigan if the tariff were let alone. Do the Republicans really mean it?—Det. Free Press.

Not so fast, Mr. Free Press. That doesn't happen to be a "Republican declaration." It was the declaration of the democratic member of this congressional district, just previous to his last flop. The Republican declaration is that the democratic party in Michigan is doomed to defeat next fall, without a solitary "if" modification. Be careful and don't get these declarations mixed any more.

-Hon. B A. Harlan seems to be as popular at Washington as he was here when serving the people of Kent. He is ner that will float on the winning sidepresident of the Michigan Republican Association at the Capital, an organization which numbers a host of good men. Harlan holds a responsible position in the Pension Dept. The Journal and his many friends in Kent wish him a "heaping measure" of success.

-The ways and means committee have decided to report the tariff bill today. The free list has been reduced to lumber, salt, coal and tin plate; 20 per cent reduction on all other articles. Ultra free traders are not satisfied but think it a move that will eventually result in absolute free trade. Our Houseman is expected to remain passively bound and gagged and vote as his party

-Let's see-about three weeks ago the Allegan Gazette asked the Grand Rapids Leader to answer some pointed questions regarding the political life and services of one Josiah Begole. The Leader hasn't answered them-not one of them. Send the Leader a marked copy, Reid, and a postal card cailing the Leader's attention to the aforesaid pertinent interrogatories. We want to frame the Leader's seriatim replies and hang them up-over our ash leech.

-The Governor of Missouri stepped right up and kissed Patti without a murmur. And she took it ditto. And now if she would only come here and shake hands with the Governor of Michigan she would at once retire-and have

-If Patti needed any free advertising that gubernatorial kiss would prove an excellent dodge.-Detroit Journal.

-Farmers are much better posted tolay in public affairs, better versed in history and literature, better qualified for all kinds of business than they were before the grange was instituted. These are arguments in favor of the continued existence of the order not to be overome by outside prejudice. There is many a farmer who a few years ago could not express his views intelligently before a public audience, who to-day can ing a business. He has broader views than he had and he has learned, by experience in debate, how to arrange and -The Rev. Mr. Hunt, who spoke here few nights ago in the interest of the Union party, is credited with saying in his speech at Saranac that "the late Zachariah Chandler died in Milwaukee of the tremens." If the Rev. Mr. Hunt did make that assertion it is time for somebody to inform him that such The Journal office is connected infamous falsehoods tend somewhat to lessen public confidence in the man who utters them. That "the Rev. Mr. Hunt" did so assert in his speech at Saranac, the Saranac correspondent of the Ionia Standard avers.

> -The chief executive's attention has peen called to the fact that serious charges have been preferred against the management of the Ionia House of Correction. An investigation ordered by his excellency would no doubt result in a complete vindication of the accused

-should the charges be proven groundless. The Governor should not permit Warden Waters to remain under a cloud if a prompt and thorough investigation would prove his innocence. Surely, we do not appeal in vain for an investi-

-At the recent meeting of the Kent County Good Templar Lodge, held at Rockford, several outside parties were murder is committed for political pur- present in the interest of the Union party, who did their best to have the Lodge adopt resolutions favorable to said party. The scheme didn't work. It was deamount of democratic poon-pools or motished with neatness and dispatch. The parties thus squelched were Messrs. Noll of "The Lever" and Crittendon of "The Good Templars Herald." We get these facts from the Grand Rapids Post, itself a temperance organ.

-The Atlanta Constitution says "in order to establish an efficient navy the first step necessary is to dispose of the Republican party." The Constitution has probably got things mixed. Some years ago it learned that in order to esablish a southern confederacy the first step necessary would be to dispose of the -Congressman Houseman is expected to vote for free lumber. His last regular weekly flop indicates that he will do 80, although he says 'it will ruin the Mich-Igan lumber interest and defeat the Deniocratic party in the state." Our sympathies, Julius!

-Washington dispatches report that Mr. Houseman has flopped back to the free trade side of the question again. Now just keep your eye on Mr. Houseman and when the vote comes on the Morrison bill see if he don'tdodge voting or pair off with some one. -Ionia Na-

We shouldn't call that a very wild prediction.

-Tne Ohio Republicans, at the Columbus conference last week, raised a banviz. "Protection to the rights of American citizens first: next, protection to American industry." That is a good motto for the Republican party in the coming campaign.

-Joe Greusel, the Washington correspondent and reporter of the Detroit Free Press, is the best reporter that paper ever had at Washington or any other place. "Yusef" thoroughly understands his business and attends to it with the fidelity of a perpetual motion.

-Senator T. W. Palmer is very popular at Washington as well as in Michigan. Were he not in the United States Senate he would be Michigan's next Governor, and all the combined opposition of "isms" and "'ocracies" could not prevent -Will Carleton, our own Michigan poet, will deliver his "Golden Horse" to the good people of Oneonta, N. Y. March 27. We bespeak for him a very cordial welcome in that beautiful and prosperous city.

-If indications indicate, Ohio will take itself out of the list of doubtful states next fall. Less than 20,000 Republican majority need not be expected, for there's a great cry and much wool in the Buckeye state.

-Jay Gould's son George has been having the measles. Now when it comes right down to plain measles the Gould family have to take their medicine like the rest of us.

-The sprightly Detroit Journal seems to carry a pretty level head on the tariff question. It also seems to be pretty level headed on many other questions.

And in Michigan the political prohibitionists of the Union party are planning to bring about an equally foolish result. -Not long ago a great deal was said about THE OLD TICKET! Now we occas ionally hear a faint reverberation of "oleticket," which sounds as if the tel-

The Local claims that Saranac buyers paid more for wheat last week than Lowell buyers did. Barely possible, as the high water here last week shut down both the Forest and Lowell Mills, but take the season through and the claim wouldn't hold good. We think it is generally understood that Lowell is a pretty good market town. If not why do farmers come so far to sell their produce here when they live within a short distance of other towns?

Mr. W. J. Atkins, who recently arrive ed here from Dakota, holds a high opinion of that territory, and yet he will be sarcastic at times when speaking of the weather out there. Somebody asked him the other day if it wasn't insufferably cold in Dakota in winter. "Yes" replied Atkins, "you've no idea how cold it is. Water freezes in a tea kettle on a red hot stove out there in winter and the only way you can get it out is to drill a hole in the bottom and let it run out a little at a time. Cold out there but then we don't mind it."

Hygiene and Heredity.

The following extracts from a lecture delivered by Mrs. Dr. Kellogg, of Battle Creek, at a recent session of the State Temperance Normal are worthy of reproduction and careful perusal: Women, especially as the mothers and housekeepers of our land into whose care are entrusted in a very great measure the health and physical welfare of the family circle, should realize the importance of a knowledge and practice of the principles of hygiene. Duty to our fellow beings, if there were not the ad ded incentive of kindred ties, requires of us a thorough knowledge of individual and household hygiene that we may meet those dreaded foes, disease and death, at the very threshold of our homes and guard against the first approach of influences that can affect the health of those under our care. All these facts are valid, were we considering the claims of hygiene for the sake of health and usefulness alone, but when we meditate upon the evils which result from a disregard of its laws, chief among which we must name intemperance, we cannot as members of the W. C. T. U. and as wives, mothers and sisavoid the responsibility in this direction ters of the present generation longer with impunity. It appears to me more than probable that the largest share of those who to-day fill the ranks of the great army of drunkards that curse our land acquired the appetite for strong drink as a result of some transgression of the laws of hygiene either on their own or their parents' part. The appetite for intoxicants is not a natural one, The Creator never designed his children to drink anything stronger than the pure water, and the appetite for stimulants when not hereditary, is acquired through some abnormal means. It may be the first step is taken, when having transgressed the laws of hygiene till nature rebels with a penalty of pain and suffering, a dose of brandy, a glass of wine is taken as an anodyne. It may be his brain to excess and weary nature loudly calls for rest that recourse is had evening at Jo. White's. to stimulants to urge the flagging energies to farther efforts. It may be that in childhood an abnormal appetite is fostered through impoverished dietary, stimulating foods, or violation of the laws of digestion till a dyspeptic stomach craves abnormal satisfaction. It seems to me no wonder that a morbid, melancholy dy speptic whose weak mind and lack of self control, the results of a

How much then does it behoove us as the mothers, wives and daughters of our true living in all the details of our home physical habits, and scattering the truths of hygiene abroad among our neighbors and fellow members of society. Especally in our work of reform in behalf of the intemperate, let us realize that prevention is better than cure. If we would overcome the evil of in emperance we must destroy the demand | dieville visited friends in this vicinity for liquors; we must stop making last week. drunkards. I am heartily in favor of prohibition but I have no faith that prohibition alene will ever exterminate the vice of drunkenness. Thieves will exist n spite of laws against theft so long as nen are covetous and unscrupulous and so men will find some means to obtain stimulants as long as they have an appetite for them.

No other employer of agents ever dared to make such offers, nor would we if we did not know that we have agents now making more than double the amount we guaranteed, and that but two sales a day would give a profit of over $125 a month, and that one of our agents took 18 orders in one day. Our large descrip-tive circulars explain our offer fully, and these we wish to send to every one out of employment who will send us three one cent stamps for postage. Send at once and secure the agency in time for the boom, and go to work on the terms named in our extraordinary offer We would like to have the address of all the agents, sewing machine solicitors
