Immense Victory!

The Republicans Carry the State By Between 15,000 to 20,000. A Republican gain since 1883 of 30,000 or over.

DEMOCRACY DOOMED!

Returns so far show that Ohio has gone overwhelmingly Republican—from 15,000 to 20,000—a Republican gain of about 30,000 over last year. This is enough. As goes Ohio So goes the

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

—The party prohibition leaders in this state claim that Michigan will cast 50,000 prohibition votes this fall. When they say this they virtually say "we will make Mich, a democratic state,"for every man knows that if the prohibition vote is as large as thus estimated the state will go fusion. We don't believe the prohibitionists will cast over one-half of 50,000 votes in Michigan, but so far as their intent is concerned it means nothing more nor less than democratic success and the defeat of "submission." The Republican party is the only party in this state to day that demands the submission to a vote of the people of a prohibitory amendment. This is a fact and the party prohibitionists ought to be ashamed of themselves for trying to defeat that measure. But inconsistency is the most conspicuous feature of their work and has been all through the campaign. What have they discovered that county treasurer than Verdier. Elect says he is fully convinced that the party was wrong in their position two years him, ago when all they asked was to have a The —Ohio will give a much larger Repub-lican vote in November than in October. It always does that,

-A dispatch from Columbus, Ohio, last Saturday to the Detroit Evening Journal said of the election prospects in that

"A poll of the state, just completed, indicates a democratic plurality of about 10,000, but Gov. Hoadly says, 'I will not be surprised to see the figures stand between 12,000 and 15,000."

Before the JOURNAL goes to its readers this week we hope to have better news than the above frem Ohio.

-Gen. Alger fought in 66 battles in the late war and the old soldiers of Michigan will vote to make him Governor, leaving Gov. Begole to ride on free passes entirely as a private citizen.

-Gen. Alger has given employment and good wages in cash (not in scrip a la Comstock) to hundreds of laboring men and they are among his most enthusiastic supporters.

Prof. S. Dickie will speak for St. John and the prohibition party here Saturday night. He says "vote squarely against the Republican party even if it places the Democratic party in power." Therefore while ostensibly talking "party prohibition" he is in reality fighting the Republican party and aiding the Democrats. His scheme is understood. Like the Lever, he is "anything to beat the Republicans." Let him do his worst. His fine voice and studied sentences sound well but his fallacies are shown up completely by the historical and official records. Several of the ladies of the L. L. C. were unable to attend the meeting on Oct. 10th and it was concluded to adjourn until Oct. 24th, and use the same program with a tew changes. ### Grant-Van Wagner.

MARRIED.—In Lowell, Wednesday morning, Oct. 8, 1884, by the Rev. J. M. VanWagner, CAPT. H. W. GRANT of Chattanooga, Tenn. and MISS LIBBIE VAN WAGNER of Lowell, daughter of the officiating clergyman. The ceremony was performed at 10 clock a. m. in the Congregational church, in the presence of as many friends as could gain admission to the church auditorium. Attended by their relatives and escorted by the church choir the bride and groom passed up the center aisle under a beautiful floral arch to the altar where they stood during the ceremony sheltered by a large floral umbrella artistically wrought by loving hands and suspended at the altar's right upon entering. The ceremony was very impressive and "many were the moistened eyes." Mrs. Strong at the organ played beautiful and appropriate selections as the bride and groom entered and left the church. The ceremony over, Mr. and Mrs. Grant and relatives returned to the pastor's residence where a cordial reception awaited their many friends. Taking the noon train west they started for their home in Chattanooga, with the dessings and best wishes of a multitude of friends. The presents were numerous, rich and beautiful. "Libbie" was beloved by all and the tokens of affection laid before her will ever remind her that there is a warm spot in Lowell's heart for her. Her departure leaves a vacancy in the church and society very difficult to supply. May happiness and prosperity be theirs always is the earnest wish of those they leave behind

England Puts Up. The Hon. Titus Sheard, speaker of the New York assembly, writes that some time ago a friend of his in conversation with some Bradford, (England) manufacturers was told by them:

Aiger vs. Preston.

Gen. Alger is as good a temperance man as David Preston. He is as good a presbyterian as David Preston is methodist. He never drank liquor but once, and that was when he was carried wounded and fainting from the battle field. While Gen. Alger was riding as the head of his regiment amid the bullets and sabres of sixty-six battles David Preston was at home, behind his bank counter, making money out of the war -reaching like a Shylock for more ducats. With these truthful facts in view it would seem to require a mighty small and mean and narrow and bigoted soul to attempt to belittle Gen. Newspaper Duns.

We presume that some people think ewspaper men are persistent duns, but let a farmer place himself in a similar position and see if he would not do the same. Suppose he raised one thousand bushels of corn and his neighbor should come and buy a bushel, and the price was one dollar. The neighbor says, "I will pay the bill in a few days." As the farmer does not want to be small about the matter he says all right. Another comes in the same way until the whole thousand bushels are trusted to one thousand different persons, and not one of the purchasers concerns himself about it, for it is a small amount they owe the farmer and of course it will not help him any. He does not realize that the farmers large crop of corn is gone, that its value is due in a thousand little dribblets, and that he is seriously embarassed in his business because his customers treat it as a little matter .- Ex-

A Plea for the Little Ones.

Where the diet, habits and training of children have been wrong, in reaching man's and woman's estate, they are illy prepared to perform acceptably the duties before them. One with ordinary observation can perceive from this class come faithless husbands and wives, al citizens. The surest foundation of temperance and virtue-a basis that will withstand the flood-tide of thoughtless the first of the season. criticism and ridicule, of vanity and "narrow way"-must be laid in child- all from home when it burned.

In the first place the food of children should be simple and nutritious. If we would have the moral grandeur of old New England we must go back to their homely fare and rigid discipline. A healthy child can not be otherwise than grass never grew faster than now. a good child, if properly guided; but the little one stimulated on tea and coffee, which is the custom with some will undoubtedly have nervous dyspepsia and a catalogue of ills the doctors only can enumerate. As a matter of course it will look with disgust on milk and oatmeal after it has acquired a taste for sausage and mince pie. Added to this it is further goaded on to its destruction by being allowed and urged to take part in plays, Sunday school exhibitions, and eyen temperance exercises, and attend various entertainments, when grown people should be in bed, to say nothing of children. As to the matter of dress these times, there is much need of a simpler and more healthful style. (It is a singular fact among the women's organizations, societies, &c. there is no one demanding dress reform!) With these miserable substitutes for the necessities of life, and the bad training that generally attends for children, the result, sure as effect follows cause, is muititudes of frivolous, sickly women always in need of a tonic and a new whose torment is forever ascending.

And this brings me to the tobacco nuisance: the selfish consumer of the of Martin Tuttill, kindly remembered if political prohibitionists in this quarvile stuff though he may escape in a the 10th anniversary of marriage and measure the reward of his folly, partic- took him by surprise on that day. They suffer all their short lives with morbid sensitiveness, and nervousness hall last Wednesday was not well atsuch as no ope can realize the woe of, only those who have experienced it. In ling was but little advertised. A poster view of these facts can they who have should be in every business place in the a family of children, afford to do othersuccessful bringing up? These thingshealthfui food and raiment and a cultured mind and heart lie at the foundation of the character of all who achieve success and honor in this world or salbut we are assured "the vilest sinner may return" but do they to stay?

"If a man would have a good wife he must marry the daughter of a truly good woman," was the advice once given young men, and no sounder counsel was ever offered. Wherever we see an honest and distinguished man we almost invariably find he was blessed with a noble and true hearted mother. These are well known facts, and the wiser and more intelligent portion of the community are, by constant endeavor, slowly bringing about a better state of things, thanks to the Giver of all good, and educating the common class up to a higher standard of morals and manners. Let us, as we profess, stand truly on the side of God.

"Land of the West—beneath the Heaven There's not a fairer, lovelier clime; Nor one to which was ever given a destiny more high, sublime." H. L.

A gentleman in the habit of occasionally using intoxicating drinks, took up an able temperance address, and sat down in his family to peruse it. He read it through without saying a word, when he exclaimed, "This man is a fool!" He then read it again, and when he had finished it a second time he exclaimed, 'This man is a fool or I am!' A third time he read it with still greater care, and, as he finished the last sentence, exclaimed. "I am the fool!" and never asted a drop of ardent spirits afterward.

One of the most gratifying of the reent indications of temperance progress s the movement to abolish the bars on the steamboats of the Ohio and Missisappi rivers. The bars of several of the largest and most popular steamers have already been removed, and others are soon to follow. A recent Cincinnati telegram mentioned also that"The bars on the Tennessee river line are to be aboliseed." The experience of the boats which have already abolished their bars has been, it is said, very satisfactory, indicating that an increased passenger traffic can thus be secured "enough larger and more desirable to compensate several times over for the money received from the bar privilege."

Alton, Oct. 13th, 1884. I am a prohibitionist of the most rabid kind, but do not believe that it will ever come through a third party, and I cannot vote the miscalled Prohibition ticket especially as the leaders of the party preached at the Church Sunday p. m. avow their only object at present to be to defeat the Republican party and put the Democratic party in power, and by that means have a reign of "free whisky." Then they say that the Republicans will join the prohibition party to put a stop to it. If I wanted the Democrats in power I would vote directly for their candidates. We had the renowned Hewitt at our church last Wednesday evening and I heard it remarked by their own club that it was the dullest, dryest and deadest speech that they had ever heard. The meeting was presided over by their Ben Butlerite president and the audience was in a dead calm till cheer. Independent says: "In Georgia there are ninety counties out of one hundred and thirty six with partial or entire prohibition; but the question has never got into politics. No party can claim the credit of the work. We have accomplished it as citizens, Nor do we expect to cease our efforts till the sale of whisky is prohibited in every county in the state. * * * It stands here upon its own merits. So related is it to the interests of the whole people, and so intimately bound up with their present and future welfare is it that any political party which should essay a monopoly of it, would be thought guilty of seeking to make private and peculiar an issue equally dear to all parties. It is a pity that anywhere this most important social and moral question should be tacked on to a political party."

If the party prohibition leaders in Michigan adopt the methods that have limb. Dr. G. M. Spencer made the little been used in Georgia to secure prohibition they will abandon the third party movement in this state at once.

At Tain's Driving Park, Oct. 23 and 24 The last races of the season in Lowell will occur at the above named time and place. Bills are out announcing a splendid program and liberal premiums.

If Gov. Cleveland's veto of this bill is sound law, the people of this State and of the United States have no rights which the corporations they have created are bound to respect. This veto marks Mr. Cleveland as pre-eminently the candidate of the moncpolists in this country. It is from railroad corporations, Standard oil company, and monopolies, that the money is to come which is to conduct his canvass.

That is not a party question, and we do not appeal as partisans for any candidate. Two of the members of uncommittee are Democrats, and none of them voted for Gov. Cleveland's leading opposent two years ago. None of them can or will vote for him as President, and in this we fairly represent the feelings of the great majority of farmers of the different parts of this State.
