Miss Maud Whitfield leaves next week to accept a position as teacher in the high school at Mankato, Minn.
Messrs. Wm. Hattery and Fred Merrill, of Aurora, Illinois, spent Sunday with the Booths of this village.
The Elsie Leader doesn't lead, any more. Its editor found it a losing venture Elsie would have continued it.
Chas. Headworth of Bowne, son of Edward Headworth, died very suddenly Aug. 4th of congestion of the brain.
Ben West has the frame up for his new house.—Grand Ledge Independent. Ben West is selling drugs in Lowell.
The price of apples? That depends. Forty cents a bushel at the grocery, or two for a nickel of railroad newsboy.
New York has raised $40,000 for the Grant monument in that city. Chicago has raised $50,000 for its Grant monument.
Miss Jessie Stone entertained a company of young friends at her home Wednesday evening, in a manner very enjoyable.
Brother Waters of the Grand Rapids Leader still maintains a bilious attitude before the people. That is to say, he still "biles."
The "Unpremeditated" column of the Detroit Evening Journal is quite juicy. In fact the Journal is a right smart little daily all over.
Alex. Onan has a fine new house nearly completed and 26 couples "warmed" it Friday night, keeping lively step to Howe's music.
It was the wife of Chas. Buttrick Jr. who was recently seriously hurt in New York state by being thrown from a buggy.

Joseph Wilson Post No. 87, G. A. R. voted at its last meeting to attend the reunion of the Army of the Cumberland at Grand Rapids next month.
The Grand Ledge Independent says: "Ovid has one honest man." We know it: very intimate friend of ours. "Birds of a feather"—you see the point.
A. B. Johnson has decided not to go west but will keep right on selling groceries. He sings "Home, home, sweet Home," in the JOURNAL this week.
Mrs. Plummer, of Lansing, is expected here to-day to institute a Woman's Relief Corps at 8 p. m. and install the officers this evening. Installation public.
Andrew Lane of Berlin was knocked out of bed by lightning a week ago Sunday morning. Lightning probably thought it was a long Lane that had no turn.
Perry & Noble, New Bedford, Mass. send us a song and chorus entitled "Gone, Brave one, Gone!" being a memorial tribute to Gen. Grant. Price 40 cents.
Prediction: Lowell will some day have the electric light. The ample water power here and the proverbial enterprising spirit of our citizens justify the prediction.
There is some talk of expelling Otis Fuller of St. Johns from the State Press Association unless he gets married before the next regular meeting of the association.
A 4 mile dash Monday afternoon, on Train's track, by "Vernor" and Hodges & Morse's "Black Friday" was won by the latter. Considerable chink changed trouser pockets.
Work is to be commenced soon on the cable street railroad in Grand Rapids. The street car horses will undoubtedly observe Thanksgiving day this fall with unchecked enthusiasm.
Mrs. Effie Sherman now occupies the checkered-front building nearly opposite the Davis House, where she will continue to give instruction in dress cutting—the Mme. Kellogg method.
Rev. C. L. Barnhart will hold the 4th Q. M. of the M. E. church Aug. 29 and 30. Preaching on Saturday the 29th at 2:30 P. M., followed by Quarterly Conference. Services on the Sabbath as usual.
The fishing craze has struck Lowell right between the eyes. The old adage—"Spare the rod and spoil the child" is reversed. Now it is "Spoil the rod and spare the child." This of course doesn't include grown people.
Geo. E. Carr some years ago found gold on his farm, Section 1, Lowell, near this village, and he has lately discovered the precious metal in what he believes to be a "paying quantity." He will continue investigation.
There will be an ice cream and supper social at Mrs. G. Rittinger's on Wednesday eve. of next week, the proceeds to be used in purchasing a bell for the U. B. Church in that district. The social should be well attended.
"Went down to—creek this morning and caught a trout that measured" * * * (The stars indicate the number of raps he received on his head and the— shows the position he was in when they left him on the side-walk.)
The editor wrote it: "a low rate of mortality in that town," and the intelligent type setter, omitting just one letter, made it read "a low rate of morality in that town." The editor hadn't killed a man before in over a month.

There was one important matter overlooked by the Michigan editors at their annual meeting. They should have adopted a resolution absolutely refusing to buy goods of any dealer in paper and printers' goods who permits his agents to solicit job work in towns in which local papers are printed.
D. H. English, of South Boston, is making it warm for those fellows who have been throwing stones at the Ionia Mutual Insurance Company. English puts in a strong defense for the Company and claims that its affairs have been grossly misrepresented by parties not friendly to said company.
The Michigan annual conference of the M. E. Church will meet in Grand Rapids on Thursday Sept. 24. The body numbers in all about 400, representing the ministerial force of the western half of the state. Distinguished divines from abroad are also expected to attend.

They will buy grain—making best grades of milling wheat a specialty—also, wool, dressed hogs, corn, oats, clover seed, &c. The JOURNAL wishes the new firm success.
Married, by the Rev. J. W. Davids, at the M. E. Parsonage Aug. 13th, Mr. Samuel S. Wallace and Miss Sarah E. Graham both of South Lowell. They are a worthy young couple and have the hearty congratulations of all who know them. We wish them a long, happy and prosperous life. COM.
Saranac Local: The residence of Philip Monks, five miles south of town, was destroyed by fire yesterday forenoon with all its contents, except a bureau and table; cause of fire unknown. The amount of loss has not been ascertained, but the house was nearly new and was a very good one, partially insured.
Several aged ladies met at the residence of M. N. Hine Saturday to help Aunt Sally Hine celebrated her 83d birthday. The occasion was a very pleasant one to those present and especially to Aunt Sally who enjoys the company of her friends as well as ever. Few people of her age are as bright and active as she.
The Western Michigan Agricultural and Industrial Society will hold its next annual fair on the county fair grounds near the city of Grand Rapids, September 21, 22, 23, 24 and 25. An extra effort is being made to make this the biggest and best fair ever held by the above named society. Save up your obese pumpkins.
Dave Waters of the Grand Rapids Leader to Don. M. Dickinson of Detroit: "If I can't have the Grand Haven custom house or the U. S. Marshalship, get me appointed notary public. I don't care so much about office—you know that—but this suspense is debilitating. P. S. did you see my editorial on me in my paper 'other day'? Good, wasn't it?"
At W. R. Blaisdell's, Mrs. T. J. Averill of Ravenna; at Laura Taylor's Sunday, Miss Anna Carl of Sheridan and Emma Coolidge of Ionia; at W. S. Barnes', Mrs. D. Easterbrook of Stanton; at Dr. Goodsell's, D. M. Goodsell and two daughters of Decatur, Ind. Miss Lizzie Tate of Kansas, Miss Lizzie Gage of Grand Rapids; with Lowell friends, Mrs. Wm. Pullen of Grand Rapids.
"The Sick Man's Best Friend" is a medicine prepared and put up by Mr. Russell Smith of Bowne, Mich. It is a remedy for liver and kidney diseases and a general health restorer, the merits of which are strongly certified to by many who have tested it. Mr. Smith puts up the medicine in any quantity desired and is going to give it a more thorough introduction than it has had among the people.
The Lowell Fishing Club was reorganized Friday night. A large number of our citizens met at Col. Dodge's office and joined the club. The officers elected for the ensuing year are: President, J. W. Hine; counselor, E. W. Dodge; treasurer, Chas. Althen; secretary, F. T. King; directors, E. R. Craw, J. C. West, W. H. Eddy, Silas Worden, R. G. Bestwick. The object and purposes of the club will appear in due time.

"Home, Home, Sweet Home,
There is no place like home."
And therefore I have decided to stay at Home and keep right on
