LOWELL JOURNAL
BY JAS. W. HINE.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

At a recent meeting of the K. S. I. in Grand Rapids the scientific brethren present discussed objects of natural history at some length and one member, Mr. Somes, took up the cudgel in defense of snakes. Mr. Somes denounced the practice of killing snakes—especially harmless snakes—on the ground that "animal life should be preserved," this declaration being a part of the creed of the K. S. I. From time immemorial the snake has been the "defendant in the case," and Mr. Somes is the first man, we believe, to enter a plea for its deliverance.

Not kill a snake? Mr. Somes, memory hitches up its gilded chariot and takes us back to our boyhood days, when, once upon a time in the heat of youth and summer we, barefooted and with uncovered and uncombed head, skipped gaily over the meadow by the brook. Suddenly we stopped and with a Comanche whoop began to dance the highland fling, with much fling on the part of a certain one leg. We had accidentally stepped close to a bird's nest which was being despoiled by a beautiful snake and in less than two short winks that beautiful charmer darted up our starboard trouser leg and commenced playing fox and geese around our lower anatomy. "—Kill a snake? O no; start a snake hatchery right out in the front yard. Feed them bobolinks and other birds, and for a Sunday evening lunch give them the canary. Put them under your bed at dewy eve and give them the freedom of the house. They'll eat up the dead flies and toads and things and maybe crawl into your milk pan. To see a snake snoozing out on the front door step looks so home-like and so sociable. O, its a wonder that somebody doesn't open up a wholesale snake store and boom the snake market. Mr. Somes is just the man to amend the game law so as to make it unlawful to gaff, spear, catch with hook and line, or in any other manner, any snake during the spawning season. O Adam! O Eve! O Snake! O Snake!

If the K. S. I. is going into the snake culture business we're in for a boycott on the K. S. I. that will terminate its existence in about three minutes. That's our opinion of Snakes, viewing the subject, of course, from an unscientific standpoint.

—Ah, these mutterings! Those democrats who voted the prohibition ticket in Ohio are catching it from the democratic press. Great shower baths of democratic wrath are falling upon their heads. The democrats have seen the latest fashion plates and find now that their ox is being gored. This will never, never do. The Ohio democracy will cut the prohibitionists off without a cent if the latter can't get at least 90 per cent of their increase from the Republican party, as they've been doing all along back. But some how or other the Republicans who voted straight last fall have made up their minds to keep right on voting straight, and this makes it necessary for the prohibition party to either stop fishing or find another pond.

—President Cleveland has been assured that "his course is heartily approved by the Michigan greenbackers." A Michigan greenbacker went to Washington and served personal notice on the President to that effect. As all the President's recommendations on the finance question have been in direct opposition to the "greenback idea," the assurance that his course is heartily approved by the Michigan greenbackers is of course very gratifying to the President.

—Dr. Chas. Shepard has been a resident of Grand Rapids 50 years. The "city contained 75 inhabitants when he first located there. Dr. Shepard has been a very prominent and successful physician and surgeon. And, still, there are scores of doctors of less repute who in less than ten years have succeeded in erecting more monuments to their memory than he has done in fifty years. We trust the delicacy of this reflection will not be overlooked.

—In spite of the democratic frauds in Cincinnati and Columbus—which are simply outrageous and ought to consign the party to eternal darkness—the Republicans have a majority in the legislature, which no doubt insures the return of Sherman to the United States Senate. The glorious Republican victory in Ohio has a political significance that means disaster to the opposition and the opposition knows it.

—A laudable effort is being made by the better class of citizens in Detroit to purify the politics of that city. A non-partisan move in that direction is urged and if success is reached it will be in that way. In municipal elections it is sometimes necessary for the good men of all parties to unite in order to defeat the bad. This seems to be the size and shape of it in Detroit.

—It is now claimed that the democratic party of Ohio is entitled to the credit of doing away with the October elections in that state. Don't know whether that is so or not, but we do know that the October election is entitled to the credit of doing away with the Democratic party of that state.

—The JOURNAL offers to wager Jay Gould's next year's income against Gov. Alger's this year's salary that the Republican candidate for Governor in the old state of New York will be elected this fall.

—The greenback party in Ohio now numbers about 2,000 voters. There, as elsewhere, the greenback party has been tobogganing down the hill of disruption with amazing rapidity.

—If the New York Republicans need more help a few joint discussions between Foraker and Hoadley would perhaps be the card to play.

—Notwithstanding the low price of wheat the Bell telephone company has just declared an extra dividend. It pays to "hello."

—Detroit is a beautiful city, but the firm of Carve & Shoot seems to be taking the lead in business there.

JOURNAL JOTTINGS.

The supervisors are still in session. Teachers examination here to-day.

The Soldiers' Home fund is nearly all raised.

Some wheat fields show a very heavy growth.

There will be no more October elections in Ohio.

Grand Rapids will have a very handsome city hall.

Rink open with music every Wednesday and Saturday night.

Dr. Tibbitts had the misfortune a few days ago to lose his valuable horse.

Postmaster Blair takes possession of the Grand Rapids postoffice tomorrow.

Mrs. Chas. Buttrick and daughter of Cascade have returned from the west.

Jennie E., daughter of Alex. McKenzie of Campbell, died recently, in her fourth year.

President Chamberlain of the Lowell Mfg. Co. went to Chicago this week on business.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wyman and child, of Pontiac, are visiting at S. J. Wyman's.

United States Marshal Waters' first duty will be to arrest some of his editorial utterances.

Many Lowellites have been in Grand Rapids this week attending the Engine suit as witnesses.

Class in Modern Literature meets at Mrs. J. W. Hine's Saturday afternoon. Study: Oliver Goldsmith.

Hubbard's concert here was well attended and the singers did finely. His musical institute was a success.

Miss I. M. Willett & Co. have removed their stock of goods to the Carr and Davis building, lately used as a barber shop.

This is the season of the year when the man of the house whacks the crazy bone of the stovepipe elbow and wishes it was in Halifax.

Ed. Hoag returned from the east last week ill with typhoid fever and is now being cared for at the home of his sister, Mrs. Ort Hill.

The Detroit Post will be the Detroit Tribune on and after Nov. 1; and its price will be two cents per copy or ten cents per week.

Do not fail to hear Miss Frank Baker's lecture next Tuesday night at the M. E. Church in connection with the missionary convention.

Little Frank and Romaine Jones have the JOURNAL'S thanks for a basketful of the finest Late Rose potatoes we have seen this season.

The Lowell Manufacturing Co. has a very neat and cozy office. The office and all the departments of the building are heated by steam.

Married—Mr. Chas. P. Haner of Boston and Miss Lydia Towbridge of Saranac by Rev. J. W. Davida. The event occurred some time last week.

There is now room for several more daily papers in Grand Rapids. While in the city this week we noticed several new stalls to rent on Pearl street.

Miss Cora Bedell held the lucky number that drew the elegant sewing machine at H. B. Church's boot and shoe store. Miss Bedell is congratulated.

The Lowell Fishing Club will hold another meeting at E. W. Dodge's office next Monday evening, 7 o'clock s. t. All members are requested to be present.

Apple shippers in Lowell will please hand in their report for publication next week. Let us have the number of bushels bought here this season up to date.

The Kent county W. C. T. U. convention at Cedar Springs this week was well attended and very interesting. Quite a number of ladies of the Lowell Union were present and participated.

The Vergennes W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Mary Adams Thursday Oct. 29th, 2 o'clock P. M. All interested in the temperance question are invited.

SECY.

Notice of the death of Mrs. Whedon, mother of Hamilton Whedon, was inadvertently omitted at the time. She died Oct. 5th, and was buried the day following. Funeral services at the house, Rev. J. W. Davida, officiating. Deceased had been a sufferer for years.

Geo. P. Stone, the lawyer, has sold his office to Albert Jackson. Mr. Stone has not as yet fully decided where he will locate. He is just the kind of a man that will be missed when he moves. Mr. Jackson, his successor, is a good lawyer and in his case Keen's loss will be Lowell's gain.

Hon. W. B. Wells, of Ionia, who has been representing Uncle Sam as consul at Dundee, Scotland, has been "relieved" by the appointment of Arthur B. Wood of New York, as his successor. Judge Wells was such an "offensive partisan" in Scotland that his removal was of course demanded in the interest of civil service reform. No particulars received but we have no doubt that Judge Wells is a truly offensive partisan—viz. a squared rosette Republican.

Mrs. I. E. Strong will soon leave Lowell and make her home at Northville, from which place she will attend the Detroit Conservatory of Music. Her departure will be regretted by society here and her place as a musician will be very difficult to fill. The vacancy in the Congregational church choir, caused by her removal, will be a misfortune to the church. Her ambition is to become as proficient as possible in her profession, and that her talents are sufficient to place her in the first rank of pianists is very evident to those who have knowledge of her present accomplishments.

Many JOURNAL readers have already heard of the death of Frank Hodges, son of Mr. Amos Hodges of this village. He died suddenly of apoplexy, Oct. 12, at Greenville, Tenn., whither he had been sent from Washington on official business. Since 1865 Frank has been employed in the Pension department and had been promoted from time to time for faithfulness and efficiency. He was a brave soldier in the late war and for over 20 years has worn one armless sleeve. Frank was generous, noble hearted, and one of the most companionable fellows we ever met. In the very prime of life, aged 42, he is cut down, and it is with deep sorrow that his many warm personal friends here realize the fact. His remains were buried at Washington.

AUTUMN LEAVES.

Autumn leaves in about a month.

Autumn leaves cover a multitude of tin cans and so forth in the back yard.

Autumn leaves quite a number of JOURNAL subscribers in arrears.

Autumn leaves are fast losing their beauty and bugs and worms.

DEATH OF BENJAMIN RYDER.

Another old pioneer is dead. "Uncle Ben," as everybody called him, has been a great sufferer for a long time. Relief, welcome relief, came on Sunday, the 18th inst, when at 2 o'clock in the afternoon he died. Uncle Ben was one of the oldest and best known pioneers here. He died at the ripe age of 87 years and 4 mos. The funeral services were held at the Congregational church Tuesday forenoon, Rev. J. T. Husted officiating.

THAT ENGINE SUIT.

The readers of the JOURNAL have not forgotten that last January the Common Council of the village of Lowell opened negotiations with the Mansfield Machine Works, of Mansfield, Ohio, with a view to purchasing of said company a steam fire engine. An engine was sent here on trial and to be accepted by the Common Council in case it answered the conditions of the contract and proved to be, what it was represented to be, a first class steam fire engine. Mr. Coon of the Mansfield Machine Works, was here and gave the machine two trials, each trial being anything but satisfactory. The Council voted not to accept the engine. A third trial was made by representatives of the Mansfield Works and while they claimed that it did good work, the fact was that they were unable to make the engine throw a stream of water on the roof of Train's Hall block from the street in front. The Council had nothing to do with the third trial, having rejected it by a unanimous vote.

The Mansfield Machine Works left the engine here and brought suit against the Council for payment of the same. The case was put over and came up in Circuit Court on Wednesday of this week. The Mansfield Company employed as counsel Hon. J. C. Fitzgerald of Grand Rapids and S. P. Hicks of Lowell. The Council is represented by Attorneys Mathewson of Lowell and Kingsley of Grand Rapids.

Wednesday and Thursday were occupied in examining witnesses and a telephone dispatch from the city informs us that the testimony will not all be in before to-night. In that case it is doubtful if a verdict is reached to-day. The JOURNAL would suggest, if the jury is unable to agree, that the engine be brought out and tested before them. We think they would be able to agree after seeing it work.

SOME OPINIONS.

Unless Democrats hold office there is no hope for Democratic principles.—Atlanta Constitution.

There is a great rush for return tickets among the mugwump excursionists.—Philadelphia Press.

After the work of Tuesday in Ohio it is not in order to call the Republicans "a fair-weather party."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Henry Ward Beecher never was a Democrat. It is not possible for any man who denies the divine inspiration of the bible to be a Democrat.—Louisville Times.

Perhaps it is too much to expect of Mr. Garland that he should recommend his own removal to the president. And yet that is really his duty.—N. Y. Tribune.

The election of Foraker means that hereafter Democrats will use a 10-foot pole in encouraging a Prohibition candidate to draw Republican votes.—St. Louis Republican.

Gen. Neal Dow, the Prohibition leader of Maine, who has so often contended, contrary to the facts, that prohibition is a success in Maine now says, in a letter in the New York Post, that, in Bangor, "by common consent of the churches, and the influential people of the city, including parsons and deacons, the grogshops are permitted to run openly in defiance of the law." This is a confession that prohibition in Bangor practically operates to produce whisky, just as it did in all the cities of Michigan when prohibition was the law here.—Detroit Post.

The Democratic press is so seriously and earnestly occupied with the duty of explaining that the loss of Ohio is no rebuke to the federal administration that the other duty of proving that federal officers should be filled by Democrats seems for the moment to be forgotten.—Grand Rapids Telegram.

POTATOES WANTED.

Good sound upland grown Rose and Burbank potatoes wanted immediately. Must be ripe, and all smaller than a large hen's egg left out.
