LOWELL JOURNAL

BY JAS. W. HINE.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Gov. Alger has declared that he will not be a candidate for renomination. It is too early to discuss candidates but there has already been some quiet talk as to state nominations for next year. Considered as available Republican candidates for Governor we have heard mentioned the names of Hon. C. G. Luce of Branch, Hon. Geo. A. Smith of Hillsdale, Hon. Wm. Chamberlain of Berrien, all prominent and capable men, representing the agricultural interests, while in addition to these are the names of Ex-Lt. Gov. Crosby of Kent, Hon. Perry Hannah of Grand Rapids, Major A. B. Watson of Grand Rapids, Hon. E. S. Lacey of Eaton, and others, all first-class men. With judicious nominations the Republicans will show that Michigan is still a Republican state.

The defeat of Mahone in Virginia is not to be deplored so much as Mahone would have Republicans think. He is too much like Ben Butler to be a safe leader and too much of a Mahone man to be even a good party counselor. We don't want to see such men recognized as leaders in the Republican party. Mahone possesses some good traits, but more bad ones, and now that he is placed on the retired list it is hoped he will voluntarily remain there. He is not the man to lead any party to substantial victory, because he, in his own estimation, is bigger than any party. The Republicans may, perhaps, never carry Virginia but they can carry a clear banner and not without hope.

Gov. Hill says the recent victory in New York was purely a democratic victory and he sees no need of catering to the mugwumps. He takes no stock in the mugwump civil service "idea." President Cleveland earnestly supported Hill for Governor and voted for him. Geo. Wm. Curtis still insists that President Cleveland is an angel and a civil service reformer of the purest ray. Cleveland stands by Hill, Curtis stands by Cleveland and Hill damns Curtis. In the language of the milkmaid:

"Here's a pretty mess; witness our distress."

The magnificent iron-clad steamer 'Algona' was wrecked off Port Arthur, in Lake Superior Monday morning and 48 lives lost. This in brief is the announcement of another terrible lake disaster. Thousands of lives have been lost by taking passage upon the treacherous waters of our lakes at this time of year when a safe trip is never assured. When will people learn not to rush blindly into the jaws of death? Lake transportation at this season of the year is always dangerous, but the danger is seldom heeded.

There seems to be a wide gulf between the greenback organ of Western Michigan (the G. R. Leader) and the chairman of the greenback state central committee (W. D. Fuller) on the subject of irredeemable currency. The Leader says the greenback party is not committed to the irredeemable doctrine, and Fuller says it is. But why quarrel over side issues? The main question—spoils—is what you want to keep a single eye on.

W. G. Thompson, of Detroit, who called himself a Republican as long as he could use the Republican party to his personal advantage and then left the party for the party's good, has now been training with the democrats a year or so—just long enough to get some weak minded political brother to recommend him for Governor. The whole state of Michigan is in a roar of laughter.

Frank Hurd, the great free trader, says this country will be flooded with free trade documents and the people will be educated to advocate free trade. This country has been flooded with free trade documents for years, direct from England, and one of the visible results of the flood is the stranding of free trade Frank Hurd on the shore of defeat.

The "Independents" who supported Cleveland for President and opposed Hill for Governor must have relished the flavor of President Cleveland's congratulatory telegram to Gov. Hill last week. The humor in the situation assays about 2,000 pounds to the ton.

Since the election of David P. Hill as Governor of New York we have become convinced that there is no communication between this and the spirit world. Gov. Hill has received no congratulatory message from his late partner, Boss Tweed.

Speaking of the miracle of turning water into wine, a wicked neighbor of ours says it was no miracle at all—says it was a mean trick. As we showed him the door he said he'd like to catch any body turning water into his wine.

We notice in an exchange that one Charles Rath has left his wife Ann because she is a very indiscreet flirt. The JOURNAL cannot resist the temptation to quote: "A soft Ann, sir, turneth away Rath."

The election returns from New York were not so bad after all. Gov. Hill's reported plurality of 35,000 has dwindled down to about 9,000, and the legislature is strongly Republican.

We would never realize that there are so many wonderfully brilliant minds in the world were it not for the traveling phrenologist.

Tammany walked to the front again this fall in New York and the mugwump walked to the rear. The walking was good.

Gentlemen, the time will come when the people will concede that even George William Curtis doesn't know it all.

Here is nepotism with a big neep. Secretary Bayard's son James has been appointed secretary of Arizona.

If the penalty for swearing were imprisonment for life what would be the male population of your town?

When we can speak of him as the late Sluggo Sullivan our loss will be whose gain?

That political emetic, Harper's Weekly, is expected to retch violently this week.

The song of the sheriff: "Give us arrest."

JOURNAL JOTTINGS.

The roads are perfectly 'orrid.

Col. E. A. Sunderlin is in Chicago. Saranac gives a Grand masquerade to-night.

Hello! Over 800 telephones are in use in Grand Rapids.

S. B. Knapp of Blanchard has been visiting Lowell friends.

To Mrs. Orin Sayles, of Vergennes, Nov. 9, a ten pound girl.

L. J. Post of this township raised 4,300 bushels of potatoes this year.

A. W. Hine has been to St. Louis, Mich. for a few days, on business.

Prof. Stuart's little girl fell and cut her face quite badly a few days ago.

W. P. Burhans, a prominent and wealthy citizen of Ionia, died last Saturday.

W. A. Shank retires from the Middleville Republican and Horace Watkins steps in.

Cards of thanks and obituary notices, five cents a line. Count seven words to the line.

The family of the late Ber. W. H. Osborn have taken up their residence in this village.

The class in modern literature will meet with Miss Jessie Stone Saturday afternoon.

All receiving invitations to the Peek-a-boo Club's Thanksgiving masquerade will of course attend.

Attorney Albert Jackson successor, to G. P. Stone, is duly installed and ready for business over the bank.

Mrs. W. H. Gardner, of St. Louis, Mo. has been spending a few days in town with her father, Mr. John Look.

Mrs. I. E. Strong left Lowell Monday to visit friends in St. John and Flint before going to Northville to reside.

Mrs. N. Keeney, the hair dresser, goes home next week to remain until after Christmas. Call on her before she goes.

The Bellevue Gazette grinds out more local news than that town pays for we fear. The Gazette isn't the least bit lazy.

G. W. Parker's fine residence has been much improved in appearance by the application of a wisely selected tinted paint.

Carl S. English of So. Boston has just received a full blood Shropshire Down sheep from the flock of Eugene Hatch, Jefferson Wis.

Petoskey was a drawing card at the rink Wednesday night, about 300 people being present. The little chief is a good one on wheels.

The good farmer puts his mower and reaper and such things under cover. The farmer that doesn't generally puts them under a mortgage.

Hon. Newcomb Clark, of Bay, speaker of the Michigan house of representatives, was in town Tuesday, a welcome caller at the JOURNAL office.

The Peek-a-boo Club will give a Thanksgiving party Thursday evening, Nov. 28. The young men composing this club are preparing for a grand time.

Two of the best looking travelling men on the road—Ort. Hill and Pete Coppens—have been basking in the warm sunshine of Lowell friends lately.

There will be preaching at the Baptist Church next Sunday morning by Rev. H. W. Powell, also a concert in the evening for the benefit of the Bible work.

The Soldiers' Home board of managers will meet in Grand Rapids Nov. 18, when the deeds to the Home site will be transferred to the board. The revised plans of the building will then be adopted, also.

Some sneak thieves made a raid on L. J. Robinson's turkey roost the other night, taking four of his best gobblers. They evidently intended to bag the whole lot (about 40) but were frightened away.

Program for L. L. C. Nov. 18. Taylor's and Fillmore's, Mrs. Sunderlin. Current events, Mrs. Pease. Measures submitted to the Senate by Henry Clay, Mrs. M. N. Hine. Excitation, Mrs. Dougall. Incidents in the political career of Daniel Webster, Mrs. Craw. COM.

Married—at the residence of the bride, Oct. 30 1885, by Rev. S. E. Faxon Jr. Mr. John Martin of Blanchard, Mich. and Miss Ellen McMurry of Ada, Mich. A pleased company gathered to witness the ceremony and bid the parties God speed. The presents were a happy combination of the beautiful and useful and will remain for many years as mementoes of a happy gathering of friends.

The last meal was served in the Rathbun House, Grand Rapids yesterday, the oldest hotel in the Grand Rapids valley. The old structure is to be removed and a new block erected in its place, which, it is said, will be the finest in the city.

No team should be allowed to stand unhitched in any of the streets or alleys. Runaways occur unnecessarily sometimes, and life is endangered through carelessness or neglect. The marshal should see that no team is left standing in the street or alley unsecured.

Dentist J. D. Robertson of Chicago, formerly of Lowell, has been appointed a member of the dental clinical staff in the department of dental and oral surgery in the Rush Medical College, Chicago. Dr. R.'s qualifications for the place cannot be questioned and we congratulate him on his promotion.

Married—in Grand Rapids, Nov. 8th 1885, Dr. O. C. McDannell and Miss Allie Dean, both of Lowell. The doctor is one of Lowell's most popular citizens and his bride is a most amiable and estimable lady. Their many warm friends in Lowell and elsewhere tender most hearty and sincere congratulations. They have just returned from a visit to Chicago.

Appearances indicate that the new Detroit Tribune has come to fill a long felt want in Michigan and is going to do it. It has already won the popular heart with its bright and new pages, its crisp utterances and aggressive style. We are glad to know that its circulation is very rapidly increasing and shall expect to see it number twice that of the late Post before 1886.

The petition presented to the Common Council, for the suppression of gambling, is signed by many leading citizens of this village. The petition and names of the petitioners appear in this number of the JOURNAL. The petition asks that the law be enforced and society be protected. Is that asking too much? We think not. If there are gambling dens here they should be suppressed at once.

The handsome editor of the Cadillac News is father of a promising son. The son promises to make it lively for the father. The son will probably pitch curved bowls the biggest part of every night for about six months and sleep during the day. If it is the first baby in that family he will do all the acts named in the bill and throw in an after piece when least expected. The first baby is generally a very troublesome little comfort—more so than the thirtieth or fortieth. We don't know why it is so but it is so.

Geo. P. Stone, formerly of Carson City, but lately a resident of Lowell, Kent co., having sold his business there, has decided to remove to Ithaca, and has rented an office over Church, Bills & Co's. bank. He will occupy Mrs. Swift's residence on Pine River street. Mr. Stone is well and favorably known in the south-western part of this county, and for years has practiced more or less in our circuit court. He is a good lawyer, an agreeable gentleman, and will prove a useful and desirable citizen, and the Journal hopes he may have no occasion to regret the change.—Ithaca Journal.

"Santee Bill," the long haired splinter or a wild western war-whoop, who recently visited Lowell, is in durance vile. The Pewamo Plaindealer tells the story very neatly as follows:

"If Santee Bill has dates for any towns during the next twenty days, we want to say to the good people of those places that they will look for him longingly and in vain. He will not come. There will not be enough of him present to make a quorum. You will count noses and William's will be missing. So will that of the young man who straddles over two chairs and otherwise makes a successful deformity of himself. The terror of the northwest, in company with the elastic youth aforementioned, are at present in the 'jug' at the expense of the tax payers of this county, and will continue to do so until twenty suns shall rise and set. William got among the tenderfeet here, and jumped his board bill. He has made several notable jumps during his life, once clearing a ravine, 38 feet wide, then, again, leaping from the bluffs to a river below, a distance of 80 feet. But this hotel bill jump was altogether too much for his constitution. The minions of the law laid hands on him and brought him back to Pewamo, and before Justice Warner, who gave him twenty days as aforesaid. The two sharpest detectives of the county, Capt. John Chamberlain and Lieut. G. W. Hunter were detailed to escort them to the hotel de Ionia."

A reader of the JOURNAL has a word to say for the Lowell Creamery Co. He says: "Farmers who are selling cream to the Lowell Creamery are getting 17 cents per gauge, or the same as 17c per lb for their butter and saving a vast amount of labor in making and marketing, while those who are not selling cream are getting from 8 to 13 cents, and even that being more than the grocer can sometimes afford to pay. I see no reason why farmers keeping cows should not supply themselves with ice this winter and sell their cream, for farmers can surely depend upon better prices for their cream if they all patronize the Creamery, thus enabling the Company to run the business to its full capacity. Not only is the farmer benefited by selling cream but by dairy farming it adds $1.00 per acre to the value of his land, while it saves $1.00 per acre of the value of his land as against grain farming. This is $2 per acre—good rental. Twenty of the poorest milk cows that two men can milk in 14 hours in the morning and again in the evening in the same time, will pay the wages of the two hired hands and furnish groceries for a good sized family, by selling cream at 10 cents per gauge. The skimmed milk will raise 20 hogs worth $6 each, or $120, and to this be added $300, worth of calves as clear profit over and above the crop raised by the two hired men. Don't calculate on simply the cream but take the results at the end of the year. I for one shall depend on dairy farming and sell my cream. By doing so I shall save my wife the labor of making butter and the trouble of trying to keep it for fall prices and then have the buyer tell me it is "off flavor"—"we can give you only 8 cents cash or 10 in trade."

BRAVE MATTIE PERRIN.

Risking her own Life She saves a child from instant death.

A frightful runaway and accident occurred here Monday afternoon, resulting in the serious injury of one of Lowell's most popular young ladies.

Mr. Smith Godfrey's team started from the rear of Johnson's grocery on the east side, struck out to Bridge street and ran furiously west across the bridge and on down Main street. In front of Train's hotel Will Perrin's little girl was just crossing the street as Miss Mattie Perrin, who was near by, saw the team come rushing on toward the child.

With no thought of self—with only one thought and that to save the child, Mattie sprang into the street and rescued her at the risk of her own life. The child was saved without even a bruise but Mattie was struck violently to the ground, the team and lumber wagon passing over her body. Terror stricken bystanders rushed to pick her up expecting to find her dead or at least mortally hurt. She was immediately carried inside the hotel, Dr. Young and several ladies and friends in attendance. Upon examination the doctor found a deep contusion over the right eye but no bones broken. Whether seriously internally injured or not could not then be determined. Scores of men and women rushed to the hotel with anxious faces. As the story of Mattie's brave, noble act was told, tears fell from the eyes of many. But it was with joy that the crowd of people heard that, although Mattie was unconscious and very seriously hurt, the chances for her recovery were favorable. That evening Mattie was taken to her home to receive the tender care of parents and friends.

Anxious inquiries as to her condition have daily, and hourly, been made, showing how deep is public sympathy for the brave girl who voluntarily threw herself in front of the wheels of death to save the life of another.

LATER.—We are glad to learn that Mattie's injuries are not so serious as first reported and that she will probably be quit again soon.

Rink Attractions.

Next Wednesday night Miss Eva and Frank Arlington, celebrated bicyclists and skaters, will perform at the Lowell rink. They are said to be immense. Admission 15 cents.

Cracked a Safe.

Dougall and Wellington's office safe was successfully cracked about 2 o'clock Thursday morning, evidently by "professionals." The burglars wrecked the safe but there was not a cent of money in it. It was a small fire proof safe. The burglars no doubt felt very cheap over their adventure. No clue.

Chalk Talk at Music Hall.

A very pleasing entertainment will be given at Music Hall next Tuesday evening (17th) by Rollo Bryan, the "chalk-talk artist." Mr. Bryan's picture talking is like that of Thos. Nast and Frank Baird and proves a new and highly entertaining means of presenting good moral lessons. His work comes highly endorsed by the clergy and the press. First-class music in connection. The Lansing Republican says:

"Rollo Bryan's 'chalk-talk' given recently at the Agricultural College proved highly entertaining. His delineations revealed a talent and artistic skill of a very high order. This was the artist's first appearance at the College, where he made many enthusiastic friends."

Hambletonian Sales.

Geo. W. Parker of this village recently sold to O. B. Fox of Wisconsin, his "Jim Blaine," a three year old gelding by Fred B. Hine; first dam Annie Brown by Robin Hood; 3d dam Lady Brown, $350.00.

Mr. Parker also sold to E. H. Lynd of Middleville a weanling colt by Fred B. Hine; 1st dam by Lexington Chief Jr. 2d dam by Burns. Price $300.

Messrs. A. H. Kortlander, owner of the trotting stallion Hambleton (rec. 2:28), Messrs. L. J. Van Leuven & Son, of Riverdale, Mr. Broadman and F. A. Bacon of Richland, have been here to look over Parker's stables.

Edgar Morse sold a fine young trotter to Geo. Brandt of Grand Rapids.

The finest canines to be found are made by Bickert. All kinds—fresh every day. Go and see. Rickert beats them all.

The finest line of Dress suits are found at Howard, Pease & Co's.

Howard, Pease & Co. have a splendid line of Trunks very cheap.
