

HINE'S DOLLAR WEEKLY

LOWELL JOURNAL.

One Dollar a Year.

Office in Train's Hall Block.

Three Cents Per Copy.

VOLUME XXI.

LOWELL, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1886.

NUMBER 35.

LOWELL JOURNAL.
BY JAS. W. HINE.

READ THIS.

All subscribers in arrears can easily learn the amount they owe us by referring to the printed label on their JOURNAL (or on the wrapper, if so sent). Figured at $1.00 per year, or 84 cents per month, from the date on the label to the present date will give the correct result. Let every subscriber look at said label this week and, if in arrears, forward the amount due to the JOURNAL at once. The amount due from each delinquent is small, but the aggregate of these small amounts is large. The publisher trusts that every delinquent will respond at once to this call which is certainly reasonable. One dollar will pay for the JOURNAL another year.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The organization known as the Western Plaster Association meets no opposition from the grangers. The combination proposes to hold the price of land plaster at $2.50 per ton and this is considered a fair and reasonable price by the purchaser. The Grange Visiter says that friendly relations are fully established between the plaster men and patrons.

The opposition papers continue to manifest much uneasiness on account of the vigorous and aggressive manner in which the Detroit Tribune reaches out and gathers in several hundred new subscribers every week. Some folks get mad when they see other folks enjoying themselves. It's all wrong—such a spirit needs chloroforming.

Edison's device for telegraphing to and from moving railroad trains will be introduced by the international railway telegraph company, which has just filed its articles of incorporation. Edison carries more head than all the other electricians.

Ex-Gov. Horatio Seymour, whose remains were buried last Tuesday, was a man greatly esteemed. Of all his sayings probably none is more familiar to the reading public than this: "Your candidate I cannot be."

There must be large clots of blood on the moon when the Detroit Free Press comes out to the very footlights and says to the audience that the Cincinnati Enquirer is not democratic authority.

The Detroit Tribune wouldn't trade American votes for English votes, had as we are in this country. Probably thinks the American ilk is virtue itself compared to the England Dilke.

Attorney General Garland is not the funny man of the President's cabinet, and yet he could not doubt telephone a story if he would. (This, with malice aforethought.)

Apostle Lorenzo Snow of Utah had nine wives as pure as Snow—as pure as the driven Snow. (P. S. Snow was driven in by the supreme court.)

Gen. Hancock died poor. If congress votes a liberal pension to his widow there should be no grumbling.

JOURNAL GOTTINGS.

Blue and Gray to-night.
Cellars should be well ventilated.
A severe blizzard here Monday night.
"Blue and Gray" had a good house last night.

There are now 228 inmates of the soldiers' home.

Mr. W. W. Hatch of Morley was in Lowell this week.

The JOURNAL is late this week owing to the absence of help.

Will M. Hunter has opened a new drug store at Lakeview.

Deputy sheriff Weeks of Grattan has returned from a trip to Illinois.

John B. Gough, the great temperance orator, died yesterday afternoon.

The Vergennes W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Libbie Fox Feb. 25. All invited.

Theodore Woodbridge owns a heifer four years old next June, that weighs 1650 lbs.

B. G. Wilson has returned from an extended visit with friends in several eastern states.

Go to Music Hall to-night and see "Blue and Gray." Home talent presents it first-class.

Agent Shedd, of the Law and Order League, Grand Rapids, has resigned his position and will study law.

Miss Josephine Tolford of Grand Rapids has been visiting the family of E. J. Booth Esq. of this village.

Baptist social at Mrs. Dr. Peck's next Wednesday evening. Refreshments served. All are very cordially invited.

While temporarily insane Mrs. Wm. Haines of Grand Rapids jumped into a cistern. Miss May Cummings and others rescued her.

The South Lowell aid society will have a social at Mrs. J. Easterby's next Wednesday evening. Refreshments served; ten cents a couple. All invited.

The Grand Rapids Leader is seven years old. It is lively and enterprising, and always presents a fine local news page. Politically it is clear off-way off.

H. Nash is building a large platform at the rear of the express office for an agricultural implement depot. He proposes to deal in that line of goods the coming season.

P. J. Devine & Co. have closed up their clothing trade here and will go into business at Ithaca, this state. Success be theirs. The Ithaca people will find them live business men.

A second surgical operation for cancer in the breast has been performed on Mrs. L. W. Cogswell. This afflicted lady has stood up nobly and with commendable courage in all her sufferings.

A wedding will occur in this village Monday evening, when one of Lowell's best young men will become the husband of one of Lowell's best young ladies. Further particulars next week.

If the ground is bare over the strawberry bed, see that the wind has not blown off the litter intended for protection. If the covering of the bed has been neglected, it is not too late to apply it.

Senator Everts has promised to attend the Michigan Club's banquet in Detroit Monday night. Other distinguished statesmen will be present, Senator Logan and Judge Foraker among them.

Fred Peck, a former journalist of Grand Rapids, has purchased the Kalamazoo Gazette. Fred is a bright fellow and the JOURNAL hopes he'll have to carry money to the bank three times a day, rain or shine.

"When is a man justified in striking another?" is a query found in one of our exchanges. We think we can answer that question without a moment's delay, viz. to wit: When he sees a man shucking peanuts at a concert.

L. L. C. Feb. 26. At roll call quotation from favorite author; current events, Mrs. Ball; essay, woman and her mission, Mrs. Brower; the journey into Spain, by Longfellow, Mrs. Robinson; humorous selection, Mrs. Husted.

The attention of our readers is called to the large advertisement of Drs. B. S. & Co. in this paper. These gentlemen have made a contract with us for a year's advertising, which is sufficient guarantee that they intend to visit this place regularly.

At her residence, Tuesday eve., Doodie Sweetland entertained about forty of her friends at progressive euchre. Miss Lizzie Robinson and Harry Jones winning the first prize while Miss Kit Mason and Ben West triumphantly carried away the booby prizes.

Manager Bush, who is now in full charge of the Lowell rink, was pleased to see a large crowd of people there Saturday night. The music by the new band was good and everything passed off very pleasantly. Open to-morrow evening again with music. All ladies admitted free.

Mrs. Ovenshire, of this village, gets back pension amounting to over $2,200 and $8 per month hereafter during her life, or widowhood. She is the mother of Giles and George Ovenshire of this village. Properly handled, her pension money will enable her to enjoy the comforts of life during the remainder of her days.

Kent County Teachers' Association, Supervisor's room, Grand Rapids, Feb. 26 and 27. On Friday evening, 26th, Mr. James Chalmers, president of the association and secretary of the county board of examiners, will deliver his lecture on "Crumbs." Mr. Chalmers is a good speaker and his lecture will be worth hearing.

E. J. Mason of Grattan leaves a painful of apple jelly—a prime article made by the new steam process. He has made this season about 3,000 gallons and finds it giving universal satisfaction. Mr. Mason contemplates trying his hand at sorghum, having been encouraged to do so by some of the substantial farmers in his vicinity.

A young man named Amon Hubbell burglarized three stores at Saranac Sunday night and afterward stole a horse from Mrs. Wolverton and attempted to escape. He was run down by deputy sheriff Dodge and the stolen property recovered. Young Hubbell has been an inmate of the Ionia house of correction. He is evidently anxious to return there or go on to Jackson.

Mr. L. L. Riggs, of Fredonia, N. Y., a teacher of vocal music, is in town and contemplates organizing a singing class here. For this purpose a meeting will be held at Music Hall next Tuesday evening to which all are invited. Mr. Riggs has had valuable and successful experience in teaching vocal music and makes voice culture a specialty. Go and see him Tuesday evening.

Attorney General Taggart, in reply to an inquiry by the prosecuting attorney of Montcalm county, whether legal action can be taken by the board of supervisors at a special meeting to divide the representative districts, the same being neglected at the regular annual meeting, renders decision that the board not only has the power, but it is its duty to meet on call for that purpose, and divide a county in pursuance of law. Several counties are interested in the matter.

Messrs. Grant Bros. of Chattanooga, Tenn., send us a beautifully printed and handsomely illustrated book containing a history of the past and present, and promises of the future, of that truly enterprising city—"the industrial center of the south." The book is a charming souvenir and reflects great credit upon the Chattanooga Times publishing house, from whose presses it was issued.

Sparta village is all torn up over the failure of Mr. Woodin, a prominent merchant there, and the consequent complications resulting from too many fingers in the pie. Appearances indicate, however, that Mr. Woodin has been trying to do the square thing by his creditors. He became seriously involved when the Sparta Furniture Company failed and found it impossible to rally.

A mild protest from Rev. D. O. Ball has been received in reply to Mr. J. C. Post's "notice" in last week's JOURNAL. Said "notice" was inserted at regular advertising rates, the publisher declining to admit it on any other terms. Mr. Ball generously concedes Mr. Post's ability as a lecturer and feels justified in not meeting him in joint discussion. In conceding so much Mr. Ball, we fear, places too great a discount on his own skill as a debater. The JOURNAL trusts no unpleasant feelings have been incurred and that peace and harmony may reign perpetually all around. So mote it be.

Our Country Home has this to say of an order to which many JOURNAL readers belong: The grange had an astonishing development some 15 years ago; then it rapidly subsided. Again, a few years back, it revived and has since been gaining in strength and acquiring a substance which is undoubtedly more enduring and useful than the mushroom growth of its earlier days. The grange is winning a place of permanence and influence that shall endure as long as wisdom and energy prevail in its councils. It now attracts the very best men and women of many communities to its circle, and thus is gaining a prestige that may be used as a power for good in commerce and legislation.

Another sad message comes to us from the west, announcing the death of John Tate of Concordia, Kansas, a former resident of Lowell, and brother of the late Capt. Thos. Tate. We are informed that John died in Chicago last Saturday, having just arrived there for medical treatment, accompanied by his wife. His remains were taken back to Concordia for interment. For a long time he has been suffering from what was pronounced a cancer in his throat, death at last resulting therefrom. He was a good citizen and a prosperous business man, having, since his residence in Kansas, accumulated a handsome property. The bereaved widow and children have the sympathy of many Lowell friends.

An agricultural writer asks: Wouldn't it be wiser in the Department of Agriculture to give less attention to sorghum and more to the sugar beet? The latter is undeniably the great sugar-producing plant for the largest area. Sorghum can only be grown with success in very limited areas, while the cost of manufacturing is quite high. In California the beet has been used in sugar-making with success, a good dividend having been declared on the first year's results. The Franklin works in Massachusetts would have been made a success if the farmers had only supplied enough beets to keep the mill running. Sorghum-growing for sugar in New England is out of the question, but sugar beets can be most successfully grown in many, if not all, portions of that section.

"Blue and Gray" was presented Wednesday evening to a rather light audience. It was the opening night and it was not expected that as many would attend there as last night and to-night. This excellent war drama is very acceptably put on by Mr. Cobb and our own home talent. The leading parts are well sustained throughout; some of them exceptionally so. To most of the audience it is a pleasant disappointment. The play is a better one than the imperfect rehearsals of it showed, and the parts are so well sustained that there is little room for criticism. Some of the situations are very thrilling, others decidedly funny. The tableaux are beautiful, some of them grandly so; the singing is fine. Limited space forbids mention of each character in the drama. The cast is well made up and the play is a success. Go to-night and see it.

"Kent County has used in the jail the patent bar lock or fastening, by means of which all the cells in a tier or row in a prison can be locked or unlocked simultaneously by a jailer who remains outside of the corridor open to prisoners, for about fourteen years past. When this lock was attached the County was given to understand that the lock was not patented. But it was, all the same, and the patent is the property of Mrs. Sarah May. She has, recently, been collecting royalties for the use of the patent which is quite generally used all through the United States—royalties, or pay for infringements in using the lock. Hon. M. C. Burch of this city is her attorney. Kent County is using the lock on twenty-four cells. The regular royalty is $30 per cell. So her claim against the county was $1,200, and the interest for the time the lock has been used here. The claim was nearly $3,000, but Mr. Burch feeling a friendly interest in this city and county, and also finding a disposition on the part of the Board of Supervisors, as represented by Chairman Davis and the Committee on Buildings, to treat fairly on the matter, settled the claim by accepting $1,500 in full of all demands, to-date." Wouldn't it be a good idea hereafter for the county to understand what it is doing when it invests in non-patented inventions? This 1500 put-up is the fruit of stupidity.

Lectures.
Mr. M. A. Hewett will deliver a lecture at the M. E. church in Lowell on Friday evening Feb. 26, under the auspices of the M. E. Sunday school. Subject: "CURIOSITIES." Proceeds to be used for the purchase of S. S. Library books. Admission 10 cents. Lecture to commence at 7:30. COM.

Lectures.
Perry May of Mich. State Grange will give Public Lectures as follows: At So. Boston Grange Hall Wednesday Eve. Feb. 24; at Bowne Center Grange Hall Thursday Eve. Feb. 25; at So. Lowell Grange Hall, Friday Eve. Feb. 26; at Alton Grange Hall, Saturday Eve, Feb. 27; at Vergennes Grange Hall, Monday Eve, March 1, and at Keeno Grange Hall Tuesday Eve, March 2. These Lectures are held under the auspices of the Lowell District Council, and are free for everybody, and everybody is invited to attend them. Mrs. D. H. ENGLISH, Lecturer of L. D. Council.

DIED.
At Mackinaw City, Mich. Feb. 13, 1886, of typhoid pneumonia, Charles H. Kniffin, aged 25 years.

This announcement is a sad surprise to the JOURNAL, as well as to many other friends of the deceased. For about nine years Charley was a trusted and faithful employe of the JOURNAL office, commencing as an apprentice and working his way up to the foremanship, which position he held for several years. He was an excellent workman and capable of further advancement. He was prompt, rapid and accurate: three essentials in the make-up of a successful printer.

His death occurred after an illness of nine days. A private letter states that "he passed away without a struggle." Just before he died "he saw the Sons of Veterans coming to welcome him on the other side and asked his mother to fold his blanket and get his clothes ready for the departure." He was a member of Perry Camp S. O. V. of Lowell. The funeral was held on Monday afternoon. The JOURNAL extends its heartfelt sympathy to the family, friends and mourners the death of Charley as one of the JOURNAL family. "Peace to his ashes."

Bowne Zephyrs.
Everybody, their sisters, uncles, cousins and their aunts, attended Peckham's Herald party.

There is talk of lighting Bowne Center with natural gas, as there is a good supply in that vicinity going to waste.

The "Bohemian Oat" man is running at large again, so be careful when you shoot.

John Johnson sold his farm to Geo. Huntington; consideration, $3,100. John contemplates going to Illinois to live. DAVE.

Cannon Echoes.
Mr. Frank Tuttle is very low with inflammation of the lungs.
Mrs. P. Magan died Monday morning of consumption.

Mr. Dave Young is again very low; his recovery is doubtful.
To Mr. and Mrs. L. Bostwick a girl, Mrs. Elmer Freeman of Grand Rapids is visiting here.

The marriage of Mr. M. Byrne of Ada and Miss Maggie Doran of Cannon will take place next week.

The severe weather does not favor the Mission at Grattan Church yet the attendance is very large. ZITA.

News from the Southeast.
Died, in Clarksville Feb. 12, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Richardson. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of all.

The meetings at the Lake school house close this week. Free Floody will commence meetings at Freeport Sunday Eve. Died, in Clarksville, Feb. 9, Mrs. Osborn. She leaves many dear friends to mourn her loss.

Diphtheria is reported at Mr. Whitney's and also at Mr. George Richardson's. Rev. J. I. Towner and wife are visiting their parents at Lansing and Ovid. They will return home next Saturday. Mr. Towner will bring his mother home with him.

Alton Atoms.
Hon. Willard Wells, late consul to Scotland, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Trumbull, the family of A. C. Davis, and other friends. Mr. Wells was an "offensive partisan" in Scotland and had to come home.
I am well pleased with our (?) President. The meaner he can act the better it suits me.
The young folks and old folks met at Grange Hall Monday evening for a Valentine social. They had "isters" and lots of good things and the P. O. and Valentines made lots of fun. They danced "Michigan girls," played "Ketch and Bassum" &c. till the witching hour of midnight, then joyfully wended their way home through the storm. X.

Oakfield Items.
Moses Reynolds' house was captured by more than the usual number of surprising friends on Wednesday, the 10th inst. Nice time, fine presents, boss dining, good singing and etc. J. W. Bowdman and wife of Greenville, Mrs. Reynolds' parents, were present. It was his 75th birthday and he is the last survivor of fifteen children. Mr. Reynolds came from Canada about 30 years and has made a good home out of the farm he bought of a Yankee who went from bad to worse and died in the poor house at last.
The White Swan dramatic club will give an entertainment at the Baptist Church on Tuesday eve the 23rd; "the turn of the tide" is on the program.
Bert Lashel has bought out M. A. Potter in the Oakfield Centerstore. Mr. Potter has moved back to the farm. M. T. Jr.

Casade Cullings.
Married at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Frank Hulbert and Miss Hattie Galeboth of Cascade. A large number of friends were present who extended their congratulations to the happy pair.

Mr. Geo. Brown, the present school inspector, closed school this week that he might attend to his official duties. Mr. Freeman Strong of Stanton recently arrived at his brother Nathan's and will remain until spring.
Another instance of "two hearts that beat as one," by the union of Dewitt Spaulding of Ada and Miss Lillie Robinson, formerly of Caledonia.

Revival meetings are being held at the Ada Congregational Church. Many of the young people take an active part in these meetings. FLO.

So. Boston Breecers.
Rev. Wm. Judd received $32.00 for a donation at the Hall, which was more than was expected after the sleighing disappeared.

Those reported sick a week ago are better.
Funds are being solicited to purchase barb wire for a fence along the highway south of S. Holmes.
The question, "Resolved, That the liquor traffic is a greater curse than the slave traffic ever was," was decided in the affirmative at the last lyceum.

Perry Mayo, Lec. of the State Grange, will give a public lecture at the Hall Wednesday evening, Feb. 24th. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

A horse was stolen near Saranac and tracked through So. Boston to Middleville and captured with the thief the first of the week.

Grattan Gatherings.
Mrs. Owen Magee has returned from her visit in Minnesota.
Mrs. Patrick Magan died of consumption Feb. 15, aged near 90 years. Funeral services will be held at the Catholic church.

Mrs. Geo. Rhodes daughter and Mrs. Chester Stebbens, sister of Mrs. H. Clemons, are here from Lakeview. Mr. Clemon's death may take place at any time.

Prof. P. D. Cornell's school played "Little Ruby, or the Home Jewel," and "Don't count your Chickens 'fore they are hatched;" Feb. 12, at Grattan church before a large audience.

As Mr. Orrin Purdy and family are soon to remove to Belding they were given a very large surprise party Feb. 11 accompanied with fine presents.

Missions held at the Catholic church this week are largely attended. Two Priests from a distance are already there.

Rev. Mr. Hankinson, of Cannonsburg lectured on "Thought and Thinking," before the Literary Social held at Grattan Church last week. MAUD.

Morse Lake Ripples.
Our last week's thaw has caught cold and some more snow has fallen, which delights the hearts of those who hadn't got ready for bare ground yet.

During the warm weather of last week large numbers of perch were captured with hook and line through holes in the ice on McEwen lake.

Mrs. A. Blakeslee has been seriously ill, but is reported a little better.

The male and female impersonator failed to put in an appearance at the Grange Hall last Saturday night, as per hand bills, and the crowd who had gathered to witness his wonderful performances went home disgusted.

Again we are obliged to admit that peach buds are nearly all blasted. The weather has not been so cold here on the high lands as to effect this, had the trees been in good condition, but although large numbers of peach trees survived the intense cold of last winter, all of them were injured and weakened to a considerable degree.

We are glad the "two elegant young bloods" concluded to come out with their names and thus satisfy public curiosity, as we have been obliged to disappoint a great many who have asked us who it was that caught the rabbit. Quite right boys, if things continue as they've done we shall probably be obliged to coral one next to our back cellar window, one under our chamber windows and three or four around through our peach orchard, berry grounds, and melon patch, for the easy identification of transient visitors, who take especial pains to come when myself and family are away from home.
