STRICTLY PURE LEAD, ZINC, AND PURE LINSEED OIL.

"What shall I do with the outside of my house?" is a question often asked by those who wish to paint.

In exterior decoration, the surroundings should be taken into consideration, and the building treated in such a way as to harmonize as nearly as possible with them; especially should this be the case in suburban residences, as there is nothing that so effectually destroys the beauty of a landscape as to see a house painted in colors that are in discord with objects about it.

This subject has become so important, we have naturally taken a great interest in it and have given it no little study. We shall be pleased to answer any specific questions that may be addressed to us.

ATTENTION is called to the fact that nearly all other manufacturers of mixed paints are obliged to give a rule for the covering capacity of their paints, requiring from 15 to 25 per cent. more than this, simply because The Sherwin-Williams Paint is properly made and of pure materials, and therefore admits of being rubbed out under the brush like any pure lead, zinc and oil paint, not requiring to be "flowed on," as the manufacturers of cheap paints direct their products to be used.

was observed in this city as a holiday by everyone, business being suspended and pub-lic buildings and private residences flying the national colors. The heat caused an unusual number of the residents to leave the city early for Coney Island and other suburban resofts, and every outgoing train and excur-sion boat was crowded. A resolution passed by the board of aldermen a couple of weeks ago to permit the discharge of fire crackers, fireworks and fire arms, had been vetoed by the mayor. When the board met Monday an the mayor's veto, but it failed. Despite this small boys showed supreme disregard of the

The United Labor party held a meeting at 10 o'clock a. m. in the Academy of Music to present. Professor William B. Clark, who presided, said that the duty of the United Labor party and the Anti-Poverty society was to bring about the equality of all men as declared in the Declaration of Independence. They were in for a fight, he said, but it would not be a bloody one; it would be with the ballot. John McMackin declared that the rejuciales anumelated in the Declaration of es enunciated in the Declaration of in high places were afraid to voice its sentiments because it was not popular to do so. It was the mission of their party to make these ideas popular again. He denounced Tam-many hall as the institution from which most of the vice and corruption in the government dowed. Not satisfied with making presidents and senators, it had tried to control the army of Christ's church on earth.

Rev. C. M. Winchester, of Middletown, N.

Y., spoke in favor of the objects of the Anti-Poverty society and paid a warm tribute to Dr. McGlynn, whose name, he said, the his-torians will write above the names of Wash-ington, Lincoln, and Grant. Frank Ferrall, colored, and James P. Archibald also spoke, and there was singing by the Anti-Poverty

With them marched Governor Fitz Hugh Lee, of Virginia, and Governor Wilson, to deliver the first "long talk" he was received pipe of peace together. The blood of the sons of New York and Virginia mingled on the battlefields of the revolution. Virginian and New Yorker froze together at Valley Forge. The south did not fight for Confederate dollars; they thought they were right and fought for a principle. The war is over; the south was beacen. The white-winged angel of peace has come, and if the stars and stripes mean any thing they mean that Vir-ginia and New York are on equal terms, "I hear the voice of the great soldier who sleeps at Riverside saying that he feels a great era of peace approaching," said Governor Lee.

"Let us have peace. Virginia is not in a corner sulking.

* * * * She is achieving prosperity and she joins with all the other states, north and south, and says: 'The union one and indivisible, forever.'" Amid speech the band struck up "The Bonny Blue Flag."

Governor Wilson was the next speaker. The reconciliation between the states, he said is complete and if there are stragglers who have not yet learned that the war is over. they are indeed to be pitied. The governor was warmly applauded throughout his speech, and at its conclusion Secretary Gilroy read many letters of resgret, one of which was from President Cleveland, dated Washington, June 25, and was as follows:

was from President Cleveland, dated Washington, June 25, and was as follows:

My Draa Sir.—I have received your invitation to join with the society of Tammany in its ninety-ninth celabration of the birthday of the republic. While there has been the greatest propriety in the annual celebration, so long continued, of this day, by a society founded upon patriotic principles, and devoted to the creed most in consonance with the perpetuation and protection of American institutions, it seem to me that at this time, when the party with which this society is affiliated is so largely charged with the responsibility of guidling the course of the government, the contemplated celebration of the ensuing Fourth of July should, in the language of your invitation revive "with more than usual fervor the memories which give significance to the day."

A quickened sense of responsibility to the people who have trusted us, and a renewal of our yows to political duty, cannot fall to result from a contemplation of the principles to which we are piedged, and from a sober reflection upon the sacrifices and trials which accompanied and followed the courageous announcement of an independent government, by and for the people. Not should the occasion pass without strengthening our faith in the sufficiency of the doctrines upon which our government is based to meet the wants of our country's growth and progress: as fully as they protected our infancy and weakness. Thus, with a reconsecration of political effort to the maintenance of the constitution in its integrity, and with an enlivened zeal in the defence and care of the precious legacy of a free government transmitted by the fathers of the republic, the day will be well celebrated and the Tammany seriesy will maintain its patriotic traditions.

I regret that I shall not be able to attend the celebration, but I hope it will be most enjoyable and improving to all who are permitted to be present. Yours very truly,

Groven Clevelans

Governor Hill wrote his regrets and expressed the following views:

The Tammany society has always declared itself in favor of those principles which lie at the basis of successful government, and on which foundation our institutions must necessarily remain. Equal representation and equal taxation have always been favored by it, and sumptuary laws, unjustly interfering with the liberties of our citizens, have never failed to meet with its opposition. No nation seeking for freedom has ever lacked the cordial sympathy and support of your members, and never has this literest been more actively manifested than in support of the efforts now being made for the welfare of Ireland.

After Secretary Gilroy had finished read-ing the letters it was announced that short talks were in order. William C. Maybury, of Michigan, was the first to respond, and said he believed in civil service reform to the extent of Democrats filling the offices at the disposal of a Democratic administration. Hon. B. Compton, of Maryland, who followed spoke in the same strain.

The closing "short talk" was by Congress-man S. S. Cox, who said: "Our fathers did not fight for liberty, but for independence. They never lost their liberty." He said that there was a difference between the north and south at the very outset of the government The south wanted to vote once for each negr slave and insisted that the negroes were per sons. The north declared them to be prop erty, and finally a compromise was reach and the negroes were called two-fifths property and three-fifths persons, a slave owner having three votes for each five slaves. Then after the late war and gave each negro vote. That gave the south a larger repres tation in congress and a greater vote in the electoral college. The south became Demo-cratic and Republicans raised the hue and cry that the south was coming into power. But it was not the fault of Democrats, but of

Minister Phelps' reception was largely attended by Americans in London, and was record. Ex-Minister James Russell Lowell. James G. Blaine and family, Mrs. James Brown Potter, Minnie Hauk, Buffalo Bill and Gen. Palfrey, of Boston, were among the notables present. Later Mr. Blaine attended by Mr. Gillig. There were present besides Mr. Blaine, Minister Phelps, Consul General Waller, Mr. Cody, Mrs. Potter, Mr. Irving, Miss Terry and many others, including the following members of parliament: Messys. Woodall, Flower, Reed, Justin McCarthy and son and Patrick O'Brien. Mr. Phelps, in proposing the toast to the Fourth of July, said there was to the American no place like

At night the firmament was a blaze of glory. Not only was the day celebrated with much noise and display, but it seems that almost everybody quit work and laid himself out for a day of solid enjoyment. The country for miles around swarmed with picknickers. The hill tops were alive with those who love to dally with the upland breeze. The river was churned by all sorts of pleasure crafts, from the leviathan excursion steamers, loaded to canoes and shells—the heart's joy of athletes. Every railroad bore train-loads of people away from the city. A sky trimmed with a literal supply of threatening clouds was the only thing to mar with anxiety the perfect

> But the Small Boy Was Unhappy. WASHINGTON CITY, July 5.-Independen Day was thoroughly observed throughout the capital city. While no one gathering brought together a great mass of people, the whole number celebrating the day in one form or another reached tens of thousands. Many celebrated within the city or its immediate neighborhood, but the railroads and the river proved great outlets of city patriotism. Sa-lutes awakened the sleeping city at daybreak, there were dress parades at the barracks and a joy peal upon the Metropolitan chimes by Prof. Widdows. The Society of the Oldest Inhabitants, according to custom, assembled in their rooms at noon for an old fashioned celebration of the day. Mr. J. S. Topham read the Declaration of Independence, and Rev. J. S. Lindsay delivered a patriotic oration. Patriotic songs were also sung. Fighting the Battle Over Again. GETTYSBURG, Pa. July 5.-The Philadelphia brigade and Pickett's division made a trip to the Gettysburg battlefield Monday and showed much interest in the important points of the great contest. The ex-Union soldiers explained their movements and the ex-Confederates performed a similar service for their a iversaries of twenty-four years ago. The representation of the preliminary movements of Pickett's charge was particularly interesting to the Philadelphia brigade. After the roam of the old soldiers they began to start for their homes. The scheme to erect a monument by the Union soldiers to the me nory of the Confederate General Armistead at the point at which he fell is very popular, and a year from this date it will

During his charge the judge defined circumstantial and direct testimony, using Sharp's visit to Albany in 1884 as an illustration. It had been knows that he was there laboring to get the passage of the general railroad law. It was passed and immediately the Broadway road filed its articles of incorporation. Mr. Sharp was one of the incorporators. There was circumstantial evidence from which a jury might infer that when Sharp labored for the passage of the general railroad act he had in view the scheme of a Broadway surface road.

Parsons entered several objections to Judge Barrett's charge, but his honor overruled them. The crowd which had been in attendance thinned out when the jury retired, and when thirteen minutes later it was whispered about that they had agreed there was a great rush for the court-room. Illinois Train-Wreckers Captured. BLOOMINGTON, Ills., July 4.-A farmer, walking the track of the Chicago & Alton railroad between Towanda and Lexington on the night of June 19 last, found stones piled upon it evidently for the purpose of wrecking the south-bound night express, then nearly due. He met the express and signaled it, an stopped it in time to avoid a wreck. At that time no clew could be found to the perpetrator. The other day Detective Cain, of the Alton, got a "pointer" which let to the arrest of Dick Kelly, of Lexington. Kelly coafessed and implicated Bill Paxton, a section man of the Alton. Of failing health, whether in the form of Night Sweats and Nervousness, or in a sense of General Weariness and Loss of Appetite, should suggest the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This preparation is most effective for giving tone and strength to the enfeebled system, promoting the digestion and assimilation of food, restoring the nervous forces to their normal condition, and for purifying, enriching, and vitalizing the blood.

Failing Health.

Ten years ago my health began to fail. I was troubled with a distressing Cough, Night Sweats, Weakness, and Nervousness. I tried various remedies prescribed by different physicians, but became so weak that I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. My friends recommended me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and I am now as healthy and strong as ever.—Mrs. E. L. Williams. strong as ever. - Mrs. E. L. Williams Alexandria, Minn.

I have used Aver's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, that it will thoroughly cradicate this terrible disease. I have also prescribed it as a tonic, as well as an alterative, and must say that I honestly believe it to be the best blood medicine ever compounded.—W. F. Fowler, D. D. S., M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

Dyspepsia Cured.

It would be impossible for me to de-cribe what I suffered from Indigestion scribe what I suffered from Indigestion and Headache up to the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was under the care of various physicians and tried a great many kinds of medicines, but never obtained more than temporary rellef. After taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for a short time, my headache disappeared, and my stomach performed its duties more perfectly. To-day my health is completely restored.—Mary Harley. Springfield, Mass.

I have been greatly benefited by the prompt use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It tones and invigorates the system, regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, and vitalizes the blood. It is, without doubt, the most reliable blood purifier yet discovered.— H. D. Johnson, 383 Atlantic ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

A Cloud on His Reputation.

Washington City, July 2.—An examina-tion which has been made of the accounts of the late Levi Bacon, financial clerk of the in-terior department, who died the 22d ult., re-veals a deficiency of $28,000. The inquiry is said to have shown that for a long time prior to his death he either misappropriated public moneys or permitted loose methods of trans-acting business in his office. Upon Bacon's decease, at the request of his bondsmen, Jay Hubbell and James L Norris, Secretary La-mar appointed a committee to examine and settle his accounts. The report of the com-mittee submitted to the treasury a few days ago is said to show a deficiency of more than $28,000, of which $16,000 is represented by due-bills of employes of the office, to whom Bacon advanced money. Some of these due-bills run as far back as 1879. It is believed considerable part of the money represented by these bills can be recovered. Merchants Moving on the District. Washington City, July 2.—A syndicate of New York, Philadelphia, and Baltimore nerchants has been formed for the purpose of the money paid by commercial agents for licenses during the last twenty years. Their claim is based on the recent decision of the upreme court, which made the imposition of such licenses a violation of the provisions of the constitution. The matter will be brought

One Man Shot, One Drowned, and Half a Dozen Small Riots.

CHICAGO, July 5.-At the confectioners' picnic at Cedar Loke Sunday a crowd of toughs assaulted Policeman Jerry Sullivan and were using him badly when four officers charged them. For a time a terrible fight raged. The officers, by using their clubs freely, dispersed the crowd and made several arrests. There were a number of broken heads. During the afternoon a boat was swamped in the lake and Joseph Coledrowned before assistance could reach him. Early in the evening Edward Campbell, a young negro, in company with two or three others of his race, went to the dancing hall, and, because an objection was raised, Campbell drew a re-volver and fired into the crowd, the bullet striking Joseph Mangen, a letter-carrier, in the abdomen, inflicting a fatal wound. Camp-bell was arrested and claims it was an accident. As the picnic was breaking up Mr. Van Vosselar, proprietor of a hotel near, in-terfered with a lot of hoodlums who had insulted a girl. He was set upon, chased into his hotel, and seriously stabbed in three places n his arms

QUINCY, Ill., July 5.-Baldwin, the well known aeronaut, successfully performed the most daring feat of his life here Monday by jumping from a balloon at an altitude of about 5,000 feet. The ascent was made at o'clock p. m., in a heavy storm, and the bal-loon, the "City of Quincy," rose sluggishly. When Baldwin made the jump he could not be distinguished, but his white parachute was soon seen to flutter. For the first 150 feet he fell like a rocket, the parachute not working satisfactorily. He then got into shape and descended at a comparatively slow rate, tak-ing him five and one-half minutes to reach the ground. He landed in the middle of a wheat field about two miles from where the ascent was made. But for the timely arrival of friends with stimulants he would doubtless have been prostrated.
