"What shall I do with the outside of my house?" is a question often asked by those who wish to paint.

In exterior decoration, the surroundings should be taken into consideration, and the building treated in such a way as to harmonize as nearly as possible with them.

ATTENTION is called to the fact that nearly all other manufacturers of mixed paints are obliged to give a rule for the covering capacity of their paints, requiring from 15 to 25 per cent more than this, simply because THE SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINT is properly made and of pure materials.

We have just received a fine line of Perfumes and Face Powders including Domestic and Imported. A fine line of new Toilet Soaps is in stock.

How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, drowsiness and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED. As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever see anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced. It seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

BOMBS IN LINGG'S CELL.

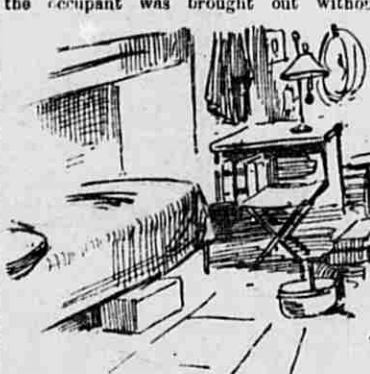

A BIG SENSATION AT THE JAIL IN CHICAGO.

Four Gas-Pipe Bombs Found in a Cigar Box in the Cell of Anarchist Lingg—Egan Tries to Cheat the Gallows by Taking Laudanum—Extraordinary Precautions Now Being Taken.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Through the alertness and caution of Sheriff Matson and Chief Jailer Folz, of the county jail, an immense sensation was occasioned at 9 o'clock Sunday morning by the discovery of four dynamite bombs, made of gas-pipe, loaded, capped, and "fused," and ready to be exploded at a moment's notice, in cell No. 22, occupied by Anarchist Louis Lingg. It is almost certain that they were to be used for suicidal purposes by Lingg, Fisher, Engel, and Parsons in case that Governor Oglesby refused to grant them a pardon.

When the news was received from Washington that the United States supreme court had decided to refuse the writ of error, Sheriff Matson and Chief Jailer Folz decided to search the cells of all the prisoners with extra care on the Sunday preceding the execution, although they had been examined regularly in the past. Accordingly, at 9 o'clock Sunday morning, Sheriff Matson, with the assistance of a strong guard of jail employees, proceeded to the work.

A few minutes after 9 o'clock Jailer Folz ordered Guard Egan to proceed immediately to Lingg's cell and bring him out without allowing him one moment's delay. The guard went to the cell, threw open the door, and seized Lingg, who was nothing but his under-clothes, dragged him out. The Anarchist at first grew pale and trembled with excitement. He asked to be allowed to re-enter the cell for the purpose of putting on his trousers. The request was denied and the door quickly slammed to. When Lingg saw that he had been baffled he began to fight and curse, and struggled desperately to get back into the cell. He was unsuccessful, however, and, seeing that nothing was to be done, he was taken to the "murderer's row" and placed in the lawyer's cage. Engel's cell, No. 24, which adjoins Lingg's, was then visited, and the occupant was brought out without trouble and also placed in the cage with Lingg. Chief Jailer Folz, his son, the assistant jailer, and several guards then proceeded to search Lingg's cell. The bedding was very examined for weapons, poison, or other contraband articles, but without success. Numerous books and papers were overhauled, and also a miscellaneous collection of books and empty cigar boxes. One of the latter was found to be remarkably heavy. The box was opened and a startling discovery followed. Four bombs, wrapped up in a copy of The Arbeiter Zeitung, were found. They were made of one-half inch gas pipe, about seven inches in length. Both ends were "plugged," while the bombs were primed and ready to be instantly exploded. A piece of quick-burning fuse, about three inches in length, protruded from the end of each bomb. The four infernal machines were at once taken to Jailer Folz's private office. A consultation was held between Sheriff Matson, Chief Deputy Price, Jailer Folz, Chief Clerk Price, and several other jail officials, and it was decided to convey the bombs to some place where they could be examined by an expert, and the nature of the explosive ascertained.

THE BOX AND BOMBS.

Several deputy sheriffs took charge of them and by order of Sheriff Matson conveyed them to the care of Capt. Shanek, of the East Chicago Avenue Police station. Lingg was placed in cell No. 11, on the first floor of the jail, and directly facing the door leading from the office to the "cage." Here he will be constantly under Chief Jailer Folz's observation. Two guards were immediately placed over the prisoner, and the other prisoners, with the exception of Padden and Schwab, were also placed in new cells. The old cells were then thoroughly searched and nothing even suspicious found.

A number of bombs were found by the police Monday on West North avenue. For obvious reasons the police decline to go into particulars. Chief Ebersold said Monday afternoon: "We are doing everything that can be done. Some Anarchists in the city are being followed so closely that they are trying to get rid of bombs and dynamite in their possession. The bombs we found had been discarded and were not placed where they were discovered with the intention of blowing up anything. More than that I can not say now. The papers are hurting us by giving publicity to matters that should be kept secret. I hope they will help us by preserving a discreet silence on some things that may be done."

There is scarcely a piece of property in Chicago belonging to the city that is not guarded. Reserve details of officers are ready for action, and from every station-house in the city an extra force is ready to depart for the scene of any trouble at a moment's notice. The officers are not allowed to go home, but are fed in their respective stations. Drillmaster Fitzpatrick is training the men in the use of the rifle. Companies F and K, Sixth United States Infantry, from Fort Douglas, Utah, will be in the city soon, and will be in readiness for any outbreak. There are eighty-five men in the two companies. The city hall is well guarded by a half-dozen policemen, and the innocent-looking men who walk slowly around the city and county buildings are Chief Steele's detectives. The fire-alarm telegraph office in the city hall, which if disabled would leave the city almost at the mercy of the infuriated mob, is well protected by a squad of detectives. As a result of a conference between the mayor and sheriff the outside shutters of the criminal court building have been closed and barred, and the heavy iron doors at the Michigan street entrance have been ordered doubly barred, and the guards have been added to, and no one will be allowed inside the building without a written order from the sheriff.

Reds Flocking to Chicago.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Nov. 7.—An afternoon paper says that during the last few days there has been a great deal of mysterious whispering and stealthy movements in Anarchist circles in this city. The proprietors of a number of the large rolling mills have observed it and were uneasy for fear another strike was imminent. A number of prominent workmen have been interviewed in regard to the matter, and it was ascertained that while the affair had nothing to do with the main body of the laborers in Cincinnati, yet they all admitted there was an ugly substratum movement on foot, the aim of which they did not see through.

It has been discovered, however, that on Thursday there were certain employes in most all the rolling mills, men of well known desperate courage, and all Anarchists, who applied for ten days leave of absence. When the only suspicious proprietors persisted in learning why they wanted a leave of absence, it leaked out that the Anarchists of Cincinnati, Louisville, St. Louis and all other large cities in the country had been requested to send a number of chosen men to Chicago to be there next Thursday. Over fifty left Cincinnati Friday evening. They were joined by about the same number from Louisville. What few men there are who know anything of the movement are very much agitated, and think that there will be a murderous effort made to prevent the hanging of the seven Anarchists in Chicago next Friday.

Preparations for Trouble.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 5.—Gen. J. N. Reese, brigade commander L. N. G., said Monday night that he expected trouble from all that had heard, and was ready to move at a moment's notice. He said that it had been represented to him that the incendiary torch would be used in Chicago if the prisoners were executed, and that a riot might be the consequence. "These things," he added, "are being considered, and we are ready, you can depend upon that."

Gen. Vane and Reese called a long conference Monday night, the result of which was the ordering of two Springfield companies of the state militia into barracks.

BOSTON SHOULD FEEL HAPPY.

LIVERPOOL DOES HERSELF PROUD IN HONORING SULLIVAN.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 7.—A special tug conveying a party of sporting men met John I. Sullivan on board the steamer down the Mersey. Upon his arrival at the Liverpool dock Sullivan was shown to a carriage, but before the horses could be started an attempt was made to unhitch the team and draw the vehicle by hand. Four horses were harnessed to the carriage and before they could be loosened the pugilist succeeded in persuading his admirers to desist. THE BOSTON SLOGGERS crowd was intensely enthusiastic and followed the American fighter to the Grand hotel, cheering him repeatedly en route. Sullivan held a reception at the hotel in the afternoon, at which a large number of the fighting fraternity were present, including Greenfield and Beran. The customs officers still retain Sullivan's belt pending the payment of duty.

Woman Suffrage Association.

VINCENNES, Ind., Nov. 7.—The Indiana National Woman Suffrage association opened its meetings here Sunday afternoon at the court house. Helen M. Gougar and Miss Susan B. Anthony addressed a large audience. Mrs. Zeserold Wallace, the venerable mother of Gen. Lew Wallace, lectured Monday. The meetings will last two or three days, during which time a district

Mrs. Gougar Association will be organized.

The object of this meeting is to create a municipal suffrage sentiment, more than anything else to be used toward annihilating the saloons. The first step is to get control of the legislature.

Chamberlain Is with Us.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, the special commissioner appointed by the British government to confer with the Washington City authorities over the Canadian fish-dry, arrived here Monday on the Ettrian and took quarters at the Brevoort. He refused to talk politics or diplomacy, saying he left political questions in England where they belong, and, of course, can not discuss in advance the questions he has come to talk specially with the American authorities about. He laughs at the reports that he is accompanied by detectives.

THAT BAD MAN.

Some of the Influences that Make Sinners as Instead of Saints:

Moral characteristics are too often the outgrowth of physical causes.

In order to strengthen the mind, we must strengthen the body.

The carmen develops the muscles that are brought into use in rowing, and by continually developing them he is prepared for the great event.

To enable one to employ all his forces to the best advantage, the body must be in a healthy condition.

The irritable man, the unjust man, the unsuccessful man, the man in duties of life, the counting room defaulter, and the thousands continually making failures, receive too little charity.

There are hundreds of thousands of people who do not know that the same quantity of blood that passes through the heart (this much favored and admired organ), passes also through the kidneys.

But if the kidneys are diseased, the uric acid attacks the weakest organ in the body, which must eventually give way.

It is then that the physician and the patient treat what are really the effects, not the causes.

Now, nearly every one who becomes prostrated is, if fortunate enough, able to secure the attentions of a physician.

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: "He positively believes he would have died had it not been for Electric Bitters."

This great remedy will ward off, as well as cure all Malarial Diseases, and for all Kidney, Liver and Stomach Disorders, stand as requested.
