Less than HALF THEIR VALUE. Prices furnished on application.

We are Agents for the Alston Mfg Co's LINSEED OIL,

Which we guarantee to be Strictly Pure. Buying direct from the Manufacturers we know we can furnish our customers with Pure Oil.

The Sherwin Williams Paints.

These Paints we can recommend to be Pure. They contain nothing but STRICTLY PURE LEAD, ZINC, AND PURE LINSEED OIL.

"What shall I do with the outside of my house?" is a question often asked by those who wish to paint.

In exterior decoration, the surroundings should be taken into consideration, and the building treated in such a way as to harmonize as nearly as possible with them; especially should this be the case in suburban residences, as there is nothing that so effectually destroys the beauty of a landscape as to see a house painted in colors that are in discord with objects about it.

This subject has become so important, we have naturally taken a great interest in it and have given it no little study. We shall be pleased to answer any specific questions that may be addressed to us.

ATTENTION is called to the fact that nearly all other manufacturers of mixed paints are obliged to give a rule for the covering capacity of their paints, requiring from 15 to 25 per cent. more than this, simply because THE SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINT is properly made out of pure materials, and therefore admits of being rubbed out under the brush like any pure lead, zinc and oil paint, not requiring to be "flowed on," as the manufacturers of cheap paints direct their products to be used.

We have just received a fine line of Perfumes and Face Powders including Domestic and Imported. A fine line of new Toilet Soaps is in stock. Our line of

THE TROUBLE HAS BEGUN.

OUR STATESMEN GET READY TO SAVE THE COUNTRY.

Both Houses of Congress Daily Organized to Tackle the Questions of the Hour.

Carlisle Puts in an Early Word for Tariff Revision—Turpie Takes His Seat Without Trouble—Two Important Supreme Court Decisions in Which the State Aids All the Sovereignty It Could Well Ask—National Capital Notes.

WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 6.—The senate put itself in position for business Monday without a jar, and the much-talked-of fight over the seats of Faulkner and Turpie seemed to have been all in somebody's mind. The chamber presented a tasteful appearance when it was opened for the reception of the members, and the fragrance of flowers struggled successfully in a measure to overcome the odor of varnish and the smell of new carpets. The flowers were very numerous, Daniel, of Virginia, being especially honored in this respect, his desk presenting the appearance somewhat of the show window of a city floral establishment. Hildeberger gazed with admiring eyes down upon a large floral arrangement with ivy, which occupied the whole top of his desk, and was the tribute of a Philadelphia Congressman.

The galleries were full of people by the time the members were seated. In the seats reserved for the president and family sat Mrs.

Cleveland and two or three lady friends, while the diplomatic gallery was ably represented by the uniforms of the foreign ministers prominent among whom were the Chinese minister and his suite.

For an hour before the time of assembling the senators stood and walked about the floor of the chamber, exchanging greetings and discussing the work of the session. A struggle over contested seats. Promptly at noon Ingalls took the chair and the gavel sounded the signal for the senate of the Fifteenth congress to come to order. Chaplain Butler then offered prayer and immediately thereafter business was begun by the presentation of certificates of election and appointment of senators, which were duly read, and the new senators, in groups of four, sworn in. When Faulkner's certificate was read it was followed by a written protest from Hoar, who moved that the protest be laid upon the table.

In the swearing in of senators-elect Hoar made objection to the administration of the oath to Faulkner of West Virginia until certain questions to which his credentials gave rise could be passed upon by the committee on privileges and elections. As a member of that committee he assured the senate that the matter should receive the immediate attention of the committee, so that if the gentleman were found to be entitled to his seat he could enter upon his duties without unnecessary delay.

Keene said that the course proposed by the senator from Massachusetts seemed eminently appropriate and he trusted would be followed without the formal of a vote. This course was followed and the call of senators-elect proceeded.

The oath was administered to Turpie of Indiana and he was admitted to his seat, Hoar presenting a memorial of protest after the oath was administered. All the papers in the case were referred to the committee on privileges and elections.

The usual committee to notify the president that the senate was prepared for business was appointed, and at 1 p. m. the senate adjourned for the day.

The house organized with 315 members present and the galleries full of spectators. The friends of the members were so demonstrative in the floral line as those of the senators, but few of the desks being decorated with flowers.

At the clock of the house called the body to order, and was about to call the roll when a crank in the gallery started to sing in a fair baritone voice, "Praise God from whom all blessings flow," and was nearly through before he was ejected by a door-keeper. He protested that the congress of the United States should not open its proceedings without religious observance of some kind, and as no one else stood forward to object he took that duty upon himself.

The clerk then proceeded with the roll-call, amid a good deal of confusion caused by the members renewing old acquaintances or forming new ones, amid much talk and laughter, which was brought to a close when it was announced that the election of officers was the business in order. John G. Carlisle was put in nomination by Cox of New York and Thomas B. Reed by Cannon of Illinois. The vote resulted as follows: For Carlisle, 163; for Reed, 148; for Brumm of Pennsylvania, 2. Of the four Independents, Anderson of Iowa voted for Carlisle, Nicholas of North Carolina cast his vote for Brumm, and the demand of an overvoted county could not be ignored without seriously impeding much greater interests than those that would be affected by a moderate and reasonable reduction of duties. This subject was of vital consequence to the laboring people, then always falls the disastrous consequences of a monetary contraction if they were always the last to be benefited by a return to prosperity and the first to feel the effects of hard times. He then proceeded:

Our efforts should be to afford the necessary relief to all without injury to the interests of any; and therefore that course of legislation should be pursued which will guarantee the laboring people of the country against the paralyzing effects of a general and prolonged financial depression, and at the same time not interfere with their steady employment and deprive them of any part of the just reward of their toil. If this can be done—and I believe it can if our deliberations are conducted with the wisdom and patriotism which the gravity of the situation demands—this congress will have cause to congratulate itself on an achievement which from peace and prosperity to the country for many years to come.

These remarks may be considered somewhat out of the usual course, and perhaps not entirely pertinent to the occasion, but I believe you will excuse them, gentlemen, because they relate to subjects which, as we assemble here to-day, are uppermost in the minds of all the people. On the correct solution of the questions which these subjects necessarily involve may depend the fate not only of political parties, but what is far more important, the permanent welfare of the greatest and most cultivated constituency in the world.

Again I thank you, gentlemen, for the consideration and honorable place to which you have assigned me.

The speaker was loudly applauded, and then the new members were summoned to their desks in bodies of twelve, and took the oath of office. The speaker then announced that nominations to the offices of the house were in order.

Cox of New York submitted a resolution presenting the nominees of the Democratic caucus. Cannon of Illinois offered a similar resolution presenting the selection of the Republican caucus.

Burns of Pennsylvania offered a resolution presenting an entirely new ticket which was unsuccessful, receiving the support of the new members. Cannon's resolution being defeated, that of Cox was adopted without division, and the officers elected appeared and qualified. Randall and Cannon were appointed a committee to wait upon the president to announce the organization of the house and its readiness to receive any communication from him.

The choice of seats then took place by the usual custom of a blindfolded page selecting numbered numbers from a box, corresponding with the numbers on the official roll-call of members. Prior to the drawing Kelley and Cox were accorded the courtesy of choosing their seats.

Davis and Allen of Massachusetts were the first names chosen, and they took seats in the center on the Republican side. Randall's old seat was left vacant until his name was called, and Reed secured a seat well in the rear. Springer, whose name was almost the last one called, was forced to take a seat among the Republicans, but subsequently exchanged it for one on the Democratic side. Immediately on the conclusion of the seat lottery the house at 3:20 p. m. adjourned.

A PUGILISTIC ENCOUNTER

Between Blount, of Georgia, and Breckenridge, of Arkansas.

WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 5.—There were two occurrences in the house Democratic caucus Saturday that were not just exactly down on the bills. One of these was the defeat of Doorkeeper Donelson, of Tennessee, by Hurl, of Missouri.

Hurl, and the other was a "scrap" between Representatives Blount, of Georgia, and Breckenridge, of Arkansas.

Breckenridge had been bitterly opposed to the re-nomination of Donelson, and in the caucus vigorously attacked his reputation, as he had JAMES H. BLOUNT, done in the newspapers previous to the caucus. Donelson was as vigorously defended by Blount, while Breckenridge was speaking the Georgia understood something, he said to be a reflection on his honor, and instantly planted his right on the Arkansas man's nose. Breckenridge countered promptly on Blount's cheek, and then Hurl, of Maryland, got between the two athletes who were engaged in "short" arm work, and when he got out looked as though he had been acting as a sand-bag for the pugilists. The men were quickly separated, and Blount, upon being told that he had misunderstood Breckenridge, frankly apologized and all was peace again.

Donelson was beaten by Hurl, because on the caucus the New York delegation which at first had voted for Raines, of New York, went over bodily to Hurl. Of course, Carlisle was selected for speaker by acclamation. The other selections were Clark for clerk and Leslie for sergeant-at-arms.

At a Republican caucus the selections for the complimentary vote were Reed of Maine, for speaker, McPherson for clerk, Shepherd of Illinois, sergeant-at-arms, and Gen. Rice of Ohio, for doorkeeper.

These National Conventions.

WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 3.—At present persons representing eight cities are competing for the location of one or both of the national conventions in their respective cities. They are Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Chicago, Washington, and St. Louis. Possibly more cities will be heard from later. In fact, it is already reported that Omaha, St. Paul or Minneapolis may send delegations. Washington, almost the last in the field, a city where, owing to the absence of a general dependence upon the government, there is very little public spirit, now begins to talk about erecting a building suitable for holding a convention. It is not expected that the representatives of Washington will have much influence with the Republican committee.

Virginia State Officers Declared Released.

WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 5.—In the supreme court of the United States Monday Justice Matthews rendered a decision in the habeas corpus case from Virginia. The decision was in favor of the state. The imprisonment of the state officers was declared without authority of law, and their release ordered.

The Lincoln, Neb., City Government.

WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 2.—The supreme court of the United States Friday decided to grant the application for a writ of habeas corpus returnable on Dec. 13, in the contempt case from Lincoln, Neb., involving the liberty of the mayor and eleven members of the city council of that city, now confined in jail at Omaha for refusing to obey an injunction of the federal court in an investigation of charges of malfeasance in office against Police Judge Albert F. Parsons. The injunction was granted by the federal court on the ground that the investigation by the mayor and city council was being conducted under an ex post facto ordinance. The mayor and council refused to obey the injunction, claiming that the federal court had no jurisdiction and could not interfere in municipal matters, and they were fined $500 each with costs, in default of the payment of which they were sent to jail where they now languish.

FIRES AND OTHER ACCIDENTS.

Fire, which started in W. W. Cameron's elevator, at Mason City, Iowa, caused a loss of $15,000.

On the picketed grounds of Lake Erie, near Erie, Pa., Tuesday, the fishing boat Maggie was engulfed in a wave that bore to destruction Robert Fryer and James McLaughlin. Two years ago, a brother of Fryer, and James Whitehead were drowned from the same boat.

Flames in a business block at Springfield, Mass., caused a loss of $100,000. Six buildings were burned at Kinsey, Kan.

A configuration destroyed the greater part of the village of Eminence, Ky., Friday morning.

THE MESSAGE.

For the first time in the country's history the President's annual message omits all reference to the many grave public interests respecting which good citizens of all parties agree, and is exclusively devoted to an issue between parties.

A new chapter on the D. L. & N. is the first of the kind ever built. It is about the size of an ordinary platform, but the remainder will probably be paid by money obtained from the government on account of experimental work.

MICHIGAN MATTERS.

Gov. Lansing, when called on to address the Lansing humane society, told them that he thought that there should be a society for the prevention of cruelty to governors, as they are sometimes driven to the limit of endurance.

Van Buren county, Michigan, is the first to adopt county prohibition by a majority large enough to insure its enforcement.

Cleveland & Ward, of Flint, get the contract for erecting the new buildings at the state agricultural college. They get more than the state appropriation; but the remainder will probably be paid by money obtained from the government on account of experimental work.

IT LOOKS BETTER AT THE P. O.

It looks better at the P. O., since the old house was moved, and changed to a honory.

Everybody should be ready to sign the petition which the L. D. Council will circulate, asking Congress to change the law so that any innocent person buying any patent article, can not be made to suffer.

The plan for fighting this battle was first discussed in the Council, about three months since, and we were able to report progress at the meeting on Wednesday.

Alton Atoms. Last Thursday evening, the many friends of Mrs. Alice Brown gathered at her house, with baskets loaded with eatables, and took her by surprise.

Notwithstanding the storm Saturday, there was a goodly gathering at the special at the residence of Mrs. C. E. Francisco.

Alton Grange will elect their officers at their next meeting, Dec. 14. Lucius Brooks, one of the first settlers, has been very sick with catarrhal fever.

Mrs. Wm. Lester doesn't improve in health, as her many friends hope. Messrs. Philip Eades, of Ionia, and E. T. Hall, of Belding, took dinner with Mr. Lester, Dec. 11.

M. Peterson, in last week's JOURNAL meant "Dwight" all the same. The mistake was probably the work of Mrs. L. M.

Mrs. S. Norman is in South Lowell taking care of a sick brother. Mrs. Amanda Turk is visiting a daughter in North Kent Co.

Mrs. and Mrs. Henry Green invited a company of friends to a feast in Ionia, and other good times, on Nov. 30. "A right down good time," all said.

Prof. and Mrs. Frank Thurber, resumed their labors in the union schools Dec. 5, after twelve days vacation. The social held with Mrs. H. Lester was successful notwithstanding the disagreeable storm.

In the absence of the Rev. Mr. G. R. Bisby, Mrs. L. E. Brooks Vice Pres., conducted the interesting exercises. Receipts $4.32.

San Francisco, Dec. 6.—Efforts to find a young boy, who had been missing for several months ago, leaving him a fortune of $35,000 in event of his return to his mother in time to be present at the opening of the will on Feb. 5 next, have been crowned by success.

Young E. J. case was one of peculiar interest. The boy's father was a wealthy young man, who rather than stay with his parents and go to school, ran away last June.

RENEW HER YOUTH. Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town.

Card of Thanks. If the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam should publish a card or thanks containing expressions of gratitude which come to him daily, from those who have been cured of severe throat and lung trouble by the use of Kemp's Balsam, it would be a fair thing to do.

WHAT AM I TO DO? The Symptoms of Biliousness are usually felt by individuals to some extent. A Bilious man is seldom a breakfast eater. Too frequently, alas, he has an excellent appetite for liquids but none for solids of a morning.

Purifies the Blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla creates and sharpens the appetite, stimulates the digestion, and gives strength to every organ of the body. It cures the most severe cases of Scrophulous, Salt Rheum, Boils, Pimples, and all other affections caused by Impure Blood.

Creates an Appetite. Hood's Sarsaparilla to cleanse my blood and tone up my system. It gave me a good appetite and secured to bulimous over-eating. Each year found me a little worse than the preceding, although I doctored continually, but until I used "Dr. Pardee's Remedy."

THE HOLIDAYS. And the colder winter weather are now rapidly approaching. The joyful season is eagerly anticipated, and you find in it nearly all there are one or more older ones to whom the cold weather and storms in a renewed suffering from rheumatic back or limbs.

Third Assistant Postmaster General Harris makes a recommendation in his annual report which if adopted will cause great inconvenience to newspaper publishers. It has been the practice of the postoffice to send their papers directly by the train, where they are weighed by the lot, and postage charged at so much a pound. THE CONDITION OF TRADE. As Reported from R. G. Dun & Co's Mercantile Agency.

New York, Dec. 3.—R. G. Dun & Co's weekly review of trade says: In nearly all the speculative markets there is a serious excitement, corners abound, and artificial advances are forced by powerful crier, aided by abundance of money. But prices check legitimate business, industries are hesitating, and monetary stringency at many points results in slow collections and some important failures.

The liquidation of Brown, Wood & Kingman illustrates the pressure which is prevailing in the commercial money market, even while funds for speculative uses were abundant. This pressure does not abate; if at some points the markets are easier, the reports more commonly indicate continued or increasing stringency.

This pressure at many points, with great abundance of funds in speculative uses, conforms to estimates published months ago of the treasury's policy. Grave uncertainties in France and Germany render dependence on further foreign supplies undesirable. In the past week, the treasury has taken in $1,000,000 more than it paid out. The general discussion of modes to lessen the surplus points to no assured end as yet, but causes apprehension in some manufactures.

Runed by Wine and Women. CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Joseph M. Diaz, employed by Perandez & Suarez, cigar importers, at 142 West Lake street, was arrested Saturday evening for the employment of about $500 from the firm in a floating young Spanish girl and a distant relative of the president of the Mexican republic. His father is said to be a New York millionaire. Young Diaz formed the acquaintance of the girl, Miss "Katie" Hess, a sister of Mrs. Captain Hall, who was charged with killing her husband in June, 1886. Diaz and Hess succeeded in spending a good deal of money during the past few months, and his employers, turning to prodigality, made an investigation and found that he was short in his accounts. He had collected numerous bills for the firm, for which he had made no return. After his arrest Diaz made full confession of his crimes, and said he had been ruined by wine and women.

FOUND AN OLD FRIEND. COLAMA, Mich., Dec. 3, 1887. Gentlemen:—One of your circles came to my notice to-day, and it reminds me of an old friend, that once saved my life 13 years ago, and because I had not needed his help since, I had almost forgotten it. I was 18 years old, and suffering from menstrual derangement; I coughed continually and had chills every day; I was as miserable as any one could be. I had tried every remedy known to me, but all in vain. I was told by my mother to have me use Zsa-Phora—it was called Woman's Friend then. Before I had used one bottle my cough and chills ceased. I kept on and used 2 bottles and they brought me out all right. I afterwards married and am now the mother of three nice hearty children. I feel that I owe a great deal to Zsa-Phora. I hope it will become well known to that every woman and girl who needs it will use it. If you will send me some circulars I will give them to acquaintances and do all I can to help you. Yours truly, Mrs. LARA FURMAN, Kalamazoo, Mich.

Cured By Using two bottles of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I am now in perfect health, and able to resume business, after having been pronounced incurable with Consumption.

THE REPUBLIC IS PEACE.

FRANCE GETS THROUGH HER CRISIS WITHOUT A REVOLUTION.

Unless the Smashing of Her Constitution May Be So Designated—Sadi-Carnot Selected as the President and Paris Tranquil.

PARIS, Dec. 6.—The deputies of the last Saturday continued their trial ballots on the question of a successor to M. Grévy until the meeting of the formal congress of both chambers for the purpose of settling the matter. There were four ballots taken, the third showing the highest number of votes—405, and the result was: Ferry, 179; Sadi-Carnot, 169; Brisson, 139; Freycinet, 53; scattering, 3.

The fourth trial ballot resulted as follows: Sadi-Carnot, 185; Ferry, 33; Freycinet, 33; Brisson, 10.

When the congress met in motion, Irreconcilable tried to get in a motion, but the president of the congress, Le Royer, refused to entertain it, and Michelin said he wished to revise the constitution, and entered a formal protest, and the matter was dropped.

It was 2:15 p. m. before the balloting began and the congress adjourned when it was concluded to permit the vote to be counted.

When this was done, which it was at 4:55, the congress reassembled and the vote was announced as follows: Sadi-Carnot, 385; Ferry, 212; Gen. Saussier, 148; Freycinet, 76; Gen. Appert, 79; Brisson, 30; Floquet, 5; various unopposed candidates, 1, total, 849.

Before the second ballot was taken M. SADI-CARNOT, the members of the left met in caucus and decided to support Sadi-Carnot, and withdrew his candidacy in favor of Sadi-Carnot. De Freycinet tendered a similar notification with regard to himself, and the party, at the suggestion of Ferry, resolved to support Sadi-Carnot.

The decisive ballot of the joint congress was then taken and was as follows: Sadi-Carnot, 616; Saussier, 186; Ferry, 11; De Freycinet, 81; Appert, 51; Fray, 1.

After the final ballot Le Royer, the president of the senate, attended by the ministers, went to his private apartment, where Sadi-Carnot was waiting, and said to him: "I have the honor to inform you that the national assembly has elected you president of the French republic. I congratulate you in the name of congress, and desire to add my personal compliments."

Rouvier also tendered his congratulations. "The newly elected president replied, thanking the gentlemen for their congratulations, and expressing his gratitude to the assembly," he said, "in uniting their suffrages in my favor, but wishes to desire for peace and concord with the Republic France is animated. My dearest wish is that this great day may remain permanent in all minds and hearts. It signifies that the representatives of France are united and that common efforts can and must secure a constitution assuring an active, stable government, capable of bestowing upon the nation liberty at home and dignity abroad."

Sadi-Carnot then received Gen. La Roche, commander at Versailles, and his staff, and afterwards met and shook hands with representatives of the press, to whom he said he would do all in his power to tranquillize the public mind. The new president and ministers then took carriage and drove to Paris, the former going direct to the Elysee to take formal possession. He remained there but a short time when he proceeded to his own residence, in front of which was assembled a multitude to greet the royal exiles. In response to their cheers he appeared at the window and said: "I give you my hearty thanks, citizens, and beg you to prove by your regard for order that you are worthy to have a republican government."

At the conclusion of the president's remarks the people cried "Vive République" and quickly dispersed.

President Sadi-Carnot was formally installed in the palace of the Elysee Sunday afternoon, and received visits from Grévy, Rouvier, Paytal, and others. The president will, when the new ministry is formed, close the session of the chambers until after the coming election of the senate.

Rouvier and his colleagues in the ministry tendered their resignations to the president Sunday night. He requested them to retain their offices to facilitate the dispatch of public business, until the successors should be appointed. To this request the ministers gave assent.

The election seems to be satisfactory to everybody. Paris is tranquil and all fears of trouble have disappeared.

BUSINESS NOTES.

Announcement is made that the extensive dry goods commission firm of Brown, Wood & Kingsman, with houses at New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago, has gone into liquidation, and that no new company will be formed. It is asserted that the concern is perfectly solvent, and that the mills in which the firm's interests are in a healthy condition. It has done a business of about $12,000,000 yearly, and the assets, it is believed, will aggregate between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000. It is stated that a month ago the firm had its name on more than $5,000,000 of bonds, and that nearly every bank in New England holds some of its paper.

ESTABLISHING AN ALIBI. Progress of the Trial of Aronson for the Killing of Haddock.

STOCK CITY, Ia., Dec. 1.—Louis Hagener, cook at the Shepard saloon at the time of Rev. Haddock's murder, testified Tuesday in the Aronson case that the defendant was in the saloon at the time of the murder eating supper, and D. C. Barnes swore that he ate supper with Aronson. Ganda testified that Leavitt was with him near the scene of the murder before he took the place and offered him a revolver to kill Haddock, but that he refused. Leavitt then said he killed Haddock himself.

STOCK CITY, Iowa, Dec. 2.—In the Aronson trial Wednesday Ganda was closely cross-examined and his evidence badly weakened. Several other impeaching witnesses were called and then John Aronson, the defendant, testified in his own behalf. He said that he was not present when Haddock was killed, and swore that any one who intended to do him injury, never carried a pistol, and had none on the night of the tragedy. Aronson's testimony closes the case for the defense.

STOCK CITY, Iowa, Dec. 3.—Friday was one of the most important in a trial of John Aronson for the murder of the Rev. George C. Haddock. A large number of witnesses were examined, contradicting and impeaching the main witness for the prosecution. The climax was reached when Hon. Byron Webster, of Dubuque, United States revenue collector, took the stand and testified that from about 10 o'clock until the fatal shot was fired on the night of the murder, he was in the Shepard saloon and restaurant; that he got his supper there, and that Aronson was not there. The evidence was positive. The importance of this evidence consists in the fact that the Shepard saloon is the place where Aronson located himself at the moment of the murder, and for some time before, and is the vital point of the alibi.

THE MESSAGE
For the first time in the country's history the President's annual message contains all reference to the many public interests respecting which the citizens of all parties agree, and an exclusive of information about the policy question, the public negotiations with Great Britain, relations with other foreign powers. The nearest approach to this strange performance in the annual message of previous Presidents was when Mr. Buchanan delivered most of a message to defend his policy in Kansas. It was not, however, so much as considered attractive, in the light of the President's vigorous and refreshing message. It is hard to understand how the President's message is so much as considered attractive, in the light of the President's vigorous and refreshing message. Day and Night

During an acute attack of Bronchitis, a ceaseless tickling in the throat, and an exhausting, dry, hacking cough, afflict the sufferer.

I have been a practicing physician for twenty-four years, and for the past twelve, have suffered from annual attacks of Bronchitis.

Without Relief, I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It helped me immediately, and effected a speedy cure.

I was attacked with a severe cold, which, from exposure, grew worse and finally settled on my lungs.

Cured By Using two bottles of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

THE REPUBLIC IS PEACE.

FRANCE GETS THROUGH HER CRISIS WITHOUT A REVOLUTION.

Unless the Smashing of Her Constitution May Be So Designated—Sadi-Carnot Selected as the President and Paris Tranquil.

PARIS, Dec. 6.—The deputies of the last Saturday continued their balloting on the question of a successor to M. Grévy until the meeting of the formal congress of both chambers for the purpose of settling the matter.

There were four ballots taken, the third showing the highest number of votes—405, and the result was: Ferry, 179; Sadi-Carnot, 162; Freycinet, 109; Brisson, 52; scattering, 3.

The fourth trial ballot was: Sadi-Carnot, 185; Ferry, 50; Freycinet, 23; Brisson, 14; Poincaré, 5; various candidates, 7, total, 283.

When the congress met, M. Sadi-Carnot, elected, tried to get in a motion, but the president of the congress, La Roche, refused to entertain it, and M. Sadi-Carnot was obliged to resign the constitution, and entered a formal protest, and the matter was dropped.

It was 2:15 p. m. before the balloting began and the congress adjourned when it was concluded to permit the vote to be counted.

When this was done, which it was at 4:45, the congress adjourned, and the vote was announced as follows: Sadi-Carnot, 305; Freycinet, 215; Brisson, 148; Freycinet, 76; Appert, 73; Brisson, 20; Poincaré, 5; various candidates, 7, total, 840.

Before the second ballot was taken M. SADI-CARNOT, the members of the left met in caucus and elected M. Sadi-Carnot as their candidate.

His candidacy in favor of Sadi-Carnot. De Freycinet tendered a similar notification with regard to himself, and the party, at the suggestion of Ferry, resolved to support Sadi-Carnot.

The decisive ballot of the joint congress was then taken and was as follows: Sadi-Carnot, 615; Sarrasin, 185; Ferry, 11; De Freycinet, 5; Appert, 5; Fiat, 1.

After the final ballot Lefebvre, the president of the senate, attended by the ministers, went to the private apartment, where Sadi-Carnot was waiting, and said to him: "I have the honor to inform you that the national assembly has elected you president of the French republic."

He replied, thanking the gentlemen for their congratulations, and expressing his gratitude to the assembly who had elected him.

President Sadi-Carnot was formally installed in the presidential palace on Sunday afternoon, and received visits from Grévy, Rouvier, Ferry, and others.

President Sadi-Carnot was born in Limoges Aug. 1, 1829, and entered the polytechnic school in 1847, and afterward the government school of bridges and highways.

He was elected representative from Cote d'Or to the national assembly Feb. 1, 1871. He voted for all measures tending to establish the republic definitely and to adopt the entire constitution.

He was elected to the cabinet of Grévy in 1873, and retired with the other members when that cabinet was dissolved on Nov. 10, 1881.

He was re-elected from the department of Cote d'Or, on the Republican ticket Oct. 4, 1885, and took the portfolio of minister in M. de Freycinet's cabinet on Jan. 7, 1886.
