Chicago, June 16.—The Republican National Convention will meet on Monday, June 18, at the McCormick Building. The convention will be held for three days, and will be opened by Mr. Charles Jones of Pittsburg, Mo., who has been elected the first speaker.

It is to be sincerely hoped that more democrats will hereafter carry handkerchiefs.

This democratic ticket is built after the fashion of the Kangaroo—tail bigger than the head.

THURMAN can celebrate his 70th birthday and his defeat at the same time. He will be 70 Nov. 13th.

Hon. Chas. M. Wood, of Livingston county, whom we know to be a downright earnest temperance man says:

"I think I can accomplish more for temperance legislation in the republican party than in any other political organization and therefore shall continue to act with it."

Mr. Wood has exactly the correct idea. Every temperance voter can do more in the republican party, which has always taken the lead in moral legislation, than they can ever hope to do in any third or one-party.

THERE have been twenty-two sessions of Congress since the close of the war of the rebellion. By a peculiar coincidence the control of the House of Representatives, with which must originate all legislation affecting the revenue, has been committed to legislation favoring in view the protection of American labor and industries, the other has been in the hands of voters by its promulgation of "revenue reform," and the reduction of taxation. It may be instructive to look over the record of each party for the eleven years it has controlled national legislation, and find out just what has been accomplished. The protectionists, while in position to originate legislation, passed eight acts, by which the revenues were reduced $302,504,440. On the other hand, the party clamoring for "revenue reform" has, during the eleven years of its supremacy, reduced the revenue but $6,298,595. The figures upon which this summary is made have been before Congress repeatedly, and have never yet been controverted. Upon the record thus made, performance on part of one, promises on part of the other—the two parties again appeal for the support of American voters. Which is most to be trusted.

In their efforts to array class against class, the easier to carry their point, free trade advocates are unceasing in their assertions that manufacturers in the United States are realizing inordinate profits and that this is made possible by the policy of protection. But here, as in so many other directions, the facts are overwhelmingly against them. One of their own number, Mr. Edward Atkinson, eminent as a statistician, recently stated that during the past fifteen years, the average dividend paid by seventy New England manufacturers has not exceeded six per cent per annum. As regards manufacturers this side of the Alleghenies, Mr. Andrew Carnegie is quoted as saying that during the time he has been interested in iron and steel manufacturing there have been eighteen failures in that industry in the City of Pittsburgh alone; and he further says there are only sixteen manufacturing firms in the City of Pittsburgh today which never failed or suspended. Of course some manufacturers succeed and become rich, just as some men engaged in merchandising and other lines of business are successful; but the proportion is no larger in the former than in the others. There is too much capital in this country to long permit business of any kind to pay uncommon profits in the absence of competition. If there is ground for the charge of great profits from men who seek the repeal of our tariff, why is it that so many of our shrewdest business men have their capital invested in other enterprises than manufacturing, and are daily adding to such investments? In this connection it is worth remembering that the real back bone of the free trade conspiracy—the men who to quote the London Times, "cannot rest while the United States are unused, and who seek to divide, where they cannot monopolize, the trade of every country whose people are not able to purchase their wares."

THE EMPEROR IS DEAD.

Frederick III. Passes Away Quietly at Potsdam—His Life Work.

Potsdam, June 16.—Emperor Frederick of Prussia, died at 11 o'clock yesterday morning at the Friedrichsruh Palace. The dying monarchs last hours were watched by the members of his family and the royal physicians. The direct cause of death was suffocation, the doctors being unable to keep the passage of air open.

With the death of Emperor Frederick the crown passes to William, who, although not yet crowned, is in fact the reigning sovereign of the empire. His coronation will take place at the palace in Berlin three days after the funeral of Emperor Frederick. The new sovereign calls himself Emperor William III. and his consort Empress Victoria Augusta.

Emperor William, the only son of the late Emperor Frederick, was born on the 15th of October, 1817, at Potsdam. In January, 1846, he married Victoria Adelaide, Princess Royal of Great Britain, and she and seven children survive him. He was given a thorough military training during his youth, and was a young man when the rank of general was conferred upon him. He was a hero in the Prussian wars of 1864 and 1870, and was present at the battle of Sedan.

BRILLI, June 18.—A post-mortem examination of the late German Emperor was held at the Friedrichsruh Palace. The larynx was completely destroyed by cancer. The court in this city has been ordered to go into mourning for three months and to part with mourning. The loss to property will be many thousands of dollars. G. S. Cole had a new $1000 barn blown down and other damage was done.

WIND AND WATER.

These Two Elements Cause Great Damage and Death.

Buildings Wrecked, Crops Destroyed and Persons Killed—Blazing Forests Made Many Homeless People—Fearful Scenes.

DELTA, Minn., June 14.—The floods have thus far done damage to the extent of $500,000. The St. Louis river for thirty miles was a raging torrent, and presented a dangerous scene as it plunged through the Dales.

PAUL, Minn., June 16.—Reports are coming in of much damage throughout the State by Wednesday night's storm. In the towns of Big Bend and Mandt, north of Montevideo, Anders, Olsen, and Lars Blieden were unfortunates, as their storch struck them. Both were very badly injured. It is thought Blieden is still in danger of death.

MONTROSE, Minn., June 16.—A school house in Mandt was badly damaged, and many barns and other out-buildings were moved from their foundations and partly blown down. The loss to property will be many thousands of dollars. G. S. Cole had a new $1000 barn blown down and other damage was done.

ST. JAMES, Minn., June 16.—A cyclone demolished the farm residence of M. Munde and the large barn of D. Meyers. The tornado at Barnesville caused much damage. Several unfinished buildings and sheds were blown down.

CLEVELAND, O., June 16.—The storm Wednesday night did considerable damage in Hancock County, houses being struck by lightning, fences blown down and orchards ruined. Everything thin on the farm of John Beard, in Marion township, was destroyed.

HALLAM, N. S., June 15.—Forest fires destroyed the gold-mining village of East Baynton, Harris County, Wednesday. Many dwellings and stores, together with the mill crusher and hoisting gear, were destroyed. Forest fires have done enormous damage in Newfoundland and Nova Scotia's valleys have been stripped of its splendid timber and left a wilderness. Mrs. Manning and two children were burned to death at Hall's bay in the efforts to escape the fire. They lost five children by diphtheria last fall, and now the entire family is annihilated. John Driscoll was burned to death in his efforts to extinguish a fire. The fire has killed 300 people home here.

N. Y. Home June 16.—A tempest raged yesterday on Staten Island, causing great destruction of property.

TITUSVILLE, Pa., June 18.—Cloudburst did great damage in this vicinity on Saturday. Ten miles of track of the New York & Pennsylvania railroad, south of here were piled up with dirt, rocks, fallen trees, etc.

A TOWN IN ASHES.
A Square Mile of Holdings in Dubois, Pa., in Ruins.

DUBOIS, Pa., June 18.—One of the most disastrous fires ever swept a Western town, this city broke out in the Baker House in this city of 3,000 inhabitants, and before it could be checked nearly a square mile of buildings had been obliterated. Two residences and eight drug stores, many dry goods stores, groceries, hardware stores and innumerable business places of all kinds are in ruins. Several hundred persons were also gone in smoke, and 1,000 persons have no roof above them. The loss is put by insurance agents at $1,000,000. The insurance is very light, and the companies were afraid of the wooden buildings, of which the town is so largely built.

DEATH OF SHERIDAN'S MOTHER.

Charles Mercer bought Levi Fletcher's and J. G. Story's wool at the barn last week.
Tracking on the east and west R. R. attracts people from quiet a distance and it is beyond the junction they have to go now.
We commenced laying on the 20th of last year, and finished on the 30th, the same day the binder finished cutting our wheat, but we think wheat harvested will not interfere with a 4th of July celebration this year.

We think if every ex-Soldier does his duty when he votes that there is little doubt but what the JOURNAL will soon give us the name of the next President.
Mrs. Whitman, of Port Huron, is visiting at W. S. Story's.
Will Cogwell took the job of gravelling the highway between the M. E. church and the Ware school house. Price 37 cts. a yard.

A number are troubled with colds, accompanied with great soreness of the lungs.
W. H. H. Davis has put in a cement well for A. A. Weeks, also a wind mill.
H. Lessor sold four head of cattle to Will Spicer, June 16th.
Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Gibbs and daughter, Mrs. Dr. Roller, all of Elmora, are visiting Lucius Brooks' family, Mrs. G. being their only daughter.
Greenville, Belding and neighboring friends held their annual picnic with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ackert, June 16. It was a lovely day and lakes on every hand. So many happy company could boat ride and fish to their hearts content.
The past few days the heat has been from 95 to 104°. Corn growing finely. Now and then there is a field of wheat or clover that does one good to see as good clover has been such a rarity of late.

We are glad to say that Mr. Chas. Eddy's condition is changing for the better, and although he suffers severely at times, is doing well.
Lawyers McBride and Eggleston are in town on professional business and attended the Catholic church Sunday.
SARABIA.
Will Cotton of this village has been appointed assistant in the homeopathic hospital of the State University at Ann Arbor. Will's friends will be glad to learn that he is receiving merited recognition.
S. P. Hutchinson, of Detroit, is in the market here for the second season.
B. F. Donovan has exchanged his two houses and lots in this village for property in Petoskey. The exchange was made with Isaac L. Austin.

As will be seen in another column, the proprietors of the different barber shops in this village have mutually agreed to close their respective places of business on Sunday.
In the spring of 1886 Charles L. Blakelee was appointed marshal of this village. Among the duties which fell upon that official is the collection of the village taxes. When the committee appointed to settle with the marshal made their report, it was found that there was a deficit of some $335 which he was unable to pay, having placed that amount on deposit in the bank of Lee and Brown. The money was there on deposit when the bank failed and Blakelee being in very moderate circumstances could not make the matter good. Wednesday of this week a suit was brought against Blakelee and his bondsmen, Edson P. Gifford and Jerome Brown, for the recovery of the money. The defense showed that Blakelee was never legally elected, having been appointed by ballot by a vote of 10 instead of by ballot as the charter directs and that he never took the oath of office before an officer qualified to administer the same. The prosecution claimed that although there was an irregularity in both the election and the bonds, still he was de facto marshal and as such his acts were valid and his bondsmen would be held responsible. The full amount now claimed by the village is $177.48, as Mr. Blakelee turned in $75 of his salary towards the deficit. The jury brought in a verdict of "no cause of action" and the case will be appealed to the circuit court.—Local.

Mrs. Chas. Pratt and son, who have been visiting friends at Kalamazoo, returned last Saturday.
Your scribe attended the exercises at the M. E. church Children's Day and by the profession of flowers displayed one would conclude that it was flower day. The display of flowers, the singing, the speaking by both young and old was above the average. Much credit is due Mr. Collar and wife, Mr. and Mrs. F. Morton, Misses Jennie and Carrie Farmham and the children their energetic work to make Children's Day a success.
Frank McElroy has commenced work on his new house.
Chas. Cormie has a new horse.
Wood is not moving 'ery fast. The low prices tend to keep the farmers from selling.

Mrs. M. F. Whitton, of Fenton, Mich., in writing to Dr. White, in praise of his great Liver Remedy, "Dandelion Alternative," makes the following statement: "We are now recovering from a four months' siege of sickness in our family. Five were down at the same time with Typhoid fever. We took home one bottle of your Dandelion. My husband took it, and I gave some of it to the children, and it has done them more good than all the other medicines they have taken, and we recommend it to all our friends." This medicine is prepared by Dr. A. R. White, a regularly educated physician of many years' experience and is guaranteed to perform all that is claimed of it.
