The Inter-State Commission Dear the Ticket Brokers a Severe Blow.

Washinstoro, Jan. 28.—The I store State Commerce Commission has promultated an opinion on the subject of passenger tariffs and rate wars prepared by Chairman Cooley. The taiger narrates the facts attending the wars in passenger rates in St. Louis in October and at Chicago in December. The Calcago rate warextended over the lines running to St. Paul, Minneapolis, Kansas City and St. Louis, its characteristic feature was the fact that tickets were placed in the hands of brokers or scalpers to be sold at rates below the tariff rates, and that the roads excussed themselves for their dealing, with brokers by claubing the right to pay commissions at will. The Commission recommends that the Inter-State Commerce act be so amended as:

1. To define what shall be considered even pointed by the fresident, with the advice and consent of the Senate. The five commissioners are to hold office two, three, four, five and six years, respectively, not more than three of them are to be of the same pol tical party, and their annual salaries are to be 67,500 such.

as a deliberate defiance to the Washington Government.
London, Jan. 26 —Commenting on the Samoan affair the Daily News says: "It's extremely important that England should act cordially with America. It is therefore the more to be regretted that we have no Minister at Washington. If Lord Sallsbury would be a little less humble to Germany and allittle more cive to America it would be far better for all the parties concerned."

it would be far better for all the parties concerned."

Washington, Jan. 26.—When Secretary Bayard was shown the Berlin dispatch giving the North German Gazette's views on the Bamoan question he said he did not know what authority the Gazette had for its statements, consequently he could not assume them to be official, and they might, after all, prove to be mere newspaper gossip. In regard to the atatement that Germany would violate no treaty in acquiring an ascendency in Samoa Mr. Bayard called attention to the declaration concerning the boundaries of the Germau and English dominions in the West Pacific Ocean, signed at Berlin, April 6, 1883, and he thought this agreement preciuded German acquisitions in Esmos, and that Germany was bound to respect the rights of that island.

Senator Sherman said he supposed Bismarck had a perfect right to express his opinion upon any subject, but did not suppose such an expression of opinion would deter the American people from carrying out any policy they might adopt.

New York, Jan. 28—John C. Kiele, the Samoan correspondent of the New York World, who has been charged with being the leader in the trouble with the Germans in that country, has a six-column letter in Bunday's paper describing the trouble. Klein begins his letter by stating that the situation is alarming, owing to the tyranuical action of Dr. Knappe, the German Consul. He then tells of the killing of German soldiers, and the destruction of Amer. can bomes. Klein declares that the German officers were drunk on shore, and committed many outrages. They announced that they were particularly anxious to meet Americans or Englishmen. The saliers from the steamers took possessions of the saloms and proceeded to get drunk. They made insulting remarks about Americans, whereupon George and Morris Scanlan, two Americans, resented the reflections. They were attacked and severely stabbed in the back. Then the sallors run smuck through Matafele, assaulting men, women and children. One woman had her ribs and both arms broken. The story then goes on to repeat the story recently told by the press dispatches about the fighting and alleged outrages. Kiein repeatedly declares that he acted simpty as a newspaper correspondpatches about the fighting and alleged out-rages. Kiein repeatedly declares that he acted simply as a newspaper correspond-ent, and did not advise any one. He de-scribes in detail the battles between the

AN OLD WOMAN'S FOLLY.

Widow Catharine Mabley's Marriage to Young Minister-The Divorce. Young Minister—The Divorce.

About three years ago a social surprise was occasioned in Detroit by the marriage of Mrs. Catharine Mabley, the wealthy widow of C. R. Mabley and mother of seventeen children, to Rev. William J. Spiers, a young Episcopal minister there. At the time an attempt was made to show that Spiers married for money, but it falled, and they were reported to be very happy. A report came from New York the other day that Mrs. Mabley had secured a divorce from Spiers, who was living in Chicago, while Mrs. Spiers continued to reside in New York. Her living children continue to reside in Detroit.

LAKE ODESSA, Jan. 28.—The contest for postmaster at this place is becoming quite interesting. Mr. Higgins and Fellows were at Grand Rapids Monday last to see Congrasman-elect Belkanap in the interest of Jumes Frobert, a farmer living near here, who is an aspirant to the office. While nearly every business man of the village has eigned a petition in favor of George A. Weed, our popular furniture man, and as Mr. Probert fought Attorney General Trowbridge very bitterly at the last election, and as Mr. Trowbridge was very popular in this locality, having run far ahead of his ticket, and his friends will not tolerate Probert, it looks very Werdy about the postoffice here.

81 w2 R. O. Church. FLYING MACHINES.

The impossibility of a successful inventors in This Line.

We must admit, says the Popular Science Monthly, that a bird is an incomparable model of a flying-machine. No machine that we may hope to devise, for the same weight of machine, the and directing brain, is half so effective. And yet this machine, thus perfected through infinite ages by a ruthless process of natural selection, reaches its limit of weight at about fifty pounds! I said, "weight of machine, fuel and directing brain." Here is another prodigious advantage of the natural over the artificial machine. The flying animal is its own engineer. The directing engineer in the former (the brain) is perhaps an ounce, in the latter it so me hundred and fifty pounds. The limit of the flying animal an ounce, in the latter it is one hundred and fifty pounds. The limit of the flying animal is fifty pounds. The smallest possible weight of a flying-machine, with its necessary fuel and engineer, even without freight or passengers, could not be less than three or four hundred pounds.

Now, to complete the argument, put these three indisputable facts together:

1. There is a low limit of weight, certainly not much beyond fifty pounds, beyond which it is impossible for an animal to fly. Nature has reached this limit, and with her utmost effort has falled to pass it.

2. The animal machine is far more effective than any we may hope to make; therefore the limit of the weight of a successful flying machine can not be more than fifty pounds.

 The weight of any machine constructed for flying, including fuel and engineer, can not be less than three or four hundred pounds. Is it not demonstrated that a true flying-machine, self-raising, self-sustain-

THE CROCKETT NEMESIS.

A Family Which Suffers from a Mysterious Hereditary Carse.

There is a certain family here in Boston, says a letter to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, which suffers from a mysterious hereditary curse, of the sort one reads about in hair-elevating stories of the supernatural. The first son born to every daughter bleeds to death. The story as to the manner in which the affliction originated can not, of course, be vouched for. It has to do with a wicked great-great-grandmother, who murdered a rich uncle by opening one of his veins with a poniard in order to get possession of the old gentleman's vast wealth. The ghost of the deceased subsequently appeared to the unscrippilizes nice and announced in hollow tones, appropriate to the tomb, the hollow tones, appropriate to the tomb, the dismal prediction that for all time themeforth the eldest mail child of every girl in her family should die by bleeding to death. So much for the explanatory tradition. The fact is that for many generations the Crockett tamily, of Charleston—whitch is a part of Boston—and vicinity, has been pursued by an hemorrhagic Nomesis. The first son born to every daughter, even to remote cousins, invariably bleeds to death. All other members of the Crockett times are exempt from the mysterious trouble. But the method of this inherited curse is so well known that each female Crockett is prepared, on the arrival of her initial boy, for the experience that is bound to ensue. The first little cut, or even scratch, the infant experiences is the signal for a panic. Bandages are applied as quickly as possible and the wound is treated with a preparation of iron in the form of powder. It is a narrow squeak in such cases always, but there is a good chance for recovery within eight days if the thing is taken in time. At the end of that period the patient either pats well or dier from loss of blood very suddenly. For such is the manner of the bleeder's complaint. He is sure to be attacked in precisely the same way every time during his after life that his skin is seriously abraided. On occasions of the sort he must alopt immediate measures romedial or die. By exercising the most extraordinary precautions he may reach a comfortable age, but sooner or later he is sure to perish by an unovary accioent, causing a flow of blood which no physician's art can stop. So far not a single one of the destined victims has escaped the penalty. The oldest one now living is a Mr. Surratt, of Melrose, who has been accustomed, when he wanted a tooth pulled, to revise his will, visit his relatives, and bid them all good-bye, as though it were likely to be forever. Life is an extra-hazardous risk when you are a bloeder. Thus it happens that oldest sons of the Crockett family, direct or collateral on the maternal side, are found to be engaged in grave-digging and other harmless avocations, which are not likely to occasion incidental hurts.

A curious story, is it not? And yet the writer bogs to offer his personal assurance that it is true in every respect.

A Buddhist Mountain.

A missionary who settled in the Province of 8s-Chuan, central China, and visited the great Buddhist peak, Mount Omel, describes the temples as showing many wonderful works of art, notwithstanding confiagrations, devastating wars and rebellions. Near the foot of the mountain is a pagoda of bronze, thirty feet high, in fifteen stories, covered with an immense number of figures covered with an immense number of figure delicately cast. Of figures of Budda there are no less than 4,700, some of which have been muthated by collectors of relics.
