oner, the jury retired. At the end of one hour and a half the members re-entered the court-room.

The foreman of the jury said: "We have agreed that the accused is guilty." The clerk asked the customary question whether the woman had any thing to say before sentence of death was passed. The prisoner, pale and haggard, rose, with a respectful bow, and addressed his lordship in these words: "My lord, evidence has been kept back from the jury which, if it had been known, would have sitered the verdict. Tam not guilty of this offense." Saying this she sai down, gasping for breath, and seemed more dead than alive. The poor woman est sobbing like a child, while the judge, assuming the black cap, in solemn tones sentenced her to be hanged by the neck-still dead. At this moment there was an awful hush upon the court, and a pin could have been heard to drop. Some of the women present were in tears. The judge himself was visibly moved.

After the verdict became known, thousands of people assemb ed around the entrance to the court-rooms and waited for the departure of the judge. As soon as he made his appearance he was greeted with howis of rage, and the hooting of the crowd was kept up for a long time. There were incessant cries of "Shame!" and an attack upon the judge's carriage was only prevented by the active interference of the police. The feeling in Liverpool against the verdict fa intense. "What will be the effect of the opening of the country on the Indians."

"I only judge from the past. Tey have not been farmers or cared for the nivantages of civilization, but of recent years they are gradually accepting both. Many of the old bands are broken up. At Santee three counts of all the Indians staned their own names: they wear one clothes and draw to rationa. They have already practically reached the stage of self-support. The Riggs industrial School at this agency is a model. Catholic schools are found at all the agencies; the grids are tearning to sew and to cook and the hoys are rapidly learning trades. There is also a day school in each camp. The sale of the land will put the Government in a position to greatly help the Indians, but it must be with the said of the best agents. I am convineed that the indians are capable of being greatly safences, and when apriotized the squats relations would be extinct in one generation. These agence as are no place for mere office-seekers, and when apriotized the squats about be given full responsibility and power to select their own a da. I think we should give them schools and plenty of them, and that any school off the agency is a mistake. The educating must be done among them."

This explains why the proprietors of Warner's Safe Curculain that they have not published, because of the incredulity with which they would be received were it claimed that Warner's Safe Curc cures consumption. But the fact is if your kidneys becured and put in a healthy condition they expel the uric acid and poisonous waste matter, and prevent the irritation of the delicate substances of the lungs, thereby removing the cau-e. When the effect is removed the symptom of kidney disease, which is called consumption disappear, and with it the irritation which caused it. Dr. T. Heman Brehmer, an eminent Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membranes of the nose and custachian tubes. N. B.—For catarrhal discharges peculiar to females (whites) this remedy is a specific. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent on receipt of ten cents by A. H. Dixon & Sox, 303 W.
