THE JURY-BRIBERS.

Efforts Being Made to Secure the Arch-Conspirator.

Evidence Accumulating in the Cronin Case - Two Women Taken into Custody - A Member of Camp 30 Gives His Testimony.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18. - Charles Zander, an Austrian mechanic, who was arrested by the State's Attorney for nearly two hours Thursday evening, will be one of the most important witnesses for the State in the Cronin case.

Zander knows Cronin, O'Sullivan and Martin Burke. He recognized all three of them in Judge McCone's office three weeks ago. He overheard O'Sullivan and Cronin talking about the middle of May speaking about the Cronin murder in Con Sullivan's stable at Riverside.

His first story was that Con Sullivan and Cronin were in the stable, but he has since contradicted this. His story now is that Cronin and O'Sullivan drove from the city in a red-wheeled tax cart, and that Con Sullivan was attending to their horse when they began discussing the Cronin murder in the stable.

Zander was attending to his duties as a hostler. They expressed anxiety lest the body should be discovered. Cronin said he would depend on Burke to hide it away.

O'Sullivan said the Lake View health officers were about to look after the severe and catch-burns, and that he feared the body would be found. Cronin said that measures ought to be taken at once to remove the body to the beach, where it ought to be buried.

"It is discovered," said Cronin, "we will have to clear out." "No, that will not do," said O'Sullivan. "We would arouse suspicion. Somebody will have to go deeper into his pocket."

He has heretofore done. He has been to the party with us as it is. I am sorry for the party I have taken in this matter. I believe we have been fooled and that Cronin was no after all."

There were some further remarks of the same general tenor. Zander left the employ of Con Sullivan thereafter. He went to work for Father Burke, the Catholic priest at Lyons. On Saturday he went to confession at the St. Peter's German Catholic Church on Park street.

The conspirator refused to give him information. He was interrogated by the police. The physicians who were attending him announced to the royal family last night that he had died.

Zander thereupon sought out Chief Hubbard, who sent him in company with Omer Broderick to the State's Attorney. He is certain Cronin and O'Sullivan are the men who discussed the Cronin murder and that they talked about it. It is now five weeks since he told the story, and yet the officers have not been able to trace Cronin and O'Sullivan.

A few minutes after 7 o'clock Friday evening Detective Palmer, in company with two women, walked quietly into the Central station and disappeared in the officers' room. One of the women was an aged, the other young, while both were well-dressed and intelligent-looking.

Palmer then went later was not inclined to say much about the women except that he wished to talk to them. From other sources it was learned that the women were taken into custody because of what they are supposed to know about the Cronin case.

A TIDAL WAVE.

It Causes Great Damage and Loss of Life in Japan.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21. - The steamer City of Peking arrived Friday night from China and Japan. She brings an account of a tidal wave which nearly 600 persons lost their lives in about 400 houses were washed away.

On September 11, the same day Yokohama was severely damaged by a typhoon, a violent wind and rain-storm set in at Haizun and Aikichin. By 3 o'clock the sea had risen several feet above ordinary high tide, and just after midnight the waves mounted to a great height, washing away the embankment and leveling the buildings near the shore.

Shortly afterward a wave fifteen feet higher than those that had preceded it rolled in with a great roar, washing away the remaining portions of the city, and carrying with it nearly all the houses of the various villages along the beach.

This was done so suddenly and unexpectedly that the inhabitants had no time to escape. At Okido, in Ogri-Shinden, all the houses, twenty-three in number, were swept away, and out of ninety inhabitants, fifty-five lost their lives. At Jitsunoki, Kobayashi-Mura, forty houses were washed away, and about fifty out of the population of 250 were killed.

At Ikuta-Mura 120 houses were washed away, about twenty killed, and about forty of the inhabitants killed. At Koshima-Mura, 350 out of 650 houses were washed away, and 650 of the population of 3,500 were killed. At Toha-Mura, containing 230 houses and a population of 1,120, ten houses were broken up and ten persons perished.

In addition to those already enumerated, 360 houses had been found and there are yet 250 persons missing. The Emperor and the Empress have sent $1,500 and $500, respectively, for the relief of the sufferers.

THE SOCIALISTS.

Close of Their Convention - A Split in the Party Probable.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21. - The convention of the Socialist Labor party came to a close Thursday, and after adjournment on the delegates went in a body to Waldheim to decorate the graves of the Anarchists.

The convention adopted a resolution concerning the proposed meeting of the Socialists in the city of Chicago. The resolution declared that those who hoisted the American flag at that meeting "were either fools or police spies and did so only to give the capitalists an opportunity to vent their spite."

The convention fixed upon Brooklyn as the seat of the Executive Committee, upon Boston as the seat of the Board of Appeals and New York as the seat of the party organs. The Brooklyn section is said to be in entire harmony with the Schevich faction of the party and will elect an Executive Committee that will support him.

The German and American sections in this city will elect a committee composed of Schevich's enemies. A split in the party is therefore almost certain.

STRUGGLING WITH HEATHEN. Closing Session of the American Board of Foreign Missions.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19. - The American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions finished their business Friday and adjourned shortly after 12 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Bradford, of Montclair, N. J. led the report of the committee on mission work in the possession of the Board.

The report stated that the work was going along satisfactorily in these lands, and the committee recommended these reports to the board as important for mission work in this city.

Rev. Mr. Finlay, an Armenian employed as a missionary in Western Turkey, said that missionary work was progressing rapidly in that country.

He would be sending out missionaries to other countries, and if the salaries were not abolished in the United States a missionary band would visit this country.

MONTANA'S ELECTION. The Contest in Silver River County the Most Important One.

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 18. - The count of votes in all the counties is completed. It is probable that there will be no other contest besides the one in Silver River County. As the Legislature now stands, counting the votes of the delegates to the county of that name, the Democrats have a majority in the Legislature on joint ballot of three with one seat tied.

The board of trustees of the county board in throwing out the Tunnel precinct is held by the courts the Republicans will gain four members of the Silver River delegation and have a majority on joint ballot of five. The hearing of the contest case is set for November 7.

On the march that he had prepared any trick against the Indians, who would be sure to attack us, but at our first camp he showed me a canteen of whisky, which he said was poisoned. He had about half a pound of smoking tobacco in a bag, and poison had been mixed with it. While the rest of us hated Indians as he did, Calvin did not, he also had prepared any such weapons. Indeed it was not looked upon as exactly honorable in a white man.

We reached the Rio Pecos, opposite Fort's Peak of the Castle mountains without being annoyed by the Apaches, although we saw numbers of their scouts and had no doubt that a considerable force was hanging on our flanks. We made our camp in a defensible spot, and after a rest, small parties scouted up and down the river to examine the lay of the country. On the third day Calvin and myself, accompanied by a corporal and two privates, rode up the Pecos about ten miles, crossed over and started to come down on the other side. The ground was more broken on the north side, and we had hardly turned to go down stream when we found the Indians more numerous and far loiter. The soldiers had seven-shooter carbines and Calvin and I had Winchester's, and we felt no alarm even when we knew the Indians to number fully one hundred. An ambush was the only thing to be dreaded, and we got into one in spite of our vigilance. Two miles below where we crossed the river the ground came very rough and we cut up into gullies. This extended from the river back as far as we could see, and we could not think it. We could have crossed the river here, but our orders were to come down on the north bank. Every man knew that if the Indians meant to attack they would do it here, and the first notice would be a volley from one of the blind ravines.

In this emergency we struck out in single file, the corporal leading, Calvin next, I third, and the two privates making fourth and fifth. We had not advanced forty rods into the "bad ground," and had not caught sight of so much as an Indian's feather, when we received a volley from twenty-five Indians in a gully. The volley was only 200 feet away, and one would have thought every man of us would have been riddled. On the contrary, however, the last three of us were untouched, and not one of our horses was hit. The corporal and Calvin were both wounded and their horses killed. Simultaneously with the volley a hundred or more Indians exhibited themselves in front and on our left, shouting and firing. In such an emergency every man acts for himself. The three of us wheeled and retraced our steps as our frightened horses could run, all the time under fire. But as soon as we had cleared the "bad ground" we took shelter in a small gulch, and after a few minutes we prepared for defense. We were charged by sixty or seventy warriors on foot, who perhaps imagined us badly frightened, but we broke away at once so steadily that they lagged and took to cover, leaving six dead men in plain view.

This was at 10 o'clock in the morning, and we did not get another glimpse of an Indian until 4 in the afternoon, when I climbed one of the trees and saw a body of them making off to the mountain. I then made a scout of the neighborhood, and soon ascertained what had occurred. Both Calvin and the corporal had been put to the torture, but they had been amply revenged. The six we had killed lay where they fell, as our fire commanded the spot. We found, in a sort of pocket, covered with bushes and limbs, eleven other dead men, most of whom had been killed before they could make ready, and when the warriors began to die of the poison Calvin was soon dispatched by a blow of a tomahawk. The bodies were badly mutilated, but it was mostly after dark that we set out on our march, and we were so disheartened that it retreated and went into mourning for weeks.—New York Sun.
