SWOUN TO AVENCE.

SALT LAKE CITY, U. T., Nov. 22.—The investigation into the character of the Mormon endowment house oaths was continued resterday. Mrs. Gilmore testified that she went through the endowment house eventeen years ago with a number of others, and all were called upon to swear that they would avenge the blood of Joseph and Illiam Smith upon the American nation and teach the doctine of revenge to their children and children's children down to the fourth generation. Any one who violated the oaths taken or revealed the secrets of the house was threatened with death.

Henry W. Lawence, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and one of the most prominent men in the Territory, most prominent men in the Territory, testified that he became a Mormon in childhood. He came to Utah thirtynine years ago. He officiated in the endowment house in this city several years. He was ex-communicated in 1833 for having the spirit of apostasy. He corroborated the testimony given by Mrs. Gilmore, and said the penalty of death attached to the violation of the covenants and the revealing of the secrets of the en-dowment house. In the time of Brigham Young the priesthood was supreme and he controlled the people in all things, and witness said the church was (10)CaGO, Nov. 32—At pretry ay's session of the Cleanin trial Louis Budenbender, Jr. of Loboken, N. J., and that last spring he was living in Chicago antil May 12, when he went East. While is Chicago Dr. Cronis had been frequently pointed out to him, and by sight he knew him well. On May 4 about 7 ochock in the realing, he stood in the decrycay of a legar store just exposite Dr. Cronis's residence, and saw the doctor accompail d by a man come hastily from his deer sing set into a buggy. The man with Lim unhitched the horse, and while doing so some one came up and talked with the doctor, who just before driving away took amething out of his pocket in d gave it to the one with whom he was talking. The witness described the her as a specified gray, with dutic legs. He was looking at the horse and buggy for jeep or fifteen minutes. He said he saw Dinan's horse in the dime museum and it was not the one that look the doctor away.

Meyer and Dr. Lealis Curtis corroborated the opinion.

Weodraft has made another confession. His last story is that he told his first yers under learnesteen from Dan Coughlis. The story he told when first arrested was that the body of a woman in a trank was put into a wagon driven by him in the rear of a house on State atreet. A man named "Doo" by those with him said: "I didn't think poor Alice would go this way." The story was told, so says Woodruf, as a part of the the conspiratory to, remove Dr. Cronin. The impression was to go out that the doctowhed killed a woman by criminal practice and for that he had fied the country. The doctor's pretended appearance in Canada was a part of the plan, and mark some one was to see him in Europe. The finding of the doctor's body frustrated the further carrying out of the jot.

The shell was placed over the window in the west wall of the west cell block and the explosion shattered the wall almost through and through. The shock startled the entire city. An investigation showed three life convicts in unlocked cells. Frank Howard, a ten-year convict, has confessed that frving Litimer, the Jackson drug-gist, who murdered his mother last winter and is serving a life sentence for that crime, was at the bottom of the flend-ish conspiracy in order that he and a few fellow plotters might escape if they were not themselves torn to pieces by the explosion.

Health in Michigan. Reports to the State Board of Health by sixty-five observers in different parts of the State for the week ended on the 16th indicated that measles, cholers in fantum, cholera morbus, erysipelas and scarlet fever increased, and cerebro-spinal meningitis, membranous croup, remittent fever and typhoid fever decreased in area of prevalence. Diphtheria was reported at thirty-eight places, scarlet fever at thirty-three, typhoid fever at forty-nine and measles at nine places.

Sentenced for Li'e.

The trial at Bessemer of Holzhay for the murder of Banker Fleischbein was the murder of Banker Fleischbein was completed a few days ago, and the jury returned a verdict of guilty. Holinhay was then sentenced to life imprison-ment at hard labor. The prisoner broke down and seemed daxed when the fore-man of the jury announced the verdict. The attorney for the defense would make an effort to obtain a new trial.

Mrs. J. Wacht, of Muskegon, Mich., cut her throat the other evening with a razor, inflicting a wound which proved immediately fatal. The woman lost a last week and 267 the week previous.
For the corresponding week in 1883 the number was 290.

Street conversation as heard between A. and B. in Lowell:

A-Have you seen McPherson of late?

B-Yes, I was in there only yesterday. Found them busy as nailers.

A-Why is it they are always so busy?

B-That is very easily explained. If you go there for what you want you are sure to find it (good to), and only costs you about half what you would pay elsewhere for it.

A-I hear they have a big line of Holiday Goods on exhibition.

WORTH OF GOODS FROM US BETWEEN

B-Big Line! I guess they have. The store is crammed from floor to ceiling with the choicest of Nic Nacs and useful articles and I never before saw them as low as they have them marked.
