AN AWFUL BLAST.

Frightful Accident in a Tunnel on Kelson Mountain, Cal.

Many Pounds of Dynamite Explode.—The Charge Goes Off Prematurely and Four Miners Are Literally Torn to Fragments.

UNFORTUNATE MINERS.

GREENCASTLE, Cal., June 1.—A terrible accident is reported at the east end of the Atlantic-Pacific tunnel on Kelson mountain, about 5 miles from Silver Plume, by which four men lost their lives. The names of the dead men are Harry Taylor, William Goughlin, D. Richardson and John Mulholland.

They were employed at the breast of the tunnel in loading poles. The tunnel is very long and is worked by power drills, so they carried with them about seventy-five pounds of dynamite or giant powder to complete the loading. From the breast of the tunnel is a drift on one of the sides, in which Moritz Flaxton was working. It was customary for the men in the shaft to come back and warn Flaxton of a coming blast, but a sudden and unusual explosion threw him off his feet, stunning him badly. After he recovered he started to the mouth of the tunnel, wondering why the shift had not notified him as usual. On getting to the entrance he told the engineer that the men had set off the blast without telling him and that he was hurt, and wanted to know why they were so careless, asking where they came out. A search party was organized and found all four men had been blown literally to fragments by a premature explosion of nearly 100 pounds of dynamite. The accident was about 3,000 feet from the mouth of the tunnel. The force of the explosion tore a great hole in the wall of the tunnel and a great quantity of rock blocked the way of the rescuing party for a time. A majority of the stock of the Atlantic-Pacific tunnel is owned by "Breck" Tomermy.

A Sudden Call.

A Tragical Occurrence in the Presbyterian Assembly.

While Making An Address on the Bridge Case Judge Breckinridge Falls to the Floor and Expires.—The Hearty Tribute.

SILENCED BY DEATH.

DETROIT, Mich., May 29.—The proceedings against Dr. Charles Augustus Briggs of Union seminary, in the Presbyterian general assembly were tragically and solemnly interrupted Thursday afternoon. At 2:30 o'clock the Presbyterian general assembly reconvened and resumed the discussion of the resolution disapproving of Dr. Briggs' appointment to the chair of biblical theology, which had consumed all the morning hours. Judge S. M. Breckinridge, of St. Louis, one of the elders of the committee on theological seminaries, took the platform in defense of the report submitted Wednesday night by Dr. Patton, the chairman, and in support of the resolution of disapproval. The speaker was the picture of vigorous old age. His hair and beard were frosted with time, but his figure was erect and his speech, firm and decided from the beginning, gave no indication of the approach of death. Yet within fifteen minutes from the time he stepped upon the platform in the glory of a splendid manhood, in the fullest possession of unimpeded mental attributes and apparently of physical powers far greater than men of his age usually enjoy, his lifeless form was carried from the audience-room of the Fort Street church in the arms of his friends, and laid in state in the hall of the committee's report. His voice was clear at the outset, but became husky and broken after a time. Then, in evident haste to finish, he grouped his principal arguments and announced them with an elaboration and in short, emphatic sentences. Finally he was seen to waver and reached for the desk of Rev. Alexander G. Russell, the temporary cleric, for support. He said, "Now, gentlemen, I feel that I have discharged my duty and wish to be excused from further speech. My voice troubles—I have—I have done my duty."

HEIRS TO $1,000,000.

Decision in the Celebrated Myra Clark Gaines Will Case.

NEW YORK, May 29.—Surrogate Abbott in Brooklyn handed down his decision Thursday morning in the celebrated Myra Clark Gaines will contest, in which over $1,000,000 is involved. The surrogate declared that the will of January 8, 1835, made in New Orleans on the day before Mrs. Gaines died, and which named Marie P. Evans as sole executrix, is a forgery. He declared that the will made in January, 1833, which named William A. Wilder and James T. Christian as executors, is legal and admissible to probate.

Myra's Will Upheld.

Myra of Mrs. M. G. Ed. Edmond Pediton Gaines, was born in New Orleans in 1805. She became famous chiefly through the remarkable lawsuit in which she was involved. Her father, Daniel Clark, born in St. Louis, Mo., emigrated to New Orleans in 1798 and inherited his wife's property in that place. He became United States consul before the acquisition of the state and territory of Louisiana in 1805. He died in New Orleans August 10, 1817. Under his will his estate passed to his son, Myra Clark, who had subsequently married a Frenchman and lived in Germantown, Pa. The testament appointed Messrs. Hill and Chew executors. Mr. Clark had a beautiful young French woman, a niece of his, named Marie P. Evans, who was the daughter of her supposed husband in Europe. Two daughters were the result of this connection, one of whom was Myra Clark. Myra was born in New Orleans, and was a member of the French church of St. Louis. She died five years ago and her two children continued the fight with the result that the money for which she fought so hard during her life will go to the widow and Christian children, her grandchildren.

LANSING, Mich., May 30.—The world's fair bill, which has been in the hands of the house ways and means committee, since the early days of the session, was reported Thursday. A majority of the committee for several weeks has favored an appropriation of $125,000, but the fair advocates have delayed the report by earnest pleas for $150,000. At last, by way of compromise, the committee fixed on $125,000, and has reported in favor of the sum. Of this sum $75,000 in 1892. The bill provides for a commission of fifteen men and three women, to be appointed by the governor, who will have charge of the fund and the Michigan exhibit. The history of the miners' strike is reviewed and the failure is charged to the Knights of Labor, to which the miners largely belonged.

DETROIT, May 29.—The jury returned a verdict of acquittal in the case of the Indian Parthy Horse, who shot and killed the lieutenant. Lieut. Casey during the late Indian outbreak. Judge Shiras delivered the charge to the jury instructing them to bring in a verdict of not guilty. He explained that Lieut. Casey had been killed on the proposition of bringing in an acquittal but said the instructions to the jury, however, would be considered those of the court. His charge was given lengthily. He declared that in his opinion the Lieut. was excused at the time of Casey's death.

A Heroic Confession.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 1.—John Zwaid, a man about 55 years old, has confessed that he had murdered two wives eleven years ago. He said he lived in Ohio with his wife Catharine and four children. His wife began to drink, and he took two of the children and fled to Anoka, Minn. His wife followed him, and he put arsenic in her whiskey. Three years later he moved to Wayne, Neb., and married another woman, whom he smothered with bed clothes, after the physician took Zwaid in custody at the latter's own request until the case could be investigated.
