A BLOODY WAR.

Pinkerton Men and Strikers in Battle in Pennsylvania.

Both Sides Fight Desperately—Twenty Men Killed and Many More Are Wounded—The Pinkertons Finally Surrender.

KILLED EACH OTHER.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 8.—A revised list of those killed and injured in the riot here Wednesday shows six workmen and five Pinkerton men killed, and thirty-six of the former and 143 of the latter wounded. The death of those most seriously injured may swell the number of fatalities to twenty. Most of the injured Pinkerton men received their wounds after they had surrendered. When the train arrived to take them to Pittsburgh one of the leaders of the strikers said to the crowd gathered around:

"Boys, we are going to send the Pinkertons away. Many claim they were deceived in coming here. They are all hurt and crippled, many dangerously. Do not repeat the scenes of Wednesday afternoon. None of the men who went to the front hit unarmed people from the rear as cowards did yesterday afternoon."

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 8.—H. C. Frick, manager of the consolidated companies, has declared that "under no circumstances will he have any dealings with the Amalgamated association as an organization. This is final." This means that Carnegie's immense works will in future be operated by non-union labor.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 9.—The town was quiet yesterday. At a meeting of the strikers William Wiehe, ex-president of the Amalgamated association, advised the men to allow the law full power to act and allow the sheriff to take charge of the works. Mr. Brennan, attorney for the association, said there were but two courses for the strikers to take. The first was to permit the sheriff and his deputies to enter the mills and take possession. The second was to forbid the sheriff to go into the mills, and if he attempted to use force to keep him out. This last would necessitate the calling out of the militia. "In this event," he concluded, "you will be shot down like dogs. You cannot withstand the law. It is too powerful. Attempt it and you will be defeated in the strike."

The cooler men are advising the strikers to permit the sheriff's deputies to come in peaceably and take possession of the works, but if they are granted the strikers insist as a condition precedent that the deputies shall neither be numerous nor well armed, and that they shall not make a move to protect men whom the firm may wish to introduce.

The strike at the Carnegie steel mills is a costly affair to both the company and the men. The product of the mills when they are running in full blast is valued at about $38,000 a day. The cost of running the mills is from $19,000 to $26,000 a day. For wages every day is expended from $15,000 to $20,000, and about $4,000 worth of material is used when the mills are running on full time. The company is understood to figure its loss of profits at $6,000 or $8,000 a day and the men lose something like $15,000 every day they are idle.

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 11.—The entire division of the national guard of Pennsylvania, about 8,000 men, has been ordered to Homestead to support Sheriff McCleary in suppressing the riots at that place. Gen. Snowden, commander of the national guard, with the adjutant general and quartermaster general, at once proceeded to formulate the orders for the mobilization of the guard. Some troops will be under way early this morning.

THE ST. LOUIS BRIDGE.

Two Foolhardy Men Leap from Its Heights One Is Killed.

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—Two jumps were made Saturday from the highest point of the Eads bridge into the Mississippi. One was successful, the other fatal. Kearney Speddy, a local swimming-school teacher, jumped from the center of the bridge. His foot caught in a telegraph wire and he turned over three times; yet he struck the water, hands before his head, disappeared, soon rose, and was taken into a waiting boat uninjured by his daring feat. An unknown man about 35 years old jumped from the west pier of the bridge about 1 o'clock. Before any of the skiffs that put out after him could reach him he sank and was not seen again.

NEW YORK, July 8.—W. J. Campbell, chairman of the republican national committee, has named the national executive committee as follows: The chairman, W. J. Campbell; the vice president, M. H. De Young, of California; the treasurer, Cornelius K. Bliss, of New York; the secretary, Thomas H. Carter, of Montana; J. S. Clarkson, Iowa; Garrett A. Hobart, New Jersey; Samuel Fessenden, Connecticut; Henry C. Payne, Wisconsin; Richard C. Kerens, Missouri; William O. Bradley, Kentucky; William A. Sutherland, Joseph H. Manley, Maine, and John R. Tanner, Illinois.

Col. King Must Hang.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 8.—Col. Clay King, lawyer, soldier and author, must hang by the neck until dead on August 13 for the murder of David H. Posten, a lawyer of this city, in March, 1891. The supreme court of Tennessee has affirmed the decision of the lower court and sentenced Col. King to be hanged.

RECIPROCITY IN CANADA.

The Government Adopting Mr. Blaine's Policy in Certain Imports.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 8.—Hon. Mr. Foster, the minister of finance, brought down to the house of commons the tariff resolutions, which imply that the government is adopting Mr. Blaine's reciprocity policy in certain articles imported from the West Indies. The duty on molasses below forty degrees is increased so as to make the importation of the crude material almost prohibitive. Oleo and some other articles used by tanners will be admitted free, likewise crude lime and fruit juice. A duty of 5 cents on eggs is imposed. This will restrict the spring importation of American eggs. Another resolution gives power to the government, when deemed in the public interest, to suspend certain provisions of the customs act in so far as they provide for the remission of the duties on sugar, molasses and tobacco, when imported from any country, which it may be shown does not accord to Canada the most favored nation treatment; and to order that during such suspension, sugars, molasses and tobacco shall be subject to certain duties. The resolutions were criticised by the liberals but finally reported. They go into effect at once.

Set a New Mark.

CHICAGO, July 11.—F. E. Spooner completed his wearying twenty-four hour bicycle ride at the Parkside cycling track Saturday afternoon with a record of 11 miles and 14 yards better than that of Waller, who gained the world's championship with a record of 963 miles and 1,590 yards in California a short time ago. Spooner has now established the record of 874 miles and 1,695 yards for a twenty-four hour continuous ride.

Raised the Cash.

CHICAGO, July 11.—The completion of the $1,000,000 subscription for the university of Chicago by July 10, on which conditional contributions of large amounts depended, was accomplished at noon Saturday by Maj. H. A. Rust, vice president of the university and a member of the board of trustees, pledging himself to give $50,000.

A GRAND ARMY.

Christian Endeavor Hosts Assemblies in New York.

Fully 20,000 Delegates From All Parts of the Globe Are Present—Report of the Secretary—Addresses by Prominent Persons.

THE PROCEEDINGS.

NEW YORK, July 8.—The eleventh international Christian Endeavor convention which opened yesterday afternoon in the Madison Square garden promises to be the largest religious conference ever held in this country. Over 27,000 delegates from all parts of the world are in attendance. The annual report of General Secretary Baer shows 25,000 societies against 16,247 one year ago, and a total membership of 1,370,000. Rev. Francis E. Clark, D. D., of Maine, president of the United Society of Christian Endeavor and originator of the movement, delivered his annual address.

NEW YORK, July 9.—The second day's proceedings of the great convention of the Christian Endeavor society began with early morning prayer meeting at 6:30 o'clock, which was attended by about 2,000 delegates. The regular session opened at 9 a. m. At 10 o'clock over 12,000 delegates were in their seats. After the usual prayer and praise service, conducted by Rev. Dr. B. B. Tyler, of New York, came the feature of the programme termed "the pastor's hour." This consisted of two-minute addresses on the relations of the Christian Endeavor societies to the different denominations to which the members belong.

Then the roll-call of state, territorial and provincial unions was called and representatives from societies all over the world responded, telling of the progress of Christian Endeavor of their respective places.

Rev. Joseph Cook, of Boston delivered an address on the subject "Watchwords for the Twentieth Century."

After Mr. Cook's address recess was taken to 2 p. m. Half-minute "testimonies" opened the afternoon session. A delegate from California was the first to speak. He said: "We have the most flourishing Junior Christian Endeavor society in the country," and this was an index of the "testimony" that followed during the hour given to this feature. Mrs. Francis E. Clark, of Aburduale, Mass., wife of the president of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, next read a paper on "Junior Christian Endeavor," in which she explained the purpose and methods of the junior society.

Whitelaw Reid, republican candidate for vice president, came upon the platform at this point, wearing a badge of the Christian Endeavor society. He was introduced to the convention by President Clark and was received with a waving of handkerchiefs and cheers. Among other things Mr. Reid said:

"Our forefathers, who laid the foundation of the civil and religious liberties we enjoy, were men who planted their fortifications on every hillside as they advanced to the conquest of the continent. You all know what those fortifications were—the schoolhouse and the church. [Applause.] Let us guard them as our fathers guarded them, and we shall preserve the fair heritage we have received and transmit it in our turn, grand and beneficent beyond their thought or ours, to the latest generation of men." [Loud applause.]

The banner for the greatest proportionate increase of societies during the last year was presented to Oklahoma; the banner for the greatest absolute gain in one year to Ontario; largest number of junior societies secured a banner for Illinois.

The evening session began promptly at 7:30 o'clock. The convention hall was packed in every part with delegates, fully 16,000 succeeding in getting into the garden. The praise service was led by Mr. L. F. Lindsay, of St. Louis, and Mr. Sankey sang as a solo "Ninety and Nine" amid great applause. Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Black, of Missouri.

Postmaster General John Wanamaker came upon the platform at the conclusion of the prayer. He received an ovation from the delegates and bowed and smiled in acknowledgment. Mr. Wanamaker became the presiding officer of the session, occupying the president's chair in the center of the platform. At the conclusion of his address Mr. Wanamaker introduced Hon. Chauncey M. Depew, who was greeted with great enthusiasm. When the applause had at last subsided Mr. Depew spoke of the power for good possessed by the Christian Endeavor society.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The last day of the great convention of Christian Endeavor societies began at 9 o'clock Sunday morning with a prayer meeting in the Madison Square garden, conducted by Mr. H. B. Pennel, of Boston. About 10,000 delegates were present, and after several prayers and much hymn singing the meeting adjourned at 10:15 o'clock to enable the delegates to attend regular services in the different evangelical churches of the city. The afternoon session at the garden began at 2 o'clock, President Clark presiding. Fully 15,000 delegates were in attendance despite the intense heat. After the prayer and praise meeting brief reports were received from the committee conferences under the direction of Mr. William Shaw, treasurer of the United society, who reported that the greatest enthusiasm had been manifested by the delegates at the different denominational rallies held during the convention.

Addresses were made by Ira D. Sankey, John G. Woolley, of Minnesota; E. R. Young, of Toronto, and Rev. Dr. Burrows, of Chicago. The convention then adjourned to meet next year in Montreal.

Saturday's meetings were devoted to reports of missionary efforts by individual delegates. Vice presidents were selected to represent each of the state and provincial unions. In the afternoon denominational rallies were held in nearly two dozen receptions. The evening was devoted to receptions at nearly all the state headquarters.

SIX MEN KILLED.

Giant Powder Works Near San Francisco Explode.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—By a series of explosions Saturday morning at the works of the Giant Powder Company and the San Francisco Chemical works at Highland, 13 miles from this city, property worth about $350,000 was destroyed and an unknown number of persons were killed. There were over 100 persons, mostly Chinamen, employed at the powder mills. Six persons—three whites and three Chinese—were killed. A great many others were wounded. The pecuniary loss is over $200,000.

The explosion occurred at 9:30 a. m. It shattered windows all over town and blew in skylights, broke plate-glass windows on Montgomery street, California street, Montgomery street, Kearney street and other thoroughfares, and caused the people to rush into the streets as though a convulsion was about to tumble all the buildings about their ears. At the Palace hotel there was great fear among the guests, and all over the city there was created a feeling of alarm. The intensity of the shock can be appreciated when it is known that it was distinctively felt at Sacramento, 80 miles distant, and that windows were cracked at Napa and other points along the bay shore, 25 miles from the scene of the explosion.

MUCH LAVA FLOWING.

Mount Etna's Eruption Has Become Alarming—Huge Quantities of Burning Matter Thrown Out of the Volcano.

CATANIA, July 11.—The eruption of Mount Etna has assumed alarming proportions. Huge quantities of lava have been thrown out of the volcano and have formed a double stream, which is advancing rapidly toward Nicolosi and Belpasso. The lava is already within six kilometers of Nicolosi. Great damage has been done to the surrounding country. A severe earthquake was felt in the immediate vicinity of the volcano Saturday night. Sunday the populace of Nicolosi assembled outside the cathedral and knelt on the ground in prayer, being afraid to enter on account of the continued shocks and subterranean rumblings, which are like the noise of a storm. Twelve houses and a portion of a church have been destroyed. The eruption is still active.

SIX WERE KILLED.

Half a Dozen Lives Lost by the Powder Mill Explosion Near San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—The powder explosion at West Berkeley Saturday proved to be not nearly so disastrous as regards loss of life as at first supposed. Six lives are now known to have been lost, three white men and three Chinese. Thousands of people visited the scene of the explosion from this city and Oakland and gazed wonderingly at the immense cavity dug in the side of the hill by the force of the explosion and at the wrecks of the buildings. The damage to the powder and chemical works is estimated at over $200,000, and probably $25,000 more damage was done in this city and Oakland by windows breaking.

JACKSON, Miss., July 11.—The Jackson society was shocked Saturday by the news of the elopement of Miss Annie, the 18-year-old daughter of Gov. John N. Stone, with E. L. McKie, a fashionable young man of Water Valley, Miss. The couple quietly boarded an Illinois Central train and went to Jackson, Tenn., where a license was procured and the nuptial knot tied. The governor is said to be greatly incensed over the action of his daughter in eloping with McKie, who is financially unable to support a wife. So far the young couple have not been requested to come home.

A Romantic Wedding.
June 30th occurred one of the social events of the season—the marriage of Chas. E. Manville to Mrs. Nettie Mosher, one of our first class teachers.
The day was lovely, and over 100 guests assembled on the picnic grounds near Judge Campbell's in Elmwood, to enjoy a picnic and a wedding.
Judge Campbell called all to order at 11:30, when Rev. G. D. Chase performed the marriage ceremony in his usual happy manner. The current spoons, and such a sumptuous meal would be hard to find.
Mr and Mrs Manville left for Big Rapids and Lowell in southern Michigan. They will be "at home" to their many friends on July 12th. They were the recipients of many valuable presents.

Five Hundred Buildings, Including Nearly All the Prominent ones, Consumed.—The Losses Will Be $11,000,000.
REID RUBY.
St. Johns, N. F., July 8, 8 a. m.—This city is being practically wiped off the face of the earth by an extensive fire which is now raging. A high wind is blowing and sweeping the flames with a force and rapidity which cannot be checked by any power within the city, and it is impossible to obtain help from any other place.
The high wind, carrying live embers in every direction, ignited a score of fires at once, so that within half an hour from the first outbreak the fire department and people were utterly helpless and the center of the city was abandoned to its fate.
This is the fourth great fire which has visited St. Johns. In February, 1816, a large part of the town was destroyed. In the following year there was another big fire, with losses of $2,000,000. But the greatest conflagration of all was June 10, 1846, when 2,000 houses were destroyed, involving a loss of $4,000,000.

Ravachol, the French Anarchist and Murderer, Beheaded.

How the Fiend Met His Fate—Some of the Deeds of His Awful
Career of Blood.

DIED BY THE GUILLOTINE.
PARIS, July 11.—Ravachol, the anarchist who destroyed M. Verly's restaurant with dynamite, was guillotined at an early hour at Mont Brison for the crimes of which he was charged with having committed—three murders, a grave robbery and a burglary, after the perpetration of which he set fire to the house he had robbed. Besides these crimes it is almost certain that he murdered two other persons at a place called La Varizelle, but the evidence forthcoming was not of sufficiently strong character to convict the accused, so the public prosecutor did not bring the charge before the jury.

How He Died.
Ravachol was awakened at 3:40 o'clock by the jail officials at Mont Brison and informed that the day of his execution had arrived. The condemned man assumed an air of cynical indifference, and when the ministrations of the prison chaplain were offered to him he refused to accept them and broke out into strong invective against religion. A noisy and excited crowd gathered about the place where the guillotine was set up. The approaches to the scaffold were guarded by lines of troops, who kept the way clear for the condemned man and the executioner's party. Ravachol was brought out of the prison in a closed van. Though he could not be seen he could be heard uttering blasphemous cries. When his neck was placed beneath the knife he shouted that he had something to say, but no attention was paid to his request. Just as the heavy blade started on its fatal journey, he shouted: "Vive la Republique," and a second later his severed head was lying in the basket placed in front of the guillotine to receive it. After the morbid curiosity of the crowd had been fully satisfied, they slowly dispersed. There was no single incident among the crowd worthy of note.

His Crime.
Ravachol, whose real name—if he bore that of his father, was Koenigstein—was the illegitimate son of a Holland-Dutch father of shiftless character and of a French mother of loose morals. From early youth he revelled in cruelty, and before he came to manhood's years had become a confirmed loafer. He was a criminal by heredity, cruel by nature and utterly devoid of moral principle. Besides his dynamite operations, for which he escaped the gallows through the cowardice of a Paris jury, he was guilty of several brutal murders that are known, and is believed to have been the author of many others which could not be proved against him. Those for which he was sentenced to death were among the most atrocious in the annals of French crime. He killed two old women, sisters who had saved a little money and lived together without any male being in the house, for the sake of their little hoard, which he pretended he needed for the anarchist propaganda. The other victim was an old miser who lived the life of a hermit, and the pretended motive was the same. In neither case was the killing of his victim necessary to enable him to commit the robbery. He shed their blood through mere wanton cruelty, lest his victims might at any time turn up against him.

Suicide of a Judge.
MOUNT VERNON, Ind., July 11.—Judge Jephtha D. New, of the Indiana appellate court and democratic candidate for judge of the supreme court, Second district, shot himself through the heart at his home in Mount Vernon at 6:30 o'clock Saturday morning and died instantly. His health is assigned as the cause of the deed.

Alabama Cotton Fields Flooded.
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 11.—The heavy rains of the last few days have swollen the Warrior river until it is now 47 feet above low-water mark. At Tuscaloosa a large area of cotton and corn land is under water. The damage will be very great and is already estimated at $100,000.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

Freeport.
Rev. and Mrs. Nagler departed for their home last Friday.

J. W. Reuter and wife, of McCords, came over Sunday, the latter remaining for a week's visit.

W. T. Roush, of Saginaw, arrived in town Monday and his parents gave him a warm welcome.

Roy Will was home over Sunday. Miss Ivy Moulton accompanied him as far as her home in Irving.

F. E. and Mrs. Brunner, accompanied by Ethel Fox, returned to their valley city home Monday evening.

Prof and Mrs. Gardner were guests of Buel Sisson and wife Saturday evening and Sunday. The ladies are old schoolmates.

Among the arrivals last week were Mrs. A. J. Cheesebrough and daughter, of Detroit; Floyd McCollum and Frank Nagler.

W. H. Pardee "caught the fever" and a dazzling new sign was hung out in front of his store last Friday in consequence.

Miss Addie Yerrington went over to Middleville last week to visit relatives; she expects a niece from Kalamazoo, to return with her and remain indefinitely.

Remember that the L. A. S. know just how to "conjure" a delicious dish of ice cream and don't forget to attend their social to be held at the society rooms, Saturday evening, July 16th.

Word was received here Sunday night that Will Richardson's baby could not live and Isaac Seger and wife left for Hastings to assist in caring for it. [Later, the baby was buried in the Freeport cemetery Monday p. m.]

Miss Vina Wissinger was the guest of Geo. Perkins and wife last week and found time to call on her old-time friends around town. A. Stecke saw that she returned safely to her home in Campbell, Saturday evening.

While the farmers are busy, trade is dull so that merchants seem to hail almost anything in the way of excitement. A performing bear accompanied by two foreign beggars attracted a number out of door (and windows) last Friday.

Rev. August Nagler, of Howard City, was in town last week and laid the plans for their new parsonage before his brother, John, who is asked to make a bid on erecting the structure. Before the close of Rev. Nagler's pastorate at Howard City he will have built a new church and parsonage. A pretty good two-year work.

On the 9th inst. Mrs. J. Brunner entertained a large company of friends in honor of Mrs. F. E. Brunner, of Grand Rapids. Mrs. A. F. Nagler, of Howard City, was among the guests and the day was greatly enjoyed. Dinner and supper were served and while the ladies visited, their nimble fingers wove intricate patterns through that delightful occupation of every woman—a quilt.

Our people went to Lowell en masse and enjoyed a great 4th, visiting with every body. We didn't go to see any thing new—so were not disappointed. Those who went to Hastings are loud in praise of the way that town spread themselves to entertain. A few young people went to Caledonia and were almost "stolen blind." Ed. Ferguson traced his buggy to Cascade and found it, but Asa Stecke will never see the handsome summer lap robe he took there; in fact there seemed to be an organized gang over there to try and do all the mischief possible.

A goodly number attended the funeral of A. S. Deming on the 9th, conducted by Rev. Johnson at the Cong'l church. Great sympathy is felt by all for his bereaved widow and sorrowing children. A few short years ago the deceased followed to her last resting place a dearly beloved daughter, the baby of the old folks heart, and since that time, Mr. Deming has seldom left his home; with his wife he led the life of a recluse, continuing to mourn until dependency turned his brain and therefore he could not be responsible for the rash act which ended his life.

The prizes were awarded to Miss Winnie Patterson and Master Ray Patterson. Miss Winnie received a lovely majolica creamer, and Master Roy a book of anecdotes.

They wanted to hire out and said they were from the pine woods, they wanted to sleep in the barn, which they were allowed to do and the next morning he found they had skipped, taking with them a coat, brace, two bits and a draw shave he had made 40 years ago.

Grattan Centre Mrs. Smith, with her husband and children, were pioneers of the town of Lowell, then a wilderness.

They came here from New York state in 1828 and located a home on what is now known as the Bill Lyon farm, down the river from Lowell. They sold out their claim and located twelve miles north of here, at what is known as Steels Corners. Mrs. Smith bore the hardships and privations of pioneer life with christian fortitude; she has now reached the ripe old age of 80 years, is hale and hearty and we hope she may be spared for years to come. Although her locks are white as snow, she does not have the appearance of 80; she is full of fun and the best of company.
