Imposing Ceremonies to Mark the World's Fair Dedication.

A Gorgeous Festival to Last Three Days Being Arranged—Some Details of the Programme.

THREE DAYS OF PLEASURE.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—When dawn breaks over Lake Michigan the morning of October 31 will herald the coming of a proud day in the history of Chicago. Perhaps it will be the proudest, for then will be dedicated the great world's fair buildings which have stirred the admiration of men of two hemispheres. It will be the natal day of the enterprise in which every nation on earth will participate, and for which $10,000,000 will have been expended. Then Chief of Construction Burnham will turn over the completed work for dedication by the president of the United States. The near approach of this time is beginning to awaken interest throughout the country. Work on buildings is being pushed in order to have them ready and the hundreds of thousands of visitors who crowd into Jackson park that day will witness a grand spectacle—a city of marble palaces.

Plans Almost Complete. Great preparation has been made for these dedicatory ceremonies. It has been the work of many months of citizens of Chicago and representatives of the national world's fair commission. The plans are almost completed and a festival of three days is the result.

Three Days of Pleasure.

There will be a three-days' carnival, beginning Wednesday, October 19, when a civic parade will be held and which promises to bring nearly 100,000 people into line. The second day, Thursday, October 20, will be devoted to a military review and military maneuvers. President Harrison, with members of the cabinet, will review the parade. Friday, October 21, will be the dedicatory day proper. Elaborate preparations have been made for this occasion, when President Harrison will in the name of the United States dedicate the buildings to the uses of the World's Columbian exposition. Each of the three nights there will be a display of fireworks on a grand scale. The second and third nights will witness a procession of centuries, consisting of twenty-four floats propelled by electricity through the waters of the lagoons. With the exception of the civic parade, all of the exercises will be held in Jackson park. The ceremonies of dedication day proper will be held in manufactures building.

No charge will be made for admission to the park while the dedicatory ceremonies are taking place Friday. The remaining days and Friday after 5 o'clock an admission fee of fifty cents will be charged. The fireworks and the floats will be of such magnitude and brilliancy, as well as so costly, that the exposition management decided to charge for the enjoyment of these entertainments. A number of brilliant social entertainments will be given by citizens of Chicago during the three evenings of the dedication ceremonies. A grand dedicatory ball on the final night will be held under the auspices of the leading society people of Chicago.

Ceremonies in Detail.

Friday, October 21, will be the greatest day of the three. When the sun rises that morning it will be greeted with the national salute. The fire will be by battery. A little later on in the day President Harrison and members of his cabinet, members of the senate and house of representatives, distinguished foreign guests, and governors of the different states and territories, with their staffs, will be escorted by a guard of honor, composed of troops of the United States, detachments from the United States naval force, and regiments of the national guards, to the manufactures building, where the dedicatory ceremonies will be held. When the president arrives here he will find an audience hall capable of seating several hundred thousand people. He will be taken to the grand stand and promptly at 1 o'clock the exercises will be started.

The Dedication.

The opening will be a march for orchestra written for the occasion by Prof. John K. Payne, conducted by Theodore Thomas, the musical director of the exposition. This prelude over Bishop Charles H. Flower, of California, will offer a prayer. Then will come the dedicatory ode, a notable production written by Miss Harriet Monroe, of Chicago. The ode has been kept from the public and will not be made public until read on this occasion. A part of the ode has been set to music by George W. Chadwick, of Boston.

Next will follow the presentation of the master artists of the exposition and their completed works. Director General Davis will follow with a report to the World's Columbian commission. Col. Davis will review the successful progress of the undertaking, and when he has finished the president of the World's Columbian exposition will turn over the buildings to President Palmer, of the national commission. Following this will be Hayden's chorus, "The Heavens Are Telling."

Then President Palmer will present the buildings for dedication to President Harrison, and he, in turn, will place upon them the seal of the United States government. While he is doing this the international character of the enterprise will be fitly shown by the presence about him of the representatives of nearly every government on earth, as well as the cabinet, supreme court, senate, house of representatives and the governors of all states.

When this impressive ceremony is ended the building will ring with the "Hallelujah" chorus from "The Messiah." The next number of the programme will be the dedicatory oration. Then will follow the "Star Spangled Banner" and "Hail Columbia" symphony with the full chorus and orchestral accompaniment. Then Chauncey M. Depew, of New York, will advance and deliver a Columbian oration, preparation for which he has been making. When Mr. Depew has delivered his last rounded period the great assemblage will disperse while the national salute, as a finale, is being fired on the lake front. At night there will be a display of fireworks.

The Great Parade.

All details have not yet been arranged for the civic parade the first day of the ceremonies, but the assurances from fraternal and industrial organizations are such as to lead the committee on ceremonies to believe that an unexampled procession of uniformed societies will march through the principal streets of Chicago. The Patriotic Sons of America have volunteered 10,000 members; the United Order of Foresters say they will have 15,000 men in line; the Catholic Order of Foresters offers 10,000, and the Knights of Pythias have asked to be given a conspicuous position in the parade, saying they will send 30,000 knights. These estimates are all official, being made by the officers of the several orders upon the receipt of invitations to participate. The masonic order will be represented by a large number of lodges of uniformed knights templar, and the order of odd fellows will also be here in large numbers.

A feature of the civic parade will be 5,000 school children in line, marshaled by their own captains. The military feature of the ceremonies will be the most interesting. Gen. Nelson A. Miles has been made marshal of the day for the direction of the military maneuvers and also the civic and industrial parade. He will be assisted in this by Gen. Joseph Stockton. Five regiments of United States infantry and cavalry will, by order of President Harrison, take part in the ceremonies. There will be 10,000 members of the national guard.

STAMPED OF STRIKERS.

The Carnegie Company Scores a Notable Victory at Duquesne.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Aug. 8.—The strikers at Duquesne went to work at 7 a. m., and the Carnegie Steel Company has scored a victory. On Saturday night Superintendent Morrison posted a notice that all men who had applied for their old jobs should report at the mill at 7 o'clock, as the mill would resume at that hour. Long before the time set, however, workers with dinner pails quietly stole up on unfrequented streets and along the railroad track so as to enter the mill unobserved by their fellow-strikers. As 7 o'clock approached the number of men who entered the mill yard through this means reached 400. About sixty men who were leaders in the sympathy strike movement gathered on the road near the mill-gate and watched in silence the men going to work. Finally the mill whistle blew for 7 o'clock. At that, a large Irishman exclaimed in a loud voice: "Well, men, the fig is up; we had better hustle for our old places." This was a signal for a panic and the entire crowd ran toward the gate. A freight train was backed in front of the gate, but the men did not wait for it to be moved, but scrambled over and under it in their frantic haste to get inside the mill before the whistle stopped blowing. It was a complete stampede. The men were organized into the Amalgamated association at no little expense, and they went out on the sympathy strike movement about two weeks ago. By their surrender they are expelled from the Amalgamated association and the Carnegie company has two non-union mills. The effect of the break at Duquesne cannot be proved harmful to the men at Homestead, although the leaders will not believe it. Yet at Duquesne steel billets can be manufactured and sent to Homestead to be rolled into plates by the non-union men so that the firm will be in far better condition to fill its contracts and prosecute its fight here.

Did Not Require Bail.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 8.—The one Pinkerton man who was arrested was released Saturday upon his own recognizance. The lawyers for the Homestead men could not offer sufficient evidence to induce the judge to require bail. The other Pinkertons against whom informations were laid will surrender themselves and be released in the same manner. The test made of the case of Fred Prime, one of the Pinkerton men on the barges, against whom informations were laid by Hugh Ross, was almost a rout for the Homestead people. The ruling of Judge Ewing shows that Attorneys Brennan and Cox cannot expect to hold the Pinkertons.

Russian Familee Ended.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 8.—The Russian famine is officially regarded as over. Tolstoy is sojourning at Raizan to wind up his famine labors and adjust his accounts. Whatever balance remains will be devoted to the aid of the peasants suffering on account of the failure of their crops. In Samara, where the crops are good, the relief offices have been closed. Nevertheless there is still much distress and ample use for any contributions of the charitable.

Spread of the Cholera.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 8.—The cholera returns for all Russia for August 8 and 4 show a total of 6,741 new cases and 3,496 deaths. A circular issued by the ministry of the interior calls upon all Russians, male or female, who have studied medicine abroad to place themselves at the disposal of the authorities to combat cholera.

CHATTAHOOGA, Tenn., Aug. 8.—Senator Isham G. Harris passed through the city Sunday from Washington, en route to Nashville, whither he goes to intercede with Gov. Buchanan for a commutation of the death sentence of Col. H. Clay King.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 8.—The heirs of Samuel J. Tilden have paid into the state treasury the sum of $147,253, the total amount of taxes under the collateral inheritance tax law which was imposed on the Tilden estate.

Miners Drowned in a Coalpit.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—Six miners lost their lives in a coalpit near Dewsbury, county of York, through the pit in which they were at work becoming flooded with water, which forced its way from an adjacent pit which had been abandoned.

BRUTALLY SLAIN.

A Gray-Haired Couple Murdered in Massachusetts.

Andrew J. Borden and His Wife Found Dead at Their Home—A Daughter Suspected of Having Committed the Terrible Crime.

AN AWFUL TRAGEDY.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 6.—Andrew J. Borden, a respected business man 63 years of age, and his wife, a most estimable lady of advanced years, were literally hacked to pieces in their quiet home at 93 Second street just previous to the noon hour Thursday. It was a most brutal and shocking murder, and no crime in the annals of Massachusetts compares with it in ferocity. The house is a two and one-half story structure, surrounded by a well-kept yard with a barn, and is located in a thickly-settled neighborhood. The family consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Borden, an unmarried daughter Lizzie and a servant named Bridget Sullivan. Another unmarried daughter is away on a visit to relatives.

Mr. Borden was a courteous gentleman who amassed a fortune when a member of the firm of Borden & Ains, undertakers. He retired from business many years ago and invested largely in real estate. He was president of the Union savings bank, a director in the B. M. C. Durable Safe Deposit and Trust Company and was interested in several manufacturing concerns of the city.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 6.—Miss Lizzie Borden is practically under arrest on suspicion of the murder of her father and stepmother. She is under the close surveillance of four detectives. The detectives engaged on the case feel confident that their suspicions will be sufficiently confirmed by further evidence to-day to warrant the woman placed in jail. Friday it was discovered that within thirty-six hours prior to the murder Miss Lizzie purchased four ounces of prussic acid at D. R. Smith's drug store, and an investigation is being made to discover if that was the poison which caused the sickness of the old people. Eli Bennet, the clerk who sold the poison, identified Miss Borden. She made no denial of the purchase and claimed she intended to use the prussic acid to kill moths. Every effort has been made to find the ax, for such doubtless was the instrument with which the heads of Millionaire Borden and his wife were crushed in. Thus far they have been unsuccessful.

For a motive the authorities say that Miss Borden would have come into possession of $500,000 by the death of the old folk and that she had been kept down on a miserly allowance insufficient to dress and do as she desired.

Did Not Require Bail.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 8.—The one Pinkerton man who was arrested was released Saturday upon his own recognizance. The lawyers for the Homestead men could not offer sufficient evidence to induce the judge to require bail. ## NOT SUSTAINED.

Representative Watson's Charges of Drunkenness in the House Declared Unwarranted.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Representative Boutner has finished his report on Representative Watson's charges of drunkenness among members on the floor of the house. The report is approved by the three democratic members of the committee and, with some qualifications, by Representative Grout, of Vermont. The facts are, the report will say that three and probably four members appeared on the floor more or less under the influence of liquor, but none in the condition described in the charges. The committee will report a resolution, declaring that the charges made by Mr. Watson are not true, and constitute an unwarranted assault upon the honor and dignity of the house, and have the unqualified disapproval of the house. Mr. Grout submitted a minority report recommending the adoption of the resolution recommended by the committee if, on presentation to the house, Mr. Watson declines to retract this objectionable statement.

Representative Simpson (farmers' alliance) submitted a report dissenting from the views of the majority and exonerating Mr. Watson. He quoted from the testimony of the alliance members and others before the committee in support of his (Simpson's) contention that Mr. Watson's charges had foundation in fact.

THE EARTH TREMBLED.

A Violent Shock Felt in Several Localities in Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 5.—An earthquake was distinctly felt all over Burlington and the vicinity shortly after 6 o'clock Wednesday evening. A rumbling noise, followed by the rattling of dishes on the supper tables, the stopping of clocks and distinct shaking of the walls, caused many people to run out of doors to investigate the cause. The reports from New Munster, Wilmot and other places state that the shock was distinctly felt in those neighborhoods. In some places it was so severe that houses were toppled over, chickens were knocked off their roosts and people were made "seasick." In many instances bricks were dislodged from chimneys and signs swung to and fro, although there was no breeze. At New Munster bells were tolled in the church steeple and the inhabitant were panic-stricken.

From that time until his death he was confined to his bed, and despite the exertions of his physicians, Drs. W. A. D. Montgomery, H. A. Baxter and M. H. Lackersteen, was unable to take any nourishment and eventually died of sheer starvation.

Many Were Hurt.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—A serious accident occurred on the Brooklyn, Bath & West End railroad Sunday afternoon at the village of West Brooklyn. His Brains Dashed Out.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—James Gallagher, a teamster, who lives at Grand Crossing, met a horrible death in the world's fair grounds at 10 o'clock a. m.
