IS IT CHOLERA?

A Recent Arrival Seized with the Symptoms in New York.

Physicians Unable to Say Positively That It Is the Scourge—Two Deaths at Dundee, Scotland.

ALARM IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Anton Potzel, an Austrian who arrived here from Hamburg, Germany, two weeks ago, was taken to Bellevue hospital Sunday afternoon suffering from an ailment, some of the symptoms of which resemble those of Asiatic cholera. The fact that he had come from a cholera-stricken city caused some alarm. The hospital physicians were unable to determine whether he had genuine cholera or not—they thought he was suffering from a severe attack of cholera morbus—but to be on the safe side they isolated Potzel in the tent on the river front which was used for typhus patients. He will be kept there until the nature of his affliction is accurately known.

The Plague Expected Soon.

Two thousand two hundred immigrants who reached New York Saturday were landed on Ellis island Sunday. There were 485 from the French liner La Touraine, 654 from the Gellert from Hamburg, 635 from the Augusta Victoria and 506 from the Russian. The Ellis island physician said the immigrants were a remarkably clean and healthy lot. The opinion was expressed by one of the old standing doctors that cholera would reach New York soon. He said the immigrants coming to this country now were of a character to bring the scourge, as they represented the very poorest of the European peasantry. The doctor was sure the cholera would not get into the city.

Found No Cholera Cases.

No case of cholera was discovered Sunday on any of the incoming steamers. Health Officer Jenkins and his assistants were on the alert and carefully inspected all passengers and baggage. He found everything in a very satisfactory condition.

Must Suspend Immigration.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 29.—The proposition of the Illinois state board of health to suspend immigration temporarily from all cholera-infected countries in order to protect the life, health and the commercial and industrial welfare of the country has met with general favor. Twenty-three boards have wired the Illinois state board endorsing the proposition. It has pointed out that Asiatic cholera is an exotic and must be imported in order to afflict this country. From its first introduction in 1832 history shows that its importation has never been effected save through the persons and personal effects of immigrants. It is the consensus of belief among sanitarians and health officials that to suspend immigration now would be to insure immunity from a cholera epidemic.

Strict Watch at Detroit.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 29.—Health Officer Duffield has issued an order that no ambulances shall take away from the railroad depots in this city any person found suffering from cholera or diarrhea. Although he does not apprehend any danger, Dr. Duffield has taken these precautionary measures to guard against the possible spread of the disease should it be brought into Detroit by immigrants who may come through Canada from the seaboard.

Emperor William Alarmed.

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—Emperor William has had presented to him exhaustive reports on the progress of cholera and the measures taken to combat it. He devotes several hours daily to studying the epidemic. He has ordered that vigorous measures be taken to insure the safety of the troops. The sanitary officials reiterate their assertion that there is no Asiatic cholera in this city. Frequent cases of cholera are reported. Prof. Koch declares that there is no reason for the exaggerated alarm that prevails in Berlin, as the sanitary condition of the city is incomparably better than that of Hamburg.

New Cases in Hamburg.

HAMBURG, Aug. 29.—The official returns show that on Friday there were reported in this city 416 new cases of cholera and 150 deaths. Up to noon Saturday 128 new cases and 55 deaths were reported, but the returns are not complete. Prayers were offered in all the churches Sunday for a cessation of the scourge. Whole households have been sent to the cholera hospital. Relief committees have been formed and appeals for subscriptions issued throughout the city.

The Scourge Elsewhere.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 29.—Twenty-eight cases of cholera have occurred in a charitable asylum here, the outbreak being due to bad food. Cholera continues to spread in several towns in central Russia and Lublin, though the mortality is not alarming. The official returns show that throughout Russia Thursday there were reported 5,757 new cases of cholera and 2,869 deaths. In St. Petersburg Saturday seventy-five new cases and thirty-seven deaths were reported.

HAVRE, Aug. 29.—Seventy-one new cases of cholera and twenty-five deaths from the disease were reported for this city Saturday.

PARIS, Aug. 29.—A number of new cases of cholera have been reported in this city. Three deaths from the disease occurred Sunday. Three persons died of cholera in Le Mans Sunday.

In the Paris Hospitals.

PARIS, Aug. 29.—Twenty persons suffering from choleraic disorders were admitted to the hospitals here Sunday. Prof. Peters, the head physician of one of the hospitals, declares that there have been cases of Asiatic cholera in Paris. He says he believes that the disease originated in the Natterry poor house.

Doctors Organize at Berlin.

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—Dr. Harris Gram, an American physician who has had wide experience with the cholera in Syria, is organizing the American medical students here into a body to act as assistants in the event of cholera becoming epidemic in this city.

In accordance with the policy decided upon to make public the health condition of the city, concealing nothing from the residents, the police have posted a notice throughout the city announcing that a woman who had just arrived from Hamburg had died from Asiatic cholera. Appended to the notice were full instructions for the treatment of cholera.

Died at Dundee.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—Chief Engineer Walker, of the steamer Gerona, which arrived at Middlesborough from Hamburg Sunday, died of cholera at Dundee, Scotland. The news has caused a tremendous sensation, not only in Dundee, but everywhere else where members of the Gerona's crew have gone. Alarm and indignation have been caused by the announcement that the crew were unwisely allowed to scatter to their homes. The Gerona is the steamer whose crew appeared to be all right when they landed, but one of whose seamen was seized with cholera soon after and died Sunday night. The population of Middlesborough is unfortunately in altogether too favorable a condition for the spread of cholera owing to destination and want, and the consequent physical debility caused among thousands of the inhabitants by the recent strikes in the coal regions which supplied the iron and other industries of Middlesborough. The local sanitary authorities are now doing what they can to prevent any serious result from their carelessness by tracing up and ascertaining the condition of every member of the Gerona's crew.

SOMERBY'S NEW SCHEME.

His Proposal to Reorganize the Iron Hall Approved at Baltimore.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 29.—Representatives of 100 local branches of Iron Hall had a meeting here Saturday night and issued a call for a convention of delegates from all the branches to be held in this city September 13 to take steps to reorganize the order. They agreed that all the old supreme officers should be left entirely out of the new deal.

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 29.—Chief Justice Somerby made his appearance here Saturday night at Raines' hall and spoke to about 1,500 members of the Iron Hall, half of whom were women. He proposed that members holding certificates in the old institution turn over what money they are refunded by the receivers to the new organization, that members be given new certificates, and those who have been in the order two, three or four years only pay up to the time their old assessments would have expired. They are not to receive the full face value of a certificate of $1,000 unless they turn into the order, upon being admitted, the full amount they have paid in the old order to date. When Somerby concluded he was greeted with applause. He had carried his audience with him and all present promised him their support. The new order will be organized at once.

WILL VISIT MR. REID.

President Harrison's Object in Going to New York—After Confering with the Vice Presidential Candidate He Will Return to Loon Lake Instead of to Washington.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—President Harrison's visit to New York this week will not last more than two or three days. He will leave Loon Lake Tuesday evening or Wednesday evening and arrive here on the following afternoon. The president will be Whitelaw Reid's guest. One day he will be at Orphir farm, and another may be spent at Mr. Reid's Madison avenue house. The specific purpose of Mr. Harrison's visit, if it can be said to have one, is to visit the candidate for vice president. Both letters of acceptance are finished, and the candidates want to compare them before they are published. Instead of going to Washington for a couple of days after leaving the metropolis Mr. Harrison has decided to return directly to Loon Lake. He will dispose of some official business while here, perhaps, although the only cabinet officer who has an engagement to meet him is Secretary Tracy.

Brakeman Killed and Fireman Injured.

HORTON, Kan., Aug. 29.—A collision occurred between two freight trains a few miles west of Horton Sunday on the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad, in which brakeman Thomas Douglass lost his life. The two firemen were fatally injured. A misunderstanding of orders is said to have caused the collision.

Killed by a Boiler Explosion.

RUTLAND, Vt., Aug. 29.—The boiler in the electric light station at Brandon, 16 miles north of here, exploded Saturday. Adolphus Germond, 50 years old, was killed, and his son Joseph, the engineer, and Charles Hoyle, the assistant engineer, were badly injured. The damage to property is about $5,000.

Fifty Years a Missionary.

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—A cable announces the death in Jaffna, Ceylon, of Rev. William Ware Howland, for nearly fifty years missionary of the American board of that island. Mr. Howland was born at West Brookfield, Mass., in 1817.

A LABOR OF LOVE.

Searching for the Miners Buried in the Wales Colliery.

Thirty-Nine Taken from the Fatal Pit Alive—All Hope of Further Rescue Abandoned—The Dead Number 107.

WORKED WITH A WILL.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—All night long the volunteer rescuing parties kept up their work at Park Slip pit, the scene of the disastrous explosion at Bridgend, Wales, Friday. They worked with a will, and removed an enormous quantity of debris from the mine. At 6 Saturday morning they had penetrated 900 yards into the main shaft. In all this distance not a sign of life was discovered, but here and there the body of a miner was found, its attitude showing how suddenly death had come to them. Some of the men had died in the very act of using their picks. Ten bodies were recovered of men who did not have a second's warning of the fate hanging over them.

While a band of the rescuers were working their way further into the pit a sound was heard that caused the workmen to suddenly suspend operations. Eagerly listening they waited a repetition of the sound. Soon it came, low and weak, but in sufficient volume to let the rescuers know that somebody behind the fallen rock and earth was alive. With a hearty cheer in response the men again bent to their task with renewed energy.

Word was passed to the pit mouth, and in a short time there was a scene of the wildest excitement about the pit mouth. Women and children who had stood about all day Saturday waiting to see if the bodies of husbands and fathers would be brought to the surface, ran to the pit, and in eager, strained voices asked the officials if the news was true. When assured that some of the men were surely alive, the scene was about as affecting as that of Friday when everybody believed that all in the mine had met their death.

At last the separating bank of rock and earth fell inward, and the rescuers, still crawling, entered an open space in which were huddled together a number of the miners who had been imprisoned. It was as though the grave had given up its dead. The rescuers found that most of their comrades had been badly injured and burned.

Mr. Asquith, home secretary, on Sunday visited the Park Slip pit. Mr. Asquith examined the mine machinery, conferred with the officials and questioned survivors. A dispatch says that only forty-one miners have been rescued from the pit and that two have since died. Exploring parties are still searching the mine, though all hope of finding further survivors has been abandoned. The number of the dead is, therefore, placed at 107.

FIFTY YEARS A MISSIONARY.

Death of Rev. William Ware Howland in Jaffna, Ceylon.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 29.—A cable message announces the death on Friday, in Jaffna, Ceylon, of Rev. William Ware Howland, for nearly fifty years missionary of the American board to that island. [Mr. Howland was born at West Brookfield, Mass., in 1817, graduated from Amherst college in 1841 and was ordained for the work in 1843, after completing a course in Union Theological seminary. Three of his children became missionaries, the oldest, William M. Howland, at Madeira, who died while in this country in 1877. The second, Rev. Samuel Howland, is president of Jaffna college, Jaffna, Ceylon. The only daughter, Miss Susan Reed Howland, is principal of a young woman's seminary in Jaffna, while Rev. John Howland is missionary of the American board in Mexico. Mr. Howland was the oldest missionary in that small field, and had not visited his native country since 1861. He lived to see the Jaffna mission grow until it has nine self-supporting churches and 2,700 members, while there are 128 mission schools and 8,500 pupils.]

A PLAY HOUSE BURNED.

Flames Almost Totally Destroy the Metropolitan Opera House in New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The auditorium of the Metropolitan opera-house, which has rung with the notes of Patti and Legman and Campanini, where great balls and banquets and receptions have been held, was destroyed by fire Saturday morning. The fire broke out after 9 o'clock. It had its origin on the fourth floor, directly over the stage, where the frame said to be the largest in the world, upon which the scenery is painted, is fixed. Just how the fire started is not known positively. The loss is variously estimated at from $500,000 to $1,000,000.

Thieves Thrive at Homestead.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Aug. 27.—Aaron Walker, of Homestead, had his pocket picked of $120. His stables were also burned and he lost $3,000. The presence of a number of thieves attracted by the wage contest is beginning to manifest itself through a number of depredations which were first charged against strikers, but the charges have been disproved.

Must Leave Labor Unions.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 29.—There is considerable excitement among railroad employes here over the order of President McLeod, issued by him to the effect that all employes of the Lehigh Valley & Central railroad of New Jersey must sever connections with all labor unions. There is considerable talk of striking.

The Story of the Drowning of the Sibley Family in Georgian Bay Was False—How It Originated.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 29.—The report about the terrible drowning accident Friday, by which Hiram W. Sibley and family were said to have lost their lives, is untrue. The following dispatch received from Mr. Sibley himself is self-explanatory:

MONTREAL, Ont., Aug. 27.—Mrs. Hiram Sibley, Rochester: Report in morning newspaper an absurd canard. All well and happy. Came here to meet Dr. Roe. Return to yacht Monday.

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 29.—The report from Saginaw of the disaster to the yacht Wapiti in the Georgian bay is a wicked canard. The yacht is now safely at anchor in Collingwood harbor. No accident has taken place. The report originated through a message sent in revenge by the cook of the yacht who was discharged here.

He will also visit old friends and note particularly the wonderful growth and improvement in the northern country in the past thirty years.

A Roman Catholic Church, three miles from Forestville, was burned to the ground Sunday, and the following people were burned: Miss Tullie Gustin, fatally; William Grant, seriously; Mrs. Jane Armstrong, seriously. The fire was discovered while services were being conducted and a wild panic ensued among the congregation. Women and children were trampled upon, and many of them badly burned. The value of the church was $5,000.

John, the 10 year old son, of Ernest Curtis had a narrow escape from injury last Friday. He and the hired man were working in the field and John was standing up on the front end of the wagon, the team was stopped suddenly, and the hired man jumped off the wagon and the boy fell, between the horses, in the wagon tongue, the frightened team and they ran away, they ran around the field, out the gate and down the lane towards the barn, the boy clinging to the underside of the wagon tongue. Ernest at the barn, saw the team coming and ran down the lane to meet him, throwing up his hat and waving his arms, but without avail, still clinging to the tongue, and shouted "let go John" and John let go the wagon pulling over him, without injury. A few rods from where John let go the team ran into the fence completely demolishing the wagon.

Misses Ethel and Florence McDannell, Winnie Shaw, Maggie Tate and Emma Crow and Miss Brown, of Ann Arbor, spent Monday at Cascade Springs.

Mr. Wilson has begun using another paper which is just as good, and hopes to have all back work out in a few days, and from now on will be able to get his work finished promptly.

Dr. Edwards will cure the worst case of Catarrh in the town, if they will comply with directions. Treatment very easy and positively sure. Residence 112 Washington St., Lowell, Mich.

Alfred Wolcott was in town Monday. Mr. Wolcott is a candidate for the nomination for prosecuting attorney for Kent Co., and is receiving warm support from his many friends through the county.

There was a family reunion at James Murphy's last Sunday when Mrs. Murphy entertained her sister, Mrs. John Downes, Mrs. Margaret McMahon, of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Owen McMahon and Mrs. John Murphy and brother, P. W. Byrnes, of Vergennes, and their families.

The Women's Foreign and Home Missionary Societies will meet with Mrs. Henry Hiller next Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 5th. As it is the last meeting of the year, let every member be present and bring the time boys.

A couple of Saranac boys gallantly saw a couple of Lowell girls home, from the picnic, on the 24th and returned to Saranac on the 25th train. In their hurried departure they left a couple of pairs of rubbers on the stoop and the young ladies would be pleased to have them come and get their rubbers—or come again anyhow.

LIONIZED THE WRONG MAN.

A Prose English Merchant Mistaken at Monterey for a Frenchman. The fashionable Hotel Monte at Monterey is stirred up over a ludicrous mistake by which a prosaic English merchant was lionized as an illustrious author, poet and dramatist. The British arrived at the hotel three days ago with two friends. He registered in a fine literary hand, and as he bore a strong resemblance to the author, several ladies present declared he must be the author of "The Shadow of the Sword." The next day he was the center of an admiring group. His companions became suspicious and asked the hotel clerk why so much attention was paid them. They were amazed when they learned the true reason, because they declared their friend had never heard of such a name. They were gravely told, "I am never tired," she said, "I have so much to say to God." "What do you say?" "Do tell me," persisted the lady. The child climbed on her knee and whispered, with all her soul in her eyes, "I cannot go to church too often to thank God—I was not born a boy."

MR DANAS' MILD CRITICISM.

The leading Democratic newspaper of the East, the New York Sun—which is leading strong aid and support to Grover Cleveland and the Democratic cause in the present campaign—is not quite satisfied with the platform adopted by the Michigan Democracy at the late state convention held in the city. The Sun gently but firmly announces a few of its reasons for not endorsing the platform of the Michigan Democracy, as follows:

"The platform adopted by the Democratic convention of Michigan last Wednesday is about as cheap and nasty a sample of demagogism as we have seen lately. Three-fourths of it is a cringe and a crawl before organized labor. At a time when the militia at Homestead and at Buffalo is the sole barrier against anarchy, if the Michigan Democrats think themselves called upon to assert that 'this is nothing more or less than a sop to anarchy. If the Michigan Democrats had availed in so many words that they did not approve the use of the militia to put down the violence committed by strikers they would have expressed themselves not a whit more plainly. While actual or virtual war is going on in three states, the platform of the Michigan Democrats is a distinct encouragement to the forces of disorder."

"The civil authorities of the state are constitutional conservators of the peace and the military should only be called into requisition in cases of great emergency, and then only as aids and subordinates to the civil authorities."

"Not a word of censure for the murderers on the Pickerton men, the rioters of Cour d'Alene and Buffalo, the thugs and incendiaries who are doing their best to make the labor unions an abolition and a curse; not one strong and manly word in defense of the right of freedom of contract and labor, and no word in denunciation of the brutal and vulgar depots, the masters and grandmasters, who are leading organized labor to its ruin."

"If the Michigan Democrats mean a compulsory arbitration they mean a doctrine and remedy as far removed as possible from Democratic principle and as impossible as squaring the circle. They mean voluntary arbitration, they mean nothing."

"Next, the Michigan Democrats give a couple of resolutions protesting against the employment of convict labor in penal and reformatory institutions. Of course they have nothing to say about or against the force bill. Men who write immoral attempts at an abolition of social order in the North with indifference are not likely to be much concerned about the subversion of social order in the South. Besides the labor unions are not interested in the force bill. They are too much engaged in applying the doctrine of force for their own benefit. Plain talk is the best. When the labor unions are ready to write their own platform, let them do so. The Michigan Democrats do so. It is a mistake. In the present condition of things it is worse than a mistake. The Democratic party outside of Michigan has no stomach for dickering with the labor tyrants. For that matter, we don't believe that the majority of the Michigan Democrats have. They have been made the victims of a resolution committee composed of imbeciles and sneaks."

THE BEASTS OF KANSAS.

A Novel and Interesting Exhibit for the World's Fair.

Kansas will make at the world's fair a notable exhibit of its native animals. The specimens are being prepared by Prof. L. D. Dyche, of the Kansas State University, one of the most skillful living taxidermists. The exhibit will consist of at least four hundred animals, and will include a fine group of ten Rocky mountain sheep, seven prairie mountain goats, nine moose, eight elks, seven antelopes, five caribou, five buffalo and twelve deer including male, white-tailed, Virginia and others; eight wolves, timber and coyote; five mountain lions, six bears, twelve foxes, including a beautiful silver gray besides a large number of lynx, wildcats and other smaller animals.

At Chicago the exhibit will be displayed in the grounds of the fair, or in a room 85x100 feet and the entire floor space is to be built up to represent a natural landscape, with rocks, grass, earth, willow, quaking asp and natural fir and evergreen trees. On each side of the wing will be built a tall cliff and in between a valley with a running stream of water, a lake and swamp. On the back it is intended to have a panoramic painting, containing the effect of the scenery of the foreground and giving distance to the scene. Each group of animals will be placed among surroundings indicative of their native haunts; the moose will be seen in natural positions in the swamp; the goats and sheep on the rocky cliffs; the buffalo on a buffalo grass prairie. One feature of the exhibit will be "Ommanche," Gen. Oster's famous war horse, that has been mounted by the professor within the last year.

He Pants for Fame.

The Guthrie State Capital says that a boy in the Wichita schools has been suspended for reading the following essay on "Pants": "Pants are made for men and for women. When a man pants for a woman and a woman pants for a man they are a pair of pants. Such pants don't last. Pants are the molasses; they are thicker in hot weather and thicker in cold. The man in the moon changes his pants during the eclipse. Don't you think I might be taken for pants? Men are often mistaken in pants. Such mistakes make breeches. I remember that I once saw a man go on a tear in their pants, and it is all right, but when the pants go on a tear it is all wrong."

AN IRISH VILLAGE.

The Emerald Isle's Exhibit at the Columbian Exhibition.

Leading Industries of Ireland to be Displayed by "Emerald Isle and Ladies from Their Respective Localities."

All visitors to the world's fair will doubtless want to inspect the Irish village which is being arranged under the auspices of the counties of Aberdeen and Merionethshire. The latter gives the following outline of what it will contain:

"We shall have seven cottages in Irish peasant girls and boys from Donegal and elsewhere will be seen at work, weaving, spinning, dyeing, sprigging, carving, etc. The girls will look very pretty in common, red petticoats, fishwife skirts and blouses, and scarlet cloaks. In the first cottage will be a pebble model of a cottage in Donegal with unadorned walls of granite, with a hooded fireplace and dresser full of bright crockery: a girl will be seen dyeing and spinning our famous flannel and Irish hosiery, the wool of which she gets from the lichen and heather of her native bog outside. There will be an imitation post-fire, and on this the dyer will from time to time place her iron potato-pot, and proceed to dye the wool. This operation is certain to prove immensely attractive to sight-seers, and, as well as the earling, spinning and bobbin-filling, which will be shown here, is an extremely interesting process."

"In the second cottage there will be linen weaving and embroidering of the famous Kells, and embroidery, whilst linen damask weaving on a Jacquard handloom and fringe-knitting will go on in the third cottage. Between this and the next cottage there will be a model dairy, in which dairy maids will be at work churning and butter-making. I can assure our American countrymen that they will have a chance of seeing good butter, as we shall send over some of the world-famous Kerry cows, which will be stable in the rear. There will also be a pleasant, open-air, where visitors can rest and drink local milk."

"In the fourth cottage, which is under the special care of the Irish Industries association, every description of Irish lace will be shown. There will be a Linen lace worker at her frame, the Trench lace worker at the pillow, the numerous varieties of point lace, and so forth."

"Sprigging and veining, which are employed in the production of beautiful hatched handkerchiefs of Belfast, will be shown in the next cottage. The girls of Down are especially noted for their exquisite and delicate work. We have not quite definitely decided about the two remaining cottages, but we shall probably show in the seventh cottage the wood-carving industry in Ireland, which has reached a really remarkable degree of development when one recalls the work of the wood-carvers and peasant lads. You should see the rest of our lads carved by some of my own boys for Lady Aberdeen last year. The expression of the carver's face, as well as the execution, was excellent. Other features of our Irish industrial village will be a replica of Donegal castle, an excellent and other interesting Celtic memorials. I believe the Irish village will be successful; we shall certainly do our best to make it so."

TRIED HER LOVER'S PATIENCE.

He Waited Two Hours, Then Started to Go. The London Times gives the interesting version of Henrik Thoren's courtship. When he fell in love with the beautiful daughter of Pastor Thoren, how to make known the fact to her troubled him for weeks. At last he resolved to write to her. He would come and fetch his answer the same afternoon at five. Did the lady accept him she would be "at home" otherwise not. At five o'clock he presented himself, and the maid asked him to go into the best room. He was very hopeful and was glad to have time to collect himself. He had waited half an hour awful doubts began to assail him. After an hour had passed he imagined the letter had not reached the young lady. Some fatal mistake was making a fool of him. Still he waited on. After two hours he began to be ashamed of himself. He would learn that he had sat two hours in that deserted house and would laugh at him. At last he jumped up in a rage and went to the door, and opening it when a loud peal of laughter arrested him. He turned and saw the fair head of his adored emerald from the doorway. She had been waiting for him but her eyes were filled with tears. "Oh, you dear, good fellow, I want to tell you how much I love you," she said. "You have waited for me, and I have waited for you, and now we are together. How hard the floor is now! Now help me to get out, and then we will talk." In less than a week the marriage was arranged.

MACHINE-MADE MUSIC.

An Ingenious Piece of Mechanism Played by a Pneumatic Mechanism.

An interesting arrangement of pneumatic mechanism for the production of high class music has been recently patented. The instrument has two and one-half sets of reeds, the regular action of its grooves being located above, and on top of the board containing these is a row of small pneumatics corresponding in number to the keys of the instrument; underneath this board are four rows of large pneumatics, beneath the other, and from an arm on each of these pneumatics hangs a wire attached to a lever operating on the cog-wheels on the pistons or wooden rods connecting the keys of the instrument with the reed board valves. By means of these levers, operated by pneumatics, the movement of the valves becomes automatic, subject to the passage over of the airboard of perforated paper. A peculiar characteristic of the motor which operates the music roll, which distinguishes it from all other applications of the kind, is its adaptability for running to the right to wind music, and to the left to unwind, or vice versa. When the instrument is in operation the keyboard becomes a kind of life key dropping with the exact rapidity required by the selection recorded.

TWO STRANGE ISLANDS.

They Are in the Gulf of California, Between Guaymas and La Paz.

An employe of the state department has given an interesting description of two islands situated in the Gulf of California, which were recently visited by him. About an equal distance between Guaymas and La Paz lies the island of Guaymas, where there is an immense salt lake surrounded by hills forming a sort of crater; the salt deposits mixed with muricite of soda lie in strata, which begin with the thickness of six inches and increase to about fourteen inches at the top of the strata. The climate is exceedingly hot, and only a few people live on the island, which is almost devoid of vegetation except for the luxuriant cactus growth.

The island of Tiburon, situated an equal distance north of Guaymas, is said to be a resort of the Genes Indians. It is a very fertile island, and is well adapted for the landing of strangers on what they consider their domain. Their canoes made use of by these Indians are of peculiar construction, consisting of long reeds bound together with strings.

Where Reptiles Cannot Live.

There is not a lizard or snake north of the pantry for pants, you might be mistaken. The summers there are so short that these reptiles have no time to enjoy themselves even if the ground is at least two or three feet below the surface were not frozen all the year round, thus depriving them of a place to hibernates. Snakes and lizards cannot endure a cold climate, and a latitude of 35 degrees north is altogether too frigid for them.

Some Social Customs of the Pueblos.

The laws of the Pueblo were simple but admirable, and are thoroughly enforced. Crime is practically unknown; and for occasional minor lapses the offender is induced to jail by a handcuff more civilized than our own, since it fits about the neck, and the culprit can neither be tortured by it, nor reach nor pull back upon his captors. The gentleness of officials and laymen is always notable. A resistor is never clubbed nor choked into acquiescence, but is overpowered without a scratch. A drunken vagabond once shot a woman in Isleta and fled. A posse with rifles pursued and soon overtook him. He intrenched himself and was ready to shoot the first who should come nearer. Instead of silencing him with a bullet, as there was perfect justice in doing, the Alguazil ordered him dislodged with stones. A deaf throw stunned him, and he was captured with one unimportant bruise. This is a typical case.

The social corner-stone is not the family, but the clan. Husband and wife must belong to different gentes, and the children follow her clan. In other words, descent is from the mother, and not from the father. The Pueblo had invented Woman's Rights before any Caucasian acquired that social infirmity and it remains one of its trappings. He has never used his wife as a pack-beast. He is not henpecked, but just; and even finds no shame in "toting" the baby upon his back all day when he has no more essential duty. The spheres of the sexes are clearly defined, but manfully. The woman is complete owner of the house and all it contains save his personal trinkets; and she has no other work to do than housework, at which she is no sloven. Should her husband ill-treat her, she could permanently evict him from home, and would be upheld in so doing. The man tills the fields, and they are his; but after the crops are housed she has an equal voice in their disposition. The live stock is of course his; but he will seldom sell an animal without consulting his wife. The family relations are very beautiful. —From "The Indian who is not Poor," by CHARLES F. LUMMIS, in the September Scribner.
