A MIGHTY HOST.

Hundreds of Thousands of Visitors in Washington.

The Veterans' Reunion Has Begun—Grand Army Place Dedicated by Vice President Morton.

GREAT CROWDS ATTEND.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Grand Army week opened fair and cool, with every apparent indication of a continuance of good weather during the exercises and celebrations in connection with the national encampment. All through the night the streets were alive with marching men, G. A. R. posts and their friends, on their way from railroad stations to their quarters. Despite all the exertions that the railroad companies made to handle the crowds promptly, the visitors were from two to twelve hours late in reaching the city; but as rapidly as possible the trains are rolling into the city and unloading their human freight.

Distinguished visitors are abundant. Ex-President Hayes, Maj. Gen. Howard Miles and Brooks and Gen. B. F. Butler are prominent among them.

Profuse Decorations.

Banners, flags and memorial designs not only fringe the houses and stores along Pennsylvania avenue and most of the other streets of the city, but in many instances completely hide the buildings from view. And in order that the night shall not conceal the city's gala attire, large arc lights by the hundreds have been added to the avenue, and besides, at frequent intervals, are the portraits of the leaders in the war, battle scenes and legends all designed with incandescent lights.

Grand Army Place.

Preliminary to the festivities of the week was the dedication of Grand Army place, situated on the famous White lot, just south of the white house grounds. The plaza surrounding the flag tower where the dedicatory exercises were held was crowded to its utmost capacity before noon—the hour fixed upon for the event. The vice president and commander in chief were escorted to their places on the stand from the reviewing stand where they saw the parade. The 1,500 seats on the platform were occupied by prominent G. A. R. and W. R. C. officers and government officials—a most distinguished gathering. The assembly call on the bugle secured partial order, and the Marine band played a national air, after which Comrade McElroy formally called the assemblage to order and introduced Rev. S. B. Paine, D. D., of Ocean Grove, N. J., chaplain in chief, who delivered the dedicatory prayer. Another air by the Marine band followed, and then Commander in Chief Palmer made the introductory address, in the course of which he said:

"Comrades, I know you will share my feeling of profound regret over the circumstances which caused the absence of one whom you would all have been delighted to see and hear, and who had anticipated joining you in all the festivities of the week, a comrade whose gallant services to the nation in the hour of peril has been supplemented by his wise and patriotic management of the affairs of this great republic in time of peace—Comrade Benjamin Harrison."

Greeting from the President.

The reference to President Harrison was the signal for enthusiastic cheering, which lasted some time. The demonstration was a striking tribute to the soldier-president and man. Before introducing the vice president, Gen. Palmer read a telegram from President Harrison, received from Loon Lake in answer to one sent by him to the president, expressing his regret and sympathy, in which the president said:

"I looked forward with much interest to the great rehearsal in Washington next Tuesday of the victors' march of 1865. I would have esteemed it one of the highest honors of my public life to have welcomed to the national capital and to have received on the historic avenue this representative assembly of the men who not only saved this city from threatened destruction, but made it the worthy political capital of an unbroken union. It would also have been one of the most favored and tender incidents of my private life to have taken these comrades by the hand again, but all this has been denied me by the intervention of a sad and imperative duty and I can only ask you to give to all my cordial greetings and good wishes. Accept my sincere thanks for your very kind and sympathetic message."

The Vice President Speaks.

Vice President Morton was introduced and was warmly received as he rose. Vice President Morton, after expressing his regrets that the president, owing to the illness of his wife, was unable to be present, said:

"I bid you welcome in behalf of the president and his cabinet advisers, in behalf of the congress of the United States and the national judiciary, administering collectively the government you have secured, and in behalf of a whole people, made illustrious by your heroism and that of your survivors, now your friends."

"I greet you in behalf of a stalwart north and a loyal south—a sun-dimmed east and a commanding west, under the shadows of the capitol you have preserved in this beautiful city, founded by Washington and made sacred by the services and sufferings of Lincoln, and in full view of Virginia, the birthplace of presidents and the burial place of heroes."

"Your march to-day and to-morrow will recall to you, as it will to us, the great review when Grant ranged himself by the side of the president of the United States, when Mead saluted for the veterans of the west and Sherman for those of the east, and when the light that fell upon the dome of the capitol was flashed back from the sword of Sheridan."

"There are brilliant illustrations of your prowess still leading your ranks, or among them, and I wish that I could summon them all, but the glories of the battle names recall them with vivid personality."

"In the order of time this may or may not be your last grand review, but I express the hope of a grateful people that Heaven will bountifully lengthen out your lives, before you are called to the other shore to rejoin the ranks of your companions."

"And now, my countrymen, in behalf of the whole American people, I dedicate this 'Grand Army Place,' and the commemorative memorials which it is believed will be hereafter erected upon it to the everlasting glories of the Grand Army of the Republic. 'God bless you all, and those who to-day unite with you in strengthening the union of the great republic.'"

The flag on the staff 150 feet overhead was then unfurled and saluted by a park of artillery. With the "Star Spangled Banner" by the Marine band the dedication of Grand Army place was complete and thousands of comrades dispersed.

A Day of Parades.

Tuesday will be the great day. Then the grand parade, meant to be in commemoration of the grand review in 1865, will be held. It is estimated that there will be some 60,000 men in line. The procession will move at 9 o'clock. The posts will march in two parallel columns each of twelve files front, separated by the car-tracks. On reaching Fifteenth street the columns will unite, forming a single column of twenty-four files front, and will thus pass the reviewing stand on the north of the treasury, occupied by Vice President Morton, and the stand in front of the war department, occupied by Gen. Palmer. At Eighth street and on the south front of the treasury will be large stands occupied by school-children, who will sing patriotic songs as the veterans march along.

The parade will occupy practically the entire day. The evening will be filled with interesting events. There will be corps meetings and reunions in Grand Army place and a brilliant display of fireworks on the grounds of the Washington monument from 7 to 8 o'clock. Mrs. Logan will give a reception at her residence, Calumet place. The department of the Potomac W. R. C. will give a reception, and the Potomac W. R. C. will receive at the Congregational church.

Business Days.

Wednesday is the business day. The national encampment holds its first session at Albaugh's at 10 o'clock. There will be a parade of the Union Veteran union, followed by the meeting of the national encampment of that body at Harris theater. Conventions will also be held on the morning of that day of the following organizations: Ladies Aid to the Sons of Veterans, Daughters of Veterans and convention of C. C. guards. There will be corps reunions all day long. At 5:30 a consolidated band of some 1,500 pieces, under the leadership of Mr. Sousa, will give a patriotic concert in the capitol grounds. This will be a novel feature, as probably never before has there been such an aggregation of musicians in a band. In the evening a camp fire will be given at the Congregational church, under the auspices of the department of the Potomac, W. R. C. Thursday will be devoted to business meetings and reunions, and in the evening one of the big events of the week will take place—namely, the reception by the citizens' committee to the members of the pension building. This is not a general reception, but is designed to take the place of a banquet and the entertainment offered by the citizens' committee, and especially to the members of the encampment and their wives.

Friday is the breaking-up day. There will be excursions down the river and in the evening the ladies' citizens' committee will give a reception to the Woman's Relief Corps and other ladies at the Congregational church.

While the above are the principal events of the week there will be a hundred and one other equally interesting and entertaining in the way of reunions and excursions of different organizations to places near the city that are associated with the war in the memory and experience of thousands who will come to Washington.

EIGHT PASSENGERS HURT.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—A. G. Porter, of Indianapolis, arrived from Europe on the steamship Fuerst Bismarck Saturday and confirmed the rumor that he had resigned his post as minister to Italy before leaving for America. He said that his resignation was to take effect last Thursday. He also said that commerce between Italy and the United States has recently grown and is still growing rapidly. Mr. Porter said the only reason for his resignation was his desire to be nearer his home.

Choked to Death by a Peanut.

SIoux CITY, Ia., Sept. 19.—Charlie Baker was found dead at his home in this city Saturday night. It was thought he had been strangled to death and there was suspicion of foul play. #### LUTHER BEECHER IS DEAD.

The Detroit Millionaire Was a Queer Character in His Day.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 19.—Eccentric Luther Beecher is dead. His more pronounced eccentricities have cost him directly more than a million of dollars. His stores and the big Biddle house in this city have been idle with few exceptions for fifteen years. He had an exaggerated idea of the renting value of his property, and then interposed so with tenants when they did pay his prices that they soon left him. He has paid a ground rent of $10,000 a year for twenty-five years on the Biddle house property with but little return. Then it cost $6,000 a year for care and repairs. He had paid $3,000 annually for many years rental of a royalty iron mine in the upper peninsula that he would not allow to be worked. Beecher made his money by buying real estate in an early day and by a lucky railroad deal. He sold the road for over a million and to the day of his death had $77,000 annual interest income. He leaves $2,000,000 and a son.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The ceremony of laying the corner stone for the memorial of Christopher Columbus, which the Italian transport Garigliano brought here on September 4, was performed on the plaza at Fifty-ninth street and Eighth avenue. Mayor Grant officiated and the work was blessed by Archbishop Corrigan. Commissioner Wahle, of the committee of one hundred, was the orator of the day. The Italian military and civic societies of New York, Newark and other near-by cities paraded in honor of the event. It took forty trucks to cart the stones which are to make up the pedestal and statue of Columbus.

Children Killed by a Panther.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 19.—Kitty Yancy, aged 12, and Herbert Yancy, aged 10, came to a fearful death at Warsaw, Minn., Sunday. They were killed by a panther which escaped from Barnum's circus about a week ago. They were passing through a wooded region, accompanied by a dog, when, it is supposed, the dog must have aroused the panther. The boy was killed by a blow from the animal's paw, and the girl was bitten in the neck. Near them the dog lay dead. The panther was afterwards killed.

A FATAL BLUNDER.

Terrible Result of a Train Dispatcher's Mistake.

Two Trains on the Northwestern Railroad Collide—Four Men Lose Their Lives and Several Others Are Badly Hurt.

KILLED IN A WRECK.

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., Sept. 16.—In a head-end collision on the Northwestern road 3 miles west of here at noon Thursday four men were instantly killed. One of the trains was a freight, the other an accommodation. Those killed were: Engineer Thomas Howes, Clinton; Engineer John Ashton, Clinton; Fireman Linebaugh and W. E. Carlen, Powell, Mich.

Both engines were reduced to shapeless fragments. Nearly a score of freight cars were wrecked and a large amount of grain, merchandise and stock was destroyed. The four men were killed outright, another terribly injured and several severely shaken up. A wrecker named John Dosark had his leg broken during the afternoon while helping to clear the wreckage.

Train Dispatcher Titus, of Belle Plaine, is responsible for the disaster. Freight No. 31 had orders to meet accommodation No. 14 at Lamolite. The latter was given clearance to Marshalltown and the order for 31 to proceed west was recalled, but not until it had pulled out of the city. The two trains, while running at the rate of 40 miles an hour, met on a sharp curve, a big hill obscuring one from the other until they were too close together to even admit of the engines being reversed. The crash was terrible and the result appalling.

The crews of both trains jumped, but Engineers Tom Howes and Jack Ashton, both of Clinton, Fireman Linebaugh and a stockman, W. E. Carlen, of Powell, Mich., were buried under a mountain of wreckage and instantly killed. Fireman Conrad Tusing miraculously escaped death, being hurled 30 feet through a barbed-wire fence and terribly lacerated and bruised. He will probably recover.

But two bodies, those of Engineer Howes and Fireman Linebaugh, had been recovered at a late hour. Two wrecking trains are at work. The loss will amount to $60,000.

Train Dispatcher Titus disappeared immediately after the accident was reported. His wife was on No. 14, but escaped injury.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—All the steamship companies have notified the secretary of the treasury that they will bring no steerage passengers to this country until congress assemble or the cholera epidemic ceases.

INDIANAPOLIS QUARANTINE. The city authorities have established a quarantine against all passenger trains entering this city over the seventeen railroads which center here. The city board of health swore in a large number of deputies who will meet and inspect all trains at the Bell road. Secretary Morrison of the city board of health says that a rigid quarantine must be observed as long as there is cholera in New York.

CHOLERA CLOUTY WATCHEE. New York, Sept. 17.—So far the board of health has been unable to trace the origin of the cholera which has occurred in the city. Thursday night three girls who came out as steerage passengers on the Erie canal and several of them in quarantine in the house where little Minnie Levinger staid and died, 41 East Forty-third street, were removed to Willard Park hospital, where they will be detained for the present under strict surveillance. It is supposed they brought the infection into the Levinger household.

OLD FATHER PETERS.

By ALFRED R. CALHOUN.

It was as Father Peters expected; every man at the Crossing and every boy who could shoulder a rifle, and the mountaineers learn to shoot when very young, crowded to the back part of the building.

This meeting was held the day after Christmas, 1881, and at the middle of the afternoon. In order to keep their movements secret it was decided to start north some dark that night.

Two of the blackened river were set apart for Mrs. Peters and her daughter to ride on. The forty men in the party were to carry their rations and ammunition to the former headquarters.

They were limited, and in the next place because it was believed that Camp Dick Robinson, seventy-five miles to the north-west, could be reached in five days.

In order to keep up the impression that these were still men at the Crossing ready to resist an attack, it was arranged that the women should light the beacons on the hills as soon as Dick Bradley gave the order that they were to start.

They were dressed in gray uniforms, and the men in blue. The collar and sleeves of the men indicated that he was an officer.

As Father Peters and Bradley went down the hill, it was decided that the former should do the talking when the Confederates announced himself as belonging to General Zollicoffer's command, and peremptorily demanded that he be taken to the people up the hill.

"We are Union men making our way to the north, but we do not want a fight unless it is forced on us," said Father Peters.

"We are quite ready for that," said the Confederates.

"And if nothing but a fight will suit you men, broke in Strong Dick Bradley, 'come on, just as quick as you men dog-gone please. Now go back and tell yo' niggers that."

The Confederates became gentler after this, but beyond learning the purpose of each other the truce resulted in no good.

As soon as Father Peters and Bradley declared that they could reach Camp Dick Robinson without food or sleep, were detailed to make their way to the north and to inform the first Union force they met.

eyes such as he had not noticed since the day the meeting house was burned. The pickets had reported suspicious men seen in the distance since daylight.

STATE PICKUPS.

The largest crop at Clyde this year was the grasshoppers. They have not been so numerous since 1860. Henry Cook, of Sharon, who blew out the gas in a Jackson hotel Saturday and was expected to die, is in shape to do the same fool trick again. The safe in the office of the Colby billing company at Dowagiac was blown open Saturday night, although it was not locked. The burglars secured but a few cents. The cars bearing the Cadillac veterans to Washington were decorated with banners bearing: "Union Veterans' Union, Cadillac, Mich. We have hard-wood; we want manufactures." The wife of Charles Billings, an itinerate mountaineer living in Ashe county, North Carolina, twenty-eight miles from the nearest railroad station, has given birth to six children, all boys. They weighed from four and a half to nine pounds each and are all alive. Mrs Billings is of medium stature and 81 years old. A peculiar case of assault and battery is pending against Anthony Raffney, a Saginaw Italian. He has been annoyed considerably by mischievous boys, and on Saturday he resolved that he would stand it no longer. When a crowd of boys came to his stand he let loose a savage dog and Edward Oaks was badly bitten. This constitutes the assault for which he was arrested. Mad dogs have been making sad havoc at Kalamazoo the past few days. One owned by James Quigley bit six other dogs, three of which have since gone mad. One bit David Gault, who contemplates going to Chicago to take the Pasteur treatment. Another dog, which had been bitten, bit a little girl named Gilfoyl on Monday. Fifteen mad dogs have been shot in ten days. A wholesale grocer in New York, who has become rich at the business, says his rule is when he sells a bill of goods on credit to immediately subscribe for the local paper of his debtor. So long as his customer advertised liberally he trusted but as soon as he began to contract his advertising space, he took the fact as evidence that there was trouble ahead and invariably went for the debtor. Said he: "The man who is too poor to make his business known is too poor to do business. The withdrawal of an advertisement is evidence of weakness that business men are not slow to act upon. There's nothing like it."—Ez. Crouse's Successor. WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—It is reported on good authority that ex-Representative Dorsey, of Nebraska, has been offered the appointment of assistant secretary of the treasury, resigned by Mr. Crouse to accept the nomination for governor. Mr. Dorsey was chairman of the banking and currency committee in the last house. Fell from a Cliff and Fatally Injured. TUSCOLA, Ill., Sept. 19.—At Bloomingdale Glens Sunday evening B. G. Campbell lost his foothold on the cliff and fell a distance of 50 feet below into what is known as "the Devil's Ice chest." He was badly mangled and will die. His home is at Newman, Ill.

SPANS THE MISSISSIPPI.

The New Bridge at Clinton, Ia., Opened to the Public Without Ceremony. CLINTON, Ia., Sept. 19.—Just two years and nine days from the driving of the first pile September 8, 1890, the Clinton and Illinois high bridge has been opened to the public without public demonstration or display. That will come later. The bridge is 4,994 feet in length, including approaches. The total length of iron and steel spans is 2,814 feet; weight, 1,800,000 pounds. The roadway is 18 feet in width. The total cost was $146,000. This makes a total of three steel bridges across the Mississippi river within two miles, the Lyons and Fulton high bridge and the Chicago and Northwestern railroad bridge here being the other two.

A LONG CHASE ENDED.

George Morgan, Who Killed His Wife and Sister in Florida, Caught Near Kalamazoo. KALAMAZOO, Mich., Sept. 19.—George Morgan, alias Frank Johnson, alias Fred Jones, who murdered his wife and sister at Defuniak Springs, Fla., on June 21, 1891, has been captured on a farm near this city by Detective Hartzvelt, of the United States secret service. Hartzvelt has followed his man for two years. Last June Hartzvelt was arrested by a Cedar Springs woman who claimed him as her runaway husband, and he was obliged to live with the woman for two weeks to hide his identity.

OCTOBER 21 A LEGAL HOLIDAY.

The President Required to Issue a Proclamation to That Effect. WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Many inquiries have been received from bankers and others at the treasury department as to whether the 21st is a legal holiday. It is. The law requires the president to issue a proclamation declaring Friday, October 21, a national holiday in honor of the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus, and inviting all communities to celebrate the day by public demonstrations.

David Bruce Dead.

New York, Sept. 15.—David Bruce, the retired type-founder, died at his residence in Brooklyn Tuesday. Mr. Bruce was 91 years old. He had not been in business for many years. He invented the machine for casting type which is still in use. By his method of typesetting the cost was reduced three-fourths.

Seven Killed.

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 19.—A terrible boiler explosion occurred in Force & Dickinson's stove mill at Stayles, a small village on the Leamington & St. Clair railway, 4 miles from here, by which seven men were instantly killed, one fatally injured and about twenty hurt.
