WE CAN CROW.

FOR THE STATE HAS GONE OUR WAY.
Eddy and Weeske, the County Ticket and Congressmen.

The Republicans of Michigan did their duty yesterday and day before yesterday. The returns are not all in. The state is conceded to us by the democrats, and John T. Eddy will supplant the two years of this just state.

In the county it all came our way, at least that is the indications from the towns reported. Frank D. Eddy is elected by a good routing majority, as he deserved and he will look after the office.

Augustus W. Weeske will represent us the next two years in the state legislature, for the people of this district, by substantial majority, have ordered it. In fact, our whole county ticket is elected, with the possible exception of Jacob Eisenhart, for Treasurer.

Capt. Chas. E. Belknap will look after the fifth district of Washington, for two years more, and while we are not entirely satisfied with him in this county, district and state have no cause for complaint. We will not give up on the National ticket until we know for sure that we are out.

IT LOOKS LIKE CLEVELAND.

Returns Slow, But Discouraging, From Our Post of View.

The returns from the elections at large came in very slow, last night, but all indicate great democratic gains in all parts of the country and show that they are "in it." New York gives Cleveland 75,000 and they claim, and with a show of authority too, New Jersey, Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana and Illinois. Of course it is the democratic stronghold that we hear from first, and while the returns of Republican success are not flattering, at the same time there is no use of giving up hope until the end comes. Here's hoping for the best.

The Original World's Fair Band and Solo Orchestra with McFadden's Elopement as a feature in itself, being composed of expert musicians, engaged for their individual excellence on their respective instruments. The World's Fair Band will give a novelty street parade up by an agent, who will appear here. Don't miss it, as it is a genuine sensation and something you never saw before. A free concert is also given in front of the Theatre at 7:15 in the evening, for the benefit of those unable to witness the daily parade. The Orchestra is one of the finest in the country and with its aid, the specialties and musical numbers incidental to McFadden's Elopement go with a vim. Don't miss the parade and don't miss the performance. Seats now on sale at Bush's for Wednesday eve, Nov. 16th.

Death of Another Pioneer.
Died, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Harmon Nash, Mrs. Eliza A. Van Dusen, on Thursday, Oct. 27th, 1892, Mrs. Van Dusen was born at Canajoharie, Montgomery Co., N. Y., Aug. 5, 1813. Her maiden name was Eliza. Her own mother dying when she was two years old, she was taken and brought up by an aunt, who, with her family, moved into Canada. When about twenty she was married to Alfred VanDusen, Feb. 11th, 1833. In the Spring of 1838 they moved to Michigan and two years later settled on section 29 of Vergennes, where they lived together till Feb. 8th, 1883, when he died. About five years ago she came to live with Mr. Nash. Being one of the early settlers of this part of the country, she belongs to the pioneer list; the hardships through which the early settlers passed, she experienced. Her willing heart ever ready to sympathize with those in afflictions, made her hands willing helpers to their needs, even when tired and weary to say nay. Being a person of strong moral integrity, she never countenanced an immoral act. About 1844 she made a profession of religion and united with the Baptist Church, of which she was a consistent member for 25 years, since which time she had been a member of the Seventh Day Adventist body of Christians. Funeral at the Bailey church, Grand Rapids, after which she was laid beside her husband, to rest till their life given call them forth. Three sons and two daughters survive her.

We Visited Grand Rapids.
Having some business to transact in Grand Rapids last week, we thought we would stop in the Star Clothing House to see whether they were offering as great bargains as they advertised, and we will not accept an advertisement from any firm in that city unless we think they do as they advertise. Well, when we arrived there we were astonished at the number of customers being waiting upon, some men buying those $2 Black Diamond Suits, worth $4 some those all wool Scotch Cassimer suits for $5, worth $10, some those dark mixed Cassimer goods for $8.50 worth $12, and some those Black Worsted Prince Albert coats all black, for $8.50 worth $15. Others those Vest, clay Gray suits, beautifully lined for $15, worth $20, and a great many were buying those drab colored heavy overcoats lined with light colored checked goods for $10 and the same garment was offered to us in other stores for $15, and other great bargains, and then we left, satisfied in our own minds that by trading at the Star Clothing House, 34 & 42 Canal St., we could save from $5 to $10 on a suit or overcoat.

PROBATE ORDER. State of Michigan, County of Kent, ss: I, the County Clerk, do hereby certify that on the 26th day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and ninety two, I, the County Clerk, in and for said County of Kent, did receive, Cyrus E. Perkins, Judge of Probate, in the matter of the estate of JOHN LORR.

That the said John Lorr having filed in this Court his petition praying this Court to adjudge and declare that he was insane and that he was now the lawful heir of said deceased and entitled to the real estate of said deceased therein described.

TUESDAY, THE 9TH DAY OF DECEMBER, 1892, at the clock in the forenoon, at said Probate Office, he appointed for hearing said petition. And it is further ordered, that a copy of this order be published three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing, in the Lowellist, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Kent.

LOWELL JOURNAL
LOWELL, MICH.

MESSRS. McDANSELL AND CHURCH have withdrawn their application for a right of way to the D. & M. depot, from the consideration of the township Board, on account of the opposition that developed in certain circles. There is a set of "electric rights" which were given them by the township Board, and then when on a contemplated improvement is dead, they slide out from under all responsibilities of failure of the scheme and kick "because the town is dead." How many of you have forgotten the "electric rights" proposition submitted some years ago by Mr. Sekel? You remember he only asked permission to string wires in our streets, not a plea for lights to be put in, and not the privilege of putting in his plant and strapping the wires, but no, the kicker came out in full force and the project was killed. Then began another set of regrets. You can also remember that in less than three months a committee waited on Mr. Sekel and tried to induce him to renew his proposition, but in vain. He had changed his mind. A couple of years later a company asked for a franchise, but they were not ready for lights for the street at $100 per light. The lesson had been learned and no kick developed. And with this street car franchise the same mistake is being made. Eye and eye committees will be looking after someone to accept a franchise and kick on it, because they do not understand it. One thing is certain, a kicker always lets the people know where he stands, but those favorable to an improvement say nothing about it, but let it take its own course.

It is in vain, now, that something is done and that the people stand with the gather and look to their own and each others interests and in that way push for the good of the town.

President Lincoln—It's an old story now, but one which, like many other old stories, will bear repeating—had he repeatedly invited to attend the mourning of Mr. Withers, the very large throng of the 14th he sent word that he would come that evening.

"In special honor of the occasion H. P. Phillips wrote the song 'Honor to Our Soldiers,' which was set to a martial air by myself and rehearsed by Miss Laura Keane, who agreed to present with her company and sing it. Booth's pistol shot prevented the song, the words of which, however, I have preserved. By some misunderstanding the song was not sung according to program, and I left my place and went to consult the stage manager about it. Just as I left his hand a pistol shot. I thought some property-man had fired a pistol and I took another step down. Just then I heard a heavy fall and the people began to cry, 'Catch him! Lynch him! Hang him!'

"I was in a great hurry, where I could move very little else, when I walked Booth with protruding eyes, dashed out and cried: 'Let me pass! Let me pass!'

"He struck me with a knife twice and I fell as he passed on. Then the infuriated people came pouring in and found the stage manager about it. He said for the murderer. You know the story of the fight and capture as well as I do."

Mr Withers is now connected with the California Theatre in San Francisco.

Obituary.

Another pioneer gone. Henry Foster was born in 1806, in N. J. He was the second child in a family of three brothers and one sister. His parents removed to Montgomery Co., N. Y., then to Steubenville, O., when he was quite young. His father was a soldier in the American army, of 1812 and perished at the battle of Lundy's Lane; so that young Foster at an early age began to make his own career, when about 19 years of age, he removed to Canada, where by his unaided efforts, he became possessed of a good farm. Here he was married to Miss Julia Lancaster, of N. Y., May 23, 1829. In 1837, Mr. Foster bought a farm in Indiana and then returned to Canada for his family, making the entire journey on foot. The following year he started with his family and household goods for the new home. At Detroit old neighbors advised them to change their route to East River, Michigan, arriving at the residence of Mr. Peck, in Vergennes, in August, 1838, having made the entire journey in 3 weeks with two teams and driving the stock with them. A few days after they were settled in their little pioneer house on the farm, where he resided until his death. His wife died six years ago, Oct. 5, 1890. Two sons were born seven children, three of whom are dead. Of the others Mrs. Wm. Lucas, residing in Keene, Wm. Foster, in Sparta, Mrs. E. P. Sweet, in South Lowell, and Mrs. George Davidson, on the homestead in Vergennes. Four years ago last March, Mr. Foster was stricken with paralysis, from which he never recovered. Quietly and peacefully he passed away on the evening of Sept. 23, 1892, aged 86 years.

Only two of the early settlers of this neighborhood remain. Mr. Foster was a man of inflexible purpose, sterling integrity, an honorable, upright citizen, a most kind and sympathetic neighbor.

A FRIEND.

STRUCK DOWN BY BOOTH.
The Man Who Blocked the Way of Lincoln's Assassin Still Lives.
From the Chicago Inter Ocean.

William Withers was at the Great Northern Hotel in Chicago, Sunday, when he heard of the death of Lincoln. He had heard of him, and to those who lived before the war the name of William Withers would need to be repeated in many times before they would remember they had heard it. Yet there were some who remembered his death wound at most at the same time and in the same room where William Withers was twice stabbed, who is "one of the few, the immortal is that are not born to die." The name of that immortal one is Abraham Lincoln.

On the evening of April 14, 1865, at Ford's Theatre in Washington, William Withers almost had the unpleasant distinction of being murdered by Wilkes Booth after the latter had fired the fatal shot at President Lincoln and was rushing madly from the stage to an entrance in the rear of the theatre where he was waiting for a confederate had a horse in waiting.

Mr Withers still is in his keeping, as a most sacred and valued treasure, an old dress coat that is much out of style and has on its back two clean cut suits. These suits show where the dagger of Booth went through the clothing and penetrate to the bone of the body. Mr. Withers on that night was the leader of the orchestra.

"President Lincoln—it's an old story now, but one which, like many other old stories, will bear repeating—had he repeatedly invited to attend the mourning of Mr. Withers, the very large throng of the 14th he sent word that he would come that evening.

"In special honor of the occasion H. P. A CURE FOR HAY FEVER.
Fine Needles Mixed with Smoking Tobacco Clear Out the Head.

A Freehold (N. J.) man, named Allen, who is an inveterate smoker and an acute sufferer from hay fever, which heretofore has compelled him to forsake home, friends and business and his health, has been cured by the use of the needles mixed with smoking tobacco. He claims a sure cure, says the Philadelphia Record. "It is an extremely simple remedy," he said, "and the credit of its discovery must be given to the North Carolina mountaineers. Two years ago when I first began to feel the effects of the weed, I took a train for Asheville, N. C., and found lodgment with an old cracker away back in the mountains. Before cold weather set in my supply of cigars ran out. I could not do without my remedy, and was obliged to fall back on a 'cob pipe and long green' tobacco raised by my host. I noticed that when he smoked he always mixed his needles with his tobacco, and when I asked the reason he answered that it was to 'clear out his head.' My head needed 'clearing out,' and I tried the old fellow's remedy. It worked like a charm. When I came home I recommended it to my friends, and several who were suffering from the same ailment were cured by it. It helped me greatly. An enterprising tobacconist to whom I spoke about the 'cure' got a supply of pine needles and began the manufacture of cigars, cigarettes and smoking tobacco thus medicated. The flavor of tobacco thus dosed is very pleasant, and the odor of the smoke is deliciously aromatic. Last summer I stayed at home and the hay fever didn't bother me. If I escape the complaint this year I shall feel pretty certain that the 'pine needle brand' of tobacco and cigars is a sure enough cure."

CITY FIRE SERVICE.
Boston's Department Costs the Most and London's the Least.

The central fire brigade of Chicago has recently been furnished with two of the largest and most powerful fire engines in the world. They are constructed to work six sets of hose throwing 10 tons of water per minute.

Paris has a very extensive fire establishment, the largest in the world—203 engines and 1,500 firemen.

London has 151 engines of all descriptions, and employs 10,000 men. The number of journeys made by the fire engines and hose vans of the Metropolitan fire brigade last year was 52,765, and the total distance run 50,000 miles. These figures not including hose carts or the escapes, which are run by hand.

The London fire brigade uses 1,600,000 gallons of water yearly, and 250,000 gallons of kerosene, and 8,500 gallons of kerosene.

The New York fire brigade consumes 22,000,000 gallons yearly, that is, 25 gallons per inhabitant, or 15,000 per fire.

The most expensive brigade is that of Boston, which cost 66.74 per head of population to maintain, that of London costs the least, 10.47 per head.

FRIENDS OF THE MINER.
A Blue Wasp in Colorado Which Makes War on Pestiferous Spiders.

The miners of Colorado who have built cabins on the mountain sides know what a pest the small, brown spider spider proves to be. They throw their casts over your best clothes, cooking utensils, in every corner where you can get them in your eyes and mouth. Not only that, but they will drop into the frying pan, water bucket or upon the table when you are eating. But the Great Divide says, nature has furnished a remedy and a friend when she gave us the spider. It is a small, brown, wasp-like insect, which is called the blue wasp. It is a very small insect, but it is a very powerful one. It is a very powerful one. It is a very powerful one. It is a very powerful one.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

Alton.

Thos. Feed has moved into the Christman home.

H. D. Weekes returned from Hastings Saturday.

Mr and Mrs. Linn have gone to Penn. for a three months visit.

Ed Condon, of Smyrna, visited his brother, David, Sunday.

Potatoes that were not dug were badly frozen last Friday night.

Jesse Frost is moving his goods to Lowell and will make that place his future home.

Quite a number from around here attended the Myers auction sale at Ada last Thursday.

Miss Gott, of Lowell, finished a very successful term of school at this place Friday, Nov. 4th.

Mrs Oscar Seefeld and son, Merritt, returned home from Fremont Centre last week Saturday.

A. W. Weekes and D. G. Look, of Lowell, attended the Republican meeting here last Friday night.

The Republican club will hold a meeting at their hall next Saturday evening. A full attendance is desired.

Some of the apple dryers are caught with apples not gathered. Mr Lewis is reported to have between seven and eight hundred bu. out yet.

Mrs Addie Toby and mother, Mrs W. H. Brown, will return to their home at Fairplains this week, after a three weeks visit with Alton friends.

The Republican meeting last Friday evening was largely attended, and good interesting speeches by Messrs Corbett and Swartout, of Grand Rapids, were closely listened to.

Mr and Mrs Dwight Gilbert and two children visited at Wm. Brown's Saturday and Sunday and went to Fairplains Monday to visit relatives there.

Wm. Aldrich's neighbors turned out and dug his potatoes and husked his corn Wednesday last. Sickness in his family this fall has been quite a drawback in his farm work; Mrs Aldrich's recovery is very slow.

Mrs Jacob Goble had a pair of lines stolen from a single harness, which she valued very highly, as Mr Goble gave the harness to her before his death. She wishes them returned to her as it will save the parties who took them some trouble.

The largest stock of wall paper to select from. Will sell regardless of cost. W. S. WINEGAR.

Wooden sawtroughs at W. J. Ecker & Son's, 3, 5, and 7 cents a foot.

Cutting Fine Veneers.

Few people have an idea how thin a sheet of veneer may be cut with the aid of improved machinery. There is a firm in Paris which makes a business of cutting veneers, and to such perfection have they brought it that from a single task thirty inches long they will cut a sheet of ivory one hundred and fifty inches long and twenty inches wide. Some of the sheets of rosewood and mahogany are only about a fiftieth of an inch in thickness. Of course, they cannot cut all woods so thin as this, for the grain of many varieties is not sufficient close to enable such fine work to be done, but the sheets of boxwood, maple and other woods of this character are often so thin as to be translucent.

JUST FULL of improvements—Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. To begin with, they're the smallest, and the easiest to take. They're tiny, sugar-coated, antibilious granules, scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Every child is ready for them.

Then, after they're taken, instead of disturbing and shocking the system, they act in a mild, easy, and natural way. There's no chance for any reaction afterward. Their help lasts. Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Sick or L. B. Headaches, and all derangements of the liver, stomach, and bowels are promptly relieved and permanently cured.

They're put up in glass vials, which keeps them always fresh and reliable, unlike the ordinary pills in wooden or pasteboard boxes. And they're the cheapest pills you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get.
