

THE DARK SIDE.

Summary of Gloomy Events During the Last Year.

SOME OF THE MOST NOTABLE DEATHS

Lives Lost by Railway Disasters, Wrecks at Sea, Battle, Pestilence, Fire, Cyclones, Etc.—Victims of the Hangman, Judge Lynch and Suicide.

THE DISTINGUISHED DEAD.

The necrology for 1891 was remarkable for the long list of distinguished names it contained; that for 1892 is hardly less remarkable. The most celebrated names in this country are those of George B. Clarke, the telescope-maker, who died January 1; Gen. M. C. Meigs, the engineer, January 2; Randolph Rogers, sculptor, January 18; Judge Joseph P. Bradley of the United States supreme court, January 22; Dr. Noah Porter, ex-president of Yale college, March 4; Max Strakosch, impresario, March 20; Dr. D. H. Agnew, surgeon, March 22; Walt Witman, poet, March 25; Cyrus W. Field, financier, July 12; George William Curtis, essayist and editor of Harper's Weekly, August 31; Daniel Dougherty, lawyer and orator, September 5; T. W. Parsons, poet, September 5; John G. Whittier, poet, September 7; Maj. Gen. John Pope, September 23; Patrick S. Gilmore, band leader, September 24; Mrs. Harrison, wife of the president, October 25; Lieut. Frederick Schwatka, explorer, November 2; Theodore Child, art critic, November 20; Alexander H. Wyant, artist, November 29; Jay Gould, capitalist, December 2.

Great Britain has lost Sir George Biddell-Airy, astronomer royal, January 8; Prince Albert Victor, January 14; Cardinal Manning, January 14; Rev. C. H. Spurgeon, January 31; Sir Morell Mackenzie, surgeon, February 3; Lieut. Gen. James Augustus Grant, African explorer, February 11; Prof. Edward Freeman, historian, March 16; Arthur Göring Thomas, composer, March 22; John Murray, publisher, April 4; Amelia B. Edwards, novelist, April 15; Alfred Tennyson, poet, October 6; Sir Richard Owen, scientist, December 15.

The prominent Frenchmen were Edward Victor Antoine Lalo, composer, April 26; Ernest Renan, historian, October 2; Cardinal Laviegrre, the enemy of the African slave traders, November 25. Germany has lost Prof. Theodore Mommsen, historian, February 3; Grand Duke Ludwig IV. of Hesse, March 13; Mme. Brandt-Goetz, prima donna, April 19; Robert Franz, composer, October 26; Dr. Ernest Warner von Siemens, electrician, December 6. Besides these the list includes Emile de Lavalaye, the Belgian political economist, January 3; Tewfik Pasha, khedive of Egypt, January 7; Cardinal Simoni, ex-papal secretary of state, Italy, January 14; Grand Duke Constantine, brother of the czar, Russia, January 25; Francesco Lamperti, music teacher, Italy, May 7; Deodoro da Fonseca, first president of Brazil, August 23.

Summary of Disasters.

So far as reported 3,188 lives have been lost on the ocean and 158 on the lakes and rivers of this country in total of 3,346 as compared with 3,545 last year and 8,015 in 1891. 4,428 by railroads, 657,217 by disasters in the old world and South America, and 7,725 by disasters in the new world, making in all 673,716 as compared with 283,303 in 1891, 114,545 in 1890, 177,313 in 1889, 74,697 in 1888, 199,164 in 1887, 22,791 in 1886 and 357,467 in 1885.

The serious disasters of 1892 have been as follows: In January 400 were killed by a steam launch accident in Boston, 8 by a railroad accident in Holland, 12 by a similar accident at Port Townsend, on the Pacific coast; 65 by a mine disaster at McAllister, T. T.; 80 by drowning at Titus, 19 by the burning of the surgical institute at Indianapolis, and 50 by a falling building at Sledshead, Russia.

by drowning at Douro, Portugal, and 50 by flood in Mexico. In November 10 were killed by a railroad disaster at Thir. E. England, 25 in a panic at Vinogora, Austria, 12 by drowning at Japan, 40 by the fall of a mill in Moravia, 9 by a falling house at Bejar, Spain, 43 by a waterspout in China, and 19 by a storm in Japan.

In December 30 were killed in a mine in Japan, 30 in a mine at Wigan, England, and 14 in a fire at Berson, France.

Diseases.

The prevailing pestilence during the year has been the cholera. The total number of deaths reported has been 563,341, as compared with 33,220 in 1891 and 50,000 in 1890. The distribution of the cholera ravages has been as follows:

Russia.....	265,769	Germany.....	300
Persia.....	254,060	Holland.....	59
Arabia.....	15,000	Antwerp.....	67
Cashmere.....	12,450	Naples.....	20
Hamburg.....	11,510	New York.....	35
China.....	4,000	Odesa.....	3
France.....	3,500	Vienna.....	4
Hungary.....	300	London.....	4

No reports have been received from India.

Battles.

Though there have been no great wars during the year yet the loss of life in battles amounts to 26,521, as compared with 22,627 in 1891, 13,789 in 1890 and 40,276 in 1889. The loss is distributed as follows:

The French wars in Africa, 7,463.	Soudan, 100.
The Chinese rebellion, 9,000.	China, 183.
Afghanistan revolt, 3,500.	The Venezuelan revolution, 3,975.
Honduras, 300.	Bolivia, 1,000.
Brazil, 1,000.

Aggregate of Casualties.

The complete list of casualties in the old world and South America, where the loss of life was serious enough to be reported by telegraph, including those who perished by disease and battle, was 657,217, as compared with 270,675 in 1891 and 90,680 in 1890.

Various Disasters in the United States.

The following table gives the loss of life resulting from various disasters in this country as telegraphed during the year:

Drowning.....	3,174	Mines.....	518
Cyclones, storms.....	438	Lightning.....	305
Fires.....	1,770	Falling buildings, etc.....	655
Explosions.....	760

Railroad Disasters.

The loss of life by railroad disasters for the year is 4,428, as compared with 3,201 in 1891 and 3,430 in 1890. The number of seriously injured was 3,383, as compared with 2,707 in 1891 and 2,740 in 1890.

Murders.

The total number of murders committed in 1892 shows a large increase, being 6,791, as compared with 5,900 last year, 4,200 in 1890 and 3,667 in 1889. In fact, the record of murders during fifteen years past shows a steady increase and unquestionably one out of proportion to the increase in population. The causes of these murders may be classified as follows:

Quarrels.....	2,820	Highwaymen killed.....	125
Liquor.....	78	Self-defense.....	81
Jealousy.....	70	Insanity.....	11
By highwaymen.....	512	Outrages.....	28
Infanticides.....	317	Robberies.....	82
Resisting arrest.....	20	Other.....	6

Suicides.

The number of persons who have committed suicide in the United States during the year is 3,850, as compared with 3,331 last year, 2,640 in 1890 and 2,224 in 1889. The total is much larger than that of any of the eleven preceding years. Of this number 3,055 were males and 895 females. It is somewhat remarkable that physicians continue to head the list of prominent persons who have taken their own lives. Last year there were 23 physicians and 12 clergymen in the sad catalogue, while this year there are 37 physicians and 11 clergymen. The causes of suicide were as follows:

Despondency.....	1,460	Liquor.....	318
Unknown.....	684	Disappointed love.....	248
Insanity.....	201	In health.....	278
Domestic infelicity.....	200	Business losses.....	330

In these cases of self-murder 1,300 shot themselves, 1,000 took poison, 605 hanged themselves, 396 drowned themselves, 319 cut their throats, 15 burned themselves, 91 threw themselves before locomotives, 50 stabbed themselves, 56 jumped from windows, 1 froze himself, 6 starved themselves, 1 killed himself by placing his head under a triphammer, 7 killed themselves with dynamite and 1 beat his head against a wall.

Hangings.

The number of legal executions during the year was 107, as compared with 123 in 1891 and 102 in 1890. The executions in the several states and territories were as follows:

Alabama, 3; Arkansas, 9; Connecticut, 2; Georgia, 14; Illinois, 3; Kentucky, 10; Louisiana, 4; Maryland, 1; Massachusetts, 2; Missouri, 2; Montana, 1; Nebraska, 1; New York, 5; New Jersey, 5; North Carolina, 4; Ohio, 3; Oregon, 2; Pennsylvania, 4; South Carolina, 5; South Dakota, 1; Tennessee, 4; Texas, 10; Vermont, 1; Virginia, 5; West Virginia, 2; Washington, 2; Wyoming, 1; New Mexico, 1; Indian territory, 2. Of the total number 57 were whites, 47 negroes, 1 Chinaman, and 2 Indians and 4 women. There were 29 executions in the north and 78 in the south.

Work of Judge Lynch.

Judge Lynch has executed during the year 236 victims, 231 men and 5 women, an increase over last year of 41, and much the largest number ever lynched in this country before. The lynchings in the various states and territories were as follows:

Alabama, 21; Arkansas, 25; California, 8; Florida, 11; Georgia, 16; Idaho, 8; Illinois, 1; Kansas, 3; Kentucky, 9; Louisiana, 2; Maryland, 1; Mississippi, 16; Missouri, 6; Montana, 4; New York, 1; North Carolina, 5; North Dakota, 1; Ohio, 4; South Carolina, 5; Tennessee, 2; Texas, 12; Virginia, 7; West Virginia, 6; Wyoming, 9; Arizona, 3; Oklahoma, 2. There were 155 negroes, 80 whites, 1 Indian and 5 women among the victims.

Fires.

The total losses by fire during the year amount to $156,324,535, as compared with $168,047,000 in 1891, $148,412,694 in 1890, $143,902,070 in 1889, $100,000,000 in 1888, 130,000,000 in 1887, and $115,000,000 in 1886.

Embezzlements.

The embezzlements of the year aggregate $8,887,547, as compared with $19,730,394 in 1891 and $8,632,956 in 1890.

Generous Deeds.

During 1892 there was a total of 320,

1892 AT HOME.

An Interesting Outline of Occurrences Affecting the Nation.

LEGISLATIVE HISTORY OF THE YEAR.

Our Relations with Foreign Powers—Result of the Elections—World's Fair Matters—Other Leading Events in the United States.

A MEMORABLE TWELVE MONTHS.

The year 1892, so far as its progress has affected the United States, has been a memorable one in many respects. It will be remembered for the many eminent Americans who have passed away from their various departments of labor; for the remarkable prosperity which has accompanied business interests, and the equally remarkable development of the national resources; for the unprecedented progress of the arts, education and religion, and the splendid benefactions which have made that progress possible.

Legislative.

The legislative history of the country is not so copious as it has been in some other years. Congress reassembled January 5 and adjourned August 5. Within that period of seven months the notable events in congress were the refusal of the house to pass the senate joint resolution to send a national vessel with supplies to Russia; the ratification of the Brussels anti-slavery treaty; the passage of the pure food and post office building bills by the senate; the issue of the president's proclamation reimposing duties upon Venezuela, Hayti and the United States of Colombia for refusing reciprocity; the defeat of the free coinage bill; the passage by the house of the Chinese restriction, free wool and free cotton-bagging bills, and the signing of the first named by the president, notwithstanding China's protest; the passage by the senate of the bill for American registry for foreign-built ships and by the house of the huge fifty-million river and harbor bill; the passage in the house of the bill admitting Arizona and New Mexico; the passage of Stewart's substitute silver bill in the senate and the refusal of the house to take it up; and the passage by the senate of the Canadian retaliation bill.

In the present session of congress no legislation has been matured, the disposition being to consign everything of importance to the next congress.

Foreign Relations.

In our relations with foreign powers several matters of special interest have been adjusted. Early in the year Italy took steps to resume its relations with this country. A modus vivendi was agreed upon, the United States paid a small indemnity, and Baron Fava returned to his post. January 3 Chili expressed regrets for the assault upon American sailors, which were not altogether satisfactory. After much correspondence and an unavailing attempt on the part of Chili to secure Minister Egan's recall an ultimatum was sent demanding the withdrawal of the insolent Matta letter and complete reparation. This ultimatum finally was accepted by Chili. Ample apology has been received at the treasury. The Behring sea difficulty is on the road to final adjustment. The treaty was signed by Great Britain February 29 and was ratified by the senate March 29, after somewhat voluminous correspondence touching the preservation of the modus vivendi of the previous season. The agreement subsequently was effected. Justice Harlan and Senator Morgan will represent this country as arbitrators, Judge Blodgett, of Illinois, E. J. Phelps, of Vermont, and James C. Carter, of New York, as counsel, and John W. Foster as agent. Lord Hannen and Sir John Thompson will be the English arbitrators, and Baron de Courcelles is one of the French arbitrators.

World's Fair.

World's fair matters have played an important part in the congressional record, beginning with the visit to Chicago of members in February last. Two days after the visit the president sent a message to congress recommending the fair appropriation. No important action, however, was taken until July 13, when the senate attached non-liquor and Sunday-closing provisions to the bill. July 27 the house concurred in the five million appropriation, but its enemies, by filibustering on the motion to reconsider the vote, succeeding in cutting the bill in two and reducing it to $2,500,000 and thus it passed both houses, and the money is now being accumulated by the sale of the souvenir half dollars. Meanwhile the preliminary Columbian celebrations began in New York city October 12 and were followed up in Chicago by the grand dedication pageant, October 19-21, though the public rejoicing was clouded by the illness of the president's wife, which had a fatal result four days later.

Political Appointments.

The political appointments of the year have been: January 7, William R. Morrison, James W. McMillan and William M. Lindsey, interstate commerce commissioners; William D. McCoy, minister to Liberia, and William E. Hess, consul general to Constantinople; January 16, Lindsey declined the appointment; April 28, T. Jefferson Coolidge, minister to Paris, vice Whitehall Reid, resigned; May 9, Charles E. Smith, minister to Russia, resigned; June 4, Secretary Blaine resigned, and William F. Wharton was designated as acting secretary; June 20, John W. Foster was appointed secretary; July 1, George D. Johnston, civil service commissioner; July 19, George Shiras, Sr., supreme court; July 21, Andrew D. White, minister to Russia; A. L. Snowden, minister to Spain; Truxton Beale, minister to Greece; July 26, A. B. Hepburn, comptroller of the currency, vice Lacey, resigned; July 27, Watson R. Sperry, minister to Persia; August 7, H. W. Cannon, Senator Jones, F. A. Walker, Senator Allison and Joseph B. McCreary, delegates to the international monetary conference, Mr. Walker subsequently resigning and President Andrews taking his place; November 15, William Potter, minister to Italy; December 12, Person P. Cheney, minister to Switzerland, and James W. McMillan reappointed interstate commerce commissioner; and December 22, Frederick J. Grant, minister to Bolivia.

National Politics.

The presidential campaign has been the exciting political event of the year. The republican convention, June 10, nominated Benjamin Harrison for president on the first ballot and Whitehall Reid for vice president by acclamation. June 23 Grover Cleveland was nominated for president and Adlai E. Stevenson for vice president by the democratic convention. June 30 the prohibitionists nominated John Bidwell for president and J. B. Cranfill for vice president. July 4 the people's party nominated James B. Weaver for president and James G. Field for vice president. August 26 the socialist labor convention nominated Simon Wing for president and Charles H. Matchett for vice president. The lists were completed September 22 by the farcical woman suffrage convention, which nominated Mrs. Victoria Woodhull-Martin for president and Mrs. Mary L. Stowe for vice president. It is needless to state the nature of the platforms upon which the various candidates stood. The issue was joined November 8 and Cleveland and Stevenson were elected. As closely as can now be figured the popular vote for Cleveland was 5,617,012; Harrison, 5,184,261; Weaver, 1,001,381; Bidwell, 268,917; Wing, 16,429, in a total of 12,087,020 votes. The electoral vote probably will stand as follows, assuming, as now seems likely, that the vote of North Dakota will be divided evenly between Cleveland, Harrison, and Weaver: Cleveland, 273; Harrison, 145; Weaver, 23. The democratic majority in the house has been reduced considerably, but it is probable that by union with the populists the democrats will have a majority in the senate also.

Miscellaneous Events.

Other important events of the year have been the blow dealt at the New Orleans lottery by the decision of the supreme court affirming the constitutionality of the law excluding it from the mails; the failure of the Canadian reciprocity commission at Washington; the three great strikes—July 9, that of the employes of the Carnegie works at Homestead, accompanied by fatal rioting and the attempted assassination of Manager Frick, and in August, the coal miners' strike in Tennessee and the switchmen's strike at Buffalo—all of which have ended in the discontinuance of the workmen and great loss of time and wages; the arrival of cholera steamers at the New York quarantine from Hamburg and the intervention of the federal government to protect the country from the pestilence, entailing the probability that measures will be taken by congress for restricting immigration and strengthening quarantine next year; and, lastly, the alarming illness of Mr. Blaine, which, however, in the closing days of the year took a more favorable turn, giving the shadow of hope that his life may yet be prolonged for some time to come.

Our Southern Neighbors.

On this continent Central and South America have had their customary share of revolutions. Honduras and Costa Rica have both been the scene of sanguinary encounters, ending in the defeat of the rebels, and at present there is a boundary quarrel between Costa Rica and Nicaragua. The Chilianians at last have secured an apparently stable form of government. A revolution against the government of Venezuela broke out in March which has been successful. Palacio was forced to resign and is now a fugitive in France, and Gen. Crespo, the leader of the insurgents, has been declared president. In Brazil, in January, President Peixotto was given unlimited power by the legislature, but some of the states are still in rebellion. Our neighbor, Mexico, has elected Diaz president for four years, and he is now dealing with a small rebellion in the northern part of the republic precipitated by the Garza revolutionists. In Canada the most cheering event is the growth of annexation feeling.

Big Failure at Peoria.

PEORIA, Ill., Jan. 2.—The firm of Kirkwood, Miller & Co., wholesale dealers in agricultural implements, carriages, bicycles, etc., made an assignment Saturday to I. C. Edwards, a local attorney. The schedule filed with the county recorder shows indebtedness of about $200,000, with assets estimated at $150,000.

Four Lives Lost.

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 2.—Particulars have been received of the wreck of a snow plow on the line of the Great Northern and the loss of four lives. The disaster occurred near Java station, 60 miles east of Kalispell, Mont. It seems the snow plow was standing on the track and was struck by an avalanche which came down the mountain.

The newly elected Michigan state officers were sworn in Saturday and assumed their positions at midnight.

Sec. Board of Health.
The Grand Rapids Herald this (Wednesday) morning prints a great story of the so-called "injurians" James C. Richmond, of this place, with a patent rights confidence man, in which Mr. Richmond is out $1,000.

There have been rumors of such a deal floating around here, but until Mr. Richmond reveals it is hardly safe to assume that he has been swindled.
Lost Wednesday afternoon Charles McCarty's collar was stolen. They were hitched to the two seat combination cutter and the tongue broke. They ran from near the central school building to the Lowell Cutter Co's shops, where the sleigh collided with their dry wash, throwing the lead out of the cutter.

Seniority injures. Borthe McCarty. The sleigh contained Will McCarty, Misses Bertha and Bessie McCarty and Miss Davis, a guest. Miss Bertha's collar bone was broken and she received severe internal injuries all the others escaped with a severe shaking of the nerves.
Little Charlie Eddy, son of County Clerk F. D. Eddy, while investigating the workings of his father's revolver, last Friday, accidentally shot himself, the bill entering just above the right eye and coming out a couple of inches higher up, just grazing the skull. A sensation of a quarter of an inch was felt when the ball crashing into his brain. It is feared that he will lose the sight of his eye, but it is so badly power-burned and swollen now that it is impossible to tell whether it can be saved or not.

When Mrs. Eddy rushed into the room on hearing the report, he stood in a chair with the smoking revolver in his hand and the blood running down his face and with the self possession which seems to be an Eddy birthright, he said, "Mama, I guess I shot me." The wound was not dangerous and only serious in the possible loss of the eye.
"Do you know what a gaudy, ungrateful mouskab? No! Well we'll tell you. It is a property owner in a lively growing community who is so stingy that he wouldn't contribute a nickel to save his native town from a pestilence, or to improve it. A man of that sort who is always ready to snub the substance out of the community, but never give back anything. They will offer no objections to all the advertising that can be done for their localities which indirectly benefits them, but not a dollar goes for the good of their community. They kick against every improvement that tends to build up and preserve, and never hesitate when it is to their interest to do so to use these arguments for the sale of their properties. It is all self, self, self. It makes their own lives miserable and the lives of others financially. — Ex.

The Detroit Journal has sent us a copy of their incomparable Christmas Number, together with the Art Supplement. We believe we do not exaggerate when we say it is the handsomest number put out this year, not excepting the London and Paris Christmas numbers, which from a literary point of view certainly none excel. We might name such eminent authors as Julian Hawthorne, George Parsons Lathrop, John Hubbard and others who have contributed to this excellent number. It may not be out of place to say that we are not at all surprised in the excellence of the number, as the Journal has a well-defined policy of always doing the best. It is indeed a marvel, the strides the Journal has been making under the management of every stroke made has been a selling one, until to-day it has the confidence of the people, is unexcelled as a newspaper and is enjoying the most remarkable growth of any Michigan newspaper. "If you see it in the Journal's box," and "What will the Journal do next?" have come to be significant phrases. The Journal certainly stands at the head as a clean, new paper and when it comes to enterprise it leads all others.

Twist Love and Honor.
The above is the name of a new piece presented by the Van Cortland company last evening, at the benefit performance of Miss Van Cortland. The piece is founded on hypnotic principles. The villain, in order to gain his point, secures the hand in marriage and control of the fortune of Ruth, uses as his accomplice a young friend who is possessed of mesmeric power. In this manner, and while under the influence, Ruth, who is already married to Robert Dalton, is made to do many things which cause her husband's anger and her dismissal from his house. The villain still pursues her and at every opportunity presses his suit, but in each instance is disdainfully rejected. The husband, in an hour of remorse, determines to seek his wife and bring her return. His determination is announced to the accomplice of the villain, who persuades him to give up the idea and place a barrier forever between him and his wife and child. In a moment of remorse and despair, Dalton determines to end his life and that of his child and in his attempt to drive a dagger deep into the heart of his little one, he is foiled by his wife, who has returned unknown to him, to take a look at her child, and who for fear of discovery had taken refuge behind the out of the field. The piece ends with the discovery of the villain's plan of operation and upon confession of the mesmerist and upon confession of the mesmerist and upon confession of the mesmerist.

The lines of Robert Dalton in the second act are sublime and in the hands of Mr. Day they were brought out to their full meaning. In the character of a wronged but loving husband Mr. Day gave an eloquent portrayal of the author's ideas and won himself into the hearts of the audience. The beautiful scene of a quarter of an inch was felt when the ball crashing into his brain. It is feared that he will lose the sight of his eye, but it is so badly power-burned and swollen now that it is impossible to tell whether it can be saved or not.

When Mrs. Eddy rushed into the room on hearing the report, he stood in a chair with the smoking revolver in his hand and the blood running down his face and with the self possession which seems to be an Eddy birthright, he said, "Mama, I guess I shot me." Rescued from Death
All Said She Could Not Live a Month
Now Alive and Well—Thanks to Hood's Sarsaparilla.
"I must praise Hood's Sarsaparilla, for it is wonderful medicine. I suffered 10 years with Rheumatism and Dyspepsia, and feeling as if I were going to die. I had almost lost all hope, but I read in the paper that Hood's Sarsaparilla was a cure for such cases. I bought a bottle and took it. I weighed less than 100 lbs. and was a picture of misery. Every one who saw me thought I could not live another month. But I began to improve at once after beginning with Hood's Sarsaparilla. I felt better and better. I gained weight and strength. I feel perfectly cured. I will stop with it, and I will recommend it to all who are afflicted with such cases. I weighed less than 100 lbs. and was a picture of misery.
