STATE OF TRADE.

Business is Irregular and the Improvement Slow.

The Heavy Load Commerce Has to Drag in Climbing Up Again—Not Much Speculation—Business Failures and Bank Statistics.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: "Business is gaining, but it is a constant complaint that the improvement is slow. This is because very few realize how heavy a load business has to drag after it in climbing up again. Legislative uncertainties weigh heavily, but other loads many overlook. The past depression, with trading and manufacturing failures involving more than $25,000,000 in nine months, besides banking failures of enormous liabilities and failures of railway and other firms, involve continual embarrassments which men are prone to forget. There has been great encouragement during the last week in the fact that November payments are far more satisfactory than was feared, and yet the extensions of the month would have seemed alarming in other years. Merchants who collect part of the amount due are rejoiced, but their buying power is not as large as usual. The extraordinary shrinkage in purchases for consumption, if lessening, has still made it impossible for many firms to go on as before, and the largest failure of the last week, that of the Thurber-Whyland company, illustrates embarrassments which cannot be terminated in a week or a month. Monetary difficulties no longer hinder. It is true the treasury cash has fallen to $97,888,000, of which $85,490,891 was in gold, but there is no such alarm as there was when the gold reserve went below $100,000,000. Business is not leaning on the treasury and it is well that it is not. It has not been much of a week for speculation, and that, perhaps, is encouraging. Stocks have slightly declined—railroads an average of 25 cents per share and trusts $1.25 per share, the granagers and some of the trusts being especially weak.

"In produce markets weakness was the rule, and yet the yielding was but small. Wheat is quoted a full cent weaker. Corn is one cent lower, with larger receipts. Cotton, with large receipts, is an eighth lower. Pork products are lower, with large selling, and coffee is also lower.

"The condition of industries improves, but they wisely wait the revival of purchases by customers. Twenty-four works of all kinds have wholly or in part resumed against fourteen closing, yet less than half the iron working power is active, and out of ninety-nine woolen works at the east only ten are working full time, while forty-five were shut November 1.

"The failures for the week have been 324 in the United States, against 235 last year, and 26 in Canada, against 35 last year.

Bradstreet's says:
"General trade has been irregular without actual increase in volume. At the south improvement in demand is noted in leading Tennessee and Texas cities. Heavy sale of southern pig iron and the breaking of the drought in the southwest are features. Atlantic seaboard and gulf state cities, with exceptions, report trade very quiet, funds scarce at interior towns and country down. Improved collections in Georgia without special notice. The cold wave has stimulated demand for seasonal goods at Cincinnati, Louisville, Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha and Duluth, where unseasonable mild weather has caused depression. Country merchants at the west are buying much less than a year ago, and fewer holiday novelties are being sold. Demand for nails is being checked because of the cut from 125 to 121 in price and the outlook for further reduction. At eastern cities there is a more hopeful feeling, but no improvement in demand, except within a day or two, for clothing, woollens and shoes.

"Out of 597 bank suspensions within ten months 23 per cent were national, 37 per cent state and 40 per cent private banks. Out of $69,042,000 liabilities of all suspended banks national banks had 49 per cent, state 22 and private 12 per cent. Only 30 per cent of all suspended banks resumed by November 1, 50 per cent of suspended national banks have reopened, 26 per cent of the state and 17 per cent of the private banks.

Complications with Russia.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Serious questions of international law have arisen in the case of the Russian convicts under arrest at San Francisco and Secretary Carlisle has turned over the entire matter to the state department. Seven telegraphic communications have passed between the Russian minister, Prince Cantacuzen, and his home office, which have been transmitted to Secretary Gresham. It will be recalled that these convicts were landed at San Francisco, having been picked up at sea.

RUIN AND DEATH.

Fatal Results of a Terrible Storm in Great Britain.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Stories of wreck and disaster are pouring in from all parts of the coast where the wires remain standing. It is only with the greatest difficulty that communication is maintained with the American cable stations. On the Irish and Welsh coast the storm is becoming worse and it seems probable that connection between America and Europe will soon be lost entirely.

More than 300 persons were drowned between noon Saturday and noon Sunday at Calais and in the immediate neighborhood. Fifty bodies have been recovered. Off Winterton, county of Norfolk, a schooner foundered shortly before noon and five of the crew were drowned. The parties in the conference claim that they will thus control 700,000 workmen in one organization.

He was gone only a few minutes, but when he came back the little iron box and contents had disappeared.

LUMBER BURNED.

Heavy Loss by a Fire in the North Woods of Lower Michigan.

BIG RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 21.—A furious fire, one that in loss of property has seldom had its parallel in the North woods, broke out at Keno, Newaygo county, on Saturday night, and was not extinguished until $300,000 worth of lumber, the property of William Peters, of Toledo, had been destroyed. There was only $47,000 of insurance. The fire is thought to have been of incendiary origin.

Taking Down the Big Wheel.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Work on the taking apart of the Ferris wheel began Friday. The work will go on as rapidly as possible. So far no decision has been reached as to the disposition of the famous wheel. ELECTION ECHOES.

Official Returns from the Recent Ballot-Box Contest.

The Plurality for McKinley in Ohio is Over 81,000—In Iowa Jackson Has a Large Plurality—The Utah Legislature.

RESULT IN OHIO.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 18.—The republican state executive committee have received the official vote from all the counties in the state, and out of these fifty-four have been compared with and verified by the returns received at the secretary of state's office. It is barely possible that the final count may alter very slightly the figures given below, which are practically official, and the vote on governor stands: McKinley, 433,336; Neal, 552,329; Macklin, 19,886; Bracken, 14,259. These figures give Gov. McKinley a plurality of 81,007 in a total vote of 813,510. The full vote is not official on the prohibition and populist candidates, there being ten counties of the latter and nine of the former estimated, and there may be slight changes on their totals. In the missing prohibition counties their vote last year was 3,176 and the populists' 2,108. This indicates a decrease of 11 per cent in the prohibition vote of the state and a total vote of 22,230 for that party. The populist vote, estimating the missing counties as last year, will be 15,991. Only one county in the state (Pike) made a democratic gain.

The Vote in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 18.—The complete election returns now received show Jackson (rep.), received 207,159; Boies (dem.), 174,793; Josephs (pop.), 23,511, and Mitchell (pro.), 10,107. The house will stand: Republican, 79 to 21; and the senate republican 34 to 16.

The Utah Legislature.

SALT LAKE CITY, U. T., Nov. 18.—The official returns from the recent election show that the legislature is republican on joint ballot by six votes.

Thus two Northwestern trains on Saturday killed five people inside of 12 miles in eight hours within the limits of Boone county.

QUIT WORK.

Employees of Every Branch of the Lehigh Valley Service Strike.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 20.—All the employes of the Lehigh Valley railway went out on a strike at 10:45 o'clock Saturday night. The railroad officials have notified the sheriff to be in readiness, as they may need his assistance. The officials say they can get all the men they want and can fill the places of the strikers in a few hours. The strike involves more than 95 per cent of the employes, including engineers, firemen, trainmen and telegraph operators.

The immediate cause of the strike is the company's refusal to recognize any committee or body of men as the representative of the employes of the road. After repeated attempts made by the grand officers of the several railway organizations to gain audiences with the officials of the road, and after a subcommittee from the general committee sitting at the Binham house in this city composed of bona fide employes of the road has failed to secure recognition in this city, First Vice President Voorhees, a further consultation was held among the grand officers of the organized train workers, and the order to quit work was telegraphed to all the employes along the line of the road. The result was a general strike was declared.

GROWING LARGER.

The Deficit in the Government Treasury Daily Increases.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The treasury's available cash balance was still further depleted Thursday to the extent of $700,000. The loss was, however, entirely in the currency balance, which was reduced over $1,000,000. The net gold reserve increased $500,000 Thursday. The net balance stands at $97,883,595, of which $85,490,891 is the gold reserve. The receipts of the government for this month are not as heavy as was hoped, and the deficit in the government's account shows already a loss of nearly $5,000,000. The receipts have been $14,540,000 and the expenditures $19,365,000. This makes the total deficit so far this fiscal year $29,000,000, the proportional loss this month being much greater than for the preceding four months.

GUATEMALA REFORMS.

Proclamation Relieving the Laboring Classes from Slavery.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—President Barrios, of Guatemala, has published a decree which is, in fact, a proclamation of emancipation of the laboring classes from slavery. It has been the custom of the government, through its military agents, to take forcible possession of the persons of the lower classes at any and all times, sending them to work where they pleased. It often happened that the voluntary laborers of a small planter would be taken away and sent to a more powerful rival. Henry C. Stuart, consul general at Guatemala, reports that the president's decree is to go into effect March 15, 1894.

The only crime of which he is charged, so far as can be learned, is that he did not favor the revolutionists.

Tortured by Robbers.

MOLINE, Ill., Nov. 20.—The house of Stephen Woodburn, an old and wealthy farmer living near Hillsdale, Ill., was entered by burglars. He refused to tell where his money was hidden and the robbers bound and gagged him, saturated his clothing with kerosene and set it on fire. He then weakened and directed them to the spot where he had $400 concealed. The robbers put out the flames and took the money.

Mineral Range Train Robbers to Work for the State.

As a Result of Their Pleas of Guilty the Hogan Brothers Are Sentenced to Five Years Each at Reformatory.

THEY PLEADED GUILTY.

HOGAN, Nov. 18.—When the jury in the case of the Hogan brothers, charged with complicity in the Mineral Range train robbery, was secured Wednesday morning the Hogan attorney announced that the brothers would change their plea from "not guilty" to "guilty."

The judge did not pass immediate sentence as in Butler's case, saying he wanted a couple of days further to look into the case. Dominick Hogan's plea of guilty was a surprise, as it was thought that he was innocent. He was the express messenger. On Friday the judge sentenced both Edward and Dominick Hogan to five years hard work at Marquette. When sentenced, Dominick used most profane language.

HANCOCK, Nov. 18.—At the advice of his attorney, Jack King, accused of train robbery, withdrew his plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty and was sentenced to five years at hard labor at Marquette. In view of the fact that his three accomplices had done the same thing he believed the correct course for him to pursue.

Thanksgiving will be one week from to-morrow and how are you going to give thanks? Are you going to help the poor and needy ones, so that they may give thanks that kind and tender hearts and loving kindness, still linger in this big world of ours, or are you only giving thanks for your own individual comforts and pleasures of the past year? Surely it was meant for us to give thanks for them but also for health, strength and the means to do good to others. Did you ever realize what a kind word or pleasant smile was to a tired heart? May 1894 give you more and greater blessings than 1893.

The chap who wrote the following was evidently a member of some city board and knows his it himself. "It is the city council does anything that does not exactly suit you—deuced 'em. They get no salary for time devoted to looking after the affairs of the village from year to year and do what seems best for everybody; but that don't matter. They are elected for the express purpose of pleasing all factions and persons at the same time, and if they don't do it, cuss 'em. They expect it, and will be disappointed if you don't."—Ez.

All On Account of the Change.
G. Cleveland he says to us: "Don't you be troubled.
A vote for our platform means your wages are doubled."
And of the poor wretches he gushed, and he bubbled.
Before we did vote for a change, Oh dear! What can the matter be? Dear, dear, what can the matter be? Oh dear! What can the matter be? Since we put in a vote for a change, The wheels in the factories were all right turning.
The fires in the furnaces were all briskly burning.
And business men happy No trouble discerning.
Before we went in for a change, Oh dear! etc.
The farmer would surely sell his wheat for a dollar.
If only for Cleveland, he'd vote and he'd 'oller."

PROTECTION'S CHAMPION.
A Brief Biography of Governor William McKinley.
William McKinley of Canton, O., was born at Niles, O., Feb. 28, 1843, and is now therefore in his fifth year. He enlisted in the United States army in May, 1861, as a private soldier in the Twenty-third Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and was promoted to a captain of the same regiment and brevet major in September, 1865. He was prosecuting attorney of Stark county, O., from 1869 to 1871. He was elected to the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth congresses, receiving the certificate to the latter, but late in the first session the seat was given by the house to his opponent. He was elected to the Forty-ninth and re-elected to the Fiftieth congress as a Republican, receiving 18,778 votes against 16,317 votes for Thayer, the Democratic candidate. He was first elected governor of Ohio in November, 1891, by a majority of 21,811 votes over Campbell, the Democratic candidate, assuming that office on Jan. 8, 1892, his term expiring on Jan. 8, 1894. His reelection on Nov. 7 continues Hon. William McKinley as governor of the Buckeye State until Jan. 8, 1896. The overwhelming majority by which he defeated the free trade candidate, Larry Neal, is a firm proof from the people of Ohio against the carrying out of the Democratic free trade plank of the Chicago platform. Ohio will have protection. What is good for Ohio is equally good for other states.

"How long have you known this?" asked Mr. Estance in open astonishment. "Since you told me your tale," "I cannot comprehend."

"Possibly not. I have been studying, searching, driving, dreaming and working to establish you as a murderer. I have only just comprehended it."

"Then these bonds which Dorison intended for this woman, should, if her identity is established, go to her?" "That is impossible."

"Why, indeed?" "She is dead; so is her daughter."

"Have you forgotten the Farish murder?" "Great heavens! Are these the poor wretches who were the victims of that horrible butchery?"

"The time, now see how marvellous the affairs of this life are arranged. I am employed by the younger Dorison to endeavor to explain the middle of that letter, which has covered him with disgrace. These murders are committed, and I am solicited by the authorities to endeavor to explain the middle of that letter, which has covered him with disgrace."

"No, I have not difficulty in finding this. He moves about a good deal. His apartments are in Twenty-ninth street. 'What number?' asked Cathart, with an interested expression in his face."

In compliance with the old detective's request, Dorison appeared in the evening. A single glance informed him that the old and faded man was the same. "I received a note from you in the early afternoon," said Dorison, "but all of it I could understand was that you desire, and so see me this evening. And here I am."

"You are not quick of comprehension. I meant your case is as plain as a pike-staff. You are to be a murderer, and especially when going to bed."

"Dorison stared in astonishment at the detective, his anger rising at the same time. However, he said he had his own heart condemned his father for the charge which for eight years had embittered his life, he was not willing to give the least reflection upon him."

"But Cathart was not a man to regard the emotions of others, and though, doubtless, he quickly enough perceived the anger the young man, without practice, apology or effort to soften the news he had given him, he went directly to the statement."

"Very soon Dorison's anger was lost in the amazement the story gave rise to, and when he learned that all this had been obtained from Mr. Estance, he could not deny that it was conclusive."

"How could you do that?" asked Cathart, coming back to the fireplace. "Some time ago my daughter was nearly run over on Broadway, and was saved by a young gentleman, who acted exceedingly well in the matter. I called upon him to make my acknowledgments of his service, and was startled by his extraordinary resemblance to Dorison."

"What number?" asked Cathart, with an interested expression in his face. "I have forgotten, but I will send it to you after obtaining it from my son."

"That is unnecessary. What streets is it between?" "Twenty and Fifth avenues."

OUR YOUNG FOLKS
A Fairy Story. Hans lived among the mountains in Norway. One day he lay on a sunny bank watching the flowy clouds, and messengers of thought, as they sped across the blue ether, and he saw them take on many strange shapes. Now a monstrous troll, as the mountain giants are called in Norseland, would stand out in bold relief, and again curious beasts and birds would present themselves to his eager eye.

All at once he was afloat in folklore land, where he had to meet face to face beings of whom he had heard so much. He was bound to visit the castle of the Mountain King, the mightiest of trolls. The air was full of music, and he heard the birds singing about this king and his treasure.

Hans now heard a whizzing in the air, and there appeared before him the biggest bird he had ever seen in his life. It plunged down beside him, it almost seemed as though a huge load of hay had been dumped on the ground.
