THE FIRST GUN.

Ballington Booth Inaugurates His New Movement.

An Immense Meeting at Cooper Union in New York—The Booth Makes a Statement of His Intentions.

New York, March 9.—Mr. and Mrs. Ballington Booth addressed an immense audience at Cooper Union Sunday night. It was one of the largest gatherings ever held in the historic building. A few minutes after the doors were opened there was not an unoccupied seat in the hall and it is estimated that 5,000 men, women and children were turned away.

BALLINGTON BOOTH.

During this time Mr. Booth stood with bowed head, while Mrs. Booth knelt in prayer. Some one shouted: "Three cheers for our American commander!" The cheers were given, and for another interval of ten minutes the crowd went fairly wild with enthusiasm.

"Mrs. Booth and myself have not come to this gathering for the purpose of alluding to the recent sad events in our experience. It is true that after deliberating, we have decided to inaugurate a new movement. Could it have been avoided, it would not have been thought of. Mrs. Booth and I received assurances from the people of the United States, fighting on behalf of Jesus Christ, that we had done a work for which they were grateful and would not quietly submit that we should retire to private life and relinquish a field which is the largest of any on the globe; where there is not only work for one Salvation Army but for a hundred. We have resolved to the best of our ability to do something to bring over the middle or ardent classes to God. We do not intend to enter into any battle or strife with the Salvation Army. We want no fight, neither ritual nor verbal. We want to have a mission to reach the masses. We have received that the consecration we shall make shall be lasting."

Booth's New Movement.

New York, March 10.—The new religious movement on similar lines to the Salvation Army to be led by Ballington Booth and his wife may now be said to be fairly started. Ballington Booth appeared at his new headquarters in the Bible house Monday and at once began to get the work of organization under way. A name for the new movement has not yet been decided upon and it may be several days before that is settled.

JUDGE KENDRICK HOLDS ON.

No General Election Occurs This Spring in Michigan.

Lansing, March 6.—The supreme court has filed an opinion of great importance to the electors of Michigan, in a case where the county clerk of Saginaw county sought to mandamus the secretary of state to compel him to order the election of a circuit judge in the Saginaw circuit to fill a vacancy. This is a year in which there are no state officers elected in the spring election, and some of the cities hold their charter elections at different dates. The court holds that this cannot be considered a general election, at which time only such vacancies can be filled, as all the people of the state do not participate. Judge Kendrick, the appointee of Gov. Rich, will, therefore, serve in the Saginaw circuit until his successor is elected at the fall election.

MUSTERED OUT.

Soldiers at Marquette Pay the Penalty of Poor Discipline.

Lansing, March 7.—Company G, Fifth infantry, located at Marquette, has been mustered out of the military service of the state, and Capt. J. E. Ball has been directed to ship all stores in his possession to Quartermaster General Kidd at once. The muster-out order is the result of an inspection made February 19 by Inspector General Walsh, who recommended the disbandment of the company because of a "want of care of state property, total disregard for orders governing the drills and meetings of the company, internal dissensions, lack of all discipline, and a total ignoring of the recommendations and orders of the inspector general made at a former inspection."

The sale ordered is subject to the first mortgage bonds, amounting to $6,157,645, and liens on the company's equipment, aggregating $350,554 more. The third mortgage bonds, on which little or nothing will now be realized, amount to $3,996,000.

Three hours later he died. Wilkinson is under arrest. He says that Downing was not pushed down the steps, but fell.

A FOREIGN LANGUAGE.

An Experience Which Cost a Hotel Clerk the Price of the Drinks.

Mr. Dejew has a large collection of southern stories, of which the following is his favorite: "I went to a hotel in Georgia and said to the clerk: 'Where shall I autograph?' 'Autograph?' gasped the clerk. 'Yes; sign my name, you know.' 'Oh, right here.' 'I signed my name in the register. In a little while in came some Georgia 'crackers.' One of them advanced to the clerk. 'Will you autograph?' asked the clerk, with a smile. 'Sart'nly, mine's rye,' said the Georgian, beaming. 'What's yours, fellows?' turning to the other 'crackers.' 'The clerk treated with good grace. Then he leaned back and glared at me. I felt sorry for him, and was somewhat conscience-stricken. 'Too bad,' I said, 'this is what comes from speaking a foreign language in one's own country.'"—N. Y. World.

Scrofula

In a deep-seated blood disease which all the mineral mixtures in the world have failed to cure, Scrofula is a real blood remedy for blood diseases and has no equal. Mrs. V. T. Clark, of Delaware, had Scrofula for twenty-five years, and most of the time was under the care of the best physicians of her time. A specialist said he could cure her, but he filled her with mercury, which almost ruined her constitution. She then took a course of Scrofula, and every so-called blood medicine and drank from the bottle, but they did not reach her trouble. Some other doctors tried the S.S.S., and she very soon found that she had a real blood remedy at last. After taking only a dozen bottles of S.S.S., I am perfectly well, my skin is clear and healthy and I would be in my former condition from two thousand dollars. Instead of drying the poison in my system, like arsenic, arsenic, S.S.S. drives the disease out through the skin, and I was permanently cured. Write for a free book.

A Real Blood Remedy.

S.S.S. never fails to cure Scrofula, Eczema, Rheumatism, Contagious Blood Poison, or any disorder of the blood. Do not try any other medicine, but take a deep-seated blood disease, but take a free-upton application. Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Scrofula

Compositions of Blood. All acts of living creatures become bad by ten things, and by avoiding the ten things they become good. There are three sins in the body, the sin of the tongue, and three sins of the mind. The sin of the body are murder, theft, and adultery; of the tongue, lying, slander, and gossip; and of the mind, pride, hatred and error. Therefore I give you these commandments:

- First.—Kill not, but have regard for life.
- Second.—Steal not, neither do ye rob, but help every body to be master of the fruits of his labor.
- Third.—Abstain from impurity and lead a life of chastity.
- Fourth.—Lie not, but be truthful. Speak the truth with discretion, fearlessly and in a loving manner.
- Fifth.—Invent not evil reports, neither look for good sides of your fellow being, so that you may with sinless eyes defend them against their enemies.
- Sixth.—Swear not, but speak decently and with dignity.
- Seventh.—Be not to the time with gossip, but speak to the purpose or keep silent.
- Eighth.—Covet not nor envy, but rejoice at the fortunes of other men.
- Ninth.—Cleanse your heart of malice and cherish no hatred, not even against your enemies, but embrace all living beings with kindness.
- Tenth.—Free your mind of ignorance and be anxious to learn the truth, especially in the one thing that is needed, lest you fall a prey either to the devil, to error, or to the scepticism which make you indifferent, and errors will lead you astray, so that you will not find the noblest and most sublime of all things.

MINES UNDER THE OCEAN.

Staten Island (comes Who Dig the Deep Sea). Pathos below the surface. There is a striking example of man's boldness in searching for wealth and his skill in securing it at Betalock, near Cape Corwall, Alaska. "Ribbles" descend fathoms beneath the sea and again with copper or tin ores, which are wheeled away to larger hoes, where women, boys and girls separate various qualities with the systematic industry of workers in a factory. Everybody and everything—rocks, platforms and paths—are impregnated with the prevailing red dust from a slight mixture of iron with copper or tin ores, and then they are washed in a muddy stream flowing from the stamp mill to the sea has imparted to the beach the luster and the same blue tinge which is found in the same tubercle tissue. It is good quality everywhere is pleased, and far down to the gloomy depths of the mine, which Cornish legends people with spirits, the news that a new "bunch" of copper has been struck, or the old jobs are growing richer, fills the workers with professional joy.

As the visitor creeps along the passages into which the light of day has never penetrated, he is completely dazzled by the darkness, barely illuminated by the flicker of lamps, he dimly distinguishes the gleam of machinery and the din of heavy stamps and machinery above and the surge of the sea below, the rattling of wagons on tramways, and the crowds of men and boys climbing up and down paths which seem to be too steep for a goat, the modified silence of the level strata on a mountain.

In places, however, the guide may take the visitor to listen to a curious sound. It is the booming of the waves breaking on the rocks of the strata on the sea bottom. Then he is told, to give him courage, that in some of the recesses of the first level the ore has been cut in a roof of not more than six feet thick has been left. First worked on the face of the cliffs only, the mine descended, level by level, until the ceiling was composed of more than six fathoms island, while the greatest depth to which it has been sunk is about 2,000 feet.—San Francisco Chronicle.

MUNYON

CONVINCING STATEMENTS IN FAVOR OF HIS IMPROVED HOMEOPATHIC REMEDIES.
DRUGGISTS SAY: "WE HEAR NOTHING BUT GOOD REPORTS OF MUNYON'S CURES."

Rev. F. T. Ripley, 1820 Columbus avenue, Bay City, Michigan, writes: "I have always recommended your Remedies with a feeling of thankfulness for the wonderful cure they made my case. I was severely afflicted with Rheumatism for many years and could get no relief. I was often in very great pain and could not attend to my professional duties. Munyon's Rheumatism Cure was advised, and though I had no faith in it I tried the little bottles. To my great surprise in a week's time I was greatly relieved and at the end of a month I was completely cured. FARMER'S!

They have put a new department in the Journal wholly in the interest of the farmer. It is headed "Farmers Wants," and it is intended solely for farmers, to let their brother farmers know what they have for sale, or what they want to exchange for something else, or to let them have a special rate for these ads. Consult it a week for bargains and for terms of advertisements and if you have anything to sell, or exchange, or want to buy anything from a farmer, try this column. We think that being classified and set apart so it will be easily found and the convenience of this column as a means of exchange will be appreciated.

Having purchased the Banner Laundry of O. L. Sweeney, I would be glad to see all of our customers and guarantee to all others that I will keep the reputation of the Laundry gay, by doing only first class work. G. W. SEWERY, Manager.

TORQUATO TASSO.

Love Had Turned His Hair & Widely Celebrated Poet.

Tasso was beyond question the most great of poets. He was a man of letters. His epic had found an audience before it was finished, wherever the Italian language was studied or spoken. He had a special rate for these ads. Consult it a week for bargains and for terms of advertisements and if you have anything to sell, or exchange, or want to buy anything from a farmer, try this column. Artistic Attacks.

The immediate cause of the distress of an asthmatic struggling for breath is the constriction of the bronchial tubes, which prevents the exhalation of the air from the lungs without great effort. Temporary relief from an asthmatic attack may be obtained by inhaling some narcotic vapor, by means of any device, or by the use of a steam inhaler, and thus the spasms are allowed to cease. This, however, is objectionable, as it not infrequently gives rise to a drug habit. Before trying the remedy, it is best to obtain relief, if possible, by attacking the cause of the trouble. For instance, if it be accompanied by a full indigestion, the stomach tube will often relieve the most distressing paroxysm. If caused by a prolapsed stomach or a free liability, permanent relief may be obtained by restoring the organs to proper position. Hot and cold sponging of the spine and the application of an ice compress, or a rubber bag filled with broken ice, on the front part of the neck, are also means which have been found of value in this trouble.—N. Y. Ledger.

WATCHFUL HUMANE OFFICER. Makes Mistake Sometimes, But Through a Desire to Do His Full Duty. Humane Officer Randolph says he wants a statement made in justice to several parties, and the nature of the statement indicates that Mr. Randolph is a conscientious as well as a zealous official. Last fall a horse belonging to E. S. Moser, the liverman, was sold to a Grand Rapids citizen, who in turn sold it to J. H. Patten, of Michigan Creek. But some ill with symptoms of opening the old time meetings with the manner of the present day giving a break at the way our fathers went to the meetings in the little old log school houses, of the merry times at the dance, of how they greeted one another and of our many advantages of the present day was the base of our politics and in closing he heartily welcomed the people and hoped the reunion would always linger in their memories as one of the happiest of all.

HOW THE WOMEN GOT THEIR RIGHTS. Tradition Gives the Credit of Year-Long Struggle to St. Patrick. The words of Thomas a Kempis, "man proposes, God disposes," were not only true in the case of the year-long struggle for the right to the matrimonial propositions, but were also true in the case of the year-long struggle for the right to the matrimonial propositions. The year 1896 should be accepted by the hopeful maidens who are determined to "make good" while the sun is shining. They will not wait another such opportunity for eight years. Once each century, with certain exceptions, the leap year is omitted. This extra year was the device of Julius Caesar, who undertook to remedy an evil which had grown up through the practice of the Roman priests of lengthening or curtailing the calendar year at pleasure. But his proclamation that a day be added to February each fourth year was misunderstood, and each third year the increase was made, so that gradually there came to be a discrepancy between the calendar and the astronomical year, which was partially corrected by Augustus, who in 753 B.C. Gregory in 1572 endeavored to straighten out the calendar and brought things out right by annulling ten days in June.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE.

Some Hints Which the Wise Woman Will Do Well to Note.

There is little change to record in table linen, except that the pretty colored lunch cloths are no longer in vogue, and I am sorry. They were much more cheerful than the small square of linen in the center of a bare oak table now preferred. The colored cloths now serve as a cover when the table is not in use. There are very pretty ones, in delft blue and white; and another dainty pattern shown is on pale pink and silver.

If you wish pie-crust to be very nice, fold it, lay it on a plate, and stand in the refrigerator overnight. This will improve a good plain paste so that it is almost as flaky as a puff paste. In sealing a pie moisten the inside, but not on the edge, with a pastry-brush dipped in water or the white of an egg. Put the upper crust in place and press the two together with the thumb dipped in flour. Press together, but not on the exact edge, or the pastry will not rise.

When the ice chest smells queer and yet it is immaculately clean in every nook and cranny of the compartment, pour some boiling hot soda water down the escape pipe and look at the fearfully and wonderfully made rope of solid matter that is washed down by the soda water. The pipe ought to be thus flushed once a week to keep the refrigerator sweet. No servant does this of her own free will. Many mistresses don't, either. Pour in cold water afterward to cool off the box and wipe dry. Food keeps better in a dry, cold atmosphere than it can in a damp, cold one.

A great many women in this world who fancy themselves good cooks spoil every bit of food that they prepare, except, perhaps, hard-boiled eggs and baked potatoes. They are careless and indifferent. If a recipe calls for more than they happen to have they make it up with water; if they do not happen to have the herbs and seasonings for the turkey stuffing, they do not bother to go or send to the grocer's for them—just leave them out. They cut down the amount of butter that a recipe calls for because butter is expensive, and the result of these little economies and carelessnesses is that the food is flavorless, spiritless and wearisome to the palate. Really, they waste a good deal because the food, not being especially good, is not all eaten, and some must be thrown away. Generally, economy is excellent, but not economy of that kind.

When particular baking is receiving attention and several unfamiliar dishes are being manufactured, it is of special importance to have the oven in perfect condition, and as far as possible under the control of the cook. The best of stoves, says an experienced housewife, are tricky sometimes, and bear watching. Nearly each one has its pet peculiarity. A tendency to burn at the bottom, or a habit of scorching at the top, while the lower part remains raw and sodden. Familiarity will enable the cook to correct these difficulties. She will overcome the first fault by placing the grating of a pan under the baking dish, and the other by covering the cake or loaf with a pan or paper until the bottom is done. A plain piece of manilla paper laid over the top of a cake will insure thorough, even baking, when without this arrangement the top would become scorched long before the cake was baked through.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

There is one marked peculiarity about the American people, and that is when "a long felt want" becomes crystallized into a genuine necessity someone will produce something to supply the need. All our extra early varieties are clingsones of poor quality and have been repeatedly condemned by horticultural societies.

The "Triumph" Peach.

There is one marked peculiarity about the American people, and that is when "a long felt want" becomes crystallized into a genuine necessity someone will produce something to supply the need. One of the needs of the past has been a new hardy, yellow, free stone peach to take the place of our present inferior early varieties. All our extra early varieties are clingsones of poor quality and have been repeatedly condemned by horticultural societies.

Growers have been urged to shorten the peach season that much by excluding them altogether, as their low quality injured the market more than the profits in growing them.

Nurserymen have searched for a good, yellow, freestone peach to take their place, and this seems to have been found in the production of the Triumph. The evidence that it fills the bill in all particulars is abundant, and the standing of the growers who have fruited and tested it is such that it will have a great and well deserved boom. Its season is with the Alexander. It is much larger, of good texture, bright color, yellow flesh and in flavor strongly resembles the Crawford. It has been tested sufficient to prove its hardiness and general good qualities. Its keeping and shipping qualities, having been fully tested the past season, are conceded to be strictly number one.

The production of this peach, so much needed and so long sought for, is indeed a triumph. Its introduction marks a new era in peach culture. It will prove a market commander, a bonanza to growers.

THE "TRIUMPH" PEACH.

Fruit growers have, for many years, been looking for a good freestone market peach to take the place of the Alexander. The Triumph, originated by J. D. Husted, fully supplies their wants. It ripens with the Alexander; blooms late; has large flowers; a sure and abundant bearer, and the tree makes a very strong growth. Several trees (two-year old buds) produced this season over half a bushel of fruit each. The fruit is of large size, with a very small pit, and is indeed beautiful. Surface is yellow, nearly covered with red, and dark crimson in the sun. Flesh is bright yellow, free when fully ripe, and of excellent flavor.

The Triumph is truly a wonder in its class and marks an era in improved extra early varieties of peaches.

ON THE WRONG SIDE.

One Woman's Search for Her Ancestors Resulted in Disappointment.

She had been invited to be present at the reception of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and her heart glowed with patriotism as she beheld the American flags, shields, coats of arms and streamers with which the room was decorated. The speeches added to her exaltation, and she felt the blood of fighting sires running like fire through her veins.

The woman in the stunning chin-chilla cape and blue velvet gown, who really didn't "look as though she had ever had any ancestors," had discovered a friend in the dowdy woman in gray and the outsider heard her say: "Oh, yes; I belong. My children can trace their ancestry back through five lines to the Norman conquest."

A little gasp from the recipient of this information broke the awe-struck pause, and then, regaining her breath, the dowdy woman, with her nose top tilted, said: "They are fortunate indeed. We are proud of our two lineal tracings to the days of King Arthur; but only claim our ancestry back to the revolution, since we live in a republican country."

The spirit of envy devoured the woman who was not a "Daughter." The very next day she put into effect her resolution to find out the names of her revolutionary ancestors, for she was assured she must have had them. For three days she searched records, and the fourth day she searched again, and "ran them to earth." "James Brown who married Maria, daughter of Jonas and Ellen Smith," dated back to 1739 for the time of his marriage, and she sighed a great sigh of relief. But alas for ambition—she fought on the "wrong side!"—N. Y. Herald.

Be Wanted It Out.

An old highland sergeant in one of the Scottish regiments was going his rounds one night to see that all the lights were out in the barrack rooms. Coming to a room where he thought he saw a light shining he roared out: "Put out that light there!" "One of the men shouted back: "Nan, it's the mune, sergeant!" "Not hearing very well the sergeant cried in return: "I didn't care a tucket what it is! Put it out!"—Buffalo Commercial.

Taking Him to Task.

"Mr. Bickers," said that individual's wife, in an admonitory tone. "I hear that you are telling people that I do not make you happy."

"It's all a mistake, Maria," replied Mr. Bickers. "I don't talk of my domestic troubles to people."—Bay City.
