Showboat's Progress Requires involvement

"Things are progressing well, with only a few open spots," Chuck Lippert commented after he called the monthly meeting of the Lowell Showboat Board of Director and Managers to order last Wednesday evening in the Root Lowell office building.

Lippert chairmanned the meeting which brought out committee reports on tickets, talent night, parking, concession, entertainment, queen's contest, boat construction, endmen, chorus, advertising, etc.

Co-chairman Larry Wittenbach then introduced the new chorus director, Tom Hagen of Saranac, and Gordon Gould made the announcement that two new endmen would be part of the show this year. In auditions, Gerald Meredith of Lowell and Terry Buck of Saranac, won over three other candidates, which included one woman.

Complete community participation is being strived for, in hopes that Showboat can realize a bigger profit this year. The directors added that they would welcome any volunteer help they could get; especially needed is mature help in ushering each night at the show, people to work on boat decorations and help in the distribution of advertising brochures.

It was suggested by Mrs. Barbara Brown, and accepted by the Directors, that anyone who is planning a trip, or week end visit somewhere prior to Showboat, that they stop at the Lowell Area Chamber of Commerce office and pick up a batch of brochures, take them along with them, and pass them out along the #### Surprise!

Caught off guard by shouts of surprise, Mrs. Miner (Evelyn) Cook was lost for words last Thursday afternoon when the student body of Cascade School hosted a retirement party in her honor.

When the final session of the 1971-72 school year is held, the kids will be off to a summer of vacations, work and what-have-you. But for Mrs. Minor (Evelyn) Cook, it will be the end of a teaching career, that has seen a wide variety of students pass through the halls into her classroom, and out the doorway into the next grade.

Born in Sand Lake, Michigan, she moved to the Cascade area 37 years ago. In 1934, she married Minor Cook, and spent twenty years being a housewife and mother before she entered the teaching profession

She began her teachings in the Kent City Schools. She was there five years before she transferred into private teaching at the Lake Farm boy's school near Kalamazoo. She spent five years there.

Seventeen years ago, after bringing her degree upto-date through summer courses, she took over her new job at the Cascade School, where she has taught primarily in the fifth and sixth grades, until her retirement.

This Thursday, her husband will retire from his job—clerk of Cascade Township. Last week he was duly honored for his 50 years of dedicated service to the public.

Together, the Cooks plan on taking a few short trips this summer, doing some fishing, visit with their children, renew old acquaintances, and perhaps plan for a trip to Florida in the winter.

In recognition of her wonderful teaching, the students at Cascade presented Mrs. Cook with a silver tray. Several room mothers were on hand to help with the refreshments and the party presentation, which was planned by the children themselves.

As one mother put it, "all of my children had Mrs. Cook for a teacher...she's wonderful in every way... and she's going to be missed by the students next

Mullen, Siegle Win Election

In what was considered a relatively light vote, Dr. Richard D. Siegle was re-elected to serve his second four-year term on the Lowell Board of Education and Blanche Mullen, retiring high school art teacher, was named to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Dr. Donald Gerard.

Mrs. Mullen will be the first woman to serve on the board in the past 30 years.

A total of 689 votes were cast, 101 in Alto and 588

in Lowell.

Mrs. Mullen received 333 votes (293 in Lowell and 40 in Alto) and Dr. Siegle totaled 310 (247 in Lowell and 63 in Alto).

Gerald Smith ran third, followed by Dr. W.G. Yost and Richard McNeal.

The proposition to become a third class school district instead of fourth class, which is designed for small systems, passed 353 to 210. Lowell cast 316 for and 159 against while Alto voted 37 for and 51 against.

The first difference the public will note in the change of districts will be the publication of the minutes of the Board of Education meetings in the Ledger directly after the meeting is held, rather than waiting for the minutes to be approved at the following meeting before publication.

The first meeting of the new board will be Monday, July 10, when they will organize and elect officers.

Next summer only one seat will be up for election when the term of Harold Metternick expires. Normally, two seats are available each year except every fourth year when the seventh member runs alone.

Police Investigate Larceny Complaints

Six complaints of larceny and one of destruction of property have been and are under investigation by the leavell Police Department since the first of June.

This week they solved the first of six cases when they apprehended the youth who took $10 in half dollars and silver certificates from the Andrew Kroll residence on North Washington Street. Mrs. Kroll reported the incident on June 5.

Cases still under investigation are:

June 1—Two fishing poles and two reels were taken from the William Grim, 1406 Sibley Street. Two juvenile youths are being questioned.

June 5-A saxophone belonging to Ben Ward was in the hallway outside of the bandroom at Lowell Senior High School when it was taken. The instrument had just been repaired.

June 9—The lock on the driver's side door was broken off and entry was made into the vehicle owned by Robert DenBoer of Lowell. Besides the damage to the car, the culprits took a .22 calibre automatic pistol.

June 9—Several suspects are on the list of the theft of a radio, black light and $30 in cash taken from the home of Miss Rose Osborne.

June 11—Clifford VanOcker who was in the process of moving from 1580 Bowes Road, returned to the premises to find that the windows in the house, the barn and a Ford Falcon had been broken out.

June 12—A juvenile boy was arrested for larceny from a building and malicious destruction. The boy entered a garage and took a fishing pole and tackle box. Sugar was placed in the gas tank of a car at the George Simington residence on Sibley Street. The juvenile was involved in both instances and was ordered to the Youth Contact Center.

First Practice

Come on singers and join in . . . get on the boat of fun and gaiety as the 1972 Showboat prepares to celebrate its 40th anniversary, and bring to center stage two top professional men in the business, Jerry Reed and Bobby Goldsboro.

You can play an important part in this "minstrel show under the stars" by joining up this Thursday, June 15 for a seat in the 100-voice Showboat chorus. Both male and female vocalist, alto, bass, baritones, sopranos, etc., are needed to back the endmen and put the finishing touches on the show.

Choral director for this year's shows (July 20-22 and July 27-29) will be Tom Hagen, musical director at Saranac Public Schools.

His first practice session will be June 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the Lowell Junior High School building. Participation is being limited this year, however, to sophomore students and older.

The Lowell Area Chamber of Commerce moved into new headquarters last week at 109 West Main Street. The building, adjacent to Lippert's Pharmacy, was formerly occupied by Lowell Upholstering.

Watch out for rusty water, as the City's Water Department will be flushing those mains again this Friday!

The Lowell Showboat's special night's committee is still searching for former endmen—the whereabouts of D.D. McDuffee, Ed Quick, Gerald Fineis, Dick Lester and Bud Howe is being sought. If you can be of help, contact Mrs. Colleen Swan.

Francis Scott McMahon escaped serious injury last Tuesday evening when he darted between two parked vehicles into the pathway of an oncoming car on North Hudson Street. Gary Marcel Nead of Cedar Springs, driver of the car was not held.

A motorcycle-car accident at the East Main and South Jackson Street intersection late Thursday night, was investigated by the Lowell Police. The motorcycle was attempting to pass a car driven by Pamela Noon of Lowell, on the right, when the crash occurred. James Miller of Lowell, and his passenger, Michael Murphy were both taken by ambulance to Butterworth Hospital where they are being treated for lacerations and broken bones. Miller was in violation for passing on the right.

The band that staged a small concert in the City's parking lot on East Main Street last Wednesday night heralded in the new shopping hours for most of the merchants during the summer months—June July and August. The stores will remain open until 9 p.m. on Wednesdays to enable area residents to do some early shopping before the weekend. Shop at home!

City employees, officials and friends of Mrs. Laura Shepard will assemble in the Lowell Masonic Temple on Wednesday, June 28, to pay honor to her many years of service to the community. The retirement banquet is open to the public, and tickets may be purchased at City Hall, Mayor Carlen Anderson revealed Tuesday.

Flag Day

When they look at the Flag of the United States, high stop a flagpole, many people can see nothing but a piece of cloth silhouetted against the sky, and this is unfortunate. If they would look only a little more carefully, adding an element of reflection, they would see the banner's brightness as a symbol of the freedom and liberty cherished and protected at great sacrifice since the birth of our nation.

By Presidential proclamation, June 14 is Flag Day across the nation. Displaying the Flag on this special occasion is a way in which we can express patriotism the spirit of love and devotion to a national heritage of "... one Nation, under God, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all." But we should remember that patriotism is shown not only by heroism on the battlefield, but by the practice of good citizenship in peace-time as well. This Flag Day each citizen should display the flag as a simple gesture of faith in the ideals of per-sonal liberty for which our country stands.

EVENING GOSPEL SERVICE

Eastmont Baptist Historic Gideon Day

Gideon Day at Eastmont Baptist Church June 18th will bring many memories of past blessings. Many years ago one of the Gideons and his wife, namely Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mayer, conducted a Sunday School in the Martin School house pictured above. Faithfully they drove out from Grand Rapids and led the Sunday School services each Lord's Day.

Mrs. Nettie Mayer played the piano and taught a class along with her husband. It was through their min-istry that the friends in this community first heard of the work of the Gideons. Mr. Mayer was a travelling salesman for Lilly White Flour throughout the State of Michigan. As one of the early members of the Gideons he sought to distribute Gideon Bibles in many of the Towns and Cities of Michigan. He was active in holding meetings in local churches for the purpose of gaining prayerful support for this work.

Mr. Mayer's ministry means much to our church. Several second and third generation families whose relatives were won to Christ in the Martin Sunday School services, are active workers for Christ at Eastmont.

Loren Stevens exclaimed, "If my Grandfather had not been led to confess Christ by Harry Mayer, my own life might not have been touched by the Gospel so soon in life." Many others no doubt feel the same way about their loved ones who were reached by Gideon Harry Mayer and his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Farrall, Sr. and Mrs. Hammond and others along with the Stevens family kept this work going for Christ, under the guidance of the May-

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mayer invited our pastor as a "Teenager," to assist with a boy's class. Early each Sunday they would stop by and pick up Pastor on the way to Martin Sunday School. He would help them sweep the snow off the driveway and walks, help build the fire in the stove and then enjoy ringing the school bell, which rang out the call to the community to come for the study of God's Word.

It occurred to us that there are many more friends that have pleasant memories related to the Martin School. So we are extending a special invitation to those who are Alumni of this historic one-room School, that has had a great part in educating so many students in past years. There will be special recognition given to those who are among the Alumni of Martin School. We would appreciate any contacts with former students of Martin School for this special service. We would also be happy for cards or letters from those who cannot attend but would like to add a word of greeting for the service.

Pat Zondervan, former President of the Gideons ternational and well known puslisher will be the guest speaker. Mr. Zondervan has seen the Gideons expand their Bible Distribution throughout the World, reaching the fantastic figure of 11,292,916 placements of Bibles and 94,050,561 place

As President of the Gideons, Mr. Zondervan has travelled at home and abroad speaking for the Lord and the work of the Gideons. He is an interesting speaker. Mr. Zondervan heads one of the largest publishing companies of Christian literature in the world. No Christian library exists that does not have dozens of books published by Zondervan Publishing House of

Charter Members Form Life Service League

One of the most beautiful sights for members of Eastmont Baptist Church was when over thirty-three young people responded to the invitation for dedication of their lives for full time Christian Service, in an evening service shortly after Pastor and Mrs. McCarthy came to serve the church. As an immediate follow up of these decisions, a Life Service League was formed and has since been active in promoting different ministries for the Lord.

The last meeting featured the project of each mem-ber writing to a Missionary. Loren Stevens, secured the Air Sheets for this and by the next day the letters of several members of the L.S.L. were on the way overseas and to home fields.

We were happy to welcome a new member to the L.S.L. also at the last meeting. An open invitation to all who are willing to go with the Gospel as God calls, is extended. We hope to have many more young people from our church join the Life Service League.

Cascade Christian Church will be extremely active again this year come the 4th of July, and the big com-munity celebration and activities planned for that day. The Fourth of July is undoubtedly the biggest single day of the year for Cascade, so far as the total community is concerned. Church and the Cascade Christian Reformed Church. If you can't remember what happened last year, just ask Jim Marvin, he'll fill you in on all the details. This year's game should be just as exciting. Activities and events will be planned this year in greater abundance than ever, with gigantic fireworks display as a climax to Independence Day. In addition, Cascade Christian will be involved in the following

Summer Begins

This year's summer officially arrives at 2:06 a.m. (EST) June 21.

On this day, the sun reaches its northernmost point in the celestial sphere-an event known as the summer solstice. Because the sun will make its longest arc across the southern sky, we will have our longest day, 15 hours, and shortest night, 9 hours. We will also be exposed to the most solar heat in any 24-hour period of the year on that day, but chances are it will not be our hottest day.

The peak heat of the season usually follows from four to six weeks later, because the temperature continues to rise as long as more heat is received during the day than is lost at night. It is said that the earth's atmosphere is an effective heat-retaining insulator.

The evening skies will be highlighted by a pair of bright planets and a popular northern constellation. The planet Jupiter rises in the southeast in the constellation Sagittarius. It reaches the meridian at midnight and shines brightly the whole night through. On the 26th, Jupiter is very close to the full moon forming a lovely configuration.

On June 17, the brilliant planet Venus is lost as an evening attraction. On that date, its orbit carries it between the earth and the sun, and thereafter it emerges as an eastern morning planet.

Between $1.2 and $1.5 billion was spent on Father's Day gifts last year and it's estimated that this year's total will be about 10 percent higher.

One reason is that Dad's gifts have been upgraded considerably from the traditional Father's Day necktie to a much wider range of things, including power tools, sporting and camping equipment, barbecue set-ups, home electronics devices, power mowers and recling chairs.

The Internal Revenue Service has restored the requirement that employers provide forms W-2 to former employees within 30 days after final wages are paid.

The requirement had been suspended last year while the congress was considering legislation that would af-fect Social Security information also entered on the form. While that legislation was being considered, printing of the new forms was delayed. The delay in printing the forms led to the temporary suspension of the 30-day requirement.

Since action has not been completed on the proposed legislation, the IRS has decided to go ahead with the printing of W-2 forms reflecting the current law.

Lieutenant Governor James Brickley has signed a major consumer protection bill giving consumers the right to raise their defenses on a retail installment sales contract even if the contract is sold to a third party such as a bank or loan company

The current law (known as the holder-in-due-course doctrine) enables irresponsible or distinuest dealers to sell their contracts quickly to a third party, get their money and skip town. Even if the merchandise is defective or never delivered, the consumer must pay.

Under the new law effective January 1, 1973, the consumer can stop payments on his contract if the product is not delivered, or if it's not satisfactory. This makes the holder-in-due-course legally responsible for the original seller's promises.

Impressive Museum In Indian Territory-

The national Y-Indian Guide Program which has 26, 200 tribes with 122 members in the Ada-Alto-Lowell area, now has a national Y-Indian Guide Museum. Just dedicated, the impressive Red Rock Museum is at Woolaroc, near Bartlesville, Oklahoma, in the heart of what was once Indian Territory.

"Without doubt, hundreds of Y-Indian Guides from Michigan, as well as Y members, and others will visit the Museum each year," said Rommie Moore, executive director of the Lowell YMCA. "It will help immensely in our efforts to understand the Indian culture, more important than ever, as we try to get closer to today's Indians and their problems.

The dedication was attended by Harold Keltner who originated with Joe Friday, an Objibway Indian, the Y-Indian Guides in 1926, as well as other YMCA and Phillips Foundation notables

The Museum, part of Woolaroc, a long-established wild life preserve featuring a herd of 600 buffalo, antelope and other wild animals, as well as nature trails, Indian museum and other Indian attractions often draws 4-5,000 visitors a day during the 365 days a year it is

$10,000 Per Acre

The definite possibility of expanding the present Bushnell building to double its size, rather than build a whole new elementary school, was skirted by the school board Monday night as they talked about pur-chasing five and one-half acres of land adjoining Bush-

Dave Miller and Dave Wingeier met with King Doyle, Lloyd Ritzema and Carl Christenson as representatives of St. Mary's.

No longer willing to sell all 11 acres, as they were last year, the men agreed that they would sell 5.75 acres to the public school but that the asking price was still $10,000 per acre.

Miller said that following the meeting he paced off the present Bushnell property and came up with 3.2 acres, less than two acres of which is playground. If the board purchases the property and constructs the addition, they would wind up with approximately nine acres for 600 students rather than 3.2 for 300. "We would still be tight according to State recommenda-tions but it would be much better than the 300 is now,"

Miller opined, Another factor up for consideration in the contemplated purchase is the necessity of constructing a bridge over the present stream and the water level of Cherry

As board members groaned at the asking price of $10,000 per acre, Miller said, "the seller, in this case, is well aware of the value of the property. However, there are sales going on right now in Lowell at a higher price than that." (One spectator at the meeting was heard to remark that if this is true he hoped the school wasn't the one doing the buying).

Dr. Reagan suggested that the board meet later this week to begin evaluating its plans before going any further with talk of land purchase. Miller suggested also, and Supt. Leonard Sinke agreed, that it would be a good idea to have the land professionally appraised to see if the asking price is at all reasonable.

Pond Site Moved

Excavation has started on the Middle School and the black dirt has been scalped. It was decided to move the pond site because deeper top soil and muck was discovered where the pond was originally located. Since the contractor plans to use soil from the pond excavation for fill, it was not suitable.

The contractor has moved the pond to the north and stated that he would put in one or two duck ponds at no charge for permission to make the change.

The official groundbreaking ceremony has been set for Sunday, June 25, at 3 p.m.

Board members voted to accept the bid from Grand Rapids Mill on cabinet installations for the new Middle School's combined arts, crafts, homemaking and graphics departments. Classroom Incorporated was given the nod for science furnishings.

The purchase of a Clark Scrubber, to come out of this year's budget, was okayed with the understanding that although it will be used mostly in the high school. it can be moved to other buildings when necessary.

A request to blacktop part of the playground areas at both Bushnell and Alto this summer was tabled for further study.

Pay Tuition

Board members decided to again pay tuition and transportation for the students from this area attending Lincoln Trainable School for the summer. It is felt that these students lose too much valuable ground if they have the summer off.

New Equipment

Several Delays

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Prins appeared before the board regarding the time it took for the school insurance program to pay bills resulting from a football injury to their son two and one-half years ago.

Bob Perry explained that there had been several delays and mix-ups in the process but that the bills were finally all paid. He added that part of the medical attention that the son received had not been completed until April of this year and that the company does not pay until all work is done.

Tercher Suspended

Superintendent Sinke informed the board that a high school teacher had been suspended without pay for disciplinary action for the remainder of this school year and requested that the board support the action. which it did.
