Township Elections Lack Excitement

There is little contest for nominations in the August 8 primary in area township elections. Winning in the primary when there is only one ticket on the ballot al-most assures election to office for the only way a pri-mary winner could be defeated would be by a write-in candidate in the November election.

Lowell Township

On an all Republican ticket, the only contest will be for supervisor. Elmer Smith of Pratt Lake Avenue, a dairy farmer and the incumbent candidate, is being opposed by Delmar Stuessy. Stuessy is presently a mem-her of the sorting board ber of the zoning board. Carol Wells, the incumbent candidate for clerk is unopposed, as are Doris Boyd for treasurer, Irving Woodworth, trustee, and James Hutson for constable.

Bowne Township

On an all Republican ticket, J. Irvin Rodgers, incum-bent supervisor and incumbent clerk, Evelyn Smith, will be candidates for re-election. In the race for treas-urer, Richard Fairchild (incumbent) will be opposed by James Barnhart. Richard Johnson, seeking a trustee position, and Russell Dewey for constable, complete the slate for the August 8 primary.

Grattan Township

Interest will be slight in the Grattan township elec-tion with all incumbent candidates seeking re-election on an all Democratic ticket with no Republican opposi-tion. For supervisor, Robert Lamoreaux; clerk, James Byrne; treasurer, Lucille Slowinski and for trustees, George Malone and Mart Byrne.

Vergennes Township

Leon E. Alberts, incumbent, and Carl Kropf are vying for the office of supervisor in Vergennes Town-ship. There is no opposition for clerk with Irene Os-borne (incumbent) seeking re-election. Elmer Witten-bach, incumbent treasurer, who will be seeking re-election to that office and Adelbert Odell for trustee, round out an all Republican slate.

Cascade Township

Phillip N. Watterson, Republican candidate for su-pervisor will succeed R. Lee Patterson. Watterson, a retired businessman was recently appointed to fill a va-cancy on the township board. Evelyn R. Schurtz is op-posing Edward L. Meyer (incumbent) for the Republi-can clerk nomination. Seven Republican candidates are in contest for three trustee positions. Candidates are Daniel R. Ellinger, Marjorie J. Somerville, Charles S. Burlingham, Joseph E. Popma, Gilbert W. VanWynen, Louis Vandenberge and David P. Young.

Ada Township

With no opposition for the Republican nominations, John Forshar will undoubtedly replace Sherman Cory-ell as supervisor. Coryell is not seeking re-election. For the clerk and treasurer, it will be incumbents Kenneth Anderson and Orison Weaver, respectively. Otto Meyer, incumbent, will be opposed by Paul Nelson. It's a three way contest for constable with incumbent Clarence Fulier being opposed by Milton Harris and Gordon Haga

In speaking on taxation, Walter said "the issue of tax reform has become a somewhat misdirected topic. The quality of education and of governmental services should be regarded as well as the means by which they are financed.

Marine Patrol Cruises County Lakes, Rivers

This summer marks the 6th season that the Kent County Sheriff's Marine Patrol have been cruising county lakes and rivers inspecting all types of vessels and handling complaints. The Marine patrol inspects some 3,000 vessels annually for violations of the Michigan Marine Safety Act.

Sergeant Dave Price, who heads up the unit under the sheriff's department, states that 90% of the vessels inspected conform to the Marine Safety Act. Half of the remaining 10% receive citations for not having one life saving device (life preserver) on board for each person. During the summer, seven men patrol county wa-ters seven days a week from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Some lakes receive more attention than others according to which ones are problem areas. Sgt. Price mentioned that Reeds, Murray, Lincoln and Bostwick Lakes were frequently patrolled. Enforcement is only a part of the duties the Kent County Sheriff's Marine Patrol participates. During school months the marine patrol conducts classes in boating safety. A youngster between the ages of 12 and 16 is required by law to attend these classes in or-der to be certified to cover to a boat with a motor. der to be certified to operate a boat with a motor greater than 6 horsepower. Sgt. Price feels "education and enforcement compliment each other." Over 5,000 youngsters have been certified in Kent County through the program offered by the marine patrol.

An eight-man squad of highly trained officers under the direction of deputy Dave Vereeke form another important part of the marine patrol, underwater search and recovery. These men utilize scuba-diving techniques to participate in recovering bodies from drownings, or evidence from crimes.

The Kent County Sheriff's Marine Patrol provided an escort for the Lowell Showboat and will also be cruising the Grand River during the WLAV Raft Race August 12. Fishing? Boating? Water skiing? Be sure to have at least one life saving device for each person

Boer War Veteran Recalls The Past Visits Daughter Here

It would seem as though an overland trip by bus from Vancouver B.C. to Lowell, Michigan would weary the hardiest of travelers but Mr. Arthur Whitton appear ed none the worse for it despite the fact he will be 90 years old in October. A spry English gentleman with twinkling blue eyes, he makes the observer quickly aware that he has lost none of his spunk and relish for

Whitton, whose home is Bournemouth, England, is here visiting his daughter, Mrs. D. E. (Jean) Johns of Recalling memories of the past, Whitton said that he was the youngest living Boer War Veteran. He was 17 years old in 1899 when he joined the King's Royal Rifle Corps and after three month's training was sent to Capetown, South Africa. By ox wagon, mule and by foot, the soldiers made their way to Pretoria in the fight between the Dutch farmers (Boers) and the British. Each day the soldiers were given a day's ration of bully beef and buscuits. They also carried an emergency ration, but it was to be used only if a man should find himself cut off from his regiment. To use the emergency ration was to invite a court martial.

A salesman most of his life, Whitton and his wife also ran a tourist home in Bournemouth which is located in the southern most part of England. Since the death of his wife last year, he now makes his home at the Chelsea Royal Hospital.

The hospital, supported by the government, is home to over 400 retired soldiers. The word hospital, is really a misnomer but is has always been known as the Royal Hospital since its founding by Charles II 250 years ago. "The original buildings were designed by Christo pher Wren and contain some fine furniture as well as many paintings by the old masters," Whitton stated.

Whitton's fondest memories are the several times he has attended the Royal garden parties at Buckingham Palace and being introduced to members of the royal family. He recalled a short conversation he had with Prince Phillip. Phillip asked Whitton what his hobbies were. "Fishing and gardening," replied Whitton. "What is the biggest fish that you have ever caught?" asked the Prince. "My wife," came back the quick witted Whitton. "You see L had the right bait"." Whitton. "You see I had the right bait!"

In a more serious vein, Whitton was dismayed at the cost of living in the United States. "Two dollars for a shave! Incredible!" At the Royal Hospital, the pension-ers can buy a martini-or orange juice for eleven cents. A comparison of those prices with the cost of the same in the U.S., would come as quite a shock. "I've had a good life-wouldn't have missed a bit of it-and hope to go right on-as long as my health per-mits," this delightful English gentleman said of his 90

When this reporter expressed the desire to see Eng-land someday, Whitton said firmly, "Don't wait. Do it! Your husband has a good job-Why, 'twould be

As I bid the sprightly old gentleman goodbye, vis-ions of a rolling English countryside flashed enticingly through my mind. Now, all I had to do was hurry home and convince another gentleman that "'twould be nothing!"

Perhaps you saw on television recently or read in the paper that a new "first" in medicine was established at Blodgett Hospital within the past few weeks when Mrs. Marilyn Bishop (a sister-in-law of the Foster Bishops and Dohertys of Cascade) was the first person ever to recover from the fatal type of hepatitis which had over-come her. It took over 70 pints of blood, medical skills and prayers to accomplish this.

Youth Sign Up!

Thirteen senior high youth from Cascade Christian Church have signed up to attend the C.Y. F. Confer-ence, August , 3-19. They are:

Jon Belding, Jonathan Gaylord, David Banta, Melo-die Hull, Doreen McQueen, Lisa Dole, Sara Gaylord, Cindy Andrews, Todd Buzzell, Kurt Anderson, Brian

bishop and Diane Avra. Three youth from Cascade Christian will also be attending Junior Camp II, August 20-25. Campers thus far include Diane Armstrong, Sheila Dunk and Brenda

It's Bible School Time In Ada However, since family and friends who were exposed to her cannot give blood, Mrs. Bishop owes to blood bank in Grand Rapids 70 pints of blood. Would you share a pint of yours with her? If so, get in touch with The Michigan Com. Blood Center, 1055 East Fulton St., in Grand Rapids. (phone: 454-9471).

For the third consecutive year the Ada Community Reformed and Ada Christian Reformed Churches will sponsor a Vacation Bible School for the boys and girls of the Ada area.

This year the daily sessions will be held in the build-ing of the Christian Reformed Church on Bradfield Street from August 7 through the 11th. A closing program for parents and members of the churches will be held on Friday, August 11 in the building of the Ada Community Reformed Church on Thornapple River

The daily sessions will begin at 9 a.m. and are to con-clude by 11:30 a.m. As in previous years there will be an emphasis on the Bible. Each session will include singing, crafts and supervised play. A fine staff of teachers and helpers will lead the school under the combined direction of Mrs. Jane Beld of Ada Community Reformed Church and the Rev. Ralph Bruxvoort of Ada Christian Reformed Church. More information about the school and possible transportation can be received from members of the two churches or by calling 676-9638.

All children from the age of four to the age of 12 are invited to enjoy this week in Bible School. 650 Pounds

The good ladies at Second Mile House of Cascade Christian Church took 650 pounds of clothing (in good repair) to the Catholic Indian Mission in Harbor Springs last Tuesday. Recently a member of the church who is a social worker in Grand Rapids sent a most destitute family to the Second Mile House for clothing. Per usual, the "gals" there outfitted the whole family with the exception of the mother who weighed in excess of four hundred pounds. Not having a dress for her, Mrs. Grover Buttrick made one, and is now having some additional ones

Second Mile House serves Christ and community in so many wonderful ways.

Still Needed Working towards the magical 333 figuration, the Outreach Project for Church World Service is still look-

Each state has a Milestone chapter winner which is entered in competition with all other state winners. Lowell represented Michigan in National competition. The state and National Milestone Awards are not the only recognition Lowell has received as a new and now second year chapter.

Lowell finished first in the Parade of Chapters in the state. In this competition, chapters are divided into five categories according to the population of the area they serve. They are judged on their activity in the ex-ternal and internal project areas.

Lowell is also a Blue Chip Chapter for the 1971-72 year. This award is presented to the top chapters in the state by Connecticut Mutual Life. In their population division Lowell received two first place awards. One for hapter management and one for inter-club relations. For July, Lowell was named Chapter of the Month in Region C. This organization of young men is dedicated to community improvement and personal development through involvement in the community.

Every young man in the Lowell Area is invited to attend a membership meeting. Meetings are held the first Wednesday of every month, 8 p.m. at the Jaycee

Dear Editor: When I attended Showboat's opening night this year, I enjoyed the show as much as ever. However, I wasn't as proud of the production or of the city who staged it as I had been in past seasons.

The reason for my disappointment was the return to the old use of blackface endmen. If their jokes and antics were not sufficiently humorous when the endmen dressed in vaudevillian costume and straight make men dressed in vaudevillian costume and straight make-up, they were still not funny when delivered in black-face. Black people are inherently no more laughable than white people; they are human being created in God's image and worthy of the same dignity as per-sons of any other color, despite the insulting stereo-type of the shuffling, foolish Negro which has develop-ed

With its famous headliners, its chorus which grows better each year, and the natural comic and musical abilities of its endmen, there is no need for Showboat funny as blackface. I sincerely hope that its use will be abandoned promptly, so that once again Showboat will be something every Lowellite can be proud of.

Sincerely, Martha Coons

Impossible, But True Incidents

A few weeks ago a young father set out in his new aluminum sailboat for an early morning cruise on a small lake in Michigan. A short time later he was dead, the victim of an accident which can only be described as unbelievable

The sailor, apparently having decided to put in at a secluded corner of the lake, edged the boat to the shore-line. Intent on beaching the craft, he failed to see the electric distribution line stretched across the rim of the

The shiny aluminum mast struck the 11,000-volt electric line and the man, standing in the boat, was electrocuted

Incredible as the story sounds, it's true, says James V. Feahr, general safety supervisor for Consumers Pow-er Company. And, he adds, it's an example of how electricity has become so commonplace in our society that we fail to be alert to its inherent dangers.

Not only do accidents occur from contact with electric power lines, says Fehr, they seemingly happen when-ever man encounters any equipment used in connection with supplying energy. Reading from a file of accident reports, Feahr notes other "impossible but true" incidents. A man riding a snowmobile was badly injured last winter when he drove into a guy wire anchoring a utili-ty pole. The man later said the jolting ride blurred his vision and he never saw the half-inch thick wire.

A youngster was playing in a pine tree in his back yard. He failed to notice that the branch he was grabbing actually was an electrice line. Not only was he bad-ly burned, but suffered further injuries falling from the

In another report, a toddler was playing with some keys and was injured when he stuck one into an electric wall outlet. The only fortunate thing, says Feahr, is that these accidents don't occur too often. Most people are aware of the potential hazards of elecricity and take precautions to prevent accidents.

However, he believes, even the rare calamity can be avoided with only a little additional precaution. He sug-gests every family institute a safety program to make all members of the household aware of accident preven-

Parents should conduct a room-by-room examina-tion of the home and correct any potential accident situations they find. Something as simple as an uneven table leg can cause injury to someone leaning against the teble and toopling it the table and toppling it. A check should be made for hazards outside the home, too. Where trees are located near electric lines, branches should be trimmed.

If you own a vacation cottage, a safety check should be made immediately after arriving. A five-minute in-vestigation could save many months of pain and sorrow for your family.

MEET and RE-ELECT FREDERICK E. CLANCY KENT COUNTY COMMISSIONER 3rd DISTRICT

Dear Friend:

Paid Political Advertise

I would like to take this opportunity to introduce myself. I am your County Commissioner and have been for the past two years. I represent you in County Government. It would have been nice if I could have met each of you personally but that is almost impossible. In case you didn't know the 3rd District encompasses the City of Lowell, the Townships of Ada, Bowne, Cascade, Low-ell, Vergennes and part of Grand Rapids and covers an area of 185 square miles with a population of 19,573.

I was Ada Township Supervisor for four years before becoming a County Commissioner and am well aware of the problems facing small cities and the growing townships. I have tried to remain close to the townships and the City of Lowell by attending as many of your Board and Council meetings as possible. So far this year, I have averaged 18 meetings a month relative to local government and driven an average of 346 miles monthly to fulfill my obligations for better representation at the County level.

I am a retired Air Force Officer and have no business or family ties and therefore can devote full time to my responsibilities as your District representative. Being a member of the Kent County Board of Commissioners, I serve on the Personnel Committee, County-Township Committee, Kent County Fire Commission and the State Highway Safety Committee. I feel that I have the time, experience, interest and willingness to continue to serve as your representative in County Government, and would appreciate your support in the August 8th Primary.

Sincerely yours, Frederick E. Clancy Kent County Commissioner 3rd District

Noel Mullen To Make Plans For Bob Hope Tour

Miss Noel Mullen an assistant professor of Speech and English at Vincennes University, has been selected for a civil service position as a Theatre Specialist in Viet Nam and other Far East locations.

Before coming to the University, Miss Mullen had applied for the position which will include directing professional and service shows, making plans for the Bob Hope Tour and other entertainers who regularly are selected or volunteer to entertain the troops in re are selected of volunteer to entertain the troops in te-mote locations. She will be traveling a great deal in her new work, and she explained before she left to assume her new duties that she was not at liberty to tell where her headquarters would be. She will leave from San Francisco later this week.

Miss Mullen said, "The task is especially challengin for I shall be working with all branches of the military service and with foreign embassies in each of the Far East countries. Not only will it mean that I shall be booking tours and making travel arrangements for pro fessional entertainers, but I shall also be able to direct plays and local productions in many places."

Although she had only been at Vincennes University for one year, she had made a great contribution to her department. She had been active in Readers Theatre-and had co-directed the last three Summer Theatre-

She is a native of Lowell, and a graduate of Eastern Michigan University. She holds a Master's degree from the University of Michigan. She was a member of the Stafford Foundation (Shakespearean Festival) and the Speech Communication Association. She taught in the Lowell area school and was a costumer for the Cran-brook School and assistant costumer for the University of Michigan Repertory Company. She is the daughter of Mrs. Blanche Mullen of Low-ell and the late Donald Mullen.

Staal Honored On Retirement

A retirement dinner was held at Diesel Equipment in Grand Rapids on July 28, 1972 honoring Gerald Staal of Lowell after 19% years of employment at General Motors Compa

Among the 90 guests attending were his wife, Flor-ence, and daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Carl

He was presented an engraved replica of his work bench along with a billfold and check from his fellow employees. After the dinner the family was given a guided tour of the plant which was very interesting. The Staals have no immediate plans for the future.

New Arrival

A son, Steven Jay, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Victor Heim of Lowell at Blodgett Memorial Hospital on July 15. He weighed seven pounds and ten ounces. The proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mulder and Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Heim of Lowell.

Library Makes First Shipment

First shipment of the Paperbacks for Prisoners will be made from the Kent County Library Headquarters to the County Jail Wednesday, August 2, at 9:30 a.m. Thirty-one tomato boxes, donated by the Grand Valley Growers Cooperative, have been filled with ap-proximately 25 selected paperbacks for use in the cell-blocks of the Jail. Others of the more than 20,000 books collected during the paperback campaign have been categorized and boxed for moving to the Jail as soon as shelving arrives. Also being culled from the supply turned in by in-terested citizens are the better books for a future sit-down library at the Jail. So far, there are more than 300 of these more academic books in paperback and hardcover, ranging from science, philosophy and psychology, to art.

"We are sending over the books as soon as possible, even though the shelving has not arrived. We know that the public wants the books to get to the prisoners quickly. We are sending over these small tomato boxes so the inmates can start reading right away," Edna Schooley, co-chairman of the Paperbacks for Prisoners

The book drive was sponsored by the Staff Associa-tion of the Kent County Library System because there is no money in the County budget for reading material for the County Jail and Honor Camp prisoners.

Danish Festival

Fifteen miles east of U.S. 131 at the junction of M-57 and M-91 lies the small city of Greenville. The population of approximately 8,000 is expected to swell to more than 55,000 on August 19th for the 8th annual Danish Festival.

The Danish Festival is a non-commercial enterprise. Its purpose is to honor the Danish founders and devel-opers of the Greenville area and to draw attention to the many recreational facilities surrounding the City.

Activities will begin on Friday, August 18th with the opening of the Antique Show featuring the displays of approximately 27 antique dealers from Michigan, Illinois, Ohio and Indiana. Store windows in the down-town area will be filled with family herilooms for strolling visitors to admire. Friday evening will be highlight-ed by the Fairy Tale Parade at 6:30 p.m. followed by a Teen Dance at 8 p.m. at the Montcalm County Arm-

Beginning at 8 a.m. on Saturday, August 19th, Green-ville's main thoroughfare will be closed to traffic and crowded with people eager to inspect and taste the many varieties of authentic Danish food that will be available at stands lining the main street. Authentic Danish souvenirs will also be available.

An Ionia woman was reported in good condition

An Ionia woman was reported in good condition following an accident on Grand River Drive, near Al-den Nash Road, about 8:30 Thursday night. Michele Kay Leiter, 21, of 408 Washington was westbound on Grand River Drive when her motorcycle was struck by a car driven by Beverly Taylor of Lowell. Mrs. Taylor lost control of her car, when ahe swerv-ed to miss a car passing the Leiter vehicle. Mrs. Leiter was taken to Blodgett Hospital; the Taylor woman es-caned upburt caped unhurt. The third vehicle involved was driven by John Men-scenski of Lowell.

Better Burger Labels

Jack Sprat and his wife will find shopping easier due to a change in hamburger labeling. Some grocery stores are beginning to label and ad-vertise their ground beef by fat content rather than by the poorly understood terms "hamburger" and "ground beef." New labels read "hamburger, no more than 28 percent fat" or "hamburger, lean, no more than 28 per-cent fat" or "ground beef, no more than 20 percent fat" or "ground beef, lean, a maximum of 18 percent fat" or "ground beef, lean, a maximum of 18 percent fat" or "ground beef, lean, a maximum of 18 percent

So that grocers can gauge consumer acceptance of the new labeling, the specialist suggests that you voice your opinion to your grocer.

The games have always been close-10,9, 11-8, 7-6, 8-7, 10-7-but when the sixth chukker was completed the scoreboard always read Cascade Polo Club over Taos Farms, Sunday, the tables were turned, and Taos broke Cascade's winning streak in a polo game of all polo games.

The two equally matched teams battled it out on the Kentree field with the scoring remaining even up at the end of each 71/2 minute chukker. Changing goals at the end of each chukker, the horsemen atop their ponies tried vainly to outwit each other and gain the sweet success of victory. It came for Taos in the sixth chukker when Scott MacIntyre hit for two goals, making the final score Taos 6, Cascade 4.

Boosting Taos' scoring was Gene Gilmore with three goals and Gary Crinion with one. For the loser's Dr. Manuel Campos, Don McLaren, Maury Houseman and Larry Allaben each had one.

Lake Fishing Remains Good

Generally lake fishing remains good for most fish. Bass, bluegills, and pike are probably the most popular targets but fishermen should remember that warm water will drive the fish down to deeper and cooler water. Trolling for bass and pike will be productive during the day but in the early morning and evening these fish. will be found near to shore feeding. Bluegills will be found in "pockets" in lakes where the water is warm. Trolling very slowly with worms will help locate these pockets

Murray, Bostwick, Wabasis, Morrison, and Lincoln Lakes all have populations of bass, pike, and bluegills. The fish are there, it is just up to the fishermen to catch

Woodard Lake has become a popular spot for wall-eyes, one confirmed catch of an 11-pounder was report-ed as well as many 20 inches and larger. Crickets and worms have been a productive bait for panfish on Jor-bess are biting particularly well. Rainbow trout are biting well in Lime Lake in northern Kent County. Corn or wigglers fished at night with lanters account for most of the fish caught. Al-though trout fishing has slowed down considerably in most streams, the Grand and Thornapple Rivers are still good bets for bass, pike and catfish. One northern pike, 13 pounds, was caught this week just below Ada Dam. Also an 11½ pound, 37" tiger muskie was caught just above the Ada Dam, and a 22 pound tiger muskie was caught in Campau Lake. was caught in Campau Lake.

Lake trout and salmon fishing in Lake Michigan has perked up and fine catches are reported when weather permits fishermen to get out on the lake. Muskegon, Whitehall, Grand Haven and Holland are popular areas but the fish remain a few miles offshore which requires a rather large boat. Perch fishing on the piers has be-come a "spotty" proposition. Most fishermen will be able to catch enough for a meal but the action is spora-

Nightcrawler, minnows, wigglers, and crayfish are the most produc-tive baits when fished in deep "holes" or in bends of the river. Perch fishing near Croton Dam deserves spe-cial mention. It has been noted that the perch are biting so well on wigglers that several bait shops in the area could not keep up with the demand.

If you want proof that girls enjoy playing ball just as much or more than boys just ask any of the YMCA Girls Team pictured above.

"We had a lot of fun," said one enthusiastic young girl who played on the YMCA Girl's Softball Team. The YMCA Girl's season ended with both the 11-14 year old team and the 8-19 year olds winning exactly half of their games. They played girl's teams from Par-nell and other nearby towns.

Mrs. Terry Smith, Coach, and Mrs. Judy Eddy, Assistant Coach, did a great job with our girl's teams. Moms and a few Dads, helped with transportation. Other men, interested in helping our children, donated their time to umpire the girl's games. YMCA Girl's Softball is off to a good start. Plans are already underway to enlarge the girl's softball program for next summer. The YMCA Ladies Softball Team also has had a good season and plans to continue next year.
