Board Tables College Issue

Al Johnson, superintendent of Godwin Heights School District, spoke at a recent meeting of the Lowell Board of Education requesting that board members change their minds and support the establishment of a new community college in this area. (The local board earlier this summer declined to give its support to putting the establishing of the college before the voting public.)

Stating that the Kent Intermediate School District has all the potential to have an outstanding community college, Johnson cited the advantages of such a college stressing mainly that the college accepts all high school graduates, regardless of previous academic record, and that the cost is far lower than any other institution of higher learning.

Johnson added that the majority of school boards in this area have approved the resolution and that Lowell is one of four who have not yet done so.

The local board tabled the request and will act upon it again at the next meeting.

Surprised At Progress

Fran Hoag, teacher for the new pre-school headstart program, which began in the local system last spring, spoke before the board reporting on the progress of the project thus far.

Several members of the board appeared agreeably surprised at the numerous slides taken of the young students showing their progress in both work and social awareness since the beginning of their instruction.

Mrs. Hoag also went on record to commend the involvement of the community as a whole with head-start, not only the many hours of volunteer workers but also the cooperation of such establishments as Wepman's, Eberhard's, Lowell Bakery, Lowell Meat Market, Erb Lumber and the Ionia Fair Board.

Bids Opened

Several sealed bids were opened and contracts were awarded to the following low bidders for the 1972-73 school year: milk, Highland Hill Dairy, and Mobil Oil, motor oil, gas and fuel oil.

Holds Millage

In spite of many new school programs to be developed this school year, such as intermural sports and headstart, and with the additional cost of lowering the Cherry Creek drain and other items, the board acted on the advice of Superintendent Sinke to hold the millage for the coming year so this year's tax levy will be the same as last.

"Our budget is intact," Sinke said, "and we will not require additional mills to run our schools this year."

Township Says 'No' ... Again!

"You can't say I'm not a glutton for punishment," Dave Miller told his fellow board members in reference to the school's request to take the Middle School property away from the township of Lowell and annex it to the City of Lowell, "I tried three times and was shot down three times."

The township remains adamant in its refusal to transfer the property.

While sympathizing somewhat with the township's point of view, the board feels an even stronger obligation to the tax payers of the district in saving them the $2,000 plus costs each year in higher insurance rates and water charges.

At Harold Metternick's suggestion, the board tabled further action for one more meeting. "It may not do a penny's worth of good but we're going to try one more time," Metternick said.

Affiliation Certificate

Emory Bowen, left, president of the local group of retired men and women, "The Golden Swingers" is shown receiving the groups' Charter of Affiliation from the National Council of Retired Citizens.

Presenting the Charter is David Sherwood.

Monday, August 28th, David Sherwood, Board Member of the National Council of Senior Citizens, presented a Certificate of Affiliation to the Lowell based Senior Citizens group, "The Golden Swingers."

The presentation was made to the groups officers and board members, meeting at the Lowell YMCA.

In attendance at this meeting were Emory Bowen, Nellie Lewis, Marge Miller, Mabel Scott, Zilpha Ketcham, Glenn Miller, Rachel Erickson, Mary Gape, Greg Purcell, Nancy Kehoe and Rommie Moore.

'A Little Paint Goes A Long Way'

Have you noticed the old two-story, eight-room house on the corner of Bronson and Ada Drive in Ada recently? The home which formerly belonged to Rex Anthony of Ada, is undergoing remodeling under the supervision of two Detroit brothers.

John and Ed VanderVeen have devoted their summer vacations and weekends to the restoration of the late 1800's structure. John, who lived in Grand Rapids for many years, has a hobby of restoring old houses. He has restored seven homes in Detroit but must admit that his current project is the most difficult. Although they have owned the house for a year and a half, the VanderVeens have begun the remodeling just this summer. They have started on the outside because it was such an eyesore, and "a little paint goes a long way."

John hopes to keep what he calls "the Gingerbread

Victorian" style intact, and restore the home close to what it was prior to 1900. The structure requires a new heating and plumbing system, extensive repair work, and lots of paint. The stylish hand-crafted trim accented by colored glass windows add to its attractiveness.

A desire to escape the "rat race" and crime of Detroit was expressed by John VanderVeen. He related how one morning he woke up to find that his trousers had been stolen by a thief who broke in through a window! John hopes to have the remodeling complete and move into the house by next year. The nearby barn may eventually become an antique shop but the VanderVeens are not sure what will happen.

Meanwhile, weekends will find John and Ed VanderVeen scraping, sawing, nailing and painting.

Wyoming Man Injured In One Car Crash

A Wyoming man suffered minor injuries following a one-car crash on M-21 on Bowes Road. Wayne Ford, of 3704 Oriole, was apparently unable to negotiate a turn onto Bowes Road and struck a guard post before finally coming to rest in a ditch. The incident occurred about 1 a.m. Friday night.

In another incident several small children suffered minor injuries when the truck they were riding in collided with a car on Ada Drive near Alto Dale Avenue. Iris Cowan, 19, from Illinois, evidently was unable to see a pickup truck driven by Michael Shalander, of 10881 Woodbushe, Lowell, as she entered the roadway from a private drive. The Cowan vehicle was extensively damaged in the collision which occurred around 4:30 Saturday afternoon.

Bookmobile Schedule

The new fall schedule for Moby, Kent County Library System bookmobile, is announced by Earlene Jordan, librarian. There will be 13 stops covering areas which do not have a member library of KCL in their community.

Effective September 5, the bookmobile will make the following stops in this area:

Monday—St. Patrick's Church, Parnell, 1:30-3 p.m.; and Ada Township Hall, 3:30-5 p.m. and 6-8 p.m.

Wednesday—Grattan Elementary School, 11:30-12:30; Bostwick Lake, (Troutman's), 3-4 p.m.; Belke's Store, Cannonsburg, 4:14-5:30 p.m.

Correctly Identifies Football Team

Stanley (Bob) Schwacha of 2549 Emory Drive, Lowell, was the only one to correctly identify all of the football players in last week's name the players and coaches contest.

This was Bob's guess, and according to verification, it is correct:

Second row—Perry Peckham, Herbert Reynolds, Calvin Pinckney, Leo Bettes, Gerald Yeiter, Frank Monkowski, Allen Roth, John Cordtz, Clair Houran and Bertram (Bud) Scott.

Front Row—Robert Ellis, L. J. Nummer, Stanley Schwacha, Lester Sherman, Gerald Ellis, Lee Hoag, Walter Graham, and George Gotfredson.

A good team was built up by coach Avery despite the fact the services of Bergin, Houseman, Eickhoff, Clark, Schwacha, Havlik, Hoag, Sherwood and Keiser were lost due to graduation.

This year's team did not have such a successful season as those of preceding years, but showed real fight against the strong opposition they met.

(If you have any old pictures, that would be fun to identify, we'd like to borrow them . . . all photographs will be returned. Bring them in or send them to Carol, in care of the Lowell Ledger.)

The "floating trophy" co-sponsored by the V.F.W. Posts of Lowell and Ionia, is on display this week at the Speerstra Insurance Agency on West Main Street. The trophy will be awarded to the winner of the Ionia-Lowell football game on September 15. A team must win it three times in a row before they have permanent possession.

The nation-wide "Punt, Kick and Pass," contest will have local sponsorship this year. Through the combined efforts of the Lowell Area Jaycees and Royce Ford of Lowell, boys from Lowell, Ada, Alto and Saranac, ages eight through 13, may register at Royce Ford, on East Fulton Road.

Our apologies to Paul Kerakes—Last week in the story on the safe driving awards presented to the Lowell Rural Carriers, we identified Paul as Alex . . . We just got our wires crossed.

The Lowell Community Center on Grand River Drive will hold a grand opening, September 8 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Everyone in Lowell and the surrounding areas are cordially invited to see the completed building and get acquainted with the facilities available.

The remodeling being done at the Lowell Cut Rate Meat Market on East Main Street is very eye-catching . . . especially that brilliant blue striped wall paper. If you haven't noticed, stop in and visit Gary and the boys.

Now that school is open, Snieder's Lowell Bakery on East Main Street will be open on Mondays.

A new section of sidewalk is being installed at the intersection of West Main Street and Broadway, next to the Lowell Cafe.

A 1972 Tan Oldsmobile, stolen from the Ralph Fluger residence Friday night, was recovered Monday night in Belding. The matter is still under investigation by the Lowell Police Department.

Despite the heavy pickup in traffic over the Labor Day (long) weekend, Lowell Police Chief Barry Emmons reported Tuesday, that it was a "quiet weekend."

Preliminary hearings for Roger Shepard and Carl Simmerer in 63rd District Court, before Judge Joseph White were held Wednesday afternoon. The subjects, facing a two count marijuana felony, are still in the Kent County Jail pending posting of bail.

MYSTERY MAN IDENTIFIED

Last week's mystery man brought in many guesses... Harold Metterick, Enock Carlson, Merle Rosenberg, Ernest Rosenberg, and LaVerne Bryant, but they were wrong.

The man, Vern Bryant, was correctly identified by Leonard Johnson of rural Alto.

The first call received identified the man as LaVerne Bryant, and this was incorrect, as his name was Vern—known better to most Alto residents as "Stub" or "Shorty."

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO . . .

Bruce Berry, J. J. Haggi and Morse Deming attended the State Fair in Lansing . . . the Mac Watson and Clate Dygett families attended the Yeiter reunion at Fallsburg Park . . . 6 lb., 7 oz. son, Gregory Clinton was born to Mr. and Mrs. Leo Blocker . . . Shirley Colby had a slumber party . . . Kenneth Merriman jersey was selected to go to the National Jersey Show at Columbus, Ohio . . . Mrs. Doris Roth and Ruby Avery were the teachers at the Alto School . . . Miss Arlie Dra-per completed her 13th year as custodian of the Alto Methodist Church . . . "Gentlemen's Agreement," was the current leading book at the Alto Library.

THINGS TO COME

We'll all have a lot of changes to make if the Senate-passed bill providing for a 10-year gradual changeover to the metric system becomes law . . . Industry sources predict a gasoline shortage and higher prices before year's end.

Who Are They?

The first person to correctly identify these Alto ladies will win a year's subscription to the Lowell Ledger-Suburban Life. Remember, however, that the names must be exact.

A Busy Summer

The past few months have been busy ones for the children and their mothers who were intricately involved in Lowell's Headstart program.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Fran Hoag, and the volunteer mothers, the Headstart students have gone horseback riding, toured and had a picnic at John Ball Park, spent a day of fun in the water and sand along Lake Michigan topped off with a picnic, marched in parades, and paid a visit to the Ionia Free Fair.

Besides all of the extra-curricular activities, the children have had fun learning to count, recognize numbers and letters, identify shapes, sizes and colors.

From their own library, the children read the books, had a story time and learned how to respect the books that could teach them so many wonderful things.

The mothers of the Headstart children this week issued a note of thanks to all who helped and cooperated in the program—the Federal Government for this sponsorship; Mrs. Hoag, teacher and friend; Eberhard's, Wegman's, Snider's Lowell Bakery; Lowell State Savings Bank; St. Mary's Church; and Calvary Church.

WZZM Installs Radar Weather Command

Installation of a new radar weather service by TV-13 to bring graphic and visual severe weather warnings to West Michigan television viewers has been announced by George U. Lyons, vice president and general manager of WZZM, West Michigan Telecasters, Inc. This service, called "Radar Weather Command," is the only one in an area television station.

The RCA radar installation on top of WZZM's new building in Walker sends out a beam that extends for 150 miles in every direction. TV-13's radar will scan the West Michigan area from north of Traverse City to Ohio, from Wisconsin to Windsor, Canada.

LEARNING BY DOING—The children of the Headstart program put in a busy summer. Outside the classroom, they took part in several parades, went on picnics, swimming, and having fun in many different ways.

Has Winning Ticket

"It's the first thing I ever won," stated Frank Godfrey when told he had won the Color TV set given by the Lowell Area Chamber of Commerce in the drawing last Wednesday afternoon.

All waited in anticipation as Mrs. Charles Melle, summoned in off the street, drew the lucky ticket.

The Chamber of Commerce sponsored the drawing in an effort to help raise the money due on the Main Street Christmas decorations.

"We thank all those who purchased tickets on the drawing. We're only sorry there was just one set to give away," said Darlene Cannon, Chamber president.

In appreciation Mr. Godfrey also donated to the Decoration Fund.

Spud Care

Handle new potatoes with care. Researchers report that potatoes can withstand 30 to 80 percent more jostling a month after storage than they can at harvest time.

The potatoes now in markets are freshly dug, so treat them as you would apples or eggs.

Buy only what you can use in a week or two, handle them gently and then buy more. New potatoes also contain more moisture than late fall or winter potatoes.

This means a shorter cooking time is advisable. Because they cook up quickly and hold their shape well, new potatoes are especially good for potato salad, or boiled. Mature potatoes are better for baking, mashing or deep fat frying.

Vesta Chapter Celebrates It's 75th Anniversary

Vesta Chapter No. 202, Order of Eastern Star, of Ada, Michigan was instituted February 23, 1897, with fifty-two members being the Obligation by the Worthy Grand Patron, Sister Lida Pratt, and the Worthy Grand Patron, Brother Fred H. Hooper.

Among the prominent names that are on record are the McNaughtons, Bristols, Buttricks, Rhodes, Rogers, Richardsons, Schenks, Widres, Slaters, McPhersons, Starks, McMurray, Sandbrooks, Holts, Tillyers, Gorham, Streets, Clements, Smiths (Emory and John), Dennewers, Harris, Stevens, Tripps, and Johnsons. These were all residents of Ada or the vicinity.

Vesta Chapter was granted its Charter, October 13, 1897. A noon luncheon club was organized and this was called the Thimble Club and held its meetings at home at the different Sisters homes. Later this became the Booster Club, and this newly organized club included a potluck supper with husbands and families attending. At these get-togethers many projects were planned and successively completed, such as the enlarged dining room, the dressing room and the new kitchen.

The Chapter held its first Chapter meeting in the new Temple on August 17, 1910, and on the 23rd of September the Temple was officially Dedicated, followed by a banquet.

March of 1937 the new Altar built by Brothers Alford, Nohring and Harry Fitch was dedicated.

May 12, 1945, with Cecelia Charles Wallace, as Worthy Matron and Patron, presiding in our East, the new American, Christian and Eastern Star flags, made by Sisters Minnie Denison and Lydia Stilson were dedicated with a program and talk by Reverend Rust; following this a social hour was enjoyed.

After the new Ada Township Hall was completed and the postoffice was moved across the street, this gave us the use of our entire building, and immediately the Chapter and Ada Lodge No. 280, F&AM began renovating and remodeling the Temple.

In February, 1963, under the direction of Worthy Matron Maude Faze, Worthy Patron Don McPherson, a dinner honoring the 60th anniversary was held. All Past Matrons and Patrons were honored, with Daisy Buchol attending and Mrs. DeWitt Richardson, 1st year member present.

We have twelve life members; Mary Cronan, Verne Furner, Alice Morris, Alta Johnson, Norma Mullen, R. Ruth Bates, Anne Arton, Max Souser, Marvella and Frank Averill, Grace Whaley and Hazel Wilde.

We have had in the past thirty-nine life members, among these, nine held their gold certificates and pins for over fifty years of membership.

We have had fifty-nine past Worthy Matrons along with thirty-one Worthy Patrons, who have presided in the East.

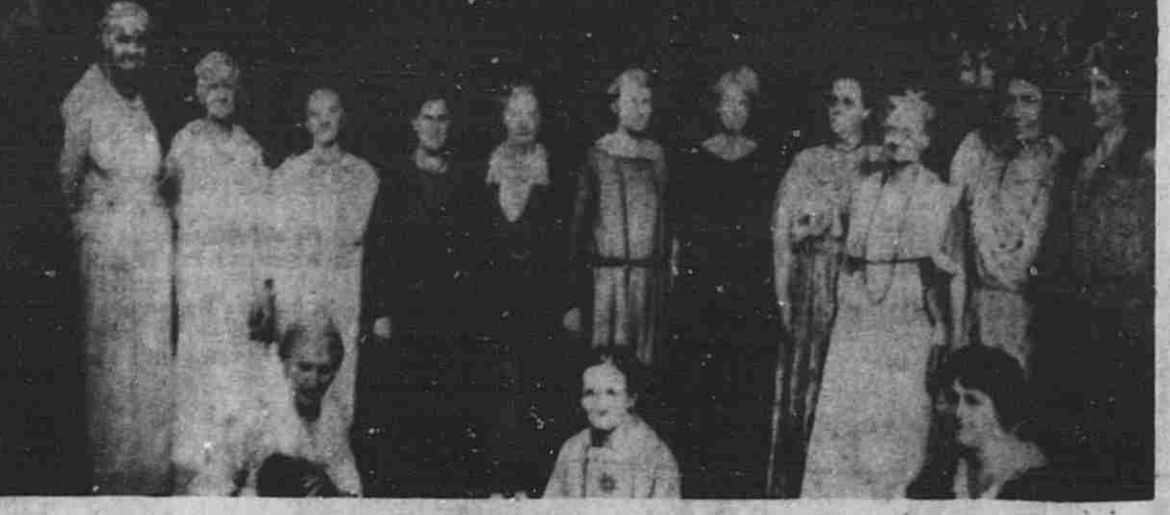

A banquet with the Worthy Grand Matron, Sister Florence Adair, and Worthy Grand Patron, Cleland Ras-sell, as our guests, along with us honoring Sister Alice Rooker, Grand Representative from Wisconsin to Michigan, held her bid September 6, 1972. ## Jabber . . . by Jane

Teachers, administrators and the school board of Lowell Area Schools gathered for their annual kick-off breakfast last Thursday morning at 8 a.m. Guests at the breakfast were retired teachers, community leaders and this reporter (I differentiate, as I fall into neither category and I'm sure there was some question as to who I was and why I was there.)

When asked to take this early morning assignment, I somewhat reluctantly agreed, but said I probably should have a diplomatic passport. It would be embarrassing to be bounced from a teacher's breakfast. However, no one asked for my credentials, and being in the protective custody of two teacher friends, I made it inside those hallowed portals. Someone (who obviously didn't know me very well) even asked if I was "going to be with them this year?" That was my chuckle for the day.

Listening to bits of conversation before and during the breakfast, one detected a certain eagerness on the part of most teachers to get back into harness. Maybe it was the tranquility of the early morning air on a beautiful late summer day that lent an aura of peace and harmony to the whole affair.

Breakfast was followed by a few remarks from Superintendent Leonard Sinke who introduced the principals of each school (prefaced by a few inside-jokes?), who in turn introduced the new teachers. Mrs. Gladys Bergin, student teacher coordinator, introduced the four new student teachers who will be assigned to the whole school system this year.

School board president Dr. Robert Reagan, in his remarks to the teachers, stated he was looking forward to the completion of the new Middle School and was excited about the in-service program for this year.

The breakfast was followed by teacher meetings and general preparations for the opening day of school.

Now, if some of the apparent enthusiasm can be generated within the returning students all will be well. P.S. To Marilyn Bovee and her staff—the breakfast was delicious.

Head table—Sinke and the Board.

USDA Proposes Four Amendments

The U. S. Department of Agriculture today invited public comment on a series of proposed amendments to the Food Stamp Program regulations which are concerned with the technical operation of the program.

The proposed revisions would:

—Broaden the definition of "hearing official" to include the recorder at a fair hearing as among those eligible for reimbursement by the Food and Nutrition Service.

—Allow State agencies to make direct refunds to recipients who have been overcharged for their coupons.

—Authorize State agencies to cooperate with Federal, State or local government investigations of violations of the Act or Regulations by allowing suspected individuals to continue to participate in the program during the investigation.

—Allow a deduction from income for court-ordered support and alimony payments.

The proposed amendments were published in the Federal Register on Friday, August 25.

Interested parties are invited during the next 30 days to make comments on the proposed amendments. The comments should be mailed or delivered to James H. Kocher, Director, Food Stamp Division, Food and Nutrition Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, so as to be received by close of business Monday, September 25. Comments received will be open to public inspection.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS

Expectant Parent Classes Scheduled

The four general hospitals of Grand Rapids Blodgett Memorial, Butterworth, Osteopathic, and Saint Mary's announce the 1972-1973 schedule of classes for expectant parents. These courses deal with prenatal exercise, controlled breathing and relaxation. In addition to this, Butterworth Hospital will offer "Mother Discussion Classes" on Wednesday mornings, for the expectant mother only.

The first series of the Expectant Parent Lecture Series begin as follows: Blodgett, Wednesday, September 6, 7:30 p.m.; Butterworth, Tuesday, September 5 and Thursday, September 7, 8 p.m.; and Saint Mary's Hospital, Thursday, September 14, 7 p.m.
