ter Explains State's Action

At the Lowell City Council meeting on Monday night, September 18, City Manager Blaine Bacon read the following letter written by James B. Flickinger, attorney, of the firm of VanderVeen, Freihofer and Cook.

It is a summary of the proceedings thus far regard-ing the suit recently brought against the City of Lowell by the Water Resources Commission of the State of

Because of the letter's clarity and conciseness, the Ledger is printing it in its entirety in the interests of the citizens of Lowell.

MEMO TO: Lowell-Water Resources Commission File FROM: JBF

September 12, 1972

September 12 Blaine Bacon, Mayor Carlen Anderson, Kenneth Anderson (an engineer for Williams and Works) and I met with Ralph W. Purdy and Tom Kampiens of the Water Resources Commission in Lansing. The purpose of our meeting was to discuss the suit which the Water Resources Commission has brought against the City of Lowell and to see what alternative plans could be formulated for the City of Lowell in regard to pollution control facilities.

On January 16, 1970, the City of Lowell had agreed with the Water Resources Commission to construct waste water treatment facilities which were capable of removing a minimum of 80 percent of the total phosphorus from its sewage and wastes. Preliminary plans were made in this regard by Williams and Works and were submitted to the City in August, 1970. Subsequent to that time the City has made efforts to have its storm water lines separated from the regular sewage lines in order to avoid the costs of having to treat all of the present waters and sewage which run through the lines. If the storm sewer could be separate from the regular sewage lines, the storm waters could be dumped directly into the river without any treatment whatsoever.

Only the regular sewage would have to be treated to remove the phosphates. In this regard the City had applied to HUD for financing.

Also, since January, 1970, it had become evident that the construction of a plant which would remove eighty percent of the phosphates from the sewage would be unwise. It is expected that within a very few number of years the City of Lowell would also be required to have some type of secondary sewage treatment facilities. In such a case, the plant which would have been constructed to remove only the phosphates would be of only very limited use. Because of this, the City would like to construct a sewage treatment plan with secondary sewage treatment facilities as well as one which would remove 80 percent of the phosphates from the sewage. A bill is currently before the United States Congress which is expected to be passed by September 21, 1972, which would provide federal grants for the funding of approximately 75 percent of such facilities. The City of Lowell is currently completing an application for such funds. In addition to the federal's 75 percent grant, the existing Michigan law gives up to 25 percent of the costs to a city for such facilities as long as the 25 percent when added to the federal grant does not exceed 90 percent of the total price.

It was pointed out that a breakdown of communication between the City and the Water Resources Com-mission office had perhaps resulted in their office's belief that we were not trying to comply with the earlier

It was pointed out to Purdy that the original plans in the final order had become somewhat outdated, since agreement. We stated that we would like to go beyond building only a facility which would remove phosphates, and build a secondary treatment facilities at the same time, to include the entire Lowell region (and not just the City) in the project. Purdy seemed very receptive.

Purdy pointed out that there is currently a Michigan law which authorizes the State of Michigan to pay 50 percent of the cost of preparing final plans for such a project if the municipality in question is under the final order of the Commission (which the City of Lowell is). The State would pay this cost of final plans after the final plans were approved by the Michigan Health Department (which would be approximately four to eight weeks after the plans were submitted).

Purdy also pointed out that a letter is currently coming to the City of Lowell from a Mr. Mayo wherein Mayo discussed the possibility of some type of lease agreement whereby Mayo would operate a treatment facilities op-eration to treat the City's sewage.

There seemed to be very little question in Purdy's mind but that their office's suit against the City of Lowell could be rescinded or, alternatively, we could enter into a consent decree. Purdy seemed to prefer having a consent decree simply because this would encourage the federal government to delay any suit aginst the City of Lowell for violation of federal pollution laws. Evidently, if the State steps in and upholds its own law, the federal government will not normally want to get into the picture. If the Water Resources Commission simply rescinds its suit against the City of Lowell, he felt there was a very good chance the federal government would step in and sue the City of Lowell under the fed-

As far as a consent decree goes, Purdy recommended the following:

1. The Water Resources Commission would want to have a date set by which time final plans would be completed for the pollution control facility.

2. The Water Resources Commission would want a report on the feasibility and costs of providing interim pollution control facilities. Purdy seemed to indicate that the Commission might readily waive interim facilities if good reason can be shown.

3. The Water Resources Commission would want the City of Lowell to agree to seek federal grants with all due haste.

4. The Water Resources Commission would want the City of Lowell to agree to put the final plans up for bid within a set period of time after the plans and/or grants were completed or received.

The Water Resources Commission will meet on November 16-17 or November 30-December 1. At that time, we would want to have some type of plan in a form for the Water Resources Commission to review in order that it might decide on what course of action it

As far as the federal grants go, the State will have considerable flexibility in deciding which municipalities will be entitled to the grants. The State of Michigan will give each city priority points (up to fifteen) which are assigned on the basis of the need for pollution control facilities and the type of pollution control facilities requested. These priority points would not be on the bas-is of financial need. It seemed obvious to Purdy that only those municipalities which were ready to go (i.e., their plans were in final form and ready for bids) would

Community Education Programs Underway

Four classes offering high school credit got underway Monday night, as the Community Education program, co-sponsored by the Lowell YMCA and Lowell Area Schools, held its opening sessions.

Monday night's classes, Typing and Office Skills, English, Improving Your Reading and Conversational French, kicked off a program which features 11 other courses, which may be applied towards one's high school diploma, used as a refresher class, or for self-im-

Classes and texts to all non-high school graduates, veterans and post grads, under 20, are free; with a nominal fee being charged to other students. Tuesday's sessions covered such topics as You and Your Money, U. S. History, and Auto Mechanics. Wed-nesday's classes include Psychology and Basic Math.

The busiest day of the weekly sessions is Thursday, when six classes will be taught-Creative Arts and Crafts, Bookkeeping, Government, Home Care and Homemaking, Home Repair for Women and Science

Orion Thaler, high school science teacher, will be the instructor for the Lowell Adult Education class, "Science Around You." Mr. Thaler informs us that this should be a novel and most interesting course, planned according to the needs and interests of those attending.

Two of the first topics to be studied will be Astronomy and photography. Many people are curious, but never get a chance to develop and enlarge pictures, or to look through a telescope and become informed about the heavens. A field trip to an observatory is a

Grody will teach women 'home repair.'

Other topics to be covered will include Hobby Science, Home Chemistry, Garden Science, Conservation of Wild Life, Space Science, Elementary Electronics, Weather Forecastings, Safety and First Aid. The class "Home Repair for Women," is made to order for the bachelor girl or housewife whose husband never gets around to doing those little repairs around Lowell Middle School Shop teacher, Ron Grody, will teach the ladies to repair and maintain household items such as furniture, etc.

Variety plus . . . adequately describes the 23 courses offered for leisure time enrolees in the combined Education For All Ages program. There is everything from art and drawing to snowmobile safety, to dog obedience classes, beginner sewing, gymnastics, table tennis and hunter's safety. Gymnastics is fun! relates Mrs. Karen Timmer as she prepares for classes on Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m. in the senior high gymnasium, for girls, grades six through 12. Running for eight continuous weeks, the classes will begin October 3. Mrs. Timmer, high school gym instructor, has included tumbling floor exercises, balance beam, uneven bar, trampoline, etc., on her agenda. Harold Barnes of Ionia, a teacher of self-defense classes for a number of years, will conduct "Judo and Self Defense" classes on Saturdays at the Lowell High From 8:30 until 10 a.m. he will instruct the elementary through junior high boys and girls; and senior high school through adults, both men and women, form 10:15 until 11:45 a.m. Barnes holds the rank of "Fkkyo" on first degree brown belt. He feels judo is a healthy exercise that is both fun and practical, and good for men, women, children, and adults of all ages.

Football-A Harbinger of Autumn

of football-so dear to the hearts of little boys, big boys, young boys and the old boys!

Football-a harbinger of autumn and falling leavesof cool, crisp, sunny days-a good day for a Saturday afternoon football game. A warm, balmy autumn night -good weather for a Friday night football game. A gray, rainy fall day-a good day for Saturday football on TV-Sunday and Monday-and so it goes, on and on.

Now, I would not dare to suggest that football is not quite my cup of tea. Nay! Nay! It is only that something which one does not fully understand, one cannot fully appreciate. And, after lo these many years, and many explanations of plays, formations, positions, rules, and signals, there still remains a mental block.-I can't keep my eye on the ball!

Each time I attend a game, I vow that this time I will keep my eye on that ball so that I might have an idea of what is going on out there on the field and perhaps be able to make some intelligent comment on a particular play such as "Boy, did you see that?" or "Wasn't that a peachy play?"

However, my attention span seems to be about as long as the snap of the ball and I find myself (1) listening my eye on the ball! Good luck, team.

Dear Editor and Board Members: At the September 11th meeting, you tabled the item of hiring a Night Director who, Mr. Sinke felt should be Gordon Gould—that they (the board) are committed to hiring Mr. Gould because of his Master's Degree. The salary is why it was tabled.

I'm not concerned with the salary, and I'm not to ing to start a dispute over what a fine man Mr. Gould is, I like him as a person. However, as one of his most recent night class students, I am compelled to speak out There were 16 adults in his class. He ended up with six. He missed classes (1) to pose with the T.V. he won. (2) to work on Y board meetings and Showboat meetings, very fine projects. However, 16 came because they wanted to learn; ten quit because of his attitude. His class was not number one in his thoughts. The people were not getting the best he could do because he was preoccupied with other projects. I worked with Mr. Gould, or tried to, to get students jobs with the N.Y.C, a program designed for low income students which pays $1.60 per hour, so long as they stay in school. Mr. Gould and Mrs. Ayres embarrassed students with some of their remarks about it being a poverty program and were they that bad off! Out of 68 names, five were hired. Some of the students drop ped out of school, some joined the service, others were told I had no business sending them into his office.

With all his degrees, he lacks the intestinal fortitude it takes to get involved and do some constructive work for the people he has had in the last six months from low income groups. It is these people who need some-one who has feelings and really cares that they want to

Please reconsider, I have no personal quarrel with Mr. Gould or his degrees, but we need a person who

Third Vote Defeats School Issue, Again

Voters in Belding School District turned down a proposed construction program for the third time in little more than one year, by some 134 votes last week, according to Murl Connor, Superintendent of Schools. In only two of four areas was there any indications of approval for the proposal, Superintendent Connor added, Belding city area and absentee voter ballots. Two propositions, one for school construction and one for a new bus garage were voted on last Tuesday. Both were defeated. Belding schools sought $4,780,000 for school construction including a new high school and additions to elementary schools in the Orleans, Grattan and Belding area, and another $100,000 for construction of the school bus garage.

With a cloud of dust they were off the line Sunday, as moto-cross action was at a peak during the running of events at Lockwood Farm, Egypt Valley Road, near Rockford, under the sponsorship of the Wolverine Rid-

An estimated 3,000 spectators turned out for a fine day of racing on a pre-laid course that swelled with bel-lows of dust as the riders hungered for victory. Over man-made jumps, around sharp curves and up steep hills, the riders tested their durability and precision, hoping their faithful machines would hold together un-til the finish.

Several attempts to water down the dusty trail were useless, as the hot machines dried it out faster than the

On a 400 CZ, Ron Stoner of the Niguel Racing Team of Lowell, trophied, coming in for a smooth third overall. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bodkin of Lowell, Stoner proved his extreme driving ability when he finished his last heat with a flat front tire.

Kelly Holst on a 250 Penton was eighth overall for the day. Two bad starts off the line left Holst back in the pack, but his hard drive brought him well up in his class. Cheering from the side lines were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Holst of Lowell.

The man on the flying 250 Huskie was John Korte, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Korte of Eastgate. As one pectator put it "his bike very rarely touches the ground He soars off the jumps as if there's no place to land."
Finishing in the top ten, overall, Korte rode his last heat with no back breaks.

Two other members of the Niguel suffered the agony of defeat, when their machines failed, or the course proved to be the overall victor-Bob Lacic failed to qualify when his shifter broke, and George Pett crashed early, on the course, damaging his bike and spraining his knee. But, you can bet, these boys will be back at it again this Sunday, when the Niguels go to Portland The Portland course, a tough tester of riders, ma-

Defense Keyed Saranac Win

Saranac's Redskins opened the 1972 football season with a 14-6 win over Martin in a non-league contest in Saranac Friday night as Dave Courter blocked two punts to set up both Redskins scores. Martin got on the board first on a seven yard pass from Dave McGuire to Paul Henderson making the score 6 to 0 with 1:34 left in the first period.

The second quarter saw Courter block his first punt and recover at the 20. Bill Overbeck went over from 13 yards out at 4:42 to tie the score at 6 to 6. Courter blocked a second punt at the 10, with Overbeck recovering at the 18 yard line, and on the first play Bob Parks sprinted the distance for the score. Pete Stuart ran the PAT for a 14 to 6 lead in the third period.

Defense keyed the Saranac win as they picked off three passes, to go along with the blocked punts and yielded a total of 117 yards in the contest. Dave Dixon, John Brown and Don Vroman picked off the stray aerials, with Vroman's coming in the closing seconds as he returned it from the 35 to the four, but one play failed

Leading the Saranac defensive charge was Courter with 14 tackles, followed by Parks with nine, and Brown and Pat Kelly with eight each.

Saranac rushed for 102 yards, with Overbeck picking up 71 in 10 tries, to only 66 for Martin and was 0-6 in the air. This week Saranac will travel to Vestaburg for an-Score by quarters:

'Themselves'

Richard (Dick) Bryan of 905 W. Main, Lowell has just completed his 13th season as a volunteer coach, teaching young boys the fundamentals of baseball. Many parents do not realize the importance of these men and their dedication to helping others. Countless hours are spent in preparing a team in April and May for competition in June, July and August. Each coach is responsible for transportation to games in other towns, their equipment and uniforms. Many will miss their evening meals in order to be at the playing field

Some have rearranged or shortened their annual va-cations to work in their game schedules.

Jerry Posthumus, 'Bud' Gauger, John Briggs, George Anderson, John Butler, Chuck Hodges, Bob Leasure, George Cloud, Richard and Orville Merklinger, Bob Chapman, Ed Roth, Jr., and Ed Roth, Sr. In addition to the above list, several fathers assisted during the summer. #### Re-Elect Officers

A slate of officers commended for completing one full year of perfect attendance were returned to their respective offices for another year, as the Flat River Snowmobile Club at their annual meeting September 17, balloted accordingly.

Going in for a second term will be Jack Condon, president; Mike Fugitt, vice-president; Polly Souser, secretary; Faith Marshall, treasurer; George Scheck and John Minges, Advisory Board.

The only newly elected officer was Red Shepard, who will serve the club as a three-year trustee.

A special guest at the meeting was Mrs. Grace Lundberg, who was given a life membership into the club. She wished all of the members a happy winter of snowmobiling, while she enjoyed swimming at her winter home in Fort Myers Beach, Florida.

Another highlight of the annual meeting was the addition of five new members-Linda Harwood, Dick Kraft, Calvin, Marilyn and Steve Wittenbach.

Sponsorship of Ecology Day, October 14 or 21, weather permitting, will see the members cleaning up the roadsides of M-21 between Lowell and Ada. Don Souser, chairman, and his assistant Mike Fugitt revealed that this project requires family participation.

Condon informed the club that application has been made for affiliation with the Michigan International Snowmobile Association and duly appointed Don Souser as the MISA delegate.

1 The 25 hp. Evinrude machine to be given away December 17 by the club is on display at Landman's Sport Center in Grand Rapids (on 28th Street). The machine will eventually be brought to Lowell, and hopefully to the Ionia area, to boost ticket sales.

The club also voted to hold a special hay ride party for the children in November. Plans will be formulated, and the date will be announced at the next meeting on

Hosting the annual meeting were Red and Fawn Shepard-it was a potluck dinner, highlighted by a corn Topping off the day's activities were three drawings. George Scheck and Mrs. Lundberg won the 50-50; Ginnie Will, mystery gift; and Casey VanderMeer, children's mystery gift.

Membership into this growing snowmobile club is open to all--interested persons should call Mr. Condon or any of the officers for additional information.

Dodge Introduces Added Features

Dodge will introduce added features on Polara/Mon-aco models for 1973 plus a new front end design for Polara to continue the sales momentum generated in its full-size, medium priced cars, Leonard Jackson of Jackson Motor Sales reveals.

Dodge 1972 model year sales climbed 12 percent and 19 percent for the first half of the calendar year over the previous year.

Continuing the successful marketing approach of 1972, Dodge is increasing the distinction between the full-sized line's three models, Polara, Polara Custom and Monaco, Jackson added.

The three big Dodges also benefit from Chrysler corporate-wide programs emphasizing standardization, sim-plification and in-line testing in the manufacturing process, and serviceability in system and component design, Jackson said:

"These manufacturing and design programs ultimately mean increased value to the customer because they result in greater product reliability and greater ease of service, when required."

Talented Seniors Semi-finalists

Principal Willard DeJonge has announced that four students at Forest Hills Central High School have been named Semi-finalists in the 1973 National Merit Schol-

The students are Kay C. Boeskool, Joy E. DenHouter, Nancy J. Matthews, and Patricia A. Ward.

The approximately 15,000 Semifinalists appointed are among the nation's most academically talented high school seniors. They will compete for some 3,000 Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1973.

The Semi-finalists received the highest qualifying scores in their states on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT), which was given last October to over one million students in about 16,600 schools nationwide. They constitute less than one percent of the graduating secondary school seniors in the United States.

The Semi-finalists show high promise for leadership in their adult careers, according to DeJonge. "They have already demonstrated both high intellectual capacity and a readiness to develop their abilities," he said.

These students deserve credit and honor. They bring honor to their families, who deserve much credit, as do their teachers and their communities. The future success of these young people will, however, depend upon their ability to become productive at the high intellectual levels that they are capable of attaining.

Semi-finalists must advance to Finalist standing to be considered for the Ment Scholarships to be awarded next spring. Semi-finalists become Finalists by receiving the endorsement of their schools, confirming their high PSAT/NMSQT performance on a second examination. and providing information about their accomplishments

Names of the winners in the 1973 Merit Scholarship Program will be announced in the spring of 1973. Over 31,000 students have received Merit Scholarships in the seventeen annual programs to date.
