At the regular meeting of the Lowell City Council Tuesday, September 4, council adopted a resolution to petition the Michigan State Highway Department to exter 1 curbed traffic lanes to the west City limits.

The action taken is due to the increase of commercial establishments with more access points along heavily traveled M-21. The request by the City asks for the widening of M-21 from West Street to the west City limits with the hope it will be included in the State's 1975 program.

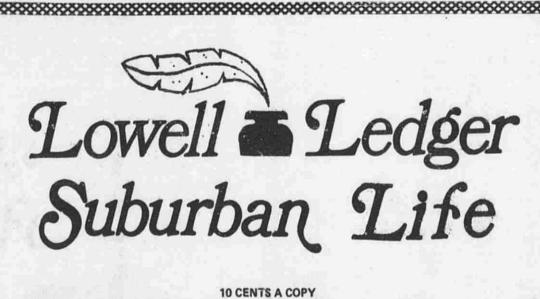

Council also approved a change order to the Kent County Department of Public Works to widen a part of South Hudson Street. The increased cost to the City was estimated to be about $6,000 and would mainly be for the cost of moving the railroad signal lights, which would be the cantilever arm type, a part of the projected cost.

Approval was given for the rezoning of part of Lots 53 and 54 in Sweet and Smith's Addition. The request for rezoning from A-2 residential to C-3 Highway Commercial had been made by Leonard Jackson on behalf of Jackson Motor Sales for enlargement of their body shop and increased parking area.

3,038 Students Are Enrolled

Board Members were told Monday night that the early estimate of student enrollment (on which the year's budget is planned) missed the actual membership by only four. This is pretty accurate estimating when you take into consideration the number of people who move in and out of the district during the summer months. The budget was planned for 3,042 students and to date 3,038 have enrolled. Supt. Leonard Sinke said that the figure may still change before the "Fourth Friday" report, on which State Aid is based, but that it is certainly close enough to work with

It became apparent that the whole issue needed further study and the board agreed to get on it immediate-Iy.

Contracts for both school bus drivers and custodians were ratified. It was also suggested that custodians be informed that negotiations for their next year's contract must begin by May 1, since their present contract runs out May 31.

Varsity Club To Present Mystery Show

Awe, skepticism and bewilderment are just some of the thrills in store for those who attend the performance of The Great Merlin Mystery Show Tuesday, September 18, sponsored by the Lowell Varsity Club.

Are there really such powers as E.S.P., mental tele-pathy and clairvoyance? Can the veil of the future be lifted so that we can catch a glimpse of the unknown? Merlin has amused and befuddled audiences for years by, among other things, reading the minds of people right in their own seats in the audience. It is said that Merlin's mental powers are 100 years in advance of our time.

His demonstrations include the answering of questions submitted to him by people in the audience. Apparently he receives the questions as a form of mental vibration and then answers the questions according to visions that he sees in a crystal ball.

Merlin absolutely disclaims any supernatural powers and answers questions, as he says, simply through extraordinary development of his natural psychological faculties. Of course this may be perfectly natural for Merlin but absolutely supernatural for others less wonderfully endowned.

Merlin will also present many of his famed hypnotic demonstrations including mass hypnosis using volunteers from the audience. He will cause a person to become intoxicated on a glass of ordinary water; another to eat an onion believing it to be a peach. Those who volunteer to be hypnotized will feel the weather change from 40 degrees below zero to 120 degrees above zero, all in the twinkling of an eye.

After it's all over, the volunteers remember the demonstration as though it had taken place in a dream. Merlin who often hypactizes individuals with a single glance, claims that if you can concentrate he can read your thoughts and hypnotize you. Curtain time is 8 p.m., at the Lowell Senior High Gymnasium. Tickets are Adults, $1.50 in advance; $2.00 at the door, children and students, $1.50 anytime. Tickets available at the High School.

This Week's Mystery Picture

Board members discussed ways to bring the importance of the coming Special Education Election on October 1, before the voting public.

This issue was defeated last Spring by a very narrow margin and the board seemed to feel that perhaps one reason was that it appeared on the ballot with another issue and that the urgency was not fully understood.

Only one-quarter mill is being asked . . . which amounts to a mere 25 cents per year for every thousand dollars of property valuation. For example, if your property is assessed at $10,000, then you would only pay $2.50 per year.

The importance of the issue is that the State has stipulated that all exceptional or hand capped children receive the Special Education necessary to help them live fuller and more meaningful lives.

Many of the State Institutions that formerly handled these children (such as Coldwater and Lapeer) are now being closed to them and the County must take over their education. In order to do this, the Kent County facilities must be expanded but the cost will be spread over the entire county which is why the millage request is so low.

This will be the only issue on the ballot and the local board went on record as urgently, unanimously and wholeheartedly recommending a "yes" vote October 1.

A recommendation to hire a deputized crossing guard at the railroad tracks on Foreman Road leading to the new Middle School was next discussed. Although the City has started working on the sidewalk, at this point students must still walk on the side of the road and are interferring with both cars and buses.

During the first opening days, a terrific traffic jam resulted and, aithough this has been somewhat alleviated, it it felt that some students are still intentionally creating problems and others are careless.

A deputized guard to control both cars and children would actually have the power to arrest, if necessary, plus do more to insure the safety of students at the train track where there is no definite train schedule.

The question arose as to whether or not the school would be legally allowed to pay for a guard to enforce public safety off from the school grounds.

ity of running shuttle buses from the Runciman area whereby students living in Lowell could board buses that had just dropped off students at Runciman and ride over to the Middle School.

It was also mentioned that the City had halted its plans for widening Foreman Road since the apparent congestion has given the City Council second thoughts as to whether their original plan to expand the road would actually be wide enough.

Along with this was some discussion on the possibil-

The board ordered a survey of the high school football field since, although a deed was issued to the school in 1966, it is not shown on the map because the County does not feel that the description is accurate.

Replacement of the football field lighting was to begin this week on the west side of the field and it is hoped that at least one side will be complete before the Red Arrow's first game with Ionia Friday night.

Although bids were received for the new school pickup truck, it was decided to reject all those submitted since the board felt that all local companies should have submitted bids and, because they did not, the board did not have a fair representation of what is available. It was decided to open up the bidding to firms in the surrounding area as well as Lowell to obtain a better representation.

Near the close of the meeting Board Member Blanche Mullen spoke of a Grand Rapids Parent Effectiveness Training program she had observed, suggesting that perhaps Lowell parents might be interested in having such a course offered as part of its night adult education program this year.

Mrs. Mullen also mentioned a study of which she had read which took place in several Texas Schools w where "characte: coucation" is taught. Texas students in these classes were stimulated to think about behavior and what is right and what is wrong.

Supt. Sinke replied that, individually, teachers do delve into character education in our system although it has never been set aside as a spearate course.

One parent in the audience was heard to remark that in view of the Watergate confusion as to what's right and what's wrong, it might not be a bad idea to set up a separate course!

Jack And The Beanstalk Lives

Who says that Jack and the Beanstalk was a fairy tale? Two local men, Walter Hamp and Albert Kerr, are beginning to have second thoughts about that tale. Last week they harvested a 50", 14 pound bean that had been growing near their homes. Walt Hamp, and his neighbor Albert Kerr of 11931

Four Mile Road planted a few beans in their yards this spring and waited anxiously for the results. The beans are a variety known as New Guinea Beans and grow rapidly.

The latest harvest from the yard of Albert Kerr yielded the 14 pounder which measured 14¼" at the largest point. Mr. Kerr explained that the bean grew up to 5" within a 24 hour period when the conditions were right.

The large beans can be stewed or fried as they resemble squash. How do they taste? According to Walt Hamp, "Delicious!"

clear and winds calm. 3. If the mast is fastened to a house or other structure, make sure that the structure is strong enough to carry the added weight-allowing for wind, ice and vibration.

4. The mast should be securely anchored and should not lean in any direction. 5. If your antenna mast is more than ten feet high, strengthen it with at least three equally spaced guy wires made of rust-resistant cable, such as stranded, galvanized steel. Add a set of guy wires every ten feet on taller masts. 6. To prevent lightning accidents, place a lightning arrester-one approved by the Underwriters' Laboratories for TV leads-on each conductor of a ribbon lead. 7. Have your entire TV installation checked once a year by a qualified serviceman. That's the best way to get good reception on all channels and to protect yourself and your family against accidents.

Changes In Earnings Should Be Reported

Working people under age 72 getting social security ayments should report any changes in their earlier 1973 earnings estimates as soon as possible, according to Raymond C. Backus, social security district manager in Grand Rapids

"Earnings don't affect social security payments to people 72 and over," Mr. Backus said, "But earnings can affect payments to people under age 72. They should report any change in their work or earnings on he postcard that is sent to all people who work and get social security checks."

If the postcard is lost, a visit or phone call to any social security office can take care of the report, Mr Backus said. The Grand Rapids social security office is at Room 399, Federal Building, 110 Michigan, N.W. Telephone 456-2241.

"People who report they will earn less than they originally estimated may get additional social security payments during the year," Mr. Backus stated. "But people who earn more than they originally estimated and do not report the change, may get social security checks not due them and have to repay money at the end of the year."

Earnings of $2,100 or less for the year do not affect social security payments. When earnings go over $2,100, social security payments are reduced $1 for each $2 earned.

"No matter how much you earn in a year," Mr. Backus stated, "you can get your full social security payment for any month you neither earn over $175 nor do substantial work in your own business."

Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan J. Blough of Clarksville announce the engagement of their daughter, Shirley Ann, to Hillis Craig Stuart.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hillis N. Stuart of Portland, Michigan.

No definite wedding date has been set by Miss Blough and her fiance.

Five Digits 19331. . .

The Zip Code-the five-digit number following the tate in United States addresses-now appears on more than 85 percent of first class mail, according to Lowell stmaster Charlie Doyle.

He said the coding of mail has become even more nportant in recent months with a growing share of st class letters sorted on machines equipped with the Zip Mail Translator (ZMT).

"With this computerized unit, the letter sorting maine operator simply keys the Zip Code appearing on e envelope," Postmaster Doyle said. "The Zip Code is then 'translated' so the envelope is routed to the bin which will give it the best transportation." he said Previously postal clerks were required to learn the complex local and regional sorting schemes that are now carried in the ZMT computer. Postmaster Doyle said that Zip Code usage is running about 85 percent on first class mail going from one business to another. "The mail from the average family to businesses does much better, however, with the percentage nearing 90 percent," he said. "This reflects the near universal use of Zip Code on business stationery, including return address, order forms, coupons, reply envelopes, etc."

He said that Zip.Code use by other classes of mail includes: Airmail letters, 91 percent, and parcel post, 96 percent. The use of Zip Code had been mandatory since 1967 for second class and bulk third class rates,

DRAFT REGISTRATION

High schools, post offices and other public buildings will be ablaze with multi-colored posters in September to inform young men that (1) they must still register for the draft at age 18, and (2) they must notify their local board of any change of address.

This is all part of a nation-wide Selective Service effort to help young men comply with the draft law even though inductions have been halted by Congress. The law requires registration of males at age 18. Local draft boards will classify registrants and maintain an available pool of manpower in case any national emergency requires resumption of inductions.

Boating Accident On Morrison Lake Claims One Life

Thrown from what officers said was an overpowered 14-foot outboard boat about 2:43 a.m. Sunday, a 56year-old Morrison lake resident's body was recovered from the water about eleven hours after the mishap.

Barry County scuba diving deputies located the body of Joseph Richards about 2 p.m. in a heavy weed growth in 15 feet of water. It was approximately 25 feet from the ten-foot square raft hit by the speeding boat while running in the dark on the lake in a counter clockwise direction.

Drivers of the boat, reportedly powered with an 85 horsepower motor, was Terrence F. Richards, 22, of Morrison Lake. A second passenger in the boat was William Bustance, 21, of Grand Rapids, according to offi-

Officers said the boat owners had been cited for several marine law violations September 2 at 3 p.m. At the time the owners were warned not to operate the boat on the lake until it was equipped properly under Michigan's marine law, with proper life jackets, fire extinguishers and licenses, said Sheriff Newton.

It is apparent from the county sheriff department report the deceased man was not wearing a life jacket. Sheriff O. Gary Newton explained the boat apparently was planing nose-high and struck the floating raft about four feet back from the nose, throwing both Bustance and the elderly Richards from the boat. The driver and younger passenger then reportedly swam about 80 feet to shore.

Deputy medical examiner Edwin Roetman of Ionia reported Richards was dead at the scene. The body was removed to Palmer-Bush Funeral Home in Lansing where funeral arrangements were being made.

Netherlands Was Summer Home

I've been back in America a week now and it's hard to believe I ever left. My whole summer seems like just a dream. I had such a great time I didn't want to come home and, of course, I'm planning to go back as soon as possible

I lived with my family in Staalskanaal, Netherlands It is in the north of the country, about 30 minutes from the German border. My family considered it a new city and it was 300 years old. They also thought it was very small with a population of 20,000. My family consisted of my mom and dad, a younger brother, Pim, 15, and 2 sisters, Inge, 18, and Rena 21. My sis-ter Inge left July 31 for America and is now living in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, for a year, so I hope to visit her sometime.

My mother and father were both physiotherapists and had their practice behind the house. In the Nether lands, people that are self-employed usually have their business behind their homes or else live above it. Since it is unusual for a woman to work my mother had a reputation for being as she says, "a terrible woman." Also, she would fix dinner in half an hour instead of two or three, which caused a lot of gossip.

The day after I arrived we left to go on vacation. My family had a house trailer and a sailboat which they kept in a trailer park. Because there is so much inland water the park is built around the water and the people keep their boats right outside their trailers. My family had a sailboat you could live and sleep on so for three days they took me sailing on the Pooelmeer which was part of the sea until they separated it by a dike and is now fresh water. It was the first time I had ever been sailing and although I suffered a few minutes of seasickness, I loved it. My parents usually sailed every weekend from Easter until October and lots of time had to go through ice.

One night at supper, a few days before I was supposed to leave, my mother asked me if I regretted coming. At first I thought she must be joking. It was the most fantastic experience of my life, one I shall never forget or regret. Thanks so much to everyone who helped make it possible.

Dear Editor,

I am writing in regard to the letter written by Mrs. C. Moore that appeared in last week's edition of the Ledger

Mis. Moore, do you ever make mistakes? Chances are if you're human you do. I can understand your getting upset at your mechanic but he is human also. I'm sure if you give him another chance he will correct

The people who spend their money in Lowell have many things to look forward to. One is a smiling clerk who always greets you by name. Another is not having to show identification everytime you cash a check. And how about taking home clothes on approval without paying one penny and bringing them back when it is most convenient for you? Also, I wonder how many people have called the local businessmen at home and asked them to open their stores after hours just because they forgot to pick up something they needed. Mrs. Moore, if you can get this kind of service any place else, I would suggest that you shop and do your Confining them doesn't help much. A dog near where I now live, surveys the neighborhood from the roof of her kennel inside a wire enclosure. I think she has telescopic eyes; she seems to alert every dog within a half-mile radius

P.S. I love dogs and believe they can be trained not to bark. If there is a dog catcher in town it might help to publish his or her phone number.

Central's Cheering Squad Ready For '73 Season

During the 1973-74 school year, athletic events at the Forest Hills Central High School will be highlighted by the appearance of eight energetic girls who will lead the fans in a series of team supporting cheers. On the Varsity cheering squad are Cindy Andrews, Diane Anderson, Wendy Champion, Gwynne Glasco, LuAnn Niedenthal, Karen Soderberg, Kathy Sypien and Carol VanArtsen.

Their award winning manuevers are done under the advisorship of Mrs. Jane Ogilvis. Also appearing at home games will be the Ranger's Varsity band, under the direction of Marion Sander son, who will spark enthusiasm when they play the school's theme, "The Spartan Fight Song," from Michigan State.

Snagging Allowed In Limited Areas

New regulations allowing snagging of salmon in lim-ited areas will greet fall fishermen in western Michigan and a record run of chinook and steelhead is expected ahead for the eastern Michigan anglers. As in past years, large concentrations of fishermen, and fish, are expected along Consumers Power Company riverlands that are open to the public for recreational activities. Effective September 1, fish snagging will be allowed in sections of seven western Michigan rivers. Included in the areas open for snagging are sections downstream from Consumers Power Company's Tippy Dam on the Manistee River and Croton Dam on the Muskegon River. Snagging will be allowed during September and October from Tippy about one-mile downstream to posted signs, while the Muskegon is open to snagging from

Croton to signs about one-mile downstream. The Croton area is open from September 1 through November

Other rivers that have limited sections open to snag-ging are the Manistique, Grand, Kalamazoo, St. Joseph and Cass Rivers.

Snagging is illegal on all other state waterways and Department of Natural Resources officers will take enforcement action on snaggers in conventional hook and line only waters.

On the Au Sable River in eastern Michigan, fishing is expected to start reaching its peak for chinook during the last half of September and run through October. No coho runs are expected on the Au Sable this year and only a few Atlantic salmon are expected to be caught

Throughout the years, the utility has allowed recreation enthusiasts to use some of its riverland property for fishing, boating and camping. The camping is allow ed only in designated areas where adequate health and safety facilities are provided. Sportsmen who are concerned about maintaining the natural environment will pay special attention to three common problems on the riverlands-littering, fire damage and erosion.

Government Is Getting Out Of Agriculture

The Government is very rapidly getting out of agri-culture, according to Walter Wittenbach, Chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

For the first time since 1940, the Government has no wheat in storage and for the first time since 1948. it has no corn in storage. Today we have an honest market governed by the law of supply and demand which the public and press have been demanding for many vears

Most of the CCC bins have been dismantled and sold. More than ever before farmers are storing their grain on their own farms. By doing so they can seli their grain when the price reaches its peak rather than at harvest time when the price is normally much lower. Wittenbach stated that as supplies of grain have tightened, it has become somewhat common for some to discredit and denounce agricultural exports. We have had a record growth in our shipments to other countries. This is very important to every U.S. citizen. We are still in a very serious payment deficit with other countries. We have to export if we are to continue to import the foreign goods that the people of our country demand. This includes such things as foreign automobiles electronics, photographic equipment, specialty and reg-ular foods and fuel. We are highly dependent on other nations for fuel as we are for many other goods and services.

With the increase in demand abroad for food, we will probably have to pay higher prices for food if we want gas to power our automobiles.

Ford Reveals Academies Have Six Openings

Two appointments to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point and four appointments to the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis are available to young men of the Fifth Congressional District, Congressman Geraid R. Ford has announced.

These all-expense college scholarships are open to high school seniors and graduates who are interested in careers in the armed services of the United States. In addition, applicants must be U.S. citizens, under 22 years of age, unmarried, and able to pass the physical and and scholastic requirements.

- Applications for these positions may be obtained from Congressman Ford's office at 720 Federal Building, 110 Michigan Avenue, N.W., in Grand Rapids (456-9607) and from his Washington, D. C. office. The dead-
- line for filing the applications is September 25. Ford suggested that boys interested in the Air Force Academy also fill out applications in the event openings develop.

Funeral Directors Publish Booklet

Michigan Funeral Directors have taken another step forward to create a better understanding of its role as community service leaders.

The latest in a series of positive moves to acquaint the public as to the guidance and service it performs, in a profession sometimes misunderstood, is the publication of a unique bookelet, "Funeral Etiquette and Procedures."

The booklet is being made available by the Michigan Funeral Directors Association through its members in cities throughout Michigan, stated Robert Zaagman, Grand Rapids, President of the state organization.

"The booklet was prepared as a convenient reference for families on modern funeral practices and customs." Mr. Zaagman added. "Touching on all areas of funeral etiquette, it offers guidelines on social responsibilities at the time of a person's death."

The uniqueness of the educational booklet is that it spells out in lay language, the meaningful function the funeral directors profession performs for individuals who will sometime in their life's span need their guidance and service.

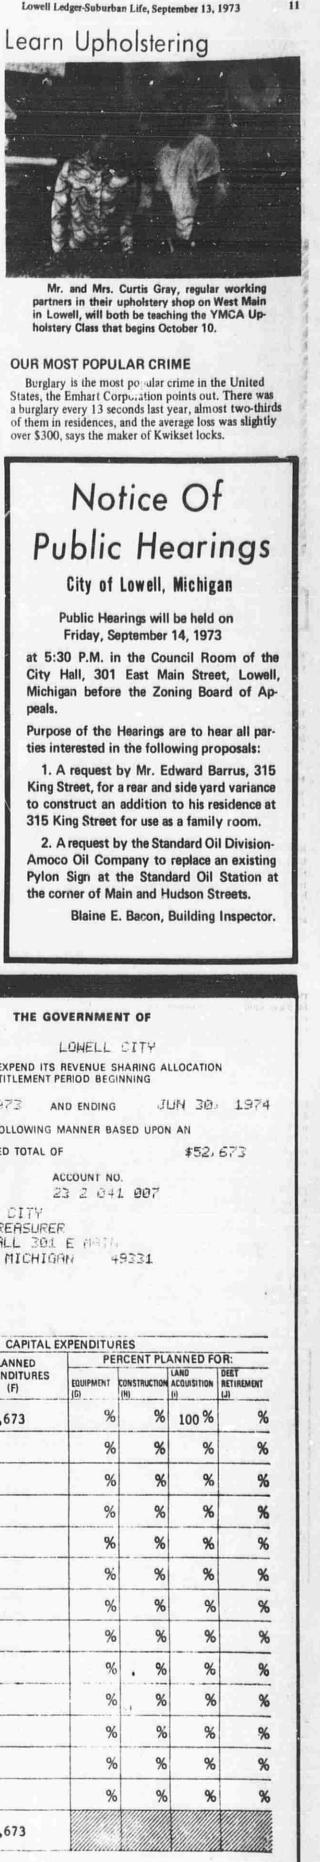

This booklet is free. Copies may be obtained from a local funeral director or by sending a request to the Michigan Funeral Directors Association, 230 North Washington, Lansing, Mich. 48933.

Counties To Pay

Counties have to pay the witness fees and mileage allowances for preliminary examinations and criminal trials involving state laws in local district courts, Michigan Court of Appeals has ruled.

The court said "Since witness fees in criminal cases are matters of procedure and not organization or jurisdiction," the counties are liable for the payments.

Ada Dam Hearing Delayed By Court

Circuit Court Judge Roman J. Snow last Friday ad-journed a hearing dealing with establishing a normal water level behind Ada dam on the motion of Kent County Drain Commissioner Frank Bouma who stated more time was needed to study the effects of the present water level.

Judge Snow, in 1968 set the water level back of the dam at 635.8 feet above sea level on Bouma's petition, but last winter ice jams caused flooding problems for residents living along the Thornapple River.

"I lowered the water level without court permission because of the flooding," said Bouma, "and now all I want from the courts is their blessing that I can lower that level about two feet in the event there is another emergency situation."

Bouma filed that petition June 21, but it caused un-rest in the Thornapple River Association which feared lowering the level will affect docks and boat houses.

New electronic devices have been installed in the dam and George Cook, Kent County legal counsel, filed a motion to adjourn the case until next summer to see if the devices actually can maintain the water level and prevent ice flooding.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the Roth-Gerst Funeral Home of Lowell for William (Bud)
