Mystery Picture

Last week's mystery picture of the students at Valley School in Vergennes Township, seemed unrecognizable as no one correctly guessed 'all' of the students—Leo Richmond, James Wright, Donna Wright, John Wright, Ray Onan, Florence Richmond, Mildred Howe, Arnold Stauffer, Goldie Vandebroek, Fred Howe, Rudi (Danny) Stauffer and teacher, Miss Frances Clark.

This week's mystery photo can be identified at 'noon' on Friday by calling 897-9261.

Upseeded Areas Hydro Mulched

Hydraulic Mulching . . . the most modern method known today in new lawn plantings is being installed in areas upseeded to make way for the city's new storm sewer lines.

Under the careful supervision of the Gillessee Construction, contractors for the project, mulching began in areas on the city's west side last week.

Hydraulic mulching is a relatively new process whereby seed, water, fertilizer and a wood fiber mulch are mixed together and applied over the ground. In one application, the ground is seeded, fertilized and watered.

The soft, green mat that covers new lawn areas, is a cellulose wood fiber that performs three functions—water retention, soil retention and protection.

As the lawn grows, and become established, hydro mulch will gradually decompose and add nourishment to the soil. Because hydro mulch is a processed mulch, foreign seeds and other waste material are not introduced into the lawn.

Since removal of hydro mulch is not required, the messy clean up operation and loose blowing debris that results from other mulches is eliminated.

Come Spring, Lowell residents will be faced with the job of caring for their new lawns. A helpful booklet covering watering, fertilizing, mowing, weed control, rolling, pest control, diseases and maintaining shaded areas can be obtained by Lowell residents by writing to Gillessee Construction Company, Box 278, Grandville, Michigan. 49418.

Time For Shots . . .

Persons planning on influenza immunization should see their physician and schedule them for completion by mid-November, according to Dr. W.B. Prothro, Kent County Health Department Director.

"The flu season usually starts toward the end of December and peaks around the end of January. To be effective, the immunization should be completed at least six weeks prior to the expected season," Dr. Prothro said.

"While it is too early to forecast how severe an influenza season we will have, immunizations are recommended for older persons in general and those with heart, lung and respiratory disease, as well as those with major chronic diseases," Prothro concluded.

Mrs. Wm. (Laura) Kerekes has retired at the age of 81 after working full time for the Lowell Specialties Company for the past ten years.

A party in her honor was given by her co-workers last Thursday night at the Showboat Restaurant.

She will be missed by all who had the privilege of working with her, for as one co-worker expressed it "You feel you are a better person just having known her," a fine tribute to a lovely lady.

Cascade Fire Department To Hold Open House

In observance of Fire Prevention Week, October 7-13, the Cascade Fire Department will hold three open houses at their facilities in Cascade.

In making the announcement Fire Chief Grover Buttrick said the firemen will greet guests Monday, October 8, and Thursday, October 11, in the evening from 7 to 9, and Saturday, October 13, from 2 to 4 p.m.

Another phase of fire prevention incorporated by the Cascade Department has been made through elementary schools in the Cascade area. Here, the firemen explain in detail, precautions, circumstances, and prevention to their young listeners.

Chief Buttrick stated that any group interested in this safety program can contact him at 949-1379 or any fireman.

No-Fault . . . Mandatory and Confusing . . .

Governor William Milliken calls no-fault auto insurance an "extremely important development for everyone who uses our state's streets and highways."

Michigan's No-Fault Insurance Information Council says no-fault will cause "the most revolutionary change in the auto insurance system . . . in the nation."

And more than one Michigan motorist has received vague, confusing and even conflicting answers when trying to learn what no-fault is all about.

Effective Monday, whether you understand it or not, if you drive a car, you are covered by no-fault insurance.

Those driving without insurance face loss of both driver and vehicle licenses, a fine of up to $500, and up to a year in jail.

What, then, is no-fault? In this article, the Ledger, with help from the No-Fault Information Council, will attempt to explain the major portions of the no-fault law.

The Information Council is very much in favor of no-fault and obviously any information it supplies would cast the system in a good light. Still, the information is factual and serves as an excellent starting point for those trying to understand no-fault.

It's Mandatory

There are three types of insurance you must have—personal injury protection, property protection and liability coverage.

Personal injury protection—
This coverage pays all reasonable medical and hospital expenses and up to $36,000 over three years from income loss resulting from an auto accident—regardless of who is at fault.

In short, if you are injured in an accident, your insurance company pays all of your hospital bills—for life, if necessary—plus the cost of occupational rehabilitation.

Income loss benefit (which is tax free) is 85% of an injured person's earnings up to $1,000 a month for up to three years.

There's also a stipulation that allows for up to $20 a day (for up to three years) for child care.

Property protection—your insurance company will pay for any damage you do to legally parked cars and non-vehicular property (houses, for instance) but this coverage does not pay for damage done to your own car. For this you will still need collision coverage (optional) which is explained later.

This coverage has $1 million limit in case you hit a gas tank and blow up a neighborhood.

Liability coverage—just as before—protects you against lawsuits with minimum limits of $20,000 per person, $40,000 per accident and $10,000 property damage.

Although the victim's insurer will pay for all medical expenses and income loss for three years, he can still sue you if you were at fault in an accident that caused him death, permanent disfigurement or serious impairment of body function.

It will be up to the courts to define "serious impairment," "body function," and "permanent disfigurement."

Collision Clause

No-fault provisions make it mandatory that you are adequately covered in case of injury. But, except for the already mentioned absolute liability coverage on properly parked cars, no-fault eliminates fault recovery for damage to vehicles.

More simply, you can't collect from another driver if he is at fault for damage to your car. Thus, to recover damage done to your car, you will need collision insurance.

Because of this change, most companies will be offering some options in addition to the familiar deductible collision insurance.

Limited collision coverage—Designed for the person who wants protection only against the carelessness of another.

Limited collision coverage will pay only for damage caused when someone else is at fault.

Broadened collision coverage—This coverage pays regardless of who is at fault but applies a deductible if you or nobody is at fault. Some insurance officials feel that broadened collision will be too expensive for the limited amount of protection it offers.

Why No-Fault?

Prompt, sure payment of all medical expenses and substantial recovery for loss of income for anyone injured in an auto accident is the primary objective of Michigan's no-fault law," according to the Information Council.

Payments for Personal Injury benefits are to be made by the insurance company as the expenses occur. An accident injury victim need only provide his insurer with reasonable proof of injury and amount of loss.

The Information Council says copies of bills and a claim form signed by the victim should usually suffice for "reasonable" proof.

Payments delayed by an insurance company for more than 30 days after reasonable proof are subject

Ledger Temporarily Short Of Space

The Lowell Ledger-Suburban Life is faced with a serious situation regarding the shortage of newsprint, the product used to publish this newspaper.

As a result, we must by necessity reduce the number of pages we print and this, then, cuts down the amount of news we are able to publish.

We ask persons who submit articles to keep their stories down to a minimum.

It is our hope this situation will ease somewhat in the near future. We ask your understanding when news items ordinarily carried in our columns do not appear, or stories are cut to fit space available.

SEEN ABOUT TOWN . . .

Former Lowell residents, Bill and Madelyn Christiansen were spied in town this week visiting friends in the area. Now residents of Palmetto, Florida the Christiansens are engaged in the art of reproducing antique leaded glass lamps.

BANK AND POST OFFICE CLOSED FOR COLUMBUS DAY . . .

The Lowell Post Office will be closed Monday, October 8, Columbus Day. The post office lobby will be open for the convenience of lock-box customers. One collection of out-going mail will be made at 3 p.m. No rural or city delivery that day.

Lowell State Savings Bank will also close for Monday's observance of Columbus Day but will be open for business as usual on Tuesday.

WILL APPEAR ON TV PROGRAM . . .

Several members of the West Central Michigan Historical Society will appear on the Channel 3 'Accent' program Friday, October 12 to publicize the Arts and Crafts Show October 13 and 14 at Fallsburg Park.

PUT AND TAKE . . .

The 'Put and Take' pheasant season opened last week and includes the State-owned land northeast of Lowell. But it's a sure thing that there are more beer and pop cans littering the area than birds and it would be nice if those that 'put' them there would also 'take' them away.

DON'T FORGET TO REGISTER . . .

Last day to register for the November 6 election is Friday, October 5. City office will be open on that day from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m.

Forest Hills Central Plans Open House

Annual Open House at Forest Hills Central High School—October 15, at 7 p.m.

Parents are invited to the Annual Open House at which time they may attend their child's classes and meet his teachers. Students will not attend.

Parents will meet in the Multi-purpose Building where the plans for the evening will be explained, and at 7:30 classes will begin.

Refreshments will be served in the Multi-purpose at the close of classes.

to 12% interest. A company must also pay its policyholder's attorney's fee if the court finds unreasonable refusal or delay of payment.

Lawsuits against negligent drivers can still be initiated. But, since all medical payments are covered by the policyholder's company, flimsy cases (often the result of "ambulance chasing" lawyers) should decline.

In the event of a legitimate lawsuit, the policyholder can afford to wait for a fair settlement since he probably won't be in a financial bind.

In Effect

On October 1, all car insurance policies were automatically adjusted to conform with the new law.

Beginning Monday, no one will be allowed to drive without insurance. The Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund, financed by annual $45 payments from uninsured drivers, will be phased out as it pays existing claims.

Whether or not you'll pay more for your no-fault policy than you have paid in the past will depend largely upon individual cases and what options you choose. People are still undecided as to whether no-fault premiums, on the average, will be higher.

In case you were wondering, even a pedestrian (without car insurance) who is struck by a hit and run driver is covered under the no-fault law. He would be taken care of by the Assigned Claims fund financed by all automobile insurance companies.

Certainly, this presents a rosy (although incomplete) picture of no-fault. Of course, there is the other side.

Watch the Ledger next week, for more information on Michigan's new no-fault law. pro and con.

Pedestrian Struck

A 12-year-old girl is reported in good condition at Blodgett Memorial Hospital with an arm fracture sustained when she was struck by a car about 4 p.m. Friday at Cascade Road, SE, and Forest Hills Avenue.

Barbara Dean of 657 Forest Hills Avenue, SE, was walking north at the intersection when struck by a car driven by Lillian M. Wert, 54 of Alto, Kent County Sheriff's deputies reported.

According to the deputies, Barbara had just stepped off the curb when the accident occurred. The driver was not injured.

Jane's Jabber Caught In A Web

Through the years we have had our fair share of the usual household pets—including some not usually in the domestic category.

There was the baby woodchuck, nursed back to life with the aid of a doll-sized baby bottle, but who despite all efforts of its young nurse-doctor, expired, due probably to internal complications.

There was the fallen baby sparrow, bereft of feathers, so new it was. Fed with an eyedropper at first, then small bits of strawberries and succulent insects, it feathered out and soon reached the fledging stage. By day it would perch in a large grape branch provided for its comfort on the screened porch—safe and secure. When it came time for flight training, we had a reluctant pupil.

The day finally arrived when, with some encouragement from its young trainer, plus the inborn instinct to try its wings, the first feeble, fluttery attempts were made. Lacking navigational skills, after a flight of only a few feet, the little orphan would return to the shoulder of its foster mother. But each day, as it gained strength and courage, we knew our fully fledged fledgling would be leaving its nest—away to make a life of its own.

Unfortunately, fate, in the form of the family cat, intervened. Up to this time, great care had been taken that the two should never meet. One day the cat escaped out the door during a flight training session. And though a hundred yard dash was run in pursuit of cat and bird, the cat won, and the sparrow came to an untimely end. It was given full burial rites—as would befit any fallen sparrow. The cat did not attend.

"We have had an assortment of dogs and cats, puppies and kittens . . . some invited . . . some uninvited. But once here, here they seemed to stay."

There was old 'Sarge,' who wandered in one cold January day. A large critter of undetermined heritage, he was almost bare of fur. Pigeon-toed, with a tail that looked as though moths had had a feast, he shook continuously on quivering legs. Those first few nights after he arrived were bitterly cold, but in a warm bed of straw, with all the blankets that could be spared, his new mistress would sit late into the night, massaging life back into this strange canine creature. It is said that beauty is only skin deep and so it was with 'Sarge.' He remained forever grateful for any little kindness for all the years he was with us.

A combination of our 'Girl of the Limberlost' and 'Dr. Switzer' has managed, amid splutterings of "get that cat out of here" or "your dog just dug another hole in my garden," to weather the complaints with a certain aplomb—secure, no doubt, in the knowledge that the 'spitterer' was also a sucker for soft brown eyes and a cold wet nose.

This involvement with a variety of creatures and critters really hit its zenith this summer when a large orange-red spider had spun a web among my zinnias. Lacking a certain empathy for spiders—or any insect—my first inclination was to dispose of it as quickly as possible. However, 'Dr. Switzer' was present during my moment of discovery and after a long lecture on the spider's place in the total scheme of things, 'Charlotte' remained—with web intact.

There are now two more—great fat ugly things—spinning their days away, creating their intricate webs and waiting for their prey. But, humans too, can get caught in a web—I discovered the second one the other day, fastened to the porch light. And though I had a broom in hand—and could easily have brushed him away—I thought of Dr. Switzer—and Charlotte—and let her stay.

Simple Bill Vetoes

A minor bill (House Bill 4124) to define legally a road shoulder became so distorted in the Legislature before passage that Governor Milliken had to veto it. The State Department of Highways and Transportation (new name) said it would have a catastrophic effect on Michigan industry.

The amended measure would have limited the authority of the Department to issue special permits for overweight or oversized industrial vehicles. The bill also would have allowed permits for moving 14-foot-wide mobile homes across the Mackinac Bridge. Milliken said he agreed with the intent of the bill but felt the Legislature went too far. . . . The Legislature is in recess until mid-October; it is one of nine out of 49 state legislatures still with time on its hands.

Cascade Board Approves Opposed Zoning Change

The rezoning of 131 acres, east of the Kent County Airport, for development of a 275-unit mobile home park and a nine-hole golf course was approved last Wednesday by the Cascade Township Board.

The Board voted for the proposal at the conclusion of a public hearing 6 to 0, with only Trustee Joseph Popma abstaining.
Developer Jack Smith requested rezoning of the parcel, which extends 600 feet back from the Thornapple River, from R1, residential and agricultural, to D1, planned development.

The Kent County Aeronautics Board opposed the rezoning at a hearing before the Cascade Planning Commission in July because of the noise factor (for residents of the proposed mobile home park) and because of possible future airport expansion to the east.

But the Aeronautics Board set aside an offer by Smith last month to sell the land to the airport for $2,500 an acre pending consideration of the County Planning Commission and the Township Board.

Smith told township officials an independent survey he had made indicated a large truck passing the site made more noise than low flying planes approaching the airport for landings. The property lies north of 48th Street and is bounded by Burger Drive, SE, the Thornapple River and Int. 96.

The county and township planning bodies can merely recommend action. Final say is with the township board, so its approval gives Smith a green light for development. Next step for him is submission of detailed plans to the township planning commission and obtaining county and state health department approval for water and sanitation facilities.

October Is National Immunization Month

The Kent County Health Department is cooperating with the U.S. Center for Disease Control, and leading medical groups in promoting National Immunization Action Month during October, according to Dr. W.B. Prothro, Kent County Health Department Director.

The campaign has been stimulated by the 1972 National Immunization Survey, which revealed that: (1) The percentage of children under five years of age fully protected against polio is at its lowest level for the past nine years (62.9%). (2) The percentage vaccinated against measles in the same group is no better (62.2%), while the percent vaccinated against rubella is only 56.9%.

For families that do not have a physician the Health Department conducts free Immunizations Clinic. Area residents can be immunized at the East Kent Community Center, 10763 Grand River Drive, Lowell, 9 to 11 a.m. the second and fourth Monday of the month.

Urges Efficient Fertilizer Use

Because of anticipated tight supplies, the efficient use of fertilizers this fall and next spring is of vital importance to Michigan farmers, according to Walter Wittenbach, Chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committees.

Farmers should begin now to make every effort to conserve and make efficient use of plant nutrients. They should use soil tests to determine crop nutrient requirements, rather than just pouring it on, Wittenbach said.

Pointing out that the Cooperative Extension Service is expanding its education activities in this area, Wittenbach said that ASCS is providing support in getting information to farmers.

In addition to soil testing, farmers are also being encouraged to plan fertilizer needs well in advance and to discuss them with suppliers. Wittenbach said. With a more accurate indication of local fertilizer needs, suppliers will hopefully be able to provide their customers with the plant foods they need.

Farmers should correct the PH, or acidity, level of their soil to gain optimum results from fertilizer materials, Wittenbach said. Soil test results, along with guidance from the County Extension Agent or their supplier, will indicate the corrective application needed to adjust the PH level. Farmers should also make maximum use of manure and crop residue.

Wittenbach noted that a primary factor responsible for tight fertilizer supplies is expanded crop production planned for 1974 in response to growing domestic and export requirements for farm commodities.

Record Enrollment

Harold Feringa, Junior College Registrar, has announced that a record number of students have enrolled for the fall term. Total number of students is 5,676 as compared to a previous high of 5,568 for 1971-72. Of this total, 2,589 are females and 3,087 are males.

Feringa attributed part of the increase in enrollment to the fact that Grand Rapids Junior College is offering evening classes in Cadillac, Coonville High School, Grandville, Jenison, Lowell, Middleville, and Rockford. In-plant classes are being given at General Motors (Fisher Body No. 2), Lear-Stiegler, and at Butterworth Hospital.

Senator Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) has proposed a sliding-scale tax on new automobiles based on their rate of fuel consumption.

Under the bill, a tax would be imposed beginning in 1976 on cars that get less than 20 miles to the gallon. Percy said in Washington that the proposed tax would encourage development of fuel-efficient cars, provide revenues for energy research, and stimulate conservation of fuel.

Born in VanWert County, Ohio, October 1, 1885, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Marker. He received his degree in veterinarian medicine in 1915 and was in general practice until he retired in 1924.

January 1, 1908, he was married in Ohio to Lela L. Proff and she died February 12, 1956. He moved to Saranac in 1912.

Wet Pavement Causes One Car Accident

Rain-dicked pavement on M-21, nearly a mile west of Johnson Road at 6 p.m. last Tuesday resulted in injury to one passenger in an eastbound vehicle driven by a 15-year-old Saranac girl, despite a mature person riding in the front.

Injured was Terri Kauffman, 16, of Saranac, who indicated to troopers she would seek her own medical attention.

When the driver lost control on the wet pavement after rounding a curve, the car skidded into a reflector post, then a mailbox in front of the home of Clifford Van Ocker.

The driver was cited by officers for violation of the basic speed law.

Alpha Omega Players Returning To Lowell

Was Joan of Arc truly a saint? Or was she a constant thorn in the side of the church, both of whom finally were forced to consign her to be burned.

at the stake to regain their own authority? George Bernard Shaw ponders this question in his drama, "Saint Joan," which the Alpha-Omega Players will present Sunday, October 28, in the Lowell United Methodist Church at 7 p.m.

"Saint Joan" is the stirring story of Joan of Arc's faith and inspiration, and it vividly depicts her multi-faceted career from simple peasant girl, through her days as virtual leader of France, to her final fate at the stake in Rouen. The roles of the men in her history add excitement to this unusual event in the theater. They are the pompous Squire de Baudricourt, staunch Captain Dunois, the sympathetic but militant churchman Laduenne, the childlike Dauphin, and the sincere but sinister Inquisitor.

The Alpha-Omega Players will be returning to Lowell for the third consecutive year. The organization has acquired a national reputation for its project of offering great drama in the church, school, and college; each year its three touring companies present more than 600 performances in virtually every state of the union.

Critics have lauded the Players for an inspirational and compelling picture of moving episodes in the life of Joan of Arc. This fast-moving presentation of effectively staged highlights from Shaw's play is the work of Drexel H. Riley, executive producer and director of the Alpha-Omega Players.

Persons interested in acting as patrons for this production are being asked to contribute $5. This will entitle them to two seats in a reserved section and attendance at a reception for the Players following the performance. General admission tickets at $1 each are available at the office of the First United Methodist Church.

The Alpha-Omega Players will also present their version of Edgar Lee Masters' "Spoon River Anthology" in an assembly for the students at Lowell High School Monday, October 29.

UNICEF Helps Children Help The Whole World

Children helping children—that's the happy UNICEF story behind the witches, ghosts and goblins who'll be ringing doorbells across the country this Halloween. When costumed youngsters extend their orange and black collection containers to welcoming citizens in thousands of U.S. communities, they'll ask help for the millions of Third World children now growing up without the proper food, health care or educational opportunities that children in the developed nations consider a basic right.

Through the help of these youngsters here at home, and the millions of adults who'll fill their cartons, many of those far away in the developing nations of Asia, Africa, Latin America and the Middle East will know better lives. From the nickels, dimes, quarters and dollars—and yes, the pennies—will come eased suffering, expanded opportunities, brighter hopes for the future.

Thanks to these Trick or Treaters, 15 million Bangladesh children will be protected against a widespread form of child blindness through regular high-potency doses of Vitamin-A provided by the United Nations Children's Fund. And UNICEF will be able to supply clean water wells for Indian villages which have previously depended upon parasite-infested ponds for their water supply.

Young people who have graduated from the excitement of "Trick or Treat" often continue their assistance to UNICEF by sponsoring a wide range of other lucrative activities. Cyclethons, cake sales, marathons, benefit concerts, block parties, car washes, service projects, even hunger "banquets"—where participants pay for the privilege of not eating and as a result help provide Third World children with the nutritious food they otherwise might not have—are signs of a flourishing UNICEF Halloween.

Last year over 3½ million young people in 50 states and on military bases in Europe and Asia raised over $3.3 million at Halloween-time to help fill that gap. This year—on or around October 31, National UNICEF Day by Presidential proclamation—they'll be out ringing doorbells again, helping UNICEF help other children far away. In a real sense, they're helping the whole world.

A few needs have surfaced at this point, including a desire for the following: small pieces of driftwood, pop tabs, all kinds of yarn, styrofoam egg cartons (all colors), old greeting cards (Christmas and all kinds), baby food jars, used furc filters (please shake out the dust if you will) ...

Also, the Workshop committees is asking you to bring homemade items for the big Christmas display table.

The main purpose of this Cat Show is to encourage children to be responsible cat owners. The cats are judged on grooming. Prizes for the most creatively decorated cages will be given, and a local veterinarian will be a speaker. Further information may be obtained by calling 538-6683 or 458-6220. The general public is especially welcome to view the show.

All proceeds will be used for the Guild's work at the Humane Society. Some of their projects include the Pet of the Week in the Sunday Grand Rapids Press and an active volunteer program at the shelter. The Humane Society is located at 1890 Bristol N.W.

Let's Pray!

During a Church League Softball game in a small Michigan town, the visitors were leading 13-10 in the bottom half of the seventh inning. The home team managed to get the bases loaded at the sacrifice of two out. Stepping into the batter's box, tapping the plate with his bat, the young baldheaded pastor took his stance.

A hush of anticipation settled over the crowd as the pitcher wound up. Suddenly from the bleachers came the high pitched voice of the batter's young daughter as she called out "Let us all Pray!"

Revised from "Life in These United States"—Reader's Digest September 1973 by Ruby Avery.

OPEN LETTER from DAVID GERST

Dear Friends,

More and more fatalities are occurring away from home because of the greater amount of travel and mobility of our people. Naturally, many more deaths are occurring away from home and posing unexpected problems of funeral arrangements. Should this unfortunate experience befall your family, we suggest that you promptly phone your local funeral director, who can then relieve you of many involved problems of transportation and burial.

Respectfully,
David Gerst

Newspaper Week

Newspaper Week, October 7-13, will be met with its share of "So-what's," but for those who like the taste of freedom, it will be a time to pay tribute to one of the most important guardians of free expression.

A newspaper's talents and responsibilities are many: It is a community soapbox, companion and entertainer on lonely evenings, bearer of both good and bad news on the local and international scenes, advertiser of needed goods and services and a governmental watchdog. Every day the thunder of the nation's presses may be heard throughout the land as a free people let their voices be heard. So it has been for 200 years. Can any other country make the same claim? The answer, of course, is "No," for an alert, articulate press is the dictator's nightmare. It is our salvation.

Perhaps the editors and their staffs may be forgiven if they brag a little during their own special week. The newspaper you hold in your hand is part of a vast, independent information network that is a main pillar in the temple of human freedom as we know it in the United States.

Beat Northern Conversion Points

A two point conversion play by Zealand against Forest Hills Northern High School last Friday night in the third period was the only difference, score wise, (8-6) at the game's end.

Northern, scoring on a six yard run by Dave Vander Boon held a 6-0 halftime lead. The point after failed, leaving room for Zealand to come roaring back.

The Huskies' quarterback, Darrel Yates, making his first appearance this season, completed six of eight passes as Northern picked up 122 yards rushing.

This Friday will find Northern at South Christian, current league leaders.

Central Losses

The Rangers of Forest Hills Central High School bowled to the Wolverines of Godwin Friday night 24-14.

Central's two scores were made on a five yard run by Tony Grochowski, and a nine yard dash by Jack Sherry.

Sherry, in the quarterback slot, completed seven of 15 tries for 62 yards.

This Friday, the Rangers will entertain Hudsonville.

Relay Teams Place In Fourteen Events

West Michigan Swim League conference finals were officially tallied this week with the Lowell YMCA Relay Teams placing in 14 of the events.

The Lowell YMCA Swim Team uses the Frank Twining King Memorial Pool each summer.

The schedule for the summer of 1974 is as follows: June 27, Lowell vs Seaville; July 4, Forest Hills vs Lowell; July 11, Lowell vs Dolphins; July 18, Lowell vs Rockford Community; July 25, Rockford Village vs Lowell; July 31 and August 2, Conference Meet.

Arrows Opener Isn't Easy . . . But Victorious

ARROWS ON THE RUN—Jeff Hendricks (50), Rusty Steffens (87) and Tom Heintzleman (13) rush to recover a Lowell fumble.

Going into a huddle, the Red Arrows make the right call for six more points.

On the sidelines—Ron Lyons (80), Bob Grummet (70), Bob Chapman (10), and Jeff Pierce (12).

CYCLE HELMET RULE

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration has issued its first standard governing crash helmets worn by cyclists. The standard, which goes into effect March 1, 1974, includes minimum specifications for shock absorption, resistance to pointed objects and levels of peripheral vision.

Also, the rule requires the initials of the Department of Transportation (DOT) to appear on the helmets as evidence they meet the standards.

Play Sparta Friday

The final scoreboard read 20-0, but it wasn't all that easy for the Red Arrows of Lowell High School as they opened their 1973 gridiron season at Cedar Springs last Friday night.

Cedar, Red Hawks, showing more punch, spirit and determination this year, proved they could move the ball, but succumbed, on several drives, to yard losing mistakes.

Defending their 1972 Tri-River championship the Red Arrows were quick to move into action when they received the opening kick off.

Marching downfield 64 yards in seven well maneuvered plays, Lowell's first score was made on a 14 yard run by Karl Higgins.

With a 6-0 lead under their belts, the Arrows smothered Cedar's charging line, sustaining all scoring efforts attempted by the Red Hawks.

Lowell's second scoreboard tally came at the start of the second quarter. A drive of 54 yards ended when Ron Lyons picked off a pass from quarterback Jeff Pierce. The fourth down play saw Lyons scamper over from the 16 yard line. The point after failed and Lowell led 12-0.

At the kickoff, Cedar began to roll, but lost control of the ball on a fumble to the title hungry Arrows.

In the final quarter a Lowell blitz shook up Cedar's quarterback, Ed August, who was removed from the field by stretcher and taken to the hospital for 8-days.

Lowell's final scoring drive was made on a one-yard quarterback sneak by Pierce, after a drive of 64 yards and 13 plays. The two point conversion was good, making the final score 20-0.

Coach Al Rowe's Arrows collected 249 yards on the ground with Higgins enjoying a 100 plus evening, rushing 119 yards in 18 carries. Teammate John Piper collected 51 yards.

Now 3-0, with two non-league and one league wins, Lowell will face Sparta, here, this Friday night at 7:30 p.m.

In other Tri-River action last week, Belding downed Greenville 12-6, and Sparta sneaked past Lakewood 8-0.

Thinclads Outrun Red Hawks

Phil Gerard, cross-country captain, and coach Tom Stahr, go over the final results of last week's winning run against Cedar Springs.

The Lowell Red Arrow's cross-country team opened its 1973 conference season with a victory over Cedar Springs at the Red Hawk's course last Tuesday by a score of 25-30. Cedar's John Totten captured first place with a winning time of 17:08 over the flat Cedar course.

The Lowell victory was assured when the next three runners to cross the finish line were Red Arrows—Mike Dey, Ben Porritt, and Craig Mulder. Freshman Dey was especially impressive in his first conference competition, staying close to Totten all the way.

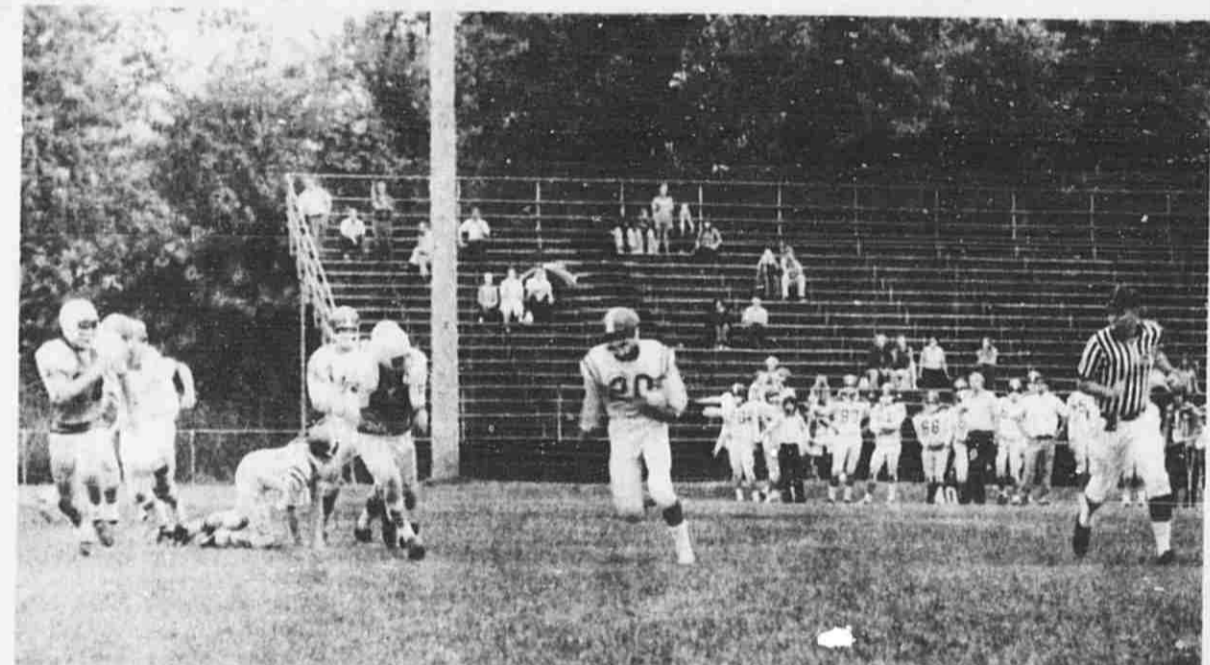

Mulder, a junior in his third year of varsity competition, withheld a last minute sprint by Cedar's Jay Elliott to edge him out by two seconds at the finish. Phil Gerard and Jerry Gauger rounded out Lowell's top five finishers.

In other Tri-River action last week, Greenville continued its winning ways with a 15-48 victory over winless Belding; while undefeated Lakewood triumphed over Sparta, 18-43.

This is destined to be a busy week for the Red Arrows. Tuesday, they travel to Sparta, and Thursday they take on Belding at the Redskin's course at Fallsburg Park.

Students Honored For High Performance On Merit Qualifying Test

Letters of Commendation honoring them for their high performance on the 1972 Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) have been awarded to two students at Forest Hills Central High School, principal Willard H. DeJonge has announced.

Those named Commended students are Michele M. Compton and Janice B. Doane.

According to Lowell High School principal Dennis McMahon, one Lowell student has been commended for her high performance.

Named was Carol M. Myers, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harold R. Myers, Division Street, Lowell.

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC) has named 38,000 Commended students throughout the United States. These students are among the upper 2 percent of those who are expected to graduate from high school in 1974. Thus, the Commended students rank high, but below the 15,000 Semifinalists in September by NMSC.

Edward C. Smith, president of NMSC, said: "The high standing of Commended students in the Merit Program competition shows that they have great promise of continued success in college. Although Commended students advance no further in the Merit Scholarship competition, their attainment in this nationwide program deserves public recognition.

"The Commended students should be encouraged to make every effort to continue their education. Both these students and our nation will benefit from their continuing educational and personal development."

Ritzema, Mulder Pinned As Eagle Scouts

Following a potluck dinner enjoyed by 25 enthusiastic boy scouts, their relatives and friends, an evening of togetherness was climaxed by the presentation of Eagle Badge Awards to Dirk Ritzema, and Craig Mulder.

Many Court of Honors are held within the Grand Valley Council of Scouting but few can compare with the setting that surrounds the Scout cabin of Troop 102 of Lowell.

A perfect setting combined with perfect weather added to an evening of excited anticipation as those present listened for familiar names as the boys were called to the campfire to receive their awards.

In attendance as guests to help the boys celebrate were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gardner of the First United Methodist Church of Lowell, the sponsoring organization; Barry Emmons, Lowell Police Chief; and Craig Haybarker, a past Eagle Scout recipient from Troop 102.

George Lessens, himself an Eagle Scout still active with the Troop, acted as master of ceremonies through the evening, and with the assistance of Bob Ellison (awards chairman), presented a wonderful program.

Coming forward to accept their Tenderfoot Awards were Mark Lessens and Eddie Stormzand, followed by James Sterling, John Ellison, Mark MacDonald and Cris Butts who were presented their Star Awards. Kevin Mulder accepted the Lone Life award of the evening.

In addition to the 17 Skill Awards given for swimming there were 78 Merit Badges, covering many phases of scouting, presented to many accomplished scouts. Mr. Ellison passed out, to many adults present, yearly Service Pins that represented a total of 53 years of service to the scouting program of Troop 102.

Just prior to the Eagle presentations, Special Awards were presented to William (Mr. Bill) Nowak and his wife, Grace, for their years of devoted and unselfish service to the youth of our community.

With the light of the fire casting a soft glow of shadows across the ceremony grounds, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Ritzema, and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Mulder were escorted to the Awards table where they pinned the Eagle Badge on their sons who in turn pinned their mothers with small eagle pins.

Leo Haybarker, committee member's closing remarks were: "All I can say in closing is that I only wish every parent who has a child that either is active in scouting or whose boy might someday become a scout could have been there. It was a great feeling."

Suit Is Filed In Circuit Court

The widow of Stanley Sorenson, 51, of Lowell who was killed in the crash of a light plane near Lowell April 8, 1972, has filed a $500,000 suit in Circuit Court against the pilot, Harold A. McKeage of Lowell and Specialist Aviation, Inc.

Jacqueline V. Sorenson contended Specialist Aviation had failed to maintain properly the Cessna 172 aircraft and that McKeage "frequently and consistently violated Federal Aviation Authority regulations and state statutes by flying in an unsafe manner."

The airplane crashed in a landing attempt when it struck a power line while approaching the Lowell airport. It fell about 1,000 yards short of the runway, according to investigating officers. McKeage was severely burned and injured in the crash.

McKeage and Sorenson reportedly had rented the single-engine Cessna from Specialist Aviation and were practicing landings.

Some City Students May Be Bused

At last week's School Board meeting the board dealt with the issue of students walking to and from the new Middle School. The board agreed that there are instances where the distance is too far from the student's home to the school he attends and there are other instances where a student walking creates a hazard.

In reviewing the situation the board voted to pass a new policy whereby students living inside the city limits of Lowell may be transported by school bus if the Board of Education deems the distance too far or that conditions are hazardous.

Several pick-up stops will be designated by the board just as soon as the buses are available. As soon as the details are worked out and the buses are available, the board will announce a definite schedule.

Named Manager . . .

Jerry Wabeke, assistant high school principal, was named the new business manager for the school system at the last board meeting. The position of assistant high school principal has not yet been filled. Wabeke is presently spending part of his time in the superintendent's offices.

Low Bidder . . .

Royce Ford submitted the low bid for a new school pickup truck and was also low bidder on six 66-passenger bus chassis.

Lessens Confusion . . .

A brief discussion was held regarding the new crossing guard, Maynard Norris, who is on duty on Foreman Road at the west entrance to the high school drive. Directing not only children but also traffic, Norris has lessened the confusion leading to the Middle School and is doing a highly satisfactory job, the board concurred.

Board Member Phil Kropf contributed, "He came up to me in the high school parking lot, told me that I was parked wrong, then explained why and politely asked me to move. I understand he is an ex-traffic policeman and you can tell it . . . he really knows what he's doing and how to handle both people and cars."

Request Ownership . . .

The Board formally requested ownership of the Lowell Field House and Swimming School property from the City of Lowell. Two years ago governing bodies of both the School and the YMCA agreed upon the transfer but it had never been put into the form of a resolution. The City is expected to act upon it soon.

Open House . . .

Open House plans for both the new Middle School and the High School have been set for Sunday, October 21. A flag dedication ceremony will be held at the Middle School at 2 p.m., followed by a dedication of the new high school library to former Superintendent Carl Hagen at 3:30 p.m. Both buildings will be open to be toured by the public.

Bids Sought . . .

Bids are now being sought for the complete razing of the old junior high building with the site to be returned to its natural contours.

Wiring Updated . . .

A request was made by Elementary Principal Dirk Venema to have all wiring checked and updated in the Intermediate Building, both for safety and more competent use of equipment. The request was granted.

Pilot School . . .

The board was pleased to be informed that the Lowell Middle School has been designated as one of the pilot schools in the Kent Intermediate School District's new Outdoor Education study. It was selected not only for its excellent facilities but also because of the outstanding work done by Lowell teachers in the field of Outdoor Education during the past two years.

Planning Commission Appointments Made

The appointment of three members to the Planning Commission has been approved by the Ada Township Board.

John Adriane, veteran member of the commission, was renamed to a three-year term. William Havenga, recently named to fill a vacancy, was appointed to a like term and Trustee Paul Nelson was named to represent the township board, also for three years.

Because of October holidays, the township board will hold its October meetings on Tuesday instead of Monday. The board will meet October 9 and 23.

United Fund Chairman Addresses Rotarians

Lowell Rotary Club met September 26 at the Masonic Hall, with the Rev. Dean Bailey leading a prayer of thanksgiving before the noon meal.

Bob Kyser and David Coons led the singing. Club guests included Bob DeNolf and Jack Raider.

Norm Borgerson, who is on an antique buying trip to England, sent his greetings to the club. Norm reports that he doesn't have time to stay for the wedding of the Princess.

Don McPherson introduced the speaker of the day, Gordon Gould. Mr. Gould is the 1973 Lowell Area United Fund Chairman. Gould told of the activities of the United Fund and the agencies supported by the United Fund.

Jaycees Have Busy Weekend

The Lowell Jaycees had an extremely busy weekend with no less than three major projects run successfully. Friday night Auctioneer, Jaycee Terry Buck presided over the annual Jaycee Auction. Many bargains were made and the Jaycees were successful in fattening their treasury in order to run various community projects.

Punt, Pass and Kick was Saturday afternoon with a great turnout of fellows looking toward the Super-Bowl. It was great competition and fellowship for area boys between the ages of 8-13.

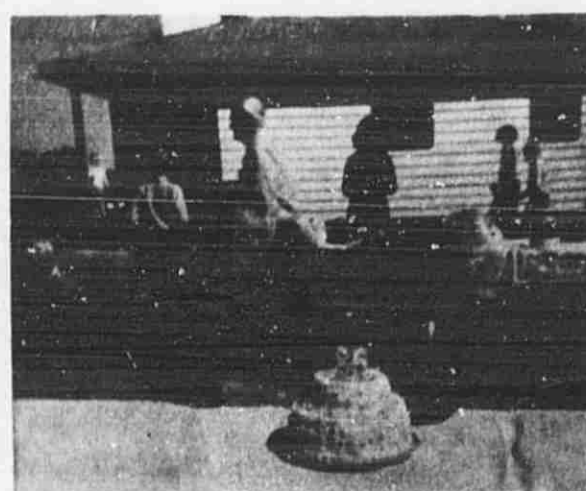

Then the same Saturday afternoon Jaycees and wives helped weigh-in and load passengers onto planes at our own municipal airport.

Of course this action group of young men of ages 18-35 would like you to become active in this chapter too. If interested in joining the Jaycees call Larry Keiser, President, 897-8552 or Dennis Weersing, Membership chairman 897-8863.

POT CABBAGE IN SOUP

Shredded cooked cabbage, when it's left over, may be added to cream of tomato soup for a good flavor combination.

Sparkling At 85 . . .

At her 85th birthday celebration, Mrs. Geldersma chats for awhile with her son, William.

"Just think, I started all this," Mrs. Tanzy Geldersma muttered as she surveyed her clan of 115 descendants who gathered September 11 to help her celebrate her 85th birthday.

It was a grand day at the William Geldersma home on 60th Street, Alto, as children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren came from near and far to make it a perfect day for "gram."

Born Tanzy DeMand in 1888, the lady whose silver gray hair fails to reveal her real age, has resided the majority of her life in Alto, settling for a few years in Grand Rapids and most recently in her present home on Slayton Lake.

Highlight of the peckuck get-together was the traditional birthday cake made by her granddaughter, Mrs. Dorlan Eldred (Donna Geldersma) of Clarksville.

Surprises came in the form of visits from her brother-in-law Dewey Geldersma, and the Don VanDyke family of Grand Rapids.

In all, Mrs. Geldersma has 138 descendants—eight sons, three daughters, 53 grandchildren and 74 great-grandchildren. One son, Pete and a daughter, Loitie passed away.

Her sons are William and Louis of Alto, Jeff and Barney of Grattan, Russell of Lowell, Mick of Kent City, Jim of Slayton Lake and Jake.

Two daughters, Wilma Kingsley and Corrine Weeks, reside in Grand Rapids, and Katherine Sabie makes her home on Brower Lake.

The Forslund Sofa Bed with foam rubber cushions springs open lightly and easily. So very simple to make ready and yet, closed, provides comfortable seating by day. Hand upholstered in our own shop.
