

COUNCIL DOIN'S

Asks Lafayette Street Closing

City fathers Monday night referred to the Planning Commission for their review and recommendation, a request made by Showboat Corporation for the closing of Lafayette Street from Avery to King Street.

The purpose of the request for the Street closing would be to allow Showboat Corporation to construct permanent type-bleachers, or other seating arrangement, on land north of the present Showboat site.

Petitions both for and against the Street vacation were presented by Charles Lippert from Showboat Corporation and Carl Smith, a Lafayette Street resident.

Mayor Carlen Anderson, stating "he did not want to get into all the pros and cons," advised interested parties to attend the next Planning Commission meeting on Monday, November 26 at the City Hall Council room.

Waive Prime Coat

There are still a few city streets not yet paved and with the days growing fewer in which to finish the project before the onset of winter's full blast, council moved to accept the recommendation of the engineers of Williams and Works to waive the prime coat on the uncompleted streets. The purpose of the prime coat is to hold the aggregate base so the top coat has a firm foundation. But, Kenneth Andersen of Williams and Works said it was his opinion that if the aggregate is built up sufficiently there should be no trouble in omitting the prime coat, and if there should be, "the warranty would still be in effect, anyway."

Utility Costs Rise

The next time we turn on the water faucet or flush the W.C.—we might remember how much we value H₂O—for whatever purpose. It's a good bet we will be paying more for that essential in the not too distant future.

The sewer and water rate study ordered by the City has been completed and will be presented to the Council within a week or so.

For some time, city officials have been concerned about the marginal operation in the water and sewer departments, and feel more revenue is needed—just to keep up with normal maintenance and improvement.

Increasing costs of running all utilities, and one example, an increase from 11 to 22 cents a gallon for diesel fuel to run those big engines at Lowell's Municipal Power plant, may bode an increase in light bills before you can say "Mother, hold a candle while I have the chicken's lip."

Art Exhibit at City Hall

The walls of City offices and Council rooms are now graced with works of art by local artists. Pictures now being displayed are by Norton Avery, Martha Barnes, Jan Johnson and Nancy Wood. City Hall would like other area artists to lend their work so pictures could be displayed on a rotating basis. Pictures may be priced for sale if the artist desires.

This is a fine idea for giving local artists a perpetual art exhibit and at the same time enhance those hallowed walls of City Hall.

Crossing Guards at Busy Corners?

Concern was expressed by Charles Nead, present at the meeting, for the safety of the children who must cross the busy intersection at Main and Washington. In answer to the question on the possibility of having a police officer posted there during the heavy traffic after school, Police Chief Barry Emmons revealed that at present, with only one officer on duty at that time, it really wasn't possible. As an alternative, he suggested the use of volunteer crossing guards and said he would be happy to give them whatever instruction might be necessary.

BACHELOR LIVING . . .

At the George C. Marshall High School in Fairfax, Virginia, a course called "home economics for boys" got very little attention. Retitled "bachelor living," it has attracted 120 students.

They are instructed in cooking, sewing, care of clothes, laundry, pressing and "as much money management as they can take."

Light & Power's Fuel Oil Allotment Set For November

On November 1, Lowell Light & Power was informed by its fuel oil supplier that its allotment for November would be at the rate of 90% of the amount used during November 1972. This means we will have to curtail our operations by 10% and that our owners-customers must reduce their electrical consumption by a like amount.

With fine cooperation of the entire community we are confident we can get through November without imposing a severe hardship on anyone.

Nevertheless, there are three points we want to frankly discuss with you. First, we are inter-connected with Wolverine Electric, a large rural electric generating cooperative headquartered at Big Rapids and we exchange electrical energy with them on a daily basis. Wolverine has assured us that they will help us to the utmost and we know from past experience that they will, but they, too, have a fuel supply problem.

The second point is the fact we do not know what our fuel oil allotment will be for December. The last month of the year is historically one of high electrical demand and it is for this reason we are asking the community to forego any Christmas decoration that involve lights.

The third and by far the most important point is the situation that will exist during the first quarter of 1974. As we explained last week, Consumers Power in addition to October, November and December of 1973 will not supply us with natural gas during January, February and March, 1974, although they did during the first three months of 1973. Consequently, during the first quarter of 1973 we used a lot of natural gas and a lesser amount of fuel oil to supply our generators. As a result we have a small fuel oil base and when our fuel oil supplier applies a percentage allotment to a small base we are going to be in real trouble during January, February and March of 1974.

We do not like to be prophets of gloom but we do feel we would be derelict in our duty if we did not apprise you of the seriousness of the energy situation.

Broken Window Mystery Solved, Reward Given

Ned Taggart, 5th Grade, Quad 5 student is shown receiving a check for $25 from Assistant Principal of the Middle School, Art Bieri. The check is the reward offered by Principal John Gabriel for information concerning the broken window in the cafeteria.

Several weeks ago, Ned and his friend were sitting eating lunch at the table near the broken window. Casually running a hand under the table, he discovered a loose supporting bar which came off in his hand. Kneeling down to investigate, Ned discovered that the angle of the broken window was in a direct line and a piece missing from the end was like that found near the broken window.

Thus, the window was broken by accident rather than a deliberate act as had been originally thought. Ned, administrators, and the entire school were happy about the outcome.

Lowell Collects 30 percent Of Goal

With just a few days left in the 1973 campaign, the Lowell United Fund drive has raised over $2,700 or 30 percent of its goal of $8,628.

Campaign Chairman Gordon Gould said local volunteers have raised $1,438 from small businesses and individuals in the area. The remainder of the funds have been collected by the over-all Kent County UF organization, primarily from major firms. The figures are as of November 1.

The county-wide UF results to date total $2.3 million or 73 percent of the goal of $3 million, according to UF Campaign Chairman Keith C. VanderHyde.

Gould appealed to members of the community who may have been missed by a UF volunteer to call 459-6281, ext. 54 to request a volunteer to pick up the pledge or to mail the contribution to the UF at 500 Commerce Building, Grand Rapids, Michigan 49502.

Best Costume Awards Given By Moose

Raggedy Ann, with her red tizzled hair and sparkling freckles looked wide-eyed at her competitors in the annual Moose Civic Affairs' Halloween costume contest, last Wednesday night, quite undecided whether to give up in fright or join in on the fun.

As the eerie music filled the exhibition building at the 4-H fairgrounds, the Halloweeners who braved the rainy weather, circled the judges, hoping to secure a spot in the winner's circle and become the possessor of a shiny silver dollar.

Finding it difficult to pick the best of costumes, the judges were faced by a long-toothed dracula, the lady from Mars, devils, hobos, tigers, lions, witches and what have you.

Final tabulation saw Phillip Kline claim the top 3 silver dollar prize. Second place went to Mark Reke, and Tracy Sebastian was picked third. They each won two silver dollars.

Other cash prize winners were Ben VanderGuld, David Basemore, Maria Martinez, Kathy Feasal, Billy Wiggins, Heather Smith, Mary, Jeannie, Don and Fred Colton, Ben Martinez, Connie Albus.

Lisa Lea Lawrence, Andy Stormzand, Angie Wood, Candy Wood, Elizabeth Parkens, Betsi and Jane Wilkenson, Becky Buffen, Eddie Lowry and Stacy Sebastian.

The party continued to pick up momentum as the Moose workers distributed candy, poured delicious cider, handed out plain and sugared donuts and gave each party-goer a big red delicious apple.

The party's arrangements were completed by Civic Affairs chairman Red Baker, assisted by Jim Timmons, and Mrs. Deil Smit of the Women of the Moose.

Baker, after the party, dismissed, issued a 'thanks' to all Moose members who pitched in to make the event successful.

According to Band Director Patricia Covey: "Our price has gone up a little, but the community has been so very good about supporting our sale every year, so I want to keep the prices within reason for them." The cakes available are: 1 lb., $2; 2 lb. tin, $4; 3 lb. tin, $6; and 4 lb. tin, $9.

For additional information, call the Middle School, 897-9223.

DIE CAST FIRE . . .

Lowell firemen were dispatched to Attwood Corporation on N. Monroe Street at 6:30 a.m., Monday, where a die cast pot brewed a pot of hot flames.

Scorching the ceiling, the flames were quickly contained, but extensive smoke damage was incurred.

QUIET HALLOWEEN . . .

Only minor incidents Halloween night were reported by the Lowell Police Department.

"We had the usual egg throwing, shaving cream, and window soaping antics," Chief Barry Emmons revealed, but probably due to the weather, things were mildly quiet."

Patrolmen were called to investigate a large theft of eggs from Highland Hill Dairy . . . three Ionia youths were arrested . . . but no local trick-or-treaters were caught as they flung those $1 a dozen oval shaped breakfast rarities.

FIRST SIGNS . . .

As the mild wintry winds blew through the area Monday night it carried with it a few white snow flakes . . . a good sign that winter is on its way.

Tuesday's early morning temperatures dipped to 26.

POLICE REPORT . . .

The arrest by Lowell Police of one juvenile subject has solved the theft of two cars, one from Jackson Motor Sales, the other belonging to Charles Irwin of W. Main Street. The youth also admitted to the breaking and entering of Curley's Diner and though an attempt was made to break open the safe, the thief made off with only $10. All occurrences were on October 30.

Still under investigation is a 'hit and run' accident on Amity Street October 30th. Mark Asplund, 16, received emergency treatment by Lowell Police for injuries inflicted by the fleeing driver. He was treated and released at Blodgett Hospital.

Victor Shepard, age 7, was hit by a car driven by Lucille Green, when he ran from behind a school bus while crossing Hudson Street. The boy suffered only a broken nose despite rolling on the pavement the full length of the car.

Police Chief Barry Emmons reports the two diversers on Lincoln Lake have been targets for careless drivers who have driven up over the diversers—and causing damage. Emmons asked the cooperation of all drivers not only for the protection of the property involved but for the driver.

Eighty dozen eggs were reported stolen from Highland Hill Dairy along with 30 dozen taken from a Freeport Road resident. Police are investigating.

Freeze Extra Eggs

That egg special sounded good for your pocketbook, but what can you do with several dozen eggs?

Before you run to the cookbook and start searching frantically through the egg recipes, the Michigan State University foods and nutrition specialists suggest you freeze the eggs for later use.

To freeze the whole egg, you just blend the whites and yolks together, stir in one quarter teaspoon of sugar or salt per egg and cover tightly. The salt or sugar prevents the egg from becoming thick and gummy.

When freezing egg yolks separately, you still have to add the sugar or salt. Egg whites don't require the extra ingredients to maintain their quality during freezing.

The specialists warn that eggs can't be frozen in the shells successfully.

SAVING WATER

A water-saving toilet designed to reduce water use by 25 to 30 percent will go into mass production next spring. The new toilet can save the average household more than 22 gallons of water a day. That's enough water for three average showers, one dishwashing cycle, a tub bath, or an adequate watering of shrubbery.

Proper Wrapping Protects

Protect your meat dollar by always wrapping meat properly before freezing.

Foods and nutrition specialists at Michigan State University explain that moisture-vapor-proof wrapping is important to maintain the quality of frozen foods.

Because freezer air is very cold and dry, improperly wrapped foods lose their moisture, flavor and quality. So to protect your meat, use freezer foil or plastic wrap. Waxed paper and butcher paper aren't good for freezing because they aren't moisture-proof and can't be sealed airtight. Meat frozen in them will be dry, tasteless and possibly discolored.

Many of them responded in a positive manner, she says, adding "ecology and preservation of our environment is an assignment for one - everyone."

LOOKING BACK

40 YEARS AGO

Farmers were signing up all over the country in accordance with the Agricultural Adjustment Act Administration. It had been determined that nearly 7,778,000 acres would go out of wheat production...

Lowell Legionnaires were guests of their Grandville comrades in a big Armistice Day celebration. Highlight of the day was the football game between Grandville and Lowell...

Night thieving of animals from farms was getting to be a "regular habit," as reported in a news account of a yearling steer "slain for its meat" sometime during the night at the home of Mrs. C. Wittenbach of West Lowell.

Armistice Day speaker at Lowell High School was Lester Doer, a former principal of L.H.S. A part of the program was given to athletic topics with Giles Sinclair, Morse Schwacha, Bill Clark, Charles Houseman, Jack Bergin and Harry Eickhoff participating.

Many children of the Village saw a cutter for the first time and were given rides on the "handsome two-seater" by Renis Doyle and two sons, Thomas and Earl, taking advantage of the season's first snowfall.

Choice beef roasts at 10 and 12 cents a pound at Gibson's Cash Market.

ARROWS WIN TRI-RIVER FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Ball carrier John Piper (No. 35) plunges through Coopersville's lines, as the Arrows claimed the 1973 Tri-River championship with their 20-0 win last Friday night.

The final gun of the Lowell vs. Coopersville football game brought jubilation to Recreation Park last Friday night as the Red Arrows of Lowell Senior High School captured their second straight Tri-River League football championship.

Their 20-0 shutout over Coopersville, the last conference game of the season, gave Lowell uncontested possession of the league crown. Sparta claimed the runner-up spot after defeating Belding.

For Al Rowe and his squad, the after-game locker room session was pandemonium as the Arrows not only celebrated their championship, but also the fact that they had won eight consecutive games for the overall season.

The win was extra special to fourteen members of the squad, as they ended their high school football career with a championship under their belts. Senior students on the team were Bob Chapman, Jeff Pierce, Tom Heintzleman, Dave Beach, Jeff Hendrick, Jim Rathbun, Ken Bryan, Don Phillips, Bruce Friener, Nick Sullivan, Ron Lyons, Mark Blough, Ken Kropf and Rusty Stiefens.

In sweeping the league crown, Lowell's halfbacks, Bruce Billock and John Piper, both juniors, were instrumental in leading the Arrows down victory lane.

Billock picked up 141 of Lowell's 298 yards total rushing offense, and intercepted two Coopersville aerials. He also scored the Red Arrow's second score on a three-yard run.

Piper scored two touchdowns, added a two-point conversion run, and gained 113 yards on the ground.

On defense, guard Rick Thompson played an exceptional game, making or assisting in bringing down 19 Coopersville players.

Also sparkling on defense were Gordon Klain and Piper who were instrumental in 14 and 13 tackles respectively.

Lowell gave up 232 yards to Coopersville, but the final 20-0 score gave the Red Arrows 94 points on the year's records in league competition to only the 12 points Belding picked up October 12.

Overall, Lowell has outscored their challengers 152-18.

In other Tri-River games, last Friday night, Greenville, in a non-league clash, downed Union High 22-0; Sparta took a 22-14 win from Belding; and Lakewood topped Cedar Springs 27-6.

Face Rockford Friday

The conclusion of the 1973 season for the Red Arrows will come this Friday night when they entertain the Rams of Rockford in their annual non-league contest.

The game at Lowell's Recreation Park will begin at 7:30 p.m.

The Rams, 2-5, in the Red Division of the Ottawa-Kent Conference, finished out league competition last Friday, ending the season in sixth place.

Be There!

When the Red Arrows take to the field Friday night, be there, give them a standing ovation on their 1973 championship.

They played a superb season and deserve all the credit that is due the 'Kings' of Tri-River football.

Our congratulations to Coach Al Rowe, his assistants Al Eckman and Richard Brennan and the entire team. You're great!

Rangers Down Huskies 20-8

Final games of the 1973 Ottawa-Kent White Division football league were played last Friday night, with Wyoming Park and South Christian sharing the title with 1 season records.

Forest Hills Central (4-2) finished in fourth, with Forest Hills Northern (1-6) capturing seventh spot.

The 'sister' schools concluded league action matching grid iron tactics against each other, with the Rangers of Central emerging victorious 20-8.

Gary, carrying the ball 21 times, rushed for 106 yards and quarterback Jack Sherry played another outstanding game completing 19 of 17 passes for 139 yards.

Central had an 8-0 lead at halftime and never did feel really secure, punching over its final touchdown with only seconds left on the clock.

Dangel scored one touchdown on a pass of 39 yards; Gary went over from the three for another; and the third Ranger touchdown came from Dan Faulkner on a five-yard sprint. Mike Booth stood out defensively for the winners.

The Huskies of Northern got their only score in the fourth period when quarterback Darrell Yates ran 10 yards after an intercepted pass had put his club in good position.

Band Sparkles At Half-Time

Lowell High School's Varsity band sparkled during their half-time performance at the Lowell vs. Coopersville football game Friday night at Recreation Park.

Greeting the crowd with a pre-game warm-up, the bandmen came out of the end zone at half-time doing a routine to "Son of A Preacher Man," followed by "Make Me Smile," during which the majorettes were the featured attractions.

Under the direction of leader, Robert Rice, the band performed nicely to a concert number, "Does Anybody Really Know What Time It Is?" and "California Dreamin'."

Exiting off the field to the tune of the school's fight song "Varsity," the colorful band also greeted the Championship team as they came back on the field.

This Friday night, the band will again perform during half-time at the final game of the season in which the Red Arrows will play a non-conference game with Rockford.

Hunters Beware

Hunters and travelers should be warned of the dangers of carbon monoxide poisoning, according to Dr. W. B. Prothro, Kent County Health Department Director. Every year, numerous deaths are reported from this colorless, odorless, and tasteless gas. It is given off by improperly vented appliances, which burn solid or liquid fuels.

Two years in a row, Michigan couples were found dead in the same room, in the same motel, and from the same cause, an improperly vented gas heater.

Every year, hunters and vacationists are found dead in cabins, trailers, and cars—all killed by carbon monoxide.

The Kent County Health Department, and most better gas dealers, have booklets, "Vacationists Guide for Most Efficient Use of LP Gas Appliances," available free. Dr. Prothro said.

Tops In Defense

Dave Yeiter, sophomore middle guard on the Hope College football team, was selected the defensive Player of the Week by coaches of the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association for his performance in a 27-7 Hope victory over Kalamazoo October 27.

Yeiter, an economics major at Hope, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David J. Yeiter, Aiden Nash Avenue, Lowell. He earned all-state honors as a member of the Lowell High School football team.

The 5-11, 200 pound sophomore led a Hope defense that limited Kalamazoo to only 53 yards rushing. Yeiter and the Hope defense caught two different Kalamazoo quarterbacks in the backfield ten times for losses totaling 32 yards.

Rotarians Hear Dale Benjamin

As members of the Lowell Rotary Club met for a noon meal together October 31, Walter "Red" Graham led in a prayer of thanks.

Guests in attendance were Fay Sterling, Dorothy Graham, Mrs. Rex Collins and John Schneider, all of Lowell. Junior Rotarians for October, Mike Hendricks and Carl Higgins introduced the high school students selected for this honor for November, Kim Schwacha and Mike Topping.

Sergeant-at-arms, Al Hermans reported that the recently opened "Ticky Bottle" contained $80.04. A letter was read by President Phil Schneider inviting the Club to attend the Ionia Clubs "Fun Night" November 2.

Although there was a total attendance of 38 at the meeting, club members were urged to encourage the absent members to try to improve their attendance. The Rotary Exchange Visit with Denmark was highlighted. Any young businessman who is interested in visiting Denmark should contact Charlie Doyle.

Program Chairman, Leonard Sinko, introduced Dale Benjamin, of Caledonia. Mr. Benjamin is Director of Pupil Transportation for Eastern and Western Michigan Universities. Assisted by Mrs. Barbara Vos, Mr. Benjamin told of the state training program for school bus drivers. The goal of this training is a safe ride for all school bus riders. Mrs. Vos, of Lowell, is Director of Special Education in Pupil Transportation.

"School busing is big business in Michigan," said Mr. Benjamin, "with some 13,000 school buses on the road each week day."

In closing, the speaker urged the Rotarians to be justly proud of the job being done by Lowell's school bus drivers and to support both the bus drivers and teachers in our schools.

To The Editor:

If it going to take a 'fatal' mishap before corrective measures will be taken to omit the hazardous conditions created by students who congregate off the school premises near the high school to take a 'smoking' break? Sometimes as many as 10-15 students assemble in the roadway, making it almost impossible for motorists to travel in that area. Making it more dangerous is the fact that the students seem to think they own the roadway, and do not yield the right-of-way, but persistently stand right there and challenge the driver.

If, one of these days, some unfortunate driver hits one of these students, what action then, will the school and the local police take? Will they continue to overlook this?

Wish I Knew The Answers
M. A. K.

To The Editor:

If the youth of Lowell fully realized how hard their parents worked to buy a dozen of eggs nowadays—with prices soaring, I'm wondering if they would have been so eager to waste so many on foolish frills Halloween night.

Perhaps, if they would have had to purchase them, instead of stealing them, they might have had second thoughts on being so careless. Have they no sense of value or appreciation?

S.A.C.

To The Editor:

Godamn! O. Godam! Goo-o-odamn! Lo-o-ook, Jesus! This, as I stood in Arnie's Standard Station on Thursday morning getting gas, Arnie and I looked across to where the boy was pointing.

Incidentally, this boy was about a first grader—don't know his name—no matter—he was extremely upset—and with good reason. Where he was pointing—under a car was a small boy. He had been hit by the car. This happened at school time.

Not the first time I've seen a small child get hit at this location. Only about three months ago I witnessed a very similar accident. A very congested intersection at this time of day. Anyway, this boy was pinned under a car—still conscious—some workmen, working on a street project, came over. They were very knowledgeable as to what to do—hauled the boy out, covered him with jackets and administered first-aid. A registered nurse came along and sort of took over—(beauties of living in a small town)—the police were called—they were concerned for all involved. The woman who drove the car was given as much consideration as the injured.

Question! Why should this have to happen? We all know this is an extremely busy intersection. Can't something be done to control traffic at this time of day? Nobody has been killed yet, but I guarantee there will be a fatality.

Visit Orchard

At the end of an interesting visit to Robinette Orchards, members of the Lowell Apache Y-Indian Guide Tribe gathered at the big apple, symbol of the orchard.

While visiting the orchard the fathers and their sons hiked through the orchard during which time they learned something about the planting and caring for an orchard. Also, they saw apples being processed and bagged, and the cider mill.

Induction Pow Wow Ceremony

Last Saturday night, at the 4-H fairgrounds, the Lowell YMCA held an outdoor campfire "Induction Pow Wow Ceremony" for boys and girls and their fathers joining the Y-Indian Guides and Princess programs.

Long House Chief, Jerry Evans, was in charge of the outdoor Ceremony, assisted by his son, Chris.

They were assisted by Giles Courtney, Medicine Man, and his sons, Fran and Joe. Assisting as Chiefs of the Four Winds were Don MacDonald and son, Jimmy, Ron Mackey and son, Robert, Larry Strkenberg and son, Ryan, and Boyd Kooistra and son Jeff.

Andy Noble and son, Skip, were in charge of the magic campfire. During the ceremony 240 fathers, sons and daughters were inducted into YMCA Indian Tribes.

As part of this Ceremony the fathers threw a kernel of corn on the ceremonial campfire as a symbol of sacrificing selfishness and dedicating themselves to finding time to do things with their young son or daughter. The sons and daughters also offered corn as a symbolic sacrifice of the trait of impatience, resolving to be patient and helpful in their homes.

Over 300 people, including fathers, children, families and friends attended this impressive outdoor Ceremony.

Snowmobile Leader's Training Program

A Snowmobile Leader's Training Program held Friday and Saturday, November 2 and 3, at Kettunen Center, Tustin, Michigan, was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Anible, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Marshall, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Souser.

This conference is sponsored jointly by the Michigan International Snowmobile Association, Michigan 4-H Youth Programs, in cooperation with the Michigan State Police, Michigan Department of Natural Resources, and the Michigan Sheriff's Association.

The purpose of this meeting was to draw together current snowmobile leaders with selected resource people prominent in their field where they can learn more about teaching to the 12 to 16-year-old snowmobilers.

Saranac Shut Out By Carson City

Saranac High School's football team was shut out by Carson City-Crystal 12-0 Friday night in Carson City. For the Redskins it was their third straight loss as they ended the season with a 5 and 3 mark.

After a scoreless first period the Eagles got on the board with 0:17 left before the half. The score was tied up by a short punt at the Saranac 25. The winners drove the 25 yards in eight plays.

Held to 21 yards rushing in the first half the Redskins came out strong in the second half. The first time they had the ball Saranac drove 51 yards to the nine, only to lose the ball on downs. In the drive Dave London carried five times for 33 and Bill Overbeck added 13.

In the final quarter the Redskins moved to the Carson City 16, but lost the ball on downs again. Carson City then drove 84 yards, with the aid of a roughing the kicker penalty, to score with 1:18 left on a four yard run by Gary Morden.

Saranac managed 115 yards rushing to 221 for Carson City. Morden led with 136 yards in 26 rushes, while London added 60 in 12 tries for Saranac and team-mate Overbeck 58 in 13 attempts.

On defense, London led the charge with six solo takes and 11 assists, while recovering a fumble and intercepting a pass. Bob Parks returned from a dislocated elbow to get in on 15 tackles, while Burdette Gunden also had 15.

Meat Is Back On The Table

Consumers are beginning to rethink meat. Now that prices are lower, meat is appearing more frequently on dining tables as the main attraction at mealtime.

Beef and pork are major meats produced in Michigan, according to marketing officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture. They contributed over $183 million to the state's economy in 1972.

If you're buying more meat these days, here are some pointers you may want to consider to get the best value for your money.

Economists say three ounces of cooked lean meat is the standard serving per person at mealtime. This may vary somewhat depending on the appetites of family members but it's a good guideline for cutting down on waste.

Think cost-per-serving rather than cost-per-pound when buying meats. Some cuts contain larger amounts of bone and fat than others. Although they're priced lower per pound, you'll have to buy larger quantities for adequate servings.

General guidelines are to allow one-fourth pound per serving of boneless meat like pork or beef liver; beef stew, pork sausage, ground beef, hamburger and cube steak; one-half pound per serving of meat with bones like beef rib roast, sirloin steak, rib and chuck steaks, pork chops and pork shoulder. For bony meats like short ribs, spare ribs, neckbones and oxtails, allow three-fourths to one pound per serving.

Popular cooks use seasonings and herbs to enhance the flavor of meats. It helps if you become familiar with various ingredients to perk up your meat platter.

TOMATOES IN CAGES
Growing tomatoes in "cages" is a new labor-saving device developed by agricultural scientists. Young seedlings are encircled with wire fencing to form the cages. This eliminates trellising the plants later on, and results in higher yields with better quality.

Seeks To Establish System Of Priorities

Consumer Power Company has filed application with the Michigan Public Service Commission for authority to establish a system of priorities in event it should become necessary to curtail natural gas service to commercial and industrial customers.

John B. Simpson, senior vice president for gas operations, said the curtailment program should be regarded solely as prudent contingency planning. It establishes six categories of gas service, with highest priority being assigned to residential customers, and to customers providing services essential to public health and safety.

The company serves approximately 920,000 gas customers in 40 counties of Michigan's lower peninsula. Of these, 851,000 are residential customers.

BITS O' BUSINESS
Inventories of canned apple sauce on September 1 were down 58 percent from a year earlier, totaling only 2,442,000 cases, compared with 5,861,000. . . Gelatin prices have increased more than 50 percent in the last year reflecting the higher cost of animal skins from which gelatin is made.

SCOUTING NEWS

Troop 102 - Scout News

At our last meeting the scouts went out on a scavenger hunt. They had some pretty crazy things to find, too. Some of the things were a chestnut, a wooden button, a blue candle, a raw beef, a ladie's garter, a Halloween mask, a Saturday Evening Post, a piece of honey comb, and a Canadian penny. The prize was a jug of cider. Kirk Haybarker's patrol came in first with nine of the ten objects.

IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORIAM

In Memory of Hugh E. Oan, who passed away November 9, 1971. Our Memories are of Love, and of man.

For the years drop away as quickly as the leaves of Fall, as in Peter 1:24 "For all flesh is as grass and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withers and the flower thereof falleth away"

Your life was shorter than we had ever dreamed, But long enough to know God, to Love Him and to open the door of Heaven.

We miss you very much. Wife and children. Wife's mom and sisters. Also their families. They all remember and reminisce with love. c31

Manager Bacon then referred to the proposed agreement with Lowell Township for sanitary sewer service, and read the proposed change.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Jefferies that the agreement be referred to the Planning Commission-Citizen's Advisory Committee for review and report, supported by Councilman Hall.

The Manager read comparative swimming pool ordinances from East Grand Rapids, Grandville, and Belding, and Lowell's present ordinance. He stated that several more pool ordinances were expected, but had not yet been received. He also stated that they would tie in with the revision of the Lowell City Zoning Code.

Graveside Services Held For Brandee Sue Vaughan

ANY IDEAS . . . as to how to conserve electricity? Let us know and we will share them with your neighbors by publishing them in the Ledger and Buyers Guide. Lowell Light & Power Owned by the People of Lowell

Graveside services were held October 30 for Brandee Sue Vaughan, darling infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Vaughn of 60th Street in Alto. The services, arranged by the Roth-Gerst Funeral Home of Lowell, were conducted at Merriman Cemetery. The week-old infant passed away October 28 of Leukemia. Besides her parents, she leaves a brother, Tommy Joe; her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Metternick of Alto; and her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Vaughan of Lowell.

Veteran's Day Observed Monday

On Veteran's Day, November 11, we would like to share with our readers this verse, prayerfully dedicated to all Americans still reported missing-in-action.

LET'S WE FORGET

Sometimes it seems so far away,
The jungle with its lone and lonely night;
The prison camp, so bare and damp
With Faith and Prayer the only light.
We have our men back home again,
But what of the ones who stayed?
We don't know how many—or even if any—
We only know how we've prayed.
That these men will not be forgotten.
We'll be looking for them night and day;
So the bracket you wear will show that you care,
That you're helping in your own way.
If we just find one or a dozen lost men
It will make it all worthwhile,
As they step off that plane, the thrill is the same,
America glows with their love and their smile!
Another verse, widely known to all veterans, finds us paying tribute, at this time to the unknown soldier . . .

THE UNKNOWN SOLDIER

I am the man you'll never know—
Perhaps it may be better so,
Before I'm twenty I'll have died,
Just like the Man they crucified.
Like you, I too would like to live,
Like Him, I pray I may forgive,
I'll die for your democracy,
Or any trite hypocrisy,
That sways the mob which cries for blood,
And never yet has understood,
Since Abraham's hand was stayed by God,
To spare the child and spoil the rod.
In some far hosting of the dead
I'll learn to know why I have bled,
There, with the youth of other land,
We'll learn His love, and understand.
We shall forget your hymns of hate,
And smile at your affairs of state,
Decreeing that the young must die,
For then we'll see it was a lie.
The young know what it is to love,
That is our gift from God above,
Had we grown old, perhaps we'd prate,
Like you, of dull affairs of state.
Think not that we're a lesser breed
Without ambition's spur of greed,
Had we but lived the longer hour,
We might have sold our souls for power.
The child is father to the man,
That is the way the story ran,
And so, to Christ we are the prize,
Who are so little in your eyes.
As we put off this mortal vesture,
Please God, we make His Godly gesture,
Like Him, may we breathe down on you,
"Forgive—they know not what they do."

Crout On Exercise Duty In Germany

Army Specialist Four Roger R. Crout, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Crout, 761 Lincoln Lake Avenue, participated with other American and Allied Troops in exercise Reforger V in Germany, October 10-16.

The Military Airlift Command flew approximately 11,000 U. S.-based soldiers and more than 1,000 tons of equipment to three different airfields in Germany in preparation for the event.

Immediately after arriving overseas, the re-deployed units drew combat gear and vehicles from pre-positioned storage sites in Germany and moved to the exercise area to begin the seven-day field maneuver.

Pitted against the airlifted forces were Europe-based elements of Nato forces of the U.S., Germany and Canada.

The exercise, conducted by the joint chiefs of staff and Nato, focused on the procedures and techniques for receiving, equipping, assembling and employing units after they arrive, rather than on rapid deployment of troops from the U.S.

Spec. Crout is regularly assigned as a mechanic with Company A, 1st Battalion of the 1st Infantry Division's 2nd Infantry at Ft. Riley, Kansas.
