Parking Ordinance Is Being Enforced

Last month, city residents, some irate, joined forces to protest recent parking violations imposed for street parking after restricted hours, 2 a.m. to 6 a.m.

While some 20 tickets were voided, because no prior warning had been issued, some residents are feeling the squeeze to find room for the family car, as police begin to enforce the city's ordinance.

For a period, while the storm-water-sewer project had many streets torn up, parking restrictions were lessened for street areas under construction-but now that completion has been made, the ordinance will go back into full effect, relates Lowell Chief of Police Barry Emmons.

Residents most heavily affected are apartmen! dwellers, who are finding it hard to find adequate offstreet parking close to home

Before the new curbing was poured, Emmons explained, residents found it easy to pull off the street in areas next to the sidewalk; this is now impossible for

Also faced with the parking problem are homeown ers with two or more vehicles

"As individual problems arise," Emmons said, "we try to work with the person or persons, to come up with a solution, to keep them from being in violation of the ordinance.

"Any resident still having parking problems," Emmons added, "should contact my office immediately."

"We'd like to clear up as many existing situations as we can," Emmons concluded, before winter officially arrives and the snow plows will be clearing the

Wool Judging At Bushnell Saturday

The District 3 "Make-It-Yourself-With-Wool" contest judging and style show will be held Saturday, November 17, 1:30 p.m. in Lowell's Bushnell School.

District 3 includes Allegan, Barry, Eaton, Ionia, Kent, Muskegon and Ottawa Counties and is directed by Mrs. Carroll Wells of Vermontville.

Judging will be done in the morning, followed by the Style Show at 1:30 p.m. This event is open to the public, free of charge.

A Junior girl and a Senior girl will be selected to represent District 3 at the State Finals, December 8, at M.S.U. at 1:30 p.m. in the Union Building.

Lowell Falls Short Of United Fund Goal

Lowell volunteers have reported $5,159 or 60 percent pledged toward the community's 1973 United Fund goal of $8,628.

Campaign Chairman Gordon Gould said although the final report meeting of the drive was held last Friday, volunteers will continue working until all possible contributions are collected.

The county-wide UF campaign raised a total of $2,752,996 million, or 90 percent of the $3 million goal, which will help support the work of 61 agencies, serving more than 100,000 county residents.

Of the $5,159 raised from the Lowell community, $1,442 was collected by local volunteers, primarily from small businesses and individual contributors. The remainder came from campaign divisions handled by the over-all countywide UF organization, primarily from major firms.

Make New Friends But Keep The Old; One Is Silver And The Other's Gold

This interesting aerial photograph of the village square in Cascade is the work of Bernie Berndorf, photographer and Pat O'Neil, pilot, It depicts both the new and the old in Cascade, showing both the new and the old Town Hall, the new and the old Cascade Christian Church. At the top of the photo, you will see the present residence of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carr, one of the oldest buildings in the township. Once standing on Cascade Road, it was the butcher shop, later the Red Ribbon Temperance Hall, housing for a time Sunday School classes of Cascade Christian Church, prior to the building of the chapel landmark in 1880, Next to the Old Town Hall (lower right) is the present Second Mile House, a clothing and welfare center which was one of the original school buildings in Cascade Township. The construction date is thought to be 1849. The Cascade Professional Building (lower center) houses a local doctor and two den-

One-half Main Street Lights Turned Off

In an effort to help the Lowell Light & Power conserve fuel, the City Fathers authorized the turning off of one half of the Main Street lights.

City Manager Blaine Bacon stated, "We can't expect the citizens to cooperate in conserving energy if we at City Hall don't do likewise.

In a related matter, John Jones, Superintendent of the Lowell Light & Power, reported that the cooperation of all the entire community has been remarkable. "Everyone and particularly the industries have been most helpful and understanding," Jones stated.

Juniors Seek Approval For Bahama Trip

High School students took over a large share of a long Board of Education meeting Monday night with two proposals that posed no easy decision for board members.

The first group was from the junior class with a proposal that the class be allowed a senior trip to the Ba-

It was apparent that this was no fly-by-night idea that a few excursion-minded students had dreamed up. Obviously the students had done their planning well and their research thoroughly. They made their presentation well and met each board question head-on.

The class has divided into work teams for various money-making projects with individual students being credited with the amount of money brought in toward the trip which will cost $212 per student.

Approximately 73 percent of the class has indicated that they will go and one of the stipulations is that none of the money earned or turned in will be returned to any student once he signs up. The only way that a student can get his money back is to find another individual who wants to go. This will insure the full trip payment so that last minute cancellations will not stop the flight.

The trip is being planned for Spring Vacation in 1975 so there will be no need for the Board to hire substitute teachers to take the place of teacher chaparones (one for each 10 students) going along.

When one board member suggested that there might be a problem in getting teachers to make the trip, High School Principal Dennis McMahon said that there was a problem but in the reverse since more teachers have indicated that they would be willing to go than is necessary and the problem would come in deciding which

Class spokesmen said that already the prospect of the trip was bringing the class together to pull as a team (they have been working on it since last summer when they received permission to operate booths at the 4-H Fair) and that the juniors have won eight out of the nine pep assemblies so far this year.

A rigid set of rules will be enforced and violators will be flown home immediately at the expense of the students' parents (a paper to this effect will be signed by parents before the student is allowed to go).

The board agreed to consider the request carefully and let the students know at the next meeting, Novem-

A smaller group of students representing the student council next came before the board to request an answer to their proposal submitted at the last meeting that vending machines selling pop, candy bars and apples be allowed in the high school study hall.

Board members still seemed a little leery over this request and appeared reluctant to make a decision. However, one member did suggest that the group consult with the junior class to see whether or not the juniors would like to make this one of their projects and omit the machines and instead sell apples and milk, or at least something a little more nourishing than pop

The board will hold up its decision until after the two student groups have conferred.

Looking for strength at the cheapest price, the board agreed to go ahead with sandy-binder mix to blacktop the 20 foot wide drive to the bus garage and the area immediately around the building. The surface will be strong but not smooth since coarse one-inch stone is used. If deemed necessary, a smooth surface

Haven-Busch Company of Grandville submitted the low bid for fencing in the bus parking area. Fencing in the 250 by 300 foot area with an eight foot fence topped by three strands of barbed wire will cost $5,556. A 21 foot gate is also included. Coming Down

With the razing of the old junior high building set for Christmas vacation, the board agreed to hire Rickert Electric to move the electrical system (which controls the intermediate building, and the central supply building) into the boiler room which is to remain standing. Clark Plumbing will also be given the contract to move the water system into the boiler room.

The building will be torn down to the basement floor and filled in temporarily so that it will not be a catch-all for snow, water and trash. Leveling, grading and seeding will be done in the Spring.

Board Policies School board policy sections on business and noninstructional operations and on certified personnel were passed by the board. Two more sections concerning non-certified personnel and students were given to each board member for study over the next two weeks.

Survey To Check Employment

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census will interview a number of households in this area the week of November 19-23 to obtain information on employment here. The Bureau is part of the U.S. Department of Commerce's Social and Economic Statistics

Robert G. McWilliam, Director of the Bureau's Data-Collection Center in Detroit, in making the announcement, said the households are among 50,000 across the country that have been scientifically selected to represent a cross section of the American people.

The survey, which the Bureau conducts each month for the U.S. Department of Labor, provides a continuing measure of employment and unemployment for the Nation. For example, overall employment rose sharply in September, while unemployment remained unchanged. Total employment increased by 700,000 to a seasonally adjusted level of 85.1 million, the first monthly increase since June. The unemployment rate was 4.8 percent, essentially the same as in the preceding three months but well below the 5.5 percent level of September a year ago.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept confidential by law and results. are used only to compile statistical totals. Interviewers who will visit households in this area include: Shirley A, Ford and Mrs. Lucy Hall.

Christmas Mailing Guidelines

In an effort to help holiday shoppers with their "mailing worries," Postmaster Charlie Doyle offers the following helpful tips.

If a single item is being mailed, it should be cushioned with shredded paper, excelsior, compressed tissue paper, cloth, or expanded plastic foam. If two or more items are mailed in the same carton or box, cushioning material should protect all items from contact with each other, and each item should have its own individual wrapper. Cardboard containers, including large soap, cereal boxes, etc., larger than the gift being mailed should be cut down to about the size of the gift to minimize shaking and breaking in transit. Fragile articles must be individually cushioned, and

Annual Thanksgiving Potluck and Worship

The annual Thanksgiving potluck and Fellowship service will be held Wednesday evening, November 21 at the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, 8147-68th Street. All are welcome to join in a time of fellowship and giving thanks for the blessings of this life.

November 18, at 11 a.m. the speaker will be Elder Wayne Wright from the Union Avenue Congregation. Brother Wright is well known to many of us and we are sure the service will be an enriching one. At 6 p.m. the speaker will be Priest Ken Colburn sharing with us the topic "In it?, of It?, Through It?.

Don't forget the Holiday Craftshop December 8, from 11 a.m. until 4 p.m. All ages are welcome to come and make things for Christmas giving. All items are low in cost and give children a chance to make their gifts for

Saturday, December 1, all day at the church there will be a second best sale. The proceeds from this sale will be used to provide Christmas boxes for needy fam-

A free will offering will be taken. Don't forget the address, 8147-68th Street (near Whitneyville Ave.). Help those in need and yourself at the same time.

50th Open House

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Eggleston will hold an open house in St. Mary's School auditorium November 25, to honor their parents' 50th wedding

A buffet luncheon will be served between the hours of 1:30 and 5 p.m. All friends are invited.

DAVID GERST

OPEN LETTER from

Dear Friends,

Aside from our problems and concerns, there is still much to be thankful for in this world of ours. Nations are coming to realize that violence is primitive and futile-nations are communicating more freely to solve mutual problems. Realizing that we are 'all in this together' gives promise of earlier solutions. We can be thank ful that we live in this most exciting age of ferment, when great strides are being made in human understanding and tolerance.

Respectfully,

Old Ideas Revamped

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country . . . by shutting off unnecessary lights, turning the heat back a few degrees, making fewer trips to the grocery store (a two-way saving) and such other measures that may be found to help lessen the energy crunch.

Maybe the fact we are being asked not to use lights in decorating this Christmas season may not be all bad. Perhaps some new ideas will emerge out of the necessity to cut back on the traditional strings of lights. Gift buying habits also may give way to some more unusual ideas. Or old ideas revamped. Contemplating buying the little woman a dishwasher, clothes dryer, washer or other energy eating appliance?-Forget it. This year give her something practical . . . a mink jacket (she may not be able to go anywhere, but it will be warm around the house!). or, if you're pinched, make it a fake. If you want to be truly practical . . . but with a flair . . . try a gifty, goldplated hand can-opener-guaranteed to bring tears to her eyes from those nostalgic memories of days gone by. Instead of that new car, give her roder skates, a bicycle or if she's the athletic type, a pogo stick. Candles come in all shapes and sizes and should be particularly pleasing this year as they give off both heat and light. For the man of the house who likes to putter or build things, try a handy-man's do-it-yourself book accompanied by a hand saw, some nails, a screw driver,

Education has gone from the one room school with its 10 students, primers, and ciphering to the spacious open classroom structures which feature such new concepts as modular scheduling, team teaching inquiry approach, and vocational education. Education has indeed changed drastically in the last ten years. Education has changed so much, in fact, that the average taxpayer has been left with serious questions as to the finances, strengths, weaknesses, and purposes of the "new" procedures, he finds being applied in his children in the school systems

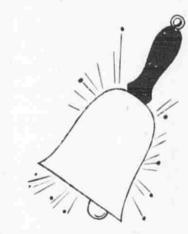

Your local teachers will attempt, in the following months, to answer some of these questions and explain how many of these new ideas in education are being used in your local school districts. The articles presented will attempt to explain and carefully weigh the strengths and weaknesses of these new programs from the viewpoint of the ed-of our area.

Teachers know that parents are interested in schools. Teachers know that parents are concerned that their children get the best education possible. Yet, there is an everwidening gap, between the new things schools are doing and the understanding that parents have of schools today. With this in mind these themes are tentatively planned for the following months: DECEMBER - Team Teaching; JANUARY - The Open Classroom; FEBRUARY - The Inquiry Method of Instruction; MARCH - Vocation Education; APRIL - Who is the Teacher? MAY Financing Schools: JUNE - The Year-Round School; JULY - Teachers and Community; AUGUST - PN and Improvement of Instruction

It is hoped that through these articles, the parents of school-age children and interested citizens of our area, will develop a deeper understanding and a continuing genuine concern in their schools. In the spirit of open dialogue comments and letters of suggested substitutions for the proposed articles are encouraged and will be carefully considered. Contact the local Teacher Association President in your school district or send your suggestions and questions to "Teacher to Citizen Report," North Kent Teachers' Association, 3578 Alpine Avenue, N.W., Grand Rapids, Michigan 49504.

Weather, Common Sense Affect Fuel Savings

Mother Nature and the American consumer will have a lot to say as to whether or not last summer's gasoline shortage will turn into this winter's fuel shortage. By using some common sense practices, homeowners can help alleviate the situation and end up saving themselves anywhere from $20 to $100 or more on their fuel oil heating bills, according to heating experts. For example, a constant thermostat setting of 70 degrees instead of 75 will save consumers considerable dollars, depending on the size of their homes. Annual gallonage savings will range anywhere from 107 for the home which uses 750 gallons at 70 degrees, to 714 for the home which uses 5000 gallons yearly.

Other tips include: Before retiring at night, lower the thermostat setting by 5 degrees. The same holds true when going away for more than 24 hours.

Never let a faucet drip. One drop-a-second can waste 700 gallons in a year's time. And if it's hot water, fuel, as well as money, are being wasted. Make sure the house is well caulked (window sills, foundations, etc.). It's estimated that air leakage heat loss can add more than 10% to an average heating

Remove rugs and furniture from positions where they could block radiators or heat registers. . Keep room temperatues moderate so windows do not have to be opened or the thermostat "juggled" constantly. Turn the heating unit inspected,

Have the home's heating unit inspected, cleaned and tuned-up annually. If a garage is heated, keep all doors closed and the thermostat setting low. A setting in the 55-60 degree range is more than adequate. - If the home has a fireplace, make sure dampers are closed when the fireplace isn't being used.

Help from the federal government is on the way, starting in January, 1974. A new program called Supplemental Security Income is being set up to give a financial boost to low income people of 65 or over, and to those who are disabled or blind.

The government aims to bring every unmarried person's cash income up to at least $130 per month; and that of a married couple, $195. Many people are trying to live on less than these amounts now

Supplemental income payments will be made through the Social Security offices. General federal revenues will provide the money, rather than social security contributions from employed people and employers. The Grand Rapids Social Security Office is now taking applications for this income help. Raymond C. Backus, District Manager, urges that older people who may be eligible act now if they are interested and avoid a

New Members Join Rotary

The men of Lowell Rotary began their meeting November 7 by giving the "Pledge of Allegiance." Before sitting down to eat together, the group was led in a prayer of gratitude by the Rev. Dean Bailey. Guests at this meeting included Bill McPherson and C.M. Heffron of Lowell; Jerry DuShane and Glen Borre of Grand Rapids; Larry Edlund and John Way of Dur-

Received into club membership were Richard Cox of Roth-Gerst Funeral Home: Leonard Jackson of Jackson Motors; Carl Marcus of Michigan Bell; and Jack Raider of Hallmark Foods.

In a very impressive ceremony, conducted by Don-McPherson, these men were received into the Lowell Rotary Club and given the right hand of fellowship. Assisting in the membership induction were Phil Schneider, Charlie Doyle, George Story and Rommie Moore. Orville Jackson introduced the day's speaker, Charl-

Rockman Completes Genuine Feeling Of Togetherness Lactation Record

A cow owned by two Lowell dairymen, has qualified for listing among the Michigan Dairy Herd Improvement Association's exclusive "Top Twenty" high producers for the month of September. Allen and Bruce Baird's 55 month old Holstein cow with the barn name Rockman, completed her 305 M.E. lactation record with 32,931 pounds of milk, 1368 pounds of butterfat and a 4.2 test. This is truly an outstanding record as compared to the state-wide Holstein Breed average of 13,790 pounds of milk and 495 pounds

The Bairds have their herd enrolled in the DHIA testing program and are supervised by Robert Stevens of Greenville. They work in cooperation with Robert Knisely, Kent County Extension Agency and Michigan

DHIA, Inc., a state-wide dairy production testing organization, provides production management records for 2130 Michigan dairymen milking 127,000 cows.

Further information about the production testing program can be obtained from your county extension agent or by contacting DHIA, Inc., Box 946, East Lansing, Michigan 48823.

The club also does many things together outside of the classes, such as canoe trips, swim parties in the summer, hay rides, one of which was held last Friday night at Shady Acres, picnics and so forth.

A few of the hard working students have just received their second rank advance to green belt, with some of them still working hard for the advancement. If you have some extra time at the hours of the classes, please eel free to stop in. If you are interested in joining, the fee is $8 a month and $4 for each additional member of the immediate family.

AREA STUDENTS TO PERFORM IN WMU BAND SPECTACULAR

Western Michigan University's Department of Music will present its Fifth Annual Band Spectacular Friday, November 16, at 8 p.m. in the James W. Miller Auditorium. Over 250 WMU students will perform in five ensembles: the University Symphonic Band, the University Wind Ensemble, the University Jazz Lab Band and the University Marching Band.

Students from this area performing in the spectacular will be James Bird, Chip King and Dan Lomas. Several innovations will highlight the Marching Band's appearance this year. Richard Swinsick is in his first year as director and he has incorporated a new marching style. The Marching Band portion of the Band

Arrows Shutout Rams, End Unbeaten Season

Led again by what has to be the top-rated defensive unit in the Grand Rapids area and by a trio of hardcharging junior running backs, Lowell High School's Red Arrows finished an unbeaten football season last Friday night, at home, by shutting out the Rockford

Stopping an opposing 11 is nothing new to the aggressive Red Arrow defenders, who seven times this season have recorded shutouts. Lowell has allowed only 18 points to be scored against them in nine games (6 by Delton and 12 by Belding). Other than Saginaw Arthur Hill, the Class A power, it may be the best defensive record in the state.

It was a slow-gain night for the visiting Rams as they went home with only 132 yards in total offense and 42 of that came on the first two plays of the game. Lowell rushed for 282 yards with John Piper picking up an even 100, while Bruce Billock had 86 and Ker Higgins came through with 84.

Late in the first quarter, Lowell started to rally with their first touchdown drive, which finished 12 plays later when Billock went around end for the score. The point-after attempt failed, putting only 6 points on the poard for the fired-up Arrows.

Following a colorful performance by the Lowell High School senior varsity band at half time, the Arrows back on the field received the opening kickoff. Using 9:07 of the clock in a 58-yard drive the Arrows were halted on the Rockford four, with the Rams hold-

NEW GUIDE SPOTLIGHTS

MICHIGAN WINTER FUN

The 1974 edition of the popular Michigan Winter

Starting a drive, Rockford was forced to punt on a four down situation. Going 66 yards in seven plays the Arrows made their final score of the game, with Piper going the final nine. The big ground gainer in the drive was Higgins, who scampered 32 yards on a quick open er over tackle. The conversion point was no good. Other than Rockford's penetration to the Lowell 12 yard line on the fifth play of the game, the Rams could get no closer than the 40-yard line for the remainder of the wind-chilled game.

Again guiding to precision the offense of the Arrows was Jeff Pierce, an unsung hero in Coach Al Rowe's no-passing offense. Pierce's value can be best appreciated in the fact that despite running over 99 percent of their plays on the ground, the Arrows fumbled only twice this season.

Defensively, it again was Rusty Steffens from his linebacker position along with guard Rick Thompson and Billock who were outstanding. Sharing equal status with this trio was Rockford's John Daukas, who seemed to be in on every Ram tackle.

It was Rowe's first unbeaten season in 15 years of coaching and he now owns a fine 22-4-1 record over the past three seasons including back to the 6-0 Tri-River championship mark. This is the second straight season Rowe's Arrows have captured the Tri-River lost to Muskegon Reeths-Puffer, 16-14. Northview got a nine-yard scoring run from Dennis Gritter in the first period but it not only was offset by a 10-yard scoring run by Dan Faulknew in the same quarter, but the Rangers added the two-point conversion by Shawn Gary to take an 8-6 lead. Mitch Ames recovered a fumble in the end zone to give Forest Hills Central a 14-6 lead in the second period and Jack Sherry connected with Bill Dangl on a 10-yard scoring pass later in the quarter, Second string quarterback Steve Heneveld rolled 30 yards for a fourth-

Gary Hogeboom passed 24 yards to Dave Davis in the final period for the other Northview score. Central had 185 yards rushing and 103 passing with Sherry connecting on four of 18 passes out 53 yards. Gary had 40 yards in nine carries for the winners with

Check-In Deer

The Department of Natural Resources is again asking all successful deer bunters to bring their deer to one of the many DNR deer checking stations throughout the Lower Peninsula, Wildlife Biologists at the checking stations will gather biological data critical to the management of the Michigan deer herd.

A new "Successful Deer Hunter" patch is being offered to hunters again this year as an incentive to get more deer checked at these checking stations. Hunters hunting in Northern Michigan can get their patch by bringing their deer to checking stations located at High way Rest Areas at Vanderbilt, Alma, Bay City, Paris and White Cloud. Deer will also be checked at all DNR District Offices.

Deer hunters in the Grand Rapids and Muskegon area can get their patch by bringing their deer to the DNR District Office in Grand Rapids, 4056 Plainfield Avenue, N.E., or to the Muskegon DNR Field Office, 121 Causeway, North Muskegon, Checking station hours will be 12 a.m. to 6 p.m. on opening day and on weekends, and 9 a.m. to 12 a.m., weekdays. Hunters in the Greenville and Belding area can check their deer at the Flat River State Game Area Field Office, 6640 Long Lake Road, Belding, weekends and weekdays as listed above.

Deer heads alone may also be brought to the checking stations for biological examination and patches will be given to hunters.

This report is taken from the June 30 annual statistical report which is filed annually with the state. It is reported in the form mandated by the Michigan Depart-

The three most active funds are General Operating, Debt Retirement and Building and Site: - The General Fund is financially sound with reserve accounts in the amount of $114 per student. This would allow the district to operate for a period in excess of one month without outside income. Increasing valuation is reducing state aid each year and more of the burden is placed on local taxes. This year, Forest Hills will receive about $10 per student less from the state. This difference, plus increased cost, has to be supported by local taxes. Our cost per student is below average and plies and maintenance are minimum. - The Debt Retirement Fund carries enough reserve to pay principal and interest on outstanding debts for one year in advance.

Building and Site Funds: These funds are derived from the sale of bonds authorized by the voters and receipts from sales of abandoned school buildings. The 1969 authorized construction and emodeling projects are completed and a new school site has been purchased in the Cascade area. This fund will be depleted during the 1973-74 school year.

The Board of Education will have to concern themselves this year with the lack of room in elementary schools, improved school maintenance and a proposal to replace the General Fund operating millage which

The operating millage will have to be considered carefully. The state aid formula calls for one more mill now collected for full state funding. A renewal of the fifteen mills will penalize the district $73,000 in state funds next year. The possibility of an extra mill will have to be discussed when the Board studies increasing costs, inadequate services and improvement of pro-

State Has Surplus Of $186 Million

State government is reporting a surplus of nearly $186 million, about $6 million more than expected. John T. Dempsey, director of the Department of Management and Budget who informed Gov. William Milliken of the surplus last Friday, said the extra money "assures the viability of the $380 million tax cut which the legislature enacted at your request." What the announcement of the excess does not spell out is how well the state recovered from earlier hard times. The surplus exists despite repayment of $45 mil lion borrowed from the Motor Vehicle Accident Fund and $18 million borrowed from the Veterans' Trust Fund, money shifted to the general fund after the GM

Leaving the best to last, the bandsmen stepped lively, and played their best, to a difficult tune, "Duelling Banjos." They were superb, as the majorettes did a clever routine to the theme from "Deliverence." Before departing from the field, all seniors marching in their last game for Lowell were saluted.

Pre-game activities, reports Della Rogers, saw the band form the letters U.S.A. on the field, during which time they played the school's song "Varsity," and the "Star Spangled Banner."

Moving to the sidelines the Arrow musicians formed a tunnel, used by the 1973 Tri-River Champs as they came on field to face the Rockford Rams.

Buth's Bill To Correct Ridiculous Situation

State Representative Martin Buth (R-Rockford) has introduced a resolution into the House of Representatives to correct what he terms a "ridiculous situation" at the Kent County Airport.

According to Buth, "The completion of the South Belt Freeway will leave Kent County Airport surrounded by freeways on three sides, and yet motorists will still have no convenient access to the air terminal.

"Considering the significant amount of funds which have been spent on both projects, this is a highly ridiculous situation, and one which could easily be rectified with a little up-to-date planning.'

Representative Buth's resolution urges the Department of State Highways and Transportation, which has responsibility for both highways and airports, to "immediately examine this situation and find a reasonable, workable way to connect the freeway system and the Kent County Airport."

"The completion of the South Belt Freeway will provide Kent County with an excellent state freeway system; one that will complement the county's already outstanding and modern airport in which $25 million has been invested. I'm confident that the Department of State Highways and Transportation will succeed in developing a plan which will conveniently bring the two together," Buth concluded.
