to Plans 2nd Annual Tractor Pull

Tractors of four different varieties, from all over the State of Michigan and some from out-of-state, will embark on the village of Alto Saturday, August 17, for the second annual tractor pull contest, sponsored by the Alto Businessmen's Association.

Competition in the sanctioned event will begin at Dewayne Durkee and Harold Metternick are on the planning committee for Alto's second annual tractor pull.

LOWELL MOOSE LODGE NO. 809-will hold their annual picnic for their members and guests this Sunday, August 4, at Fallasburg Park.

A CREW OF MEMBERS-of V.F.W. Post 8303 of Lowell were on the paint detail last week, as they applied a 'fresh coat' to the outside of their clubrooms on East Main Street.

A BAKE SALE to benefit one new Rescue Unit for the Lowell area, will be held this Friday in the former Lowell Area Chamber of Commerce Building on West Main Street (next to kaptain's korners). Baking the delicious goodies for the sale and sponsoring the event is Thelma "Cookie on the Bridge" Roth, former owner and operator of the Levee Restaurant.

Thelma will have a lot of baked goods for sale, plus she'll have coffee, donuts and cookies available to those who stop by.

RADIO SERVICE COMPANY-and Chrouch Communications, located on East Main Street, is under the management of George Solveck. The business is still owned by the widow of Robert G. Chrouch, Bonita.

MANY MICHIGAN TAXPAYERS-have undelivered refund checks waiting for them at the Internal Revenue Service. Any taxpayer who has not yet received his refund should call or visit his local IRS office as soon as possible. The most common reason for an undelivered check is that the taxpayer has moved and left no forwarding address.

NORMAN SWEET-20, of Lowell, apprehended last week at Lippert's Pharmacy on East Main Street for shoplifting plead guilty to the charge and has been released on a $500 personal bond by the 63rd District Court, pending sentencing at a later date.

LAST THURSDAY-Jeffrey Stevens of Lowell was arrested on a warrant issued by the 63rd District Court on a charge of breaking and entering. The investigation and warrant was sought by the Kent County Sheriff's Department.

SUNDAY MORNING-two male subjects were surprised by a security guard at Attwood Corporation on North Monroe Street, as they were attempting to make off with some die casting metal. Lowell officers and two county units were summoned to the scene, but the men got away on foot up through Oakwood Cemetery, cast of the building.

TWO HIT AND RUN-accidents within the city last week are being intensively investigated by the Lowell Police Department.

INVOLVED IN A PROPERTY DAMAGE-accident at the intersection of East Main and North Washington last Friday was Donald A. VanderWerf of Ada and John Williams of Grand Rapids. The rear-end collision occurred, when the VanderWerf vehicle ran into Williams.

ETHEL BATTERBEE-of Grindle Drive, Lowell, was slightly injured last week when her car hit a tree on Jackson Street, just north of Main. She had made a left turn off Main and looked back, when the accident occurred.

FOR BOOK LOVERS-In conjunction with Lowell's sidewalk sale days', the Lowell Library will offer for sale both paper-back and hard cover books, Friday, August 2 from 10 a.m. til 4 p.m. in front of Lowell Savings and Loan Association office; Saturday, at the Lowell Library during regular hours.

> BE SURE TO VOTE IN TUESDAY'S AUGUST PRIMARY ELECTION

12:30 p.m. following the initial weigh-in of each vehicle at Bergy Brothers Elevator. The site of the contest is located on Timpson Avenue, southwest of the village, at the end of 64th Street (on the farm formerly owned by Dan Wingeier).

The types of tractors competing will be garden tractors, farm tractors, super stocks and modifieds. They will all test their strength against the stone boat weight machine.

Last year's competition was powerful, with most of the machines lifting their front wheels off the ground before they finally drained their power down to the last tug.

At the tractor pull, the spectators will be able to make it a full day, as refreshments will be made available on the grounds, served by the Alto American Legion Post and the Alto Sportsmen's Club.

One of the modified entries.

It'll be a big day in Alto, as the businessmen have scheduled a full slate of activities. Beginning at 6 p.m. there'll be a Little League ball game at the Alto Elementary School, and at 9 p.m. to the beat of a 'live' band an old fashioned street dance will be held on Alto's main street.

To top the day off, the businessmen will be giving away a hind quarter of beef, to some lucky ticket hold-

4-H Youth Fair To Open Monday

The Kent County 4-H Youth Fair opens Monday, August 5, at the 4-H fairgrounds in Lowell, with lots of fun planned for everyone. The fair will run through Saturday, August 10.

On the program for the week will be the judging of horses, swine, poultry, beef, dairy, rabbits, goats, sheep etc., plus there will be a giant livestock sale.

There will be the third annual north-south tug-ofwar, a pet parade, a grandstand show, style revue, the coronation of the 4-H fair queen, and a mid-way of rides and side attractions.

Judging of all clothing, baked goods, flowers, dog care, public speaking, photography and many of the 63 various projects on display will be held early in the

On Saturday, the exhibits will be released and premiums paid to all of the youth exhibitors.

Lowell Youth Bowling Coach Is Nominated

Al Eckman, YMCA youth bowling coach and instructor, has been nominated to be the "State of Michigan Youth Bowling Coach of the Year." This announcement was given at the recently-held Area Roll-Off banquet by Jack Burch who is the western area Youth Bowling Association representative. Al has been instructing in the YMCA-sponsored youth bowling program at American Legion Lanes for the past several years. Thirty-five of his bowlers have won thirty-six trophies this past year in addition to numerous emblems

The final results and the award winner will be announced at the "Parade of Champions" banquet to be held at the Warren Chateau on August 11th.

"Fleeced"—A Flimsy Fluke?

This is by way of explanation for those who may have taken umbrage at the Ledger's use of the word "fleeced" in last week's article about Vice-President Gerald Ford's visit to Lowell, in which mention was made of the Secret Service men who "fleeced" the City before Ford's arrival.

According to the American College Dictionary, "fleece," is the "coat of wool that covers a sheep or some similar animal; to overspread-as with a fleece, and the more common meaning, to swindle or plunder."

The Ledger is no way intended to cast any aspersions on the Secret Service men, who from all reports, were most courteous and true gentlemen, all. Neither did we wish to imply the gentlemen of the Secret Service were wolves dressed in sheep's clothing, as might be construed from the first definition stated above. Rather, the use of the word "fleeced" was chosen to convey a sense of "overspreading"-in a fleece-like manner-a dense covering of the city. We hope you will accept our probably fluky, perhaps flimsy, but sincere, interpretation of fleece, fleeced, fleecing.

WALT DISNEY's "World's Greatest Athlete" and "Snowball Express'-double feature will be playing one full week at the Strand Theatre in Lowell, Wednesday, August 7 thru August 13.

Vote Tuesday In Primary Election

The primary election for choosing the candidates for the parties in the November ballot comes up Tuesday, August 6, as the many candidates for each office are busy getting acquainted with the voters.

The polls of said election will be open at seven o'clock a.m. and will remain open until eight o'clock p.m. on said day of election. Every qualified elector present and in line at the polls at the hour prescribed for closing shall be allowed to vote.

While most of the township offices-supervisors, clerks, treasurers, trustees and constables-remain uncontested, some of the offices on the state and county levels have conducted debating campaigns.

On the August 6 primary in this area on the state level, will be:

Republican Democrat

Governor William G. Milliken Jerome P. Cavanaugh Sander M. Levin James E. Wells

5th District Congressional

Rep. Paul G. Goebel, Jr.

Charles M. Wiersma Richard VanderVeen

State Senator Robert VanderLaan Robert Fahey State Legislature Martin D. Buth Loren Pitsch

On the county level:

3rd District County

Thomas Reges Commissioner Harry Hough Arnold Wittenbach

Twelve candidates are seeking a judgeship on the third District Court of Appeals. Voters will be asked to vote for not more than two of the following:

Thea Rossi Barron Luther I. Daines Edward G. Durance H. vanden Berg Hatch Donald E. Holbrook, Jr. John T. Letts Leo E. Maki Allan C. Miller V. Robert Payant Roger Oeming Robert Richardson Daniel F. Walsh

Sidewalk Sale Days

The annual "Sidewalk Sale Days" sponsored by the Lowell Area Chamber of Commerce will be held this Friday and Saturday, beginning when most of the stores open at 9 a.m. in the morning.

According to Wayne Dowling, president of the Chamber, participating merchants have, for the past week, been busy marking down items, and preparing to move the wares out onto the street for the two-day

"While there'll be bargains galore brought to street-side," Dowling explained. "Some of the merchants will also be having store-wide sales on the inside, also." "This is one of the yearly events, sponsored by the Chamber," Dowling stated, "and we hope that all the merchants will be participating." Early back-to-school shoppers will find many items to fit their budgets, with some merchants offering both summer and winter fashions. It's also an ideal time to pick up, at reduced prices, gifts for an upcoming wedding, anniversary, birthday, or what have you. Once the sale gets underway, the best bargains go fast, so be there early this Friday and Saturday.

There'll Be Some Changes Made

Managers Pat Yard and Dewayne Kennedy of the Valley Vista Inn report some big changes are being planned at the eating establishment on West Main St.

Kennedy, the chef, and a graduate of the Culinary Arts Institute in New Haven, Connecticut, says he was born and raised in the business as his father is also a chef.

Renovations to the present structure include the enlargement of the kitchen facilities, addition of a dining room to seat 150, remodeling of the present dining room into a coffee shop and moving the main entrance to the front of the building.

The Valley Vista Steak House has been chosen as the new name to fit a more gourmet-epicurean offering of the culinary arts.

Guests may soon be able to enjoy dinner and cocktails-the obtaining of a liquor license is now being looked into,-and special Sunday brunches, banquet facilities and catering will be available. They will also be able to accommodate small wedding receptions and dinner parties.

The Coffee Shop will continue to offer customers a choice of selections as they do now.

The first session, 9 a.m. to 11:30 daily, will be for children living on the south side of Cascade Road, including such places as Kentwood, Caledonia, Alaska, Caravelle Village, Whitneyville area, and all points

In case of vacation conflicts, feel free to send children the following week. It has been necessary to divide the parish, because of a lack of facilities to house the total Vacation Church School. Mrs. Holly Brandsma and Mrs. Sue Whitehouse are serving as co-directors of this year's Vacation Church

No pre-registration is needed. Children from the community, as well as the church, are cordially invited. Children from four years of age through sixth grade level are welcome. There will be a nursery for babies and toddlers both weeks, but this is only for mothers who are teaching or assisting with the school.

The second session, August 12 to August 16, 9 a.m. to 11:30 daily, is for children living on the north side of Cascade Road, including such places as Ada, Cascade Springs Platte, Cascade Woods Platte, Hidden Hills Platte, Brooks Platte in the Forest Hills area, Lowell,

Both Vacation Schools are using the same curricu-lum, but with entirely different facilities. Please do not send children both weeks. The daily average attendance last year, both weeks combined, was about 250. More are anticipated this year.

Lowell Ledger-Suburban Life, August 1, 1974 NATIONAL SMILE WEEK

As the parade of life marches by, will you be the grand marshal, a cherring spectator-or the sad-faced clown trotting along the sidelines, seeing and believing only the worst? In these United States, each individual has the opportunity to choose his own role. Sometimes the grimness of modern events makes it difficult to maintain an optimistic outlook, but those who never lose sight of the bright side of things are truly the ones who get more out of living. That is what National Smile Week, observed this year August 4-10, is all about. And who knows? Maybe by focusing on the value of a smile, a little better perspective can be gained for use in the days that lie ahead.

Evening Ceremony

Patricia Hagen, daughter of Mrs. Carl Hagen and the late Mr. Hagen of Lowell, and Rick D. Wilcox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Denton Wilcox of Alto were united in marriage Friday evening, July 26. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dean Bailey of the First United Methodist Church of Lowell.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her brother, Tom Hagen, of Westlake, Ohio. The maid of honor was Janice Vandawater of Alto, and Kenneth Stahl served as best man. Bridesmaids included Peggy Dalstra, the groom's sister, Susan Wilcox, and Mrs. James Hagen of Oakpark, Illinois, Randy Wilcox, brother of the groom, Dale Hanson and the bride's brother, James Hagen, assisted as groomsmen. Cousins of the groom, Ronnie Bancroft and Pam Sterzick, were the ringbearer and flower girl, respectively. Mr. and Mrs. Jules Erles and Mr. and Mrs. James Peterson served at the reception as masters and mistresses of ceremony.

The bride wore a gown with empire lines with chapel train of satapeau over crepe satin. The bodice was overlaid with imported French alencon lace with a trace of the lace extending the length of the bishop

School To Hire Full Time Education Director

In their continuing effort to involve the community more closely with the school, board members authorized the hiring of a Community-School and Adult Education director to increase local interest in both full time academic courses and assist with the YMCA leisure time activity classes.

The pilot program for adult education classes began two years ago when it was felt that at first the board might have to foot part of the bill. From the beginning, however, the program has financed itself and board members feel that it is at a point now where it cannot grow to serve the community adequately without a full

Part of the director's salary will be paid by the State and it is expected that the remainder will be taken care of by increased state aid from a higher enrollment.

Night classes for high school completion courses are open to all individuals of any age who have not yet received their high school diplomas. In addition, many other "interest" programs are provided for those who

A new state law enabling the use of school buses for senior citizen trips (if there are no commercial bus agencies readily available in the area) has resulted in a request by local senior citizens to use the Lowell school

In considering the request board members reacted favorably but stated that a definite policy would first have to be drawn up. Items such as additional insurance. school personnel drivers and cost all have to be checked into, the board decided.

The fact that some senior citizens could pay the expense of such trips as to Detroit and Traverse City but that some possibly could not, bothered Board President Richard Siegle. "I would like to help these people but I don't want any of them deprived of a trip because they couldn't afford it," Dr. Siegle stated.

Assistant Superintendent Don Kelly brought up the fact that the cost of bus trips for anything other than transporting students to and from school is automatically deducted from the school's state aid and that the legislature has now given its approval to charge riders on spectator buses going to out-of-town sporting events.

It was mentioned, however, that Saranac furnishes buses to senior citizens in their area free of charge by tieing it into their community education program. Superintendent Leonard Sinke stated that he felt that with the hiring of a new full time director for the Community-School and Adult Education program in the local system, perhaps residual money might be realized that could pay for trips on weekends and throughout the summer months when the buses are not being used for school activities.

"Perhaps this would not materialize to any great extent this year," Sinke said, "but once it is established I think it can go.

The over-all feeling of the board was to adopt a policy just as soon as possible, figure out the costs and take it from there.

For possibly the first time in the history of the board, a non-member was asked to represent the school on another governing body. John Troy, one of the few citizens who for years has attended most Board of Education meetings, will act on the school's behalf in all City Planning Commission meetings.

Several other committies were set up for the coming year and President Siegle also mentioned that he would like to start a citizens' committee to have a continual direct input from citizens throughout the entire school district and would like to have all board members attend those committee meetings whenever possible.

Following a request by the City of Lowell, Don Kelly, Dennis McMahon, John Gabrion, Ron Roberts, Dorothy Flier, Phyllis Lessens, Dr. Reagan and Orion Thaler were suggested as a committee to work with the City on the student smoking problem in areas near school buildings

As a result of a board request several months ago, Ken Gunther, a member of the heating and cooling firm that served as sub-contractors for the Middle School and High School addition, presented his findings following a comparative study of a similar school building in this area regarding power costs in the building

Using the new Rockford Junior High building as the basis for comparison (even though that building is. somewhat smaller) it was discovered that Rockford uses more power than Lowell but that the rate per kilowatt hour is higher in Lowell than it is in Rockford.

Gunther suggested that a "demand meter" be installed in the Middle School which, he estimated, might bring the present cost down from 10 to 15 percent.

The board next voted to have Ivan Blough reface the old Junior High Boiler room which was left standing when the building was razed because it houses the heating plant for Riverside Elementary. It was felt that the boiler room as it now stands is enough of an eyesore that something should be done about it, particularly when the playground area near it is to be graded and partially surfaced.

Contracts were offered by the board to five new teachers for the coming year: Richard White, high school chemistry and science; Judith Ekkens, high school home ec; Connie Molesta, high school English; Carole Backstrom, Runciman remedial reading, and Elizabeth Thompson, Middle School remedial reading.

In final action, after some discussion, the board accepted the architect's plans for the new additions to both Bushnell and Alto Elementary Schools.

Topic Is 'Inflation'

Two younger, future Rotarians, Brian Johnson and Tom Graham, ate lunch with the Lowell Rotarians at their regular meeting Wednesday, July 24. Brian attended with his grandfather, Rotarian Orville Jackson and Tom was with his dad, Walter Graham. Other guests included John Boone, Dorothy Graham, and Larry Lan-

It was reported that club president, Arnold Wittenbach's picture appeared, along with Vice-President Gerald Ford, in the Washington Post.

Hugo Hammerslag introduced the day's speaker, William Stellin, Vice-President and Trust Officer of

Speaking on a current problem, "Inflation" was the topic of Mr. Stellin's address. Stellin pointed out that we are experiencing a 9 to 12% increase in inflation and predicted that this would continue until the end of 1974. Wage and price controls, poor food harvests, and oil price increases by the Arabs were suggested by Mr. Stellin as possible reasons for our inflated economy.

However, he felt that the main cause of our inflation is that the government has put more money into our economy to bolster employment, but without a corresponding increase in production. So we have a situation of "too much money chasing too few goods and services."

"The cure for inflation," continued Mr. Stellin, "is not to learn to live with inflation but to lick it." As to what one individual can do to help fight inflation, Stellin said that we should vote for public officials who understand how to apply the law of supply and demand to work in our economy. Also he urged us to insist that Congress limit spending to what today's (and not tomorrow's) taxpayers can afford.

Playing In Invitational

It took eight innings to determine the winners of the ladies' softball game last Wednesday, July 24. Low-ell's team, sponsored by Arnies' Standard Station, suffered the loss to the House of Flavors at River Valley Ball park in Rockford. The score of 10-9 reflects the battle that occurred.

Arnies' will be traveling to Big Rapids August 3 and 4 for the Big Rapids Invitational Tournaments and hopefully will have better luck.

The next Rockford league game will be held August 5 against Squire Street Squares at 7:30 at River Valley ball park, Rockford.
