Main Street Businesses Appeal State's Parking Ban

A delegation of some 20 Lowell Main Street business persons appeared at the Council Meeting Monday night to appeal for additional time to prepare for a ban of parking on one side of Main Street. The State Highway Department has ruled that parking shall be removed from one side of the street by July 1, 1977.

The business persons have written Senator Vander-Laun and his reply indicated that if the removal of parking would cause severe damage to Lowell businesses an appeal would be in order.

In the meantime, the business group revealed, they would like to have the city cooperate with them to obtain more off-street parking and to take other steps to increase the safety for motorists using Main Street.

There will be a meeting between State Highway Department officials and Main Street business persons and members of the Council before any further action is taken.

Bids Received For New Wells

Bids were received Monday to conduct aquifer testing and drilling three production wells as part of the new city water plant just south of Bowes Road. Low bidder was Lane-Northern with a bid of $11,210.50, the bid was awarded and action was requested to move ahead to obtain the property needed for well sites and the water treatment plant.

In other action, the City Council approved the appointment of Beverly Hagen and Beverly Hall to the Lowell Library Board; Pat Smith was named City Treasurer for the next fiscal year.

A request for an easement by the Highway Department to widen the north-east corner of Main and Hudson Street was held up until a new study is made. The proposed plan would cause damage to the only tree on the corner and be expensive to move the support pole for the traffic signal and a fire hydrant.

A request to approve the transfer of the tavern licence for the Village Inn, owned by Win Setchfield to William G. Gardner of Holt, was approved.

Lights For Baseball Field

A proposal was discussed for installing new 'quartz' lighting for the baseball field. The lighting proposed would bring the illumination to a standard for Little League ball at an estimated cost of $4,500 plus the cost of a new service and four 40 ft. poles. A request for bids will be prepared and early action is hoped for.

The City Council approved the leasing of Tele processing equipment to give direct access for the City to the computer in Grand Rapids being used for water and sewer billing and property descriptions.

City Manager Blaine Bacon announced that of the 184 property owners who had paid their storm-water assessment in full there are 33 remaining who have not applied for their refund.

School Voters To Elect Three

Registered voters in the Lowell Area School district will go to the polls next Monday, June 9, to elect three new members to the Board of Education, out of a field of ten candidates.

Running for the open three-year term are Roger Roberts and Eugene Kaye. The four-year term is being sought by Mary Ellen Biernacki, Robert Blatt, Jack Butterworth, William Heintzleman, Roger L. Kropf, David Miller, Jack Lalley and Terry Zandstra.

A meet the candidates night will be held at the Lowell Middle School this Thursday night, June 5, at 8 p.m. All interested persons are invited.

Eugene Kaye

Eugene Kaye and his wife, Virginia, reside at 1626 Alden Nash N.E. They have three daughters, Mary, who graduated from Michigan State, Susan, from Western Michigan and Betsy, a 1975 graduate from Lowell and enrolled at Western, and a son, Mike, at the Lowell Middle School.

Gene received his elementary and secondary education in Grand Rapids. After a tour in the Navy and Naval Air Corps reserve he continued his education at Ohio State University and graduated from Central Michigan University, graduate work from New York University, University of Michigan, and Michigan State University.

Gene and Virginia moved to Lowell in 1962 and built and operated Arrowhead Golf Course. At present, he is serving on Secretary of State Austin's task force on Traffic and Safety Committee. He is also district representative on Traffic Safety for Kent, Ionia, and Ottawa Counties. Currently employed by the Grand Rapids Board of Education.

What Makes Him Qualified for the Board of Education?

My ironic spirit, a diplomat who always seeks to bring contending parties together. But the effort must result in some "good." (2) My expertise as a professional educator. (3) For children, the proper combination of individualization and group cohesion: for teachers, freedom to be themselves combined with openness and encouragement to be more than they have yet been. (4) The principalship, terribly important people, for teachers, students and parents. I think they need (a) in-service instruction, (b) praise when they do well, blame and removal when they fail repeatedly, (c) a greater sense of stability, improved communication with the Superintendent, Staff, less paper shuffling, more of a chance to be an "educator" rather than a mere manager, (d) more persistent efforts to engage the parents in the ongoing life of the school in recognition of the fact, I think, that the home is still the greatest influence on the total life of the child, to improve basic education with increasing alternatives and with fewer financial resources.

Over the weekend, the above appurtenance was implanted in the High School court-yard by some mischievous pranksters with a flair for the unusual in the way of yard decorations. The action served to refresh memories in the minds of some old-time pranksters—'pranks' that shall not be divulged on these pages. However, some red & white petunias would have added an artistic touch and perhaps made it more appealing to the eye of the beholder.

A measles warning was issued last week to parents of students in the Lowell Area School System. According to the notice, one or more cases of hard measles (7 to 10 days) has been reported. Measles, a highly contagious disease is usually accompanied by a high fever and can result in hearing loss, brain damage and even death.

Parents are urged to take their children to see the family doctor or contact the local health department if their child is not protected with measles vaccine or received the vaccine before 12 months of age . . .

Three minor vehicle-bicycle accidents were investigated by the Lowell Police Department between May 18 and 24. In all instances, the bike rider was at fault. Two of the accidents occurred when the cyclist rode off the sidewalk into the path of oncoming traffic. All parents are urged to please instruct their children on the safe handling of their bicycles . . .

Roger McKay of Ada was hit by the City's street sweeper May 22 at the intersection of Center and West Main Streets. The mishap happened as the city-owned vehicle was making a U-turn to sweep the other side of the street, hitting McKay's vehicle in the left side . . .

Plan ahead! The Lowell Ledger staff will take their annual vacation between June 28 and July 7. All news and ad copy for the July 4th edition of the paper, which will go to press early, is Monday, June 23. All photos, etc., must be in by Friday, June 20 . . .

A car driven by James Yeiter of Lowell, making a left hand turn at the intersection of West and West Main Sts., was struck from behind May 22 by a vehicle driven by James Doody of Grand Rapids . . .

Two of the three bicycles reported missing last week to the Lowell Police Department have been recovered. The third incident remains under investigation . . .

Two hit and run accidents were investigated by the Police Department this past week—one has been solved, and the other remains under investigation . . .

Four shoplifters, all juveniles, were apprehended at Lippert's Pharmacy on East Main Street, between May 25 and 31. All were turned over to the custody of their parents . . .

Daniel Harnish of Lowell was arrested May 26 for driving while his license was suspended . . .

Floyd Britter of Bellevue, Michigan, reported a hit and run accident May 24 to Lowell officers. The accident involvement occurred in front of the Village Inn on West Main . . .

Involved in a three-car accident at West Main, near Amity, were Dale Anderson, May Alexander and Gina Weaver, all of Lowell. The melee took place as the Anderson vehicle was making a left turn, with the Alexander car stopped behind him, when the Weaver vehicle hit the Alexander car, driving it into Anderson's vehicle. Miss Weaver was the only one reportedly injured. . . .

Duane McDonald was injured in a car-motorcycle mishap at West Main and West Streets May 28, when a vehicle driven by Gregory Canfield made a left turn in front of him. . . .

Power Loss One In A Thousand

In the event you were having a late dinner or the kids had decided to fix a pizza last Sunday and you suddenly found you had no electricity you probably wondered—what happened? Well, Sunday afternoon the city of Lowell lost all power for a short time because they were taking power from Wolverine Electric through the inner connect and Wolverine Electric suffered a severe fire in one of their generating plants. Upon getting the engines going in Lowell, a 2,400 volt transformer blew in the Lowell plant engine room necessitating shutting down of Lowell's generating capacity.

Because Lowell has a double inner connect with Wolverine, the switch over to another line was made and the City was back on power with Wolverine after a relatively short lapse and were able to continue to furnish power to the City.

Repairs to the transformer were tried, but certain problems of this type of transformer have to be worked out with the engineer. This again shows the desirability of an inner connect with another utility and how each of the utilities help each other out under adverse conditions.

John Jones, Superintendent of Light and Power, stated that the chance of a transformer in the Lowell plant being damaged are one in many, many thousands and for this reason, reserves are not normally kept on hand by power companies.

Iva Dawson McIntyre was born at Bowne Center and moved to the Lowell area shortly after, residing here ever since. She was a long-time correspondent for the Ledger, and over the years Mrs. Mac has helped out in the homes of many Lowell residents. She has also been very active in church circles and programs.

It is anticipated that many of her relatives, neighbors and friends will plan to attend the open house in her honor.

'Paul Dintaman Day'

Paul Dintaman of Alto, custodian at the Alto Elementary School for the past ten years, was honored May 30 by the students and the members of the Alto Area Mother's Club in ceremonies themed "Paul Dintaman Day."

The school's principal, Roger Buck, highlighted the recognition, when he sang a poem he had written himself revolving around Mr. Dintaman's job.

A potluck supper, planned by the Mother's Club was held at 6:30 p.m. in the school's cafeteria. Mr. Dintaman was presented with a chaise lounge from the Mother's Club.

Dr. Wise Receives Highest Citation

Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert Wise returned last Thursday from Washington, D.C. where Dr. Wise received the United States Department of Agriculture's highest citation in ceremonies held on Wednesday.

Dr. Wise, a veterinarian, retired recently as associate administrator for the USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service where he played a significant role in a successful push to eradicate hog cholera in the United States last year. He was also instrumental in the establishment of a program with Columbia, South America, and Panama, to reduce the risk of spreading hog cholera after the completion of the Pan American Highway. The dreaded disease is said to be one of the most deadly and costly should it hit the livestock industry.

Dr. Wise, a native of Grand Rapids, left private practice there in 1949 for federal service as a field veterinarian, the first rung on the ladder towards his appointment as associate administrator, a position he held from 1967 until his recent retirement.

Dr. Wise and his wife, Jean, decided to settle in the Lowell area and are presently residing on North Hudson until the completion of their new home on Alden Nash Avenue, north of Lowell.

It is always interesting to learn why newcomers choose a particular area in which to make their home—other than for business reasons. Mrs. Wise revealed that after deciding to locate somewhere in this area, on property with certain prescribed qualifications, it was she who traveled to Michigan and made the purchase of the property on Alden Nash.

Welcome to Lowell. We hope your new life will be a happy one. We know it was a 'Wise' decision.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:
In response to the criticism of our Hot Lunch Program by Mr. Lalley in last week's Ledger, I would like to present some facts and information about the Lowell Area Schools Hot Lunch Program.

We serve from 2,100 to 2,200 students each day, out of a potential of approximately 2,700. We operate under a federal and state program, with clearly defined guidelines. Through this program we are attempting to teach the students good nutrition through eating.

Every Type A lunch is a well balanced meal with protein, vegetables, bread, a fruit and/or dessert, and milk. These are the guidelines we follow under this Federal Program, and we are constantly being evaluated and have always passed with flying colors.

What is the alternative to this program?
We could drop out of the program and not claim reimbursement or get commodities. Instead of 35 and 40 cents we would then be forced to charge 60 to 70 cents for every lunch and would not be able to offer free lunches and milk to needy children.

We offer a variety of main dishes and vegetables quite often in the Middle and Senior High schools and also have an ala carte line in the senior high. We feel secondary school students are mature enough to make their own selections. The federal government has established the rules for a Type A lunch with the advice of the American Medical Association, American Dental Association, American Dietetic Association, and the American School Food Service Association. By following these guidelines, we are attempting to teach the young people of our district to eat well balanced and nutritious meals so vitally essential to the growth of a healthy mind and body. It is a proven fact you cannot teach a hungry child, and the purpose of the Lowell Area Hot Lunch Program is to teach every child we can with good, nutritious food.

This is what we feel is the overall picture of our school Hot Lunch Program, one that promotes good eating habits and eliminates excessive waste.

Hot Lunch Staff,
Lowell Area Schools,
Marilyn Bovee, Supervisor

Letter to the Editor:

We, as concerned parents, would like to deeply question the qualifications of one candidate running for the Lowell Area Schools Board of Education, namely, Mrs. Mary Ellen Biernacki.

There are about eight neighbors whom voters should talk to as to her feelings concerning children, especially when she openly referred to some as trash, as well as the land they and their parents reside on.

If this woman cannot cope with neighborhood problems, how can she adequately serve on a board that makes the major decisions concerning the future of these same children?

The children, hurt deeply by her overt remarks, have learned to stay clear of that driveway overly marked with no trespassing signs, but will she ever learn to cope with children?

Signed,
The Eight Neighbors,
Dear Editor, Please Help Us!

The trend toward teachers on the school board is a poor way to go in my opinion. For one thing, in many cases, their campaign expenses are paid for by a teachers association. This puts the average candidate at a disadvantage, and makes one wonder why the teacher is willing to be backed by the association.

With teachers having tenure AND control of a school board, where would a child or parent go if there were a disagreement? Teachers have several organizations to represent them. Children have none.

Also, there is the possibility that a teacher-controlled board might tend to become more concerned with wages, pensions, etc., than with the needs of the children.

Teachers deal with children as a daily job but seem to be no more qualified than anyone else as to helping children. Each year children are coming out of school less able to read and write and poorly prepared for their future. I feel, in many cases, teachers are more likely to see things from the teacher's viewpoint instead of the child's.

With two board members having teaching backgrounds now on the board, that ought to be more than enough for the Lowell School Board. For a lively school board, we need people from several walks of life with different opinions and interests.

Sincerely,
A Former Teacher

Dear Editor,

In the past many Lowell merchants have wondered why more shoppers are not patronizing their stores. I have several good reasons why I do not do so.

First, it is almost impossible to cash a personal or payroll check at any stores or gas stations in Lowell.

Second, the minute you walk into their stores they are upon you asking if they can help you. If you say you are just looking they watch you like a hawk until you leave, making you feel like a criminal and cannot be trusted.

Not even children can be safe. I realize there is a lot of shoplifting done by children but I also feel that they are entitled to some rights also. My nine-year-old was accused of stealing at a local drug store today. She was followed from the store into the parking lot and told to give them her purse. Although she told them she had not taken anything they searched her anyway.

Then she was given an apology until they were confronted by parents. I feel this was very unjust and caused her undue stress for a mistake on her part.

Under these conditions I feel very uncomfortable shopping in the town of Lowell and will continue to do my shopping in Grand Rapids.

To The Editor:

It has been a long time since so much interest has been shown in a School Board Election. I sincerely hope everyone who goes to the polls, selects the candidates who are best qualified for the complicated duties of being a good board member. Occasionally candidates seek the office only because of one or two particular areas in which they have an axe to grind.

After reading David Miller's Letter to the Editor 5/15/75 and the letters that followed refuting his remarks I feel I must add my own opinion. Mr. Miller's accusations concerning teachers or teacher related candidates are too severe and in poor taste. However, there is some real concern as to the National and State teacher organizations having declared as part of their aims and goals, to gain more control of School Boards.

Depending on what side of the fence you are on, this can be for the benefit or detriment of our educational system. I hope the teachers, or teacher related candidates are running on their own platform and not the MEA platform. The possibility of a conflict of interest is of concern and although this factor can at some time affect every candidate, the potential for a conflict of interest poses a bigger issue with the teacher or teachers related candidate.

Having served on the Board of Education with David Miller I feel his good qualities as a Board member far outweigh his one letter to the Editor. He has been very active in encouraging citizen involvement in our schools. It has been largely through his efforts that the District publishes the Measuring Stick. He very carefully researches all issues that come before the board.

He has been instrumental in getting a written set of board policies. He is very cognizant of using tax dollars prudently. He has been very active in the board and administration efforts to develop a Management by Objectives approach to school management. Most importantly, he has always kept the welfare of our school children uppermost in mind in all decisions.

For these reasons, I hope you, too, will vote for David Miller next Monday.
Sincerely,
R. E. Reagan, D.D.S.

Dear Editor,

I would like to comment on Mr. David Miller's letter to the editor about teachers, ex-teachers and spouses of teachers serving on our Board of Education. It is my opinion that Mr. Miller was only trying to inform the voting populace that there already are two members serving on the Board who are former teachers. It is also my opinion that he was not challenging the integrity, or the qualification of either of these members. I would hope that he would more than agree with many that Mr. Thaler and Mrs. Mullen have in the past, and are now doing a tremendous job on the Board of Education.

I don't think that Miller's point was concerned with the present board members, but with what might be majority in the future. I appear that most of the letters you have received are anti-Miller. These letters come mainly from teachers and other highly educated people. It, therefore, is hard to conceive that an ex-teacher or a spouse of a teacher serving on the School Board would not at one time or another be confronted with a conflict of interest. This could become quite troublesome if our Board consisted of a majority of such persons.

As a voter, I am pleased to have been informed as to the vocational background of the existing members of the board. I can now make a choice, as will many other people, with the feeling of having been informed. Maybe this is the best way to do the best job he knows how to do. No matter what the opinion, it is still the people's choice.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

This Thursday night, June 5, at 8 p.m., in the Lowell Middle School, all interested persons, registered voters in particular, will get a chance to meet, question and chat with the record number of candidates that have filed for the three vacant seats on the Lowell Area Schools' Board of Education.

I urge everyone who is interested in the future education of their children and the happenings of the school district to attend. Get to know the candidates before you go to the polls on Monday, June 9. Don't go to the polls blind, not knowing whom you're voting for, and later be the first in the complaint line to say "who elected him or her?" Also, bear in mind that while a candidate may have ulterior motives for running, he will only be one on a board of seven, and cannot create any miracles, unless he is persuasive enough to convince the other six to go along with the idea.

A recent letter to the editor from incumbent board member, David Miller, has drawn some criticism... but despite all that has been said, I must continue to support this man, who has a good four-year record on the board, and in most instances was the only member who had the courage to say "no," always voting in the best interest of the taxpayers.

There is no doubt in my mind that Mr. Miller could have been more selective in his wording in getting his point across, but he spoke as he saw fit, and I am quite sure that he is not a man who is afraid to say what he thinks.

While my comments may again stir the teacher-related candidates, I would like the voters to read the following article taken from the May issue of the Michigan School Board Journal:

Illinois Judge Rules Conflict of Interest
A circuit court judge in Lee County, Illinois has nullified a contract between the Dixon Teachers Association on the grounds that a teacher covered by the contract is married to a member of the board of education. The suit was brought by the state's attorney general and the court ruled that the defendant school board member had a direct interest in the contract because she shares in the economic benefits it provides for her husband and that such a direct interest is in violation of the "Interest in Contracts" statute in Illinois.

Though the suit sought only to nullify the contract and not to remove the board member from the board of education, the judge pointed out that the conflict of interest violation could provide grounds for removal. The decision is expected to be appealed.

Do we want the same situation to arise later on in our school district? Think about it.

As the board now sits, there are two representatives from the Alto area, board president, Dr. R.D. Siegle and secretary, Harold Metternick; Blanche Mullen, a retired school teacher who resides in the City of Lowell; and Orion Thaler, a retired school teacher who resides on 36th Street, southwest of Lowell. I see no representation from the northern part of the school district, and feel that all areas should be represented in the major decisions that confront the board; therefore, my second choice for a four-year term goes to Roger L. Kropf. Why, you are asking.

His age for one (34), a parent and a resident of Vergennes Township, I feel that these points are vital to look at. He represents the parental age group that will be deeply involved in the future happenings of our schools. He has proven himself a good businessman, and I feel confident that he will speak openly in the best interest of the taxpayers, especially those interested in how their money is to be spent and why—for the educational benefit of all students.

He has the willingness to work with the present administration and board in solving the problems of the district, and has some good constructive ideas that will be very beneficial to the students and the district as a whole.

In the battle for the 3-year unexpired term of Dr. Robert Reagan between Roger Roberts, who was appointed by the board to fill Reagan's seat until this election and Eugene Kaye, I am undecided, and therefore am looking to Thursday night's meeting for help in making my choice.

Whichever way you decide to vote personally, be sure you go to the polls on Monday, June 9, and elect the candidate of your choice, one that you feel will give you, the taxpayer, good representation on the board.

Church School 'Open House'

This Sunday, June 8, instead of the regular Church School classes held at 9:45 through 11:30 a.m. there will be an open house where the parents may confer with the present teachers while partaking of refreshments. A short program will be presented by the teachers and students explaining what they have been studying during the last twenty weeks. Also, there will be an awards presentation and prizes given to the students winning the contest that was held the last twenty weeks. Jamie Andrews has won the Most Visitors contest for the younger classes and the Primaries have won the Tiger Bound Contest, having had 10 home runs for having all members present. They will be going to a Tiger Baseball game in the near future. New classes for the Summer will start June 15 with new teachers and subjects. The theme for the Sunday morning worship service at 11 a.m. will be "The Beatitudes" and the speaker will be Robert Loesch. The speaker for the Hastings Church will be S.M. Newson on the same theme. For the evening service the theme will be announced. The speaker will be Ronald Demaree. GRADUATES TO BE HONORED ON SUNDAY All graduating seniors will be recognized during the 11 a.m. worship service at the First United Methodist Church of Lowell, this Sunday, June 8. The graduates will also be the guests of honor at a coffee-punch reception in the church's fellowship hall, following the service.

Family Day Care Homes

In the May 15 issue of the Ledger there appeared an article notifying child care providers (babysitters) that they must be licensed to advertise. We would like to give more information on Family Day Care Homes which, in fact, means regular babysitters for children of working parents. The Child Care Council has a long range goal of establishing a Day Care Center but we promote all programs for the well-being of children. In the fall we would like to sponsor a series of workshops for providers of family day care homes.

WHY SHOULD YOU HAVE A LICENSE? Because it is illegal not to! It is generally accepted fact that in this community many people keep other peoples' children during the day while their parents are working. In reality they are breaking the law if not licensed. They could be turned in to the Department of Social Services. The main purpose of Act No. 16, Public Acts of 1973 for the well-being of the children. THE REASONS THIS LICENSING PROCEDURE IS IMPORTANT.

1. It protects the child from a bad day care situation which he can't control.
2. It aims to provide a good mother substitute for children in our community. The time spent with this person will be very important to the child's development.
3. It enables a mother to have a good home to turn to particularly a mother new to the area or just going to work and who needs a good "litter."

THE ADVANTAGES TO THE LICENSED DAY CARE MOTHER.

1. She will be in compliance with the law.
2. A licensed home is traditionally associated with better care.
3. She will have the legal protection of being licensed and she can advertise as a licensed day care mother.
4. Her name will be in DSS Resource file for referrals.

SOME EXAMPLES OF REGULATIONS.

1. Physically and mentally healthy.
2. Suitable temperament to care for children and understand the needs of children. Major concerns are:
 - a. Type of activities to be provided.
 - b. Manner of discipline.
 - c. Age of care takers.
 - d. Safe indoor and outdoor play area.
5. Others, none of which are overly restrictive.

PROCEDURE FOR LICENSING.
Call Kent County Department of Social Service at 247-6062 and ask for the Day Care Licensing Request form.

It is understandable that many people who sit for one or two friends' children would be reluctant to go through the red tape of getting licensed. But as all parents know when one needs a "babysitter" (day care provider) part-time or full-time for her children, she is very concerned that the children will get good care and have a stimulating environment. After all, the child usually spends more waking hours there than with his parents. A caretaker who has bothered to get licensed usually is one who cares for children.

Swan-Blodgett Rites

A three o'clock afternoon ceremony in Saint Francis Xavier Church Saturday, May 24, united in marriage Miss Lynette Swan of Lowell and Richard Blodgett of Grand Rapids.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Blodgett of Lowell and Mrs. Howard W. Blodgett of Grand Rapids. Presiding the bride down the aisle were her honor attendants, Mrs. Michael Faluso, matron of honor, Mrs. Thomas Wernet, Mrs. Daniel Nugent, and Miss Jane Reagan, bridesmaids; and Heather Ormiston, flower girl. The bride entered the sanctuary adorned in an ivory Schiffl organza gown trimmed with pink organza lace, and fashioned with a scooped-ruffled neckline, fitted sleeves with floral organza ruffles at the cuff, a ruffled waist inserted with venise trim, a flared A-line organza trumpet flounce skirt, and an attached chapel train. A Juliet headpiece trimmed with Venice lace and lined in pink organza, secured her finger-tip veil of illusion. The groom's brother, Robert, assisted as best man with James and William Blodgett and Henry Enfrich, serving as groomsmen. Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Cannonsburg Ski Lodge, with Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McCormick of Lowell presiding as master and mistress of ceremonies. Upon their return from a Canadian honeymoon, the new Mr. and Mrs. Blodgett will make their home on Sherwood Street in Grand Rapids.

The Girl Scouts of Troops, 2, 511, 415, and 407 are having a family potluck on Tuesday, June 10. It will be held in the Middle School Cafeteria at 6:30 p.m. Fly-Up and Bridging Ceremonies will be held at this time.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor: As you probably know, the letter below was published in the editorial columns of the Grand Rapids Press in early May. I feel strongly about the park issue! The reason I am sending a copy to you is that I am concerned about the safety of the dam for Lowell, not only its immediate danger to boaters and fishermen, but also its future danger to the town. I am concerned that the eroding action of the water on the gates and walls of the floodgates might eventually cause a breach in the dam. Is there a qualified engineer nearby who could give an opinion on this? The dam was not built to have the floodgates open all the time.

Sincerely yours,
Priscilla Lusmyer
Douglas, Mi. 49406

Dear Sir: The Bureau of Recreation of the U.S. Department of Interior, and the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, have a "gift" for Kent County: $510,000, of which $330,000 is to be used for buying 410 acres on the Flat River, the rest for developing a park. This is going to be an expensive "gift" that we taxpayers have paid for in the first place. Land will be taken out of the tax base, so the remaining taxpayers must pay proportionately more. The county already owns considerable land along the Flat River; what apparently isn't being publicized is that it wants all the river frontage. Where will the money come from for all of that, and how much tax base will eventually be lost?

The 410 acres include two lovely homes, a large storage building, a Christmas tree plantation, gravel deposits, and about two miles of river frontage (the county already owns another mile). Will $330,000 pay a fair price for that? Tentative plans for this land, which lies mostly within a loop of the river, include building a road parallel to the river with parking spaces and picnic spots. Is the remainder of the money, $180,000, enough for three miles of road? Another thing left unsaid: at least one of the two existing dams is dangerous. After two persons were drowned in a whirlpool near the apron, the water level was lowered by opening both of the flood gates, and repairs were made to plug the leak. The gates are still open (is it not safe to raise the water level to normal), and the water pouring through could suck a boat down and under the gates with great force. On land there is only a wire or two to keep people away from the edge of the torrent. Obviously this must be remedied before a park is thinkable. $180,000 I hear that the county also wants to tear down the historic plank bridge on Burroughs Street, to limit access to the proposed park.

Kent County already has an excellent set of parks. Fallasburg Park nearby the proposed new park is more than three-fourths undeveloped, and has had very little change since I first enjoyed it more than forty years ago; there seems to have been little need for development. Furthermore, the parks that exist can't be maintained well because of vandalism. How much to maintain still more parkland?

If the object of owning the Flat River is its preservation (it is uncommonly clean for a river in this part of Michigan), there is the Natural Rivers Act that can be invoked to preserve the Flat from pollution and overdevelopment. If an object is more canoeing and boating space, forget it, because when the dam is in normal operating condition, the water level around the loop is too low for anything except wading, if you like to wade on rocks.

I, too, am interested in preserving wilderness areas and keeping our environment healthy; but I also believe in fiscal responsibility. In its eagerness to snatch at this Federal-State plum, the Park Commission has failed to inform taxpayers of the expensive strings attached.

Rotarians Hear Dr. C. Laughlin

Dr. Charles Laughlin, Assistant Director of Academic Affairs, College of Agriculture and Natural Resources for Michigan State University, was the noon Rotary speaker, Wednesday, May 28. Dr. Laughlin emphasized the importance of students choosing a career. He said that in choosing a job or profession a student should decide what they want to do, what they are good at, what are the job opportunities in their chosen field and what are the educational requirements. In their job preparation some students can get the necessary education in a two-year technical program; others will need to take a four-year course. Dick Cox introduced club guests: Terry Rash, President of the Lowell Chamber of Commerce, Russ Davis, Bill McPherson, Tom Stahr and Steve Wittenbach. John Roth, past Showboat End Man, entertained the group with a few typical, family type, end men jokes. Leonard Sinke announced that Thursday, June 5, 8 p.m. at Lowell Middle School, there will be a night to meet the candidates for the Lowell School Board. YFU student, Jane Rivette, told of her stay in Amberg, France. Her French dad was president of the Amberg, France, Rotary Club. Jane presented the Lowell Club with a Rotary Banner from the Amberg Club. Lowell Rotarian, Dr. Gilbert Wise, recently traveled to Washington, D.C. to be honored as "Veterinarian of the Year." Dennis McMahon received appreciation from seniors for "all he has done for us." Don McPherson was in charge of the program and had invited as Rotary guests some 22 high school students who met the standards as "Solid Citizens" of Lowell. Students so designated were: Cindy Patterson, Jon Rash, Mark Anderson, Marsha Anderson, Vicki Timinski, Linda Callen, Joy Posthumus, Teresa Hale, Carla Anderson, Ken Minn, Lynne Johnson, Debbie Knoohusen, Lori Ruble, Kay Willemson, Gary Prys, Keith Tap, Chris Briggs, Jaci Johnson, Sue Bieri, Ron Krebs, John Bergy. Rotary's Solid Citizen Day is always an enjoyable occasion, providing the Rotarians an opportunity to get acquainted with some of Lowell's finest young men and women.

Amway Ponds To Raise Wall-Eyes

Amway Corporation and the Fisheries Division of the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) have reached an agreement which will permit the use of two ponds located on Amway property for the purpose of raising wall-eyed pike. DNR officials intend to begin the project immediately.

Formerly used for waste and sewage treatment by the residents of Ada Township, these lagoons will soon be completely reconditioned in preparation for the arrival of the tiny fish. The ponds became available for alternative usage in 1974, after Amway Corporation completed construction of a $1,000,000 sewage line from Ada to Grand Rapids. The line is owned by Ada Township, and the grant from Amway allowed construction to take place without the necessity of an additional bonding issue. After the ponds are reconditioned, DNR officials will begin the stocking process. Extensive testing precedes the introduction of the fish to insure their safety from harmful water conditions and other fish. Fish grown in the Amway Corporation ponds will be transplanted to a number of locations throughout the state. Specific locations have not yet been determined, but the largest proportion will be placed in various inland lakes and the Muskegon River.

Kemper went to third on a balk and scored the winning run on a Ramsey Martinez sacrifice fly.

New Ball Field

Due to the expanding interest in the YMCA Ball Program more fields were needed.

Working in connection with the Schools and Community the YMCA was able to get the needed help in getting the infield graded and ready for the first game of the season, June 2.

Stone picking was a back breaking but necessary part of the field preparation. The YMCA Grade School and Jr. Hi Clubs helped with this.

John Wabaska, Al Eckman, Don Phillips and Scott Noffke are shown working on this part of the field preparations.

SARANAC VOTERS MUST CONSIDER PAIR OF BALLOTS

Saranac voters have two questions on which to make their wishes known in the June 9 school election.

One is an increase in property taxes for a three-year period of some seven mills and the second is the naming of two of six candidates to be members of Saranac's school board for terms ending June 30, 1979.

Candidates include: John Bauman, Arthur D. Cornelisse, Darold Simpson, Edward Smith Sr. and David Walter.

Cornelisse is an incumbent seeking re-election and serves as vice president of the board at the present time.

Frank Fisher Jr., who served his term as a board trustee, indicated he will not be seeking re-election to the post.

On the millage issue, voters are being asked to approve increasing the limitation of general taxes on real and tangible personal property in the Saranac School District by $7 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

Money, should it be approved by the voters, would be used to defray a part of the school district's operating expenses.

LEAKY FAUCET WASTES ENERGY

You may be an unsuspecting energy waster, warns James Boyd, Michigan State University Extension housing specialist. If you have a leaky faucet you are wasting energy necessary to heat that water. In addition, your water bills are higher.

If you have a leaky faucet you are wasting energy necessary to heat that water. In addition, your water bills are higher.

Dripping water often leaves a nasty iron stain on your bathroom fixtures. Also, it is annoying to listen to a constant dripping in the sink. "Most leaky faucets are easy and inexpensive to fix," says Boyd.

Traffic Signal Control Computer

by Dave Barnes
Honeywell, Inc., of Hopkins, Minnesota, is the low bidder of four at $254,400 for a traffic signal control computer for the East and South Beltrines, reports Michael L. Jones, district traffic engineer for the Grand Rapids office of the Michigan Department of Highways and Transportation.

The computer will control traffic signal changes based on the amount of traffic, including that which is bound for Lowell whether by the South Beltrine, Int. 96 and the Lowell interchange, or by the East Beltrine to M-21 and then east.

This computer will be the second in the state, the first being installed in Lansing, says Jones, who adds that when the State Administrative Board awards the contract in a week or two, installation will start immediately. It will take 450 calendar days to install the complicated device.

It is standard procedure for the SAB to study all highway bids before one is officially accepted and the contract awarded.

"The new system will facilitate traffic movement in relation to the amount of traffic," states Jones.

There will be 20 intersections "tied into" the computer, three of which will be at Lake Eastbrook Blvd., Burton St. and Lake Dr. SE. The others will be on the South Beltrine from Wilson Ave., Grandville, east to Patterson Ave. SE, Cascade Township, Jones says.

Power for operating the computer will come from telephone lines, he adds. Metallic loops will be imbedded in the highway concrete and connected by wires to the nearby telephone lines. These loops will "read" the traffic and then "tell" the computer what to do at the designated traffic signals, Jones explains.

The computer will be installed in a room of the MDHT Grand Rapids district headquarters. This room will be air-conditioned so the computer can operate properly.

Once says if the computer should fail, an audio alarm is set off in the headquarters and traffic signal controls revert to the old system immediately and simultaneously. The installing firm will keep the computer in repair, Jones adds.

FLAME-RETARDANT JEANS COMING ON THE SCENE

Flame-retardant jeans for boys are expected to appear on the market before the end of the year, according to Bennett Kahabka, Extension clothing and textiles specialist at Michigan State University.

The problem has been developing jeans with fire-retardant fabrics or finishes without losing the strength and comfort jean wearers expect.

Fabric mills have taken several approaches, she notes.

"One approach has been to make all-spun polyester twills for jeans," Miss Kahabka says. "Other companies have combined cotton and polyesters and applied a flame-retardant finish."

Mayor Anderson then opened the public hearing on the Proposed 1975-1976 Budget.

The Manager stated the City millage was again to be lowered for this fiscal year, to 12.75 mills per thousand dollars of assessed valuation.

Councilman Jefferies stated that the drop was due in part to the City's being able to take advantage of the funding programs being offered to City government.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Rogers that the public hearing be closed, supported by Councilman Hall.

Carried.

The following resolution was offered by Councilman Rogers for adoption, supported by Councilman Jefferies:

WHEREAS, the proposed City Budget for the 1975-1976 fiscal year has been reviewed by City Council, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that an amount of $265,576.00 be raised by general taxation by a levy of $12.75 (12.75 mills) per thousand dollars of state equalized valuation on all assessable real and personal property in the City of Lowell, Michigan.

Yes: Councilmembers Hall, Jefferies, Rogers and Anderson. No: None. Absent: Councilman Mueller.

The Manager presented the annual Contract for Maintenance of State Trunkline M-21 in the City for 1975-76 with the Michigan Department of State Highways and Transportation, with a budgeted amount of reimbursement to the City of $5,140.00, stating that beginning July 1, 1975 there would be an increase in the cost of overhead from 9.5% to 11%.

Councilman Hall offered the following resolution and moved for its adoption:

BE IT RESOLVED THAT the Municipal Maintenance Contract between the Michigan State Highway Commission and the City of Lowell for the period July 1, 1975 to June 30, 1976, is hereby accepted and Blaine E. Bacon is designated as Maintenance Superintendent on sections of State Trunk Line Highways as shown on the Municipal Route Section Map and Budget Sheet.

The following City officials Carlen E. Anderson, Mayor, and Blaine E. Bacon, Clerk, are authorized to sign said maintenance contract.

Supported by Councilwoman Rogers.

Yes: Councilmembers Hall, Jefferies, Rogers and Anderson. No: None. Absent: Councilman Mueller.

Manager Bacon then reported on the updating of the Boat Launch Ramp, stating that in 1972-73, the grant offered for $42,000 would have taken care of costs at that time, but because of increased costs, it would now be approximately $70,851, (20% for engineering and contingencies). He recommended that Councilmembers meet with the Department of Natural Resources to ask for additional funding, or to cut back on expenditures such as, public toilets, lighting, water facilities, etc., to reduce the project cost.

A lengthy discussion followed in which Councilman Jefferies suggested that perhaps the City give land on the West side of the Hudson Street bridge or the land traded by the Fowlers on South Division, to the D.N.R. who could take over and develop a boat launch ramp themselves. Councilman Hall stated that after observing the number of people and vehicles presently using the area East of the Hudson Street Bridge for fishing and boating, he felt the City should push for development of the area. More discussion followed with the suggestion by the Mayor to incorporate all the ideas to find out exactly what can be done, and the costs involved.

Under Communications, letters were read from the Kent County Sheriff, to Chief Emmons, commending Sgt. James Hutson on observance and quick action in reporting a vehicle and occupants connected with a March 4 armed robbery, from Wyoming Productions, Inc., inviting the City to participate in their parade, from the Michigan Public Service Commission on public hearings to be held on rate increases for Michigan Bell Telephone Company, and from the Kent County Cooperative Extension Service on the proposed agreement between the City and the 4-H Association.

A discussion followed on the proposed agreement,

On the points of the letter. The 4-H Association asking to purchase the land in question, and if the fair would still be permitted to be held there with the agreement, and the complaint that they had not been offered a "long term" agreement.

Mayor Anderson instructed the Manager to write a letter to the County Extension Service stating the following points as concurred with by Council:

1. The land is definitely not for sale.
2. No question as to the Fair being held in Lowell as usual, definitely yes.
3. The fact that the 4-H Association has indeed been offered a "long term" agreement.
4. Ask the 4-H Association to name specifically the proposed paragraphs in the proposed agreement that they take issue with.

Other communications read were, from Attorney, Robert Cooper, in reference to water system improvements, and the Kent County Health Department to Mr. Avery Block, announcing the Mobile Health Unit to be set up at the American Legion Building, asking for Council approval. Council concurred.

The Manager's Report was given, including the breakdown of the bulldozer used at the City's landfill operation, whether to repair at a cost of $950 to $1,100, or replace the machine.

After discussion, it was decided to close the Lowell landfill temporarily, at least 30 days, with the Manager to check prices on new and used equipment, and to hire someone to do the covering work which was halted because of the breakdown.

The Police Reserve Six Month Report was given and the Dog Warden Report for the month of April was read.

Under Remarks from the Audience, Manager Bacon introduced Curt Yost from Lowell High School, stating the School had requested the use of the City's voting machines for the Student Congress Election. Mr. Yost asked Council permission to transport the voting machines to the School for the election.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Jefferies that the City lend three voting machines to the Lowell High School, contingent upon the School accepting liability for transport to and from the School, supported by Councilman Hall.

Carried.

Manager Bacon then stated that he had talked with Mr. Robert Hogboom of the State Highway Commission, who stated that the M-21 improvement project was being held up because of the City's inaction on parking removal. He stated that he would recommend that the City be held for the improvements, omitting Lowell.

A discussion followed. Councilman Jefferies suggested that a letter be sent to some State leaders and other members of the Highway Commission, accusing the Highway Commission with threatening the City on a decision that is not due until June of 1977. Council concurred.

The Manager reported that the test well done on the Pickett and Schreier property was of much better quality and quantity, now all that is needed is to do the aquifer test well.

Also under remarks from the audience, Mrs. Daniel Lesant was present to ask the City to do something about the surface of Elm Street, at the same time that the sewer extension is done on Howard Street.

A discussion followed with no action being taken.

Mrs. Leonora Tower, a Lowell member of the West Michigan Historical Society was present and asked that the City's Library building be used as a Bicentennial renovation project, and that perhaps the City would be interested in buying the late Dr. Ruth Herrick property for use as a museum of the articles left to the City. The museum could be operated by the Historical Society.

Under Council remarks and reports, Councilman Jefferies asked about Oakwood Cemetery being ready for Memorial Day, and complaints of water not being turned on at the Cemetery.

A discussion followed.

Councilwoman Rogers asked about the status of the house on East Main Street, and suggested a legal opinion on boarding it up, or having it torn down. She also asked about the grant application for radar for the Police Department, and the possibility of a bicycle licensing ordinance. Chief Emmons reported there has been no word on the grant status except that the City will be eligible if some changes are made, and that he is working on a bicycle ordinance, also, the State Legislature is also working on the licensing of bicycles.

IT WAS THEN MOVED to adjourn by Councilwoman Rogers at 9:50 p.m., supported by Councilman Hall.

Approved: June 2, 1975.

Lincoln Lake Avenue Reconstruction Bids

Bids on the $400,000 reconstruction of Lincoln Lake Avenue between Four and Five Mile Roads NE in Grand Rapids Township will be opened June 10 by the Kent County Road Commission, reports Norman Overbeck, KCCR project engineer.

The project to be completed by November 1, is being effected because this part of Lincoln Lake Avenue runs over a "sea" of muck, necessitating frequent repairs, Overbeck explains, and Lincoln Lake Avenue is a primary north-south county line road.

Not only will the present road be removed, but so will 100,000 cubic yards of muck some of which is 35 feet deep. The project is expected to start late in June.

Also, bids for the re-location of Cannonsburg Road between Ramsdell and Giles Avenues, Cannon Township, to eliminate two sharp curves, will be advertised for late in the summer, Overbeck adds. The cost will be about $300,000.

Slow Starting 'Pep-er' Season

The Pep-ers have had bad luck with the first four scheduled games of the season. They were rained out Tuesday, May 20, and Friday, May 30th. These games will be rescheduled at the end of the season.

The Pep-ers played their first game on Friday night, May 23, against the Thunderbirds. The Pep-ers had a very slow start. Then in the fifth inning Estelle Stark hit a fantastic homerun with one on base. That in the sixth inning they scored once more. That was it for the game and the Pep-ers lost 8-3.

The next game was on Tuesday night, May 27, against Demick's Nursery. The Pep-ers had a great start in this game. Demick's were behind 5-0. Then they slowly came back.

Pep-ers were tied for the fifth and sixth innings. Then Demick's got first in the seventh inning. The game was called after a complete seven innings due to time limitations. So Pep-ers lost 11-6.

The Pep-ers Schedule

Coral Gables	Tues., June 3	7:50 Indian Mounds
Demick's Nursery	Fri., June 6	6:30 E. Burton Pk.
Frank's Kent Bar	Tues., June 10	7:30 Indian Mounds
Thunderbirds	Fri., June 13	6:30 E. Burton Pk.

4-H Bicycle Programs Started

4-H participants from a dozen Michigan counties will bicycle to Michigan State University this June for "Exploration Days," one of the highlights of the 4-H year.

Named the "4-H Slow-Spoke Special," the participants will spend up to three days traveling to MSU, covering about 40 miles a day. They will camp at various locations along their routes; arriving in East Lansing on June 19.

The event attracted 70 cyclists last year, Ronald R. Smoker, coordinator of the 4-H bicycle program said, and this year as many as 200 teen-agers and adults may arrive on two wheels.

Exploration Days itself brings 5,000 4-H members age 9-19 to MSU for a series of learning sessions. 4-H members stay in university residence halls and attend classes all over campus.

With more than 100 million bikes in the U.S. and a 2 to 1 ratio of bikes to cars sold last year, it is clear that safety and consumer information are important elements in the bicycle picture, according to Smoker.

People interested in starting a bicycle project should use bike dealers and shops as a starting point for locating adult and teen-age bikers, Smoker said. Workshops and clinics are good beginning programs, with cross country tours and races for later.

The Michigan 4-H youth program is developing resources that will help to train 4-H leaders to work with bike-related activities.

Know Your ABC's

Know your ABC's of Agriculture? A new publication the 1975 edition of Michigan Food Facts, will give you the agricultural alphabet from A (apples) to Z (zucchini). And it's published just in time for Michigan Week observations.

Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, said the booklet reports on about 50 crops grown commercially in Michigan, lists the state's rank in comparison to other states, and identifies major growing areas.

Colorful Michigan vegetables are pictured on the cover of the 16-page booklet. Inside, there's information about six food crops in which Michigan leads the nation, 25 in which the state ranks fifth or higher, and a couple dozen more.

In 1974, Ball said, Michigan farmers set a new state record, receiving more than 1.7 billion dollars for their products, a 13-percent increase over 1973's previous record year. However, Ball believes farmers' production costs probably increased 15% to 20% in 1974 due to higher prices for fertilizer, fuel, machinery, etc.

"With addition of processing, marketing and transportation, the value of Michigan's agricultural industry increased to approximately five billion dollars," Ball explained. "to maintain agriculture's place as the state's second largest industry."

Copies of the 1975 Michigan Food Facts are available without cost from MDA's information division, Lewis Cass building, Lansing.

Homebound Person Eligible For Book Lending By Mail

Persons in any part of the county who are homebound are asked to call 456-4450, the Kent County Mailbox Library, for a copy of the Mail-a-Book catalog to check out paperback books by mail.

Persons who are in some way unable to visit existing libraries are eligible for this book lending service by mail.

Edna Schooley, project director for the Kent County Library System, explained that there are many reasons why a person may be considered homebound and eligible for the mailbox library.

If there is physical disability, a lack of transportation, illness in the family, confinement in an institution, or perhaps a young mother must care for her preschool children and cannot get out . . . all of these persons may ask for a catalog. We do not know who these people are . . . that is why we are asking persons to call and ask for our Mail-a-Book catalog," she said.

The way the Mail-a-Book service works is patrons fill in a post card with requests for paperbacks listed in the catalog. This post card is included with the catalog and is then mailed to the KC Mailbox Library. The books requested are shipped back and forth between the library and the homebound by mail. All costs of mailing are paid by the library.

Joyce Pleune, director of the Kent County Library System, pointed out that the mail service was made possible by a $20,000 federal grant administered by the State Library of Michigan.

Some 8,900 catalogs for this service have been mailed to rural road boxholders in Solon, Spencet, Alden, Courtland, Oakfield, Cannon, Grattan and Vergennes townships during the last month. These persons were eligible for the KC Mailbox Library since there are no established libraries and/or very limited bookmobile service in these areas.

During this month there have been some 1615 post cards received with a circulation of 3,174 according to Diane Ergang, mailbox library clerk. "Some books have come back and have been circulated to three different persons during this first month," she said.

Approximately 8,000 paperback books will have been purchased to fill the requests of mailbox library users during the first year of the program, according to Edna Schooley. Mrs. Schooley said, "Our circulation and number of requests is running ahead of what is usually expected during the first month of a project such as this. We are extremely pleased and are glad that now the Kent County Library can extend its service to persons who previously had very little library service."

Ada Chairman Named For Breath Of Life

Mrs. Gertrude Dejohn has been named local Chairman of the 1975 Breath of Life Campaign to fight children's lung diseases. The newly-appointed Chairman is a resident of Ada and will lead local volunteers in raising funds to support the research and care for children suffering from Cystic Fibrosis, severe asthma, chronic bronchitis and other related lung-damaging diseases.

The 1975 Campaign will be conducted during the month of September, which is C/F month nationwide.

Cystic Fibrosis, presently incurable, is inherited when both parents carry the recessive gene. It is believed that one in twenty persons carries the C/F gene, usually without knowing it. When C/F research began in 1960, a child's life expectancy was only two years. Today it is eighteen years.

The key to continued progress and eventual cure or control lies in expanded research to be funded by Breath of Life Campaigns throughout the nation such as the one presently being organized by Mrs. Dejohn.

Congratulations

The ten children of Katherine Atchison, 56, of Ada, are proud to announce that their mother will receive a Master's Degree in Elementary Education from Michigan State University on June 7, 1975.

She is now teaching first grade in the North-West School System.
