Alto Parents Voice Complaints On Bus Pick-up Location

Four parents of Alto bus students appeared before the Board of Education Monday night to voice complaints on the bus pick-up location of their children.

It was obvious that the issue was of great concern to the parents and angry accusations livened up the session for a few minutes.

The stop in question had been changed this year to comply with a request from a doctor regarding another student whose health required that he be picked up in front of his house.

Board President Harold Metternick stated that bus officials always put in a hectic week during the Fall school opening and that in making sure that no kindergartners are lost, or even temporarily mislaid, there is often not enough time to check into every issue until both drivers and students are established into new schedules. The board did, however, instruct Bus Supervisor Dode Collins to check into the parents' request as soon as possible.

It is too bad more parents don't attend board meetings; not necessarily only when they have complaints or questions, but merely to express an interest and learn of the complexities involved in running the school system.

Business Manager Jerry Wabeke asked for, and received, permission to talk price with prospective buyers of the Koevers' house since he feels that the house will sell if buyers are not forced to offer firm bids.

Ralph Burde, former athletic director and teacher at Kent City, was approved by the board as the new assistant principal in the senior high school.

Supt. Sinke discussed briefly the Attorney General's decision that all current construction bills must be paid before using the remaining monies for other projects.

When the building program that began with the new Middle School first got underway, the local board carefully invested the money from the bond issue so that it drew interest rather than staying idle since construction costs are paid only periodically according to certain specified completion dates.

Quite a bit of interest has accumulated over the three year period so that it is now possible to construct tennis courts, a green house and, possibly, a badly needed administration building with no additional cost to the taxpayers.

At this point, only $2,000 remains to be paid out on the Alto building addition while $12,000 remains on Bushnell. The final payout is never made until all the construction is approved and accepted and, most always, there are a lot of small items to be corrected before the entire transaction is closed.

Sinke was seeking what he termed a fair and obvious opinion to release the money not tied up in the completed projects in order to begin new construction before prices go even higher.

'Bicentennial Seniors' Scholarships Offered

"Bicentennial Seniors," a nationwide $250,000 scholarship program for high school seniors who will graduate with the Class of 1976, is being launched this month by the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

One national winner will receive a $10,000 scholarship and 102 state winners will receive $1,000 grants under the program.

Winners will be selected first locally, then on a state-wide level. Two graduating seniors will be chosen in each state and the District of Columbia. Each of the 102 winners will also receive an all-expense-paid trip to Williamsburg, Virginia, from January 16 through 19 to attend seminars and hear noted speakers discuss educational and social issues facing this country today. The national winner will be selected during the Williamsburg conference.

Students taking part in the "Bicentennial Seniors" competition must demonstrate an understanding of America's past and possible directions for the future and an involvement in the social and community issues faced by America today.

Competition will include the preparation of a minute-long television script to be patterned after the CBS television network's 200 years ago today "Bicentennial Minutes"; a commentary discussing the significance of the "minute" for today and the lessons it contains for the future; and a current events examination emphasizing issues and events from the past year.

High school seniors should see their principal for details on how to participate in this scholarship program. Applications must be filed no later than October 6, 1975.

Heavy Rains Create Erosion Problem

by: Dave Barnes

Erosion by the flooding Grand River last spring and the heavy rains in the last two weeks has hit Chief Hazy Cloud Park on Pettis Avenue, Ada Township, hard and is being watched closely by Kent County Park and Road Commission authorities.

Some trees fell into the river due to flooding and erosion, several more are about to fall in, and two deep gullies, now weed-grown, have crept to the edge of the one-lane, dirt road along the bank at the northwest end of the park.

"The more trees which fall into the river the faster the erosion takes place because the roots are torn away from the earth," says Don Arnott, county park superintendent.

"And if bad flooding occurs in the next three or four years as it did last spring, we might not have a park," he adds. "However, we would have to take measures to prevent that happening."

The long and narrow park is several feet lower than Pettis Avenue and flooding last spring of part of the park lasted for several days, states Don Palmer, assistant park superintendent.

Keeping tabs on the erosion, besides Arnott and Palmer, are James Porritt, KCRC maintenance superintendent, and Norman Ostrom, foreman of the KCRC maintenance garage in Ada.

Chief Hazy Cloud Park was started in 1927 when a Mr. Whaley donated four-tenths of an acre for park purposes. Other acreage was donated between then and 1944 when 9.6 acres was added to bring the park to its present size of 11½ acres.

Visitors can picnic and fish.

King Milling Company To Establish Industrial Development District

King Milling Company has been granted permission for the establishment of an Industrial Development District, the second such grant to be made to a Lowell industry. Attwood Corporation, a subsidiary of Steelcase, Incorporated was granted its request earlier this year.

The Lowell City Council gave its approval to the local milling firm following a public hearing at its regular meeting Monday night.

The district will include all of the King Milling property south of Main Street and west of the river.

King Doyle, company president, said immediate plans include the construction of a 67 foot, high speed unloading hoist and pit. Completion date has been set for harvest time, 1976.

A. Edward Ward, engineer for King Milling, said the new hoist and pit will not only accommodate longer trucks but will speed up the unloading process and greatly relieve the truck traffic on Main Street at harvest time. The new facility would be located on property at the corner of Broadway and Ottawa Streets.

Through State Act 198 of 1974, industries who qualify can make application to their local units of government to establish industrial development and expansion districts. Permission by the local government allows the industry to receive certain tax benefits upon completion of new or expanded facilities.

"It's an advantage to the local unit as well as to industry," City Manager Blaine Bacon explained. It encourages industrial growth thereby preventing a potential loss of industry. Tax benefits are given for a period of 12 years, Bacon states. A property assessed at the state equalized valuation of $300,000 would be taxed on $75,000 rather than $150,000 (50%) during that period.

Deferred Summer Tax Payments

Senior citizens, handicapped persons and others who might qualify have until next Monday, September 15, to make application for deferred payment of summer taxes until February 15th without penalty. A late Act by the state legislature allows for this deferment, but the deadline to apply is Monday, September 15. City Manager, Blaine Bacon said known persons who might qualify have been notified but he was concerned there might be others—and the time is short. Those who think they might be eligible are urged to check with City Hall by Monday.

Those senior citizens, handicapped and others who qualify, and make application for the deferred payment, would receive a rebate on their property taxes in December which then could be used to pay their reduced summer taxes by February 15th.

Public Hearing

Council members set the date for a public hearing on an ordinance covering the storage of recreational vehicles and mobile housing facilities within the City. The date will be on a regular council meeting night, October 6.

In other action Monday night, Council members voted to buy the house on the southwest corner of Avery and N. Monroe, owned by Ivan Bieber, at the asking price of $20,000. Money will come from the City's building and site fund.

A report by the City Manager revealed CETA funds will allow the City to carry the present six employees through until June 30, 1976.

It was also noted the unsatisfactory condition of the C&O Railroad Crossing on Foreman Road will be corrected as per a communication to the City.

Grattan Appeals Board To Consider Variance Request

A public hearing of the Grattan Township Board of Appeals will be held at the township's hall in Grattan on Monday, September 15, at eight o'clock in the evening.

The purpose of the hearing will be to consider the request of Lanny S. Kowalski for a variance to erect a building closer to Nagent Avenue.

The property to be considered by the Board of Appeals is described as Section 18 of Parcel 003.

The football players will be calling on homes in the area to ask everyone to place an order for Mark VII Industrial Strength All-purpose Cleaner, which makes from six to sixty gallons of cleaning solution, depending upon how you mix it with water.

By ordering a bottle of Mark VII from the Lowell Youth Football League you will not only be purchasing a quality product, but also will help them to reach their goal.

RUMOR HAS IT that by the first of October, one of Lowell's restaurants will have in its employ a master chef, and will be serving gourmet Sunday buffet dinners.

A TRIP TO THE Grand Ole Opry in Nashville, Tennessee, is being planned by the Lowell Senior Center at 214 East Main. Buses will leave Lowell on Friday, November 7. The trip will include three days and two nights; four meals; a special sight-seeing tour of Nashville; and reserved tickets to the Opry.

THE LOWELL RED Arrows will open their 1975 football season this Friday night, September 12, against non-conference foes, Ionia. Playing at Burch Field in Lowell's Recreation Park, the two teams will be competing for the coveted V.F.W. traveling trophy. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

JACKSON MOTOR Sales at 930 West Main, Lowell's Dodge dealer since 1956, is the new Chrysler dealer in this area.

According to Leonard Jackson, owner, the welcome mat is always out at our place of business, and we'd like to have everyone stop in at our dealership, meet the friendly people here, look over our sales and service facilities, and the full line of cars and trucks, including the new Chrysler Cordoba.

TAKEN IN TO CUSTODY and placed at the Kent County Jail Saturday night was Leo Flanagan of Rockford for larceny from a building. Flanagan was arraigned on the charge, stemming from the theft of $20 to $28 from the Strand Theatre on West Main Street.

The subject was chased by the owner of the theatre and found in the bushes by Newell Manufacturing Company on Chatham Street, where an observant citizen saw him hiding.

ARRESTED FOR the breaking and entering of a residence on South Hudson Street, September 1, was a juvenile, after information was received through Ionia City officers. Warrants will also be sought on three others in connection with the incident.

Local Postmarks On The Comeback

The Postal Service has announced that local postmarks will be applied on outgoing mail at mail processing centers throughout the country.

The post office has received many objections to its present practice of imprinting postmarks bearing only Postal Service indicia plus the name of the state and the mail processing center's Zip Code instead of the name of the local city or town.

Under the new program which results from a test conducted earlier this year, postmarks will include the actual name of the community where the mail is processed plus the state and Zip Code.

The new process will begin as soon as required cancelling equipment is available and in place.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

From time to time my staff and I are asked various things and we decided to answer some of those questions. Question: Why don't you write an editorial and tell those guys on the City Council what they can do to improve the town? Answer: Why don't you go down to the next Council meeting and tell them yourself? Q. Why don't you print more letters to the editor? A. Why don't you write me one? And sign it with your name please—don't be chicken. Q. Why don't you run more pages in the paper? A. Because the outgo would exceed the income and then out I'd go.

We think we have the funniest paper in this area already. Q. Why don't you have an "Advice to the Lovelorn" column, like Dear Abby? A. None of our readers has any such problems. Q. Why don't you carry TV reviews? A. They can pay for their advertising. Q. WHY don't you run a pin-up picture once in a while? A. Why not? Q. Why do you make so many grammatical mistakes? A. Cause we ain't never learned no better. Q. Why don't you run recipes? A. We did and left a line out. Twenty people got sick and cancelled their subscriptions. Q. Why do you devote space to such trivialities as "Joe Smith entered the hospital this week?" A. Because good old Joe has many friends who are concerned about his health, even if you're not. And some of them might send him cards which he would appreciate. Q. Who cares about questions like this anyway? A. Me. Q. These questions and answers have not solved a lot of problems, but at least they should not have created any which is quite an accomplishment in these times... Summer in Michigan is being sold short. It has become more and more accepted, over the past decade or so, that August spells the end of the summer months. So, in September, all activities—business, educational, agricultural—must pick up the tempo of the other three seasons of the year. This does bitter injustice to three of the most pleasant weeks of the year in Michigan—the period of early and mid-September. Then the days are starting to cool down, from the humid "dog days" of August, and nights, once again, are pleasant for sleeping. The first touches of autumn can be seen in the trees, and Michigan's lakes and skies, so it would seem, turn even bluer. For a state which rates tourism as its most important industry, it is nonsense to throw away those three glorious weeks. Yet this, basically, is what has happened. Why is unclear. A certain part of the responsibility, it appears, must be borne by the institutions of higher education which—with some exceptions—have been starting their "fall" sessions earlier and earlier. Instead of the "after Labor Day" pattern which prevailed for so many years, a new pattern of a start in late August has emerged. Now, public schools are picking up this schedule. There have to be advantages to it. One, apparently, is the "awkwardness" created by the Labor Day weekend is avoided. Another may be that the earlier start facilitates adjournment for the year end holidays. But a disadvantage is that—in the case of the colleges, and some 40 percent of Michigan's college age youths are taking such training—the schedule then puts them out of school in early or mid-May, before the traditional "summer" jobs become available. And for tourist industries which depend upon seasonal student help, but which would like to extend their seasons into September, the August school starts pose difficult problems. The acceptance of August as the end of summer, un-

'One-To-One' Tutoring Program Needs Volunteers

The Kent Community Action Program needs volunteers for the "One-To-One Tutoring Program" to help elementary school children during the present school year. The tutoring program is a supplemental teaching effort in which the tutor and the child work and play together one hour a week to help the child relate to learning situations and relate learning to everyday life. Adult men and women, college and high school students, and retirees can be tutors. No previous teaching experience is necessary. The volunteers must attend one training session. The training sessions will be held at the West Side Complex, 215 Straight N.W., from 4 to 5 p.m., on October 8, 13, 15, 23, 1975 and November 5, 1975. Volunteers will work at fifteen elementary schools in the Grand Rapids Public Schools, and in two Lowell Area Elementary Schools. On an average, a volunteer gives thirty-two hours of his or her time over the eight months of the school year. In the past school year 158 volunteers gave over 2,657 hours of their time in helping children learn and develop self-esteem and hope. Persons interested in being a volunteer can contact Mrs. Mary Durham, Director of Community Action Volunteers at 459-6100 or they can attend one of the training sessions. "One-to-One Tutoring" began in the fall of 1967 at Vandenberg School, with about 15 tutors, each with one child selected from the 4th, 5th, or 6th grade. By the end of that first year there were 45 tutors and 45 children involved. At the request of other schools, the program was expanded in 1968 to include eight additional schools with more than 150 tutors and an equal number of children. By the 1969-70 school year, the program was invited into fifteen schools located throughout Grand Rapids, with more than 350 tutors participating. One-to-One Tutoring is a supplemental teaching effort in which the tutor and the child work and play together every week, developing a close, mutual friendship. The tutor encourages the child; helps him develop self-esteem and hope; reviews regular school work; expands the challenge of learning, and thus supplements the work of the regular classroom teacher. Because the tutor and the child soon become close friends, the tutor's demonstrated wish for the child to progress translates itself into new effort and new meaning for the child.

Deer Hunting

Format for '75

During Michigan's 1975 deer hunting season November 15-30, there will be, in effect, three different antlerless hunting periods. The collective take of antlerless deer in all areas is expected to be 11,365 with bucks-only hunting in the Upper Peninsula. Of 61,910 permits to be issued, the Department of Natural Resources predicts 49,290 hunters will go after antlerless deer in the various management areas.

Hunters are reminded that midnight, October 1, is the deadline to post-mark applications for permits to hunt antlerless deer in these areas.

Sportsmen will receive application forms at local license dealers when they buy their 1975 firearm deer license. Instructions for filling out these forms are also available at local license dealers.

Fallsburg Fall Festival . . . A Time For Getting Together

Leonora Tower and Doris Myers, co-chairing the third annual Fallsburg Fall Festival are working hard to make a success of it, and are anxious for everyone to enjoy a special memory of the weekend of September 27 and 28 at Fallsburg Park Pavilion and School Museum.

They invite everyone to participate by attending, getting involved in the activities with your friends—plan to linger among the exhibits and visit with the artists. Do some of your Christmas shopping early, at your leisure where beautiful, practical items sell at a modest cost.

You may want to bring a picnic lunch but there will be barbecue, chili dogs, bean soup, coffee, cider and donuts, etc., on sale. There will be rides and games. The children will have a good time.

The West Central Michigan Historical Society sponsors the Festival as a way of showing their appreciation for the interest shown in their endeavors. The group, though still short of their goal, with the inspiration gained from the public through sharing such experiences, feel spurred on. They invite every family to their membership. The fee is only three dollars, two dollars for an individual. We feel a need to provide an opportunity for others to think about and learn what has made our country great and how we can build on the knowledge and understanding of our heritage for a more constructive and peaceful future.

The possibilities for a prosperous village re-creation as a tourist attraction are boundless. As stated in the brochure we had printed several years ago, with pictures by Norton L. Avery depicting the century old places and buildings, a variety of activities and vocations could be carried on. Ferris Miller has a marvelous idea, outlined in letter form, detailing the creation of a housing complex for the convenience and comfort of those who love the country atmosphere and bustling activity of interesting people.

Our school museum, with its contents of donations from various people near and far (some are now gone), is the most tangible accomplishment we have made. We plan more sophisticated displays when funds are available. Hundreds of people do enjoy browsing thru it each year, however.

Again we invite you to share a few hours of your time with us at the third annual Fallsburg Fall Festival, September 27 and 28.

There are spaces available for arts and crafts exhibits or sales of your choice, trash or treasure, baked goods, goodies, etc. Call Mrs. Richmond, 897-9336.

'Popples' Provide A Quick Meal

Those "popples" taking over the abandoned field really are good for something. This winter they may provide browse for deer or rabbits. This spring many migrating warblers may stop for a quick meal of aspen catkins. The large buds are a favorite of ruffed grouse.

There are two kinds of aspen, or "popples." Trembling, or quaking aspen has small nearly round leaves that move rapidly with even the slightest wind, giving it a trembling appearance. Large-tooth aspen has a similar leaf but it is often slightly larger and has toothlike ridges on the edges.

Aspens are usually the first invaders of abandoned fields and waste places and are important in wildlife management. In areas where there are few aspen, mature trees are often cut or burned to encourage new plants. When an aspen is cut or burned the shallow roots give rise to many suckers which provide quick food for deer and rabbits.

Aspen is the principal forest cover on nearly five million acres of Michigan's forest land. It grows on a greater variety of sites than any other tree and has the most extensive range of any tree in North America. The aspen may not be a rare or unusual tree but it certainly is an important one.

Sno Notes

FOREST HILLS SNOMOBILE CLUB

At the August 14 specially called membership meeting of the Forest Hills Sno-mobile Association, an agreement was read and accepted to relocate the club's meeting facility.

By a majority vote of the members present, after September 1, the clubhouse will be located at 6410 Knapp Road, N.E., Ada, at the corner of Knapp at Eggett Valley Roads.

There is a lot of work to be done to have the club house ready for the snow season. A clean-up, fix-up date is scheduled for Saturday, September 13, starting at 10 a.m.

The more helping hands there are on the scene, the building known as the Eggett Valley Grange Hall, the easier and faster the job will be completed. Refreshments will be served.

A general membership meeting and a potluck dinner welcoming new members into the club will be held on September 18.

A highlight of the meeting will be a slide presentation on the Department of Natural Resources' Western Michigan Snowmobile Trail. The narrator will be Rog Matthews.

A three-day Sno-Expo, September 25, 26 and 27 will be held at the Bowen's Roller Skating Arena at 52nd and Division Street in Grand Rapids, sponsored by the Western Michigan Snowmobile Club.

At the Expo the Forest Hills Club will be responsible for the set-up this year. Shown will be the latest in machines, snow fashions and other items of interest for the ardent snowmobilers.

Amway Film Wins 'Oscar'

Announcement and presentation of the World Congress "Oscar" occurred at the conclusion of the meeting, held in Paris, France. William A. Hemmer, Director, International Operation of Amway Corporation, made the announcement locally at Amway Corporation's 16th Annual Convention in Grand Rapids.

Direct sales companies utilize many audio-visual presentations to recruit, train, and motivate their distributors or sales representatives. Any montage of film dealing with the image of the direct sales profession, the image of direct sales firms, the direct salesman (psychology, training, etc.) and/or legislation concerning direct sales was eligible for the competition. Entries were numerous, making for a spirited contest.

"A World of Difference" deals with the story of an Amway distributor couple and their friends, a "doubt-

IN MEMORIAM
HUCKLEBURY—In Loving Memory of our Dear Mother, and Grandmother, Nina J. Hucklebury, who went to with her Lord six years ago today, September 10, 1969.
God has a plan and a purpose. Not ours to question why; His love brings peace and comfort. As six years have passed by, God give us strength, faith and courage. To bear the parting blow, But to mean to give you up. No one will ever know. The thought that comforts most, And keeps our hearts at rest, That nothing comes to us, But that our Lord knows best. Sadly missed by her Children and Grandchildren

In memory of Fay L. Clark who passed away September 11 two years ago. Sadly missed by his wife, Mildred, children and grandchildren.

Seniors Of 1925 Celebrate 50th

The Lowell graduating class of 1925 celebrated their 50 year class reunion at the Comet Restaurant Friday evening, September 5. Edith Pletcher Roth and Harold Himebaugh performed a Herculean task and were able to contact every surviving graduate, without missing a one. Truly this must be some kind of a record after half a century. Thirteen members were deceased. About 40 were in attendance including their spouses and our former physical ed. teacher, Mildren Evans. We had a social hour, a great dinner, and were regaled by Edith who read letters from members who could not attend, from all over the United States.

PROPERTY DAMAGE ACCIDENTS

Three property damage accidents were investigated over a two-week period by the Lowell Police Department.

Involved in an accident on Main, near Riverside Drive, was Frederik Rueh of Alto and Carol Stuart of Lowell, when the Rueh's vehicle was hit after turning off Broadway Street.

Failure to yield the right-of-way was the cause of an accident at Jackson and Avery Streets, when Steven Beattie of Saranac hit a vehicle driven by Bob Ellison of Lowell.

Peggy Thompson and John Piper of Lowell were involved in an accident September 6 at N. Hudson and Elm Streets, when Piper made a left turn in front of Mrs. Thompson.
