The Lack Of Expertise Felt

While the City continues to function, carrying on matters of routine business, the lack of the expertise of a City Manager was evident at Monday night's Regular Council Meeting.

After disposing of the unusually short agenda, Council recognized Mr. Gary Antcliff, a building contractor, interested in securing a City building permit for the construction of a home on property on the south side of Grand River between the two bridges and about opposite Lowell's sewage treatment plant. Antcliff, speaking for the owners of the property, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Walker, said all state and county requirements had been met concerning building plans (in a flood plain area), and septic tank construction.

Mayor Carlen Anderson stated that because of the problems involved due to the nature of the site, (there being no dedicated street across the railroad tracks), the council was reluctant to issue a building permit without fully determining the City's responsibility in the matter. Access to the property is made through easement with Grand Trunk Railway, a situation existing for a number of years, there being a 140 year old house. Mr. Walker, present at the meeting, said he wasn't interested in having any street there and was satisfied with the present arrangement.

Antcliff is anxious to start construction on the poured concrete foundation before the bad weather sets in. Mayor Anderson said the matters in question would be discussed with the City's legal representative and an answer would be forthcoming within the week.

Mike To Celebrate His 89th Birthday

Michael F. Myckowiak, born in Bay City Michigan on October 29, 1886, will celebrate his 89th birthday next Wednesday, at his home at 325 Hunt Street, Lowell.

"Mike," who enjoys putting around his yard and doing little fix-it jobs for his many friends, doesn't visualize any big celebration, but hopes that the nice autumn weather will welcome the day.

In 1908, Mike married Florence Darby of Grand Rapids, where he was employed as a cabinet maker until 1915, when he moved to Vergennes Township, where he owned a milk route for several years.

In 1924, he moved his family back to Grand Rapids, where he re-entered his furniture trade at Berkeley and Gay Furniture Company for several years and was superintendent of the cabinet room.

It was during the mid-forties that he re-built his house on Lincoln Lake Road that burned down. Soon, thereafter, he retired from the furniture business and began building houses around the Lowell Area and helping others with new home construction.

Sometime during 1960 he built the home at 325 Hunt Street, where he now resides. His wife passed away eight years ago.

They had six children, Lucille Woodrick of Grand Rapids, LaVerne Myckowiak of Sparta, Evelyn Groendyk, Arlene Arkema and Gladys Ebels, all of Grand Rapids, and Michael Myckowiak of Battle Creek. Mike has fourteen grandchildren and 26 great-grandchildren.

Herrick Collection Concluding At Public Museum

The late Dr. Ruth Herrick, a practicing dermatologist in Grand Rapids and Lowell who had seen more than 50,000 patients during her career in medicine, was perhaps most famous for her avocation of collecting things. In fact, she was known throughout the country as an authority on Greentown glass and was inspired to write a definitive book about it.

The exhibit, "A Fever for Collecting," which is being shown in the Grand Rapids Public Museum West Building will come to a conclusion with the final showing on Sunday, November 9.

Featured in the exhibit are some of her prize pieces of Greentown glass. Even though this hobby was to bring her the most recognition in her lifetime, surprisingly enough it was not her "first love."

Indian lore and the search for Indian artifacts placed highest on the list of her priorities where her hobbies were concerned. She became sidetracked with her research on glass, but always anticipated the time when she could return to the love of her life—"Indian Lore"—and have unlimited hours to spend on her beloved projects.

Included in the exhibit are items from her Dutch, African and Oriental collections. Other displays include her primitives and historical documents.

The public is invited to visit the Museum without charge from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 2 to 5 p.m. Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

Candidates-Issues & Answers

This week, the six candidates for the Lowell City Council—Robert Christiansen, Dean Collins, Jim Hall incumbent, Larry Keiser, Leo Pfaller and Art Warning—have answered the following question:

Do you favor the demand by the State Highway Department to take parking off Main Street to add to the safety on the City's Main highway artery? Would you fight to continue Main Street parking? What alternatives do you suggest as replacement for Main Street Parking?

Bob Christiansen:

To start with I am not thoroughly convinced that the removal of parking from one side of Main Street will benefit anyone, either from the safety standpoint or expediting through traffic. This whole question of parking arose not from any complaints of Lowell citizens or those traveling through Lowell but came about through a conversation between a Highway Department employee and a State Trooper at some meeting in Grand Rapids.

I don't go along with their arbitrary stand that when parking is removed it will be from City Limit to City Limit, disregarding the adverse effect on those involved. Also, according to their survey the biggest problem on Main Street has been in the vicinity of Hudson Street where there has been no Main Street parking for years.

I also feel that once they remove parking from one side of Main Street that it won't be too far in the future that parking will be removed from both sides of Main Street with Lowell becoming a main thoroughfare for those traveling from points East to Grand Rapids. This may speed up the flow of traffic through Lowell, but will the increased vehicle speed really enhance the safety of pedestrians and those entering Main Street with another vehicle? I think not.

In conclusion, I am against any further interference by the State which does not take into account the needs of the people in Lowell. I will fight to continue Main Street parking until an acceptable alternative is found and until I am thoroughly convinced that the removal of this parking is beneficial and necessary.

Dean Collins:

I do not feel that removing parking from Main Street would have anything but possibly an adverse effect on safety. It is common knowledge that when a road is open, straight and clear, the tendency is to drive faster, regardless of what the posted speed limit is. I think this would be the case if parking was taken off from Main Street.

At the present time, the way our city is situated, we have two choices. We can either fill in the back waters of the Flat River to make off-street parking that is accessible to the Main business district or we can keep the on-street parking as is, and be looking for other alternative parking areas as well.

If all else fails, and Main Street parking is lost, then I believe it would be time for the city and the merchants to get together and move their places of business to a centrally located area off Main Street where parking would not be a problem.

James Hall:

Question—Do you favor the demand by the State Highway Department to take parking off Main Street to add to the safety on the City's Main Highway Artery?

Answer—Yes! Anyone that has ever tried to enter onto Main Street from any of the downtown, north/south arteries can readily testify to the difficulties encountered in attempting such a maneuver. The parking on Main Street at times, so seriously impairs your visibility of oncoming traffic that I'm surprised that more serious accidents haven't occurred.

Removal of parking from Main Street will invariably cause some short term inconveniences for us as residents, and additional operating costs to the business people, should they elect to provide additional off-street parking. In spite of this, I still think that the demand or request, whichever term you prefer to use, is reasonable, warranted and long overdue.

I do believe that, through a unified effort on the part of our local business people, working with our local governing body, these problems can be resolved. This would, however, require a long term financial commitment from the Main Street Business District for the development of additional off-street parking.

Question—Would you fight to continue Main Street Parking?

Answer—That's probably a good way to stall for time, but that's about the only thing that you'd accomplish.

Additionally, to fight this proposal would mean that I was negligent in my responsibility as a councilman, in providing for the safety of our residents. I would also have to accept the premise that the Lowell businessman himself, was avoiding his responsibility to the community in general, which I sincerely hope is not the case.

Question—What alternatives do you suggest as replacement for Main Street parking.

Answer—At the October meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, one member suggested that a parking authority be considered. The authority would be the financing method used to acquire property and would also be responsible for the actual construction of parking areas.

I think that this idea definitely has merit, as it places the ultimate responsibility on the business community for the development.

Off street parking, to my way of thinking, is not a city problem per se, as the city has already provided

DEAN COLLINS

More than 900 local residents turned out on a rainy Sunday to take part in dedication ceremonies and officially tour the new addition to Alto and Bushnell elementary schools this past weekend.

Although the new facilities in both areas were the principal attraction, the Alto ceremonies provided a surprise for a member of the Board of Education, Harold Metternick, who has served his area well for 27 years.

A large colored portrait of Metternick was hung in the main entrance beside the commemorative plaques in honor of his dedicated service to the school children of his district. As Asst. Supt. Don Kelly put it, "for many years Harold was the only 'principal' Alto had and hardly a day went by that he didn't stop in to school to check on things."

Currently, president of the local board, Metternick served as a member of the Alto School Board from 1948 until 1961 when Alto annexed to Lowell at which time he was elected to the Lowell board where he has served ever since. For most of those years he was secretary of the school's governing group.

Victor H. Weller, president of the Kent Intermediate School District Board of Education, unveiled the portrait and Jerry Adler, deputy superintendent of schools for Kent County, and Mary Keeler, another member of the county board, attended the ceremonies.

Dr. John Eversole of the Alto United Methodist Church gave the invocation and Alto student singers also performed under the direction of Dorothy Whan. Another portrait was hung in the new main entrance at Bushnell honoring the late Marion Bushnell for whom the building is named. Miss Bushnell served Lowell elementary students for 44 years as a first grade teacher and her name will always be held in high esteem in local education annals. During the first of the two dedication ceremonies, Rev. Richard Greenwood of the Lowell Congregational Church, gave the invocation at Bushnell and Board President Metternick spoke briefly. A group of Bushnell second grade students sang under the direction of Paul Balaam.

Both buildings met with high approval as far as the visiting public was concerned and even the younger members of the older set were heard to murmur, "It certainly wasn't like this when I went to school."

It will encourage pleasurable experiences for the child and parents which may be carried into the home.

Activities will include stories, finger plays, painting, crafts, and games. Times and locations of individual story hours will be as follows:

Park Federal Grant Received By Cascade
A federal matching grant from the land and water conservation fund of the Federal Bureau of Outdoor Recreation through the Michigan Department of Natural Resources has been received by Cascade Township.

The $31,000 received, which will be matched by the township of the 1976-77 budget, will provide additional recreational facilities at Cascade's new 55-acre park located at Thornapple River Drive, just north of I-96.

The park opened in May of this year with two tennis courts and two ball diamonds. New construction will see the addition of four more tennis courts, the laying of a final surface on existing courts, one more ball diamond and the installation of playground equipment.

Application for the Federal grant was made over a year and a half ago. The park's progress is being done through a master plan.

FARM DOLLAR GOES LONG WAY
The farmer's dollar goes a long way in stimulating business activity off the farm, according to a recent analysis by USDA's Economic Research Service.

The survey shows that each dollar spent by the farmer for capital items used in his farming operation stimulates over $2 worth of business in the nation's economy. In addition, more than 660,000 jobs are associated with these purchases.

Farmers spent $7 billion for all capital items in 1971 requiring over $15 billion of business activity. Biggest chunk—$4.9 billion—was for farm machinery.

Computerized Traffic Control System

Work has begun on the $254,400 traffic signal control computerized system for the South Beltline between Patterson Avenue, Cascade Township, and Grandville; and for the East Beltline between Lake Drive and the South Beltline.

The new system, the second of its kind in Michigan, will be in operation in a little more than a year and will control traffic signal changes, based on the amount of traffic, including that which is bound for Lowell whether by the South Beltline, Int. 96 and the Lowell interchange, or by the East Beltline to M-21 and then east. The first such systems is in Lansing.

Metallic loops are being imbedded in the approach lanes of each of 20 intersections by a four-man crew, working between 9:30 p.m. and 6 a.m. when traffic is low, started in Grandville and is working eastward. This first phase will be completed in about three weeks.

The wires will be long enough to reach nearby telephone lines which will provide the electrical power for operation of the computer in an air-conditioned room in headquarters of the Michigan Department of Highways and Transportation, 1420 Front Avenue, NW, Grand Rapids. A telephone crew will connect the loops lead-ins to the telephone lines.

The new system will facilitate traffic movement in relation to the amount of traffic," explains Michael L. Jones, district traffic engineer for the MDHT. "The loops will 'read' the amount of traffic and then 'tell' the computer what to do at the designated traffic signals."

He also explains that if the computer should fail, an audio alarm is set off in headquarters and traffic signal control reverts to the old system immediately and simultaneously.

Honeywell, Inc., of Hopkins, Minn., the general contractor, will keep the computer in repair. Jones adds.

Grattan Man Shot While Coon Hunting

Following an autopsy Monday morning, authorities tentatively said a 31-year-old Kent County man died of head injuries sustained in an accidental shooting Saturday night, October 18.

Ionis County Sheriff's deputies said the victim, Gary Shinabarger, of rural Grattan, died of hemorrhaging and shock after being shot in the head while raccoon hunting with four companions in Itasco Township.

After Shinabarger was pronounced dead on arrival at Blodgett Memorial Hospital, Ionis County Prosecutor Lawrence McKaig ordered an autopsy performed.

Detectives refused to discuss the details of the death, saying only the investigation was continuing. The body was transferred to the Courser Funeral Home in Belding.

Hints For Good Soup

- Do not overseason at the beginning. Flavors intensify as soup simmers and you can always add more just before serving.
- For soup garnishes, use crispy croutons, thin carrot slices, snipped parsley or chives, watercress, shredded cheese or celery leaves.
- Cooled broth or stock can be frozen in freezer trays. The cubes can then be stored in plastic bags in the freezer and used later to add flavor to soups, gravies and sauces.
- For a robust, one-pot soup or stew, make a pack-aged dinner (macaroni & Cheese, spaghetti with meat sauce, noodle with chicken) and add your favorite broth, vegetables or meat.

LOWELL'S HALLOWEEN PARTY TO BE THURSDAY, OCTOBER 30

Charles Doyle, chairman of the Lowell Moose Civic Affairs' annual Halloween party for kids, this week announced that the party this year will be held the night before Halloween, at Burch Field in Recreation Park.

"With Halloween falling this year on Friday, October 31," Doyle explained, "the committee in charge decided to hold the party on the 30th, so it would not conflict with the football game, and other planned activities."

All children in the Lowell area are invited to the party, which will be spiced up with fun, games, prizes, surprises and an array of Halloween eatables.

Those dressed in costumes will be judged in three age brackets—pre-school through first grade; second through fifth grade; and sixth grade on up. Prizes for the winners in each division will be awarded.

"A full program of competitive games are being planned," Doyle emphasized. "We hope that each and every kid that attends will enjoy the evening packed with action."

The party on Thursday evening will begin at 7 p.m. Costume judging will be held first, followed by games and refreshments.

SARANAC SCHOOLS TIGHTEN BELTS Saranac's school board spent a large share of its regular meeting Thursday evening talking about "the budget."

The Michigan budget is being trimmed now, according to Cady. "Schools will probably be high on the list for fund reductions. If state aid is cut $500,000, added to the $12,000 deficit already contained in the budget, Saranac schools would be $52,000 in the red for the year," he explains.

Using a new state-required bookkeeping system, Saranac's school budget is divided by elementary and secondary schools. Elementary instruction totals $485,223, while secondary instruction is $342,566. Operation and maintenance of the school buildings is the next largest item, at $171,008.

So You Caught A Salmon

Most Michigan citizens used a can opener to get at their salmon before coho and chinook were planted in the Great Lakes in the late 1960's.

These days, they can try to catch live salmon in Michigan's big lakes or in a number of inland streams. Fall spawning runs are about to reach their peak, and thousands of anglers will slip on their waders and grab their fish poles to join the excitement.

A fisherman's satisfaction doesn't just end with the landing of one of these big salmon, though. Another reward is in the eating—if the salmon is prepared right.

What's right? Baking, broiling, boiling, pickling, charcoaling, smoking, canning, even making a salmon chowder are a few suggestions. Lud Frankenberg, salmon specialist for the Department of Natural Resources, likes boiling best, but he also wants to share a couple of other of his favorite salmon recipes with Michigan sportsmen.

"Salmon can be the best tasting meal in the world, and there are some salmon dinners I'd prefer over a choice Filet Mignon," says Frankenberg. Here are four salmon plates he'd trade for a steak:

Salmon Boil for 12

Add 8 quarts of water to a 12-quart kettle, 1 cup of salt, 15 medium whole potatoes (pierced to prevent bursting). Bring to a boil for 20 minutes. Then add 15 medium-sized onions. 1 pound of fish steaks per person (cut 1 1/2 inches thick), add an additional cup of salt. Bring back to a boil, and cook 12-15 minutes or until fish is done. Serve with melted parsley butter.

Fish & Vegetable Bake

Chop 1/2 cup each of green pepper, onions and celery, and place on double-strength aluminum foil. Place ready-to-eat salmon fillet on top of the vegetable mix. Salt, pepper, butter and cover with tomato slices. Add a dash of Tabasco sauce. To cook, you have two choices: charcoal at 20 minutes to a side; or bake 40 minutes in a 350 degree oven.

Broiled Salmon

Lightly brush a prepared salmon fillet(s) with your choice of Russian or French dressing, or sprinkle with Parmesan cheese and cover with aluminum foil or sprinkle with dill weed or dill weed and sour cream. Broil until done. An option for gourmets—lightly marinate the salmon with ginger root or soy sauce before brushing with the dressing.

Fast Fish Stew

Cut 2 large, peeled cucumbers, 3 medium-sized firm tomatoes and 1 to 2 pounds of boned fish into 1-inch chunks. Combine 3 cups tomato juice, 1/2 cups canned clam juice (or chicken broth), 1 teaspoon salt and 2 teaspoons dried summer savory leaves in a large saucepan. Bring to boil over moderate heat (about 250 degrees). Add cucumbers and 2 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley to boiling liquid, turn down heat and simmer 7 to 10 minutes until cucumbers become tender. Add fish and tomatoes and simmer 5 minutes longer (until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork). Stir in 1/4 to 1/3 cup fresh lemon juice to taste. Makes 4 servings. Important note: the stew has only 99 calories per serving.

Honored at the party were Mildred Brackins, October 11; Clara Collins, October 15; Beatrice Brimley, October 27; Bertha Powell, October 28; James Rildoran, October 29; Minnie DeBoer, October 30; Dewart Rowley, October 31; John Mihalik, October 1; Clarence Nichols, October 21; and Davis Cummings, October 24.

August Rainfall May Have Set Record

August rainfall in southern lower Michigan may have broken precipitation records kept since 1931. "The highest amount we recorded was 13 inches in the west central lower district of our rainfall recording districts," says Dr. Dale Linvill, Michigan State University agricultural engineering meteorologist. The district comprises Mason, Lake, Newaygo and Muskegon counties. The least amount of rain that fell was 2.99 inches in 1931. The former record was 10.96 inches in 1952. Last year's total for July and August was 8.19 inches of rainfall. The normal average is 5.6 inches.

"At this point I do not have an answer as to why southern lower Michigan received so much rain—it started raining Aug. 21 and kept it up, almost continuously, for two weeks," Linvill says.

His charts show that a frontal system moved into an area roughly from Manistee to Port Huron and southward to the state line and simply oscillated across the state.

"Some areas in southern Michigan received almost 500 percent more rain during that two-week period than normally expected for August. And, of course, it came at the wrong time, damaging a lot of the potential harvest," Linvill says.

By contrast, northern lower Michigan and the U.P. recorded normal to subnormal rainfall during August.

'Iodine' Named To Holsteins Top Twenty
A cow owned by a Lowell dairyman has qualified for listing among the Michigan Dairy Herd Improvement Association's exclusive "Milk and Butterfat Top Twenty" high producers for the month of September.
James Cook's 77-month old Holstein cow, with the barn name Iodine, has completed her 305 ME lactation record with 29,731 pounds of milk, 999 pounds of butterfat, and a 3.4 test. This is truly an outstanding record as compared with the state-wide Holstein Breed average of 14,866 pounds of milk and 520 pounds of butterfat.
Mr. Cook has his herd enrolled in the DHIA testing program and is supervised by Evelyn Schalow of Balding. They work in cooperation with Robert Knisely, Kent County Extension Agent, and Michigan DHIA, Inc.
DHIA, Inc., a state-wide dairy production testing organization, provides production management records for 2,100 Michigan dairymen milking 125,000 cows.

'Bug' Ideas Earn Trips
Three Amway Corporation employees have won trips to California. Zane DeBoer, Harry Eldersma, and Norma Knapp will fly to Anaheim, California, with their spouses to attend Amway Corporation's October Convention. Also included on their itinerary is an excursion to Disneyland and Nutrilite, an Amway subsidiary. All expenses for their trips will be paid by Amway Corporation.
All Amway employees were eligible for the cost improvement program, called the "BUG" program. Employees submitted ideas about "bugs" in the corporate operation and also recommended methods of "extermination." Ideas related to cost savings, increasing productivity, and/or improving corporate efficiency were accepted by the corporate Personnel Division.
Each employee whose entry was accepted received "BUG Bucks," redeemable in the company's Employee Store. Winners were chosen from those employees who had submitted the most acceptable entries. Tabulations were made at three- and six-week intervals, with drawings held both times. Transistor radios were awarded to the three employees whose names were drawn after three weeks, with the major prizes going to the top participants whose names were drawn at the end of the program.
Participation in the program far exceeded all expectations. Over 1,700 ideas were received, an average of 300 per week. Final evaluation and implementation of the ideas will be completed soon.

Harriers End Dual Season

The Lowell Red Arrow Cross-Country team ended its dual meet season last week with victories over Battle Creek Penfield (27-30), Hastings (20-37), and Belding (19-43).

Despite giving up the first two places to Battle Creek, Lowell captured the next four spots, led by Junior Kevin Mulder in a time of 18:01. He was followed across the finish line by teammates Brian Odell, Mike Doy, and Jim Doyle. Penfield took the next two places, but the victory was wrapped up when Dave DeWolf, Mark Smith, and John Ellison all crossed the finish line in front of Penfield's fifth runner.

In the other two meets, Junior Mike Doy captured first place with a time of 16:42—his best of the year over the 3-mile Fallsburg Park course. Odell, Mulder, and Doyle captured the third, fourth, and fifth places. Belding was paced by the second place finish of Ken Harger, while Hastings was led by Steve Quada. In an exciting finish, Sophomore John Ellison breezed by four runners in the last 200 yards, nosing out Belding's third runner at the finish line.

The Red Arrows overall record of 10 wins and 3 losses is the best in recent memory. On Tuesday of this week, they traveled to Grand Valley State College to compete in the Tri-River conference meet and to try to improve on their final conference standing. This Saturday, the Red Arrows will be competing in the Class B regionals to be held at Johnson Park beginning at 10:30.
In other Tri-River Cross Country action last week, Sparta remained undefeated by crushing Cooper'sville. Lakewood bowed to Fremont; and Greenville beat Cedar Springs.

Cedar's Red Hawks Beat Red Arrows

The Lowell Red Arrows fell victim to the Red Hawks from Cedar Springs last Friday night in a Tri-River football game, 35-8.
Elsewhere in the Tri-River League, Lakewood overpowered Cooper'sville 12-0. Sparta downed Greenville 21-7; and Fremont beat Belding 27-13.

With Tailback Rod Perry leading the way, the host Cedar Team rolled up 419 total yards while holding the winless Red Arrows to 117.
Rick Nielsen scored on a six yard run in the first quarter to open the Hawks scoring. In the second period, Rip Gillette raced 15 yards for a touchdown and quarterback Scott Waldron scored on a one-yard plunge.

Lowell scored its lone touchdown in the third period following a fumbled Cedar Springs punt that left the ball on the Hawks' five. Randy Kroff tossed an eight yard aerial to Tom Clemens for the score.
Cedar Springs finished the scoring with two fourth quarter touchdowns on a 60 yard pass from Waldron to Nielsen and on a 16 yard dash by Perry.

This Friday, the Red Arrows will travel to Greenville, where they will meet the Yellow Jackets, in Tri-River action. Game time is 7:30 p.m.
On Halloween, October 31, the Red Arrows will host Belding at Burch field in the final game of the 1975 Tri-River season.

November 7, the Red Arrows will close the season with a conference game with Forest Hills Northern, there.

Tuesday, October 28, the girls will travel to Greenville for their sixth game in Tri-River League action.

Small game season—pheasant, rabbits, and partridges opened Monday, October 20, in this area, Zone 3.
All indications are for a good season this year.

Michigan's 1.2 million hunters have been challenged to make the 1975 hunting season a model for sportsmen's conduct.
The head of the state's largest sportsmen's organization exhorted them to prove to the public that the vast majority of hunters are "sportsmen in the finest sense of the word."

Thomas L. Washington, executive director of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, issued a statement urging hunters to demonstrate their concern for their sport by (1) obeying all game laws, (2) practicing firearms safety at all times, and (3) reporting conservation law violations.

RECEIVE EAGLE SCOUT AWARDS

Charles King and Jay Sturges were awarded the Eagle Scout badge on Sunday, October 12, at Cascade Christian Church. They are members of Troop 334 of Cascade.

FIRE FIGHTERS

Approximately 5,400 lives were lost in home fires during 1973. Having the proper fire extinguisher, knowing how to use it, and when not to use it are important in safeguarding your household, according to the National Safety Council.

PROPHETIC PHRASE

Nathaniel Low's Astronomical Diary for February, 1770, contains a peculiarly prophetic phrase: "He hath no heart that melts not all in Tears, To see the Treasons, Murders, Massacres . . ."

EARLY BRUSHES

Precursons of the modern toothbrush include wood splinters used by primitive man and a round ball of wool dipped in honey. Ancient Romans rubbed these on their teeth and along the inner and outer gums.

A Salute To National Business Women's Week

National Business Women's Week, initiated by the National Federation in 1928, honors working women and their place in society. During National Business Women's Week, the third full week in October, clubs implement programs spotlighting the accomplishments of working women, past and present, and focus community attention on the place working women have in society.

The Women's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor has issued a release on women who work, and it is startling to learn that in the United States there are more than 33 million women in the labor force today, in Michigan there are 1,246,000. The National Federation of Business & Professional Women has a membership of over 150 thousand, Michigan has a membership of over 5,400 members.

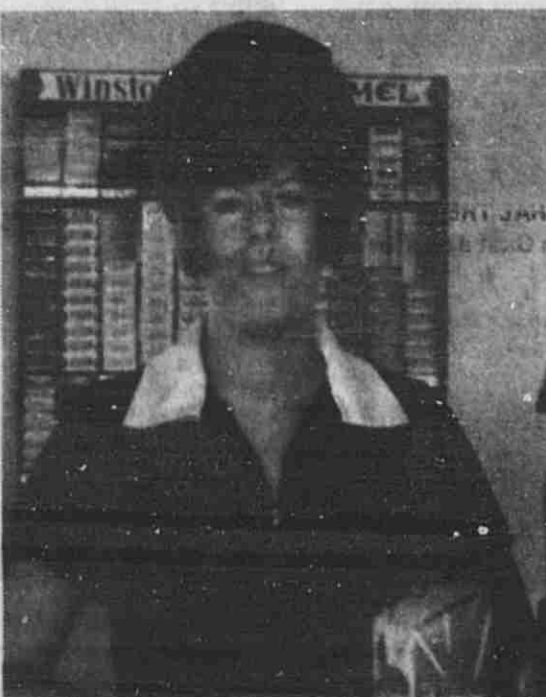

Four out of every ten women work. Most women for economic reasons, some for health, and a few others simply because they really like what they are doing and feel they have something to contribute. The majority work because they or their families need the money to raise the family's standard of living, provide education for children or themselves, provide medical care, etc. Most women do not have the option of working solely for personal fulfillment.

The Lowell Business and Professional Women's Club wants to honor these working women during National Business Women's Week. Lowell has many working women that are doing great work along their lines of personal endeavor, there are many self-employed women who own their own business. The Lowell Business and Professional Women's Club has members in elected positions, also women in policy making positions. One of the main goals of B&P.W. is to elevate the standards of working women.

During National Business Women's Week much emphasis is being placed on WOMEN-SOURCE OF ENERGY. In these days of energy crises, none of this power should be wasted.

The next regular meeting of the Lowell Business & Professional Women's club will be Monday, October 27, 7:30 p.m., at the home of Kay Beebe, 430 E. Main Street.

city parking lot. If others are deemed necessary by the business community, then these people, through the parking authority, should be responsible for the implementation and financing of the project.

I believe that it's time for the businessmen to organize together for the purpose of formulating a plan which will satisfy any anticipated requirement for additional parking, and a plan that the business community feels they can live with.

I am more than willing to cooperate with the business people in putting into effect, whatever positive action plan they may elect to proceed with, but I firmly believe that the primary financial responsibility must lie with the people that have the most to gain, namely Main Street business people.

Larry Keiser:
Absolutely not! The business people of Lowell and the concerned citizens need representation on the City Council with just that kind of statement. There is a great need for parking on Main Street in this City unless the voters want a ghost town.

For many years the Chamber of Commerce, the City Council and the business people have talked about ways to enhance the downtown area of Lowell and entice shoppers to keep their business in Lowell. Removal of parking along Main Street certainly is a backward step towards these goals.

Many businessmen have adequate off street parking but many do not—to remove this parking certainly would unjustly punish many.

Yes, I would fight to continue Main Street parking—no one has yet shown me a feasible way to build a parking lot in the middle of Flat River!

All of these arguments in favor of continuing Main Street parking there still is a definite traffic safety problem in our downtown area to deal with. Anyone who has tried to pull out onto Main Street from the City parking lot or from Monroe Street knows exactly what I mean. It's difficult to see oncoming traffic adequately without pulling too far onto Main Street and then hoping the engine doesn't stall in front of an oncoming semi-truck. It's a hair raising experience to say the least.

I have no alternatives as replacement for Main Street parking because I do not want to lose Main Street parking.

Suggestions for alleviating the safety problem would be these:

No. 1. Let's take a hard look at rechanneling some of the traffic to a street which already has a heavy flow pattern such as Monroe and consider a traffic control device at that corner.

No. 2. Let's adhere to the Highway code and add yellow lines the proper distance from existing bad corners. I'd much rather see the loss of one or two parking spaces on our blocks for safety sake than the complete loss of parking on Main Street. Let's also do what we can to add off-street parking where available to further add to our downtown business area.

Let's make Lowell's Main Street safe, sane, and prosperous for all.

Leo Pfister:
Question No. 4 (a). I personally feel that parking should remain as it is on Main Street. If parking were to be removed, speed would be increased causing more hazards and increased injury in the event of an accident.

(b). I will do all that is possible to keep parking as it presently is.

(c). I would prefer devoting my efforts to keep parking on Main Street as it is at the present and seek alternative measures when the need definitely arises.

Art Warning:

I do not favor the demand by the State Highway Department for removal of parking from Main Street for relieving traffic flow interference and to increase safety.

A special meeting held at Lowell City Hall that was arranged by the Lowell Area Chamber of Commerce with the Michigan State Highway Department on September 10, the following things were discussed:

The State Highway Department wants the City of Lowell to remove parking from one side of Main Street from City Limits to City Limits by 1977—this is the time that work is to be completed on M-21 between Ada and the 196 Expressway. The reason the State Highway Department wants parking removed is that they say it interferes with traffic flow and causes accidents.

The Lowell Chamber of Commerce has given this problem a lot of time and thought and is the author of some of the results of their studies are:

At the present time there is not adequate parking in our present business district. Because our town is an old town (over 100 years old) and built near and above the river, there is very little room for expanded parking area. The State Highway Department wants parking removed because it causes accidents, yet, according to their own surveys, most of the accidents in the City occur: No. 1, at the stop light at Main Street and North Hudson Street; No. 2, in, near and around the Edward Stone location on West Main Street. In both of these locations, no parking people to be removed, this reason cannot be the core of those accident areas.

The City needs all available parking that we now have and unless adequate off-street parking can be found, we must fight to retain the present Main Street parking that we now have.

A letter was sent to Congressman Robert VanderLaan by one of our prominent businessmen telling of the State Highway Department's request to remove the parking from one side of M-21 in the City of Lowell. Other details were explained and what the consequences would be to the City if such a request was granted. In response, Congressman VanderLaan wrote a letter and said the Chamber of Commerce should have the City Manager and the City Council sign a reply letter stating that the removal of Main Street parking would create a hardship for Lowell.

This letter was read and presented to the City Council at a regular council meeting, but they (the City Manager and City Council) would not sign the request.

I would fight to retain Main Street Parking until the time adequate off street parking was found. This parking is for the convenience of the people to do their shopping and daily chores, and without it, everyone in the community will lose. The business people of Lowell pay a large portion of operating costs of the city, and if the business district decays, the cost of tax dollars paid by business will have to be absorbed by the Citizens of Lowell—an additional tax burden.

The State Highway Department's request for removal of parking on Main Street, if granted, would speed up traffic flow and might lessen the number of small accidents on the main thoroughfare, but, one thing for sure, it would be the death of our downtown business district.

On November 4, the voters of the city of Lowell will go to the polls to elect three of the above men to sit on the City's Council. The polls on election day will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Be sure to vote!

THE GREENHOUSE STATE:
Ohio produced more greenhouse vegetables than any other state in the nation.

LETHAL TREES:
In Great Britain the Yew is considered the most dangerous of all trees and shrubs. Its berries, bark and foliage are all toxic, and the latter is the most lethal. Death comes suddenly without any warning symptoms.

Which guy has the phony?

Actually, they both do. And, obviously there's a difference in hair replacement techniques.

A lot of guys tell us they'd like to correct thinning and balding problems, but they don't like the solutions. Old-fashioned hairpieces stick out like the proverbial "sore thumb" . . . hard hair line, color mismatch, tacky styling and slipping. You're just setting yourself up for embarrassment. Surgical transplants sound good . . . except for the involvement and, more than likely, the cost.

We recommend the Professional Hair Replacement technique. It's neither an old-fashioned "rug" nor surgical transplanting. It's a guaranteed method of hair restoration which looks and acts natural . . . regardless of hair color, condition or styling. With the Professional technique, you can style your hair as always, right along with your natural hair. And, you can wear any of today's natural, casual looks. No need to grease and slick. Swim, shower, skydive, surf, skindive or skinnydip . . . do your thing without fear of embarrassment.

Why not let one of our professional styling consultants recommend a hair restoration program for you. All counseling is done in complete confidence and with no obligation to you. You'll be pleased with the results or your money will be completely refunded.

If you're concerned about thinning hair and balding spots, you owe it to yourself to find out more about our hair replacement technique. It could be the start of something obscure.

OUR RISK-FREE GUARANTEE
You must be 100% satisfied with your Hair Replacement after it has been completed and styled on your head or there is absolutely no charge or obligation.

American Indian's Interesting Culture

Many people find the philosophies of the American Indian interesting as they are of an interesting culture. These philosophies, however, occasionally tell the modern white man much about himself.

The Indian philosophy towards the natural world is significant in that it gives us an idea of why the Indian was able to live in harmony with nature, whereas white man did not. Standing Bear, Chief of Oglala Sioux from 1905 to 1939, characterized this philosophy well. He said, "He (the Indian) fits into the landscape, for the hand that fashioned the continent also fashioned the man for his surroundings . . . he belongs just as the buffalo belonged."

"Out of the Indian approach to existence there came a great freedom—an intense and absorbing love for nature; a respect for life; encircling faith in a Supreme Power; and principles of truth, honesty, generosity, equity and brotherhood . . ."

"The white man does not understand the Indian for the reason that he does not understand America. He is too far removed from its formative processes. The man from Europe is still a foreigner and an alien."

The Indian's love of the natural world is reflected, in poems, chants, songs, and prayers of that culture. Consider this Navajo chant:

Beauty is before me, And Beauty behind me, Above and below me hovers the beautiful, I am surrounded by it, I am immersed in it. In my youth I am aware of it, And in old age I shall walk quietly The beautiful trail.

What do you think would be the reaction of an ancient Ojibway Indian to strip mining, industrial and residential wastes, overpopulation and other natural resource problems?
