Congressman Jerry Ford Speaks Will Support Tax Cut, Spending Cut

Following his State of the Union message, the President submitted to Congress his budget recommendations, his economic report, and his tax proposals. All of these documents demonstrate that the Kennedy Administration is basing its fiscal policies on Keynesian economic theories. In their simplest terms these theories, among other things, hold that economic strength, including full employment, flows from business investments, consumer purchases, and governmental spending. If there is less than full employment, or an economic sluggishness, one immediate step the government can take is to increase spending. Allegedly governmental spending takes up the slack, invigorates the economic system, and provides greater employment. Or the government can reduce taxes in the hope that the additional funds retained by the taxpayer will go into business investments on consumer purchases which will in turn provide more jobs. Or more government spending and less taxes may both be tried. In any event, governmental deficits result, but according to the theories, the created prosperity brings in more revenue so that immediate Treasury losses are recovered, and eventually there is a net gain.

No one can be certain that these theories will work. The experience of the early '30s did not prove that increased governmental spending through deficit financing creates prosperity. There is no more assurance that high governmental spending plus reduced taxes will eventually produce more revenue. Yet today we are told by no less an authority than Lawrence O'Brien, Spec. Asst. to the President that those who criticize the Administration's proposed tax cut are guilty of "fiscal irresponsibility." In other words, according to the New Frontiersman we are being "fiscally irresponsible" when we ask for a balanced budget, reduced federal expenditures, and a halt to the growth of the national debt. This is one of the latest examples of redefining words or phrases to promote new theories or create untenable concepts.

In a discussion of this problem there often arises the question of the $12.4 billion deficit in fiscal 1959 under President Eisenhower. There was such a deficit on the heels of the 1958 recession, but it was not a planned or welcomed shortage. While Ike deplored the deficit and strove for a balanced budget, JFK champions the red ink and decries the "pay-as-you-go" ideal as a myth. Herein lies the basic issue in a major problem before the Congress and the country today.

I have stated I would support a tax cut if it were accompanied by a substantial reduction in federal spending. In a $98.8 billion budget there are ample opportunities for cuts. We may justify a federal deficit during a grave national emergency (war; depression) but in time of prosperity the Federal Government should balance its budget, reduce rather than increase its debt and accompanying interest charges, and ease rather than compound the burden passed on to children and grandchildren.

AGRICULTURAL PRICE-SUPPORT PROGRAMS AS A COST OF GOVERNMENT:

The latest report of Secretary Orville Freeman states that farm price supports for the 1962 crop cost $165 million more than the 1961 crop as of November 30th in each year. The total amount of public funds involved in loans and inventories for price-supported commodities by the Commodity Credit Corporation rose $95 million in the year to a total of $7.74 billion. Net losses were also up by $137 million; from $786 million during five months in 1961 to $923 million in the same period for 1962. Significantly the report says, "CCC operations are financed largely by borrowings, mostly from the U. S. Treasury."

LEGISLATION IN HOPPER:

Of the 1173 public bills dropped into the hopper on the opening day of this session of the House, I introduced twelve. I also provided three of the 401 private bills. All except one of the public bills had been presented to the 87th Congress. Seven bills of the last Congress were not reintroduced because they had become law or the need for them had passed.

The new public bill, introduced at the request of the policemen and firemen of Grand Rapids, is an "enabling act" which would permit the State Legislature to include policemen and firemen under social security if the local government and local policemen and firemen vote for this coverage. Presently such coverage is not authorized in Michigan because of past opposition by some national and state groups of policemen and firemen.

Bills reintroduced include one which would require railroad freight cars to be equipped with reflectors or luminous material so they can be more readily seen at night at unlighted crossings. Another would permit a widow with minor children to earn up to $3600 (instead of the present $1200) without losing her social security benefits. A third would permit recipients of old age assistance to continue to receive their payments if confined to a nonpublic mental institution (Pine Rest); presently such benefits are canceled upon admission to a mental hospital. As one approach to the problem of educational costs, H. R. 52 would make educational expenses up to $300 a year for each individual a deductible item for income tax purposes.

Another bill would permit patent-type protection for original ornamental designs of useful articles. Original designs as for a piece of furniture are not now protected against copying. Our bill, H. R. 1006, would eliminate the box fee for patrons of small post offices where there is no delivery service. I also reintroduced a bill which passed the House last year to correct inequities resulting from erroneous payments by the government to civilian or military personnel.

"Temper gets you into trouble. Pride keeps you there."

Kent County Citizens Invest in Savings Bonds

Kent County residents invested $7,174,026 in Series E and H United States savings bonds during 1962, it was announced today by John B. Dorn, chairman of the Kent County Savings Bond Committee.

The 1962 total represented 89.6 per cent of the county's Treasury assigned goal for the year. The 1961 figure was $7,711,504.

In announcing the 1962 figures, the county bond chairman said he hoped for a substantial increase in purchases during the current year.

He said the Treasury is looking for a large volume of new business from taxpayers who choose to take refunds due on their 1962 income tax in the form of savings bonds, instead of checks. The option was made available for the first time this year.

Six Points for Motoring Skiers

HERE ARE SUGGESTIONS that will make a more comfortable, trouble-free trip for motoring skiers. 1. Always use a ski rack that locks. Buick developed the rack pictured above demonstrated by a model at New York's National Ski Fair because of the increasing number of ski thefts from parking lots. Also, skis that fall off in travel are either lost or damaged. 2. Put skis in rack with tips backward (as in photo) to minimize the effects of constant near 100 mile winds working on your skis. 3. Secure all straps and cables so they don't flap — they'll chip your car paint very fast. 4. Always carry some food and one or two blankets — everyone gets snowbound once in a while! 5. Don't overdress for the long car trip. Try not to wear parka's and windbreakers in the car. And, 6. Be kind to your skiboots. Always clamp them on the boot tree before you allow the wet or moist leather to dry out and curl. Buick's ski rack is adaptable to other cars.

Boosters' To Sponsor Donkey Basketball

The Forest Hills Boosters' Club will sponsor a donkey basketball game on Saturday, February 9. All proceeds will go into the program to provide sports for the high school.

The game will feature the Senior high faculty against the Junior high faculty. The donkeys are being provided by the Buckeye Donkey Basketball Company of Columbus, Ohio.

Donkey basketball games are proving real popular because of the comedy it provides the spectators. The idea for sponsoring the game locally was conceived by Bob Dangi and Ed Shy who participated in a donkey game at Lee High recently. The game drew a large crowd over there and everyone had a hilarious time.

Tickets for the game will cost $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for students. Tickets will be on sale at school, or from Booster and Varsity Club members.

Colorful Lumberjack Restaurant Planned

Plans for a unique, outdoor west Michigan restaurant, which will feature Michigan's fabulous lumbering era of the 1870's, have been announced by a group of Grand Rapids area businessmen.

The Silver Jack Wanigan will open for business in early June, according to Bruce M. Radder, spokesman for the group.

The new eating and entertainment facility is named for Silver Jack, one of the nation's best known lumberjacks, and for the loggers' name for big camp — "wanigan."

Silver Jack Wanigan will be located in a wooded area with a stream and small lake just northwest of Edgerton in the Rockford-Cedar Springs-Sparta area approximately 15 miles north of Grand Rapids.

Wanigan guests will enter the camp area via a winding lane through the woods and natural log portal. After parking their cars, they will walk over the top of a dam overlooking a five-acre lake in which they see approximately an acre of logs ready for floating to the mill.

At a logging cabin enroute to the dining area they will see a collection of authentic logging relics, including axes, oxen yokes, peaveys, cant hooks, two-man saws and other equipment of the 1870 era.

The meal will be served logging-camp fashion on metal plates. Guests will move down a serving line for logger-size portions of beef, cooked over a 30-foot open bar-b-q pit; baked beans from a four-foot-in-diameter cast iron kettle, baked potatoes, apple sauce, hot coffee, thick home-baked bread and trimmings.

They will eat at large picnic tables overlooking the wanigan's Lake Bunyan. Attendants will be dressed in bright plaid skirts.

After dinner, two campfires flanking a bandstand on the hillside and kerosene lanterns along area pathways will be lighted. Guests will then be entertained for more than an hour by a program of ballads, swing numbers, tunes, song poems, novelty numbers and sentimental stories of lumberjack days when for two decades Michigan was the greatest logging state in the nation.

The Wanigan will be open Wednesday through Sunday from early June through Labor Day and thereafter on weekends through the fall.

Other members of the group of organizers are Robert E. Hicks, Lyle Stovall, Edward W. Berry, Jerry L. Hendrickson, John D. Bunbury and William V. Swietlik.

The albatross, largest of all sea birds, often so gorges itself with fish and mollusks that it can't fly. Fishing polar bears have been timed at 25 miles an hour. A man running a mile in four minutes, is traveling at 15 m.p.h. . . .
 The rabbit has a bulging curved eye that enables him to see rearward. . . . The baby hippopotamus weighs about 100 pounds at birth and can swim before it can walk. . . . The giant tortoise can live more than 150 years. . . .

All Nazarene churches in this area support the denomination's strong world mission program which now has work established in 43 countries outside the United States.
 The program abroad has 58,965 Nazarene members in 921 national churches, with about 100,000 enrollment in Sunday schools. (These totals are in addition to a domestic membership of 335,005 in 4,303 Nazarene churches in the U.S. and the British Commonwealth.)
 In the last 14 years, Nazarene giving for world missions has increased by 143 per cent, from $1,750,000 in 1949, to $4,250,000 in 1962. Church leaders attribute much of this gain to church-wide adoption of a "tithe the tithe" plan in which 10 cents of every dollar of local church income goes for world missions.
 The Church of the Nazarene, with world offices in Kansas City, Missouri, supports more than 500 full-time workers abroad. These include missionaries, pastors, doctors, nurses, teachers, builders and administrators. They are assisted by 1,740 national workers.
 Large modern hospitals are operated by the Nazarenes in India, Swaziland and in the Republic of South Africa.
 Of the 43 countries with Nazarene work, the program in 36 is in charge of the foreign mission department, and work in seven countries is administered through the home missions department.

Steady promotion of warm, southern "spots" for winter vacations helped spearhead the change. This year steamship companies expect to take in more than twice as much revenue for southern cruises as they did in the 1956-57 winter. The increased popularity of skiing has spurred winter vacationing in the north country.
 Evidence suggests that the change from a strictly summer vacation applies not just to the more urbane and affluent, but to industrial workers and white-collar folk all around the nation. Unmarried ladies especially are willing to part with a sizable chunk of savings (both for trip tickets and in fashionable apparel) to take a chance on romance on a Caribbean cruise or an autumnal stay at a mountain resort.

To dress up large commercial buildings, there's a new wall paneling material that consists of thin outer layers of natural wood with a fireproof asbestos material hidden inside the "Sandwich"; total thickness is ¾ inch. . . . Shaving males can spare themselves the daily search in the medicine cabinet for razor and blade dispenser thanks to a new, magnetized holding rack that can be affixed to the outside of the cabinet. It has spring clips for the razor and blade holder. . . . A battery-powered cigarette lighter similar in operating principles to auto lighters is coming to market; it's rechargeable by plugging into a household AC current plug overnight.

Coin-gobbling vending machines currently are making big gains in the "in-plant" or employe feeling market. In fact, a new estimate says that close to 30 per cent of the 6,000-odd factories in the U. S. now use vending machines entirely to provide hot and cold meals, candy and such for their workers.
 Many others have combinations of vending machine "batteries" and the more traditional cafeteria arrangements. Production of vending machines of all types constitutes an annual volume of more than $125 million, says one expert close to the field.

HOW MUCH SHALL I SAY?
 In a classified ad say as much as is necessary to completely describe what you are offering of goods or services, little more. Be brief, concise, complete. Tell all you would like to know if you were the prospect.
 Facts are what count in a classified ad. Superlatives are to be avoided. Readers of classified pages are looking for something. If you have it and your copy adequately describes it, leave no question in prospect's mind, you will get action. . . . a sale if terms are right.
 A buyer looking for something in the classifieds will read most of the ads to find it. The judicious use of display type, a little white space at top and bottom, the boxed ad—as in display ads on this page—command attention, adding to the pulling power.
 Say what is essential in your ad; use display space where competitive advertising dictates the need.

Health Care For The Aged Becoming Major Problem of Welfare Dept.

It is becoming increasingly evident that health problems, particularly among our aged citizens, are influencing higher welfare costs. Sixty-four percent of our funds went to provide health care last year. This compares with 52 percent in 1961. Seventy percent of those receiving this care were over 65.

This is most dramatically illustrated in comparing the current expenditures of this department with those of 1957 when programs

Gross Expenditures	$453,541.24
Revenues	155,212.39
Cost to County	$298,328.85

Gross Expenditures	$1,621,735.92
Revenues	1,027,735.34
Cost to County	$594,000.58

Destruction Topic Of Student Council

On Thursday, January 24, the Student Council was called together for a most important meeting.

There was a large amount of concern by both the administration and members of the student body over the increasing destruction of school property. It was stated that this rash of destruction was evidently a feeble effort of a handful of Forest Hills' most immature students.

Each council member was asked to express to his respective 6th hour class the importance of keeping our school in "one piece." If any of our juvenile students are caught, they will definitely be punished.

The meeting ended with committee reports and was adjourned at 2:45.

Pilgrim Fellowship To View Film

The Pilgrim Fellowship of Ada Congregational Church will see the full-length motion picture, Martin Luther. This outstanding film presents the biography of the great Reformer, who was the founder of the Protestant churches. Produced originally by the Lutheran churches for educational purposes within their own denomination, this film was shown by many commercial theatres to packed houses. The film became a "surprise" box-office hit during the year it came out (early 1950's), and was voted one of the ten top pictures of the year. Everyone who is interested is invited.

Imagination

Man is the only creature with the power of imagination. What a wonderful ability this is. It can be used in so many ways. Children use it very much. They can live for hours in a dream world as they go about their play. This can be an innocent and joyful experience. Sometimes it can be a wonderful blessing to us. Out of this power of imagination spring new ideas, inventions, etc. Almost everything we have first existed in the mind and imagination of someone who invented, designed or planned it. Sometimes, however imagination can be bad. When it causes us to live in a dream world, to lose contact with reality, then beware. This is also true about our christianity. God has given his Word, the Bible as a basis of our belief. Beware when we ignore it and base our life on mere fantasy produced by our imagination.
