VOLUME NINE

THURSDAY, JULY 11, 1963

NUMBER SEVENTEEN

Grunts, groans, and guffaws punctuated the mighty tug-of-war staged by local businessmen and members of the Ada fire department at the Fourth of July Celebration last Thursday. Neither team emerged a clear-cut winner, but one group tipped the odds in its favor by tying the end of the rope to the saddle of a nearby horse. Other activities at the day-long event included a sack race for children, a gala parade, and an evening ball game climaxed with a sparkling fireworks display. An estimated crowd of 1500 people attended the afternoon events, with more coming to watch the evening show.

Fire Warnings Issued But Not Burning Permits

Area residents are reminded that, because of the current dry spell, no burning permits are being issued by either the Ada or the Cascade fire departments.

The entire western half of the state is now tinder-dry, conservation officials reported Saturday, and all residents and vacationers are warned to be careful with fire of any kind, whether it be a trash fire or a lighted cigarette, lest the situation get out of hand.

Ada fire department officials added that new fire ordinances prohibit the burning of waste in an open trash barrel.

Barrels or wire containers that have openings no larger than three quarters of an inch are still permitted, however.

Until heavy rains bring to the area some relief from the powder-keg situation, Cascade officials pointed out, even the smallest fire is potentially dangerous.

In Cascade alone the fire department was called out five times last Thursday to battle grass fires.

Louis A. Gray, Jr., assistant superintendent of conservation district 10 with headquarters at Plainwell, said Saturday that the fire index is in the high 30s over all of Western Michigan.

The burning index number is computed by conservation officers on the basis of the number of days since there has been rain, wind velocity, humidity, and the fuel conditions of woods and fields.

Fifty is the highest index rating every given.

Cascade Merchants Plan Two Outings

Your CBA members have been meeting the second Wednesday of each month for a noon meeting. The food has been excellent, served by the women of the Cascade Christian Church. The July and August meetings are changed a little.

Wednesday, July 17th, will be an evening get-together for the CBA members and their wives. It will be a picnic affair at the home of Marshall Belding at 2696 Orange Street. The cooking will lack the home touch of the Christian Church women, but we of CBA wish them a good vacation and look forward to being their guests in September.

August 17th falls on Saturday. That will be the date of another CBA member and wife gathering. The August get-together will be at Kettle Lake at the home of the Paul Garbow's.

All indications to the contrary, your CBA does do some work. The fact is that the raffle conducted by the group helped to pay a good part of the fireworks display.

Minors of Little League Complete Season Schedule

The Minors of Little League completed their regular season schedule with three teams in tie for first place. These teams, who all had 8-2 records, are the Giants, Devils and White Sox. A play-off to determine the season champions will be scheduled as soon as available fields can be reserved and dates arranged.

The tournament scheduled for the Minors will be played as originally planned. A drawing was held to determine the exact schedule which is as follows:

Friday, July 12, Giants vs. Twins, White Sox vs. Reds.
Saturday, July 13, Devils vs. Dodgers, Winners of July 12.
Saturday, July 20 Finals (Winners of July 13)
Championship awards will be made to both season and tournament champions.

Hereford Field Day In Ada, July 20

Egypt Valley Hereford Farm located nine miles east of Grand Rapids on Knapp Road will be host for the annual Hereford field day sponsored jointly by the Michigan junior and senior Hereford associations, according to Gary Purdy, Lake Odessa, president of the junior group and Allen Rush, Lake Orion, president of the adult association. The field day is to be held Saturday, July 20. All persons interested in Hereford cattle, both adults and juniors, are especially invited to attend.

Egypt Valley Farm is owned by Henry B. Davis and managed by Robert C. Burie. An interesting program for both adults and juniors has been arranged which includes a judging contest in the morning and several educational talks and demonstrations in the afternoon. Recognized authorities in the Hereford industry will be on hand to demonstrate various skills connected with raising beef cattle.

County agricultural agents and vocational agriculture teachers throughout Michigan are invited to bring a team of three and as many individual judges as they wish. Numerous engraved trophies and other suitable prizes will be awarded the winning teams and individuals by Hereford breeders throughout the state. Field day visitors will enjoy a free lunch at noon.

A feature of the afternoon program will include a short business meeting and election of officers by the Michigan Junior Hereford Association. All members and prospective members are urged to attend. Membership in the Association is open to any Michigan boy or girl under 21 who own Hereford breeding cattle or steers. A $5.00 membership fee is good until age 21. Officers and directors who have guided the Association through its first two years are, as follows: Gary Purdy, Lake Odessa, president; Allan Ayris, Mt. Pleasant, 1st vice president; Albert Dykstra, Ada, 2nd vice president; Neil White, Barryton, secretary; Bill Byrum, Onandaga, treasurer; Dan Wetzal, Ithaca, reporter; Hugh Roberts, Hubbardston, director; Ron Smith, Mason, director; and Richard Byrum, Onandaga, director.

"Egypt Valley Farm is a wonderful place to hold our 1963 field day and we are anticipating a large crowd of visitors. Those who attend will have an opportunity to see one of the top Hereford breeding establishments in the country," said Allen Rush, president of the Michigan Hereford Association.

Art Classes To Begin July 15

The Thornapple Valley Artists were delighted with the interest shown in their first art show on July 4. The T.V.A. wishes to thank everyone who visited the Cascade Town Hall to view the work of the artists. The show, which was warmly accepted by the public, has given the members much encouragement. Mrs. Jeanne Laird is to be commended for her efforts and enthusiasm in putting on the show.

Visiting European Countries

Some very interesting news was received over the week-end concerning one of our former residents of Cascade, Mrs. Fred (Ann) Burger of Palmetto, Florida, who formerly lived on Orange Street S.E., is visiting and traveling throughout Europe this summer with her daughter, Karla.

They have been to Venice and Rome, Italy; Monaco; Nice, Florence, and Paris, France. They also plan to see Wiesbaden, Germany; Holland and London. They plan to fly home the latter part of August from Frankfurt, Germany. Karla, who has been a student in France this past year, speaks French fluently and some Italian, so they have had no trouble traveling.

Fred Burger and sons are presently traveling in New Mexico.

TO HOLD RAFFLE
The HELP committee, comprised of little league mothers, has decided to hold a raffle on July 24 after the ball game at the field. This money is being raised in conjunction with the Thornapple Valley Lion's Club to supply water for the field. The prizes consisting of sporting goods equipment will be listed in next week's paper.

Although the state highways represent less than 10 per cent of Michigan's total roadway mileage, they carry nearly half of all highway travel in the state.

Greasy Pig Stuff, Parades, Fireworks Mark Fourth

Unexpected events highlighted the Fourth of July celebrations in Ada and Cascade this year.

In Ada, the water level of the parched Thornapple River was pumped so low that local firemen were unable to obtain enough pressure to continue the annual water-ball fights.

Spectators at the evening fireworks show in Cascade watched aghast as one rocket fizzled in mid flight, landed in a patch of tinder-dry grass, and started a small fire.

Despite these small misfortunes, however, Independence Day activities in both communities generally ran smoothly and were attended by large crowds.

Festivities in Ada were under way by 1 p. m. with a grand parade featuring fire engines, floats, and plenty of marchers and bicycle riders.

Leslie Averill copped the Best Entry trophy with her horse and buggy entry, and the Fuller-Averill Cup for the best float in the parade was captured by the Eastern Star.

Winners in the bicycle division of the Ada march were Denny Sytsma, 1st; Jamie Baker, 2nd; Joanne Vader, 3rd; and Linda Niles, 4th.

Following the parade, the estimated crowd of 1500 people moved to the Ada Ball Park to watch a series of community games that included sack races, waterball fights, a tug-of-war, and a Greasy Pig Stuff Contest.

In the boys' sack races, Ron Chesbro took first prize in the 6-10 category, and Tim Gietzen won the 11-14 event.

Barbara Penninga was the winner in the sack race for girls aged 6 through 10, and Linda Inman came in first in the 11-14 race.

Waterball Fight
The annual waterball fight between the fire departments of Ada and Cascade went into four rounds, the Ada crew winning with a score of some 290 points.

In the first round of the event, neither team emerged as a decisive victor. A second round was therefore staged, and action continued dully and furiously until a hose burst and play was abruptly terminated.

The contest then moved into a third round, but this also quickly dribbled off when the water pressure dropped due to the dryness of the river.

In the fourth and final round, neither team managed to drive the ball back to the opponent's goal, and officials were therefore forced to award the decision to the Ada department on the basis of its consistently superior efforts.

When the male members of the firefighting teams had retired from the muddy field, the ladies of Cascade and Ada manned the hoses until the water pressure died completely. In this event the officials again declared the Ada team to be the winner.

Greased Pig Chase
Following the waterball fights came the tug-of-war between the Ada merchants and members of the Ada fire department, and the afternoon events were ended with the brief but greasy "Greasy Pig Stuff" Contest, in which Cal Merrick of Lowell captured the not-so-elusive porker by falling on it almost as soon as it was released from its pen.

Evening events at the Ada celebration began with a softball game in which the C. Bell Chevrolet nine defeated the host Ada Merchants by a 3-0 score.

Capping the day's activities was the annual fireworks display, sponsored by the Ada Merchants.

Cascade Celebration
In nearby Cascade action started at 11 a. m. with the grand parade of floats, bicycles, marchers, and horses.

Crowds of people lined the parade route, which started at the Cascade Christian Reformed Church, proceeded down Cascade Road to Thornapple River Drive, and ended in front of the Cascade Christian Church.

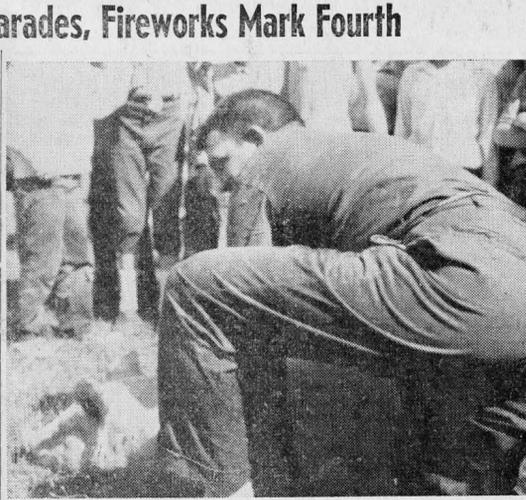

Winners in the bicycle division were Kim Fox, senior girls; Shirley Kingsland, junior girls; Ralph Kimble, senior boys; and Tom Clark, junior boys.

Floats awarded blue ribbons were "Diaper Row," built by residents of Winderest Street; The Rocket Float; Miss Cascade of 1980; the jeep with the marine driver; and the Roarin' 20's float.

The Girl Scout Troop received top honors in the walking division, and Dan and Sally Schalk won a blue ribbon for "Bell" and "Isle," their entries in the pony-cart class.

Other horses entered in the parade took first prizes, with Kay Doctor up on "Little Squire" winning the horse division award, and James Graham on "Shadow" snaring the coveted ribbon in the pony division.

Presenting the awards to the winners in each class was Donna Edison, 1963 Forest Hills graduate Climax of Ada's Fourth of July Celebration was a briefly waged Greasy Pig Stuff Contest in which Cal Merrick of Lowell brought home 90 lbs. of bacon on the hoof after a less-than-60-second workout. Merrick captured the slippery porker by literally falling on it immediately after it was released, and the only difficulty he had in keeping his porcine prize came when he tried to return the pig to its cage—squealing with indignation, it slipped from his grasp and darted into the crowd, which squealed equally as loudly and rapidly made way for Merrick to stage the recapture. Only casualties in the contest were Merrick's clothes, which needed a good laundering before they could be declared fit for further use.

who reigned over the event as the first Miss Cascade.

Earlier in the day Donna had been presented with a lovely necklace by Daniel R. Ellinger, DVM, who represented the Cascade Business Men's Association.

Parade judges were Bee Stroll, Vern Bridgman, and Robert Kersjes.

Water Events
In the afternoon water events were staged, with Lyle Dykhuizen, Jr., and Tom Van Heyningen teaming up to win first place in the canoe race from the Cascade Bridge to the Witty Bridge.

In the annual River Boat Parade, three awards were made to winners in the field of 15 barges and 20 boats.

The Bernard Napier family of Grachen Drive won the "Best Motor Boat" title with their gaily decorated entry, and the "Best Pontoon Boat" ribbon went to the Lloyd Gray and Roger Wilkinson family of Cascade Springs Drive.

The winning pontoon boat, called the "Thornapple Queen," featured paddle wheels, a wheel-house, and two gigantic smoke stacks. Members of the winning family were dressed in Gay '90's costumes, and they furnished old-fashioned river music by playing the accordion, violin, and drum.

The Robert Van Sluyter family of Driftwood Avenue won the award for the most original entry in the boat parade. Their theme was "Three Men in a Tub, Rub-a-Dub-Dub," with Mr. Van Sluyter and his two sons, dressed in white aprons and caps, portraying the nursery-rhyme characters.

Another outstanding float was entered by the Harvey Comrie family of Grachen Drive. The Comries dressed in Japanese costumes, complete with black skull caps and queues, and Japanese lanterns and parasols completed the decorations.

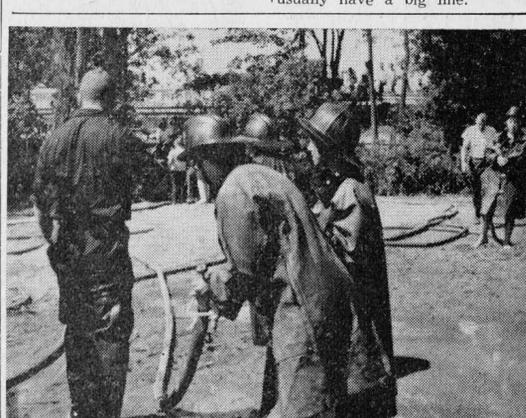

Trophies were given out at the Dick Simpkins' dock by 10-year-old Barbara Burkhead of Cascade Springs Drive, who was dressed as John F. Kennedy.

Judges for the River Boat Parade were John Schermerhorn, Mike O'Connor, and Chuck Hook.

Waterfront action ended with a demonstration of water safety conducted by members of the local Boy Scout troop.

Diamond Action

In the Little League ball game played in the afternoon, the National League team defeated the American League nine by a score

Checking their hose to make sure their streams are straight are several of the area's fairest who "volunteered" to participate in the Ladies' Round of Ada's annual Fourth of July Waterball Fight. When the pressure was finally turned on, the ladies performed admirably under fire and a good drenching was enjoyed by all—including the spectators—but officials were forced to declare a draw because the deadly accuracy of the feminine fire-fighters had blasted the damp waterball right off its damp trolley.

Local Artists Get National Acclaim For Their Work With Copper Ceramics

Jan and Judy Wedemeier made the midwestern edition of the Christian Science Monitor last Monday.

Their picture was on page six, and accompanying the picture was a long article describing the techniques and products found in their Ada studio.

Also pictured were two of the copper bird sculptures which the Wedemeiers made at the work benches where they combine their vocations and avocations.

The article, written especially for the Christian Science Monitor by correspondent Gay G. DeVries, described the Wedemeier venture as it progressed from a hobby to a full-time business.

Studio Background
The studio-workshop began in earnest some years ago when health considerations forced the Wedemeier family to curtail their activities at their Dogwood Road home and move to their present location on M-21.

Edwin T. Wedemeier retired from his custom tractor operation to help his wife and daughter manage their business. Mrs. Wedemeier left her position as an art teacher in local elementary schools to devote full time to the enterprise, and daughter Judy joined her mother at the workbench and kiln shortly after her graduation from Lowell High School in 1956.

"Soon the little local drugstore was successfully selling their efforts," the article said.

Next the local artists began to extend their selling area by attending art fairs and exhibits. "Soon shops throughout Michigan asked to carry their work. They

Named For Graduate Work At Columbia University

Cary P. Stiff Jr., a 1955 graduate of Lowell High School, has been accepted for admission as an unclassified student to the 1963-64 session of the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism, it was announced this week by Dean Richard T. Baker.

The New York City journalism school, which limits its enrollment to 100 students, is well known throughout the country as the home of the annual Pulitzer writing prizes. The school was founded in 1913 through the generosity of publisher Joseph Pulitzer and since that time has used the vast news writing facilities of the New York area as a training ground for its students.

Stiff, who did graduate work in English at the University of Kansas after receiving his A. B. from Dartmouth College in 1959, has been employed as an English instructor at Hamline University in St. Paul, Minnesota, for the past two years.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Cary P. Stiff of 620 Dogwood Road, Ada, he is a former member of the Lowell Ledger and Suburban Life writing staffs.

Sunday religion is apt to go sour before the end of the week.

Top Batters Spark Pony League

As of July 5, Guardsman Chemical Bearcats led the league with a 7 and 3 won-lost record. Second, was the Amway Midgets with a 6-3-1 record, and following them are the Chez Ami Lancers with a 6-4 record. In fourth place, Lions Club Cougars have a 5-4-1 score with Ada Oil Braves, and R. D. Brooks Tigers tied for last with a 2-7-1 record.

Fifteen players topped .300 in batting over the first half of the season, with Ron Horstmanhof of the Lancers hitting .562. Following him are Biff Freeman, .518; Mike Bigelow, .429; Randy Ashley, .414; and Denny Roe, .400. Next came John Gromer, .393; Chuck Reintges, .379; and Jim Koert, .371.

John Gromer leads the slugging with 5 home-runs, Randy Ashley has three, and Tim Moore, Biff Freeman, and Mike Smith have 2 each.

In action last week, Lions Club Cougars won one and tied one with the last place R. D. Brooks Tigers. In the first game, both teams were tied at the end of six innings with a six to six score. Tim Moore and Denny Roe each had home runs as well as two hits for the Lions Club, while Dean Richards and Fred Bentley both had two hits for R. D. Brooks.

Lions Club routed R. D. Brooks in the second game 16 to 4. Denny Roe pitched a two-hitter and collected two hits for the winners, while Rick Osborn also got two hits. Chuck Reintges got both hits for the losers.

Guardsman Chemical and Chez Ami split their series, each team winning one game. The Guardsman Bearcats won the first game with Tom Sysma pitching a fine 2-hitter and striking out 10. Jon Jackson and Randy Ashley got 2 hits for the winners while Rick Taylor doubled for the losers.

Chez Ami Lancers came back to win the second game 8 to 6 with John Jensen picking up a six-hitter. John Gromer hit a home-run and Jim Koert hit a double and a homer for the losers, while Darryl Weaver, Rick Taylor, Frank Bishop, and Scott MacIntyre all singled for the winners.

The Amway Midgets won one and tied one game with the Ada Service Station Braves last week. Amway won the first game with Wisniewski taking the win on a 4 hitter. Biff Freeman collected three hits for the losers.

In the second game, Biff Freeman pitched a two hitter but was plagued by poor support from his teammates as the Midgets capitalized on the miscue to tie the Braves 5 to 5. Chris Graves and John Stovall hit singles for Amway while Freeman had a double and a single and Liversledge singled for Ada Service Station.

Home Economics Digest

By E. Eleanor Densmore, County Extension Agent

There's a luscious, fruity aroma, and a host of tempting colors as you stroll through the markets these days. Home-grown fruits are appearing in increasing numbers.

Fully ripe when picked, they have an odor and a taste that is one of summer's true delights.

Would that we might capture this elusive peak of perfection. So far, freezing has been the best answer, and we are experimenting with more frozen products all the time.

Did you know that you could freeze jam? In fact, you don't have to even cook the fruit, so it has the color and flavor of the fresh fruit. Here's how:

Uncooked Jam Made With Berries Or Peaches

3 cups crushed blackberries, blueberries, raspberries, strawberries, or peaches (takes about 1 quart blueberries, 1½ quarts other berries, or 2½ pounds peaches)

5 cups sugar

1 package powdered pectin

1 cup water

TO PREPARE FRUIT

Sort and wash fully ripe fruit. Drain. Remove caps and stems from berries, and pits and skins from peaches. Grind blueberries; crush other berries or peaches.

TO MAKE JAM

Measure 3 cups of prepared fruit into a large mixing bowl. Add sugar, mix well, and let stand for 20 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Dissolve the pectin in the water, bring to a boil, and boil for 1 minute. Add pectin solution to the fruit and sugar mixture and stir for 2 minutes.

Ladle the jam into jelly glasses or into suitable freezer container, leaving ½ inch space at the top. Cover the containers and let stand for 24 to 48 hours, or until the jam has set. Then cover jam with ½ inch layer of hot paraffin. Makes about 9 six-ounce glasses.

TO STORE

Store uncooked jams in a refrigerator or freezer. They can be held for a few months in a refrigerator or up to a year in a freezer. If kept at room temperature they will mold or ferment in a short time. Once a container is opened, the jam should be used within a few days.

Vacation

This is the time of year many of us go on vacation. In the busy rushing world we live in, it is good for us to take a change of pace. It is necessary to spend time enjoying a few of the pleasant things of life with family and friends. However we must never make the mistake of thinking that life is one big vacation. Vacations should serve the purpose of making us better fit to serve our Savior. This will only be true if we take Him with us on our vacation; if we enjoy His fellowship in our relaxation; if we see His greatness in nature and history. Have a vacation, and make it not only pleasant, but a blessing.

State Police Report
83 Die In Water Accidents

Eighty-three persons have died and at least 45 others have been injured in 118 water accidents so far this year in Michigan, State Police provisional figures disclosed Monday.

These represent decreases of 10 in deaths, six in injured and 23 in accidents, compared with the same period last year.

Six of the 18 persons who drowned in falls from bridges, banks, docks, piers or through ice were children under 10 years of age, with inadequate supervision indicated according to State Police analysis.

Amway Company Plant Expands

Providing an interesting study in light and shadow is the new construction at the M-21 office building and manufacturing plant complex of the Amway Sales Corporation in Ada, Rudy Durrwachter, head of the company's creative staff, said Tuesday that the new addition, due to be completed in August, will be used for art, photography, writing, and printing facilities. Plate-making, photostating, and collating operations will be set up in the printing plant section of the building, a complete dark room will be equipped, and office space will be provided for the staff of writers and artists who design the company's labels, publicity, and literature.

The Dan Vos Construction Company of Ada is erecting the 8,000-sq.-ft. building.

Traffic Deaths
Hit Total of 767

Michigan's 159 traffic deaths in June brought the state's road toll, to 767 for the first six months, highest for this period since 820 in 1956, according to State Police provisional figures.

The first-half toll was 108, or 16 per cent, higher than 659 for the first six months last year. Delayed death reports will increase somewhat the provisional totals for June and the first half of the year.

The June deaths were 12, or eight per cent, more than 147 in the same month in 1962. It was the sixth month in a row and the tenth in the last 12 of increased deaths compared with the same months in previous years.

BIRTHS

Congratulations are in order for Mr. and Mrs. Daniel DeGood of Lowell on the birth of a baby daughter, Angela Sue, on June 28 at Blodgett Hospital. She weighed 7 lbs. 2 oz. Baby Angela must, however, remain at the hospital for quite some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kerkstra of 1312 Forest Hills Road are proudly announcing the arrival of a baby daughter on July 1 at St. Mary's Hospital.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our relatives, friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown us at the sudden death of our dear husband, father and grandfather. We especially want to thank the neighbors and friends who helped prepare and serve the meal after the funeral.

Mrs. Wilma Ziegler and family.

Looking for something interesting to do this Thursday evening?

Hop in your car with the missus and the kids and buzz down to the Cascade Christian Church. You'll find the ladies of the church on the front lawn there, busy serving ice cream, pies, and cupcakes at their gala Old-fashioned Ice Cream Social.

The ladies have set no price for the goodies they will be serving, but they do hope that you and your family will make a small donation to the church's organ fund.

The church is located at 2798 Orange Street, and serving times at the Social are any time between 6:30 and 9 p. m.

In the Going to L Dept.:

Shouldn't be any monogrammed towel problem at the Lester L. Norwood home on Conservation Road in Ada.

Everyone's initials are L. N.—including the dog's.

Besides Les there's Mrs. Norwood, whose name is Lyle, the Norwood's son Lloyd, and their daughters Linda and Leslie.

The dog's name? It's "Liz." But she doesn't need monogrammed towels, of course.

Any old towel will do.

We knew he was the Cousin of All Ireland, but it took the birth of Ethel Kennedy's eighth child to point up this fact about JFK: no matter what may happen in Cuba, he will at least go down in history as the Uncle of His Country.

And speaking of JFK...

Mrs. D. W. Tyler of Clarksville has contributed this goodie to the endmen for possible use on the 1963 Showboat:

What did President Kennedy say when Jackie told him she was expecting?

"I must have been off my rocker!"

Come now, Mrs. Tyler—do you think the endmen will really get it...?

A story we mean to look into some time:

Miss Grace B. Walker of Lowellview Avenue has a rather interesting hobby—she writes poetry about the early history of Lowell.

Miss Walker's poems are peopled with such romantic figures as Lowell's founder Daniel Marsac, the fabled Chief Cobmoosa, and a tragically beautiful Indian maiden named Jenute, who was married to Marsac until he—the beast!—broke her heart by running off to marry a French beauty from Detroit.

And meandering throughout the poems is the Quab-i-quash-sha, more prosaically known today as the Flat River.

Miss Walker, who has been writing poetry ever since her graduation from Lowell High School at the turn of the century, is a descendant of early settlers in this area and is thus very familiar with local history.

A long-time member of the Lowell school board, she used to work for the old Lowell Journal prior to its consolidation with the Ledger in 1936, but her knowledge of printer's ink, picas, pied type, and editors' antipathy for pretty poetry has never tempted her to seek to have her poems published in her hometown paper.

This may be some sort of a loss for posterity; after all, it isn't everyone who can find a word to rhyme with "Quab-i-quash-sha."

Parting Shot: The first passenger flight to the moon gets nearer and nearer. Now there's a trip we wouldn't take without reservations.

Nancy Charters,
Jimmy Jones
Exchange Vows

Miss Nancy Elaine Charters and Jimmy Ray Jones were united in marriage in the Cascade Christian Church on June 29 with Rev. Raymond Gaylord officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Dale Charters of 7245 Denison Drive S.E., and the groom is the son of Mrs. Birdie Jones of Alabama.

For her wedding, the bride chose a full-length gown of silk organza over taffeta. It was designed with a full bell skirt and a jacket with elbow-length sleeves with applied finger-tip length veil with a pleated crown, and she carried an open Bible on which was a cascade bouquet of white rose buds, white stephanotis, with ribbons and ivy.

The church was decorated with candelabra and bouquets of white gladiolus. Verne Stilwell was the organist, and he accompanied Mrs. Roy Reynolds as she sang "Oh, Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Sister of the bride, Mrs. James L. Scripps, was matron of honor and she wore a street-length apricot satin de peau sheath with a full overskirt. Her pleated pillbox hat and small veil were made of matching material. She carried a bouquet made of white chrysanthemums and ivy. The tips of the chrysanthemums were tinted to match her dress.

Best man was Harold Jones, brother of the groom, Fred Jones, brother of the groom, and Roy Denison Charters, brother of the bride, served as ushers.

Nancy Jill Scripps, niece of the bride, was the flower girl, and she wore an embroidered blue eyelet dress. The ringbearer was David Scripps, nephew of the bride.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in Fellowship Hall with Mr. and Mrs. Ward Geib as master and mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. June Hovey and Mrs. Nina Perry served at the punch bowl; Mrs. Donald Heaven poured coffee; and Mrs. Ralph Fosner was in charge of cutting the wedding cake. Mrs. Wally Buttrick and Mrs. Harold Jones were in charge of the gift table.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ben Charters of Jackson, Michigan; Don Charters of New York City; Mrs. Birdie Jones and two sons, Anthony and Fred, of Alabama; and Mrs. Earline Ray of Chicago.

After a northern honeymoon, the newly-married couple will reside at 522 Prospect Avenue S. E.

The amount of earth excavated in building Michigan highways in 1961 would cover a square block about four miles high.

Michigan's Upper Peninsula from Drummond Island in the east to Little Girl's Point in the west, is 334 miles across.
