Collins Circus Carnival May 16

Pictured above is Miriam Perschbacher showing a drawing she made for the Collins Circus Carnival to Pam Broersma, Susanne Hufford and Graham Hufford. This Circus Carnival will be held on Saturday, May 16, at Collins School from 2 to 7 p. m. Clowns will be on hand with free balloons and lollipops to add to the circus atmosphere. Children who own clown costumes are encouraged to wear them. Tickets are being sold by fifth and sixth grade classes and PTA members for a special drawing. Many exciting prizes, in addition to a big new two-wheel bicycle, will be won by lucky ticket owners. All the ever popular favorites will be offered—pony rides, cake walk, makeup booth, etc., in addition to the Country Store. At the Country Store, little and big girls, too, will be delighted with the Barbie Doll clothes and furniture which will be offered for sale. Particularly amusing for the boys will be the dart games and the airplane games which everybody found so fascinating last year. Dinner will be served in the spacious "Circus Diner" (all-purpose kindergarten room). Plan to come early for circus games and fun, and stay late for dinner. Come one, come all, families, friends, and neighbors to the Circus Carnival on Saturday, May 16, 2-7 p. m., at Collins School.

Horseshoe pitching club to form in Ada; Court space donated

The Wolverine State Horseshoe Pitchers' Association, which is the Michigan branch of the National Horseshoe Pitchers' Association, has been asked to help form a horseshoe pitching club with courts at the Ada Athletic field.

The Ada Athletic Association has offered to furnish the grounds for the courts, and the lights.

Horseshoe pitching is a family sport, and is making vast strides in recent years, and according to a recent survey of recreational activities, there are approximately 11,000,000 people in this country who pitch horseshoes.

Many localities are installing good courts as a part of retirees recreational programs. Pitching horseshoes in the company of a nice group of people is an exceptionally good exercise regardless of your age.

Many ladies are members of the Wolverine Horseshoe Pitchers' Association and tournaments are held for them in conjunction for tournaments for men, all around the state. Beverly Clark of Wyoming is the present ladies champion of the state.

The tentative plans for Ada is to form a club from any area people who might be interested. The installation of the courts would be up to the club and its members. The space for the courts is a nice level spot at the Ada Athletic Field. This space has been furnished by the Ada Athletic Association and if permanent courts can be installed the sport will be available as long as the courts are kept active and in proper condition.

Cascade Thornapple Assoc. elects officers Plan to map river

The newly elected officers of the Cascade Thornapple Association (residents above Cascade Dam) have outlined several new important projects for the summer of '64 and have promised to carry on the many programs of river improvement and membership benefits started last year. The new officers are William Foy, President; William Pullen, Vice-President; Richard Hakeen, Secretary; and Donn Palmer, Treasurer. At their general meeting the membership elected Charles Powell, Donald Ringwood, Richard Hakeen and Jack Dean to the Board to replace retiring officers.

President Foy appointed newly elected officers Dean and Powell as membership co-chairmen. William Pullen will continue as Conservation chairman and Donn Palmer as Navigational chairman. Donald Ringwood has been appointed Activities and Public Relations chairman. Several additional appointments have been made to these committees. Any members interested in serving upon one of the committees should contact President Foy or the committee chairman.

One of the new projects announced this year is the mapping of the river above the Cascade Dam. Starting with published maps the Navigation Committee assisted by several volunteers planned to prepare a map of the river, including depth findings, channel location and navigable areas, for distribution to the members. One member suggested he could even spot a couple of fish holes! Other suggested projects include preparing a channel past the railway bridge for larger boats, a fishing contest, and decals for membership use.

The Board wishes to express publicly their thanks to Consumers Power Co. for lowering the river at the association's request. Many docks were repaired and several new docks appeared during these two days. Also, members removed several dangerous stumps and marked others.

Board meetings will be held every third Monday through September at 8 p. m. Interested members may attend by calling any officer to determine the location of the meeting. Members will receive a letter in the near future concerning the annual boat trip and other spring-summer events.

Elect trustees at annual meeting

The annual meeting of the Thornapple Association will be held Tuesday, May 19th, at 8 p. m. at the Cascade Township Hall. This meeting was postponed from the usual third Tuesday in April due to the absence of a considerable number of the trustees and officers.

The business will consist of the election of trustees a report of committees, and a discussion of general business and activities for the year of 1964.

The trustees have received a recommendation that the Board be increased from six to eight and, accordingly, a motion to accomplish this purpose will be submitted to the members attending this annual meeting.

Of the present six trustees, the terms of Messrs. John Schermerhorn, Russell W. Case and Harvey R. Comrie, will expire as of this meeting.

The other three present trustees, namely, Messrs. James Thomas, Fred Brunger and Peter Price, were elected last year for 2-year terms and therefore will not be subject to this election.

In the event the above-recommended increase of trustees is approved by the membership prior to the holding of the election, the attending membership will be requested to vote for five trustees: four to hold office for a 2-year term and one to hold office for a 1-year term.

The officers believe that a broad representation covering all individual areas between the Cascade and Ada Dams is desirable. Accordingly, in presenting trustee nominations at the annual meeting, it is suggested that this factor be considered.

This is an opportunity to present any questions or matters of interest to the association, and all present and prospective members are invited to attend.

Len Fase, Jr., school teacher, killed Saturday

Leonard Fase, Jr., age 24, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Fase of 8535 Bolt Drive, Ada, was killed Saturday night when his speeding sports car collided with an auto driven by his mother near the family's Ada home.

His younger brother, Roger, 16, who was riding with him was seriously injured and is in Blodgett Memorial Hospital. The mother, Mrs. Virginia Fase, 46, received minor bruises.

Mr. Fase was an outstanding three-sport athlete at Lowell High School. He was all-Grand Valley Conference choice in football, basketball and was one of the top hurdlers in the area. He graduated from Lowell in 1957.

Continuing his athletic career at Alma College, he won varsity letters in football, basketball and track. He received his degree in 1961.

Mr. Fase had been football and track coach and Junior varsity basketball coach at Spring Lake since graduation from Alma. He also taught science classes this year and, in his first half year there, taught Spanish.

Besides his parents and brother, Roger, he is survived by two other brothers, Keith and Richard; two sisters, Sandra and Sharon; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fase, sr., all of Ada.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, May 12, at the Roth Funeral Home in Lowell with Rev. Roy Marshall of Spring Lake officiating. Burial was in Cascade Cemetery.

Forest Hills Drivers Attend Bus Safety Day on May 16th

Nineteen city and county representatives of public and non-public schools, Police and Sheriff's departments plan first county-wide Safety and Transportation Day on May 16th at Old Kent County Airport.

Forest Hills is expected to have over 20 drivers taking part in this Bus Driver's program. Members of the planning committee from Forest Hills are: Lyle DeArmond, Homer Provanche, and Mrs. Jean Grotters.

The entire project is educational, an opportunity for drivers to observe and share school bus driving experiences and to generally improve the efficiency and safety of every school bus fleet.

Kent County has been fortunate in that we have not had a serious school bus accident. A school bus accident could strike as many as 40 families in a single accident in any city or county community. The committee congratulates the school bus drivers for this fine record and hope through public recognition of these driver skills to further promote safe transportation of these children in our city and county school systems.

Advance driver registrations indicate a real interest and of course there is the opportunity to capture an award for individual skill in the safe operation of a school bus. Every entrant will receive a memo of the occasion in addition to valuable prizes for the entrants. Homer Earle of Western Michigan University and 35 men from the Traffic Squad, Police Department, Sheriff's Department and school administrative staffs will supervise the day's activities, starting at 8 a. m.

Michigan Bakeries will serve lunch for all participants. Business men from the city and county are supplying "sound cars" motorized golf carts, walkie-talkie radios and other miscellaneous equipment.

Horizon Club to hold bake sale Saturday

The Forest Hills Horizon Club T.N.T. has been busy since March, with a car wash and Easter baskets for the young people at Saint John's.

Next Saturday, May 16, this busy service club is planning a bake sale. It will be at Cascade Pharmacy from 10:30 a. m. until sold out. Proceeds will go to the Campfire Association.

There were so many of you who helped make our last bake sale a success that we would like your support again.

The home gardener can gain extra excitement from a portable greenhouse unit that comes with pre-planted Venus fly-eating plants—the kind that literally snaps shut and devours household flies.

He is survived by two sons, Joseph of Ada, Francis of Rockford; two daughters, Mrs. Carroll (Bonnie) Jakeway of Greenville, Mrs. Alfred (Dorothy) Byrne of Lowell; 12 grandchildren; eight great-grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Ethel Roest of Comstock Park, Miss Hazel McCabe of Ada; one brother, James of Ada; and several nieces and nephews.

Ada backwater to be lowered May 22, 23

The Thornapple Association has made arrangements through the cooperation of the Consumers Power Company for the lowering of the Ada backwater for approximately 2 feet on Friday and Saturday, May 22 and 23, to permit water-front property owners between the Cascade and Ada Dams to do maintenance and construction work.

This involves additional expense and revenue loss on the part of Consumers Power Company and, therefore, water is usually lowered only once a year on a group basis. It is suggested that maintenance and construction work be arranged accordingly.

IT'S A BEAUTY—Take a ride on America's most scenic highway—on I-75 in Northern Mich.—during Michigan Week, May 17-23. "That's the time when everyone in Michigan is supposed to devote himself to getting better acquainted with our great state," State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said in a message urging Michigan citizens to drive the prize-winning highway between Clare and the Mackinac Bridge. The judges who picked I-75 for the Scenic Highway Award described it as "the year's best example of a motorist's highway—a joy to see as well as to drive."

18-year-olds can't drive in New York

Michigan families motoring to New York for the World's Fair are cautioned that youngsters under 18-years-old are not allowed to drive in New York, even though they may be validly licensed drivers in Michigan and other states.

Secretary of State James M. Hare said officials of New York State, in Michigan last week for a Driver Improvement conference, urged him to make the fact known to everyone in Michigan.

"When you are motoring in other states during vacation and otherwise," Hare said, "it might pay to know the laws governing drivers and driving in every state you are passing through."

The E-String

We'll let the E-string of the violin represent Eternity. Or don't you believe in eternity? Maybe you prefer not to think about it? And about death? There are people who tell us that death ends all, that after our final gasp and last heartbeat we no longer exist. I wonder if they really believe that, or if they have some little sneaking doubt deep down in their hearts.

To deny life after death is to degrade ourselves to the level of animals. Strange, isn't it, how men resent being called a dog or a beast, and yet they choose to believe that they are descended from brutes and that their end is like that of an animal. The Bible says that we are of divine origin, made in the image of God, and destined for a glorious eternal life; but they prefer to think of themselves as worthless, of animal origin, and perishable.

Of course believing or denying it does not make eternity more or less a fact. But once the A-string is tuned to Atonement by faith in Jesus, the E-string must be tuned to Eternity. "Whosoever believeth in Him shall not perish but have everlasting life." (John 3:16)

The Bible speaks of a man going "to his place" when he dies. That is the place where he belongs, where he will feel at home, where he fits. And it's final!

Have you the courage to give this subject serious thought? Or are you like the girl who said, "Don't ask me to think; I get all confused and upset." The Bible encourages thinking. "Think on thy way." —M. Schoofland

Carelessness is costly for drivers

Michigan's citizens are shelling out more than $1-million a day—nearly a half-billion dollars a year—out of their wallets to pay for carelessness on the State's roads.

According to Secretary of State James M. Hare, this means that each motorist pays either directly or indirectly nearly $90 a year as his share of this cost, or about 25 cents per day per person.

A Michigan Research Center report in a survey of 101,000 personal injury accidents revealed these horrible facts:—50 per cent of all these accidents involve medical expenses; 2 per cent involve burial expense; 58 per cent bring about property damage other than personal possessions; 12 per cent involve legal costs; while 24 per cent mean income loss.

Continuing the statistics, Hare noted that only 15 per cent of the personal injury accidents involved no dollar cost—but—55 per cent rose from $1 to $500; 25 per cent cost from $500 to $3,000; 3 per cent from $3,000 to $10,000; and 2 per cent more than $10,000.

William Seidman on convention committee

Arthur G. Elliott, jr., Republican State chairman, today named a 41-member pre-convention resolutions committee to begin drafting the Party's 1964 state platform. From this area, William Seidman, attorney of Ada was named.

The group, headed by Robert G. Howlett, a Grand Rapids attorney, will hold a public hearing Friday, (May 8) in Grand Rapids, host city for the annual meeting.

The next day the recommended document will be turned over to the official platform committee for final revisions and then presented to the convention for approval.

Elliott predicted the pre-convention resolutions committee will draft a platform that focuses attention on Michigan needs, and will go light on coverage of national problems.

An experienced driver knows that danger is where you find it—and, it isn't hard to find. Always drive defensively and you will always be prepared for anything.

Object . . . Success

Man is known to be a creature of habit. Habits begin to develop at an early age and no doubt study habits are either good or bad by the time a student finishes elementary school. These habits are carried on into high school and probably continue through life.

My high school days were wasted on my inability to get serious about studying. My parents were certain I'd be the last man on the Totem Pole if I didn't buckle down, but as a not so ambitious youth it wasn't in me. Many of us don't get the point until we are all through high school and the realization of adulthood responsibilities and independence hit us below the belt. Fortunately, in this country opportunities are comparable to stealing second base when the catcher drops the ball. In England if you don't qualify for college at the age of eleven years you are doomed!

Following high school I served my two draft years as an enlisted man. My "feathers" were ruffled more than once at the dignified manner in which the officers worked and lived. I guess I envied them and figured it would be nicer to be one of them.

Several colleges turned down my application for admittance, after the service, due to my substandard high school grades. By this time I was determined to go to college so entered a preparatory school for a year, passed entrance exams and embarked on a course in engineering. I poured my energies into learning, made the top 15 in my class and graduated with honors. I am now married, the father of two boys and still attending graduate school having passed the half way mark to obtaining my masters degree.

Engineering offers unlimited opportunities today and will continue to do so in the future. I am not yet 30 and think perhaps I will soon be earning $10,000 a year.

Good habits developed early in life are most desirable. But if you think you've missed the chance of catching up if you can muster up the determination and are willing to work. Having to work, like I did, has made my life far more fascinating than I ever dreamed it could be. I have yet to meet a man who regretted his hard earned education.

Good luck to you. E.T.M.

Law enforcement battle loosing ground Hoover says

For law enforcement, the awesome fight against crime and lawlessness could possibly be described as inverted progress—moving forward but losing ground. This statement was just released by J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director.

Despite the gigantic strides made in recent years in the professionalization of law enforcement, crime continues to be one of the mushrooming problems threatening the safety and welfare of our country. An additional danger lies in the growing concept that widespread lawlessness is an unavoidable adjunct to our way of life. Certainly, there is no valid reason why it has to be.

Crime causation are not always easy to define, but one of the perennial headaches to law enforcement is the veritable pool of hardened criminals available through the loop-holes and abuses of our systems of parole, probation, and other forms of clemency. Criminal rehabilitation has long been recognized as a vital phase of the administration of justice. With its assorted complexities, it has many interpretations. However, criminal rehabilitation should always be directed toward one basic objective, the protection of the public. Frequently, this objective is lost in the storm of tearful lamentations from social reformers. It is swept aside by the sympathetic practices of some courts and administrators. Misguided leniency results.

Some jurists state it is vastly unfair for the press and news media to identify parolees as such when they are arrested and charged with violations. Such reasoning is an extension of the distorted philosophy which looks only to the interest of the criminal with complete disregard for the society which he offends. The public has a right to know when a person who has been favored by leniency violates the terms of this trust and resorts to further criminal activity.

The argument is also made that parole and probation have nothing to do with leniency or clemency. Rather, it is claimed, these practices are reformatory instruments on a par with imprisonment itself. The fallacy in this contention is evident for criminals certainly do not consider parole and probation to be equal to imprisonment. To them and to the public, parole and probation are forms of clemency and mercy, and the fact that most convicted persons seek their application believes any attempt to label them otherwise.

We drove 3,243 miles to make a point about our Super Turbine transmission

You can do it on the way to the grocery store!

Would we drive a Buick with a Super Turbine transmission* all the way from Pasadena to New York City just to win Class C in the Mobil Economy Run? Of course. And just in case anyone failed to get the message, we did it twice again. And won Class D and Class G. In all, Buick entered 4 classes, and won 3—more than any other make of car. (Remember when people used to think Buicks used a lot of gas?) Did we make our point about the Super

Turbine transmission? You bet. Obviously you aren't planning to drive 3,243 miles to prove your new Buick is economical. And you can't expect to get as many miles per gallon as the experts in the Economy Run. Still, it is nice to know you can win the economy run around town. And the good looks prize at the same time. See your Buick dealer about it. No doubt he'll think of a number of other reasons to drive a Buick.
