Freeways playing major role in Michigan's tourist boom

Michigan's nearly 1,200 miles of freeways are playing a major role in the State's biggest tourist season in history, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said recently.

Mackie made the comments at dedication ceremonies marking the opening of 14.4 miles of US-31 Freeway between Muskegon and Whitehall.

"Travel time from the State's southern boundary to all parts of Michigan has been reduced tremendously by better highways," Mackie said.

"We now have 125 miles of divided highway open to traffic from the Michigan-Indiana line to Whitehall-Montague."

Mackie said the State Highway Department has made every effort to preserve the natural scenic beauty of the areas through which our new freeways are built.

"This is true with the highway we are opening today," he said. "Although it removes the through traffic from one of the State's most beautiful sections of state highway, it will be a pleasure for motorists to drive, not only as a scenic highway but because it eliminates one of the worst traffic bottlenecks in Western Michigan."

The Muskegon Causeway, a parkway that links Muskegon and North Muskegon, has often been called "Michigan's Most Beautiful Mile of State Highway."

Mackie said that many people in other states who have heard about Michigan's nearly 1,200 miles of toll-free superhighways are coming to the state this summer because of

Mary Hoover, Bob Arehart wed Saturday

Miss Mary Doriene Hoover and Robert L. Arehart were married Saturday noon in St. Robert's Church in Ada with Rev. Donald Farrell officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Hoover of Ada and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Arehart of Lowell are the parents of the couple.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of silk over taffeta designed with a round neckline and a bell-shaped skirt. A cummerbund secured the floor-length train, and her shoulder-length veil was held in place by a bow and velvet rose, and she carried an old fashioned nosegay of pink and white roses.

Miss Francene Hoover was her sister's honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Arehart of Mishawaka, Indiana, and Miss Dolores Snyder of Cascade. They wore ballerina length gowns of pink taffeta with round necklines, bell-shaped skirts, and white lace cummerbunds. Their headresses were wreaths of pink daisies, and they carried small baskets of natural straw with pink and white daisies.

Michael Serne assisted as best man. Seating the guests were John Arehart, brother of the bridegroom, and Frank Hoover, brother of the bride. Honorary ushers were Vincent and Michael Hoover.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Wright of Grand Rapids, uncle and aunt of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. William Arehart, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom, were masters and mistresses of ceremonies at the reception held in the church parlors.

The bride and groom left on a wedding trip to Denver, Colorado, and will be at home at 7199 Thornapple River Drive on their return.

the ease of traveling in Michigan.

The Highway Commissioner said Michigan's roadbuilding program has touched off another construction boom.

"Hundreds of magnificent motels, motor hotels, resorts and restaurants have cropped up in communities all over the State," Mackie said.

"The tourist no longer has to wonder when he and his family will find a place for the night—his biggest worry now is which off all the State's modern accommodations will he choose for the night."

Mackie said that Michigan may well have its biggest year-to-year increase in traffic volumes.

"All things point to a record year in travel on Michigan's highways. If the present trend continues, we'll have the biggest year-to-year increase since the end of World War II," Mackie said.

James Lilley given taste of campus life

More than 3,500 freshmen who will be entering Western Michigan University for the first time next fall are getting a two-day advance taste of campus life this summer.

James Lilley of Ada, was one of the students that visited the university's campus during the past week.

Under the direction of Dr. Donald Davis, director of the Counseling Bureau, the freshmen are coming to the campus to learn something of their future programs of study, to meet with the counselors and to see a bit of the campus. It is not all work and some social life has been planned too.

When they return to the campus in mid-September they will be completely registered and have their fees all paid. They will only need to attend the orientation meeting for all new students on Sunday, September 13, and attend their first classes on Tuesday, September 15.

Aboard the Heather

Late last winter we picked up a boating magazine with an article on "Operation Sail." It told how the New York World's Fair had invited all the nations—20 I believe—to send their sail training ships to the Fair. Quite a number accepted. Several of them were to race from Portugal to Bermuda. All of them were to rendezvous off Sandy Hook on July 12, and then parade up the Hudson on July 14.

Imagine 28 sailing ships all manned by officers and cadets in training to become officers. What a show that would be! We had seen a Spanish training ship while in Miami in 1960, and a Japanese ship in the Chesapeake. So we decided that this would become our summer cruise.

Heather left home port, Holland, Mich., on Memorial Day with a volunteer crew, Bruce Chadwick and Cliff Parker, a pair of friends eager to gain sailing experience on a larger boat. (Bruce is building one, now half completed.) Most of the family was there to see them off. The twins and 2 1/2-year-old grandson Brett and I had spent the night aboard, and the morning putting on fresh foods. Then David, our second son and his wife Myrna came down with Skipper's mother. Everyone was gay. They started off. About every boat in the Harbor started tooting the "friendly greeting." What a racket! What a send-off!

I was holding Brett. He watched Heather pull away from the dock. He made a long face and remarked sadly "Not me!" He does love the boat, and felt badly at being left behind.

June 7—One more week of school. Then on Sunday Bill and Miriam Baum drove the rest of us up to join Skipper on Heather at Charlevoix. One can muse on the anomaly of being driven up in a car in one morning what had taken Heather almost four days to do against adverse winds. The Baums had lunch with us before they started back and we talked about our summer plans. They sold their 40' cutter, and so were able to charter a yawl in New England. So after the World's Fair we hope to rendezvous and cruise in company with them in New England. We've always heard and read that that is wonderful cruising ground. And what fun to be able to do this in company of such good friends.

June 8—Monday morning we didn't get a very early start as we had to do some shopping—the usual laying in of supplies. There wasn't much wind but we took off for Mackinac. We made port by 9:30 p. m. Brett had trouble sleeping, so I got him up and we watched the lights approach, watched the lighthouse flashing. We rounded up into the harbor, and before we were tied up for the night, the sandman came.

June 9—Tuesday was hot and windless. The weather forecast was bad. But about 1 o'clock we started for Cheboygan, 18 miles away. We found a little wind, but it was alternately hot and cold, presaging a sudden storm. We found Cheboygan a most convenient port. We wandered around a bit, had supper. Then the storm struck. The wind came on like a wall, from nothing to 60 m. p. h. We all ducked below and watched from the portholes. The lightning and thunder were impressive. Brett thoroughly enjoyed the show. We thought there was a lot of hail, but next morning discov-

Ellyn's Back

Ellen and Warner Bruinslot, Laraway Lake Drive, have just returned home from a camping trip with their two sons that took them through Kentucky, Tennessee, the Carolinas, Georgia, and finally, to Florida.

Highlights of their vacation were a trip to the Seagrass in Miami, Florida, and visiting the Dean VanLandingshams at Mt. Dora, Florida. Expeditions to conservatories and the Fairfield Gardens in particular were of special interest to Mr. Bruinslot.

The weather was extremely hot during their vacation with temperatures in the 100-102 degrees range being usual once they reached the Carolinas.

Mrs. Bruinslot had lived in Key West, Florida, for seven and a half years when her father was a Congregational minister there, so her days were filled with visiting old friends and recalling other times.

The boys wouldn't have missed the camping part of the trip for anything, though they were disappointed at their last stop by the bad weather which caused their parents to decide on a 17 1/2 hour drive straight through to home, which really looked pretty good after all.

Ada family to host farm youth exchange student

The Bernard Baer's of Ada will be host family for Mr. Chhaburao F. Avad, 33, of Ahmednagar, India. Mr. Avad is on a cultural exchange visit to this country through the International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE) program of 4-H.

In India, Mr. Avad's activities include, Chairman of the Lining and Pressing Society; member of Development Board; president of Farmer's Union; member of District Development Board; secretary of District Exhibition and Agricultural Show Committee; member of Industrial Estate, and member of District Farmer's Union.

Prior to his arrival in Kent County, Mr. Avad has been in Livingston, Mecosta and Ingham counties. From July 6-10 he was at 4-H Club week at Michigan State University. Upon leaving Michigan, Mr. Avad will attend a Rural Youth Leaders Workshop at the University of Minnesota. From there he will go to Chicago to visit the International Minerals & Chemical Corporation offices. From Chicago, he will journey to Missouri to visit farm families in that state. His return to Washington is scheduled for the first week in November from which point he will return home with a stopover in Turkey to attend a Rural Youth Leaders Seminar.

Mr. Avad's sponsors for his visit to the United States are the International Minerals and Chemical Corporation and the Ministry of Food and Agriculture.

To make six lanes

State Highway Department crews have started making surveys for the expansion of nearly 40 miles of Interstate freeway in the Detroit area.

The work, which will cost an estimated $14.2 million, will be done between 1965 and 1967. The freeways will be expanded from four to six lanes wide. Additional lanes will be built on the inside of the present freeways. On some sections, revisions will have to be made to existing overpasses and interchanges.

Addition of the new lanes is expected to meet traffic volumes predicted for the mid-1970's.

Sections of freeway to be expanded include: 17 miles of I-96 between Brighton and Farmington. Estimated cost, $3.5 million. Work to start early next year.

21 miles of I-94 between Telegraph Rd. (US-24) west to Wiard Rd. and from US-23 at Ann Arbor. Estimated cost, $10.7 million. Work to start in early 1967.

Special worship service; Thanksgiving for passage

A Service of Thanksgiving for the Passage of the Civil Rights Bill will be held on Wednesday, July 2, from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m. in the St. Paul's Methodist Church, 1072 Jefferson, S. E.

Entitled "Brotherhood in Action" the service will feature the Reverend Jacob Eppinga, pastor of the LaGrave Avenue Christian Reformed Church as speaker. Others taking part will include Tim Johnson and Dr. Donald Fink.

The service is open to everyone. It is hoped that this will begin the implementation of the Act in this community.

Cubbyhole Corner

"Between the dark and the daylight,

When the night is beginning to lower,

Comes a pause in the day's occupations,

That is known as the Children's Hour."

With apologies to H. W. Longfellow, we called it "Quiet Time," and it was the sweetest hour of the day, looked forward to as eagerly by the small fry, as by their harried mothers.

All the hullabaloo about today's women being frustrated in their role, all the propaganda that makes suburban mothers search inwardly for the lack in their lives could be cured by the simplest prescription of the century: "Quiet Time" to be guarded carefully, dispensed daily from 12:30 to 1:30 p. m. No harm can possibly come from an overdose—it may even stretch into the middle afternoon!

I was taking with a fellow suburbanite mother who was commenting on the difficulty of maintaining children's naps with doorbells ringing and early lunch finishers yelling for the older kids. Since we stumbled on "Quiet Time" 10 or 12 years ago when our youngest children were nappers, it has been shared and found "life-saving" in our over-stimulating, rush-rush world.

To operate at top efficiency, "Quiet Time" should be a neighborhood-wide policy. Young (or old!) mothers everywhere cooperate on baby-sitting, passing along out-grown clothing and bookmobile trips; so why not get together on the matter of arranging a free hour every day?

During the hour agreed on, no children were allowed out of their houses. The small ones began their naps, older ones rested in their rooms with books or quiet crafts to keep them occupied. It could even be a time for music appreciation with the record player tuned low. In the beginning, if a neighbor child should wander out, ringing the doorbell or calling out for one of the children, I quietly reminded him, "It's Quiet Time!" Apologetically he would back away, and he generally didn't have to be told twice.

Our children reacted to this hour alone in a very positive way. I found them settling down to the quietude thankfully. They usually had had a very stimulating morning. Their bodies and minds were crying for rest in spite of the fact, that had we not initiated it, they would probably have continued on their full-speed-ahead routine till they dropped.

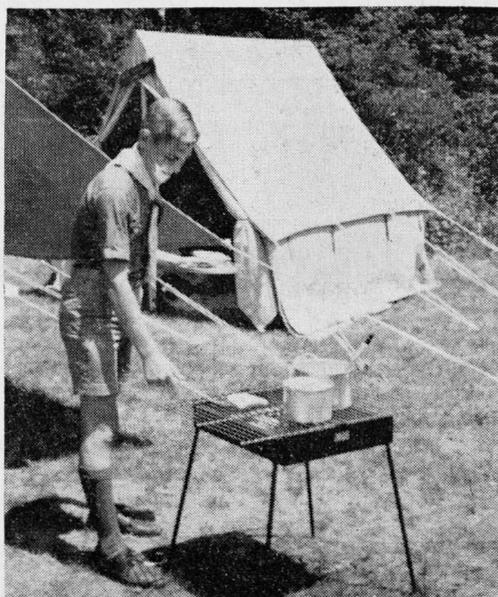

It became an hour to catch up on neglected reading for me, or small sewing jobs and letter writing could be completed. My cardinal rule became—it must be "Quiet Time" for me, too—no telephone calls or worldly interruptions. I started out by just lying down for a rest in my own room—the Mexican siesta theory—and the dividends in new strength and tranquil mind were noticed at once.

Work or play was tackled with new zeal when the hour was over. The playmate who socked you in the eye this morning was forgiven without mention of it in your eagerness to build that fort you planned during "Quiet Time"! Make it a summer tradition in your neighborhood!

With love, Aunt Cubbyhole

The average driver is involved in most accidents. It isn't always the fool or daredevil who makes the error. The everyday driver, driving too fast and taking one chance too many is often the culprit.

Darryl Larson to attend Scout Jamboree

Darryl Larson, son of Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Larson, 4308 Castle Drive, S. E., will attend the National Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, during the week of July 17-23. He will join 50,000 Scouts from every state in the Union, Canada, the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands for this monumental event which is scheduled every four years. Above, Darryl is shown attending a pre-jamboree training session at Camp Lion, Comstock Pk., during weekend of June 26.

Boy Scouts from east to west and north to south will camp on the plateau overlooking Philadelphia, known so well to General George Washington and his shivering army during the winter of 1777. In this historic region the Scouts will live in a city of tents, preparing their rations over charcoal fires. Life will proceed on a closely scheduled time-table, with the day's events including scoutcraft ranging from angling to archery. Emphasis is placed on mingling with scouts from other parts of the world. Massive evening ceremonies will be staged around campfires with colorful activities and song.

The theme of the Jamboree will be "Strengthen America's Heritage," and special events will carry out this central idea.

Darryl, a member of Troop 284, sponsored by the Forest Hills High School P. T. A. is a Life Scout, and will be a Sophomore at Forest Hills next fall. He will join 140 scouts

Six nights of square dancing

Six big nights of square dancing by experienced members of area square dance clubs have been scheduled for the Ionia Free Fair, August 10 to 15, officials report.

Free Fair patrons are invited to watch this thrilling and entertaining sight each evening on the tennis courts at the front of the fairgrounds as a part of the Free Fair's new policy of presenting family entertainment of the largest variety possible and free of charge.

Square dance clubs will represent at least ten nearby communities as they put on their shows each evening and callers will all be men with several years of practice in the work.

Scheduled to appear Monday night will be Lloyd Balderson and members of the Ionia, Lowell and Hubbardston clubs; on Tuesday, George Peterson with Portland, Hastings and Lake Odessa clubs; Wednesday, Jerry Fell, Ionia, Mason and Lansing clubs; Thursday, Joe Barceland, Stanton and Sunfield clubs; Friday, Don Fell, Greenville, Ionia and Grand Rapids clubs; Saturday, Lloyd Balderson and Jerry Fell and the Ionia and Grand Rapids clubs.

Lloyd Balderson, deputy warden at the Michigan Reformatory, is known as the father of square dancing in the Central Michigan area. The various groups will bring their own records, players and amplifiers with them for the performances.

With all of the interest shown in square dancing in recent years, Free Fair officials feel that many fairgoers will be anxious to avail themselves of this opportunity to watch experienced square dancers in action.

Newly available: a multi-purpose "convertible" ladder that can quickly be changed from a regulation stepladder to a stairwell unit, wall ladder, roof ladder, garden table, fence stile or shop "truck".

Open show to green thumbs

The 5th Annual "All the King's Gardens" Flower Show, "Summer Show Time" sponsored by the Lowell Y. M. C. A. will be held this year Wednesday, July 22, and Thursday, July 23, at the Lowell Runciman Elementary Building on High Street.

Plans and arrangements are being made by the Lowell Garden Club, Lowell Showboat Garden Club, Twinoaks Garden Club and the Alto Garden Club.

Over 300 entries are expected as this is an "open show" and all area "green thumb" enthusiasts are invited to display and show in all categories.

Featured will be artistic arrangements, horticulture, perennials, roses, dahlias, gladiolus, house plants, junior exhibits, and tables. A conservation exhibit will be included this year, but will not be judged.

Another section "Special Projects," is being introduced this year and will consist of art, crafts, hobbies, etc.; anything that is done by an individual that they would like to show. This section will not be judged but will be very interesting.

"Best of Show" and an "Award of Merit" will be awarded cash prizes in the flower divisions.

Schedules have been mailed to all area Garden Clubs, but individuals may obtain additional information and schedules by calling TW 7-7375 or writing the YMCA office, 223 West Main St., Lowell.

4-H older youth Camp, July 23-26

Applications for this camp are available at the 4-H Office, 728 Fuller N. E. These applications must be filled out and returned to the office by July 17.

A variety of sessions have been planned. A few of them are: scuba diving demonstration, climatology, the Muskegon County Folk Dancers and the formal initiation for TES Camp Counselors Honorary plus the usual favorites of food, swimming and FUN.

The camp is open to any teenage boy or girl in Montcalm or Kent County. Bring your friends for a week-end of fun!

Heather con't

ered the decks were covered with gravel and cinders. Some storm. To be enjoyed when safe in a harbor. Here is where we learned that David and Myrna's baby boy had arrived safely. June 10—Wednesday we were sure of a good wind and took off, not too early. The wind soon became very good. We had decided to stop fairly early, but ed. Darkness came, the wind held, and Heather was really going. She had a bone in her teeth and we were all exhilarated. That became the twins' longest sail—100 miles. It was 1 a. m. when we came in at Alpena, and 2:30 before every one was in the sack, tired and satisfied. It was cold. Everyone was chilled through. We had some wood which we burned in our little Shipmate stove. We had had several sacks of hard coal briquets aboard, our summer's supply for those times when we might have an occasional cold night. But the trip from Holland to Charlevoix had been so cold that the crew had had to use up the entire supply to keep warm. Our Skippers settled that problem quickly by getting a bucket of soft coal from the huge piles on the docks nearby, so that when his sleepy crew waked up the cabin was nice and cozy.

Narrowest road to be widened

Michigan's narrowest state highway—M-51 in Monroe County—will be widened this summer, the State Highway Department reported recently.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said bids will be opened on July 1 for the widening and paving of 11.1 miles of M-151 between US-23 and US-25.

The east-west route, now only 16 feet wide, will be widened to 22 feet wide at an estimated cost of more than $1 million. The project is being financed with winter maintenance funds saved by the Highway Department as a result of the mild winter.

Mackie said M-151 will be turned over to Monroe County's jurisdiction when the widening is completed. This will result in a savings of an estimated $50,000 annually which the Highway Department has been spending to maintain M-151.

He said a survey indicates the highway does not carry the type or volume of traffic to warrant continued designation as a state highway.

A new-type hearing aid weighing only a quarter-ounce with its battery has enough power to help about 80 per cent of all people with defective hearing.

Betty Wittenbach becomes bride of Eugene Korhorn

A white organza over taffeta sheath with scrolled, clipped, chantilly lace on the bodice was worn by the former Miss Betty Lou Wittenbach for her wedding Friday evening, July 10, in the Grand Rapids School of Bible and Music.

A pearl tiara secured the double-tiered veil of bridal illusion, and she carried a bouquet of pale pink gladiolus on a white fan. Dean Blough performed the ceremony which united Miss Wittenbach and Kenneth Eugene Korhorn in marriage.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wittenbach, Three Mile Rd., and Mrs. Sidney Korhorn, Dorroll Street, N. E., and the late Mr. Korhorn.

Miss Anita Bassett was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Misses Sue Fisher and Karen Rilea. They wore floor-length gowns of pink organza over taffeta with bell-controlled skirts, set-in cummerbunds, and flowing panels in back. Rose and pearl capettes secured their pouff veils, and they carried bouquets of candy striped carnations, Sharon Sue and Kathleen, nieces of the bride, were flower girls.

Thomas Korhorn assisted his cousin as best man. Ushers were Gerald Gunnett, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and David Benjamin, cousin of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barry, the groom's cousins, presided at the church reception.

Following a northern honeymoon, the couple will reside at Route 1, Lowell.

POLO MATCH RESULTS FROM KENTREE STABLES

The Thornapple Tigers defeated the Cherry Valley Ramblers in a close decision 6-5, in a polo game played at the Kentree Riding Stables, 4961 Michigan Avenue, N. E.

There will be another polo match at 3 p. m. Sunday, July 19.

A small charge is made for adult admission, and children are admitted free.

(This is a public service article explaining in general terms a provision of Michigan law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law upon their private legal affairs should consult a private attorney.)

Water is one of our most valuable resources. In Michigan we have nearly one-third of all the fresh surface water area in the nation. However, we do not have enough to squander and our advantage in its abundance is worthy of careful preservation and enhancement.

Michigan law provides that it is unlawful to discharge into the waters of the State any substance which injures public health, the conduct of industrial enterprises or other lawful occupations; or whereby fish, migratory bird life or wild animal life may be destroyed or injuriously affected. In addition, any person requiring a new or substantial increased use of the waters of the State for sewage or waste disposal purposes must file a report with the Commission setting forth the nature of the enterprise of development contemplated, the amount of water required to be used, its source, the proposed point of discharge of waste into the waters of the State, the estimated amount to be discharged and a fair statement of the expected bacterial, physical, chemical and other known characteristics of the wastes. State law also prohibits the extension of municipal sewer systems and additional connections to existing systems where such is deemed necessary to control pollution and protect public health.

The consistently effective pollution control and abatement evidence of the readiness of state enforcement agencies to initiate whatever action is required to correct violations of state law. To prevent pollution and to abate existing pollutions of state law, water resources, the Attorney General, on behalf of the people of the State, enforces in the courts the provisions of the pollution control statutes.
