Milestone in Cascade's history to be observed

Important papers and documents will be placed in the cornerstone of the new Cascade Christian Church sanctuary this Sunday, August 2. Gordon (Skip) Oatman, left, prepares the opening for the cornerstone which was given by his mother, Mrs. Myron Oatman, in memory of the late Mr. Oatman and son, Richard. In the early stages of construction, right, is the parlor and minister's study of the new sanctuary.

The cornerstone of a building has both ceremonial and historical significance. In choosing the items to go into the sealed box of the cornerstone for the new sanctuary of the century-old Cascade Christian Church, the Centennial Committee considered many pictures, documents, and ideas contributed by church members, area residents, and interested persons affected by the news of this milestone in the history of the community.

This committee is composed of Fay Johnson, Mrs. Roger Wykes, jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ward Geib, Mrs. Edna Osmer, Mrs. John Hamer and Hugh Slater.

The Oatman family has given the cornerstone in loving memory of the late Myron (Mike) Oatman, former church trustee, and Richard Oatman, killed in an automobile accident several years ago.

Gordon Oatman, a deacon in the church, and presently a member of the construction crew, will seal the stone.

Reverend Eric White of the Central Christian Church will conduct a meditation at this service which will be held Sunday, August 2, 1964, at 2 p. m., allowing people from other churches to share in this important event in the life of our community. Reverend Raymond Gaylord will lead the congregation in a litany.

As the mortar dries, the following items will be sealed for posterity to note and consider:

1. A brief history of the church, written by Mrs. Roger Wykes, jr.

2. The membership roster.

3. The 1964-65 officers and functional committee members.

4. Pictures of our buildings, including a group picture of those present at the cornerstone laying.

5. A copy of the church constitution.

6. Several past issues of the "Caller."

7. A copy of the "Michigan Banner."

8. A copy of "Suburban Life."

9. A Lincoln penny and a Kennedy half dollar, spanning the century of the churches existence.

10. Present issues of commemorative stamps.

11. The World War I Testament given Ward Geib by Central Christian Church.

12. The World War II Testament given Fay Johnson by Cascade Christian Church.

13. Brochures and bulletins of past church events.

14. A copy of the cornerstone laying service.

Elect Ada Christian school board members, make budget report

At a recent Association meeting held at the school the following new board members were elected: Herman Damstra, and Adrian Penninga. The retiring members of the Board are Peter Paap, John E. Vandenberg, and Neil VanderTuijn.

At the same association meeting the members approved a record budget of $59,550 for the coming year.

Retiring Board President, Peter Paap reported that Russell Oosse, a recent graduate of Calvin College, had accepted a contract to teach Junior High Science, thus bringing full strength.

President Paap also reported that final details were being worked out with the Forest Hills School Board for the transporting of Ada Christian School pupils beginning this fall.

At the July meeting of the Board, the following new officers were elected: President, Dr. Donald Oppewal; Vice-president, Adrian Penninga; Secretary, Carl Duthler; Treasurer, Jay Van Andel; Ass't. Treas., Herman Damstra.

The Board, representing Ada Christian School Assn., maintains an elementary school at 7192 Bradford St., enrolling approximately 170 pupils drawn from Ada, Lowell, and the Cascade area. It is affiliated with the National Union of Christian Schools, who enroll 5,000 pupils in elementary and secondary schools throughout the United States. About 8,000 of who are in the greater Grand Rapids area.

"Aqua Battle Royal" highlights mat program at Showboat stadium Sat.

The stage is set for Lowell's first big time wrestling show Saturday night in the Showboat Stadium and all indications point to a large crowd when the first bout takes the ring at 8:30.

An "aqua battle royal" will be a first for the wrestling business and will see eight wrestlers in the ring at the same time. To be eliminated the matmen must be thrown or forced into the river. According to matchmaker Ray Langin there will be a large delegation of wrestling promoters photographers, reporters and state athletic board officials on hand to witness the unusual bout.

Tickets have been on sale at Christiansen Drugs all this week and have been moving at a brisk pace, but Langin is quick to point out that there will be plenty of tickets on sale at the box office on Saturday night.

Six bouts will be on the card and while most of the interest will be on the battle royal, several preliminary matches have had the wrestling buffs talking this week. The Masked Student will renew his feud with the Great Mephisto in the top bout which should provide a real pier six brawl if their previous clashes are any indication.

Dick Garza, the current US Heavyweight Champion will meet 365 pound "Man Mountain" Cannon in another encounter which would be a main event on any other wrestling card. Both rank with the best in the world.

Lady wrestlers, recently given an official O. K. by the state athletic board, will be seen on the card with Mary Jane Mull meeting Lucille Dupree. Both are veterans of the mat business and should provide plenty of fireworks.

In other bouts on the card, Gary Hart will meet Bill Goetz and Johnny Kace will clash with Tiny Tim Hampton.

The stadium gates will open at 7 o'clock Saturday night for early arrivals.

In case of rain the show will be held Monday, August 3.

Richard DeVos in FM radio series

An exciting new series of FM radio programs called "Looking Around You" will be heard in this area each Monday evening at 7:55 p. m. on WXTO beginning August 3.

The series of challenging five-minute talks will be delivered by nationally famous speaker, Richard DeVos, President of Amway Corporation, Ada, Michigan.

"Looking Around You" will present candid evaluations of the blessings of everyday life in the United States, and the both for fulfilling your responsibilities and for achieving personal advancement.

The dynamic young executive, who co-founded one of the nation's fastest-growing businesses, reveals tips on how you can apply certain fundamental principles of action to bring personal success into your life, regardless of your present situation.

A new kind of dashboard meter?

Will the automobile of tomorrow be equipped with a new dashboard meter showing the driver the distance between his car and the vehicle ahead?

Robert L. Bierley of the General Motors Research Laboratories says that changes in spacing between moving vehicles would fluctuate less if such a device could be installed.

Meters already have been tested in laboratories. Bierley says, which show a driver at a glance whether he is following another car at a safe distance. The meter reading combines speeds of the two vehicles. The device is claimed to be a great help on limited access roads.

Aside from the safety factors, one question: the purse-conscious car buyer asks, will the list price on cars show it as standard or optional equipment?

There wouldn't be any wars if the nations involved had to pay in advance and could see what they were to get.

Ionia Free Fair offers many free events, starting August 10

"Free" is still the word at the Ionia Free Fair.

The fair, which has been admitting people to its grounds free for almost 50 years, continues this policy and in addition, has come up with some new events for which there will also be no charge during this year's run, August 10-15.

New free attractions include a tug-of-war across the Grand river, greased pole climbing

Businesses change

In addition to the growth of the churches and residential areas in Cascade, businesses have been changing, too.

One of these businesses, Pat O'Neill's Transmission Service on 28th Street in Cascade, has made two new additions since it first began four and one-half years ago.

Along with other improvements, they also put in gas furnaces this past year. These additions will enable them to expedite their work with more cleanliness and speedier service, which has been one of their biggest assets in selling jobs in the past.

The building will hold 12 automobiles without difficulty for servicing, and there are four full-time mechanics.

These improvements have been made with the housewives in mind, too. Because of the neatness, cleanliness and the courteous men on duty, I (as a housewife; never hesitate taking the family car in for servicing.

I am sure Pat would welcome all his regular and new customers if they would like to stop in and look over his new additions and improvements.

TB shows decrease in Kent

Kent County was one of 29 in the state which last year showed a decrease in newly-reported cases of tuberculosis as the disease showed stubborn resistance to control measures, the Michigan Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, state Christmas Seal agency, reported today.

Michigan Department of Health records show there were 80 cases discovered in the county in 1963 compared with 94 cases in 1962, MTRDA's statistical division said.

But in forty counties the number of cases reported increased and in fourteen others the figure remained the same.

In the entire state, 2,430 new cases of active tuberculosis were discovered—an increase statewide of 145 cases, the records show.

In Wayne County, the incidence increased 5.19 per cent and in the rest of the state the increase was 6.9 per cent.

There were two cases of tuberculosis in males for every one in females. Although most of the tuberculosis cases were in persons over 45 years of age, children under ten accounted for 308 (or one in every eight) new cases.

"This increase is not exclusively a Michigan problem, but here in Michigan we are intensifying our efforts to do something about it and to reverse the trend before there is an even greater upsurge," J. Irvin Nichols, MTRDA executive director, said.

"We must face the fact that tuberculosis is a stubborn disease which in the last five years has just about held its ground against our best efforts."

"We have no new weapons with which to fight it. What we must do is make better use of the weapons now available and our association is gearing up to help public health officers throughout the state to help intensify the battle."

Nichols said efforts in Michigan are being fashioned to coincide with recommendations of U. S. Public Health Service changes aimed at reducing the TB case load by 50 per cent in the next ten years.

The 30th annual Kent County 4-H Fair will be at the Lowell Fairgrounds, August 3 through the 7 this year. The 4-H Fair is an exclusive youth activity for boys and girls 9 to 19. Approximately 3200 members from urban, suburban, and rural areas will display over 5,000 projects. The 4-H Fair is a free fair. There are no entry fees, admission or parking charges.

The 4-H Fair is organized and carried out by volunteer adult leaders and junior leaders (older members) who are interested in the greatest resource of our country—its youth.

There will be a midway set up which will feature six big rides, five kiddie rides and many carnival concessions.

there will be a square dance under the stars, sponsored annually by the 4-H Service Club, on the tennis courts at the Fairgrounds. Everyone is invited to attend. No charge will be made.

The Wednesday judging schedule will begin at 9 a. m. with the swine, poultry, dairy, and all exhibits in the cement block building except flowers and those judged the previous day.

At 9:30 a. m., the judging of beef steers and beef breeding animals will begin. Flower garden exhibits must be entered and in place by 10 a. m. for judging. Sheep will be at 1 p. m. as will the dog obedience performances, and dairy goats at 5 p. m. Rabbits will be judged at 5:30 p. m.

The 4-H Horse Show at 7:30 p. m. will climax the activities for Wednesday. There will be a Parade of Clubs, a Square Dance Team, a Drill Team, and games and fun on horseback.

Thursday morning at 9 a. m., dairy cattle judging will get underway. At the same time, selection of State Show delegates in clothing and knitting will be going on in the all-purpose room of Runciman Elementary School.

The Pet Parade will be presented Thursday afternoon at 1:30. Any youngster 2-13 may enter any pet. No pre-entry is necessary. Prizes will be awarded. At 7:30 the 4-H Livestock Parade is scheduled, to be followed by a variety show which will include entertainment, awarding of trophies, a style show, and coronation of the 1964 "Miss 4-H Fair."

Friday will be Kiddies' Day with reduced prices on all rides till 5 p. m. two bicycles and a Tin-Lizzie will be given away. Friday events will include a meeting of State Show exhibitors and contestants on the tennis courts at 10:00 a. m. At 1:30 p. m., there will be a 4-H Market Livestock Sale where 4-H animals will be sold at a public auction. Friday evening an Open Horse Show will be staged at Curley's Arena at 7:30 p. m.

All exhibits will be released Saturday morning, August 8, starting at 8 a. m., and must be picked up by noon.

4-H riding club promotes fair

A stagecoach, enlarged from a small scale replica received from Nevada, is being used to promote the Kent County 4-H Fair being held August 3 thru 7 at the Lowell fairgrounds.

Members of the Top Hands Club and the 1964 Queen's Court were on hand at Rogers Plaza Friday, July 24, and at Plainfield Plaza Wednesday, July 29, to accompany the stagecoach made by Adrian Blystra.

During this year's fair, approximately 3,200 4-H'ers will display over 5,000 projects. There is no charge to the public and evening entertainment is provided.

Men are just the opposite of guns...the smaller the caliber, the larger the bore.

Vacationers return home

Mr. and Mrs. Donnally Palmer and sons, Richard and Woody, of Goodwood Drive, S. E., have returned from a week's vacation.

They visited Mrs. Palmer's sister in Massachusetts, New York City, the World's Fair in New York and Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. James Banta and family of Spaulding Avenue, S. E. took a month's vacation and camped across Canada to the west coast. In the western part of the state of Washington, they visited a former family from Forest Hills, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Hersman.

A week was spent in Seattle, Washington, and then they went on to San Francisco, California, where they visited Mrs. Bantas sister.

While in San Francisco, they toured the Cow Palace just the day before the Republican Convention opened.

On their return trip home across the States, they visited Salt Lake City, Utah, and Denver, Colorado. Altogether, a distance of 7,300 miles was covered.

A great deal of hot weather was experienced by Mr. and Mrs. Clare Coger of Ada Drive, S. E., as they travelled through the states in the west.

Some of their points of interest were Colorado Springs, The Navaho Indian Reservation in New Mexico, the Petrified Forest, Grand Canyon and the Painted Desert in Arizona, Las Vegas, Nevada, and the Mormon Tabernacle in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rahn of 1055 Edsel, S. E., are the proud parents of a son, born July 22 at Butterworth Hospital.

If you can't keep up with a conversation, keep out of it.

Select 'Miss 4-H Fair' on August 4th

Members of the Queen's Court of the 4-H Fair to be held in Lowell on August 3 thru 7 are pictured here, left to right, seated: Sally Werner, Carole Grit, and Rose DeLoof; standing: Kathy Buckowing, Nena Arnold, Marcia Blain, Nancy Goodall, Patricia O'Rourke, and Janis Maynard. The queen will be selected on Tuesday evening, August 4.

The nine girls in the Queen's Court were selected on the basis of a talk on "Why You Should Attend the Kent County 4-H Fair" and their appearance. Members of the court are scheduled to visit various civic and service groups to give a 3-5 minute talk about the Fair. This will not be a complete program but will give local civic and service groups a brief idea of some of the many facets of the 4-H program and give 4-H member valuable experience in public speaking. The girls in the court will also make radio spot announcements, hand out brochures about the Fair, and appear on a local TV program prior to the Fair.

The 1963 "Miss 4-H Fair", Carol Erhart, will be hostess at a reception on Monday, Aug. 3 at the 4-H Office for the members of the Queen's Court and their mothers. A panel of judges will select the 1964 queen on Tuesday evening, Aug. 4, at the Woodland TV room at 8 p. m. Each girl will give a speech and will also be interviewed and judged on her poise and appearance.

The 1964 "Miss 4-H Fair", will be crowned on Thursday evening, August 6, during the evening program at the Fairgrounds in Lowell. Miss Carol Erhart of Rockford, the 1963 "Miss 4-H Fair", will crown the new queen.

Notes on the convention

by John Clay

Editor's Note: Here are a few notes from John Clay, Whitneyville Rd., who was Suburban Life's volunteer reporter at the Republican Convention in San Francisco. John is 14 and has a real nose for news.

Any big gathering draws its cranks and crack-pots, and the Republican National Convention was no exception. One such was a woman who marched into General Eisenhower's suite at the St. Francis demanding to see the former president. Of course the guards wouldn't let her, and when she persisted, they grew suspicious and searched the large shopping bag she was carrying. It contained a dead stuffed dog. "He's been dead for ten years," she explained, "and I want to give him to Ike." The woman and her gift were escorted out of the hotel.

Our friend with the dog was hardly gone when a new little old lady arrived bearing a portfolio of what she was convinced was positive proof that Ike was about to be assassinated. This woman was more persistent than the last, and when she was taken away she shouted back that she would start stripping in the lobby until they would let her see Eisenhower.

Most television viewers thought that only Core demonstrators blocked traffic. However another traffic stopper was a girl in a topless bathing suit. After being ushered out of the Mark Hopkins Hotel, she held a press conference in the street that emptied all the lobbies of men.

People watching the extensive convention coverage on TV often wonder how the cameraman can be in the right place at the right time. The secret is that they have enough men and cameras to be in every major news-making place at once. To amuse these technicians who have to spend so much of their time just sitting around, CBS cameramen in front of the St. Francis put on all monitors shots of the pretty girls going by on cable cars.

inaccurately describe the convention's mood as "tense." To this reporter it seemed more one of bitterness—when two Romney demonstrators filed past the Arizona delegation with "Arizona's for Romney" signs, the effects were near riotous.

Arriving home, I was shocked that no one had heard of Marvin Kitman, a candidate from New Jersey. Running on the Republican Party Platform of 1964, Kitman referred to himself as a "true Lincoln Republican." "I'm against these foolhardy people who are trying to push us into the twentieth century too soon," says Kitman, who is sure that Eisenhower secretly supported his candidacy. "Ike doesn't deal in personalities," he explained, "but he has made it quite clear that he wants a man of 'Lincoln-like qualities.'" Kitman contended that though there was a "Stop Kitman" movement, he could secure the nomination on the twenty-fifth ballot—if only they could swing over a delegate to nominate him. The extent of his delegate support: two alternates from New Jersey.

One encouraging word from San Francisco: two gate-keepers in charge of the gate for demonstrators, (and both men were outspokenly for Goldwater) said that the Romney demonstrators were the best behaved. "...the only ones who seemed to want to go by the rules," one said. In fact, they were so impressed, that they allowed in a great many more Romney demonstrators than had tickets. Michigan seems to have gained much respect at the convention.

An observation of an unbiased outsider: There were more Goldwater Girls, but the Scranton Girls were cuter.

OUR SERVICE IS BETTER

Hi, Neighbor: When we lubricate your car it gets a lot more than grease. We check battery, water, oil, transmission fluid, tire pressure, light & windshield washer if you have one.

Then when your car is on the hoist, your exhaust system gets a careful check and every tire is examined for breaks. Naturally you get a report on anything out of order.

I am interested in your car because I am interested in my own future. Come in soon and let me show you what that means in better service.

Our Servant

Would you like to be a servant? I can almost hear you say, "No, thank you! I'll be nobody's servant. I'll be my own boss."

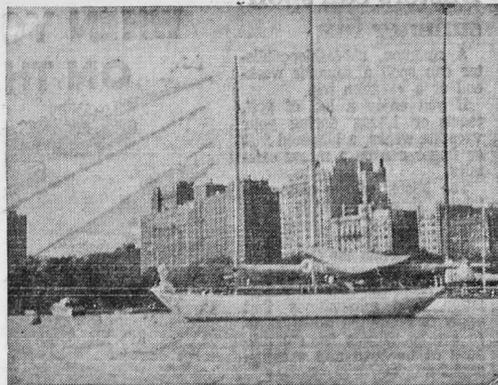

Can you imagine any man—especially one who has courage and ambition and intelligence—choosing to be a servant? Actually wanting to be a servant?

You can if you know what Jesus said about being servants. One day the disciples quarreled about who would be chief among them. Jesus listened a while and then said, "Whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant" (Matthew 20:27). He added that in being a servant we would be like Him; He came to serve, even to give His life for us. So every true follower of Jesus must also be a servant!

Well, we have a new servant among us. The Rev. John Guichelaar and his wife (pronounce it Guy-ke-lar, with accent on the first syllable) have just moved into the Cascade Christian Reformed parsonage.

Of course our new pastor is not really our servant. He is a servant of the Lord Jesus and of God the Father. But because he serves Him, he also serves men. He is here to help us, particularly to help us live the sort of life that will make us free, the life that is according to God's will.

We would like you to meet Mr. Guichelaar. Especially if you are not a member of another church, we heartily invite you to come to hear him explain God's Word, and we urge you to feel free to call on him whenever you are in need of the help he came to give. —M. Schoolland

Aboard the Heather

By Mrs. Kreigh Collins

The other sail boat skippers we became acquainted with at the Grosse Isle Yacht Club were most specific in their directions about leaving their harbor as there are unmarked reefs directly south, which was the way we wanted to go. They also told us about a peculiarity of the water depth.

If the wind is strongly from the west for a definite length of time, the water level is lowered enough so that the deep hulled boats sit in the mud and can't get out. The extreme was one time when the west wind blew a gale for three days, which raised the water level at Buffalo at the other end of Lake Erie, twelve feet.

The things one learns outside ones own niche! We had always felt sorry for the boating people in the Detroit area, for in order to do any real sailing, they would have to go all the way to Lake Huron because Lake Erie was not nice sailing. It was so shallow that when a wind came up the seas quickly became unpleasant and unmanageable. Also, the east end of the lake was studded with islands, which meant watching out for the rocks and reefs around each island.

Now we learned that folks in that area feel that they are very lucky to be in such a fine location to be able to choose if they want to cruise to any one of numerous places up or down the river, or to sail to any of the "wine islands" as they are called because of all the grapes grown there. All along the shore are harbors filled with boats owned by people who live close by or far away. And they really cruise around. They fish most of the islands of western Lake Erie are named for Bass, North Bass South Bass, Middle Bass. They are supposed to be some of the finest fishing anywhere near them.

They have sail boat races. In fact, people there think Lake Michigan sailors have practically no interesting objectives! We watched the Perry monument at Put in Bay appear, and drop behind as we sailed on to Vermillion, Ohio. This was beautiful. Near the lake the low ground around the river which makes the harbor had been made into lagoons, and there were many beautiful homes all along the water fronts. The commercial area is farther up stream.

We tied up behind another sail boat in front of a beautiful house in process of being built, and shortly became acquainted with this family. The Clarks live in Oberlin, Ohio, and had driven down to their boat so they could have a swim from it out in the lake, and a cook-out. They had their boat built in the Netherlands, had taken delivery of it there, had taken it across Europe via rivers and canals to Marseilles in one month's time and then sailed it to Greece which also took a month. They cruised for a third month among the Grecian islands. Then they ran out of time and had the boat shipped home. We had a wonderful time visiting with them. That is one of the nicest aspects of cruising.

It was a very hot evening. Around midnight it happened again! A most violent thunderstorm with extreme winds and quantities of rain. Seems we can't have just rain this summer.

There will be child care during the service.

Don't you read before you buy!

mer, its got to be altogether too dramatic!

At 5 a. m. we were under way again with a fine sailing wind and we made Rocky River shortly after noon.

Hugh Schaddelée sold his "Hilaria" this winter and agreed to deliver it to New York July 6. He left Holland with her for their last cruise May 16. They stopped in the North Channel for some fishing on the way. We saw the boat tied up at the Detroit Yacht Club when we were there. The night we had the midnight storm at Vermillion they were anchored in Put-in-Bay and had a miserable time, shifting their anchorage several times. Starting early from Vermillion we had a fine sail to Rocky River with the wind petering out as we got there. Naturally they could not get so early a start and had to motor most of the way coming in late that afternoon. At Rocky River we renewed acquaintances with old cruising friends and met the Molyneaux family, who brought down a picnic.

This family we were particularly happy to see again. Mr. Molyneaux works in the art department of the NEA syndicate who by Kreigh's strip "Kevin the Bold." They had spent a weekend on Heather with us before we started this summer's cruise. It was fun to see them again, as they are such swell people. They told us that we were supposed to go to Mentor Harbor, which is 30 miles farther down the coast on the other side of Choclad. We had heard there was not deep enough water for us there, but were assured there was an ample amount. Moly stayed with us, while the family drove home and would join us tomorrow.

On 24-day European tour

The 24-day trip to seven countries left Kent County Airport via KLM's 88-passenger Flying Dutchman for London. Travel then is by train, bus and steamer.

Grand Rapids Board of Education sponsors the annual event as a non-profit, educational project. It also hopes, through preparing the travelers, to improve the American image abroad.

The tour is open to any responsible person of the area who wishes to go. Those not qualifying through being students, faculty or staff of the college, and their immediate families, take a special course of eight hour evening sessions at the college, for a small fee.

Called The History and Languages of Europe, this course briefs the traveler on what he will see, and teaches a basic minimum of foreign phrases to be used as a goodwill gesture abroad.

1964 is an especially lucky year for the travelers, since it is the college's 50th anniversary. K. L. M. planned special meals in flight, with souvenir menus, and a party for the group in the Netherlands, with a member of the Dutch government present.

Part of the group will go to Scandinavia. Most will circle through Germany, Austria, Italy, Switzerland and France, before rejoining the first group at Amsterdam to fly home. They will clear customs at New York and arrive in Grand Rapids August 16.

Others of the ACE area who have taken the trip include Mr. and Mrs. William Lozano, Laraway Lake Drive, who went two years ago. Also Mrs. Chester Lee, her daughter, Mrs. Barbara DeMuth and granddaughter, Shirley DeMuth, Driftwood Dr., and Miss Gwen Dowling, Thornapple Drive Drive, went last year.

The latter travelers attended a reunion of fellow passengers at Christmas. This month, they are part of a group at a reception for their tour guide. She is Miss Christine Schokking, a law student at the University of Utrecht. Miss Schokking, reversing her usual summer, is making a tour of the U. S. this year.

Also on last year's trip, for a week was Hans Lucks, exchange student at Forest Hills High School from Kiel, Germany. Hans, with his mother and father joined the group in Europe for the central part of the tour.

Hans, who lived with the Walter Jones Family on Greenbriar Drive, is here to visit the Jones until September, when he returns to Germany to undergo his military service.

Mrs. Lee and the DeMuths plan to go on the trip again next summer.

Hate To Wash Windows?

GONE ARE the days of window washing woes.

No longer do you have to sit on window sills or use a ladder to wash windows.

When windows are converted with Twin-Tilt hardware, the woman of the house can actually clean them from the inside, standing on the floor. And Twin-Tilt has many other benefits, too—there is no need to replace ropes, pulleys or chains ever again in your present up-and-down type windows, and, in the same installation, your old windows are modernized and weather-stripped for less than 25 per cent of the cost of ordinary window replacements.

With Twin-Tilt conversion, there is healthful no-draft ventilation that uses the entire window opening, from top to bottom. The amount of air you want is allowed in, while dangerous drafts, rain and the other elements are kept out.

Old-fashioned double-hung windows can be converted into Twin-Tilt operation without changing window frames—no work is necessary on the inside walls—and there is no interference with storm sashes or screens.

Twin-Tilt operates quietly, is completely rattle-proof and will not stick.

Check up to start school

Parents were urged today by Dr. W. B. Prothro, City-County Health Officer, to see that their children have a medical check-up before starting the school year. "Illness and poor performance in school can be prevented in many youngsters by a preschool checkup," said Dr. Prothro, "and this applies from kindergarten through high school."

The answer to "Why can't Johnny read?" may be that he can't see the words so well, or perhaps he doesn't hear the teacher as well as he should. Unsuspected small defects can make a big difference in his progress at school and later in life.

Protective immunization against polio, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough, and vaccination against small pox are the best defense against these crippling and killing diseases. Follow-up booster shots should be obtained at proper intervals, and these can be taken care of at the regular check-ups. In many states this protection is required before any student is permitted to enter school.

Authorities emphasize the need for greater national physical fitness, especially in our youths. A regular checkup can be an important step toward maintaining fitness and health.

In most cases the child will receive a clean bill of health, which is always good news. In others an unsuspected condition may be discovered and taken care of before it becomes serious thereby avoiding possible suffering, lost time, and expense. Dr. Prothro urges parents not to wait until the last minute.

Blisters can spoil summer fun

A common, old-fashioned blister can spoil a summer weekend or a vacation trip. If you enjoy a lot of golf, tennis or hiking during your vacation weeks, a blistered foot or finger can be a minor calamity.

The blister merits closer attention than we usually grant it, says the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations and the Committee on Medical Aspects of Sports of the American Medical Association. The admonitions that apply to organized athletics also are sound tips for the millions of weekend and vacation athletes.

The blister is caused by a pressure and friction on a localized area of the skin. Fluid collects between the inner and outer layers of skin. If pressure is continued, it hurts. Even if no infection follows, the pain can cause a limp that isn't much fun for the golfer or the hiker, and it can upset the customary grip on a tennis racket or golf club or oar or canoe paddle.

The best approach to blisters is prevention. Proper fit of shoes is fundamental. There should be room beyond the big toe, room across the top, fitting of the ball of the foot into the widest part of the shoe and no slipping at the heel.

Wearing two pairs of socks, a lightweight pair under sweat socks, is recommended for athletes. Hands can be protected by taping or by special sports gloves.

Decision on whether or not to puncture a blister is based on location, size and inflammation. If there are signs of inflammation or irritation, medical attention is indicated. Sometimes it is advisable to puncture a blister before it breaks from friction. Wash the area with soap and water and sterilize it with alcohol. The puncture is made with a sharp needle held in a forceps (small pliers) and sterilized in a flame. The puncture is made at the side of the blister and the outer skin layer is left in place as a protective cover.

Attention to cleanliness in dealing with blisters cannot be overstressed. Infected blisters require prompt medical attention, as do the occasional blisters from severe sunburn or other burn causes.

Foods change the customer's buying habits

Developments of new food products are intensifying the already furious competition to determine which items will be a part of the 1,500 pounds of food each consumer will eat this year.

Today's homemaker can buy nearly 7,000 food products. Two-thirds of these items could not be found on supermarket shelves 10 years ago.

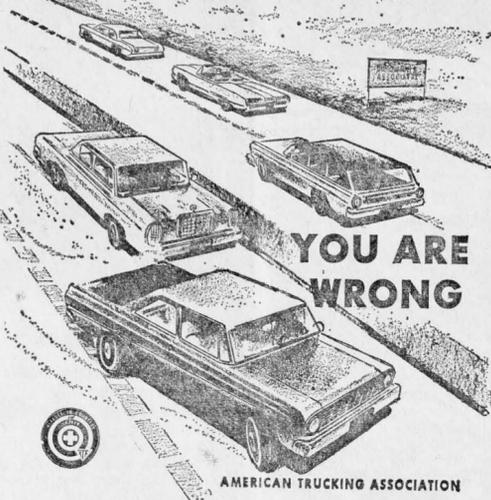

The result of all this product and process development is expected to mean quite a change in farm production in the future. There will also be considerable changes in consumer preferences.

Michigan State University agricultural economists tell us that consumers want more processed and convenience foods. They are both willing and able to pay for them. It is particularly essential to find new forms and processes for foods, making them available in attractive packages that consumers will buy, say the economists.

The consumer demand for the "product mix" foods is changing because of rising population. Total consumption of most farm products will likely increase over the next few years. But, the MSU researchers report it is clear that consumption of some products will increase more than others.

Research into food development and merchandising will help to guide many of these changes. Land-grant universities and food processing firms are conducting much research on food products.

Doctor explains need for family planning to women

Last week a doctor defined family planning as a "responsible, informed, positive type of planning directed toward the formation of a happy, healthy family."

Dr. Hermann A. Ziel jr., chief of the Maternal Health Section of the Michigan State Section of the Michigan Department of Health, was addressing an audience of homemakers during Michigan State University's 37th annual College Week for Women.

Limiting his talk primarily to a discussion of family size but emphasizing that family planning goes well beyond this consideration, Dr. Ziel stated that family size cannot help but have an influence on the happiness and health of the individual family.

"When family size exceeds family means," he said, "the opportunities for adequate housing, food, recreation, education and other more or less essential items may be denied member of the family."

Dr. Ziel pointed out that studies show that too many frequent pregnancies decrease the child's chances for life and health.

He maintained that parents must not only be able to decide the ultimate size of their family, but they must also be able just when children will be added to the family.

He described various methods of birth control but stated that books, pamphlets and programs can provide only background information for couples wanting to accomplish or prevent pregnancy. Specific information, he said, should be obtained from a physician or through a clinic which has medical direction and where the information provided meets the specific needs of the individual parent.

Soil & Water Conservation Visit prosperous farms in area

If you would enjoy visiting places in Kent County where bumper crops appear to be in prospect, drive past many of the farms in Bowne and in Caledonia twp. The corn grows tall in other Kent townships also, but most of these south Kent farmers of Swiss extraction have always taken pride in growing good crops and in keeping neat farms. There are now 45 Soil Conservation District cooperators in Bowne twp. and 56 in Caledonia twp.

On July 1 the second alfalfa crop stood over two feet tall on one field at the Francis Seese and Sons farm. Two thousand bales were harvested from the first cutting begun on May 20 from 24 acres. The field is solid alfalfa and timothy and other grasses have been crowded out. Four cuttings were made from this field last year.

First aid kits in home-auto

"The best time to provide first-aid kits for your home and auto is before you need them," said Dr. W. B. Prothro of the Grand Rapids-Kent County Health Departments.

A properly equipped kit can be invaluable in relieving many minor injuries and ailments. At times it may even be life-saving before medical aid arrives.

The following items are suggested for a home kit: gauze pads, gauze bandage, adhesive tape, adhesive dressings, cotton, a mild antiseptic, burn ointment, petroleum jelly, calamine lotion, aromatic spirits of ammonia, blunt-pointed scissors, tweezers, thermometer, wooden safety matches, flashlight.

Lynn Clark, retired county school chief gets plenty of exercise in his large garden at Rockford. He picked sweet corn July 14. Four truck loads of leaves were plowed under this spring as well as a rye cover crop. He is using black polyethylene paper under melons and tomatoes again this year. A sweet cherry tree at least 100 years old bore heavily this year with still plenty for the birds.

Twelve hundred and ten students from fourteen Kent County Schools were assisted by the Soil Conservation Service on four tours and on three field trips last fiscal year. Talks and slides were also given at seven schools.
