Thornapple navy
drydocks Sept. 11

The Thornapple Navy will be drydocked the evening of Saturday, September 11, while skippers and first mates enjoy a land-based chicken barbecue & dance at St. John's United Church of Christ Camp on Bridgewater Drive.

The annual event, sponsored by Thornapple Association, Inc., for members and friends will begin promptly at 6 p. m. when dinner will be served, followed by dancing from 7 to 10:30 p. m. John Carrington's Combo will play. Door prizes will be awarded.

Serving on the party committee are M. R. Kooistra, chairman, and Russell W. Case, John Schermerhorn, Mrs. Robert E. VanSlysters and Mrs. John G. Durno.

Services held Saturday for Ellen Johnson, 61

Mrs. Ellen C. Johnson, aged 61 of 2871 Lake Drive, SE, passed away Wednesday morning, August 25.

Funeral services were held Saturday at the VanHof-DeMeester Funeral home. The Rev. Charles W. Fullmer was officiating clergyman. Burial was made in Greenwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Johnson is survived by her husband, Alden; two daughters, Mrs. Daniel Kovats of Grand Rapids and Mrs. Calvin Tyler of Detroit; four grandchildren; one sister, Miss Edith Johnson of Rockville, Maryland; one brother, Clarence Johnson of VanNuys, California; and three nieces.

gets 'big one'

On the recent vacation of the Charles Neal family of E. Baldwin Road, Grand Blanc, the Neal's 15 year-old Connie, oldest of the family of four girls, was a real lucky fisherman, reeling in a 35-inch, 10-pound pike after a 25-minute fight with her catch.

The big fellow was caught in the Taquahman River.

The family motored to Paradise, the Upper Peninsula for their two-weeks vacation and camped at the Rustic Campsite at the river's mouth, and visited both the Big and Little Falls.

Mr. Neal is a meat cutter at Kroger Store and Mrs. Neal is employed at Industrial in Fenton and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Besteman (nee Reva Stevens of Lowell) of Grand Blanc.

Amway plans plant addition

Construction is about to start on a new building at Amway Corporation of Ada, according to an announcement by Board Chairman Jay Van Andel.

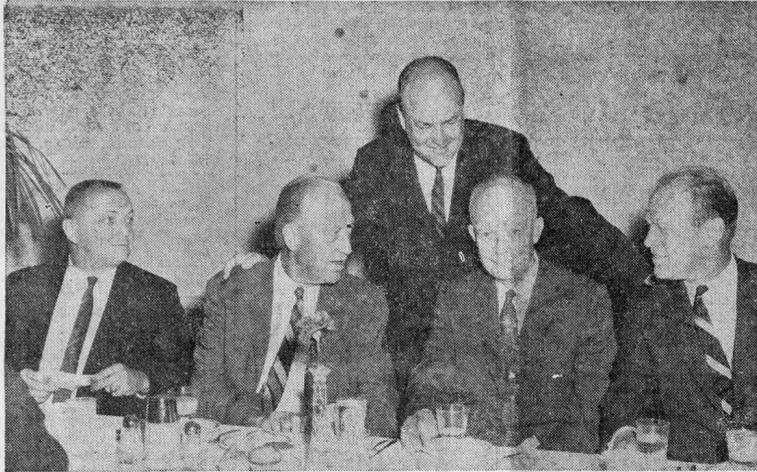

Exact size has not been determined but it is expected to exceed 20,000 square feet. The firm's twenty-second addition in five and a half years of operation, the building will be the first one not physically attached to the rest of the plant and Amway's largest built exclusively for manufacturing to date.

Devoted to the manufacture and warehousing of about 20 different liquid cleaning and polishing products, the building will open with five production lines, plus capacity for three more, along with raw materials storage, mixing and packaging facilities, a finished good warehouse and a lunch room.

Contractor Dan Vos expects construction to be complete on January 1. The finished building will be landscaped attractively as part of Amway's overall industrial beautification theme.

A two-man operation just six years ago, Amway has become one of the five largest direct selling companies in the world, with over 75,000 distributors in the United States and Canada. Last year's sales exceeded $25 million.

The firm just dedicated their last addition, a 20,000 square foot, two-story office building, last May. The new production facility will raise Amway's total floor space to 140,000 square feet.

Barbour-Bergin make plans for winter wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling F. Barbour, Wallingwood Avenue, NE, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Susan Elizabeth Barbour, to John F. Bergin, son of Mrs. John C. Bergin of Lowell and the late Mr. Bergin.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Marywood Academy, attended Aquinas College and is a senior at Michigan State University.

Her fiancé attended Aquinas College and is studying at Western Michigan University. They plan to be married December 29.

Weber, Hardesty
nuptials read

A reception at the Morton House followed the marriage of Sandra Sue Weber and Roger Lloyd Hardesty Saturday afternoon in Faith Lutheran Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert L. Weber of Pebble Beach, SE, and Mrs. Edwin Buck of Marne and the late Lloyd Hardesty.

The bride entered the sanctuary wearing a bouffant gown of nylon organza trimmed with alencon lace, sequins & pearls. The skirt terminated into a chapel length train. The pearl and crystal crown secured her bouffant headdress. She carried a white prayer book and white orchids.

Miss Karen Fryover attended the bride as her maid of honor. Bridesmaids were the Misses Phyllis Beemsterboer, Nancy Coleman, and Marijo Wilburn. They were attired in yellow empire gowns while they carried white daisy bouquets. The junior bridesmaids, Mellissa Wilson of Indianapolis, and Marijo Hackstedt, wore empire gowns with floor length A-line skirts and daisy circlet head-dresses.

Robert Martin was best man. Steve Weber, brother of the bride, Fredrick Hardesty, brother of the bridegroom, and Richard Dean seated the guests.

Presiding at the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Wilson, Jr., of Indianapolis. The couple left on a wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania. They will reside at 1852 Carlton, NE.

Congressman Ford urges insurance without cost to Viet Nam soldiers

Insurance without cost for American servicemen in Viet Nam is getting a powerful push by Congressman Gerald R. Ford of Michigan.

In a weekly news letter to his Fifth District, Ford called on Congress to "act promptly" in providing $10,000 indemnity insurance protection for combat troops.

Ford cited Presidential opposition to the insurance proposal asking Congress to "ignore" White House objections by promptly enacting the law.

Discussing the new immigration bill, Ford said he voted in favor of final passage. However, Ford said he is "disappointed" that a GOP provision limiting immigration from the Western Hemisphere was batted down by the Democratic majority.

"We think it is discriminatory to limit immigration from countries of Europe, Asia and Africa while leaving the gates open for Latin America," Ford said in explaining the Republican provision that was defeated in the House of Representatives.

Turning to the Presidential veto of the military construction bill, Ford said the White House "has taken another step to show Congress who is boss."

The House Republican Leader also said it is "ironical" to hear the President complain about the "cumulative erosion of the executive power by legislation." The veto, Ford said, was prompted by an "extremely mild restriction" on executive authority to close military installations.

"Many authorities will agree that President Johnson's constitutional argument was extremely weak," Ford said. "But there is no question about his determination to run the show and put the Congress in its place."

The Fifth District Congressman announced a Labor Day visit to Kent and Ionia Counties. He is to take part in Belding and Comstock Park ceremonies. Ford plans to attend the annual Rodeo at Sparta the same day.

Kent bookmobile has year-around service stops

Year-around community bookmobile service will be available as part of the Kent County Library's program to extend and improve library service to county residents.

The fall schedule will become effective on Monday, September 13. The library has located these stops in populated areas that have not had convenient or continuous public library service.

Sites have been chosen close to schools but not on school grounds in order to encourage patronage by adults as well as young people.

The bookmobile collections will be continuously refreshed with new materials, and request service will make available the full resources of the Kent County Library collection.

Looking ahead to winter, any cancellations will be carried on local radio stations.

Scheduled stops in this area include: Monday, September 13, Cascade Drug Store, 2:30 to 6 p. m.; Dutton Hardware Building, Tuesday, September 14, 3 to 5:30 p. m.; Saturday, September 18, Cannonsburg, 9 to 11 a. m., and Bostwick Lake (Troutmen Upholstry and Gift Shop) 11:15 a. m. to 12:15 p. m.

Ski patrol first aid course every Thursday

Robert C. Flink, Chairman of First Aid Training for the National Ski Patrol, Southern Michigan No. 1 will conduct a Red Cross Standard and Advanced First Aid Course in the Red Cross Building at 55 Division North, starting Thursday, September 9, from 7 to 9 p. m.

Persons 16 years of age or older are eligible to enroll in this twenty-seven hour course of instruction. The course will run 10 consecutive weeks on Thursday evenings and will be open to the public as well as members of the National Ski Patrol.

For further information, contact the local Red Cross at GL-6-8661.

Special holiday
traffic patrols

Special holiday traffic patrols will be operated by the Michigan State Police during the 78-hour Labor Day weekend, Commissioner Fredrick E. Davids announced.

The patrols will be in effect from noon Friday, September 3, to midnight Monday, September 6.

Traffic accidents during the Labor Day period in Michigan in 1964 killed 26 persons. The hourly rate was one death every three hours.

Urging vigilant motorist and pedestrian attention to safety rules, Commissioner Davids noted that the recent July 4 toll of 21 in the state was held to less than half of the 43 deaths for that holiday in 1964.

"The reduction was most gratifying," he said, "and we are hopeful that the record will be even better during the Labor Day holiday period."

Pass days have been cancelled for State Police uniform personnel and assisting again will be 124 members of the National Guard. They will serve as second men on two man patrols.

State Police records for the Labor Day weekend show tolls of 46 in 1940, the all-time high, and seven in 1944, the low.

2 weeks too little in New York City

Mrs. Neil Groendyke and her son, Bruce, of 825 Forest Hill, SE, have just returned from a 2 week trip to New York.

Mrs. Groendyke said they had planned to just stay for eight days, but the city was so fabulous they stayed six extra days. At the end of the eighth day, she called her husband in Grand Rapids to tell him they wouldn't be on the train the next day, because they wanted to stay just one more day.

"That's the way it was for the next five nights," she said. "I wish we could've stayed another week!"

During their vacation, Mrs. Groendyke and Bruce visited the New York World's Fair, and attended the Marble Collegiate to hear Dr. Norman Vincent Peale. They also toured the Stock Exchange on Wall Street, which she said to be "really interesting, and well worth anyone's time."

They saw the Broadway play, "Hello Dolly," visited Coney Island, besides touring the Statue of Liberty and Empire State Building. They went to Yankee Stadium to see the Yanks play the Athletics, visited Rockefeller Center, and the United States.

Mrs. Groendyke and her son also were on "The Price is Right." It looks like the pair had a marvelous time spending two weeks in New York!

Exchange vows
August 28th

Miss Aina Silnieks and James Gregory Clay exchanged marriage vows Saturday afternoon in Mayflowers Congregational Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Mikelis Silnieks of Saginaw and Mr. and Mrs. George E. Clay, Buttrick Road, Alto.

The bride wore a silk organza gown enhanced with lace appliques and styled with a bell skirt falling into a chapel train. A crystal and lace crown held her bouffant veil and she carried a cascade of phalaenopsis, stephanotis and lilies-of-the-valley with ivy.

Wearing gowns of bisque crepe with full length sheath skirts and empire bodices of green brocade were Mrs. Dainis Martinsons of Saginaw, her sister's honor attendant. She carried a hand bouquet of white pompons and purple babies' breath and wore tiered ivy head bands.

The bridesmaids in like attire were Celia E. Clay, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Frank C. Roberts, and Mara Auzins of Jackson Heights, New York. The best man was the bridegroom's brother, Thompson E. Clay. Ushering were Michael Kevin Mulvihill, William W. Muir, George C. Stevens, John E. and Christopher E. Clay, brothers of the bridegroom.

Presiding at the Blythefield Country Club reception were Mr. and Mrs. Ramon G. Douse and Mr. and Mrs. John G. Durno.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay left on a New York and Bermuda honeymoon.

twice-daily workouts

Football practice started on Monday morning at Forest Hills with about 120 candidates out. The freshman squad was the largest with fifty candidates, the Varsity had 41 candidates. The reserves squad is very short right now having only about 19 boys out.

The practice schedule calls for two sessions a day for this week, then back to the regular practice routine when school starts.

Mr. Dangi reports that everything is progressing pretty much as usual for this time of the year.

Funeral services
August 26 for
Thomas R. Hoover

Thomas Hoover, 55, of 2361 Oakwood Avenue, SE, veteran local advertising man who at one time worked in advertising and promotional work for the former Grand Rapids Herald, suffered a heart attack and died last week in Blodgett Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Hoover was in the hospital recovering from successful gall bladder surgery he had undergone within the last two weeks.

At the time of his death, he was advertising manager for DeKorne's Furniture Company, a post he had held the last two years. In addition to his advertising work, he was widely known in this area for growing roses and was a past president of the West Michigan Rosarians.

A native of Adrian, Mr. Hoover graduated from high school there and in 1934 from the National School of Art and Advertising at Washington, DC. He went to work in the advertising department of the Adrian Daily Telegram, but moved from there in 1939 to accept a job in the Herald when he left in 1942 to go with Luxury Furniture Company as advertising manager.

After leaving Luxury, he worked in various jobs, advertising manager for Klingman's Furniture, account executive for Knickerbocker Press and Etheridge Co., and the DeKorne post.

He was a member and elder at Westminster Presbyterian Church, a member of Grand Valley Artists Association and a former member of Grand Rapids Advertising Club. He was a veteran of World War II.

Mr. Hoover is survived by his wife, Frances M., a teacher at North Park Elementary School; three daughters, Mrs. William N. Stellings of Cascade, Mrs. Jan Bomers of Ada, and Deborah at home; a brother, William R. of Adrian; a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Sigmond of San Francisco and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held last Thursday afternoon at Metcalf Chapel, Dr. Fredrick Wyarden of Westminster Church officiating.

Burial was in Fairplains Cemetery. The family requests memorials be in the form of contributions to the Michigan Heart Association.

Search for assailant

Area police agencies last week sought a man in his early 20s who allegedly assaulted an 18 year old Grand Rapids girl in a field off the 7400 block of 30th Street, SE, near Cascade, last week Monday afternoon, sheriff's deputies reported.

The victim told deputies the suspect, known to her only as Jerry, drove her to the wooded area when he attacked her. After the attack, he left her to find her own way home, she said.

The victim said the man was about 5 feet 7 inches tall, of medium build, had blond crew cut hair, wore a red checkered shirt, light-colored jeans and dark shoes.

Deputies said further, the suspect was driving a red MG convertible with a broken right tail light. He reportedly bought $1 worth of gas at a service station on 28th Street, SE, shortly after the attack.

The young woman was treated by a physician.

Forest Hills
area families
welcome students

The Forest Hills school district will be host to three exchange students this year. This is the first of a series of articles to introduce these young people to the community.

Astrid Bruns, from Rostrup, Germany will be living with the W. H. Du Vall family; Lars Torkel Ekman, Stockholm, Sweden, is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Seidman and family and Sheila Van Praagh, London, England will make her home with Mr. and Mrs. James Comrie.

Astrid Bruns, has been living with Mr. and Mrs. Du Vall and their four children for about three weeks now. She arrived here in Michigan, Saturday, August 14th.

Rostrup, Astrid tells us, is quite like Ada. The village covers a large area, and is rather informal or rural in character. It is located about fifteen miles from Oldenburg, which is a large city of 200,000 population. This city is in the northern part of Germany, not far from the Netherlands. The country side is rather flat, but has many trees, primarily a farming country.

Astrid is sixteen years old, five foot six inches, with light brown hair and blue eyes. She has an older sister at home and two younger sisters, fifteen and ten years old, a family group similar to the American family she is living with.

Her father Karl Bruns, teaches in the city of Oldenburg and her mother Klara takes care of her home and her daughters and tries to find time for her huge garden.

Astrid plays the flute and hopes to join the band or choir, or both, while at Forest Hills this year. Her favorite school subject is Languages. She has taken Latin, French and six years of English, which she used very proficiently. Local idiom excluded, Astrid said that she didn't find it too difficult a language to learn as she listened to English broadcasts and they do have many English-speaking tourists in that area. However, she speaks English, not American slang.

She likes to read, no special favorites at the moment, but she prefers modern authors. Astrid also collects stamps as a hobby.

She especially likes ice skating, but was not so enthusiastic about roller skating when she tried it the other day.

She likes all kinds of sports and joined a Sport Club, in her school back in Germany and participated in all school sports.

She likes meeting new people and according to her American mother, Mrs. Du Vall, people will very much like meeting her.

COUPLE ATTEND AMERICAN SHAKESPEARE FESTIVAL

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver L. Robinson of Ada recently attended the Alumni reunion at Wesleyan University in Connecticut.

While there, they attended the American Shakespeare Festival in Stratford, Connecticut, seeing a performance of "Coriolanus" in the famed theatre.

Michigan's shoreline, second only to Alaska's, totals more than 3,000 miles including offshore islands.

Labor

Next Monday, September 6, will be our annual Labor Day holiday. It was first celebrated in New York in 1882, as a day set aside in honor of labor. We still have the holiday, but, as far as I know, there is little public observance of the day.

We should devote some attention to the subject of labor in which all of us, of working age, with the exception of the unemployed, are busy every weekday. The Bible gives us some leading thoughts about labor.

The Bible tells us that labor is a duty which is commanded by God. In Exodus 20:9 the commandment of God reads: "Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work." This is in the middle of the commandment to remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy.

The Bible tells us that God's blessing upon our labors is indispensable: "Except the Lord build the house, their labor is vain that build it." Psalm 127:1.

It is a gift of God when we are happy in our daily work. "Every man also to whom God hath given riches and wealth, and hath given him power to eat thereof, and to take his portion, and to rejoice in his labor; this is the gift of God." Ecclesiastes 5:19.

The "Low Down"

From the Congressional Record
By Joe Crump

WHY DOCTORS HESITATE TO GIVE FIRST AID

Rep. John L. McMillan (SC) "... The purpose of H. R. 5597 as amended, is to relieve physicians from liability for civil damages for any act of omission, not constituting gross negligence, upon the occasion of their rendering free and voluntary medical treatment at the scene of an accident or other medical emergency outside of a hospital, in the District of Columbia. . .

"Good Samaritan laws such as this are designed to assure a physician immunity from liability when he renders emergency medical care in good faith, and without expectation of or desire for compensation, at the scene of an accident or any medical emergency occurring in a public place. . .

"Such laws have been enacted in 32 states. (Michigan included) . . .

"Prior to the enactment of the first good Samaritan law in California in 1959, for example, it was widely known and appreciated that few California physicians were willing to expose themselves to possible suit for malpractice as a consequence of stopping to lend assistance at the scene of an accident. . .

"A letter in the Chicago Sun-Times on December 4, 1962, from a physician stated: 'I am a doctor who spent the better part of a night saving the lives of four drunks who were involved in a serious auto accident. My thanks came 3 weeks later when their attorneys charged me with neglect.' . .

"In the normal physician-patient relationship, when a physician treats his patient in his office or in a hospital, he has available to him all the necessary facilities and the time to make a thorough and careful approach to treatment. . . Obviously, none of these advantages is present when, because of his happening to be present at the scene of an accident, or a person's being taken ill in a public place, the physician is called upon to render emergency care to an individual whom he has never seen before. In these situations, lifesaving procedures may be required instantly, and the physician must act promptly and to the best of his ability.

"There is no question that physicians, through the instinct and the training of their profession, want to render such Good Samaritan services whenever the occasion may arise. With the general increase in liability claims associated with professional malpractice however, their reluctance to give assistance, which may lead to unfair suit against them, is understandable. . .

A GRASS ROOTS COMMENT
The doctor's first impulse, even as you and I, is to stop and render assistance. What is different in the doctor's case, is that he may be fair game for persons bent on exploiting an act of mercy. — J. C.

Cubbyhole Corner

Last year the period during which we wrote "the corner" covered Father's Day, and our salute to them as appropriately timed. We've always been in favor of fathers, and feel they are unjustly the brunt of jokes, sometimes pictured as ineffectual bill payers in a mother-dominated world. Today's column is father-centered in honor of my own father who would have been 69 years old September 8.

In a word, he was "fabulous." Charles Frederick Hamilton was the youngest of twelve children. His father, John Finley Hamilton, had been born on the boat, "Finley," coming over from Scotland. (Now people will understand why I state I have Scotch plaid blood!)

Grandpa Ham had many endearing qualities, love of poetry and good literature being outstanding. Nowadays children feel "put upon" if they must memorize a few short stanzas a year. In my father's family, it was a family disgrace if you could not shoot back the next line of Shakespearean prose when passing a brother in the business of raising wheat on the Canadian farm where they all grew up.

As a result my father and his brothers, were thorough scholars of Shakespeare. Dad's favorite were Byron, Shelley, Keats and as you might expect of a Scot, Robert Burns—all this in a family "uneducated" by modern standards.

My father was the only one of the twelve who graduated from college, but this informal training his father instilled in him resulted in his being truly educated in every sense of the word. He valued a well-rounded personality above book learning; consideration for others, kindness, good manners, he stressed daily.

I was a "teacher's kid"—we moved from small town to larger town as Dad moved up the success ladder as a school superintendent. Some summers he sold textbooks, and he always took one of us with him on these sorties to neighboring communities. He never lost his childish wonder of the modern miracle, ice cream, and our trip always culminated in a stop for a cone or a sundae. Invariably he struck up a friendship with the people who waited on us, and I was convinced that my Dad was friends with the world!

We've heard complaints about our children's values. Emerson wrote, "Things are in the saddle, and are riding mankind," yet when you consider that our offspring's values are usually a mirrored reflection of our, does it make you wonder?

As always, with love,
AUNT CUBBYHOLE

"Lay it on the Line"

Forest Hills is really a talented place. It has produced many singing groups and bands, some of which have risen to fame. One of these calls itself the JuJu's, a group who's lead singer is Ray Hummel, a Forest Hills graduate. I talked to Ray the other night and he told me all about the JuJu's, and how they've been doing. They have a record out right now called "You Treated Me Bad." It's doing real well on WLAV's Favorite Forty, having risen from a Discovery to number twenty-four in only a week. The record is being played by several radio stations, outside Grand Rapids, in towns like Muskegon and Greenville.

As to a next release, Ray said he has to "get busy and write one," since he is the JuJu's composer as well as the lead singer & rhythm guitarist. He also plays the harmonica. There are 3 other guys in the band. The sax player is Max "Junior" Colley. He graduated from Godwin and is going to attend Western in the fall. Bill Gorski, the drummer, will be a senior at Godwin with Rod Shepherd, lead guitarist. Ray will go to Grand Rapids J.C.

Asked about the JuJu's future, Ray told me there would be more records, tours and perhaps an album. Recording on the Fenton label, the guys are managed by two men called Bruce and Dave, of the Great Lakes Recording Company.

How was the band started? Ray said that Max had the idea for it, and asked Bill and Rod to join. Then the three boys asked Ray. I wanted to know how they came across with the name "JuJu's". Ray said that Max's nickname was "Junior," but his little brother couldn't pronounce it. He called Max "JuJu". So that became the name of their group.

Well, they said it couldn't be done, but it was! There are lots of other groups around as well as the JuJu's, that need our encouragement. Look at what inspiration and the encouragement of others has done for this group—maybe you can help a new band along by giving them your praise. Call up the radio station and ask them to play the group's record. Arrange to have them sing at your parties. After all, you never know, today's inexperienced singing group may be tomorrow's world-wide favorites!

"Aboard the Heather" with the Collins family

This Friday is nice again. We are lucky with our weather this year. Last summer, they tell us, was cold and foggy and disagreeable all season. And this year is one of the nicest summers in years. Except that it is far too dry.

We were at the dock while laying in supplies when a man from another boat offered us some mackerel which were caught that morning. He must have offered us about a half bushel. No, one doesn't measure fish that way. But there were a great many. About a dozen seemed about right—seeing that we would have to clean them. They were put in a plastic bag right on ice until we could take care of them.

The Vroom's had come into Boothbay Harbor yesterday afternoon on their boat, and now were going back to South Harpswell. They asked the twins to come with them and sail Turnabouts in their club's regatta tomorrow. We would follow later in Heather. Then Charlie and Margaret Phelps came to go sailing with us. This wouldn't leave much time for fixing fish, so we gave them the Vrooms. And very nice they were too, they told us later, only not enough of them.

Charles Phelps has had a boat at Macatawa for years, and has raced in most of the races held on Lake Michigan. He has missed sailing in the Mackinac only a couple of times in twenty years. They had such a good time sailing with us. The day was so nice. We were so lucky to have such fine weather. We sailed out of the Bay, threaded our way thru some islands, and out into the Atlantic before we started back.

After dropping them off we decided to get started for S. Hayswell — now about three in the afternoon. Kreigh and I haven't sailed Heather just by ourselves for quite a while, and it seemed like fun. We cut between a couple of islands, thru the Gut, then down the Sheepscot River to Five Islands. It was fun. We picked up a mooring there, and planned to leave early. Usually the wind goes down at night, but this time it didn't. By five fifteen we got underway Saturday morning, with the wind dead against us. Nothing for it but to motor. And what a sea to buck! The thermos bottles were jolted out of their shells and broken. No hot coffee. On we went until we had rounded Cape Small and could finally get some sail up. The sail steadied us a lot so that the last part of the trip was simply delightful.

This was regatta day, everyone was out. They had a fish chowder for lunch on the burned up lawn. The day was hot. In fact it was so hot that several of the young people went swimming—for a few minutes. The water here is cold. It was a typical club race. Three classes of boats, each class its own course. Kevin and Glen were loaned a boat instead of crewing for someone, and were doing very well. They were in the lead, but did not allow enough for tide, so they came in second. Which still pleased them. At the regatta we met the family who owned the other Heather we had seen at Point Judith.

Now this was a special occasion which should be properly celebrated. So we ordered a huge mess of lobsters—18 I believe—and invited the Vrooms. We rafted the two boats alongside each other, younger generation on one, parents on the other. What a feast we had, ending with watermelon.

Sunday was again a nice day. We left rather late in the morning and got into Boothbay Harbor in 4 1/2 hours with the wind favoring us. It's much easier to go east here than west. We decided to visit the fish hatchery this afternoon, and anchored in front of it and rowed ashore. And there we met the Vrooms again. So together we saw examples of local fish, various stages in lobster growth, and watched a pair of seals play in a tank.

Monday was different, foggy, clammy, rainy. I decided to do laundry anyway, so to the laundromat for a couple of hrs. Then back on Heather getting bunks made up afresh for company next week. For our oldest son and his wife are coming to sail with us for a few days. Erick and Judy haven't sailed with us since last August when they drove the car down to Mystic for us. And of course if they are coming so far we hope they will enjoy it.

Skipper decided to spoil me a bit and take me out to dinner. Which was very nice too. But when we got back we found that Kevin who had been a bit off center all day now had a high fever. Then during the night our Skipper was sick, just miserably sick. Tuesday found Kevin's fever down and by afternoon was fairly chipper again. Skipper still a bit wan. And now Glenn doesn't seem himself. By bedtime he had a high fever. Early Wednesday morning it was 104 degrees F, by 10 a. m. was almost normal, and by supper time was about normal again. And that's the way most of our troubles are. We don't avoid them, but they are soon gone.

Wednesday afternoon was so nice we went for a little sail out to Damariscove Island. This was a fishing colony in 1608. When the Pilgrims from Plymouth needed food so badly in 1621 this is where they went to get some. The waters here abounded with cod then. Of course the twins put their lines over, and were pretty busy pulling up cod—but they were small ones and were put back. How clear the water was! We had a sedate sail all around the island, then back.

Thursday morning we awoke to the sound of fog horns. No matter, we weren't going anywhere for today we would have Heather hauled out to have her bottom painted. By 11 the fog had cleared. Around noon the tide was high enough and the Heather was placed in position in a huge cradle which was floated under her then slowly this was drawn up the incline of the marine railway, a most interesting procedure to watch. They cleaned off her bottom with a firehose, then left her overnight to dry. Some paint had come off but she was in pretty good shape. This will mean now that Skipper will not feel he must be here when she is hauled out this fall for winter storage. It is quite worth while.

What's cookin'

The combination of meat, vegetables and potatoes, are the ingredients of a meal-in-one dish. The addition of a salad and a dessert make a complete meal with Shepherd's pie.

Shepherd's Pie
1 lb. hamburger
1 onion, diced finely
Tomatoes
Salt and Pepper
Mashed potatoes

Place in frying pan the hamburger, diced onions, salt and pepper and enough tomatoes to moisten the hamburger well. Cook until meat is done. In the meantime peel and cook enough potatoes for your family. When hamburger mixture is cooked, pour into a baking dish. Mash the potatoes and place on top of hamburger mixture. Place under broiler and brown.

Pineapple Nut Bread
1 1/4 c. flour
3/4 tsp. salt
3/4 c. chopped walnuts
1/2 c. seeded raisins (rinsed in hot water and drained)
3/4 c. brown sugar, firmly packed
3 tbsps. soft butter or margarine
2 tsp. baking powder
3/4 tsp. soda
2 eggs
1 c. crushed pineapple, not drained

Sift first four ingredients onto paper. Add walnuts and raisins. In bowl beat together brown sugar, butter and eggs, till fluffy. Stir in half the flour mixture, then the pineapple with its syrup, then rest of flour, beating until smooth each time. Pour into greased 9x5x3 inch pan; sprinkle top with mixed sugar and cinnamon. Bake at 350 degrees 60 to 70 minutes or until done. Cool on rack.

Topping
2 tbsps. sugar
3/4 tsp. cinnamon
