Fumbles fatal for Rangers as Hudsonville wins 14-12

Friday night the Rangers of Forest Hills probably played as hard a game as been produced by any Ranger team. They went down to defeat to a hard fighting Hudsonville team.

The team has been bugged by fumbles and penalties at just the wrong time all season. Friday night, they out did themselves in their only failing.

The Eagles recovered two bobbles, one at the Ranger 12 yard line and the other on the 16 yard line. Each eventually resulted in a Hudsonville touchdown. The last one, coming after Forest Hills had come from behind after trailing for three quarters, gave the Eagles the lead with only four minutes left in the game.

Recover Four Fumbles

Hudsonville scored early after recovering their first of four Ranger fumble recoveries. Taking over on the Ranger 12 yard line, Gregg Gerkin passed to Denny Kuiper for the touchdown. A pass was completed for the extra point.

The Rangers came back strong after the kick off with Gary Crinion doing most of the running. With good play execution and fine downfield blocking, the ball was carried to the Hudsonville 18 yard line. Crinion broke off tackle and into the endzone for the Ranger's first touchdown.

The try for the extra point was wide, and Hudsonville now had their lead cut to one point.

Intercept Passes

Hudsonville soon found that they couldn't move the ball through the Ranger line. For the rest of the game, they filled the air with well thrown passes using professionally executed pass plays. However, key pass interceptions by Tim Gietzen, Bob Connors and Walt Perschbacher stopped Hudsonville's bids to make any sustained drive for a score.

The Rangers made 3 more deep penetrations in the first half. They failed to get the necessary yardage at the Eagles' 16, 20 and 15 yard lines. The Rangers unveiled some fine football for the overflow homecoming crowd, but failed to score in the second quarter. Mike Jason completed several key passes to Tim Williams and to Berkeley Freeman and the hard running of Crinion and Freeman added diversity to the attack.

The Rangers and the Eagles thrilled the crowd the whole first half and ended the half with the biggest play of the night, with one second left, on the stopped clocked, Jason passed onto the Eagles endzone and out came Mike Elders of Hudsonville with the ball. He raced down the east sideline 80 yards before being caught from behind by two Rangers as the time ran out.

Hard Rushing

The second half was played much the same as the first. Forest Hills came out and continued their hard rushing and tackling game. Hudsonville was as equally as aggressive, and filled the air with passes. Fumbles, interceptions, and penalties stopped both teams when they did manage to move the ball.

Forest Hills began to move the play into Hudsonville territory early in the fourth quarter after key interceptions by Tom Mittner and Dennis Byerly. Byerly returned his interception to the Hudsonville 25 yard line. Following an offside penalty on the Eagles, Byerly ran to the Eagle 10, and then to the 7 yard line. Freeman, following his hard blocking line, cut in over his right tackle to score. The touchdown put the Rangers ahead for the first time in the game. The try for the extra point was blocked and Forest Hills led 12-7 with eight minutes to play.

Eagles recover, score

Hudsonville was unable to move the ball after the kick off. The hard charging line, led by Randy Bruwer, caused the Eagle quarterback to fumble 2 pass plays. The Eagles were forced to kick to Forest Hills.

On the second running play, a fumble occurred and Hudsonville recovered on the Ranger 16 yard line. On their fourth play, Elders ran his right end for six yards and the touchdown. The pass for extra point was complete and Hudsonville once gain had taken advantage of a break to take the lead.

Randy Ashley returned the kickoff to his 35 yard line. With less than four minutes to play the Rangers began their devastating blocking and running attack. With Crinion and Freeman alternating carrying the ball, and eating up eight or nine yards a play, they moved the ball to a first down on the Eagle 35 yard line.

A series of missed pass plays brought a fourth and ten facing the Rangers. Freeman now ran off tackle for eight yards, but not enough.

This was the last time Forest Hills was to have the ball. Hudsonville ran out the clock with the ball in their possession. The loss dropped the Rangers into a tie for second place with Hudsonville.

Ranger Reserves do it again!

Forest Hills Junior Varsity did it again, Thursday evening, by winning their fifth over Hudsonville by a score of 7 to 0.

For the first three quarters, both teams played hard defensive ball. Neither team was able to penetrate beyond their opponent's 29 yard line.

With less than five minutes left in the game, Hudsonville fumbled on their own 28 yard line and Dan Krueger recovered for the Rangers.

Two plays later, at the 22 yard line, quarterback Steve Russ, threw a pass to Mike Johnson for the touchdown.

Steve Weber converted for the extra point.

Some outstanding highlights of the game were an interception by Dave Norman, recovery of a fumble by Steve Parrot, a 52-yard punt into the end zone by Weber, and the fact that they were no 15 yard penalties, just clean hard ball.

The next junior varsity game will be at seven p. m. this Thursday, October 21, in Zeeland.

3 F. H. students are honored by commendation

Three students at Forest Hills High School have been honored with Letters of Commendation for their high performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMSQT) given last spring.

They are among 38,000 students across the nation recognized for scoring in the top two percent of students who will complete high school in 1966. The commended students rank just below the 14,000 semi-finalists announced last month.

Howard Dalman, the school's principal, has announced that the commended students are: Mary L. Cantrill, James R. Parish and Earl Truss.

John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation said: "The students are being recognized for their outstanding performance on the qualifying test. This is a notable academic achievement."

"In a rigorous competition like the Merit program, it is unavoidable that many fine students will miss being named semi-finalists by a narrow margin. Nevertheless, the student in this situation is very capable and deserves generous recognition for his distinguished effort."

The commended students have considerable ability, which should be developed through further education. They deserve every encouragement, and their promise is great. They represent an important intellectual resource which our nation needs.

Only the highest-scoring students in each state, the semi-finalists, remain eligible for further consideration in the competition for Merit Scholarships.

Although students receiving Letters of Commendation advance no farther in the Merit Program, their names are reported to other scholarship-granting agencies and to the colleges they named at the time they took the NMSQT as their first and second choices.

NMSC also reports home addresses, test scores, anticipated college majors and career intentions of the commended students to the same colleges.

New-fashioned Halloween Oct. 30-31

Children and youth of the Forest Hills area are uniting to wage warfare against the starvation and suffering on the part of the children of the world when they go forth and "Trick or Treat" for UNICEF (United Nations Children's Fund) on Saturday and Sunday, October 30 and 31.

Young people of the Pilgrim Fellowship of the First Congregational Church in Ada will be soliciting for funds in Ada Village on Sunday, October 31, from 4 until 6 p. m.

Solicitations in the Cascade, Eastmont and Collins sections will be done on Saturday morning, afternoon and evening, October 30, by the children and youth of St. Michael's Episcopal Church and the Cascade Christian Church.

From the latter church the following youth organizations will participate: Church Awards Class, Junior Department, Chiro, Teen Fellowship, and the CYF. In most instances, Halloween parties for the different groups will be held following the door-to-door canvass.

The youth groups have done their best to avoid duplicate calls at the same home, though sometimes this does happen.

UNICEF which fights poverty, illness and starvation on the part of children the world over carries the endorsement of the president of the United States, Lyndon B. Johnson, as well as the leaders of all Councils of Churches and major religious groups, including Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish.

Last year, the children and youth of American raised two million dollars alone at Halloween time for UNICEF. In the Forest Hills' area, closed to four hundred dollars was raised.

Checks can be made payable to UNICEF or the Cascade Christian Youth Council. In case homes are by-passed, gifts can be left at the First Congregational Church in Ada or St. Michael's Episcopal Church or Cascade Christian Church in Cascade.

New-Fashion Halloween

It is fifteen years since the United Nations Children's Fund wound up its emergency aid to post-war Europe, and undertook to assist long-range programs for children and mothers in the underdeveloped world.

Coincidentally, it is also fifteen years since an ever increasing number of American boys and girls decided to give up soaping windows and playing pranks on Halloween, and to devote their Trick or Treat collection to helping sick and hungry children in far-way lands.

In these fifteen years, UNICEF's accomplishments have been tremendous, considering that this agency operates with an annual budget equivalent to only eight percent of what is spent on world armament in one day. This has been possible because the beneficiary nations have been doing their share.

While UNICEF provides vitally necessary supplies and equipment, the countries themselves furnish materials that they do have for the programs for children. As a matter of fact, in recent years they have contributed the equivalent of $2.50 for every $1 spent by UNICEF.

The Children's Fund's accomplishments have also been made possible by the spirit and generosity, selflessness and goodwill which is so strikingly represented by America's young Trick or Treaters—UNICEF relies entirely on voluntary contributions.

Life at Bargain Price

In the developing countries, where three out of four of all the world's children are growing up, 40 percent of the population is under 15. A UNICEF survey shows that requests for aid vary greatly from area to area. The Asian countries give priority to health and nutrition programs, Africa to education, Latin America to social welfare, particularly to programs for abandoned children.

However, all nations agree on the vital need for an intensified fight against disease and hunger, and for the creation of permanent welfare services for children.

Young Americans play their role in this world-wide humanitarian venture by donning their witches', goblins' and space-men's garb, by going out Halloween evening in small, well supervised groups, and by ringing doorbells to the chant of, "Trick or Treat for UNICEF."

Every coin that is dropped into their orange collection cartons will grow, and grow. A single UNICEF penny can mean the vaccine to protect a child from tuberculosis. Each "treat" of a nickel can provide the penicillin to cure two children of yaws, an ugly, crippling tropical disease.

Through the Children's Fund, a quarter buys enough antibiotics to save two young victims of trachoma from blindness; 50 cents means enough DDT to protect seven children from malaria for a year; seventy-five cents provides the sulfone to treat a young leprosy victim, successfully for three years.

ONCE UPON A TIME

... an Indian Chief in Canada became renowned for his uncanny ability to predict weather.

His fame spread until finally a reporter from one of the famous New York papers came to him for a prediction.

The Old Chief promptly told the reporter that it would be an early winter with much snow.

The reporter, determined to discover the Chief's secret asked, "Is it the woolly bear caterpillar's stripes, the moss on the trees, the way the wind blows? On just what do you base your amazingly accurate predictions?"

"It's simple," replied the Chief, "the government put up the snow fences early this year."

WANTED — Adult woman, accustomed to young children. Hours and working conditions are flexible, and can be conformed to the individual. This is not a part-time or a short term position. Because of this, reliability is necessary. Both adults in this family are professional people and work. Therefore, what we need is not merely a housekeeper, but a homemaker who takes pride in her work. Age and education are beside the point. If you have children of your own, arrangements can be made to include them. If you would prefer to live in, this can be done—but we don't require it. We are located in the city of Lowell. For a woman who must work and pay someone to care for her children, this would allow her to take care of her own children, live her own life, and probably have as much or more left over as she has now. For a woman who is retired, and possibly on social security, this would offer an income and a pleasant and dignified position. There is no time clock here and we don't think that way. In our view, if you are the homemaker, then it is partly your home too. If you don't really like children, neither of us will be very happy because we have them and we like them. Write qualifications to Box 128 J, Lowell, Michigan. c28-30

Where Do You Live?

The question of this article is not intended to be answered by the recital of the name of your street, the number of your house, and your postoffice address. The is not on "where" but on "live."
This past week it was my privilege to listen to a speaker who declared that many people no longer LIVE in their homes. Many modern homes are used only as cafeterias and dormitories, but the people who inhabit them for that purpose do not see enough of each other to really live together. People live at their places of work and, not the least, at their places of recreation. People live at their clubs and at their societies and they are often too busy with these activities to spend time living with each other at home.
This tendency of spending very little time in the beautiful houses which we own is one of the factors in the rapidly increasing breakdown of American homes. Only you can make your house a home by living together as a family. The only way to really live together is to adopt the motto of Joshua: "As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord." And when you do that you will attend the services in the House of God to hear Christ say: "I am the Way, the Truth and the Life."
—John Guichelaar

THE THIEF HAS A KEY TO YOUR CAR

not circumvented.
We have laws penalizing the owners for leaving keys in cars on the street—useful in keeping juveniles out of temptation's way. But these laws are useless against the professional thief who can open a car as easily as its owner. It is preposterous that $3 can buy the key giving a criminal possession of an automobile for which the owner has paid thousands of dollars.

The final responsibility here rests on the car makers, not key makers. Automobile manufacturers every year, probably daily, solve greater problems than the development of a lock that only the owner can manipulate...
The Los Angeles Police Department reports that nine recent bank robberies in the Los Angeles area were accomplished by a bandit who used General Motors master keys to steal his getaway car...
"I have given very careful consideration to the possibility of a Federal licensing system for master key manufacturers and dealers...
"The bill will prevent state licensing laws, such as the one now under consideration in California, from being circumvented by interstate traffic in master keys...
"I ask... consent to have printed in the Record an editorial from the San Francisco Examiner..." (The condensed editorial follows).

For a total expenditure of $11 the criminal can equip himself with keys unlocking almost any car of American manufacture. At still less cost he can have the key to any home in the country, and to any door. The purchase and sale of such keys involve no broken laws. Similarly, the reproduction of keys may be accomplished cheaply and legally in numerous shops.
Disturbed citizens may well wonder why locksmiths and key makers are not regulated and licensed, and required to register both keys and buyers; as in the case of small arms dealers. They should be; but with full awareness that there would be only partial answer at best to the problem in this. Criminals subvert most laws; are mainly deterred by law,

A GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

The automobile manufacturers should give some serious thought to the master-key problem.
The States should give some serious thought to a law to deter the car thief from procuring a master key.
Apathy on the part of the automobile manufacturers, and the State's lawmakers, will only invite another Federal law.—J.C.

MISS AMERICA WOULD MEASURE 91-66-91

Rep. Robert McClory (Ill.) "...There is a great national interest in the hearings now being conducted by the House Science and Astronautics Committee on a bill which would authorize a three-year study of the advantages of the metric system of weights and measures... One of the most impressive articles in support of the House bill (H.R. 2626) sponsored by Chairman George Miller appeared in... the Chicago Daily News" (The condensed article follows)

On May 24 the British Government announced plans to convert to the metric system over the next 10 years. Other countries including Canada, are expected to follow suit. This will compress still farther the minority using the inch-pound system, which is 10 percent of Michigan was admitted to the Union January 26, 1837, becoming the 26th state.

Other than the weight of tradition, the chief argument against converting to the metric system is that it would be very costly. Estimates range from $20 billion to $150 billion... If a change were made what would be the best period of time and the best phases?... These are the kinds of questions that the proposed study would investigate...
If the American people change from the inch-pound system as the British people are going to do, the shift will require some painful adjustments in our everyday thinking and speech.
For example, it will take a while to get used to talking of President Johnson's 38-liter hat and Miss America's 91-66-91 dimensions.
And think of what will happen to many of our old saws. Give him 25.4 millimeters and he will take 1.6093 kilometers. It's all wool and 0.9144 wide, 31.1035 grams of preventions is worth 0.03732 kilograms of cure.
Ah well. It will all be the same when we are 1.8288 meters under.

Cascade Businessmen's Assn. plans ahead for Christmas decorations

The Cascade Businessmen's Association held their monthly meeting Wednesday evening, October 13, in the Cascade Christian Church Fellowship hall.

The slate of officers for the year will be as follows: President, Dr. Dan Ellinger; Vice-President, Mr. Bud Vierson; Secretary, Dana Powell; Treasurer, Dr. C. C. Cane.

It is to be noticed that thru the efforts of the CBA a street light has been installed at the intersection of Cascade Road and Hall Street.

The Cascade Area Pocket Directory sponsored by the CBA has already proven to be very popular and the directories are going fast.

Mr. Seppanan, chairman of the Xmas decorations committee, announced that the committee again planned to place the tree across from the drug-store, with the addition of candy canes on streetlights or light poles around the area if finances permitted.

What's cookin'

The phrase "Bread is the staff of life" certainly did not originate with my mother, even though some of my fondest childhood memories center around our family kitchen when bread was being baked. One thing is certain, however. If it has ever been your good fortune to enjoy the wonderful aroma of freshly baked yeast bread, then the nostalgic memories of mother's kitchen are worth bringing to the fore.

There is something both romantic and dramatic about working with yeast. So, with a bit of information and just a little effort on your part, you will find that making bread is not difficult. With our modern ways of cooking and baking, it is a pleasure to produce sumptuous, light, taste-provoking baked goods. And, whether it be for your own table, a surprise gift for a dear friend, or a church social, home made bread will be a hit every time.

Let's hope that some of the following ideas, suggestions, & recipes will convince you of the wonderful pleasure that will be yours when you surprise your family with baked goods of your own making—especially yeast products.

Raisin Cinnamon Bread

- ½ cup scalded milk
- 3 tbs. shortening
- 1 tbs. sugar
- 1½ tsp. salt
- ½ cup cold water
- 1 cake compressed yeast
- 1 tbs. sugar
- 1 egg beaten
- ¾ cup sifted flour
- 1 cup raisins
- one-third cup sugar
- 1 tbs. cinnamon

Combine milk, shortening, sugar, and salt. When shortening has melted, add cold water and cool to lukewarm. Dissolve or liquefy yeast by working the sugar and yeast together. Add this to the lukewarm mixture. Blend in the egg and gradually add and mix in sifted flour. Cover and let stand for about 20 minutes. Roll dough in rectangular shape (16 x 8 in.). Spread raisins and sprinkle the sugar and cinnamon over all. Roll as for jelly roll, seal the edges, and place in a greased bread pan, 9 x 4 x 3 in.

Let rise in warm place until double in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake in 350 degrees F. oven for about one hour.

English Muffins

- ½ cup scalded milk
- ¼ cup shortening
- 2 tsp. salt
- 3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- corn meal
- 2 tsp. sugar
- ½ cup water
- 1 cake compressed yeast (dissolved) with 2 tsp. sugar, worked together.

Combine starred ingredients. When shortening has melted, add water and cool to lukewarm, add dissolved yeast to liquid and gradually add flour. Mix until blended. Cover and let stand 20 minutes. Roll out on floured board or pastry cloth to ¼-in. thickness. Cut into rounds (3-in. cutter). Sprinkle tops of rounds with corn meal. Let rise in warm place for an hour or till double in bulk. Bake on ungreased griddle about 7 minutes on each side.

(Kitchen hint: Cut bananas, apples, and avocados will keep from turning dark if submerged in a solution of fruit juice.)

Hunters are being cautioned

Hunters are being cautioned by Dr. W. B. Prothro, City-County Health Officer, to check out their trailer and cabin heaters and make sure there are no leaks and it is in proper working order, to prevent any carbon monoxide tragedies in Michigan this year.

Deaths among hunters and others using improperly vented heaters and-or gas refrigerators can still occur—so for your protection check the following items carefully:

1. All gas heaters and refrigerators must be equipped with an automatic shut off control which shuts off the flow of gas to the pilot light and burner in case of pilot flame failures.
2. Vent stacks should be of approved construction, appropriately sized in accordance with heater manufacturer's instructions. Such vents should be installed in a rigid manner and be raised at least eight inches above the roof line.
3. The gas heater should be constructed and installed solidly to withstand road shock.
4. Be sure to always leave a couple of windows open even if it means carrying extra blankets, the added safety precaution will be worth it.

Michigan's Big Trees

With 50 national champion tree species to its credit, Michigan ranks as the "Big Tree" state of the nation. Among its giants is this skyscraper of a tulip tree (above right) with a height of 164 feet and girth of 221 inches, growing at the edge of the Russ Forest, east of Dowagiac. Gracing the Capitol lawn in Lansing is this western catalpa tree (above left), another national champion, with a girth of 208 inches. Upholding Oakland county's reputation for bragging-sized trees is a national champion swamp oak (girth 213 in., height 103 ft.) six miles north of Rochester and another champion, Hill's Oak, located near Lake Orion. Among national champion trees in the northwestern part of Lower Michigan are a gigantic black willow (girth 313 inches), located on the grounds of the State Hospital in Traverse City, and a majestic white birch (132 in.) which stands 100 feet tall along the eastern shore of Lake Leelanau. In the Upper Peninsula, towering white pine, hemlock, and balsam fir can be found in the Porcupine and Huron mountains. White spruce, gilead poplar, and yellow birch grow to record size in that part of the state.

Record size tree in Royal Oak area

Early pioneers found most of Michigan covered with a vast wilderness forest. To commemorate one of these extensive woodlands of huge oaks, Governor Cass named the area north of Detroit "Oakland County."

His map of 1819 also shows in this tract an oak of unusual size which he named the "Royal Oak." Later, when this area was incorporated as a town, the designation, Royal Oak, was retained.

Although many of Michigan's forests have been lumbered and many of its mammoth trees have disappeared, there still remain a number of these forest giants.

The state champion black oak—202 inches in girth—at the south city boundary of Royal Oak typifies its famous ancestor. This champion, with a height and crown spread of almost 100 feet, and three other stately black oaks still stand as guardians along an old Indian trail just as they have for more than two hundred years. Also upholding Oakland County's reputation is a national champion swamp oak (girth 213 in., height 103 ft.) six miles north of Rochester while another champion, Hill's Oak, is located near Lake Orion.

These national champion trees are among 50 which Michigan has to its credit, ranking it as the "Big Tree" state of the nation. State champion tree designations are based solely on the circumference in inches measured at a height of four and one half feet above normal ground level. However, national champions are judged on over-all bigness, based on girth, height in feet, and one-fourth of the average crown spread of the tree measured in feet.

To aid in recognition and preservation of Michigan's "Big Trees," the Michigan Botanical Club awards 4 x 6 inch, aluminum plaques to the several trees of each species which are of exceptional size.

Approximately 150 such signs have been mounted on large trees throughout the state to stimulate interest in saving Michigan's outstanding trees. For example: A unique forest of giant white cedars lies in a protected valley in the southwest corner of South Manitow Island. In the midst of this grove stands the nation's largest white cedar, over 100 feet high and 206 inches in girth.

Other national champion trees in the Grand Traverse region can be seen by following the tree route mapped by the Northwestern Chapter of the Michigan Botanical Club. A folder available from the Traverse City Chamber of Commerce marks this route.

A gigantic black willow (girth 313 in.) stands on the grounds of the State Hospital there, a majestic white birch (132 in.) towers 100 feet high along the eastern shore of Lake Leelanau, and a 203-inch basswood stands in the school yard near the tip of the Old Mission Peninsula. In the Upper Peninsula, towering white pine, hemlock and balsam fir can be found in the Porcupine and Huron mountains. In southwestern Michigan tree species of unusual size can be found at Warren Woods—a tract preserved at Three Oaks. And at the northern edge of Lawrence grows the nation's champion black cherry—girth, 281 inches. One of the area's tallest trees is the 221-inch tulip tree, with a height of 164 feet, growing at the edge of the Russ Forest, east of Dowagiac.

The state champion sassafras,

New weave makes washing blankets easier

You may find a new type blanket on the market this winter that will make standard woven blankets obsolete.

Bernetta Kahabka, textiles specialist with the Cooperative Extension Service at Michigan State University, says that a new "fiberwoven" process of weaving fibers directly into a blanket eliminates working the fibers into yarn before forming the blanket. The fiber-to-yarn step is now needed in all woven fabrics.

Miss Kahabka explains that in the new process, barbed needles simultaneously interlock fibers into a chain formation. "This creates a fabric that is evenly thick and strong with none of the between-yarn space of loom-woven cloth," she says.

One of the advantages of the "fiberwoven" fabric will be a greater uniformity and strength. Manufacturers predict 50 per cent less shrinkage. That means such a blanket should be machine-washable, Miss Kahabka adds. However, the manufacturer advises laundering each blanket alone, using warm water with soap or detergent and short wash and rinse cycles. A fabric softener in the final rinse helps fluff up the nap, she instructs.

"As with all new developments in textiles, this new weaving process probably won't be perfect when it reaches the market," the specialist points out, "but it's worth a try."

Benjamin Oliver Davis, jr., from Cleveland, is the first Negro to become a Lieutenant General in the United States Army. At 52, he was named chief of staff of both United States and United Nations forces in Korea.
