Wins national petite strutting championship

Nine year old Dawn Marie Phillips won the National Petite Strutting Championship for 1965 while competing in the All American Drum Major and Majorette Association National Competitions held at the Knickerbocker Hotel in Chicago on November 5th and 6th. It was the first time the national title was won by a Michigan contestant.

Dawn was presented with a beautiful 2-foot trophy Friday evening in the Grand Ball Room of the Knickerbacker after the days activities.

There were 14 girls in Dawn's division and her total scores in all of the events placed her as 5th runner-up in the Petite Miss Majorette of Universe competition. There were girls representing all parts of the United States. Dawn was entered as Petite Miss Majorette of Michigan-1965, and the only Michigan entrant.

The competition was held in conjunction with the 34th Annual All American Drum and Bugle Corps and Band Association's National Convention.

Dawn's baton teacher is Bonnie DeLoot of the Michigan School of Baton. She was accompanied to Chicago by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carlisle E. Phillips of Route 3, Lowell.

Jerry Sietsema, jr., young farm leader, wins study grant

Thirty young Michigan farm leaders, including nine from West Michigan have been named to participate in one of the most unique educational programs in American agriculture.

Jerry Sietsema, and his wife, Ann, recently spent two days at the Kellogg Cener at MSU where they were interviewed and tested along with 58 of the top candidates from the original 172 applicants from the entire state. Jerry was Notified on November 1, that he been awarded a fellowship.

The first of these 3 groups has been chosen to take part in the Kellogg Farmers Study Program at Michigan State University. The venture designed to train potential rural leaders is made possible through a $432,225 grant of the Kellogg Foundation.

The young farmers enroll for a three year period. The first week long session for the group will be held in December. Participants will spend approximately 30 days each year during the first two years of the program in study, metings and tours.

A week long traveling seminar through Michigan is planned for the first year and a two week traveling seminar to various parts of the United States the second year.

The third year includes an international travel seminar which will take the young farmers away from the farm for approximately 2 months. This is expected to take part of the class to Asia, part to Latin America and part to Europe and Africa.

Wives, too, will have a part in the study program. A number of sessions are planned to include them during the course of the three-year program.

Jerry, his wife, Ann, and three children, Sherry, Skip and Amy, reside at 6110 Hall St., SE. They are members of the Church.

Set to observe Thanksgiving

Well over one hundred invitations have gone out to the senior citizens of Cascade Christian Church and the community, inviting them to attend the fourth annual Thanksgiving dinner which is to be held Tuesday, November 23, at 12 noon.

The dinner is being sponsored each year by the World Outreach Committee of the Cascade Christian Church, with the invited persons as the guests of the Cascade Church.

Prior to the serving of the dinner, the group will gather in the new church santuary for a service of Thanksgiving, beginning at 11:30.

This year's speaker will be the Rev. James Baiard, pastor of the Old-Time Methodist Church in Whitneyville. Verne T. STiwell, organist and choirmaster of the church, will play for the service.

In addition to serving the guests attending, provisions are made to take dinner to the homes of aged invalids and shut ins.

Mrs. Foster Bishop, chairman of the World Outreach Committee, is in charge of this gala event this year. Ward Geib, chairman of the Cascade Church congregationa, will serve as the toastmaster.

Exchange vows Friday, Nov. 12

Miss Helen M. De Zeeuw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James De Zeeuw, Temple Street, SE, became the bride of Wayne N. DeMann, son of Mr. and Mrs. William DeMann, 32nd St., SE, Friday evening in Oakdale Park Christian Reformed Church, the Rev. Van Rees of East Paris Christian Reformed Church officiating.

The bride's peau de soie gown was trimmed with lace appliques. Her headpiece was a crystal crown and illusion. She carried amazon lilies and stephanotis on a white Bible.

Her sister and matron of honor, Mrs. John Monsma and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Eugene TenElshof, also the bride's sister, Miss Barbara Reitsma, Miss Bonnie Olds and Miss Dianna Kloosterman, were attired in lemon colored satin sheaths with gold overskirts. Iridescent floral circlets held their circlet veils and they carried bronze mums and ivy.

Karen DeMann and Debra Kloosterman were flower girls.

Roger DeMann, assisted his brother as best man. Carl DeMann, Mr. TenElshof, and Mr. Monsma, brother's in-law of the bride, and James DeZeeuw, the bride's brother, ushered.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Kloosterman, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom, presided at the reception. Kenneth Zandee was toastmaster.

Sock Hop, Nov. 26

The Chi Rho Club of Cascade Christian Church will sponsor a Sock Hop, Friday, November 26 from 8 until 11 at Fellowship Hall at the Church. Admission is restricted to 7th, 8th and 9th graders only. The cost is 50 cents, pizzas and pop a bit extra.

The Chi Rho Club has made plans to sponsor a Korean orphan through the Holt adoptive agency. It will cost the youth group ten dollars per month or $120 a year.

To help raise funds for this Korean friend, soon-to-be, Chi Rho has planned to raise the money by giving dances for the young people of the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert DeKam are the adult advisors for this worthwhile youth group.

Richard Vander Veen, member of the Michigan State Highway Commission, joins Girl Scouts of Troop 253 in Grand Rapids in a tree-planting ceremony on I-296 in Kent County as the first project in a program calling for more than $2 million of expenditures in Michigan in the next two years begins. Debra Hammer, troop leader wielding shovel, invited Lady Bird Johnson to attend, received a congratulatory letter from the nation's First Lady. The project will shield auto junkyards from motorists' views.

What's cookin'

WHATS COOKIN

Festive, tasty and easy to eat out-of-hand as a pizza is a bean pie all dressed up for the holidays. Good however all year round, it can be a snack by itself or a hearty lunch or supper dish with soup and a salad. Clever homemakers will decorate it to suit the mood of the occasion or even serve it open face. Try it with a variety of cookie cutter shapes for a children's party.

Holiday Bean Pie

2 tablespoons fat
1 pound ground chuck beef
¾ cup chopped celery
½ cup chopped green pepper
½ cup chopped onion
1 (21 oz.) can pork and beans with tomato sauce.
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper to taste

In the fat, cook all ingredients except beans and seasoning for about 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Stir in beans and seasoning and mix thoroughly. A few of the canned beans can be set aside before mixing and used to add to the design later. Turn into a 9-inch pie pan lined with unbaked pastry. Top with bells or other designs cut out of pie dough or use a plain top crust. Bake in a hot oven, 425 degrees, till pie crust is done, about 30 minutes. Beef gravy may also be served with the pie. Makes six servings.

Powerless

On Tuesday, November 9, some thirteen million people in the northeastern section of our country and a part of Canada, including the populous cities of New York City, Boston and Toronto, were deprived of electricity on which modern citizenry depends not only for light but also for power. The blackout came without warning and it is still without explanation. The power experts had assured us that this could not happen—but it did happen!
,iOANDe
This was an alarming phenomenon especially when the idea of sabotage was suggested as a possible cause of this interruption of power on such a vast scale. Such a possibility was at once ruled out by our leaders, and for that we are thankful.
There is another lack of power which is far worse than the absence of electrical power. It is the lack of spiritual power. For that power we are deeply dependent upon the Holy Spirit, who is the Spirit of power. The Bible tells us that Satan is always carrying on sabotage against the work of God in the hearts of men. For an uninterrupted flow of the power of the Holy Sipirt we need the connection of a living faith in Jesus Christ who is the Light of the world. Then we shall be shining lights and tireless workers for Him whose light we reflect and whose power energizes us for spiritual labor. Are you powerful or powerless? —John Guichelaar

GET RID OF DIRTY HEATING

INSTALL IRON FIREMAN CUSTOM Mark II OIL FURNACE OR BOILER

SMOKE • SOOT • CARBON • GONE FOREVER

★ Custom Mark II Volumetric oil firing burns so clean there's never a trace of smoke, soot or carbon.

★ Saves fuel, too, usually one dollar out of 3.

★ Cuts service costs up to 90% because it burns clean; the cause of most furnace trouble is eliminated.

Attend seminar

Robert Rooker, the production manager of Amway Corp., is participating in a special management seminar on each Tuesday at the Morton House in Grand Rapids.

Sponsored by the Institute of Labor and Industrial Relations of the University of Michigan and Wayne State University, in conjunction with the Employer's Association of Grand Rapids, the weekly seminars continue through December 7.

The seminar is for top and middle management executives and is the most comprehensive and up-to-date yet presented. Each of the meetings features a recognized authority in a specialized area of management.

Form 4-H Horse Leader's Assn.

At the October 28 meeting, Kenneth Fitzsimmons, project chairman, reorganized the Horse Leaders' Association. Elected to the Developmental Committee were Mrs. Andrew Werner of Sparta and Mrs. Alva Hyrns of Cedar Springs.

Three Junior Leaders were elected to serve on the committee. They are Miss Sue Carlson of Ada, Miss Nancy Walma, and Nelson Fredrickson, both of Cascade.

They will be added to the present committee consisting of Mrs. F. Charles Werner and Mrs. Ted Walma, both of the Cascade area, and Adrian VanOost of Kent City.

Also elected were Sue Carlson, secretary; Adrian Blystra of Grand Rapids, treasurer; and Mrs. Albert Van Slyke of Ada, reporter.

The next meeting will be on Thursday, Dec. 2, at which time a program for the upcoming season will be planned.

Dick Durant to lecture on November 19

The West Central Michigan Conservative League is sponsoring a lecture by Dick Durant, who is the chairman of the 14th Republican District.

Mr. Durant will speak on the subject "Great Society-Or Slave Society?" a well known banking executive and out-spoken conservative, he will discuss national and state issues, and promises that he will "call some spades and make some ripples."

Those who would be informed in the conservative viewpoint are cordially invited to attend the lecture which will be held in the East-West Room of the Homestead Restaurant at 3700 Plainfield Avenue, NE, Grand Rapids, on Friday, November 19, at 8 p. m.

The "Low Down"

From the Congressional Record

By Joe Crump

OPPOSE PEOPLE'S "RIGHT TO KNOW" BILL

Rep. Donald Rumsfeld (Ill.) . . . "A freedom of information bill (S. 1160) has passed the Senate. Yet here in the House, the bill, H. R. 5012, introduced months ago, is still rattling around in committee. The only conceivable reason for lack of progress of this measure is the well-known and well-publicized White House opposition. . .

"It is significant to note that despite the unusually heavy legislative output, the House has failed once again to come to grips with the question of the public's right to know . . . This is a serious defeat for the people of this Nation and for our system of government that depends so fundamentally on an informed electorate . . .

"The Freedom of Information Sub-committee began hearings on November, 7, 1955, and since then has documented case after case of unauthorized withholding of information by Government agencies and Federal officials—from the press, the public and Congress . . .

"The purpose of the proposed public records law is to require every agency of the Federal Government to 'make all records promptly available to any person' and to provide for court action to guarantee the right of access, with the exception of certain specified categories of sensitive Government information which would be exempted from the disclosure requirement . . .

"Almost without exception, non-Government witnesses who testified were in support of the bill, and witnesses who testified on behalf of the executive branch were in opposition to the bill . . .

"From the hearings it appears that the fact of the matter is that the executive agencies do not intend to settle for anything short of unlimited discretion if they can help it . . .

"Appropriately, and to their credit, the Sentate, on October 13, 1965, passed unanimously a bill clarifying and protecting the right of the public to information. The other body has done its work well in this regard, as it did in the last Congress. Only House action remains . . .

"My remarks today are intended simply to inform the House and the American people of the fact that while the first session of the 89th Congress has passed a great deal of legislation, it has failed to secure freedom of information . . ."

A GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

It is interesting to note that among those supporting the bill were: J. H. Colburn, editor and publisher, Wichita, Kansas Eagle and Beacon, representing the American Newspaper Publishers Association; Richard D. Smyser, chairman, Freedom of Information Committee of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association; John F. Griner, president, American Federation of Government Employees; Vincent T. Wasilewski, president, National Association of Broadcasters; The Federal Trade Commission, and the Federal Civil Service Commission.

Among those opposing the bill were: The Department of Agriculture; Department of Commerce; Department of Labor; Department of State; Post Office Department; Department of the Treasury; Federal Reserve Board; Interstate Commerce Commission; Selective Service System; Veterans' Administration.

The Senate committee stated that, "A government by secrecy benefits no one, it breeds mistrust, dampens the fervor of its citizens, and mocks their loyalty." That appears to cover the subject very well.—J.C.

1,730,000 diabetics in United States

Almost everyone knows something about diabetes. And a lot of what we think we know isn't so.

The experts have estimated that there are more than 1,730,000 known diabetes in the United States, and that there are about 1,426,000 more Americans who have diabetes and don't know it. These figures are plus untold hundreds of thousands more who may develop diabetes if they don't follow a balanced diet, keep their weight down and have periodic physical examinations by their doctors to detect early changes in how their bodies use sugar.

What is diabetes?

It is a disorder in whch the body cannot make full use of some of the foods we eat—mainly the carbohydrates, or sugars and starches.

Diabetes can be controlled by planned diet, exercises and, in many cases, insulin or oral medication. Well-controlled diabetics can lead active and useful lives.

Most likely candidates for diabetes are overweight persons past the age of 40, particularly those who are related to diabetics, and especially older women. But diabetes can hit anyone at any age.

Symptoms in advance cases include increase in thirst, constant hunger, frequent urination, loss of weight, itching, easy tiring, changes in vision and slow healing of cuts and scratches.

To encourage Americans to find out whether they have diabetes, the week of November 14-21 has been named Diabetes Week. To find out whether you have diabetes, visit your doctor and ask to be given a test. Many communities will have special detection programs during the week. Call your county medical society or diabetes organization for information.
