JA meeting held November 26

Several students from Forest Hills attended the day long conference held Friday, November 26, at the Pantlind Hotel.

Four hundred teenagers attended this Executive Junior Achievement Management Conference, they came from Grand Rapids, Grand Haven, Ionia, Muskegon, Battle Creek and Jackson.

The keynote speaker was Dr. Nicholas Nyaradi, former minister of finance, in Hungary, and now a professor at Bradley University, who spoke on "Free Enterprise or Diaster."

Dr. Myardi has been in the United States more than 15 yrs. He and his wife and two children live at Peoria, Illinois. Poor weather delayed his arrival in Grand Rapids Friday morning.

Dr. Myaradi was followed by a welcome from Mayor Sonneveldt. Ronald J. Dykstra, a former achiever now institutional sales manager for Conrady Greenson, Inc., was the luncheon speaker, his topic was "What JA Has Done for Me."

Two talk sessions were conducted. "JA Management on the Move" and "The Horse's Mouth," the latter a discussion which the achiever asked questions about business and the American free enterprise system.

Panelists for this included: L. V. Eberhard, president and treasurer of Eberhard Foods, Inc.; Carl Kerekes, personnel director for Kelvinator Division of American Motors Co.; Charles Mills, president, Corduroy Rubber Company; Herbert C. Remien, jr., general agent for the Remien Agency, and Robert D. Swartz, manager of the Press.

"Profits in Profits" a slide presentation by General Electric Company was the closing education feature.

The Conference closed with a record party for the Achievers, sponsored by the Grand Rapids Achievers Association, the Chamber of Commerce of JA.

Present film

The Congregators Club of Ada Congregational Church will present its Free Introductory program of its "Travel and Adventure Series" on Saturday, December 11 at 8 p. m., in the Forest Hills High School auditorium. The featured artist will be Jackson Winter, award winning writer, narrator, director and photographer, who will present his latest travel film, "This Is Egypt."

Tickets are available from any Congregators member or call Mrs. Ronald Collins, OR-6-2631.

Jackson Winter, a resident of Los Angeles, California, received his educational training in the high schools of Chicago and Miami. He later attended the Art Institute of Chicago and the University of Chicago and the Art Center School of Los Angeles. He is an accomplished musician, having pursued the careers of arranger, orchestra leader and jazz trumpeter.

Since 1952, Mr. Winter has produced almost one hundred, documentary, theatrical, adventure and religious films. His travels have taken him to 36 countries. Three of the films he produced were Academy Award contenders, and two of his films are listed in the Encyclopedia Britannica as "Outstanding" motion pictures. Seven religious films of his were selected as the best religious films of 1961.

"This Is Egypt" is the result of years of residence in Egypt and a rare insight and understanding of the country and its people.

Operation hometown newspaper

Dorothy Hughes, President of the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of Michigan, announces "Operation Hometown Newspaper."

"I am still reading a hometown newspaper of two months ago. A friend of mine received it wrapped around a package." Comments like this and the feeling that our servicemen in Vietnam should not be forgotten has prompted the American Legion Auxiliary to announce "Operation Hometown Newspaper."

In cooperation with the Department of Defense, an announcement has been made to the servicemen in Vietnam that if they request copies of their hometown newspaper, the 14,000 American Legion Auxiliary Units throughout the United States will make provision for this "bit of home away from home." The one million members of the American Legion Auxiliary have launched this project in cooperation with the American Society of Newspaper Editors and a flood of requests is already being received.

First announcement of the project appeared in the Pacific Edition of "Stars and Stripes" in mid-November, 1965.

Rev. Lignell will give the invocation by singing the "Lord Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Helen Stroth.

The Council's Christmas luncheon is always a highlight of the school season. A hearty welcome is extended to all.

Rich DeVos heads fund drive for '65-'66 JA program

"Where to find $60,000 to assure success of the 1965-66 Junior Achievement Program" is the new job of Richard DeVos, President of Amway Corporation of Ada, Michigan. He is the 1965-66 Junior Achievement Fund Drive chairman.

The 1965-66 Grand Rapids Fund Drive will be launched at a breakfast meeting at the Pantlind Hotel on December 9, with a followup breakfast scheduled on January 18. In all, approximately 2,200 business leaders are being asked to sponsor this activity with both money and time, but most importantly, with their own priceless business experience.

The $60,000 is necessary to acquaint over 1,000 Kent County teenagers with business procedures through Junior Achievement. Their activities will encompass origination of ideas, product evaluation, material acquisition, vendor services, processes of manufacturing, packaging, bookkeeping and actual problems of marketing, in the framework of miniature businesses.

Mr. De Vos reported: over 2,000 bright, young people were turned away this year. They had the desire to learn about Free Enterprise, to see how it works, to find out how it rewards those willing to work and earn rather than wait for handouts, but the program didn't have the facilities. We are working to make sure this doesn't happen next year."

De Vos explained the JA movement began because too few young people today know what business involves: what it is; what it does; its benefits; how it operates. Through "Learning by Doing," JA gives our youth the positive answers and an understanding about the economic system which enables them to go to school, in which most of them will work, and through which All will be supported after graduation.

Business leaders have been shocked by the results of several recent youth surveys. One revealed, for instance, that 62 percent of the youth question-naire, 62 percent said a worker should not produce all he could, and that government has the responsibility to provide jobs.

Last year, 125,000 Achievers participated in the JA program nationally—this represents less than 3 percent of Juniors and Seniors attending High Schools in 1965.

"Only one student in five graduating from high school has been exposed to basic economics. What is bothering a lot of businessmen is what these students are not being taught about what makes America run. The Junior Achievement program for this winter will augment any program now being administered in our public schools," reported De Vos.

"The future of our nation is no better than the character, the ability and ambitions of our young people. As they grown to adulthood, what they believe in will determine the future course of the nation."

Within the last few years, Michigan has come into its own as a woodcock hunting state. In 1964, some 176,000 woodcock were shot in this state, a figure believed to be tops for the nation.

Bell Ringer Choir to present Christmas concert December 5

A Christmas Concert, featuring the Bell Ringers Choir of East Congregational Church, will take place Sunday, December 5, at 7 p. m. in the sanctuary of Cascade Christian Church as a benefit program for Operation Santa Claus.

This fine choir, under the direction of Dan Nicely, is recognized as one of the top musical organizations in the area.

The children's choir of the Cascade Church, Mrs. Robert Woodrick, director, will also present three Christmas numbers.

Speaking words in behalf of the Operation Santa Claus program in the Forest Hills area, will be John Fitzworth, co-chairman of this year's drive to provide a Christmas for needy children of the area.

The public is urged and cordially invited to attend. Also to bring a sacrificial offering a long to help Santa out locally.

Ecumenical services held

The unusual features of an ecumenical Thanksgiving service was the sermon presented by Rev. Hugh Michael Beahan from the Grand Rapids Catholic Diocese of Grand Rapids.

Only favorable response has been heard from this most unusual service which attracted over 250 worshippers. This was the first time that a catholic priest had ever spoken in a Protestant service in the West Michigan Catholic Diocese and Rev. Beahan's remarks were appropriate for the occasion.

He said that he was not about to give up the Mass, nor did he think that we were about to accept it." All heads nodded assent as he further said that "most Catholics no longer look upon Martin Luther as the worst orgre in history; and likewise, most Protestants no longer look upon the pope as the anti-Christ."

Introducing the speaker was Charles (Buck) Matthews.

Another unusual part of this service was the division of the offering, half was for the regular World Outreach budget of Cascade Christian Church, and the other half for any Catholic mission or charity selected by Rev. Beahan.

Kirk Spencer finishes basic

Airman Kirk I. Spencer, son of Mrs. Alberta H. Spencer of 517 Henry, SE, Grand Rapids, has been assigned to Pease Air Force Base, New Hampshire, after completing Air Force basic training.

The airman, a 1965 graduate of Ottawa Hills High School, will be trained on the job as a construction specialist with the Strategic Air Command.

Rites held for Mrs. Thornton

Mrs. Margaret J. Thornton, aged 38, of 4301 Burton Street, SE, passed away Thursday, November 25, at Blodgett Memorial Hospital.

Surviving are her husband, Wilfred O.; two daughters, Mrs. Rudy (Sharon) Cooper of Alcoa, Tennessee, and Alice Thornton at home.

Also surviving are three grandchildren; her mother, Mrs. Wallace Buckler of East Jordan, Michigan; a sister, Mrs. Thomas (Dorothy) Hill, Central Lake, Michigan.

Services were held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 at the Zaagman Memorial Chapel, with the Rev. Raymond Gaylord officiating. Interment was made in Chapel Hill Memorial Gardens.

Michigan goose hunters bagged nearly 40,000 birds last season for their highest kill in more than 10 years. Their latest take more than triples the state's 1962 goose harvest.

Direct selling fills void of industrial job loss

Dynamic Richard De Vos, President and co-founder of Amway Corporation, one of the world's fastest growing direct selling and manufacturing corporations (Home, car, personal-care products) reports the ladies of North America have new buying habits developing which will seriously affect jobs in 16 states.

At the same time, plant locations shifts, automation, new processes and products are leaving people jobless in the wake of progress.

Jay Van Andel, Chairman of the Board and co-founder of Amway, summarized the situation; Direct Selling simultaneously is fast becoming a major industry, a great Jobmaker. Van Andel reported Leonard C. Yaseen, Chairman of the Fantus Company of New York, Plant Location Consultant, stated in a recent study completed by his firm that "The great industrial belt stretching from Maine to the Mississippi River is rapidly losing its dominance ... An unprecedented employment decline has taken place in New England, Middle Atlantic and Great Lakes states ... Between 1957 and the beginning of 1965, this traditional manufacturing region lost more than 700,000 jobs while the rest of the nation gained almost 700,000 jobs."

"During this period, industrial employment in New York state declined by 218,000 workers, in Ohio 126,000, Pennsylvania 100,000, and Illinois 63,000; ... Chemicals, pulp and paper, printing and publishing, electrical machinery, textiles and fabricated metals show the most striking change ... Some factors responsible ... regional plant decentralization & greater automation of automobile, steel food processing and consumer electronic industries". L. C. Yaseen noted that 60 per cent of all military contracts will be fulfilled in states outside the traditional manufacturing belt.

Amway's De Vos commented that while this industrial shift has taken place, it has left in its place great social and economic problems. He cited that the Amway "Opportunity Plan" of self-help has assisted thousands of families to readjust to the changing economic conditions. The Amway Corporation has grown in six years from a two-man basement business to one which now provides over 500 manufacturing, managerial and clerical jobs in the village of Ada, Michigan, a suburban community near Grand Rapids.

There are over 75,000 self-employed, direct-selling Amway Distributors in the U. S. and 5,000 in Canada. Amway Corporation manufactures nearly 100 products. DeVos says Amway's Free Enterprise methods and its wide range of home, car and personal care products have become the most fantastic Anti-Poverty program in the world.

Amway Corporation is aggressively establishing a regional warehouse system. In May, 1965 there were 20 in 18 different states and two in Canadian provinces. Since then two additional locations opened at Salt Lake City, Utah, and Detroit Michigan, to better serve Amway Distributors.

De Vos reported Amway is investigating the feasibility of opening even more additional regional warehouses early in 1966.

Christmas workshop Dec. 4, 1 to 7 p. m.

As announced in last week's paper, the annual Christmas workshop takes place in the Fellowship Hall of Cascade Christian Church Saturday, December 4, from 1 until 7.

This is strictly a non-profit venture, not to be confused in any way with so-called Christmas bazaars. All sorts of hand-craft booths will be set up to accommodate persons of all age ranges.

Coffee and refreshments will be served. Serving as the chairman of the 1965 workshop is Mrs. Jean Cope.

Hospital notes

Mrs. Nancy Witzel 1315 Camille, SE, is a patient in Butterworth Hospital, recovering from back surgery.

Mrs. Lyle Dykhuizen, 3230 Thorncrest Drive, SE, is a patient at the Grand Rapids Osteopathic Hospital.

Being Ignored

Jay Van Andel, Amway's Chairman of the Board reported marketing studies reveal the American women are tired of being ignored in department stores, are fed up with fighting highway traffic, are exhausted with parking problems, are confused when faced with the 6,000-odd items in their supermarkets. They desire "at home" shopping, where wonderful, new work-saving products can be explained by courteous, well informed professional sales people, interested in perpetually giving service to earn customer confidence. Through the American Free Enterprise Way the 80,000 Amway Home Care Consultants are answering this need.

American women have demonstrated that they want service and quality in the goods they buy... just look at the way the firm has grown in the past six years. When the factories move out and leave people jobless, Amway offers a way to self-employment, independence and the opportunity to own and manage private businesses. Beginners are taught how to demonstrate and sell quality products which have a 100 per cent money-back guarantee, and show them how to sponsor and train others to enjoy the same independence they have earned.

Amway's Growth

De Vos, after reading Leonard Yaseen's figures on job losses, immediately asked Hamilton Stanford, Amway's fruitful Director of Sales, for a report on Amway growth in New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois and California. From October 1, 1964 to October 1, 1965, Amway experienced a five state average of 87.6 per cent growth in sales and a 90.4 per cent growth in Direct Distributors of Amway products.

Amway Corporation's Distributors sold $25 million dollars worth of products in 1964. So far in 1965 pace of sales have been $36,000,000 in the United States and $2,000,000 in Canada. Both sales volumes have broken all expected records of 1965. De Vos reported the growing sales organization, all independently owned, indicates that sales could double in 1966, since Amway is urging all distributors to double their efforts to the betterment of their own economy.

Amway Corporation is aggressively establishing a regional warehouse system. In May, 1965 there were 20 in 18 different states and two in Canadian provinces. Since then two additional locations opened at Salt Lake City, Utah, and Detroit Michigan, to better serve Amway Distributors.

Advent

For many weeks already the merchants have been telling us that we should get ready for Christmas by doing our shopping early in order to have the best selection and in order to avoid the rush of the crowds toward the end of the shopping period. It seems that Christmas shopping begins earlier each year, and that we hardly have time for Thanksgiving Day because, by all means, we must be ready for Christmas.

The church of Christ is also telling people to get ready for Christmas. There is a certain time of the year set aside for this purpose in the calendar of the Church Year. It is the season of Advent, which consists of the four Sundays before Christmas Day. The word "Advent" means "coming," and refers to the first coming of Christ when He was born as a babe in Bethlehem's manger.

There is a great danger that we shall be so busy with buying gifts for each other, and even with charitable enterprises for the poor, that we forget the real meaning of Christmas, to celebrate the coming of Christ to this earth. Are you getting ready for Christmas? Are you reading about Christmas in the Bible? Are you getting into the spirit of Christmas by praying to Christ? Are you attending the services in your church? If you have no church, we invite you to our services!

GET RID OF DIRTY HEATING

Michigan Buck Harvest

As these bar graphs and figures show, buck kill has been on the upswing in each of Michigan's three regions for the last four years. State-wide, it was the best last year since 1946. In the Upper Peninsula, the 1964 take of antlered animals was above the 13-year average and tops for the last five seasons. In the northern Lower Peninsula, last season's buck harvest was the highest in 13 years. Last year saw sportsmen score their fourth straight record buck kill in the southern third of the state which is rapidly developing into a major deer hunting area.

What's cookin'

Bring a touch of winter's delight to your dinner table with this colorful and hearty main dish. It's a palate pleaser, too. Called Ham Slice, the entree uniquely varies a popular food pair—ham and sweet potatoes. A filling of mashed sweet potatoes, bottled lemon juice and applesauce is tucked between two center cut ham slices. A brown sugar-lemon sauce is spooned over the dish while it bakes.

You'll enjoy the ease of using bottled lemon juice for this recipe. You avoid the fuss of squeezing lemons, and bottled lemon juice is more economical.

Ham Slice

- 1½ c. mashed cooked sweet potatoes
- ¾ c. brown sugar
- ¾ c. bottled lemon juice
- ¾ c. applesauce
- ¼ tsp. cinnamon
- 2 center-cut ham slices, cut ½ inch thick
- Whole cloves, if desired
- ¾ c. bottled lemon juice
- ½ c. brown sugar
- 2 tbsps. pan drippings.

Combine sweet potatoes, ¾ cup brown sugar, ¾ cup bottled lemon juice, applesauce, and cinnamon.

Spoon on top of one ham slice. Place second slice over sweet potato mixture. Stud edge of ham slices with cloves, if desired.

Bake in a slow oven, 325 degrees, 45 minutes. Combine ¼ c. bottled lemon juice, ¼ cup brown sugar and drippings. Spoon over ham slice and continue baking 15 minutes.

To serve, carve down through both ham slices and filling, slicing it as you would a loaf of bread. Makes six servings.

Tropical Oatmeal Cookies

Golden nuggets of crushed pineapple spark these Oatmeal Cookies. Make a batch of them to put in lunch boxes, and the cookie jar that satisfies those after school appetites.

Delicious with a glass of milk they make a health giving snack.

- ½ c. shortening
- ½ c. granulated sugar
- ½ c. brown sugar
- 1 c. crushed pineapple with syrup
- 1½ c. oatmeal
- 1 c. sifted flour
- ½ tsp. soda
- ½ tsp. salt
- ½ tsp. cinnamon
- ½ tsp. nutmeg
- ½ c. chopped walnuts

Cream shortening and sugar together until fluffy. Beat in egg and pineapple, then add remaining ingredients. Drop by heaping teaspoon.

Nothing stops a real smoker

Cigarette smokers would rather switch than fight. And despite scientific data on health hazards, smokers apparently would rather fight than quit.

Association Prof. Ross Wilhelm, cites figures which indicate that smokers have little brand loyalty, and that almost nothing will stop them from smoking.

"Despite the fact that last year the U. S. Public Health Service issued a warning that cigarette smoking is a health hazard, the consumption of cigarettes will reach an all-time record high this year," he points out.

"Over the broad sweep of the record of cigarette sales, events such as the Public Health report have had only a minor impact on total sales."

After a temporary drop of 8.6 per cent in sales during the first five months after the report, the decline was nearly made up in the balance of the year which finished down only 2.4 percent, Wilhelm says.

The older the smoker and the higher his educational level, the greater the probability of his having stopped smoking, he adds.

The U-M business economist, who discussed the subject on his radio program, "Business Review," produced by the University Broadcasting Service, says the switch to filter tip cigarettes has been one of the most dramatic consequences of the several health scares. Filter brand sales have risen from a negligible portion before the health reports to over 62 percent of the market today. Cigarette advertising—which costs about nine cents per carton—has pushed this trend.

"If the Federal government really wanted to take action to discourage cigarette smoking, it would do this through the tax system and the prices of cigarettes. The main action in this regard would be to cut or eliminate the excise taxes on cigars and smoking tobacco while keeping the taxes on cigarettes high. This would result in lower cigar and smoking tobacco prices and thus serve as an incentive for people to switch.

"But even if such taxes are cut, it seems likely that this would not be terribly effective in reducing the smoking of cigarettes. Lower cigar and pipe tobacco prices would not encourage women to switch, for example.

"Indeed, the simple truth is that there seems to be little anyone can do to cause people to stop cigarette smoking. The sales of cigarettes are one of the most stable of all industry sales and even depressions do not influence them very much. It is extremely difficult to alter consumer behavior even when strong appeals such as health are used."

The "Low Down"

From the Congressional Record
By Joe Crump

Rep. Weston Vivian (Mich.) ... The poor participation of the American people in voting is a national shame ... Editor and Publisher, Mr. Edwin D. Canham has recently penned some thoughtful comments on this situation." (The condensed article entitled, 'YOU'RE ON THE LIST', follows)

There is a fundamental difference between the voter registration practices of the United States and those of other leading Western democracies.

In the United States, it is the voter's responsibility to get on the rolls. In Great Britain, France, and other countries, it is the local government's responsibility to get him on the rolls.

Here is how a standard reference book describes the British practices: "It is the business of the state to see that every qualified person, man or woman, is put on the register in the proper constituency. Practically no burden placed upon the electors ..."

The situation in France is very similar: "The terms on which the suffrage is exercised are fixed by national law. Responsibility for keeping and annually revising the lists of eligible voters falls, however, to the authorities of the smallest unit of local government, the commune ..."

Thus registration in France, Britain, and most other countries is a virtually automatic function of the State, making certain that basic requirements are met.

It helps to explain why such a larger proportion of eligible persons vote in Europe than in the United States. Here a very substantial number are not even registered. There, they are registered as an inherent right and process of citizenship and residence ...

In the United States, not only is there the problems of keeping people off the voting rolls, but the loading of the lists with phonies. What would happen if the United States adopted the European practices of registering citizens instead of requiring them to register? It would probably put a considerable burden on officials. But the police now are called upon to check the voting lists periodically. Would this extension of tasks be too difficult? Would not validation of the voting list be more honest and accurate?

Granted the United States has a very mobile population, much more so than Europe, but is this an insuperable obstacle? Methods of data processing and correlating grown daily more efficient ...

Automatic registration—as much a right for people who meet the basic requirements as breathing the air—would seem to be the essence of free society. Self-disfranchisement by apathy or human carelessness or error or ignorance would be avoided.

Why not? *

A GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

We are periodically being reminded of our poor voting compared with some European countries. The difference in registration regulations is a partial answer.

Making the state responsible for voter registration in this country, would necessarily have to be thoroughly debated.—J.C.
