Carlee Troll plays Maria in high school production of 'The Sound of Music'

Students who will portray members of the Trapp family in "The Sound of Music," are listening intently to Carlee Troll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Troll, 4405 Cloverleaf Drive, SE, who will play the lead part of Maria. "The Sound of Music" will be presented at Forest Hills high school on Friday and Saturday, March 25 and 26, at 8:00 p. m.

It is quiet on the stage. The rehearsal is over and the cast has gone for the night. You look around and see the evidences of long hours of preparation. It is good to sit back and reflect. Only one week from the actual performance, it seems almost impossible. The twenty-six weeks of rehearsals have gone by so quickly.

Slowly your mind turns to all the people who have helped in making this show a reality and you become very thankful to them all. Mrs. Johnson, a member of the nun's chorus, found the nun's habits and postulant uniforms for us, saving the cast countless hours of work.

Marywood Academy and Mt. Mercy for donating costumes; Mr. Heath for loaning us the Baldwin organ and an organist for the show; Mr. Breidenfeld and Mr. Gaskell who gave of their technical knowledge to make this show a good one.

Wepman's and Afendoulis for their generosity in donating the wedding dress for Maria and evening wear for the men. Mr. Carrington, president of our music association, who gave of his time and talent to play drums for us; the members of the nun's chorus, who added their voices to our show; the teachers who assisted and the principal, without whose help the show would not have been possible. The people of the community, who by coming to see the show, gave the moral support we needed and Mr. Coon, director of music at Lakeview high school, whose help and inspiration were the driving forces behind the show.

No, our show will not equal the Broadway production, it simply cannot. We had no budget to operate on, all or most of our equipment is homemade, improvised, and our cast, including the director is rather inexperienced, yet our show will be a good one because we do have a lot of spirit and confidence.

Deep in the shadows the sound of music lingers on and soon the hills will truly be alive with music, as we proudly present our first musical, "The Sound of Music."

Parents who have tickets will be allowed to come Wednesday evening, March 23, to take pictures of the cast in full dress. We must insist that no pictures be taken during the actual performances, it will be too distracting for the performers.

Twenty-six species of mammals and 615 species of plants have been observed in Death Valley, California, one of the most desolate areas of U. S.

Attend model UN Assembly

Jil Zoodsma, center, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Zoodsma, 2844 Thornapple River Drive, receives a $50 check from Lee DeGroot, president of the North Grand Rapids Rotary Club. Miss Zoodsma was one of the representatives from Forest Hills High who went to Hillsdale College last weekend as members from the country of Malta at the Model United Nations Assembly. Miss Carolyn Scholten, right, teacher at the high school, acted as chaperone for the group.

Jil Zoodsma, Mark Jason, Carol Godfrey, and Dennis Beverly, students at Forest Hills High School traveled to Hillsdale College last Friday and Saturday with their chaperone, Miss Carolyn Scholten, a teacher at the high school, to attend the Model United Nations Assembly. They were all members of the delegation representing the country of Malta.

Each high school that sent students represented a different country. Not all of the high schools in the Grand Rapids area sent delegates. Asked how she became interested, Jil answered, "Mr. Ellenbaas, my History teacher, has long been keeping a portfolio on Malta and told us about MUNA. Model United Nations Assembly. He loaned me his information and said that if I could find other delegates and a chaperone, he would like to see our high school representatives go as delegates from that country."

Jill then approached Mr. Le-man, student advisor, who as a member of the board of the North Grand Rapids Rotary Club, presented the situation to the other board members. This club has long helped students from North View High School, but felt that this also was a deserving student activity. The board members then voted to give $50 for the trip to the MUNA meeting and Mr. Lee De Groot, President of the organization presented the check to Jill with Miss Scholten in attendance.

Jill said that by going to the meeting she felt that, "I will gain a better understanding of the processess of the United Nations."

Jill and the other students who acted as delegates are the kind of youths in which our community can show pride. They have exercised desire and ability to understand the world in which they live. Miss Scholten should be given credit too for giving her time in order that these boys and girls could attend this informative meeting. The more students that participate in activities of this nature, the more our community will grow.

The race ended in a tie and Mr. Rigdon was treated at Blodgett Hospital for rib fractures and bruises, Wednesday, March 9th.

"Clean Heat"

Quite a large number of people have what amounts to a complete misconception about the relationship between a heating system and dirt and dust in the home.

The facts are that all modern heating systems, oil, gas and electricity—are clean, and that the fuel used has no connection whatever with interior dirt, streaking, wall film, etc.

In the case of oil heat, for example, the combustion chamber and flue system are air-tight. The flow of air into the combustion chamber is fan-supported; it cannot back up. Combustion products must go up and out the top of the flue. They cannot escape and become part of the warm air that a furnace circulates through the home to provide heat, nor can they escape from the heating plant itself.

You and Your Dog

Is your dog a constant source of joy to you, or do you occasionally find him a nuisance? The answer depends on you. As every dog owner knows, dogs make wonderful pets. They are loyal, affectionate, and fun to have around. They are good company—but only if they are well-trained.
You owe it to your pet to help him become an acceptable and well-mannered member of his home. Just as written law requires you to license your dog, an unwritten law urges you to educate him in good manners for indoor and outdoor living.
What should you teach your dog? Outdoors, he must learn to: accept the leash when necessary; stay off other people's property; use the curb and not the sidewalk in the city; keep barking to a minimum; not chase cars. Indoors, he must learn: to be housebroken; to keep off furniture; to chew on his own toys only; to refrain from bothering guests; to refrain from begging and barking.

Weeping
There were various reactions to the suffering Savior, Jesus Christ, when He was on His way to the cross. In the great number of people who followed Jesus to the place of crucifixion were women of Jerusalem. They felt sorry for Jesus, and they were bewailing and lamenting Him. This was indeed a surprising demonstration of sympathy in the midst of the enmity of the Scribes and Pharisees and the cold indifference of the Roman soldiers.
Jesus said to them: "Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me." Jesus restrained their weeping for Him, because it was not properly motivated. They were weeping for Him, whereas they should have been weeping for themselves. They were weeping over the results of sin as shown in the suffering Christ, but they should have been weeping over their own sins.
Jesus said to these women: "Weep for yourselves, and for your children." And this they should do, and so should we, because it was their sin, and ours, that brought Him to the cross. And if they did not weep for themselves, God's judgment would fall upon them. The sight of the suffering Christ must move us to tears—the tears of repentance, the tears of sorrow for our sins, as we see how terrible our sin is in the substitutionary sufferings of Jesus. How does the suffering of Christ affect you?
—John Guichelaar

The cold that came in . . .

Well, maybe it didn't come in from a spy—but it certainly came from somebody, because the old wheeze-and-sneeze disease known as the common cold just doesn't happen by itself.

In fact, common cold viruses are so pushy that even people who shun society often find themselves playing "Host" to one of the barbarous little bugs.

What to do, then, if you find you're a victim? Your first thought may well be how to keep from passing the ailment on to those nearest and-or dearest to you. Your second thought (or maybe it's a photo finish) will be your own woeful condition and how to keep from getting worse.

Fortunately, there's a double action treatment that works on both fronts. It's safe, simple, and pleasant—nothing to buy. The treatment: take it easy. Avoid undue exertion. Keep to yourself as much as possible. That way you'll rob friend virus of any advantage he might have derived from tension or fatigue on your part; and your chance of infecting anybody else will be minimized.

Colds are highly contagious in the beginning stage. That's why rest and isolation, as far as possible, are important when symptoms first strike.

Of course there are other things you can do. Things that can help by making you feel less miserable, though actually no specific cure is known for the common cold. Keep warm, & drink plenty of liquids. Forget the old wife's tale about "Feeding your cold;" over-eating never helped anybody, but the druggist. If you use any nasal sprays, be sure they've been recommended by your doctor.

the Cracker barrel

"The Sound of Music" to be given at the Forest Hills High School at 8 p. m. on the evenings of March 25 and 26 is in rehearsal in the new building now. Kathy May, Student Director, explained what a great help their new quarters are to the members of the cast. "Until now we spent at least a half hour before and after rehearsal just putting up and taking down the background flats. Now we can leave them up permanently and utilize our time to better advantage," she said.

Mr. Gerrit Lemain announced the names of couples who will participate in the waltz number. They are Dave Byerly, Mary Comrie, Dave Prusak, and Karen Stiles.

Mr. John Carrington, President of the Music Association, will be playing the drums for the production.

Mr. Lemain also said the three of the ushers will be Kathy Reyburn, Robin Johnson, and Sharon Keenan.

The ticket sales have been going well and as all seats for both performances are reserved, it would be wise to place an order now before they are all sold out. It would be a shame for anyone who wishes to see and hear this delightful entertainment to miss out because he had not purchased tickets in advance.
