Busy days ahead for area choir

The Samayo Choir, shown above with director Gerrit Laiman, are much in demand these days. They have furnished entertainment at many public functions in the past and have a nearly full schedule for the future months.

The Samayo choir is a newly formed group this year made up of choir members of the Forest Hills High School Choir.

The unusual name was given to the group by the Japanese Exchange student, Akemi Tsunokawa. The group was looking for an unusual name and asked Akemi for ideas. She came up with the name Samayo, meaning Ranger in Japanese. After Akemi leaves for home at the end of the school year, a part of her will always remain at Forest Hills as each year new members will be in the Samayo Choir.

The Samayo choir is in great demand to sing at public functions throughout the city. February 14, they performed at the Orchard View Style Show and the 6th of March they will sing at a special Lenten Service at Bethel Lutheran Church.

They are also singing for the St. Mary's Credit Union meeting this month. The group is under the direction of Gerrit Laiman, Music Director at the high school.

Study group hears lesson on middle age

Paddy's College Extension Study Group held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Clarence Hanson, 4517 Curwood, SE, January 31. Mrs. Jack Buys the chairman conducted our business meeting.

Mrs. Stuart Bradley and Mrs. Jack Buys presented the lesson on "Middle Age—Threat or Promise." The lesson was especially interesting to our group as most of us are in or fast approaching the middle age.

This is a period of great change and development in our lives which causes much anxiety. We must learn to react and adjust to these changes, which come between the ages of 40 and 60. Husbands and wives should be able to communicate and be good companions. Some of the ways to do this are to plan mutual activities, develop individual interests, be cheerful, and don't make material possessions first in life.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Patrick Heslip.

March 7 date of band and choir potluck supper

Time once again for the parents of the senior high band and choir to look forward to a pot-luck supper and concert.

This will be held March 7th in place of the monthly association meeting in the multi-purpose room. You are asked to bring your own table service and two dishes to pass. Milk, coffee and rolls will be furnished.

After sampling your neighbor's cooking you can relax to the music of the varsity band and choir and catch a glimpse of those new uniforms we have purchased.

Licenses are suspended

Drivers' licenses of 614 Michigan motorists were suspended and those of 102 were revoked during the past week by the Michigan Department of State.

James Irven Somsel, 24, 6464 Cascade Road, SE, unsatisfactory driving record.

Gail Dewey Cobb, 30, 5880—2 Mile Road, Ada, unsafe judgement, financial responsibility suspension.

Gets God and Country award

Climaxing a year of work, Scout Howard Stovall was awarded the "God and Country Award" at the Boy Scout services at Plainfield Avenue Methodist Church.

Howard was presented by his Scoutmaster, Albert Hulsapple, to Pastor Kendall C. Downing, who presented him with the coveted award.

Seminary chorus to appear February 24

Trinity Lutheran Church, East Fulton Street at Cascade Road, will be host to the Lutheran Seminary Chorus from Rock Island, Illinois. The chorus will appear at Trinity Church on February 24, 7:30 p. m.

The Lutheran Seminary Chorus, under the direction of the Rev. Robert Wegehof, is recognized as one of the finest choral organizations of its kind in the country.

Rev. Wegehof graduated from Mac Murry College in 1961, Union Theological Seminary in 1963, and the Lutheran School of Theology in 1966.

In addition to directing the chorus, Rev. Wegehof is also serving Faith Lutheran Church in Moline, Illinois.

The thirty-three voice chorus will sing a program of sacred music of varied types and tempos. One of the highlights of the service is the Missa Brevis by Healey Willan, a mass in four parts.

The public is cordially invited to attend the concert, and to share in this inspirational service of song.

Music Association buys equipment, makes future plans

Would you believe that $1,200 will uniform 15 of our band members?

Well, thanks to the recent candy sale we have been able to do just that. There are 15 happy, properly clothed senior high band students who can verify that.

The choirs will soon be making good use of the sound equipment in the process of being ordered at this time. Would you believe that $800 will cover the cost? It will, and the Music Association is very happy to have the funds to cover this cost.

Now that we have used up our candy sale profits, we have plans for a rummage sale to be held April 15 at Ada Town Hall to build up our constantly depleting treasury.

Please save your rummage and contact either Nellie Gaskell, 949-0197, Ruby Acker, 949-3002 or Helen Watson, 949-5196 for pick-up or it may be deposited in the band room at the high school.

CBA projecting future plans

Fred Clancy, newly elected Ada Township Supervisor, was guest at the recent February dinner meeting of the Cascade Businessmen's Association. CBA President, Bud Vierson, expressed the hope that Cascade and Ada might find new projects for common interest cooperation.

The CBA is now projecting plans for their participation in this year's Cascade Fourth of July, and he suggested that this program might be one activity in which the two communities could share efforts to some degree.

Thirty members attended this meeting and all who attended the Association party commended the "Spring Thaw" committee and co-chairmen Dr. Bakeman and Robert Corbett. This, an annual affair and this year included dinner plus dancing to the Royalaires, an 18 member band of excellent young musicians all under 20. Members and guests, including parents of the musicians, exceeded seventy-five.

Doctor Paine reported that the 1967 Cascade Businessmen's Association phone directory is being prepared for publication. Representatives of any business not included in the directory last year, and wishing to be in this year should call Doctor Paine or Doctor Ellinger. The business does not have to be a member of the Association.

The directory is distributed free to all residents of Cascade and the Forest Hills area. It serves as a ready reference for local businesses, services and emergency phone numbers and addresses.

Indian mission doctor to speak

The women of Cascade Christian Church are looking with anticipation and interest to their annual Woman's Day, scheduled for Sunday, February 26, at which time the guest speaker at the 10:30 worship service will be Dr. Siegfried Achorn Centerwall, a Disciples of Christ medical missionary to India.

She is a graduate of the Yale University School of Medicine and is presently taking graduate work in medicine at the University of Michigan. She and her husband, both medical doctors, serve at the Christian Medical College at Vellore, an interdenominational medical center.

In addition to their missionary and medical endeavors, the Centerwalls are the parents of six small children.

Besides speaking at the 10:30 sanctuary church service, she will also speak informally to the Hearsthouse Club at the 9:15 Sunday School hour and following the Soup Kettle Lunch in Fellowship Hall at 12:00 noon to which the entire congregation is invited.

He was named the "Coach of the Year" in 1950 for his coaching at East Grand Rapids High School (1947-50). He served as athletic director, coach, and teacher at Comstock High School (1945-47). Hoekje's father, the late John C. Hoekje, was a well known Michigan educator who served for over 40 years as Dean of Administration and Registrar at Western Michigan University.

Perception

A man, with the interesting name of Michael Paul Church, spoke in Grand Rapids last week. In 1958 the Michigan Academy of Science Arts and Letters awarded him its coveted gold medal and formally declared him "Michigan's Evangelist of Art." Grand Rapids Press, Feb. 8, 1967.

He asserted: "Most people operate on only 30 per cent of their visual capacity, but you can learn to motivate yourself to see more than you do now." He was taught his sense of perception by his father. He recalls that when he was taking a trip, his father said "as you travel, LOOK AT EVERYTHING AS IF IT WERE FOR THE LAST TIME." He went on to say: "Once you learn to see, you'll find a new world about you, and this relates to other things as well as art."

This relates especially to seeing the truths of the Bible. The purpose of the preaching of the Gospel is "to open their eyes, that they may turn from darkness to light and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive remission of sins..." Act 26:18. And once our eyes are opened by the Almighty power of God, we shall long to see more of the wonders of God's truth. To that end we pray for more spiritual perception in the words of Psalm 119:18 "Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law."

Amway president honored; is presented Golden Deeds award

Jay VanAndel, chairman of the Board, Amway Corporation of Ada, recently announced that his partner and co-founder, Richard M. DeVos, president of Amway, was selected by the South Kent County Exchange Club to receive that club's first "Golden Deeds Award," in appreciation of his contribution to the preservation of our cherished American institutions.

This award, presented in cooperation with the National Exchange Club, is reserved for citizens who advocate and display an uncommon dedication to the principles of democracy.

As one Exchange Club member remarked, "Mr. De Vos was selected for this tribute because his service to the community, to the nation and to his fellow man goes beyond the call of duty." De Vos is the only Grand Rapids area resident to whom this honor has thus far been accorded.

Presentation of the Golden Deeds Award to Rich De Vos was one of the highlights of a

Raise funds to establish Chaffee scholarship

Roger B. Chaffee's Central High School graduating class of 1953 and all of his friends in the County of Kent have today established the Roger B. Chaffee Memorial Fund, the purpose of which is to raise funds sufficient to establish a Roger B. Chaffee Scholarship to be awarded annually to an outstanding high school graduate in the County of Kent for the purpose of pursuing a college career in engineering.

This project is undertaken with the cooperation and advice of Roger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Chaffee, of 3710 Hazelwood, SE; Roger's former teacher, coach, and the present principal of Central High School, Romulus V. Romani; and the Union Bank & Trust Company here in the City of Grand Rapids.

Contributions may be mailed to or dropped off at any Union Bank office, payable to the Roger B. Chaffee Memorial Fund.

The qualifications and determination of the proposed scholarship will be determined at a later date. The scholarship will be awarded county-wide; and the determination for the scholarship will, therefore, be determined on a county-wide basis.

Plate sales lag badly

The only trouble with early license plate buyers in the opinion of Secretary of State James M. Hare is "there just are not enough of them."

Hare pointed to the "slow" pace of 1967 plate sales which below comparable dates last year during mid-January.

"Unless we pick up the sales tempo by the end of this month and the first 10 days of February, I'm afraid buyers will be faced with monumental lines of puching people and flaring tempers," Hare predicted.

Hare pointed to several factors which he said were "contributing to the snail's-pace license sales campaign."

1. "Lag in new car sales. This has seriously affected sale of plates during the tag-end of 1966 and seems to be extending into the new year. Used cars sales seem to be down, too."

2. "Persons who obtained plates early last year because they were leerie of the new Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund have a year's experience to call upon and don't seem overly concerned about being later this year."

3. "License plate sales were stimulated last year by the gigantic state-wide educational & publicity campaign on the Accident Fund which stimulated persons to buy plates early."

Hare pointed out another problem, caused when the Legislature extended the commercial plate buying deadline back to the original February 28 date. Lawmakers earlier in last year's session had passed a bill which had moved up commercial plate sales one month with the deadline of January 31.

Albert Heemstra, Clerk

—Cascade Township— —board proceedings—

In its meeting Monday night, February 6th, the Cascade Township Board did take action on the following matters:

1. Upon the motion of Mr. Miner L. Cook, supported by Lee Patterson, the board approved the recommendation of the Cascade Township Planning Commission to rezone from Class A-Agriculture to Class I-Industrial the East 1/2 of the North 1/4 of Section 31, Cascade Township, excepting that portion thereof now used for religious and interment purposes. A public hearing on this matter was held at the Township Hall on January 23, 1967.

2. Upon the motion of Mr. Cook, supported by Mr. Patterson, the board expressed concurrence with the opinion of the Planning Commission that (a) the plans as submitted for the proposed Cascade Shopping Center Plaza, which ultimately include as well a golf course and a multi-family development, are in the best interests of the Township, (2) that the Shopping Center itself, as proposed, appears to be within the General Business Zone of Section 9 and thereby permitted, and (3) that it appears the balance of the proposed project will require some modification of the Zoning Ordinance since there exists at present no provision for multi-family dwellings.

3. In the light of the information furnished by the Planning Commission on the subject and upon the information elicited at the meeting bearing on the question of traffic handling procedures, etc., it was moved by Al Heemstra, supported by Mr. Patterson, that the board, on the basis of the present zoning sees no objection to the issuance of a building permit for the construction of a Drive-In theater on the Ted Walma farm located on 28th street, at such time as a proper application is made. (Note: Cascade Township Board and Planning Commission, in an effort to facilitate and guide the Building Inspection Department and the prospective applicants for major commercial and industrial permits, usually reviews all such proposals at an early stage in their planning.)

4. Upon the motion of Mr. Patterson supported by Mrs. Edna Osmer, the board approved, for lot size, the Summer Downs plat in Section 16.

5. Upon the motion of Mrs. Osmer, supported by Mr. Patterson, the board set the date of March 6 - the date of the next regularly scheduled meeting of the board - for a public hearing on the application of the Klett Construction Company to locate, for a period of six months, an asphalt batching plant on land to be leased from the Vosburgs at Grand River and Bolt Drives, Section 2, on land presently zoned industrial. Mr. Lindberg, representing the Klett Company, gave details on the proposed operation of the plant which incorporates a "scrubber drum" for the control of smoke and odor. The board, in considering the question, indicated that if approval is granted as approved by the Planning Commission, it would require a Performance Bond to assure restoration of the site upon it being vacated.

6. Upon the motion of Mr. Heemstra, supported by Mr. Cook, the board denied, in view of the results of the public hearing held January 16, the request of National Disposal Contractors to operate a sanitary land-fill on the Homer Patterson farm on Kraft Avenue at 36th Street, extended.

7. Upon the motion of Mr. Cook, supported by Mrs. Osmer the board approved the payment of $977.50 to the Kent County Library Board to provide for the continued operation of the Library Bookmobiles under the 1967 Library Support Formula.

8. In other action the board discussed or approved:

(a) the request of the Fire Department for additional Equipment;

(b) the issuance of renewal permits for kennel licenses to William Dangi and to Neil VanderTuin;

(c) material related to Parks and Recreation sites as presented by the Michigan Conservation Department;

(d) a report of a comprehensive water resources study prepared by the Grand River Basin Coordinating Committee;

(e) a report of Mr. Cook on a study of the State Electrical Code as the law bears on electrical inspection in the Township;

(f) the closing date on the sale of the 28th street cemetery and related cemetery matters;

(g) by resolution, offered by Mr. Patterson, supported by Mr. Cook, a salary raise for the Township Clerk in the next fiscal period.

By Order of the Township Board,

Al Heemstra,

THE CRACKER BARREL

Junior high science fair

"Oh, they are cute."
"No, they are mice."

Thus went the conversation around the Conditioned Reflex project at the Forest Hills Junior High Science Fair last Saturday.

Mouse A and Mouse B were the stars of the exhibit that won a blue ribbon for Rick Fellows. If the little mice made the correct turn at the end of a tunnel, they found food, but if they made a mistake, woe be unto them, they received twenty-four volts from batteries.

In second place for the eighth grades entries was John Bisel with an operating seismograph about six feet long. "It's really neat," was the consensus among his peers.

This year's Science Fair was a tremendous success according to Mr. Southland, one of the science teachers in charge of the event. There were one hundred and thirty entries. Imagine trying to judge all of those, most of which were excellent. The judges were from other Schools. John Bergin and Jim Truszkowski evaluated the seventh grade projects and Irene Zalens and Ray Boersma judged the eighth graders' work. The first three were from Northview School, and the last from West Side Christian.

Winners from this fair will go to the Science Fair at the Civic Auditorium where winners from all of Kent County will compete. The date for the Junior Achievement Science Fair is March 27-31. Those who place at the fair will then go on to the State Finals.

The judging emphasized the real experimentation in science, not just exhibits that delight the eye. This should be a learning project and from the appearance of the fair, over a hundred students qualified.

Mr. Southland said, "It is at this age that a student who is interested in science, desires to explore the nature world around him."

Friends of Barb Clark extended congratulations for her for taking third place with a camera which she constructed. She showed in her exhibit the effects of taking pictures with it for various time exposures. This kind of related testing was what determined ribbon winners although there were so many projects so well done that the judges took two hours before announcing their decisions.

First place winner in the seventh grade competition was Lou Ann Van Eerden with a study called "Plants Need Light."

Penny Tanis built a digital computer which actually worked and proved to be fascinating to fellow students and adults as well.

The fair was open to the public from two to four p. m., and was well attended.

Dawn Bartolotti received a third place ribbon for her project entitled "Different Breeds of Fish" in which she cross-bred a number of small fish and came up with several new fish with unusual characteristics.

Honorable mention for the eighth grade was given to Marilyn Darling for her "Earth's History," and to Philip Hamp for his "Mystery of Stonehenge."

The latter was a large three-dimensional reconstruction of the ruins of Salisbury Plains that have intrigued scientists for centuries.

Seventh graders who received

Honorable Mention were Krista Johnson for her "Seed Germination," and Steve Jackman for his work called "Changing Mechanical Energy to Heat." Krista's experiment was kept for ten days during which she recorded the effects of too much water or too poor soil on the plants she grew.

Since so much time and effort on the part of the students was put into their projects, they should all have gained a new respect for the world of science and the painstaking care that goes into research.

When Hero of Greece invented the steam engine, it was only used as a toy and it took centuries before it's principle was utilized. With today's stress on science and with fairs such as this to encourage youngsters, who knows what amazing discoveries will be made.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Bits 'o business

The number of families owning two televisions sets is increasing. According to a recent survey 24 percent of all American households own two or more TV sets. This compares with 21 percent in 1965 and 18 percent in 1964.

Dictionaries are becoming more popular. A leading publishing house sold its first printing of 350,000 copies of a new dictionary that retailed for $25 a copy. A second edition of 175,000 is being prepared.

Synthetic logs, made of waste papers, wax, and an oil by product, sell for 79 to 98 cents for a package of four in California. The manufacturer intends to test markets in the East at a retail price of about $1.50 for four logs.

Certain types of income which you received are specifically excluded from tax by law. The item is specifically excluded, it need not be shown on the tax return. In other cases, only a portion of the income is non-taxable; such as pensions, dividends, or sick pay. Income of this type must be shown on the return and the amount excludable subtracted from it.

Filing your income tax

Non-Taxable Income

Certain types of income which you received are specifically excluded from tax by law. The item is specifically excluded, it need not be shown on the tax return. In other cases, only a portion of the income is non-taxable; such as pensions, dividends, or sick pay. Income of this type must be shown on the return and the amount excludable subtracted from it.

Social Security payments are not taxable. If a person has only that type of income, he need not file a tax return. The same applies to government payments and benefits to veterans and their families. This, however, does not include non-disability retirement pay.

Unemployment compensation payments are not taxable, but any "sub-pay" received is taxable income. Your employer or union can tell you how much was received if you did not keep a record.

Whether you use the form 1040, or the card form 1040A, be sure to read the instructions. The instructions give more details regarding taxable and non-taxable income as well as where it should appear on the returns.

If you still have a problem, telephone your local Internal Revenue Service Office for the answer.

Travel Expenses

Employees may deduct travel and transportation expenses from their gross income, if not reimbursed, even though they use the standard deduction on Form 1040.

Travel expenses are defined as the cost of meals and lodgings while away from home overnight on business.

Transportation expenses are defined as the cost of vehicular travel. This deduction does not require that you be away from home overnight. If you are an employee and are required to use your car in your work, you may deduct a portion of the cost of its operation. Such expenses include the cost of gasoline, oil, repairs and depreciation.

Other business expenses, such as entertainment, professional and union dues, cost of tool, etc., can only be claimed if you itemize your deduction. These items are claimed under the heading of "other deductions" on page 2 of the return.

The instruction booklet to Form 1040 gives a detailed explanation as to how expense accounts should be handled. Read the instruction book, and if you have a question, telephone your local Internal Revenue Service Office.

Sick Pay

You may be entitled to exclude a portion of your income which was paid to you while absent from work because of illness or injury.

If the employer pays your wages, or it is an insured plan (the premiums of which are paid by the employer), you may exclude a certain portion or possibly all of the money received.

If the sick pay you receive is over 75 percent of your regular weekly wage, in order for the exclusion to apply, you must be absent from work for more than 30 days, and the exclusion (up to a weekly rate of $100) will apply only for the time after those 30 days.

A different rule applies if the sick pay you receive does not exceed 75 percent of your regular weekly wage. In this case, you would be allowed to exclude such payments to the extent of $75.00 a week for the first 30 days and a maximum of $100 thereafter. However, you would not be allowed to exclude such payments for the first 7 days if you are absent because of sickness or injury, unless you are hospitalized for at least one day during your absence.

Amounts received as a disability pension will qualify for the sick pay exclusion if: the taxpayer becomes permanently disabled due to sickness or injury before he reaches retirement age; and all, or part of the cost of the pension was contributed by his employer.

To claim this exclusion, you must use the Form 1040 and attach the necessary schedules. Form 2440 is the "statement to support exclusion of sick pay." It may be obtained at your local Internal Revenue Service Office.

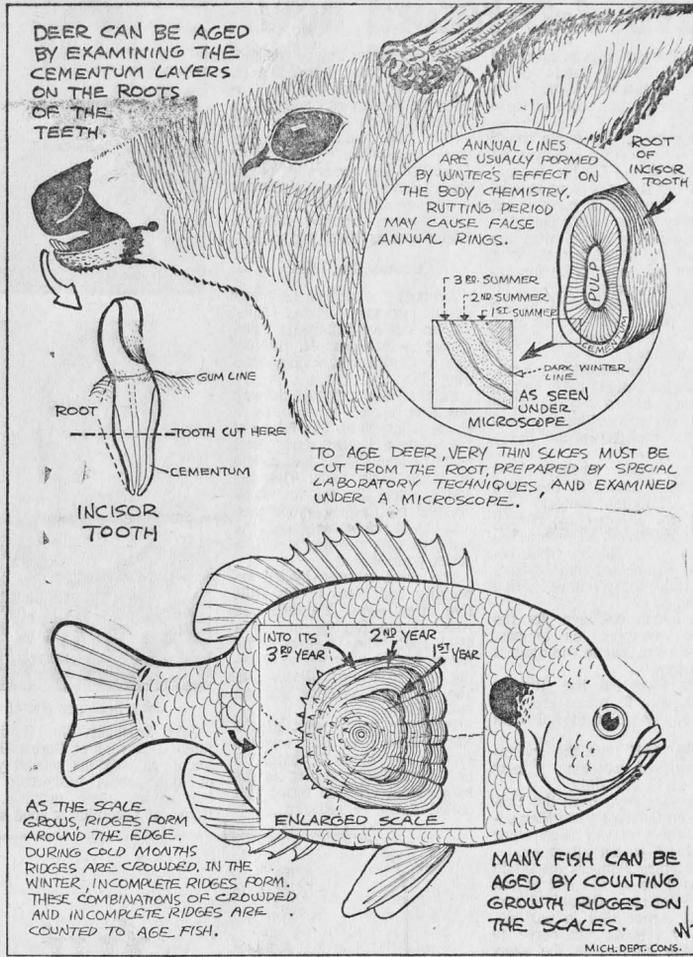

Read the instruction book so that you may properly claim this exclusion. If you then have a question, telephone your local Internal Revenue Service Office.

Going on a diet? Pick a sound one

If you're planning to go on a reducing diet, you've probably found there are almost as many diets as there are diet-ers.

Many of these diets, however, are not only unhealthy—they're also unworkable. Margaret Jane Suydam, extension home economist for Allegan, Kent and Ottawa counties says there are four characteristics of a sound reducing plan.

First, your diet should be built around familiar and well-liked foods. You might ask yourself, "Would I like to stay on this diet the rest of my life?" The more nearly the meals resemble those you are accustomed to and like, the longer you will be willing to continue on diet. The amount you have to change your diet depends on the quality of your present food habits.

The minimum servings from the "Basic Four Daily Food Guide" furnishes a wide variety of foods amounting to about 1,200 calories. It suggests two glasses of milk (skim for the dieter), two to three servings of meat or other protein food, three servings of cereal, and four servings of vegetables and fruits plus additional fats, sugar, and other foods to provide the energy and calories you require. By choosing wisely among these foods and limiting the size & number of servings you'll have the basis of a good workable low-calorie diet.

Variety, rather than sameness, is desirable in low-calorie diets. Therefore, Mrs. Suydam doesn't suggest crash diets of only two or three foods. Remember that you can eat almost everything in moderation. The really successful reducing diet is one which you can live on happily until you lose the desired weight.

Secondly, meals must satisfy hunger, the home economist stresses. Otherwise, the dieter is constantly unhappy and periodically "breaks" the diet.

Tests on adults have revealed ways to make low-calorie diets satisfying. One way is to reserve a portion of your food for eating at times of the day when you crave to eat, notably at bedtime.

Diets moderately high in protein and containing some fat have been found more satisfying than conventional low-calorie diets.

A third sound diet characteristic is adequate nutrition. Such a diet with lowered calorie yield can mean improved health and a greater sense of well being for the overweight person.

Reducing diets that are too low in calories and contain inadequate nutrients are a hazard to your health.

The final characteristic is the principle upon which reducing diets are based. Margaret Jane Suydam, extension home economist for Allegan, Kent and Ottawa counties says there are four characteristics of a sound reducing plan.

Mrs. Suydam adds that moderate exercise such as walking or housework may aid weight loss. Strenuous exercise which creates a greater appetite may only defeat its purpose.

'Executive Breakthrough' segment devoted to Amway co-founders

How do you get to the top in the world of business?

"Executive Breakthrough," a new book due on the book stalls in mid-February recounts the success stories of 21 people who made it to the top and the elements which led to their business success. One segment is devoted to two youthful entrepreneurs in our own state, Jay Van Andel and Richard De Vos, of Ada, owners and co-founders of the Amway Corp.

One of the largest direct selling firms in the nation, Amway sells about $40-million worth of home-care and personal grooming products annually through more than 80,000 independent distributors in the United States and Canada—a remarkable feat considering that less than eight years ago the company was a two man operation. Van Andel and De Vos, known then and now as Mr. Inside and Mr. Outside because of their specific spheres of operation in the business, are both in their very early 40's.

Auren Urin, who wrote the book published by Doubleday, attributes their success to the team approach of Van Andel and De Vos who "reinforced one another in thinking, planning and action."

Their gambling instinct didn't hurt, either. They weren't afraid to take a chance by re-investing profits rather than pocketing them.

Jay and Rich have known each other practically all their lives. Born in Grand Rapids, they were both reared in suburban Ada, just outside that city. Together, they went to school, joined the Air Force and later went into business.

Their first venture was a partnership in the Wolverine Flying School, an air charter and flying school, which they started in Grand Rapids shortly after discharge from service at the end of World War II.

Early in 1947, Jay and Rich decided to expand their business by opening a small restaurant on the airport site. Despite their jocular allusions to their limited cooking abilities, it too prospered. "We'd alternate as cooks," they say. "One night Jay would ruin the hamburgers and the next night I would."

After selling the school and restaurant for a handsome profit, they embarked on what the author describes as a "crazy" escapade. Though neither had ever sailed a boat, they bought a sea-going schooner and set out on a Caribbean cruise for some fun. The venture almost cost their lives. Fortunately, a tramp steamer rescued them when their boat started to sink during a storm off Cuba.

Shortly after their adventure at sea, they became interested in direct selling. After cutting a few eye-teeth in the field, they decided to form a company of their own. They called it Amway—short for American Way.

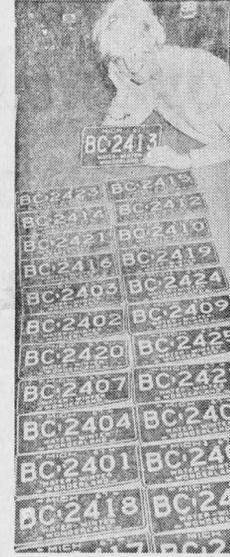

From their first office and warehouse, originally lodged in their home basements, the plant has grown into one of the state's industrial showplaces—a 275-acre site in Ada with eighteen buildings and the nineteenth due to be completed shortly.

Perhaps the relationship of the two men can best be summed up by an explanation of how Van Andel came to be chairman of the board, and De Vos the president of Amway. At first, they alternated the positions. Employees and attorneys, however, became so hopelessly confused, they requested the matter be settled, once and for all. Within moments after closeting themselves, the men emerged with a solution. Asked to explain how they had arrived at such a momentous decision so fast, De Vos explained, "Jay is older than I am, and since a firm's elder is usually the chairman of the board, I suggested that he be chairman."

And that's the way it has been.

February 28 is deadline for '67 plates

No takers. Pretty 19-year-old Carolyn Obenour, a clerk at Automobile Club of Michigan's Detroit office, uses some of her unsold license plates to point out that sales across the state are over 25 per cent below last year's pace.

February 28 is the deadline for having 1967 plates attached to automobiles. Last-day plate buyers are expected to form the longest lines in recent years unless sales begin to increase soon, Auto Club states.

In order to purchase 1967 plates, motorists must show either 1966 car registration or title plus proof of insurance. Proof of insurance can be either a certificate from the insurance company or an insurance policy showing coverage.

In addition to the cost of plates, motorists with proof of insurance must pay $1 into the uninsured motorist fund. Those without proof must pay $35 into the fund, plus the cost of plates.

Scouts' roster reaches an all-time high

On its 57th anniversary, last Wednesday, the Boy Scouts of America reached an all-time high in active membership with 5,831,541 boys and adult leaders enrolled. Thirteen Eagle Scouts are making a Report to the Nation to President Johnson.

Word of the membership record attained last December 31 was received by Spencer Cornell, of Belding, Membership Chairman of the Grand Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America. Chief Scout Executive, Joseph A. Brunton, jr., told the local Scout council that the increase of 98,833 boys and leaders came to 1.7 percent.

The boy membership showed

4,289,379 enrolled, a gain of 58,343, or 1.4 percent. Cub Scouts, a program for boys 8, 9, and 10 years of age total 2,125,394 boys in 56,436 Cub packs. There are 1,853,316 Boy Scouts, 11 years old and over, in 68,214 Scout troops. Explorers, comprising boys 14 through 17, total 310,669 in 22,538 Explorer posts.

On December 31 there were 147,188 units, a gain of 2,650 over the previous year, or 1.8 percent.

Since its founding 57 years ago February 8, the Boy Scouts of America has ended each year with a gain in membership. Since 1910 there have been over 42 million boys and leaders identified with the Boy Scouts of America.

Cornell reported that the Grand Valley Council had a gain of 343 in its membership at the end of 1966 to bring the total boy membership in Scouting in the area to 15,438 active members. These boys are in 519 Cub Packs Scout Troops and Explorer Posts. This is made up of 8,415 Cub Scouts, 6,329 Boy Scouts and 694 Explorers in the Council with 4,500 adult leaders.

Scouting has had better than a 10 percent growth in just the last two years in the Grand Valley Council according to Cornell.

This growth in program reaching boys is made possible by the support of United Funds and sustaining members.

They named the flower that grows wild in Texas the blue bonnet because the bloom looks like an old-fashioned sun bonnet.

Rangers fall twice; have 2-6 record now

The Ranger cagers absorbed a defeat at the hands of a strong Hudsonville squad Friday night by the score of 99 to 70.

The score of the game would seem to indicate a runaway on the part of the Eagles, but actually the Rangers were in contention until finally running out of steam in the fourth period.

The Rangers stayed with the second place Eagles in the first quarter but Hudsonville emerged to hold a slight edge 14-13. The Rangers prospered in the second period and opened up a six point lead over the floundering Eagles.

After a Hudsonville time-out, the Eagles bought back and in the span before the half-time break had succeeding in reversing the margin on the Rangers, 39-33.

Strong bench strength kept the Eagles ahead in the third stanza while the Rangers continued to threaten by closing within five points on several occasions. The Ranger five began to slip behind and Hudsonville built a 68-59 third period margin.

The fourth belonged to the Eagles who went on to post their seventh league win against two losses.

Steve Russ led the Ranger scorers with 21 points and was followed by John Stovall with 15.

During half time the spectators enjoyed watching a new event at Forest Hills.

The older boys from the Cascade and Orchard View Elementary School played each other in a brief basketball game.

The future Rangers dueled to a 6 to 6 tie at the end of ten minutes of play. Organized basketball competition in our elementary schools will serve to stimulate interest in the sport and help develop experienced Ranger varsity teams in years to come.

West Ottawa Wins

West Ottawa broke into the winner's column last Tuesday night at the expense of the Rangers of Forest Hills.

The victory was the first in league competition for the West Ottawa Panthers and it moved the Forest Hills league record to two wins and six losses.

The Rangers suffered one of their worst games of the year on the Panther playing floor in terms of shooting and floor mistakes. Forest Hills lasted thru a poor first quarter scoring a mere nine points while the Panthers tallied 18.

The Ranger cagers put together a much better effort in the second quarter and added 21 points to their score to total 30 points for the first half.

West Ottawa added 16 points to their score to total 34 points in the first half and hold a slim four point margin over the Rangers.

In second half action, the Rangers had taken the lead from the Panthers with barely a minute and one half having elapsed on the clock.

The action was close in the following minutes of the contest, with the lead being exchanged three times. West Ottawa still clung to a slim lead at the end of the third period 53-50. The Rangers fought back in the final period to go ahead, but again the lead was exchanged for a total of four times and with 4:44 showing on the clock the game was dead-locked at 61-61.

The Panthers gained and retained the lead for the remainder of the game to post a 78-67 triumph.

John Stovall led the Ranger scoring with 22 points and Steve Russ contributed 19.

JV's Down Panthers

The advantage of a strong opening quarter proved to be the decisive factor when the Junior Varsity toppled the Panthers of West Ottawa a week ago last Tuesday.

In the opening minutes of play, the Rangers appeared to have a ready-made victory holding at one time a 17 point first period margin. Keeping control in the second quarter, Forest Hills took the half-time break with the benefit of a 32-21 lead.

Although never seriously challenged in the second half, the Rangers did not show their traditional hustle. The defensive play was decidedly poor and the Rangers were fortunate to emerge with a 59-50 victory.

Steve Grabarek advanced the Ranger cause with 15 points. Doug Koessej and Gary Gromer shared twelve apiece and center Glenn Collins dumped in 11. The most surprising thing about the Ranger rebounding, besides the lack of it, was that two of the leading rebounders were Gary Gromer and Steve Grabarek not generally known for customary board work. Gromer had nine rebounds, and Grabarek pulled down 8. Glenn Collins also had nine.

Hudsonville Wins

Averaging one bad pass per minute of play, Forest Hills' Junior Varsity suffered a staggering defeat against Hudsonville's Eagles last Friday evening.

Forest Hills scrapped through the first period to trail by a single point, 20-19. The future of the contest looked dark then as tall Glenn Collins had picked up three early fouls. The second quarter, like the first, was marked by frequent floor mistakes and violations, and the Rangers took the break with a seven point deficit.

The third quarter looked especially bad. The Forest Hills five threw away 12 passes and watched the Eagles soar to a 66-47 lead. The Rangers could not match the later period shooting of the Hudsonville squad, and left the gym floor with an 84-59 defeat.

The only bright spot of the Forest Hills floor play was the 18 points of Steve Grabarek. It that Tom Teft returned to his long absent rebound form. Teft pulled down 10 rebounds.

Why do thousands of stores all over the midwest honor this "Charge-It" card?

It's the new family charge card with a bank behind it.

Here's a master credit system for family shopping that gives you thousands of charge accounts all over the state... places where you could never charge before.

All you'll need is a single "Charge-It" card. It gives you unquestioned credit because there's a bank behind it. It's yours free, and there are no annual fees or dues.

"Charge-It" also simplifies your money management. No matter how many places you use your card, you'll get only one itemized bill each month. One card, one monthly bill, one payment.

You have 25 days to pay—or you can pay just a portion each month, like a budget charge account.

You can even use "Charge-It" to get cash. Just walk into the bank, show your card, walk out with $50 to $100. It might come in handy just before payday! No loan application needed.

Who can apply? Men and women 21 or over. You don't have to be a bank customer, and you don't have to have a big income. For more information, mail the coupon or call the Charge-It Center at 538-8100.
