Green Generators

There is no death of energy pouring into a leaf. All the oxygen in our atmosphere is filtered through chlorophyll every 2,000 years and all the carbon dioxide in the air passes through green leaves every 300 years. This spells a power operation by chlorophyll that generates 100 times more kilowatts coal, gas, fuel oil, and atomic-energy generators combined!

Junior varsity wins over Rogers, Zeeland

A slow Roger's offense provided a dull ballgame last Tuesday in which the only bright spot was the final score as Forest Hill's Junior Varsity added another point to their victory column.

The Hawks strategy was to lay back and wait for a good opening before attempting to score. The results were apparent. A single point was scored in the first 150 seconds of play and the first quarter ended in a 6-6 tie.

Rogers stall-type tactics continued into the second quarter to the chagrin of the spectators and the half ended in a 19-19 deadlock.

The third period was marked by many Ranger mistakes. The FH five frequently fumbled the ball and often threw it to red jerseys or completely vacant spots. This gave the Hawks a 4 point advantage at the outset of the final quarter.

The Rangers, though, came back strongly to provide the only excitement of the game. With 2:05 left, Steve Grabarek pumped in two freethrows to put the Rangers ahead permanently. Doug Koessel finished the 19 point period by adding a final bucket with one second showing. The Rangers trooped off with a 46-39 victory.

The contest was also delayed by frequent fouls. Rogers fouled 25 times and three Hawks made an early exit. Tom Teft also exceeded his foul limit and 4 other Rangers collected four fouls apiece.

Steve Grabarek was the only player to hit double figures. He tallied a total of 13 points.

The Rangers had a good shooting night connecting on 18 of 43 attempts for a solid 42 percent. The Hawks shot 46 times and were successful on 11 of those for 24 percent.

Second Win

The aggressive rebounding of Tom Teft and the steady shooting of Steve Grabarek were the factors accounting for the Junior Varsity victory last Friday night in which the Zeeland Chix went down to defeat.

The first quarter was decidedly poor. Forest Hill's play was spotted with numerous fouls, violations, and fumbles. After hitting on their initial shot, the Ranger five missed on the next 15 attempts for a frigid 6 percent. The scoreboard showed Forest Hills trailing 13-4 at the conclusion of the first period.

The second quarter showed a remarkable improvement. The Rangers hit consistently and at one time had the lead, but they finished the half still trailing—26 to 24.

The aggressiveness of Teft's rebounding took effect in the 3rd quarter and Forest Hills raced by to take a 42-37 lead. The first 3 minutes of the 4th period were barren of Ranger scoring, but Steve Grabarek again began connecting and the Rangers hustled to a 58-49 conclusion.

Grabarek finished the contest with 19 points—the finest JV effort of the year. Tom Teft also hit double figures, tallying ten. Doug Koessel and Paul Jenks each netted 9.

Except for Teft's rebounding effort, little can be said about the Ranger board work. Tom pulled down 13 rebounds, eight of those in the first half.

Bruce Regis is professional in puppeteering

There are many ways for young people to make their spending money, but one of the more unusual is the work of being a puppeteer. Bruce Regis, a tall, pleasant young man who is a junior at Forest Hills High School, has become a professional in this art.

He has recently performed at Honey Creek School, at a mother and daughter banquet in Lake Odessa, and at private birthday parties. "The particular play that I put on depends upon the type of audience I am performing to," he said. "The very young children surprise you and really love the screaming and violence of a Punch & Judy show."

"Of course, they think it's great when Punch gets his just rewards too." A little older group enjoys something like "Sleeping Beauty."

Bruce learned his art from his mother, Mrs. Robert (Jean) Horton, who is also a professional puppeteer. Most people have tried manipulating hand puppets at one time, but to become really skilled, one must create the puppets and their voices, memorize the plays, know musical background when necessary, design stage sets and be able to hold an audience. A great deal of effort goes into the final production and it isn't all play.

Most of the puppets created in this household are of plastic wood and papier mache. There is a folding stage that Bruce can take with him whenever he is to perform. Some of the plays are done with hand puppets and some are with string puppets which are usually referred to as marionettes.

Last summer Bruce and his mother were invited to perform at the Folk Art Festival in Petersburg, New York. The whole festival was well received and Time magazine wrote very warmly of his contribution to the art world. Mrs. Horton and her son plan to return to the festival next summer.

In today's world Bruce feels that this country enjoys puppets probably more than in any other country. There are many uses to which they can be put besides "live" entertainment. They can be used in films and commercials to sell a product, demonstrate a point, or just for fun.

Bruce spent a year in England as a guest of his aunt and uncle who are residents of London. While there, he attended a local school, visited the home of the original English Punch and Judy and other famous locations, and traveled to the Continent. He happened to have been in England during the year which marked the nine hundredth anniversary of the Battle of Senlac and also the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Battle of Britain. Since Bruce's favorite academic subject is History, he was most fortunate.

This talented teenager lives in what used to be the Forest Hills Riding Academy, but has since been converted into an interesting home on Forest Hill Road just off Fulton. The north wing still retains some of the old stable stalls, but is in the process of being remade into a theatre center for the benefit of the community.

Old wood floors and paneling will be kept and there will also probably be room retained for a gallery where local artists may hang their works on invitation. The theatre has long been a dream of the whole family and it is about to come true. The work should be completed early this spring if all goes well.

Attention party and program planners; Bruce is always glad to make bookings for birthday parties, PTAs, Scouts and other groups. You may reach him after school hours, of course,

THE CRACKER BARREL

Beekeeping is hobby

Nobody likes bees. They sting, right? Most everyone feels this way except 300,000 Americans. They're beekeepers.

Beekeeping has become quite a hobby with Americans. They spend more than $5 million annually for bee-keeping equipment, and one apiculture group says membership has mushroomed from 800 five years ago to 2,700 today. And the interest in bee lore is so intense that a research director of a bee equipment firm in Illinois now delivers 25 speeches a year; five years ago he was making only half-dozen per year.

Most Americans keep bees purely as a hobby. The honey extracted from them is neither consumed personally or given to friends. Hobbyists trying to make money selling honey find it just doesn't work. Professional beekeepers with their millions of bees take care of the needs of food companies and other manufacturers.

However you can buy a ton of bees at a leading mail-order house. A ton, in this instance, works out to 10 million bees. While it might seem ludicrous to think of anyone's buying 10 million bees, the mail-order house said it sold, all told, 30 tons last year.

The average hobbyist, though, buys a 2-pound package of bees which amounts to 10,000 of the little busybodies. The cost is reasonable, too, $10.

What are the chances of getting stung while beekeeping? One hobbyist said none, provided you don't make a mistake. He was quick to add, however, that he has made plenty of mistakes.

New visitor record set

A new record of 1,538,182 admissions was established during 1966 at the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village, famed shrine of American history founded by the late Henry Ford in 1929.

The attendance total for the year was 136,840 over the record set in 1965 according to Dr. Donald A. Shelley, executive director, an increase of 9.8 percent. This marked the eleventh straight year in which an attendance record has been established.

Eight single month records were also established in 1966, and new single day non-special event mark of 17,074 admissions was recorded on Wednesday, August 3, at the Museum and Village. On August 16, admissions went over the million mark.

During the year several important events were recorded by the Museum and Village. In addition to the regular special events presented throughout the year the 11th annual Wedgwood Seminar was held in Michigan for the first time at the Village in May.

The Museum and Village are a part of the non-profit Edison Institute and are open 7 days a week the year around with the exception of Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's Day.

It's Time For A Chowder Supper

Get out the soup kettle and stir up a thick, nourishing chowder for supper, one that's full of enticing flavors, promising aromas. Creamy-rich chowders and other soups of great substance can provide the basis for a satisfyingly good repast, with nothing but a crisp green salad, bread and butter, and a simple fruit dessert to round out the meal.

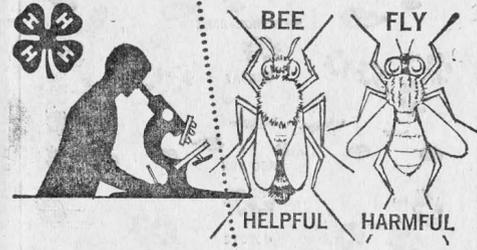

Rich creaminess and full body so important to chowders and cream soups are achieved in the following recipe by the use of the non-dairy powdered creamer. This is the creamer currently making culinary news as a convenient replacement for milk and cream in cooking. Count on this new kitchen shelf staple to give this Corn Cheese Chowder rich flavor, creamy smoothness.

Corn Cheese Chowder

- 6 slices bacon, diced
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 2 cups water
- 1 cup raw, diced potatoes
- 1/4 teaspoon dried sage
- 1 large bay leaf
- 1 cup non-dairy Pream
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1/2 cups grated cheddar cheese
- 2 cups cooked or canned whole kernel corn
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper

Combine bacon and onion in large saucepan; cook until bacon is done and onion is tender. Blend in flour; cook 1 minute without coloring. Add the 2 cups water, potatoes, sage and bay leaf; cover and cook until potatoes are just tender (10 to 15 minutes). Remove bay leaf; add Pream, 1 cup boiling water, grated cheese, corn and seasonings. Heat until soup comes to the boil and cheese melts. Sprinkle with chopped parsley and chives. Makes 6 cups, or 6 servings.

A CAREER in ENTOMOLOGY

HELPFUL HARMFUL
pest control for more abundant food and fiber
for an ever-growing population

Despite widespread use of control measures, insects cause about $12 billion damage annually to U. S. livestock and crops. Moreover, the damage is done by only one percent of the 700,000 different insects known to man.
To help lessen this destruction are 4-H youngsters who are fascinated by bugs, worms and butterflies. They are busy with entomology projects set up by the Cooperative Extension Service and carried on with the assistance of local 4-H Club leaders, conservationists and other specialists in this area.
Future career opportunities are virtually limitless. Girls with butterfly nets and boys with glass jars in which to snare their catch may one day be scientists, teachers, researchers, manufacturers, accountants or salesmen. Scores of different jobs are related to the entomological field.

Past performance of 4-H'ers has disclosed remarkable progress in a few short years devoted to the project. Studying insect life cycles, making displays, giving demonstrations on safe use of insecticides, and assisting local agencies in pest control are but a few examples of what the young bug hunters can do.
For their efforts, awards are offered by Hercules Incorporated, sponsor of the national 4-H Entomology program for 15 years. This year about 5,000 outstanding club members will receive the county medal of honor.
The entomology project judged best in the state will send a 4-H'er to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago as guest of the sponsor. From the 50 state champions, six will be selected for national honors and a $500 scholarship.

Birthdays

Was it your birthday yesterday? or is it today? or will it be tomorrow? Whether your birthday is in this month or not, this is the month in which we celebrate the birthdays of men who are famous in the history of our country. On February 12 we commemorated the birthday of Abraham Lincoln, and yesterday the birthday of George Washington. It is well that we should remember these birthdays, not because we desire to live in the past, but because we wish to keep alive the spirit of patriotism which is so sorely needed in this time of confusion and of criticism of our leaders and of our country.

As we read the history of our First President, George Washington, and of our Sixteenth President, Abraham Lincoln, we are impressed with the devotion with which they served their country under most difficult circumstances. There was not a life of ease but rather of difficulties which were as great, if not greater, than those which we face in our day. They faced their tasks as mandates of God, and they prayed for God's blessing to fulfill their arduous duties.

Let us as Christians be good citizens of our country in this time of crisis and turmoil by praying for our President and for the rulers of all the nations. If ever those in authority need our prayers, they need our prayer-support in 1967!

WINTER VIEW — A young honeymoon couple stands on shore viewing the ice-clogged river beneath the American Falls at Niagara. Cakes of ice flowing over the Horseshoe and American Falls jam beneath the cataracts each winter to form an "ice bridge." Literature is available from the Chambers of Commerce at Niagara Falls, N. Animal Tracks

Because the majority of wild animals are most active during twilight hours or at night, they are not seen very often and their tracks usually are the only evidence of their being in any given area. Their tracks help people to "know" wildlife—the location of their homes, their foods, their enemies, their habits—without ever seeing these animals. Tracks of many animals are similar in appearance; for instance, the tracks of dogs, foxes, coyotes, and wolves. It helps in identifying such tracks to know which of these animals frequent the area in which the tracks are found. A good time to check for animal tracks is right after a light fall of wet snow. Tracks shown here are more perfect than those usually found under natural conditions in the wild.

FH students participates in All-Stars Band

Final selections have been named to the two 109 piece "1967 Sixth Annual Greater Michigan All-Stars Bands." Top high school musicians from all over Michigan came to Ithaca High School to try out and receive their music on Saturday, January 21. The 218 top musicians returned to Ithaca on Saturday, Sunday, February 18-19 for the two days to prepare for their concert.

Sixty-seven high school bands were represented in the two bands. One band is made up of selected students from Class AA, A and B schools and the other band from Class C, and D schools. Originally, some 5,000 high school musicians were considered.

Some of the nation's top conductors and soloists were present to help the students in their rehearsals and concert. Prof. Leonard Falcone, conductor of Michigan State University's bands, conducted the Class AA-A-B All-Stars band. Dr. Donald E. McGinnis, conductor of Ohio State University Concert band, conducted the Class C-D All-Stars band. Three nationally famous soloists highlighted the Sunday concert: Prof. John Barrows French Horn soloist from the University of Wisconsin, has a reputation among musicians as "the world's greatest horn player"; Lawrence Wiehe, jr., is trombone soloist and principal trombonist of the U. S. Air Force Band in Washington D. C.; Richard Waller, clarinet soloist is principal clarinetist with the Cincinnati Symphony.

In the Sunday Concert the All-Stars Bands performed the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association's required high school band numbers for their coming district and state festivals.

This annual event is organized and sponsored by the Lansing Conservatory of Music, Inc., with Ithaca Public Schools band director, Harvey Brien local chairmen. The event is organized to honor these outstanding high school musicians and to provide an educational project for all music directors and their students. Honorable Robert L. Brown, Mayor of Ithaca opened the concert with a few words of welcome and has proclaimed the day "High School Band Day."

The following students from Forest Hills high school were selected: Mark Jason, Flute; Darry Larson, Clarinet; and Gerard Bouman, Tuba.

FH second in wrestling conference meet

Forest Hills finished second in the OK Conference wrestling tournament held at Wyoming last Friday and Saturday. The Rangers made a determined bid for the championship but the overall team depth of Rogers took it's toll during the finals Saturday afternoon.

Chic Granny Gowns Made With Sheets

Granny gowns are "in" right now for lounging in fresh comfort, for sleeping in soft smoothness, for keeping you feeling pretty always. They're so feminine. And, a wonderful idea is to make your own to match decorator sheets.

Granny in pants or pajamas around the house? Never. She was a lady. Now fashion puts pants and pajamas out of the house too. For going out to smart parties or discotheques, maybe. At home, stay fashion feminine in flowery, washable cotton gowns. Lovely as a nightie too. Nothing could be prettier for every lady about the house from three years to eighty. Fun for college girls in the dorm too.

Granny didn't have combed percale soft sheets. Today, you do. Match granny gowns to the dominant prints of your bedroom linens. Here's how: all you need is your sewing kit... some elastic... simple granny gown patterns sold everywhere... and a Springmaid sheet in any of the several lovely floral designs and colors, bearing such exotic names as Floral Lace or Wind Flower. If you're really inventive, copy a curler cap and cover your slippers to match. Or make mother and daughter sets.

Sheet fabric has a practical advantage. A double-bed sheet of combed percale gives you seven square yards of seamless material for easy sewing and more fine fabric for your money.

Be a lady in your home in soft flowing granny gowns—be cool while lounging, tidying, or cooking. At bedtime, slip into one you custom created to match your lovely bed linen.

YOU MUST SEE CLEARLY TO DRIVE SAFELY

The Safe Winter Driving League presents the following tip for safer winter driving from the National Safety Council: "Don't be a 'peep-hole' driver—clear snow, frost and road-muck off the entire windshield and side and rear windows as well. Replace dead, streaking wiper blades with live, new ones. Make sure headlights, taillights and directional signals are working properly. You must see danger to avoid it."
