Japanese garden draws discussion

Last week at a spirited gathering of the Auxiliery of the Thornapple Valley Stumpwater Collectors' Society, the first order of business was a report describing the view behind the fence on Shagbark of new residents, the Robert F. Shurmurs.

They have built a magical Japanese garden complete with dry stream, dwarfed trees and a huge, bright red bridge.

Although it appears to be a delicate design, Mrs. Shurmur said that it actually weighs about nine hundred pounds and took more than the usual two men and a boy to move it into position. It is now the piece de resistance in a delightful enclosed area.

This discussion reminded Betty Lerner of the dish gardens she made as a child. Suddenly brightening, she suggested that they are what she will make as Christmas presents this year. Now is the time to gather the tiny pieces necessary to create a scene in a dish or bowl.

Follow a theme, a Japanese garden, a farm with barn and animals, a forest glade or a sea-side resort. Betty said that sponges dyed green make charming trees. Lakes and streams can be bits of mirrors. Fine grass seed can be grown to make it a living garden. Containers should, of course be water proof, glass, metal or plastic. A large shallow bowl is ideal.

Ivey Baltern declared that when thinking of Christmas presents, she prefers to bake, but she has found that a great many of her friends don't care for fruit cake so she has turned to making pound cake for them.

She has tried several recipes and found the one she prefers is time saving, costs less and comes close in flavor to the original type. Also it has fewer calories. It freezes well and gets better as it ages.

Ivey's Pound Cake

1 package (1 lb. 2½ oz.) yellow cake mix
5 whole eggs
4 tablespoons water
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
1 teaspoon imitation butter flavor

In large bowl of electric mixer, combine all ingredients. Then beat according to directions on package. Turn batter into a greased and floured 9 inch tube pan. Bake at 350 degrees F for about 50 minutes or until done. Let stand in pan 5 minutes. Remove from pan, cool on rack.

Janet Breen, who has always been very efficient, said that this is the time of year that she begins to collect containers and boxes for Christmas gifts. She finds them already decorated or does that part herself.

She uses various papers: wrapping paper, wall paper, shelf or sticking types. Sometimes she paints the article to make sentimental or stained glass effects. She has also used winter scenes from old Christmas cards.

And this remark prompted Mrs. Fuddydudley to say, "When I have a chance to decide between cards I received and those I forgot to send out," Mrs. F. is not as efficient as Janet.

Mary Warner told the assembly members that on rainy days, she advises her children to get ready for forthcoming events such as Halloween or winter's snow. They make decorations for the windows or paint their sleds. In fact, this year they are sharpening the runners and planning fantastic designs in the mod concept. She said that this not only makes their sleds very individual but also uses up all of those end portions in old paint cans.

"Good grief," exclaimed the women in the houndstooth checked apron, "do we have to talk about being that well organized now?"

So the meeting closed with the members all joining in the song, "Look Out Twiggy, Here We Come," or "Auxiliary, Auxiliary, Rah, Rah, Rah."

Knooihuisen trains aboard USS Ranger

Aviation Ordnanceman Third Class Barry C. Knooihuisen, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Knooihuisen of 9350 Foreman Road, Ada, has returned to the Naval Air Station, Alameda, California, following 3 weeks of refresher training in waters near San Diego, as a crewmember aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Ranger.

During training, the 75,000 ton carrier underwent intensive damage control, engineering, flight deck, navigational and departmental drills. General Quarters, man-over-board, and nuclear, biological and chemical warfare drills were also included in the training.

To complete the training period, the Ranger conducted a complicated battle problem simulating war time conditions.

Lozano family start moving

Bill, Delphine and Robin Lozano of 1410 Laraway Lake Dr., SE, in Cascade were especially glad to see the month of August.

After two years of full time work on a Ph.D. degree in Higher Education, Bill earned the degree on August 14.

But at the same time, the Lozano family is sad to see the month of September approach.

As of September 1st, Bill will be an Associate Professor of Education at Transylvania College in Lexington, Kentucky. Delphine will enjoy the luxury of simply being a housewife, but may go back into teaching if the spirit moves her.

Regardless of where the Lozano family were to live, Robin would be returning to school as would be expected of any eleven-year-old.

Suffers heart attack

Norman Marshall, former owner of the Texaco Station on 28th Street, and a former resident of the area recently suffered a heart attack. Mr. Marshall now resides in Petoskey, Michigan.

During his illness he received many cards and notes from his friends and former customers in this area. Mr. Marshall had a friend contact the Suburban Life to express his thanks to all of those who were so kind and thoughtful from this area, to remember him during his illness.

Group hears Richard DeVos 'Selling America'

"Too many people have stopped believing in the free enterprise system in America," charged Richard M. De Vos, President of the Amway Corporation, before the Michigan Chamber of Commerce Executives meeting at noon, August 24 at the Pantlind Hotel in Grand Rapids.

De Vos made the charge in his speech "Selling America." "Some place along the line people have stopped standing up for America and the American freedoms," he continued. "They don't believe in free enterprise. They are perfectly willing to let someone else carry the load for them. They don't believe any more that there is chance for individual action and advancement."

The bluntly-speaking De Vos further charged that Americans who lose their belief in free enterprise are a sorry lot. Throughout his address, De Vos emphasized that free enterprise not only still exists, but gains greater importance every day to the American way of life.

"We have a responsibility before us," he emphasized. "Responsibility which lies not only in making money, but in selling the concept of free enterprise and free opportunity to every individual."

De Vos, 40, formed the Amway Corporation in 1959 with partner, Jay Van Andel. Originally operating from the 2 partners' homes, the firm now uses more than 180,000 square feet of plant and office at Ada, with an additional thirty warehouses throughout the United States & Canada to service millions of customers who purchase Amway products from direct selling distributors.

You can buy and sell anything with Suburban Life Want ads.

Dekker leaves for Vietnam

Private Rich Dekker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Dekker, 825 Kirk Drive, SE, has been enjoying a short leave home with his family and friends, before his departure for the war zone in Vietnam.

The nineteen-year-old Forest Hills area resident joined the United States Army March 20, 1967, and took his basic training at Fort Knox, Kentucky, before going to Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

At Fort Sill, Dekker received advanced military training and earned his sharp shooter badge and an award for being an expert shot.

Dekker left August 17 for Vietnam, where he will be attached to the A-155th Field Artillery Unit.

Forest Hills swimmers score 154 points in Mid-Michigan meet

Gary VanderLinde, coach for the Forest Hills' community swim team was more than pleased with his swimmers in the Mid-Michigan Swim Meet held August 18 and 19 at the Jolly Roger Pool.

Even though they came in last, VanderLinde, had high praise for his swimmers. They came up with 154 points, 50 more than last year, and in the event last summer, they had Lovell's swim team to help them out.

Of the 154 points, 97 of them were won by swimmers in the 10 and under and eight and under age groups.

Mark Riehl, boys 10 and under, took a first in the back stroke.

Little Kim Preston placed first in the girls' 12 and under diving competition.

A remarkable performance by Keri VanKeulen in the girls' 10 and under, gave her a third in diving.

Diane Ensing in girl's eight and under, took two first places in the meet, plus a second.

Diane Schelling and Martha Griffith swimming in girls' 10 and under, added 21 points to the score between them.

Gladiolus show

Members of the West-Central Michigan Gladiolus Society have completed plans for their annual Glad Show to take place August 26, 3 to 10 p. m. and August 27, 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. in the Memorial Garden Center in the East Wing of the Grand Rapids Museum.

Anyone wishing to enter Gladiolus or arrangements in the show should have their flowers at the Garden Center by 11:30 a. m. Saturday.

This show is open to the public free of charge.

Misfits League

Misfits Bowling League starts September 6, at the American Legion Lanes at 6:45 p. m. Are you ready for Freddie? If not, call him.

Forest Hills expects to enroll over 3,600

Next month, the Forest Hills Public Schools expects to enroll in excess of 3,600 children. The elementary schools will be seriously overcrowded. To help solve this problem on a temporary basis, four relocatable classrooms will be installed.

Two of the classrooms will be installed at the Cascade School, and two at Collins School. Sixth grade students in the Honey Creek area will be transported to Orchard View.

Plans for the elementary additions and the new Ada School are now being prepared by the school's architect. Completion of these buildings is scheduled for a year from this fall.

The chief problem faced by schools in the State of Michigan is that of financial stability. Rapid increases in salaries for public employees brought about by compulsory negotiations is leading to crisis in many districts. Forest Hills has settled with the Teachers' Association for this next year.

The settlement was satisfactory to all concerned this last May. However, most of the year-end balance is expected to be used and the district shall face severe financial problems in another year.

The Forest Hills system have given teachers the chance to work twelve months if they so choose. Twenty percent of the teachers have taken this option of full time employment, so during this school year plans will be laid for a summer educational program for next summer.

A five hundred dollar raise to the beginning teacher is going to leave the school system with one of the lower beginning salaries in the area. A low beginning salary and a deficit school budget for the next school year will be a major problem to be faced by the Board of Education and the Forest Hills residents in the near future.

Transportation

The bus stops for the school year have been scheduled, and residents residing within the school district have been mailed a brochure covering stops in all areas of the system.

There have been minor changes to better fit the attendance areas. In general, there have been very few additional stops. A change in a neighborhood's pupil concentration may change a stop.

Additional stops are planned for kindergarten students who must walk alone out of sight of home or for girls who walk alone in secluded areas. Special stops will also be made for physically handicapped children, upon recommendations from the family physician.

Morning kindergarten children will be picked up at the regular elementary bus stops in the morning and delivered near their homes at noon.

Afternoon kindergarteners will be picked up near their homes during the noon hour and delivered at the regular elementary bus stops after school.

Personnel Report

Teacher replacements and 13 additional teachers are under contract for the school year. The teaching staff is nearly complete (see separate story in this issue).

Two full time maintenance men and two part time custodians are needed to work three or four hours in the evening during the week.

Any interested persons should contact Mr. Price or Mr. DeArmond in the administration office.

Materials for providing insurance for your children will be available at each school during the first week. The cost of this insurance is small for coverage rendered.

This insurance is not a school responsibility, but is provided as a convenience to parents who wish accident insurance coverage for their children at a reduced group rate.

Registration Information

School begins Wednesday, on September 6, and buses will run on regular schedule that morning. Elementary and Junior high students will be taken home during the forenoon. High school students will go home at the regular time in the afternoon.

First through twelfth grades will be on full day attendance as of Thursday, September 7. Kindergarten will begin on Friday, September 8.

Kindergarten

Children who will begin kindergarten this fall must have been born on or before December 1, 1962. Parents whose children were born in the fall should examine the maturity of their child to be sure he or she is ready for a school situation.

Parents with a kindergarten student whose last name begins with the letter A-L will register the child on Wednesday, September 6, at the school where the child will attend. Those whose last name begins with the letter M-Z will register on Thursday, September 7.

Kindergarten will be in session on Friday, September 8. Parents are to bring their children to school to register them. The school will need a birth certificate, the immunization records and the complete registration and health records.

If there are some parents who did not attend the kindergarten round-up last Spring, they may pick up the registration materials packet at the administration building at 5900 Ada Drive, SE.

Those parents who recorded their child's birth certificate at the Spring round-up need not bring the certificate to registration. Absence of a birth certificate or the required immunizations will delay a child's entrance into school.

Attendance Areas

Early elementary attendance areas are planned to remain about the same as last year. The sixth grade students living south of Two Mile Road in the Honey Creek area will be taken to Orchard View for this school year.

There are many new homes in the district, and the school administration has no way of accounting for all new children who moved to Forest Hills during the summer. It may be necessary to change some attendance area boundaries after the school begins; however, no major changes are contemplated.

Book Rentals

Book rental is set and conforms to the formula provided in the Public Acts of 1955 and must be paid unless parents are on welfare, ADC, or disability pension.

Supply fees pay for those regular supplies such as paper, pencils, paste, erasers, crayons, etc., that otherwise would be furnished by parents. The rental fees and supply fees remain the same as last year. The excess will be budgeted of their General Fund to cover rising costs for these materials.

The following amounts are payable on September 6. Payment should be made by check or money order for each individual child. Total book and supply fees due opening day are as follows:

Kindergarten, $4.50; Grades one, two and three, $7; Grades four, five and six, $7.50; 7th grade, $11.50; 8th grade boys, $11.50; 8th grade girls, $11.00; and grades nine, ten, eleven and twelve, $8.

Fees for special classes in the high school will not be payable until after September 25.

Hot lunch program

The hot lunch program for the Forest Hills Public Schools system will begin a full year of activities Wednesday, September 6, when the first menu of the new school year will be served in the high school.

The Junior high and elementary schools will have their first hot lunch on Thursday, September 7.

Milk will be three cents. High school and junior high $1.75 and elementary $1.50.

Seniors are Expo bound

On August 26 the beginning of much planning will finally come into realization for three Forest Hills seniors.

Russ Hoffman, Gary Crum, and Paul Miller leave for Expo 67 early Saturday morning in hopes of arriving in Montreal Sunday morning. They hope to see as much of Expo 67 and Montreal as can be squeezed into one week.

Each of the boys have worked all summer to earn the necessary money for this thrilling trip. The three boys hope that this trip will be as educational as it will be fun.

They will leave Montreal a week from Saturday by means of train and be back home Sunday morning.

KETTLE, CAMPAU LAKES CONSIDER SEWER

A combined meeting of the Campau Lake Association and the Kettle Lake Association will be held Thursday, August 24, at the Kettle Lake School at 7:30 p. m.

This meeting is being held to discuss the possibility of having sewer services provided for both lakes.

The Director of Kent County Board of Public Works will speak on the problem with a question and answer period to follow.

All property owners are urged to attend this very important meeting.

By Al Pardee

When mutual grievances are recognized, conciliation is possible.

In a sense the American public is in the identical position as was General Douglas MacArthur at the time of the Korean war. The general, and many of us, could not then accept the unfamiliar idea that our ultimate objective in Korea was to contain an aggressor rather than destroy him. It was a war of limited objectives against a secondary enemy to avoid unlimited war against a primary enemy.

MacArthur felt such a limiting concept introduced an element of appeasement. As a soldier of another age he considered the effect of limited force was merely "a stopping of the enemy campaign, until he gets tired, or you yield to his terms." But MacArthur based his disagreement on an out-dated premise and was relieved of his command. Where MacArthur would have gone to war only when all other potentialities of bringing the disagreements to an end were exhausted, modern U. S. strategy dictates earlier intervention with continued negotiation.

Similar to the present "Bomb Hanoi" question, when MacArthur asked for permission to bomb the Yalu bridges, it was granted with the repeated reminder to avoid targets inside Manchuria because of "the necessity of maintaining optimum position with United Nations policy and directives." Thus, like Korea, the present Vietnam affair has two fronts—a military operation in Vietnam and a political battle between the Communists and the free world. General Westmoreland seems to better understand what MacArthur failed to accept.

However the annoying, cloying truth confronts us that we are in a war we cannot win, from which we cannot walk away, and which we cannot afford to lose, the fact is our leadership at home and in Saigon must be daily concerned lest the sparks be fanned into still greater conflict, escalation notwithstanding. If the war is being so directed that we keep the fight on the containment level with secondary enemies, we're winning on both counts.

It will help us if we openly admit the hope of any future clean-cut victory has evaporated under the threat of World War III. The harsh reality is we do right now permit offensive enemy action without effective defensive retaliation and most of us have still to realize that the once-proud military concept of total victory was buried with the great West Pointer with the over-sized corn cob and the slouch brim cap.

Someday we'll see conciliation through negotiations in Vietnam. It must come. When it does, it should not surprise us that General Appausement will perform the extra man at the table; the realities of our nuclear age have made him, since Korean times, a participant in every battle ad infinitum.

MacArthur, great guy that he was, used to also speak of a perimeter of defense outposts. He would agree, I'm sure, that if we hold to any given line our containment of the enemy will have done its good. Aggression will have been stopped and that's a victory of sorts.

Buster Bailey listed as the clarinet player on the Showboat publicity on the Louis Armstrong All Stars died about 3 months ago and was replaced by Joe Muranyi.

The replacement is great and does an outstanding job with the group.

Louis Armstrong appeared on the Johnny Carson Show last Wednesday and mentioned that he was coming to the Lowell Showboat, Carson of course had to say where is that and Louis got in a good plug for the Showboat.

Armstrong arrived with his group at the Kent County Airport New York at 8 a. m. after a performance the night before and was rather short with photographers and newsmen.

He headed for the Mr. President Motel, where after an afternoon nap was his old jolly self when he appeared at the Press Party at the Showboat Dock.

Louis has been in show business for over 50 years and they are beginning to show a little.

With the Armstrong party is his personal physician, who along with the members of the group show real concern for the comfort and health of "Mr. Music."

Mrs. Louis Armstrong was expected to be here this week, but she was hospitalized in New York, a week ago, and was unable to make the trip.

The typical sanfu of baggage occurred when Louis Armstrong and his group changed planes in Detroit; much of the baggage was missed and United Airlines had to bring the lost bags here by taxi from Detroit.

Know your state law

According to Attorney General Frank J. Kelley the Michigan Department of State is authorized to suspend or revoke an operator's or chauffeur's license whenever the Department has reason to believe a driver has become incompetent to drive a motor vehicle, or whenever he has become afflicted with mental or physical infirmities or disabilities rendering it unsafe for such person to drive a motor vehicle, or whenever he has a total of 12 or more points charged against him within a period of two years.

Prior to the enactment of Act 174 of the 1966 Public Acts, the Department mailed the driver's license on the completion of a suspension. In cases where the license expired during the suspension, an authorization for renewal was mailed. However, the Department did not mail the driver's license on the completion of a revocation, but required the driver to make application for a license at a driver's license examining station.

With the enactment of Act 174, no significant difference is made between the return of a suspended license and a revoked license. This Act provides that before a license is issued to any person whose license has been suspended or revoked, he shall be examined in a manner prescribed by the Secretary of State and shall meet all the qualifications prescribed by law. Therefore, a person serving a suspension or a revocation after August 1, 1966, must appear at a driver's license examining station, take and pass a written test on Michigan traffic laws and driving regulations, an oral test as to his physical condition, a vision test, and a road test, before his driving privileges are restored.

Act 174 has increased the work load of the Department of State and the License Appeal Board, since any person whose license is suspended or revoked must be completely examined, and if he fails the examination he has a statutory right to appeal. However, the Department age of unqualified motor vehicle operators will be on the road after the full implementation of Act 174.

Interabang !?

Did you read about the new punctuation mark? If you didn't, you should be informed about it, for no doubt you will be seeing it in printed material! According to Time magazine, July 21, 1967, "some expressions are hard to punctuate. Take the phrase 'How about that;' too sprightly for a plain ordinary, it is sometimes too ironic to justify an ebullient !. More often than not, isn't it really a question?"

The solution is the interabang, a combination of an exclamation point and a question mark. It is now included in a new typeface called Americana (but not on my typewriter). We are told that "bang" is printer's slang for an exclamation point. This writer will include some "bangs" from time to time, in the hope that the point will be "heard" throughout our community.

Time comments: "Some typographical experts have already hailed its unique ability to express the ambiguity, not to mention the schizophrenia, of modern life. The interabang, cracks Harvard University Press' monthly bulletin, the Browser, might with profit appear editorially at the end of all remarks from the political platform and the pulpit. How about that!?" God's comment for the pulpit is: "PREACH THE WORD!" 2 Timothy 4:2. —John Guichelaar

Teaching staff nearly complete

The new teaching staff of Forest Hills Public Schools is nearly complete. The recent resignation of a teacher leaves one early elementary position to fill at the Thornapple Elementary School.

Ray Price, assistant superintendent, has been seeking new staff members since early spring. He has visited many college campuses in Michigan, Indiana and Ohio. Many teacher candidates have come to Forest Hills seeking a teaching position.

The reputation of Forest Hills residents to support their schools, along with good Board-Teacher relations, has made the local school system a desirable location for new teacher candidates.

With both extensive teacher recruiting and good school reputation, it has been possible for Forest Hills to employ some outstanding teachers for next year. New teachers in the high school, junior high school and elementary schools are as follows:

High School

Mrs. Joyce Koop, librarian; Merlin Fritzen, physics and mathematics; Miss Marlene Verhage, English; David Pott, English; Miss Donna Gresko, English; Miss Alice Lee, English.

Roger Worfel, business education; Miss Ruthanne Cebelak, English; Tom Catzere, English;

Terry McMullen, counselor; Paul Leavenworth, history and soc.; and John Catzere, speech.

Junior High

Miss Joan DeJager, English and social studies; Mrs. Jean Enright, English and social studies; Maris Purvins, science and math; Bruce Smith, art.

Gene Van Stedum, science & math; and Miss Roberta VanderBreggen, physical education.

Elementary Schools

Collins School—Miss Phyllis Pylman, sixth grade; Mrs. Sandra McMillian, transfer from Honey Creek, fifth and sixth grades; Miss Martha Deckman, fifth grade; Miss Kathleen Bowman, fifth grade.

Miss Catherine Hoffman, 4th grade; Miss Carol Burr, middle primary grades; Miss Kathleen Oberle, upper primary grades; and Miss Elaine Sampanes, middle primary grades.

Martin School—Mrs. Phyllis Grover, transfer from Collins, lower primary grades; and Mrs. Jane Woodall, transfer from Collins, upper primary grades.

Ada School—Robert Pries, helping principal, sixth grade; Thomas VanBuren, sixth grade; Mrs. Barbara Mercer, fourth grade; and Mrs. Lynette Bjornseth, fifth grade.

Orchard View School—Mrs. June Hubbard, lower primary; Miss Sandra Ohngren, fifth grade; Miss Nila Smith, fourth grade; Miss Katherine Heidenreich, third grade; and David Socha, sixth grade.

Cascade School—Mrs. Lorraine Demorest, lower primary grades; Mrs. Barbara Monn, upper primary grades; and Mrs. Mary Goodwillie, fourth grade.

Thornapple School—Mrs. Beverly Stevens, lower primary.

Honey Creek School—Mrs. Patricia Wahn, first and second grades; and Mrs. Virgie Guiles, transfer from Collins, second & third grades.

Egypt Valley School—Miss Mary Rivers, fourth and fifth grades.

Thirteen of the forty new teachers employed are in addition to last year's staff. These new positions are necessary for the additional students expected this fall and to alleviate some of the overcrowded classroom situations that persisted at the close of the 1966-67 school year.

The only early elementary position is still open but school officials expect no difficulty in filling this vacancy.

Hospital notes

Mark Alan Stevens, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Stevens of 7191 Bronson SE, Ada, underwent surgery at Blodgett Memorial Hospital on August 10.

Peter Kramer, jr., 3271 Behler Drive, SE, returned home from the Selfridge Air Force Base Hospital at Mt. Clemens, Michigan.

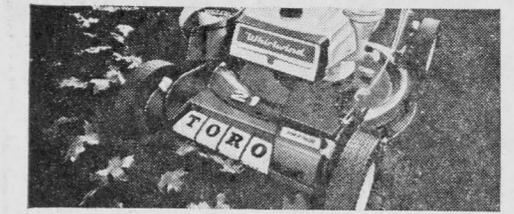

He is recuperating from a compound fracture of his leg.
