Peril cited along M-21

highway conditions called critical

Nine deaths and 179 injuries as the result of more than 250 accidents in 2½ years along state highway M-21 (Fulton Street) between Grand Rapids and Lowell has prompted residents and civic leaders of that area to urge the Department of State Highways to consider this hazardous section of highway for immediate, major reconstruction.

They have been advised that, though the accident rate is admittedly high along this section of M-21, and though there are many hazards created by hills, curves and heavy traffic, the general condition of the route does not warrant inclusion in the current construction program.

ratings

Priority for major highway construction is assigned on the basis of need established by "Sufficiency Ratings" prepared by highway engineers. Each section of a given route is rated on the basis of capacity, suitability of surface, condition of base and safety.

Ninety percent of the sufficiency rating is determined by the first three factors. Ten percent is determined by the safety factor. A perfect sufficiency rating would be 100 percent. (30 plus 30 plus 30 plus 10)

For sufficiency rating purposes, M-21 between Grand Rapids and Lowell is divided into five sections. Each section is rated according to the above formula. With the exception of 1.5 miles of four-lane highway, the highest rating over this 13 mile route is 55 percent. The lowest is 19 percent. The study made in conjunction with these ratings indicates further that visibility along this route is restricted by hills and curves by as much as 59 percent. It shows too, that the narrow, 2-lane road carries more traffic than sections of the I-96 Expressway.

funds

Looking at other highways throughout the state, it has been shown that M-20 in Newaygo and Muskegon Counties, with a sufficiency rating of 39 percent, is to be rebuilt at a cost of $3,449,000 under the current construction program. M-57 and M-44, north of Grand Rapids, though they had no fatalities during the survey year, and though they carry one-half to two-thirds less traffic than M-21, are programmed for reconstruction. Federal funds and critically short state highway funds are to be used for this construction.

new route

These inequities have been brought to the attention of the Department of State Highways. They have stated that new attention will be directed to M-21 under a new sufficiency rating system which promises to place more emphasis on safety. They have also advised that a new route location survey of M-21 will begin at once. It is hoped that these new studies will reflect the real peril that is present on M-21 and that long overdue improvement will begin soon, although specific details are unavailable to news media.

Open houses are scheduled

The Ada Thornapple Schools will hold open house Tuesday, October 10, at 8 p. m. at the Ada School, and the Thornapple open house will be Tuesday, October 17.

Due to the fact that many parents have children in each school, it will be held at each school separately so parents may see the work of all their children and visit with their teachers.

The combined Ada-Thornapple School will hold a rummage sale Friday, October 13, at the Cascade Town Hall, Thornapple River Drive, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Anyone having rummage and would like it picked up please contact Mrs. Hennefeld, 868-4551, Mrs. Sias, 949-5619, or Mrs. Atchinson, 868-6134.

If anyone knows of any parent or student who is ill and would like a card, please contact Mrs. Richardson at 949-2573.

Accept bids on additions

There will be a meeting of the Forest Hills Board Thursday to accept bids for the new additions to Thornapple, Collins and Orchard View Schools.

On October 12, the final drawings for the new Ada School will be submitted by the architect and will meet with the Board for approval; and then the board will put out the plans for the bid.

Bonds for the new school will be by Halsey Stuart of Chicago, Illinois, with a low bid of 4.19 percent interest per year.

North Bank of Chicago are printing the bonds. The President and secretary of the Board will go to Chicago to sign the bonds on Monday, October 9.

Edward Mooney is Navy grad

Seaman Recruit Edward T. Mooney, USN, 19, son of Mrs. Irma R. Mooney of 4720 Gavin Lake Ave., Route 2, Ada, has been graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Illinois.

In the first weeks of his naval service Mooney studied military subjects and lived and worked under conditions similar to those he will encounter on his first ship or at his first shore station.

In making the transition from civilian life to Naval service, Mooney received instruction under veteran Navy petty officers. He studied seamanship, as well as survival techniques, military drill and other subjects.

Mooney is a 1966 graduate of Lowell High School.

14th annual smorgasbord

The First Congregational Church of Ada, presents its fourteenth annual smorgasbord October 13 and 14. On Friday evening the meal will be served from 6 p. m. until 8 p. m. and on Saturday from 5:30 p. m. until 8:30 p. m.

Please note that serving on both nights will be continuous and you may come at anytime during the serving hours.

A variety of forty gourmet dishes will be served, which includes such favorites as: roast beef, turkey, shrimp, Swedish meat balls, sour cream herring, smoked salmon, fruit, vegetables, molded salads, desserts.

Proceeds from the event, which is an all church project, will benefit the Building Fund.

Mrs. William H. Hall and Mrs. Donald E. Johnson are the co-chairmen this year, while Mrs. James A. Walquist and Mrs. Larry L. McPherson are in charge of reservations.

Battle of DJ's

Something new in teenage entertainment will be staged later this month by Lowell Teen Center, Inc., when they will sponsor a gigantic finale featuring five Grand Rapids disc jockies.

The star-studded extravaganza will be a "Battle of DJ's, intermixed with a teen dance.

Watch this paper, next week, for more information on this popular event, which will be the first of its kind ever held in this part of Michigan.

Field trip...

Wednesday morning, October 11, at 9 a. m. the Women's Fellowship of the Ada Congregational Church will take a field trip to the Sheldon Complex. They will meet at the church at 9 a. m.

Any interested women in the area are cordially invited to join the group; returning to the church before 12 noon.

The greatest asset of any community is its youth.

Oversize traffic light installation scheduled

A traffic light will be installed soon at the intersection of M-44 (East Beltline) and Burton St. in Grand Rapids, the State Highway Commission reported today.

The oversize signal—it will have 12-inch lenses compared to standard signals that have 8-inch lenses—will replace the flasher light. It will be dimmed for night operation.

Installation of the new traffic signal will be done by the City of Grand Rapids and is expected to be completed in November.

The State Highway Commission recently completed the widening of the turning lanes on M-44 at Burton.

Spain to be home for two area students

Most Kalamazoo College juniors, including two from the Forest Hills area, are returning to school this month on the other side of the Atlantic.

A total of 197 juniors will study in eighteen cities in nine countries of Europe, Africa, Latin America and the Far East.

Of the total, 167 began the transatlantic voyage on board the T. S. Bremen on September 12 to their campus-away-from-campus where, under Kalamazoo College's foreign study program, they will study for at least six months as an integral part of their undergraduate education.

Ending their transatlantic journey at various European ports, they have gone on to Germany, Spain, the United Kingdom, and France. They all reached their destinations on September 21.

Foreign study program participants from the Forest Hills area, who will be furthering their education in Spain are Thomas B. Silver and Barbara Atkinson.

Miss Atkinson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Dale Atkinson of 1581 Laraway Lake Drive SE, will be home ported in Segovia, Spain. Silver, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Silver, jr., 7441 Sheffield, Ada, will reside in Madrid, Spain.

Since 1958, Kalamazoo College has sent a total of 1,295 students to 24 cities in 14 foreign countries. More than 90 percent of Kalamazoo's students participate in the foreign study program before graduation. And many of them live with non-English speaking families in their host countries.

The general purposes of the program are to acquaint the students in some depth with a different culture and people, and to give them an academic experience which is comparable in quality to the work at Kalamazoo and, at the same time, enriched by the environment in which it takes place.

Ada church resumes full Fall schedule

The Ada Community Reformed Church begins all its Fall activities this week. Having set aside the month of September for Family Visitation, the first week in October signals the beginning of the complete Fall activities.

The new season appears to be one of excitement, programs and innovations. The Wednesday night Family program will have a nursery added this year. This means the entire family can attend the evening service while the tiny children are in the nursery. The older children will attend Catechism classes and the adults will attend the Prayer meeting and choir rehearsal.

Junior choir will be under the direction of Mrs. C. DeYoung and the senior choir will be directed by Mrs. H. Provonche.

Catechism studies will cover the major doctrines of the church and the senior high will study the history of the Reformed Church.

The adults will study the Book of Revelation, this year, using a work book along with the Bible.

In addition to the Girls' League, RCYF, Couples' Club, and Guild, a new organization is being formed, the Post-High group.

This group is for single or married young people from Post-High age up to 30 years. Their meeting this month is the attendance of the film "Way Out" this Friday evening.

Perhaps the most exciting thing in the coming year is the forward movement toward the new church. The entire congregation will be visited beginning in October for gifts and pledges, toward the construction of the new church.

Such a need was evidenced by the necessity of adding folding chairs for the morning service this past week.

A vote was also taken in favor of returning to the 5 p. m. evening worship service beginning Sunday, October 29. Another innovation this year is the printing of a church newspaper for the Ada Community Reformed Church.

The first edition contained 4 pages and we hope to increase it to 6 pages in the next publication. If you are looking for an active church, where the Bible is preached and your spiritual needs can be met, come and join us, you are always welcome!

Troop 290 to re-activate

There will be a meeting of fathers and boys interested in getting Ada Boy Scout Troop 290 started again, Wednesday evening, October 11, 8 p. m. at Ada Congregational Church.

Plans are being made to re-activate Ada Boy Scout Troop 290 under the sponsorship of the Ada Congregational Church.

Troop 290, at one time was one of the most active and prosperous Boy Scout Troops in the Grand Valley Council. However, due to lack of adult interest primarily, the troop was disbanded about 2 years ago.

It is unfortunate that in a community as progressive as the Ada area, that it does not have a Boy Scout Troop. In recent years the troop has produced several Eagle Scouts, one of the highest honors bestowed upon a boy in scouting. Several local parents vividly remember with pride seeing their sons presented with honors for various scout achievements.

Many of the boys from Troop 290 are now attending colleges and universities, and many are serving with the Armed Forces. School drop-outs among the boys of the Troop are virtually unknown. In rare instances when this has happened, the boys have completed their high school education while serving with the military services.

Ada Boy Scout Troop 290 was really an active troop in itself, plus playing a very important part in the community. Fond memories still exist of the camp outs, Scout-a-rama programs, Klondike Derby, Mackinaw Island trip, and many other events.

The troop has a cabin in a wooded section near Ada that sleeps twenty boys and has cooking facilities both inside & outside. There is still a very healthy treasury. The inventory still lists tents and cooking utensils for outdoor camp outs.

Boys, get your fathers and attend this meeting October 11, at the Ada Congregational Church at 8 p. m., and get the Boy Scout Troop going again. For additional information call 676-1881.

Changing The Label
A minister was told by one of his members: "We don't want you to talk as plainly as you do about sin because if our boys and girls hear you talking so much about sin they will more easily become sinners. Call it a mistake, but do not speak about sin."
In reply the minister reached to the top shelf of the storage cabinet for a can of lye marked "POISON" and showing it to the member of his church he said: "I see what you want me to do. You want me to change the label. Suppose I take off this label 'Poison' and put on some mild label, such as 'Essence of Peppermint'. Can't you see what would happen? The milder you make the label, the more dangerous you make the poison."
This story is very timely in view of the articles in the Grand Rapids Press about poisoning. We must indeed be on our guard against the poisoning of our children in our homes. But today's story is especially relevant in view of the so-called "new morality" which is really nothing else than the camouflaging of sin, and putting on it a new label. No matter how you may change the labels, sin is still the poison that is fatal. "For the wages of sin is death; but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord." Roman 6:23. Changing the label is to no avail; only faith in Christ will save you!

Home fires hit nearly 1/2 million; plan insurance
Here's a grim statistic: over 400,000 homes are expected to catch fire in the United States this year. And, if your home is one of them, chances are good that you'll be in for a financial beating, even if your home is insured.
About 90 percent of all homes are covered by some kind of fire insurance, but most of the homeowners fail to have sufficient coverage. Here are some tips that the experts offer on how to avoid financial misery brought on by fire:
Don't be under-insured. A survey showed that of some 9,000 insured homes in a Mid-western state, more than one out of five were under-insured. Inflation makes frequent review of your coverage necessary. For instance, a $20,000 home built in 1950 would cost $30,200 to construct today.
Make sure you have the right kind of coverage. Some of the better offers today are package-type coverage. This not only includes adequate fire insurance, but theft, and liability coverage, as well.
Be aware of what to do after a fire. Of course, phone your agent, but then take all means to keep down the damage—wipe water off furniture, shut windows, against rain and see that any holes in the roof are temporarily covered.

Miss Goodwin is bride of David Tichelaar

The First Methodist Church of Lowell was the September 22 setting for the marriage of Miss Tamara Kay Goodwin, daughter of Mrs. Elton R. Goodwin of Lowell, and the late Mr. Goodwin, and Specialist Four David Dale Tichelaar, son of Harry Tichelaar of Ada, and Mrs. Donald Person of Anaheim, California.
The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Cpl. Richard L. Goodwin, stationed at Camp Pendleton, California, wore a silk organza sheath with chuney lace bodice and long sleeves. Petals and pearls secured her silk illusion veil.
Miss Karen Elnick, maid of honor, wore an empire gown with yellow crepe skirt and a white chiffon bodice.
The bridesmaids, the Misses Julie and Judy Goodwin wore matching gowns of pink and blue.

Price increase send consumers
A bombardment of price increases throughout the country on hundreds of items ranging from haircuts to dog bones has sent U. S. consumers reeling.
In San Francisco and Detroit the cost of tonsorial work has risen to $2.75. At some public golf courses in Cincinnati, Ohio, the green fees have been lifted to $7.50 from $5.
A housewife in Dallas said: "Not long ago super markets gave away dog bones; now they package them fancy and charge a quarter."
One man on a fishing vacation in Wisconsin reported that a gas station he stopped at charged a dime for a "free" road map.
The earliest of Christmas shoppers are finding the price of imported lights is up by ten percent. Ohioans are paying $4.79 for a fifth of whisky at state stores, up from $4.19. And in California even marriage has become dearer; a license to wed in that state will rise to $6 from $5.
Once-free packets of ketchup, and mustard now costs two cents at a Pittsburgh coffee-shop chain.
Through it all, though, the cardinal rule of "Shop around" still holds: A New York suburbanite got four bids on a new furnace installation that he wanted. The first one was for $2,900. He ended up paying only $1,450.

Control apple disease with new fungicide
A massive dose of an experimental fungicide, Difolatan, has controlled apple scab up to two months in recent Michigan State University experiments.
Dr. Edward J. Klos, MSU plant pathologist, said apple scab control with this single application should mean a great cost savings to growers who now have to spray about 12 to 15 times a year.
"The massive dose, applied when you can see the green tissue of the first buds that open in the spring, controls primary scab, and thus controls the disease for the entire season," reported Dr. Klos.
"The fungicide has also been successful in Pennsylvania and California."
Klos has also been getting excellent scab control in which sprays, (including a systemic,) are applied at regular 14-day intervals, starting with the first tree growth in the spring. While growers generally apply three to four sprays in that period, Klos' aim is to reduce the number to just one.
He forecasts that the total seasonal scab control program could be reduced from the present 12-15 sprays to only 2-4 if the compounds he is testing are cleared by federal agencies.

Rangers face West Ottawa

A resurging band of Forest Hills Rangers will travel to West Ottawa Friday night to meet the Panthers.

The Rangers are 0-3 for the season, but showed signs of improvement the second half against Wyoming Park last Friday night.

The Panthers are 2-1, having lost last week to Hudsonville, 21, 13.

This Friday night's game will start at 7:30 p. m.

The Forest Hills reserves will be home this Thursday night at 7 p. m. against the junior Panthers from West Ottawa.

The freshman football team, of Forest Hills, will play at home Friday afternoon at four o'clock against West Ottawa.

The Forest Hills Rangers played their best game of the year Friday night against Wyoming Park, but still lost it 14-6.

The Rangers dominated the second half and had it not been for a couple of defensive lapses in the second period could have pulled an upset.

The first period was scoreless as neither team could muster an offense in the rain. The Vikings, however, got two long end sweeps in the second period that set up touchdowns and gave Wyoming a 14-0 half-time lead.

The Rangers came battling back in the third period. They took advantage of a Wyoming fumble on the Wyoming 40 yard line and after a series of running plays, Steve Russ ran an end sweep for a touchdown and the extra point attempt failed.

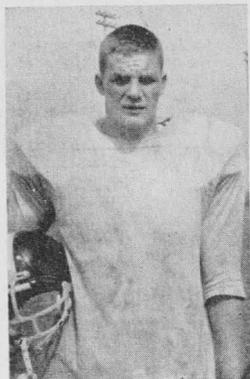

Neither team made a serious threat after that, but the Rangers did manage to control the ball a considerable amount of the time as Randy Simon, a converted lineman, ran very effectively for the Rangers.

Wyoming Park unleashed a host of speedy runners Thursday at Wyoming and ran off with an easy 38-7 victory over the Rangers' Junior Varsity.

The Forest Hills freshman team outplayed the Wyoming Vikings Friday afternoon, but came out on the short end of a 7-0 score.

Three times the Rangers advanced inside the Viking ten yard line, but couldn't score.

Dan Mosher has the honor of being named lineman of the week for the 2nd week in a row. Dan, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gail Mosher, 7116 Four Mile Road, has been playing really outstanding football for Forest Hills this year. In Friday night's game, he made nine unassisted & nine assisted tackles.

Chosen back of the week, by Bob Dangel and the rest of the Forest Hills coaching staff, is junior Randy Simon. Randy has been turning in a fine performance from his position of guard on the varsity team this year. In Friday night's game against Wyoming, Randy carried the ball 22 times for a total of 85 yards. Randy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Simon of Ada Drive, NE, Grand Rapids.

Randy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Simon of Ada Drive, NE, Grand Rapids.

End Tom Teft was chosen by Coach Bob Dangel as lineman of the week, following his outstanding block of a punt during Friday night's game with Wyoming.

A member of this year's junior class, Teft is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Teft of Bird, NE.

L'Atelier work shop

Eve and Jon Berg who recently moved to this area from Woodstock, N. Y., will soon be opening a Workshop of the Arts called L'Atelier in their home in Ada.

Classes for children between the ages of five and twelve will introduce them to graphics, painting, sculpture, constructions and mixed media. They will probably be held on Saturdays from ten until noon and from one until three.

Each two hour session will be devoted to a specific field. As the children progress they will be able to delve more deeply into each field of study such as graphics which has ten categories within its scope. Classes will be limited to ten members.

Mrs. Berg is hoping to conduct an eight week course before Christmas. Then, although plans are not definite as yet, she may possibly begin a special class in January for mothers and children together.

In the meantime Mr. Berg is planning to organize sculpting classes which will be on a person to person basis in order to insure intensive study.

Further information may be obtained from the Berg's by calling either Tuesday or Thursday or in the evenings. Their number is 676-1709.

Scouting open for all boys; Fall roundup

When a boy reaches the ages of 8, 11, or 14, he's ready for a new adventure.

That's when he's eligible to become a Cub Scout, Boy Scout, or Explorer, and there are now 519 Scout units where he can join in the seven-county area of the Grand Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America.

A call to the Scout Service Center, 1935 Monroe Ave., SW, Grand Rapids, phone 363-3828, will give the locations of the nearest packs, troops or posts, according to Spencer Cornell Council Membership chairman.

"The annual fall roundup of the Boy Scouts of America is designed to invite all boys who want to be Scouts, and our Scout units will be holding open house programs during the next few weeks," Cornell said.

Cornell explained that over 450 churches, school groups, service clubs, and other community organizations use the Scout program in this area, and new Scout units are now being organized to take care of the increasing number of boys who want to be Scouts.

"The fun and adventure of Scouting is important to every boy, but the important value to his parents is that the games, the skills and the competition are the means to the end of fitness, character, and citizenship development," Cornell said.

Cub Scouts are 8 and 9, Webelos Scouts are 10, Boy Scouts are 11 and over, and Explorers are at least 14 and in high school.

MSU to offer special course for homemakers

Young homemakers in this tri-county area—Allegan, Kent and Ottawa—need not envy students going off to college this month for they can enroll right now in an Extension course from Michigan State University designed especially for them.

"Making Your Marriage More Meaningful," "The Do's and Don'ts of Discipline," "How Much Junior Will Cost You Before He's Grown," and "How to Take It Easy While You Work" are some of the topics covered in the September letter now being sent to all those who are enrolled in this course offered through the Family Living program of the Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State University.

Enrollment costs one dollar for which each Young Homemaker enrolled gets a college notebook called My Career In Family Living and a monthly packet of articles and bulletins to go into the notebook. The notebook is divided into six sections: Our Family (which includes information on marriage and children), Our Home, Our Money, Our Clothing, Our Food and Just Myself.

Young homemakers have an opportunity to get answers to individual questions from extension home economists and specialists and through a monthly questionnaire, to offer their experiences to help other young homemakers. This provokes a lively correspondence between the young homemakers and the Cooperative Extension Service of MSU.

Any young homemaker who would like to enroll can do so by sending one dollar with her name and address to Margaret Jane Suydam, extension home economist, at the nearest Cooperative Extension office in Allegan, County Building, Allegan, Mich. 49010; in Kent, 728 Fuller Ave., N.E., Grand Rapids, Mich. 49503; and in Ottawa, County Building, Grand Haven, Michigan 49417.

"He that will not reason is a bigot; he that cannot reason is a fool; and he that dares not reason is a slave."

—Sir W. Drummond

When in earlier days science was a less sophisticated skill quacks and health peddlers found it easy to dispense their puerile nostrums. This is not to suggest we moderns are any less gullible or unsuspecting.

If today we become sufficiently frantic we are easily induced to do that which normally we would consider insane. Our generation—as readily as any other—often extends its rationale beyond a scientifically or logically sound basis. Sometimes, in fact, we're led astray without our being even slightly desperate.

The game of partisan politics is characterized by a kind of witchcraft and unreasoned behavior where bright words and dark ideas are cunningly synthesized to conjure up real magic at the polls; it keeps the cauldron of political diablerie bubbling away through war and peace.

With the approach of the Presidential Election we would be well-advised to reacquaint ourselves with the more generally used Logical Fallacies now being readied for service in wheeling the voter down a prickled path in November 1968. The road ahead will be rough. It takes but a moment's reflection to conclude that many modern social issues have been craftily mingled, skillfully blended and piously packaged by the charlatan politicians for mass consumption. For instance, how much of the present anomalous shambles of the civil rights question is in reality a bitter fruit easily plucked with a Red hand from another tree of the Garden?

There's enough time remaining to get fortified in some measure by logical discourse before the onslaught. Certainly the stakes are high enough and more than the deuces are wild.

The name of the game is Ratiocination; any voter can play. Rule One calls for a constant awareness because, unlike ordinary games which use paper money or colored chips, we'll be forced to use terminology without fixed value; words and ideas will be handled out of context and reference, warped by circumstance and association.

There are many Fallacies of Irrelevant Evidence which we'll be playing around with in the coming campaign. Let me run over a few.

1. Argumentum ad populum: We can translate this as an appeal to popular feelings or passions rather than to reason. Which candidate will kiss the most babies this time? or go to church more often and be seen doing it?

2. Argumentum ad hominem: Similar to the above. A device used to attack our individual weaknesses; it will appeal (most discreetly, of course) to our political, national and religious backgrounds.

3. Argumentum ad verecundiam: Big-time name dropping! This is familiar to us in the form of movie stars endorsing razor blades or mattresses. It works on our respect for reputations.

4. Argumentum ad baculum: Baculum is the Latin word for club. This will take any form from brow-beating to the more subtle device of ignoring an opponent and the issues he raises.

5. Argumentum ad ignorantiam: This is an appeal to ignorance and as vicious a trap as any. Here political witchcraft will rise to new heights when "facts" are assumed on a basis that cannot be disproved. Remember the siren song: "No one can say he's not a Communist?"

The game gets really hot when the Fallacies of Neglected Evidence are considered. One prime example is the device of "public opinion sampling" which has become an opiate to our sense of logical thinking. Except for the most professionally impartial polls they're all based on arbitrarily selected sources.

Let's have some more fun with this next issue.

For the really tough jobs — like hard, crusty drifts, wet, heavy snow — try the DS, the dual-stage giant with the one-two punch. A big 16" diam. auger bites into the toughest snow, then feeds it into a high-speed impeller sending it out the chute in any direction you desire.

All the Gilson snowthrowers cut a big 26" wide swath, have FNR handle-controls and range from 5 to 7 hp.
