REVEREND GAYLORD AND WIFE

The Village Smithy

Even as these words are being transmitted from press print, there is one guy in this world who is holding his breath.

Me!

Those of you among the loyal know that Good Friend Wife and I have 11 children, but attending the "birth" of this "baby" has been far more nerve-racking than those of the real family.

Maybe that's because I know GFW is a substantial and healthy female specimen . . . while I can't say as much for her worser half.

Starting about last Thursday, I began getting the shakes.

Oh, those whom I met during the intervening days would not have known it by my behavior. Smile bravely, I said to myself, everything will come out all right.

Easier said than done.

Wide Awake . . . and Worried!

Now I am a fairly sound sleeper. But I was up at four Thursday and awoke an hour earlier on Friday. None of this crawling back into the sack, either. Oh, no. Wide awake and worried . . . that was me.

Any plans to commute home over the weekend (no, we haven't found a house yet and the family won't be here until school's out) were cancelled long ago.

GFW telephoned and asked why, for heaven's sakes, I hadn't at least called. Too busy, I told her in what had to be one of the briefest long-distance calls she has ever placed.

Not all this frettin' and stewin' has been mine alone.

The senior member of the firm, who answers to the name of Art . . . or "the other Mr. Smith" . . . has been a close advisor.

So, too, has Don MacNaughton, that venerable Scotsman who has been hard at work for night on to 40 years in the weekly production of this chronicle.

The rest of the staff joins with us in the hour of bewilderment. How, they keep asking, can we get everything done that needs doing?

All this because of the new printing format known as offset.

New Format Changes Everything

If everything has come out right . . . and you'll know it almost as quickly as we will . . . you no doubt will notice that pictures are brighter, cleaner, sharper.

We're also quite proud of the many new type faces introduced with this edition.

The quality of the printed word should be much, much better.

Providing, of course, that everything has been done right!

I keep going back to that theme simply because it has weighed heavily on the mind for the better part of about six weeks.

During this time, many hours were spent pouring over manuals and stories about the offset process.

One article I recall concerned the pressures that an owner and editor went through in making a change almost identical with this one.

I couldn't sleep for many nights after reading that one!

And I can only say that, in the long run, everything will become an accustomed way of life. Next week, we'll be veterans . . . Art, Don, his wife, Maggie, our gal Friday Algene, Scot and the two Kathy's, which really isn't right since one of them spells her name with the "C".

As you can see, I'm almost rational again.

And if anyone calls me "Dad," I'll know what you mean.

Two Blazes Answered by Cascade Dept.

The Cascade Fire Department answered two calls during the week, one that resulted in $500 damage to a barn owned by Mrs. Orland Smith of 4845 Buttrick SE.

The department also answered a call to a grass fire at Wolverine Products Company on 28th Street.

Chief Grover Buttrick, who recently attended the Michigan Fire Training Conference at Ann Arbor, warns residents against burning grass at this time of the year.

Permits for burning must be obtained. They are available at Dykhause and Buys Service Station, 6915 Cascade Road.

Color Combine Possible With Use of Sprays

Progressing from the period when color first replaced the traditional stark white environment, the "in" trend today is toward color-coordinated fixtures that combine beauty with utility.

One of the newest expressions of this trend is embodied in the shampoo lavatory that has been introduced. It not only can be installed in the bathroom, but also is colorful enough to fit into bedroom decor. It is designed with a fingertip control spray-rinse that provides temperature-controlled water from a retractable nozzle.

Surprise Vacation to Pastor

With some 350 church members, friends, neighbors and civic leaders in attendance, the Rev. Raymond Gaylord and his family were honored in ceremonies Sunday at Cascade Christian Church.

The occasion marked the 10th anniversary of his ministry here.

Among the gifts presented to the pastor was an all-expense paid trip for the Gaylord family.

Other gifts included two framed poems dedicated to the family and a guest book by Mrs. L. Anderson. James Franklin Green wrote a poem titled, "God Bless the Gavlords."

A resolution from the Cascade Township Board written by Al Heemstra, was read by Lee Patterson.

A lovely reception followed the ceremony and a table was adorned with a tiered cake with a replica of the chapel top, the work of Mrs. L. Anderson.

Pastor Gaylord, a native of Ohio, was installed as minister to Cascade Christian Church on March 1, 1958.

An interesting sidelight of his ministerial career is the remarkable coincidence that he was baptized in the Christian Church at Stow, Ohio, the same church from which came most of the sixteen founders of Cascade Christian Church over a century ago.

In preparation for the ministry Rev. Mr. Gaylord attended and graduated from Heidelberg College. He also graduated from the Oberlin School of Theology. His first assignment as student pastor was at Ghent Church of Christ near Akron, O., and the Sullivan Christian Church.

Later, Pastor Gaylord was a visitor of the Disciples delegation to the World Council of Churches meeting at Evanston, Ill.

He attended the World Convention of Churches of Christ in Melbourne, Australia, and in 1953 was chosen the Ohio Disciple Rural Minister of the Year.

During his ministry here, Rev. Mr. Gaylord saw his church edifice completely modernized but with thoughtful consideration in restoring the building as close to its original appearance.

In addition to his duties here, he has taken on tasks which included chairman of the Board of Governors of the Michigan Association of Christian Churches; president of the association's 1964 State convention; chairman of the World Outreach Committee; and publicity director of the association Church expansion program.

Rev. Mr. Gaylord is the founder of the Forest Hills Ministerial Association, and twice chairman of the Protestant Relations Committee, Grand Valley Boy Scout Council.

The Pastor and his wife, Jeannette, are the parents of three children, Johnathan, Sara, and Peter. Mrs. Gaylord is a graduate nurse and holds a Master of Education degree. She served as a Navy nurse in World War II.

Weigh Plans for Addition to Fire Hall

Tentative plans for a new two-stall addition to the Ada Township fire hall had been submitted today to the township board.

Fire Chief Stanley Osmolinski presented the proposal to the board at Monday night's meeting. Preliminary sketches will be made by architects, along with cost estimates, to determine if the project is feasible.

Building Inspector Herman Stukkie reported that three permits for new home construction had been taken out in the past month.

The board also appointed Mrs. May Adrians to the township's Board of Canvassers.

Supervisor Fred Clancy urges a large turnout of residents for the annual township meeting which is scheduled for Saturday March 30, at 1 p. m. in the township hall.

Forest Hills School Millage Vote Wins

Forest Hills School District voters approved by a narrow 52-vote margin a two-year levy of 13 mills for operating expenses in Tuesday's special election.

The vote was 978 votes for the proposal and 926 against it. School officials said that 21 ballots were spoiled. A total of 1,925 votes were cast.

"It's a comfort to know that we will not have to go to work tomorrow seeking ways to cut about one-third of the proposed program for the 1968-69 school term.

"Without voter approval of the millage request, it would have been impossible for us to maintain the type of program desired by residents for schooling of their children."

The millage represents a basic increase of seven mills from the previous operating levy. The six-mill assessment had twice before been approved by voters at two-year intervals.

The Forest Hills Board of Education had requested the additional millage to offset possible deficit spending in the next two years.

Much of the new operating money, Masten noted, will be used to bring teacher's salaries up to requested standards and, in addition, to initiate a more complete summer program.

The extra seven mills is expected to add about $65 to the tax bill of the average home in the district valued at $20,000.

Urge Voters to Ballot on Water, Sewers

Registered voters in Grand Rapids Township today were urged by township officials to vote in the special election scheduled next Tuesday (March 19).

The vote is advisory in nature and does not, officials point out, involve commitment for fund expenditure.

Supervisor Marshall Douthett says the township officials wish merely an opinion of the voters to determine feasibility of signing a contract with the City of Grand Rapids for future water and sewer installation.

Some areas of the township will possibly never need to be connected with the city, Douthett points out, but for those areas which may in time need this service, a contract can be signed now that would allow the city and township engineers to plan for the future.

If any area does need service at some future date property owners would be petitioned to raise the money to pay the costs.

Two years of study have gone into the matter and officers feel that this is the most economical solution to sewer and water problems.

All registered voters may cast their ballots between 7 a. m. and 8 p. m. at the three regular voting places.

Set April 5 'Carnival' at Cascade School

The annual Cascade School Carnival will be held on Friday, April 5 from 4 to 10 p. m.

The chairman, Myra Karklik, has arranged once again to cooperate with the Special Education Teachers in helping children earn their way to Camp Manitou-Lin.

Miss Maxine Eddy and Mrs. Kay Hoskins will work with the children in setting up and operating the Fish Pond Concession and Penny Candy Booth.

The Special Education Program held at Cascade School for the Forest Hills area is moving ahead with giant strides. Teachers work with the children in school throughout the year and then go to Camp Manitou-Lin with them for one week. The camp week begins May 20.

The poster contest winners, which is being held for fourth, fifth and sixth grade students, will be announced next week.

Occupies Unique Spot As Township Clerk

As one of only eight women who are occupied as township clerks in Kent County, Mrs. Kathryn Kuiper of Ada Township is now in her seventh year at that capacity.

Keeping records and issuing permits takes a great deal of time. Although the average citizen probably doesn't have to deal with a township clerk often, she must be constantly at work to keep books up to date.

Mrs. Kuiper says: "This is a much bigger job than it was seven years ago; the state requires so much more paper work. I'm not so sure I would like to be new at the job now."

Seven years ago during the November elections, Mrs. Kuiper was "talked into running" by friends against Neal Vander-Perle, who was up for Treasurer.

At that time she didn't know him and accepted the opportunity as a challenge. She lost by four votes . . . and decided that was the end of her political career for a few years.

But in April, friends again asked her to run at the last minute for the office of clerk on a sticker-vote and Mrs. Kuiper was elected.

A township clerk keeps records of all meetings of the board and any special meetings. Mrs. Kuiper registers voters and is on hand to conduct elections and answer any questions that might arise. She has cards on file for every registered voter in the township and knows who are purchasing lots.

In addition, Mrs. Kuiper is in charge of the cemeteries of the township. She has just straightened out all of the old books since there is no sexton. She also assigns spaces to those who are purchasing lots.

"A great many people like our township cemetery and its location just off Fulton," she says. They enjoy the view from the top of the hill and, although we can't afford to keep it up as beautifully as some private grounds, it is still a peaceful spot for meditation."

She also keeps a set of books, with the treasurer, for sewer permits. Since she is in a central location for collecting fees for these permits, she has taken over this responsibility. Therefore, she has to keep accurate records of all transactions and balance with the treasurer at the end of the year.

Mrs. Kuiper acts as the chairman of the Election Commission and of the Canvassing Board, serves on the planning

CBA Seeks New Format for Future

Letters have gone out to the 47 members of the Cascade Businessmen's Association asking them to decide, at the next monthly meeting, the future of the organization.

Officers agree that the old constitution is tired and that a revision may be in order.

Originally organized to promote projects for the community through cooperation of businessmen, the association has changed its membership and its activities a number of times.

"THE OFFICERS and those who have been active lately would like to see the whole thrust of the organization made more dynamic," said Marshall Belding, secretary.

"In order to know where we have been and what has been accomplished so far, I have perused the history of CBA and found that, as with so many service organizations, we have had our ups and downs. But we have always accomplished goals of help to the community each year."

Arctic Trek Is Perilous

The most dangerous part of a dash to the edge of the Arctic Circle confronts an Ada resident and his three companions today.

Lyman Wenger reported by relay radio to his wife over the weekend that the foursome had stopped at Attawatiska, Ontario, which is about halfway to their ultimate goal of Churchill, Manitoba.

The next scheduled stop on the frigid journey is Wisnik, a small outpost located approximately 250 miles north from Attawatiska.

"My husband reports that everyone is feeling pretty good," says Mrs. Wenger, "but he's picked up a slight cold."

Which may not be too unusual considering that the average daytime temperature is about 30 below zero.

The group has abandoned use of its own radio equipment, which will not operate in the extreme cold.

At Fort Albany, the last previous stop, toboggans used to pull equipment behind snowmobiles were completely re-built. Wenger reported that travel through the rugged country was taking its toll on all machines and supplies.

Rangers Out-classed in District Finale

E. Christian Wins Title in Class B

BY FRAN SMITH
LEDGER-LIFE EDITOR

It may have been fitting that co-captain John Stoval be the one who scored the final points of the 1967-68 basketball season. Hobbling badly on an injured ankle, Stoval's hoop with a half-minute remaining was just all that Forest Hills rooters had to cheer for in a crushing 92-65 defeat at the hands of smooth-silk East Christian in the Class B tournament finals Saturday night.

That shot and a 50-footer by little Jim Vanderbaan at the buzzer ending the first half, that is.

East Christian's Wildcats, who campaign in the rugged Class A City League, did everything right in grabbing off the championship.

They completely dominated the backboards, getting 57 rebounds to a mere 29 for the Rangers. And they sizzled from the floor, meshing 36 of 74 field goal attempts.

Even Forest Hills' pressing defense, which had rescued the Rangers in two earlier tourney starts, failed to check the winners... who time and again penetrated the press for easy lay-ups.

Jeff Vanderleende, a 6'5" junior who must rank with the best in the state, slipped through for 26 points and game scoring honors. This despite the fact he sat out virtually the entire fourth quarter with four personal fouls.

Vanderleende also grabbed off 12 rebounds to lead his team in that department. Doug Hoeksma got 11 points and 11 rebounds while Dave Buter, a rugged junior center, sank 14 points. In all, 15 players saw action for Christian and 14 got into the scoring act.

The Rangers were led by captain Steve Russ with 18 points and Vanderbaan with 15, including the long toss from beyond mid-court that will be remembered a long time.

Coach Don Kemp's club, generally limited to one shot at the basket on each offensive thrust, equalled East Christian in shot production with 74, but could only sink 23.

To gain the finals, Forest Hills rallied to beat both Lowell on Tuesday (79-77) and Northview on Thursday (74-66).

Against Northview, the Rangers turned in their second come-from-behind victory of the tournament by overcoming a nine-point deficit in the second quarter.

The zone press again turned the trick, just as it had in the tourney opener against Lowell.

Trailing by a 40-31 count at the 5:30 mark, Forest Hills pressured the ball constantly and closed the gap to 54-52 entering the final period.

The Rangers broke loose from a 62-all tie with 3:20 left on Doug Koesell's two free throws and gradually pulled away to the triumph.

It marked the first time that Forest Hills had managed to win two in a row in state tournament play.

Jim Vanderbaan set the scoring pace with 16 points, getting 10 tallies in 12 attempts from the charity stripe, and generally leading the floor play with key assists.

Steve Russ grabbed off 12 rebounds, most of them in the second half, and pumped in 15 points. The Rangers were out-rebounded by the rugged Northview Wildcats, 55-45.

Bob Averill and Pat MacLangs sparked Northview with 16 and 14 points, respectively.

GAA Cagers Impress in 2 Victories

The J.V. GAA girls of Forest Hills High recently lost to Northview in overtime, 23-22.

The GAA Varsity team took Northview, 35-32, Cathy Bushouse accounting for 20 points.

Forest Hills again beat South Christian in an overtime, 35-20. Cathy Bushouse scored 12 points and Linda Boerman 11.

Debbie DeViliger came at the bench in the fourth quarter and, with two quick buckets, tied the game.

Commercial use of aerosols began just after World War I with lightweight versions of wartime "bug bombs" for killing insects.

Aerosols Are Popular in Foreign Lands

Americans are not the only people who like the speed and convenience of pushbutton products. Europeans use up about 750 million cans a year and the Japanese about 120 million.

Total world consumption is nearing the three billion mark and the United States accounts for about two-thirds of it with about 1.8 billion aerosol products a year.

The players on the team are Cathy Bushouse, Linda Boerman, Sandy Morgan, Wendy Quendag, Nancy Grochowalski, Sara Kersting, Jo Oppewal, Debbie DeViliger.

Larry Cardinell took third-place honors, defeating Scott Whitehill of Holt in the 120-pound consolation finals in a 3-2 decision.

Check Before Using Auto Washer

How quick is a quick car wash? That's a question asked by many who used to rinse mud and salt off their cars for a 25-cent investment at coin operated auto wash establishment.

The five-minute auto wash has become about as scarce as the five-cent cigar, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture weights and measures supervisor Clyde Cottom. He says that after checking consumer complaints, it appears that most coin operated car washes have timers that deliver less than the five minutes that many customers have relied upon.

"If you want five minutes of car washing, you'd better check the signs closely to see if that's what is offered," Cottom recommends. "Otherwise, chances are that you'll get something less." One meter recently checked delivered only slightly more than three minutes of water pressure for the quarter put in the coin slot.

Is this illegal? Not if the time is not posted and delivered otherwise, Cottom says. People have just grown to assume that they're getting five minutes, partly due to previous advertising by the car wash businesses.

Cottom says that shaving the time allowance by even one minute from the previous five-minute allowance can double the cost of a car wash to the consumer, since it then may require 50 cents to get the dirt off. But, he adds, there is no home protection at less cost with a Homeowners Policy. Contact me today!

Offset! What's That?

By Don MacNaughton
Mechanical Supervisor

If this issue of the LOWELL LEDGER—SUBURBAN LIFE has a different appearance, it's because it has been produced by an entirely different process called offset printing.

Under the offset method, all the news and advertising material to be presented is "pasted up" on a page-size special paper.

The entire page is then photographed and a negative is processed, which in turn is used to expose a pre-sensitized thin aluminum plate. After this plate is developed, it is ready for the offset press.

The offset process makes use of the well-known fact that oil and water do not mix.

The printing plate is first coated with a thin film of chemically treated water, which adheres only to the portion of the plate which does not print.

Next the plate is inked, but the greased-based ink will stick only to that part of the plate surface which did not accept the watered film, that is, the actual printing surface, or "image."

This inked image is then transferred to a rubber blanket, and from the rubber blanket it is transferred or "offset" to the newsprint, ready for you to read.

Sound complicated? It isn't really. It's all done with cylinders that roll against each other and the whole process happens so fast that it's all just a "blur!"

Paper Goes to "Offset"

Introduce New Process

BY FRAN SMITH
Editor and Publisher

If you think there's something rather unusual about today's edition, you are right!

Effective with this printing, the Ledger-Suburban Life is now being produced by what is known as the offset process... which is explained in the accompanying article by Don MacNaughton, a veteran of almost 40 years in the business.

The change marks still another step toward producing an outstanding community newspaper designed to offer to our readers interesting and timely news stories, features and pictures.

The use of pictures, in particular, is enhanced by the offset method, as you may have already noted.

In the past few weeks, many new and unusual machines have been installed in our plant to introduce the latest in printing techniques to our readers.

The result is what you observe today... and will continue to see in the future.

Your opinions on the all-new Ledger-Suburban Life, by letter or card, will be welcomed.

'MUSIC MASTER' WITH OWNER FORREST WILLIAMSON

Famed Horse, Owner Visit Lowell

"Music Master," a nationally famous champion Paint horse, and his owner, Forrest Williamson, were weekend guests at the Spear K Ranch, owned by the Keith Avery family of 3699 Alden Nash Dr.

His horse, "Music Master," a two-tone "sports car" version of the modern quarter horse, was a national champion stallion in 1964, and is currently national champion Paint cutting horse.

The nine-thousand acre Williamson ranch is located in the verdant Flint Hills of southern Kansas, and is the home of 800

Angus cows and 35 quarter horse brood mares.

The Williamsons are patrons of western art created by Lowell school teacher, Keith Avery, and their home is adorned with several of Avery's paintings, including two oil portraits of "Music Master."

Both Williamson and Avery have served on the board of directors of the American Paint Horse Association for several years.

Forrest Williamson and his family are the operators of the Paint Horse and Angus cattle ranches at Arkansas City, Kansas.

During his Lowell stay, "Music Master" was taken for exhibition and demonstration rides before a group of horse-lovers at Bresa Del Rio Ranch on Sunday.

Special Maps for Truckers Now Available

March 17 through March 23 has been designated as Camp Fire Girls Birthday Week, as this national organization celebrates the 58th anniversary of its founding. On Sunday, March 17, Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds will be attending church in groups, dressed in their service costumes, in special recognition of the first precept in the Camp Fire Law, "Worship God."

The birthday theme will be carried out at the annual Dad-Daughter Dinner to be held by the Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds of Lowell on Thursday, April 4, at the Runciman School.

All members of the Keewano Council of Camp Fire Girls, including the groups in Lowell and Alto, are preparing now for their annual Pow Wow, to be held at Northeast Junior High School, 1400 Fuller, NE, from 5 to 9 p.m., March 22 and from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., March 23. Displays of crafts and suggestions for projects will be shown in booths, and a carnival atmosphere will be provided by the cake walk, fish pond, refreshment booths, and the awarding of numerous door prizes.

Profits from the Pow Wow are used to pay on the land contract for Camp Keewano, the Council's resident camp near Hesperia. All Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds have tickets for sale.

The 1968 Michigan Truck Operators' Map is now available for distribution.

The map provides information on loads, bridge clearances, truck lengths and speed limits, and shows that 8,000 miles of Michigan's 9,207-mile system of freeways and other state highways are open to normal legal loads throughout the year.

The map is available at all Highway Department Weight Stations, District Offices and at the Chief Weighmaster's Office in Lansing.

Blue Bird groups will be held from 1 to 3 p.m., March 28, at the home of Mrs. Stanley Galbreath, 2337 Lowell View.

Mrs. Paul Neumann, director of the East Kent District of the Keewano Council, will suggest methods for keeping records of honors and rank requirements and will outline plans for group ceremonials.

The DaKonya Junior High Camp Fire Girls had as their guest at a recent meeting Mrs. William H. Bachman, chairman of the Program Committee of the Keewano Council. The group reviewed their accomplishments of the past year and outlined plans for the future.

The group met on March 5 at the home of Kim McKay. Mrs. Orval McKay gave a demonstration of home nursing techniques, helping the girls earn honors in Home Craft.

Unusual Items Gathered in Road Projects

If you're looking for a gazebo or a chicken coop, a steel mill, oil wells, green tomatoes or a doughnut shop, you might contact the Michigan Department of State Highways.

The department's Property Management Section is responsible for clearing right-of-way for highway construction. Property is usually sold at public auction and proceeds are returned to highway construction.

In 1965, machinery in a steel mill in Detroit brought $45,000. A windmill on property near Pontiac sold for $5.

Last summer, a Lansing drive-in restaurant was sold for $5,500 and its fixtures, including a hot chocolate dispenser and cash register, brought $3,441.

Nursery stock in the path of I-496 in Lansing sold for $1,817.

The gazebo, or outdoor garden observation building, was also sold to make way for I-496.

Landowners may receive cost-sharing assistance from the Federal Government through their local county ASCS offices for carrying out such conservation practices as; improved vegetative cover of grasses and legumes, green manure crops, summer cover crops, winter cover crops, tree planting, timber stand improvement, food and shrubbery for wildlife, both shallow and deep ponds for game and fish.

In addition, anti-pollution measures are carried out by better drainage, both internal and external, with protection measures to control surface runoff.

Federal Agency Gives Assistance to Landowners

Landowners wishing to improve the natural resources on their land should apply now and complete the projects by the dates specified in their local county ASCS program.

takes place. The school situation is just one area where the public is losing its voice. Others include welfare operations, city government, public works projects, and ambulance service.

The school district issue is an example of the predictions of centralized government and no personal identity, as predicted in "Brave New World" and "1984." If we continue to let government grow and become all powerful, our entry into the brave new world is inevitable. It must be remembered that once man gives up any part of his sovereignty or responsibility to the federal government, (welfare, social security, etc.,) he never gets it back.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

The gradual deterioration of individual freedom and the corresponding centralization of power in Washington clarifies the ideas and predictions of Aldous Huxley's "Brave New World" and George Orwell's "1984." In both of these contemporary novels, elimination of popular sovereignty is one of the major facets of the utopia. The government in both cases is run by a central figure or organization. In "Brave New World," power is held by ten world controllers who administer the so-called "utopia" in their respective regions.

"1984" presents a more believable governmental situation with the world divided into three countries, each headed by totalitarian leadership which identifies with Satin's form of Communism.

The modern trend in American government has been to take away political power from the local level. Functions once performed by the city or townships are now delegated to the counties. Certain county tasks have been transferred to the state capitals and at the same time the federal government grows larger, taking more responsibilities away from the states. In some of these areas, the transfer of power was essential for economics and practical reasons. Small population and tax yield areas could no longer provide certain high quality services by themselves.

Therefore, I believe it would be more appropriate to say he has the doubtful honor of having been twice successful before the Supreme Court.

LETTER TO EDITOR

In one of your recent editions, you were honoring one of the local attorneys for having won two cases before the United States Supreme Court.

I believe that to the average citizen it would appear that most of the recent supreme court decisions have been aimed at protecting the Communists, murderers, arsonists, rapists, dope pushers and pornography peddlers.

Therefore, I believe it would be more appropriate to say he has the doubtful honor of having been twice successful before the Supreme Court.

News of and About Area Schools

Study ETV for West Michigan

Will Western Michigan ever have Educational Television (better known as ETV)?

If it is ever to come to this area, how will it be established? How much will it cost? Who will pay for it? Who will benefit?

An initial meeting of interested parties to ETV was held at Forest Hills High School. Answers to these and other questions were given by experts in the field.

Superintendents of several school systems in Kent County and other nearby areas, industrial representatives, supply agents and members of other ETV systems were in attendance when Dr. Otto Schlaak of Milwaukee, Director of Channels 10 and 13, both ETV stations there, was the principal speaker.

A channel has been allocated by the FCC for this area. Should an ETV station be activated in West Michigan, schools would benefit to the extent of their participation. Adults in the area also would be able to take advantage of the hours of educational broadcasting with programming to be offered through the leasing of the facilities on weekends or late at night.

Dr. Schlaak explained several ways of establishing and determining what kind of ETV could go into the area. He asserted that Western Michigan is far behind in this field.

"Educational" Television is a great cultural and intellectual force in a community," he said. "Every major city in the country should have it available. You must be forward looking. It is exciting to have a station and it is doubly exciting in Milwaukee because we have two."

Some states have fully established networks, but in Michigan there is only Channel 10 from MSU in Lansing. A great many sets presently do not receive this channel. Or, if they can, residents are not acquainted with its programming.

Dr. Schlaak explained that under the Public Broadcasting Act of 1967 additional monies through government grants will be available for ETV. Title One of this act will authorize $10,500,000 in 1968.

"Now is the time to get in line for grants of this kind," he said. "You will have to plan on a two-year preparation period anyway, but the time is ripe to find this kind of money through grants and commercial underwriters now."

He further discouraged setting up a 'balancing-wire' operation. The best equipment is needed to save in the long run. Any steering committee considering a station should think in terms of color broadcasting, he says.

UHF broadcasting will cost more, but savings can be made by sharing equipment, such as a tower, with a commercial station. Space for studios and the construction of a building can be flexible.

Dr. Schlaak feels that with imagination, a dynamic station could emerge that would give its audience the best of educational, industrial, special interest groups, cultural and public affairs programming. Network series programs are available and there are instructional libraries which loan films.

After these hours, general commercial use takes over. This does not mean the sponsored programming seen on regular network shows, but rather, programs addressed to adults and students at home that might be underwritten by special interest groups or simply desired by the audience.

Student Teacher Cites Need for Language Study

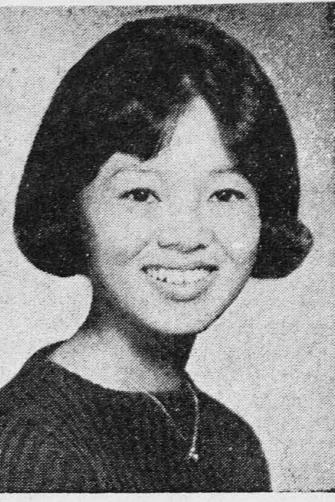

"Anyone can get to any country in a couple of hours, and this makes the need for people of foreign countries to be able to communicate with each other more vital."

Thus said Miss Barbara Gowell, student French teacher at Lowell High School, when explaining the need for a student to take a language course.

Miss Gowell, who is majoring in French at Michigan State University, spent eleven weeks this summer in Paris, which she used as her home base to tour Switzerland, England, Italy, Austria, Germany, and Holland. This trip was affiliated through the University and included other students from the University.

Miss Gowell has no definite plans for the future, but might go to New England to teach French.

Student Teacher From Honolulu at Lowell High

When asked how it felt to be a teacher, Miss Arlene Jim said, "I think it's great." She is the biology student teacher and will remain at Lowell Senior High School until March 15.

Miss Jim spent her early life with her family in Honolulu where she attended Roosevelt High School. She attended college at the University of Hawaii and is presently working for her major in biology at Michigan State University. Upon graduation, she wants to teach somewhere on the main land.

Miss Jim says: "Student teaching gives you a chance to find out what you will be getting into."

She also said that it lets you be on your own, but there is the comforting thought that there will be someone there if you have any questions. Her science teachers throughout school influenced her in becoming a science teacher. She states:

"I really like the students. They make life interesting."

Miss Jim is now residing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tyrus Wessell at 100 Hall Street, Lowell.

Hadn't Planned to Teach

"I said I would never be a teacher, yet here I am," says Miss Barbara Hile, student speech and drama teacher at Lowell High School.

Miss Hile attends Michigan State University and must complete 183 credits for graduation in June. Her major is speech and she feels it is very interesting for "in speech we communicate our ideas," and she enjoys drama also for "we act every day of our lives."

AMONG THE varied courses Miss Hile has taken is one in oral interpretation of children's literature in which she had the opportunity to tell stories to a group of first graders once a week.

This may seem a strange course for a secondary education major, but Miss Hile feels it was most rewarding.

"Many people who do major in secondary education never get the chance to observe the younger children."

Miss Hile, who attends a seminar at Grand Rapids where she and other education majors discuss their problems and plans of their new experience, participated in debate, drama, and forensics both in high school and in college. Also she worked in the speech department and did much technical work on plays.

UPON HER RETURN to the university for her last term, Miss Hile will work on the lighting for the production of the musical "The King and I."

Miss Hile is the daughter of Route 4, Ionia, Michigan.

The Michigan Child Study Association will present the Lowell club with its new charter.

The dinner will be at 6:30 p.m. in the Lowell High School cafeteria. The public is invited. Reservations must be called by Tuesday to Mrs. Martin Johnson at 897-8194, or Mrs. Robert Barnes at 897-7425.

"Revere the Child" is the topic of Dr. DeKoster's talk. In it he proposes that the child becomes the victim of a highly organized society and school system and of the explosion of knowledge itself. The child counts for less than science. This causes our system to defeat their own purpose. "Education" does not occur at its best unless it pre-supposes that each child is unique.

The modern trend in American government has been to take away political power from the local level. Functions once performed by the city or townships are now delegated to the counties. Certain county tasks have been transferred to the state capitals and at the same time the federal government grows larger, taking more responsibilities away from the states.

In some of these areas, the transfer of power was essential for economics and practical reasons. Small population and tax yield areas could no longer provide certain high quality services by themselves.

Take, for example, the case of public education. From frontier days until a few years ago, when school district reorganization began to take place, the small one-room school was quite common in rural areas.

This type of school was supported and run by the local property owners and parents. Each person had a voice in how the building was to be kept up, who the teacher was to be, and in general, how his children would be educated.

This was one of the few examples of direct democracy that was left in the country.

Then came reorganization and consolidation of the small districts into one composite area school system. The chief motives of reorganization were to provide a higher quality and more varied education for the students. The sacrifice for this better education was that the individual had less to say on how this "better education" was to be administered.

In the wake of consolidation, some school districts could not meet the financial obligations brought on by new buildings, expanded facilities, and new equipment. Massive state aid was necessary to keep the schools going and with this aid went increased state control which further removed the individual and his opinions from the policy makers.

In fact, it is quite possible that all public schools will be administered from the state level as the local areas continue to demonstrate that they can't handle it. If this takes place, how long before the states relinquish control of the schools to Washington and we have a national school system?

I'm not necessarily condemning all of these ideas because no doubt they have some advantages. What I am trying to show is how the individual is losing his voice and identity when a centralization of power

Honor TAG Members of Cascade Christian

The congregation of Cascade Christian Church Sunday honored graduating TAGS who have completed a two-year course of study and service. Meeting every Saturday morning during that period—and often on other occasions—the TAGS rendered invaluable service to their church, as well as showing signs of personal enrichment and growth.

TAG classes give the young people an extensive study in Bible, church doctrine and history and churchmanship in general. Many field trips were enjoyed by the group, as well as numerous work sessions at the church's Camp Gaylon, near Hart, Michigan. As a special project all their own, these young people have polished and repaired shoes and boots contributed to the church's "Second Mile House." During the two-year period of volunteer service, each of the young persons gave better than 200 hours in work projects.

Jesus Christ Is The Only Way

Last week we took note of the fact that Christ does not merely show us the way, as some like to put it, but Christ is the way to the Father, to salvation, and to heaven. Jesus said, "I am the way." "I am the door."

This week we wish to make it clear that Jesus Christ is the only way. Can't Buddha be a way? How about Confucius? How about Mohammed? To the Bible we must go.

Acts 4:12 "And there is salvation in no one else; for there is no other name under heaven that has been given among men by which we must be saved" than the name of Jesus Christ (See verse 10).

1 Timothy 2:5 "For there is one God, and one mediator also between God and men, the man Christ Jesus."

Jesus Christ is the only way, the only door and the only mediator between God and men. This is the gospel. Worship with us. We invite you.

Hospitals thrust toward public responsibility

There is a strong national trend, with legal muscle behind it, to make hospitals more responsible than ever to the public they serve.

Reporting the growth of this trend, Prof. Arthur F. Southwick of The University of Michigan declared, "Once it accepts patients, the hospital assumes many complex social and legal responsibilities that govern the acts of its physicians, administrators, and employees."

A professor of business law at U-M, Southwick is a frequent speaker on legal trends affecting hospitals and medical staffs.

The reason a hospital is created—whether for education, financial profit, research, service, or religious goals—has little legal significance, Southwick told a recent conference at the University of Colorado.

"A hospital, by the very fact of being a hospital, is primarily responsible to its patients."

He cited reports and cases to show that a hospital can and must usurp a doctor's control over a patient if the patient gets improper treatment. "The role of the hospital is no longer limited to furnishing facilities where the doctor can practice," he said.

Miss Gloria M. Havenga and John Vincent Malone have planned an August 10th wedding.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Havenga, Knapp St., NE, and George Ma'one of Parnell and the late Mrs. Malone.

COMMUNICATIONS

1. Department of Conservation letter notifying of increased Sewage Treatment requirements for the removal of phosphorus. Read.

2. Notice of Annual Meeting of Stockholders of Chemical Bank New York Trust and request for proxy vote. (See MOTIONS).

3. Letter from Township of Lowell indicating willingness to participate in the cost of ambulance service. Read. The Manager explained that the $600 offered by Lowell Township was the first figure talked about when ambulance service was would be paying $6,000. Since then Supervisor Walter W. Gumer has met with the Safety Committee of the County Supervisors, who have reviewed the Washtenaw County approach to the ambulance problem. They have also indicated that we should defer action until this study is completed, which might be two or three months.

Meantime, our immediate need of furnishing first aid is being met by furnishing both cruisers with such equipment as is recommended by Councilman Reynolds and Police Chief Block, which idea is recommended by the Manager whether the City would be in the ambulance service or not.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

1. Legislative Workshop in Lansing February 22. Any councilman desiring to attend can pick up a reservation at the City Hall.

2. The manner of financing a proposed lift station for sewage was discussed. The Manager stated a total of $12,000 now rests in the Improvement Fund, which could be used along with an approximate $4,000 in the Special Assessment Fund as of this date and another $1,000 that will be paid to the Special Assessment Fund by summer tax collection time. A month or six weeks will elapse, the Manager stated, before he could present a program of financing which would be meaningful, on either the sewage lift station project, or the Hudson Street-Lincoln Lake Avenue connector, which was also discussed.

It was explained that curb-and-gutter could be installed all the way to the City limits at less cost than not to install curb-and-gutter, due to excavation costs. The two different plans were discussed but the Manager asked for a deferment in order to produce a justifiable recommendation on the construction.

3. The purchase of first-aid

HOW TO WRITE A GOOD WANT AD!

It's always best to start your advertisement with the name of the article or service you have to offer. If you have an apartment or room for rent or property for sale, start your advertisement with the location.

Be clear. Readers respond more quickly and favorably when given complete or definite details. Be sure to include price in ads, whenever possible—it's the consumer's "most wanted" information.

Make it easy for the reader—prospect to reach you. Insert your telephone number and your name and address. If you do not have regular hours give a preferred time to have prospects contact you.

The greatest reader attention can be secured for your advertisement by using consecutive insertions. Order more than one week, you can always stop the ad in the event of immediate results.

Beside Bruce and his Punch and Judy, there will be attractions for young and old. Dinner will be served in the cafeteria at 6 p. m. with Sandy Rooker's famous barbeques as the main bill of fare.

There will be many booths representing the various rooms. Mothers are reminded to bring two cakes each for the most popular event of all, the Cake Walk. The fish pond attracts the little ones.

Door prizes are abundant, so be sure to get your door prize tickets.

MRS. ELAYNE VAN SLUYTERS

Bluebird News

The Happy Bluebirds met on Tuesday after school and we answered roll call with the date of our birthday.

After opening our meeting by singing our Bluebird Wish, we went bowling. This was a "1st" for many of us.

Amy Steward brought the treat.

Just arrived

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Ryder, of Ada, Route No. 1, a girl Marsha Louise, who weighed 6 pounds, nine ounces, at her birth on March 10.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Chaterdon, a son, Paul Jon, on March 3rd at Butterworth Hospital in Grand Rapids. The new arrival weighed 6 pounds, 13½ ounces. Mrs. Chaterdon was the former Diane Blough.

CARD OF THANKS

My dear relatives, friends, and children, words at a time like this seem very inadequate but please accept my sincere thanks to one and all of you for your many prayers, remembering thoughts, gifts, flowers and flow of cards which made my long stay in the hospital very pleasant and bearable.

Life at these times are very precious to one, and I am sure you good people gave me more than I can ever express to any of you. Thanks again.

Housewife Rates High in World of Fashion

To paraphrase Gertrude Stein, "a girl is a girl is a girl."

The epitome of femininity is likely to be a combination of mother and model.

Elayne (Mrs. R. G.) Van Sluyters of Driftwood Drive has that happy blending of qualities. In fact, through her career in modeling, she has become a well-known fashion coordinator for several stores and companies throughout the state.

Mrs. Van Sluyters began her fashion work at age 15 in Chicago, where she was chosen to be the girl on the wrapper of a candy bar. Over the years her talents led her into photography-modeling and fashion work for Saks in the Windy City.

It was in Chicago that she met Dr. Van Sluyters and they married. When she moved to Grand Rapids Mrs. Van Sluyters became the fashion coordinator for Jantzen throughout the state while continuing her work as fashion and photographer's model.

As her family grew, Mrs. Van Sluyters felt that her husband and three boys came first and she dropped the Jantzen affiliation. This now enables her to stay up-to-date.

choose only those assignments which she feels will not interfere with her home life.

This decision also gave her the freedom to coordinate shows and fashion promotions as well as a new field, that of lecturing. These talks are on the subjects of charm, noise, and fashion. They are for young people as well as adults.

Mrs. Van Sluyters has worked with groups as varied as TOPS and Horizon Clubs. She has appeared before Mother and Daughter banquets explaining to each age group what is currently "in" and how the well-dressed woman can stay up-to-date.

Mrs. Van Sluyters unites a fair complexion, green eyes and "sterling patina" blonde hair with a well-modulated voice and an exceedingly friendly manner. Her home expresses fine taste in its decor and her cooking delights the family constantly.

Presently, Mrs. Van Sluyters is acting as fashion coordinator of the new MBM store in Woodland Mall. She prefers work in this part of Michigan since she then does not have to be away over night. Occasionally she will accept an opportunity elsewhere in the state for a two-day show.

If she is to go across the state for a promotion, the routine is generally the same in each case. The store has made appointments for the number of girls who will model.

Mrs. Van Sluyters goes through the store selecting the styles and coordinating the accessories. When the girls and clothes are ready, she writes her continuity. She is able to do this smoothly because she keeps up on the latest trends through trade magazines and because she understands the various communities in which she works. Some are ready for the latest styles, some are not.

Sometimes stores like to promote specific trends and Mrs. Van Sluyters builds the show around this influence. However, she is very emphatic in stating that she does not like fads. A fashion is a different feeling and can be interpreted for all ages. Mrs. Van Sluyters also says that she is appalled at gaudiness. She believes in the "understated lady look," i.e., Chanel suits, etc.

Mrs. Van Sluyters says that younger people are still being influenced by the European or British trend, but that more sophisticated women are now buying the American styles. This means that women who haven't known what a waistline was for several years are going to find out if they still have one. Cinched waists and frilly tops are returning.

As for make-up, Mrs. Van Sluyters says that the old look of two burned holes in a sheet for the face is long gone in fashion circles.

Mrs. Van Sluyters thoroughly enjoys her career, but she is quick to point out that her family comes first. She said in this respect that her work is more of a hobby than a profession. She feels that if she did not go out on these assignments, she would be dissatisfied with doing nothing more than housework.

Mrs. Van Sluyters has long been associated with numerous charity and community organizations and is currently the President of the Forest Hills PTA.

Early Settlers Also Active in Ottawa County

Another is a series on the early history of Kent County.

The settlement of neighboring Ottawa County in the era of Rix Robinson and Louis Campan, pioneers of Kent, is too important a subject to be overlooked in Robinson's story.

The fact that these men exerted themselves toward the settlement of the county to the west renders such reference indispensable. For this purpose the following summary from Professor Everett's papers on the subject is given.

Competition will be sizzling hot this Saturday night, March 16, as the Plague from Lowell meet the Northshore Lumber Company of Belding in a long-promised "Battle of the Bands."

The confrontation of these two popular groups, postponed from last month due to an illness of one of the Plague, promises to be provided the tops in rock and roll music, according to Mike Harrington of the Lowell Teen Center, Inc., which is sponsoring the "battle."

ready for his fall campaign, yet he spent several days showing Ferry his pre-emptions. The one-half of these had been purchased by the Grand Haven Company, consisting of Robinson, Ferry and White as equal partners. Ferry was named the agent of the company.

Business arrangements being concluded, Ferry started for his family at Mackinaw in a birch canoe with two Indians. Returning, he brought with him a number of persons, mostly Indians and half-breeds. Robinson came back about the same time bringing with him a Mr. Lasley.

Among those that Ferry brought with him was his bosom friend, P. C. Duverney and his family. Having no homes, they stopped with Rix Robinson during the winter.

Ferry took his brother-in-law, Nathan H. White, as his associate and came on from Detroit by land. They arrived September 15, 1834 in a canoe with two Indians furnished by a Mr. Slater of Grand Rapids. They found Rix Robinson and his family the only white persons.

Louis Campan had an agent, a Frenchman, at the "Lower Diggings," as the mouth on the left bank of the river was called.

the building, in which 21 persons were quartered, was 16 by 22 feet. The accommodations were not such as would be agreeable to those accustomed, as some of them were, to the refinements of civilization. A part of the 21 slept in the loft of the cabin and a part in a vessel that wintered in the harbor.
